Her Dislike of Publicity.

The Queen dislikes much publicity, and so, when Manchester wanted her to open its great ship canal she was then to be on her way from Italy to Scotland she wanted to beg off so far as her appearance in Manchester was concerned, and to participate outside a few minutes in her yacht. But Manchester wouldn't have it, and she therefore yielded, and when she reached Balmoral, wired her loyal Lancashire folk that she had not been fatigued by her reception and had had one of the pleasantest experiences of her life.

THE UNIVERSAL WISH

By J. A. Bell, Halifax.

God bless our gracious Queen,
Long years our prayer has been
God save the Queen!
On this her natal day,
Humbly once more we pray,
Be thou her guide and stay,
God save the Queen.

Not ours the homage base
That marks a servile race,
Ignoble part!
Not serfs, but proudly we,
Free born, and mindful free,
Stand fast by liberty,
The Freeman's chart.

The flag our fathers loved,
As oft by actions proved
Still floats supreme;
Nor less their offspring claim,
Some share in Britain's fame,
The glory of a name,
For minstrel's theme.

We venerate our Queen,
Her noble life and mien,
Pattern to all;
From Royal Alfred down,
Monarch due more renown,
Or worthier head for crown,
Can none recall.

God shield Victoria still,
Her days with blessings fill—
A people's love,
Serene as setting sun,
Her course of duty run,
The verdict clear, "Well done,"
Be her's above.

God save the realm she rules
From traitors, knaves and fools;
From shame, disgrace;
Be Britain's statesmen wise;
Shall thus the empire rise
And hold before all eyes—
The foremost place.

The Queen's Tender Heart.

Hundreds of instances have been recorded illustrating Her Majesty's kindness of heart. Here is one typical of all: One day Her Majesty and Prince Albert were visiting Chatham for the purpose of examining the invalid soldiers there. Among the wounded, one, whose arm was off from the socket, attracted the special attention of the Queen, who asked him what his name was.

"Breeze, Your Majesty," replied the soldier, who was a magnificent-looking fellow.

"Where did you lose your arm?"

"At the battle of Balaklava."

"Poor fellow! I hope they'll behave well to you. What regiment did you belong to?"

"Prince Albert's Eleventh Hussars, where I have served as sergeant for the last 12 years," was the soldier's reply.

Her Majesty at once turned to the Prince and said, "My dear, you must do something for him." Then, nodding to Sergeant Breeze, she said in a most pleasant manner, "You shall not be forgotten."

Immediately upon her return to Windsor Her Majesty gave orders that Sergeant Breeze should receive 5 shillings a week out of her private purse, had him appointed one of the yeomanry of the guard and procured him a Government pension of 2 shillings a day for life.

HER MAJESTY'S DIAMOND JUBILEE.

QUEEN VICTORIA.

Our Beloved Sovereign as a Child, as a Bride, as a Mother, as a Grandmother, as a Mother of Kings and as a Woman.

When on an eventful night, nearly sixty years ago, the youthful Princess Victoria was officially informed of the death of her uncle, King William the Fourth, and learned that she was a Queen, she dropped on her knees and prayed the Almighty to give her strength and wisdom to enable her to sustain the responsibilities of her high position. The prayer has been answered. Greater sovereigns have sat upon the throne of England, but none better than she. In the fierce light that beats upon a throne she has lived from girlhood to old age, and the homage of true hearts the world over is paid to her as to a woman who has lived a pure and noble life, not less as a wife and mother than as a queen.

Sunday, June 20th, then, will mark for Queen Victoria, the completion of the sixtieth year of her glorious reign. Tuesday, June 22, the empire will celebrate our aged sovereign's diamond jubilee. The story of these sixty years cannot be briefly told; its theatre has been the world, its actors, in principal and auxiliary parts, a majority of the human race. Yet even within newspaper compass, the outlines of the personal sides of the sovereign can be sketched, and a few data supplied to such as would review it's far-reaching history.

The Queen as a Child.

"The English like queens," remarked the old Duchess of Saxe-Coburg, in the month of May, 1819, as she stood on the terrace of the charming country house at Rosenau, an open letter in her hand. She had just heard of the birth on the 24th of the little May flower, child of her daughter, Princess Victoria, whose marriage to the Duke of Kent had taken place during the present year. The proud grandmother devoted a few moments to looking into the future, then, passing between the great pillars of the marble saloon, she sat down at her table and wrote: "Again a Charlotte, destined, perhaps, to play a great part one day, if a brother be not born to take it out of her hands."

An episode which might have had a tragic ending took place immediately before her father's death. The cot in the nursery had been placed close to one of the quaint gothic windows of Woodbrook, and in this the future queen was reposing peacefully, when she was suddenly aroused by a bullet crashing through a pane of glass at her head. It was merely a boy amusing himself with a gun, but the incident might have changed the whole course of English history.

AT 6 YEARS

Another interesting scene was that of the little maiden's christening. Her parents, with the quiet persistence that never failed to win the day, managed to have the golden font brought over from the Tower for the ceremony, which was performed in the grand saloon in Kensington Palace. There was much discussion as to the name of the tiny princess.

"Elizabeth is the name of names in this case," pronounced the Duke of Kent, authoritatively. "Why not give her the name of the greatest of the English sovereigns, since she will, in all probability, herself one day sit on the throne of England?"

"It should be Alexandrina," asseverated the English relatives, "after her renowned sponsor, the Emperor of Russia. What better name than that of the peace-maker of Europe?"

"Why not call the child Victoria, after her own mother?" demanded the Coburg relatives. "Where could a better name for a ruling sovereign be found?"

The dispute was not over when the christening party stood around the font, and the prince regent, on being asked by the archbishop to name the child, replied with a single word, Alexandrina.

"There must be a second name," said the Duke of Kent hurriedly, and with some indignation.

"Then give her her mother's," replied the regent shortly.

As Alexandrina Victoria accordingly the infant was handed back to its nurse. Throughout her childhood the little girl was usually known as Princess Drina, while her mother's pet name for her continued to be May Blossom, often abbreviated into May, from the month in which her birthday fell.

It was the young queen herself who finally selected the great name by which she will go down to posterity. The members of the House of Commons had already begun to take the oath to her under the double appellation when they were informed she had signed a state document by the one name only.

Early Education.

AT 9

the education and training of the young princess entirely to her mother, who performed the task with fidelity and great good sense. She attended diligently not only to the intellectual but to the moral training of her daughter, instilling in her mind deep religious sentiments and a fervid devotion to duty. To this sensible woman England owes it no doubt that Victoria as Queen has displayed in so very slight degree the faults of her paternal ancestors. Herself adverse to the pomp and the frivolity of the court, the Duchess of Kent preferred to bring up her daughter in the seclusion of her home, where instructions was furnished her in the graceful accomplishments as well as the more solid studies, as befitted a princess of the most brilliant prospects. For from the time that William IV. ascended the throne the succession of the Princess Victoria was considered certain. When she was 18 years old a grand ball was given in her honor at Buckingham Palace, and in less than a month after this King William died.

Introduction to Royal Honors.

The story of the young Queen's first introduction to royal honors is interesting. King William had passed away at Windsor Castle at 2 o'clock on the morning of June 20, 1837. The Archbishop of Canterbury, the Lord Chancellor, and other dignitaries were despatched immediately to inform the young sovereign of her accession to the throne. They reached Kensington, where the Duchess of Kent then resided, about 5 o'clock, and obtaining admission with some difficulty, requested that the attendant of Princess Victoria might be sent to inform Her Royal Highness that they desired an audience on business of importance. The woman, with absurd punctiliousness apparently characteristic of royal households, demurred, saying that the Princess was in such a sweet sleep that she could not bear to disturb her. One can imagine the crushing importance with which the great lords replied: "We come on business to the Queen of Great Britain, and even her sleep must give way to that." It did, and young Victoria so far appreciated the situation that she did not wait to dress herself. "In a few moments," says the chronicler, "she appeared before the embassy in a loose night dress and shawl, her hair falling over her shoulders, her feet in slippers, tears in her eyes, but perfectly collected and dignified." It is said that on receiving greetings as Queen of Great Britain and Ireland, her first words in reply, addressed to the Archbishop of Canterbury, were, "Pray for me, dear Archbishop."

AT 18

First Meeting With the Cabinet.

The extreme youth of the Queen, and the fact that the people knew so little of her, on account of the seclusion in which she had hitherto lived, aroused much interest and curiosity as to the manner in which she would bear her new and great dignities. At her first meeting with her Cabinet Ministers in Council, at 11 o'clock on the morning of the accession to the throne, she satisfied this curiosity in a way altogether creditable to herself. She accepted her honors with graceful self-possession, convinced her Ministers of her sound judgment by deferring to their opinion in all things, and, by abdicating all claim to personal government, justified the kindly popular greeting that her accession had received by ushering in the most prosperous era that England had ever known.

Her Majesty's Coronation.

Queen Victoria was crowned at Westminster Abbey, June 28, 1838, with all the extravagant ceremony and paraphernalia usually attendant upon regal coronations.

AT 1P

Marriage and Family Life.

Feb. 10, 1840, she was married to her cousin, Albert of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha. This was a remarkable royal marriage, in that it was founded as purely upon affection as any union in the humblest rank of life might have been, and it had its reflex action for good upon the entire family life of the nation. The young people had met previous to the Queen's accession and had been greatly attracted to each other, and when the Prince again visited England in 1839, there is no doubt that both had in mind the hope of a happy culmination of this preference. Prince Albert was handsome and gifted, the Queen adored him for his attractions as well as for his sterling virtues, while he in turn had the greatest admiration for her amiability and good sense. When they were married, the Prince devoted himself not only to the happiness of the Queen, but to assisting her in her public duties. It may be doubted that any other Queen that ever lived had a married life as perfectly happy as that of Queen Victoria.

Prince Albert was a man possessed of rare mental gifts as well as personal attractions. He had received a sound and varied education, he loved music and the arts, but was by no means indifferent to the larger interests of life, philosophy, politics, and the science of government. He accepted his position as

as well as play. "Victoria," wrote the Prince to his uncle, King Leopold, "is the treasure on which my whole existence rests," while, on the other hand, he influenced her in everything. "I told Albert," said the Queen, "that formerly I was too happy to go to London and dreaded leaving it; and now, since the blessed hour of my marriage, I am unhappy to leave the country, and would be content never to go to town."

Prince Albert was a passionate lover of the beauties of nature, he was very fond of gardening. Osborne, in the Isle of Wight, and Balmoral, in Scotland, were both sources of great enjoyment to him.

Up to the year 1861 the life of Queen Victoria had been one of unbroken, tranquil happiness. Her mother, to whom she was deeply attached, was spared to enjoy a peaceful old age. Her husband was to her all that a devoted and loving companion could be, and their nine children were growing up, healthful, happy, and dutiful. All that the world could grant, of wealth and honor, were hers, and her eldest daughter had been happily wedded to the heir of one of the most powerful kingdoms of Europe Frederick of Prussia, a Prince whose amiable virtues and intelligence added luster to his brilliant rank. In May 1861, the Queen lost her mother, and in December came a far greater blow in the death of the Prince Consort. The Queen met her bereavement with that vehemence of grief so often manifested by those who have a life of unruffled happiness suddenly interrupted by a great sorrow. Her loss so preyed upon her mind that for a number of years she lived in absolute retirement, avoiding as far as possible all public and social duties, indulging her melancholy to the fullest extent. This spectacle of inconsolable grief amid the gorgeous surroundings of royalty produced a great effect upon the English people, and gave to the Queen a hold upon the affections of her subjects which it is doubtful she could have won through her personality alone.

The Mother of Kings.

The Queen may justly be styled the Mother of Kings. They range all the way from the Emperor of Germany, who is a star of the first magnitude, to the Prince of Roumania, who is a very insignificant member of the monarchical firmaments. The family of Guelph will not die out for generations, perhaps for centuries, as the Queen has about sixty direct descendants. The amazing spectacle is presented to-day of Queen Victoria being photographed with her great-grandson, Prince Edward of York. This youth is the son of the son of the Queen's son, the Prince of Wales. He is in direct succession to the throne. But before he can reign, the Queen, the Prince of Wales and his father, the Duke of York, must die. It is funny to think of the Prince of Wales as a grandfather. The reason it is funny is because the Prince of Wales is still a comparatively young man.

The blood of this royal family is now intermingled with that of the principal royal families of Europe, and the Queen may properly address almost every King of Europe as "dearly beloved brother." She is related to them all. Kings now reigning and kings who will one day reign she has scolded and admonished. She has punished the mightiest monarchs and sent men before whom millions now tremble to bring her footstool. Queens and Princesses have respectfully done her bidding. She is indeed the great mother of kings.

Fifteen Years' Retirement.

For fifteen years after the death of her husband, the Queen did not appear before Parliament. In 1870 she again appeared at the opening of that body, but did not attempt to read her speech as she had done in the earlier years. In April, 1876, an Act of Parliament authorized Her Majesty to assume the title of Empress of India. She occasionally in later years has been present at the opening of the Parliamentary sessions. In 1884 she was present at the opening of the new law courts. In 1886 she took part in several public ceremonies of importance, among them the opening of the Indian and Colonial exhibition at South Kensington, where she was received with enthusiastic demonstrations of loyalty. In 1887 the jubilee of her reign was celebrated with

LINSEED AND TURPENTINE

Linseed and Turpentine is not only a popular remedy, but the best known to medical science for the treatment of nervous membranes of respiratory organs.

DR. CHASE compounded this valuable syrup so as to take away the unpleasant taste of the turpentine and linseed. It was the Doctor's last and greatest remedy, and more of it is sold in Canada than all other cough medicines combined.

A Banker's Experience

HEREAFTER HE INTENDS TO .... BE HIS OWN FAMILY DOCTOR

"I tried a bottle of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine for a troublesome affection of the throat," writes Manager Thomas Dewson, of the Standard Bank, now of 14 Melbourne avenue, Toronto. "It proved effective. I regard the remedy as simple, cheap and exceedingly good. It has hitherto been my habit to consult a physician in troubles of this nature. Hereafter, however, I intend to be my own family doctor."

A HANDSOME TRIBUTE

Of Sir Charles Tupper to the Late Alex. Mackenzie.

FAST ATLANTIC STEAMSHIP LINE

Sir Richard Cartwright Gives Some Information About the Contract—Mr. Bennett Looking After the Claims of Midland Mr. Tarte Replies to His Critics.

Ottawa, May 21.—(Special.)—The House adjourned this evening until Tuesday. It was also intimated that as usual the House would not sit next Thursday, being Ascension Day. Saturday, however, will probably be devoted to work, in order to make up for these two holidays. The House was in supply most of to-day and great progress was made with the estimates. Sir Richard Cartwright made the important announcement that a cablegram had been received from the Imperial authorities sanctioning the completion of the fast Atlantic service contract entered into with Peterson, Tait & Co. The appropriation asked for the statue of Hon. Alexander Mackenzie to be erected on Parliament Hill caused Sir Charles Tupper to express his high appreciation of the great services rendered both to Canada and to British institutions by the former Liberal leader. Sir Richard Cartwright also added a similar tribute. The Speaker of the House and a number of members attended the Senate chamber this afternoon, when the Governor General gave the royal assent to a number of bills, amongst them being the one granting $26,000 to pay the expenses of the militia contingent to be sent to England.

The bill granting $26,000 to defray the expenses of the militia contingent to be sent to England for the Jubilee celebration was passed in committee and read a third time.

THE STEAMSHIP CONTRACT.

In reply to Sir Charles Tupper, who referred to a statement in the press that the contract with the Peterson-Tait Company had been finally completed, Sir Richard Cartwright said that, so far as he was aware, no notification on the subject had been received from the Imperial authorities, as stated in the article quoted. Replying to a query of Mr. N. Clarke Wallace on the same subject, Sir Richard said that he did not know that Mr. Peterson was a German, and he thought that he was either a Scandinavian or an Englishman. He had not heard that Mr. Peterson had a contract [illegible] the German Empire, one of the terms being that he was to get preferential trade rates. Sir Richard added that he would investigate the rumor, though he was afraid the someone else had been "spoiling" Mr. Wallace.

Mr. McMullen (North Wellington) asked under what arrangement it was that bicycles were carried free on the Intercolonial Railway, which was operated at a loss to the people of the country, while a charge was made by other railway companies.

The Minister of Railways said that he had received a telegram from the general manager of the road, stating that bicycles had never been charged for, being carried in the same way as baby carriages. The railway company accepted no risk in the matter. Bicycles had originally been taken free by all railway companies, and when, about a year ago, the C. P. R. and G. T. R. had imposed a charge he had thought it better to wait until the question was definitely settled.

Mr. Davin said that he desired to explain why it was that he did not intend to press the motion relating to the duty on coal oil which he had on the order paper. He pointed out that he had not received the support he had expected when he moved that agricultural implements should be placed upon the free list. He specially blamed the Patron and Western members for voting with the opponents of the motion, and alleged that if they had acted with him in the matter it would have had some weight in inducing the Government to redeem what he said were their ante-election pledges. He urged the Government to further reduce the duty on coal oil, but did not make any motion on the subject for the reason stated.

GEORGIAN BAY HARBORS.

The House then went into Committee of Supply. Mr. Bennett asked if the Minister of Public Works did not really intend to expend about $250,000 and not only $80,000, the amount placed in the estimates, for the improvements of Collingwood harbor. He thought it was not fair that so large an amount should be spent there and nothing at Midland, which was in his constituency. When a dredge had been sent to that port last year it had been recalled almost immediately on account, he claimed, of certain political reasons. He asked for some details in regard to the work at Collingwood.

Mr. Tarte repudiated the assertion that he had ever displayed any partisan feeling in the conduct of his department. The contract for the improvements of the Collingwood harbor had been let to Booth & Armstrong for $144,000, only $80,000 being asked for in the estimates because that amount would be amply sufficient to pay for the operations during the present season. The harbor was to be dredged for a length of 4000 feet, the 2000 feet at the outside of the harbor to be twenty feet in depth and the other 2000 feet eighteen feet in depth. The average width was to be 450 feet. These improvements would give the port all the accommodation required.

Mr. Bennett alleged that this would be a waste of public money, and that the width of what he called "the trench" was not such as was needed for large sailing vessels. He thought that the Minister of Public Works really contemplated expending about $250,000 on this harbor, asking more money in subsequent years.

Mr. Tarte answered that he had only said that the average width was 450 feet. The improvements undertaken were regarded as satisfactory by those chiefly interested in the harbor, and he did not anticipate any further expenditure as nothing else had been asked for.

The item was then passed.

On the vote for Owen Sound harbor $35,000, Mr. Tarte told Mr. Bennett that dredging would be done by day work at the rate of $8 a day.

The first thing after recess in the evening Sir Richard made an important further announcement:

"Before we proceed with the business of the evening, I may mention, for the information of the hon. leader of the Opposition, that we did receive this afternoon a formal communication from Her Majesty's Government to the effect that they approved of the arrangements for the fast Atlantic line."

"Is the hon. gentleman in a position to say generally what the terms of the arrangement are?" asked Sir Charles Tupper.

Sir Richard, by way of reply, said: "The arrangements are those substantially which were previously communicated to the House. An offer was made by Messrs. Peterson, Tait & Co. to perform the fast Atlantic service at a stipulated speed rather exceeding 20 knots per hour, say 500 knots per day, from port to port. This is to be done in consideration of $500,000 a year to be paid by us, and $250,000, or thereabouts, to be paid by Her Majesty's Government." Sir Richard further promised to lay before the House at the earliest possible moment the contract and the details.

The following bills were read a third time and passed:

To incorporate the Winnipeg, Duluth and Hudson Bay Railway Company—Mr. Macdonell.

Respecting the Manitoba and Southeastern Railway—Mr. Landerkin.

Respecting the Richelieu and Lake Memphremagog Railway—Mr. Belcourt.

To incorporate the Minden and Northwestern Railway Company—Mr. McHugh.

Respecting the Temiscouata Railway Company—Mr. Domville.

Respecting the St. Lawrence and Adirondack Railway Company—Mr. Bergeron.

To incorporate the Kaslo and Lardo, Duncan Railway Company—Mr. Bostock.

Respecting the Quebec Bridge Company—Mr. Langelier.

Respecting the North American Life Assurance Company—Mr. Lount.

Respecting the SunLife Insurance Co., Canada—Mr. Rosamond.

Respecting the Canadian Fire Insurance Company—Mr. Landerkin.

Resuming discussion of the Owen Sound appropriation for dredging, Mr. Bennett endeavored but ineffectually to get an unequivocal reply from Mr. Tarte as to whether Mr. J. A. Barron was mixed up with this contract. The item finally passed, as did those for dredging in the Maritime Provinces. Mr. Tarte promising considerable extra dredging, and subsequently accepting the very cordial invitation of Opposition members to visit those districts during the summer. They promised him a good time, if not a jamboree.

The roads and bridges appropriation for the "Washington of the North," $65,000, a decrease of $35,000, passed without comment.

Then, when the vote of $5000 for a monument on Parliament Hill to Alexander Mackenzie came up, Sir Charles Tupper arose and expressed the great pleasure it afforded him to support an appropriation to perpetuate the memory of that great man, although his life and services were such as would live forever in the memory of the country, without the action of a statue of marble or bronze. It gave him extreme gratification, however, to endorse the proposal to erect to Mr. Mackenzie's memory a monument that should have been erected long ago. [Applause.]

Sir Richard Cartwright assured the committee in turn that it gave him great pleasure to hear the leader of the Opposition refer to his late friend, Mr. Mackenzie, and he felt sure that in speaking thus, Sir Charles was but expressing the feeling of all men, now that the echoes of party strife have passed away. Indeed, long before Mr. Mackenzie's death the impression was general throughout Canada that, whatever his little failings might have been, Mr. Mackenzie was a sincere lover of his country, and many things had since transpired which showed how clear an insight he had even then into events that had since transpired. "I feel," said Sir Richard, in conclusion, "that the honorable gentleman has done himself and his party credit by the manner in which he has to-night expressed his appreciation of the public services of Alexander Mackenzie." [Applause.]

With this the item passed.

Mr. Clarke asked as to the reductions in the Toronto postoffice, which Mr. Mulock explained were due to the transfer of Mr. Croker to the railway mail service and the abolition of a clerkship by the death of Mr. Whitesides.

After a few other items passed, the committee rose and reported and the House adjourned at 10.25 p.m.

JUBILEE CELEBRATION HAS BEEN POSTPONED

In Order to Allow the Battalion to go to Montreal on June 22nd.

A meeting of the council was called last evening and the members assembled in committee of the whole to discuss the matter of the Jubilee celebration.

Lt.-Col. Bell was present and stated that the Battalion had received an invitation to participate in the Montreal demonstration, and as such a trip would do a great deal to encourage recruits to join the Rangers, he asked the council not to take any steps which would interfere with the Battalion accepting the invitation.

As no definite action had been decided upon, the council decided to postpone the celebration of the Jubilee until July 1st and the Battalion will therefore journey to Montreal on June 22nd.

UP IN A BALLOON.

A Young Aeronaut was in Town Yesterday.

A modest looking young man carrying a big six foot wooden hoop in his hand, got off the afternoon express at the C. P. R. station on Friday, and was driven to the Grand Central Hotel, where the hoop caused a question or two to be asked.

The young man was Mr. F. B. Robinson, of Michigan, who was on his way down to Campbellford to make a balloon ascension on the 24th, and the hoop was part of his paraphrenalia.

Robinson is a pleasant young fellow and chatted freely about his rather odd manner of making a livelihood. He generally gets a hundred dollars for making an ascension and as it only takes about twenty minutes he considers that he earns his money very easily. Of fear he has no knowledge and does not seem to realize the danger which he runs when he is a mile or so up in the air. A greenhorn, he states, is never in any danger, as he will hang on too closely to the ropes to fall, but after a man gets accustomed to the sensation he is apt to become careless and make a slip. He, himself, has never met with an accident of a serious nature, although when giving ascension exhibitions near Charlotte, he landed (?) in the lake six time out of eight. Boats were always conveniently stationed to rescue him.

A JUBILEE SUGGESTION.

An Illuminated Canoe Parade in the Evening on the Lake.

At the first meeting which was held by the citizens for the porpose of making arrangements for a Jubilee day celebration, Mr. J. S. Knapman made the suggestion that the canoeists be invited to hold an illuminated parade on the Little Lake.

The idea has in some way been lost sight of but it certainly was too good a one not to receive its share of consideration.

No prettier sight is imaginable than to see a flotella of canoes in the lake in the evening, if a little trouble has been expended in decorating and illuminating them. A band stationed on Burnham's Point would brighten the evenings enjoyand if the canoeists can be persuaded to take Mr. Knapman's idea a great deal of pleasure would be forthcoming to those who enjoy pretty sights. A few races might also take place before it got sufficiently dark to make the illuminations effective.

The Dear Irish Home.

The popular Irish Comedian, Dan McCarthy, will give an elaborate production of his new piece, entitled "The Dear Irish Home," at Bradburn's opera house on Tuesday, May 25th. He might have gone on for years in his old plays, always retaining a clientale of admirers, but Mr. McCarthy is made of more progressive material, and in this play is said to have produced something far better than any of his previous efforts. The piece is said to abound in comedy and strong dramatic situations. Among the specialties introduced are jig, clog, buck and wing dancing, bag pipe playing and several new songs. Jas. W. Hagan, the sweet singing Irish Comedian, and the famous singer of popular songs, Lillian Washburn Burns, are among those in the cast. Prices, 25c, 35c and 50c. Seats now on sale.

ST. JOHN'S AT HOME.

The Young Men's Bible Class Entertains its Friends.

In spite of the heavy rain on Thursday night a fair number of men attended the "At Home" in St. John's school room, which was given by the Young Men's Bible Class. Things looked very discouraging as first, as most of those on the programme had failed to put in an appearance.

Several members of the church, who belong to the physical drill corps of the 57th, who had promised to give an exhibition, were, however, better than their word. They brought with them nearly the full corps in uniform under command of Sergt.-Major Peters. With Sergt. Green at the piano the men gave three splendid exhibitions of manual and bayonet exercises. The effect of the large corps going through their motions in such absolute precision was very pleasing and a great change from the ordinary style of entertainment. The men are to be highly commended for their zeal in bringing their drill to such a high standard.

The rest of the programme consisted of two piano solos by Mr. Owens in his usual finished style. A reading was given by Mr. F. Sawers, a recitation by the teacher of the Bible class and a capital song by Sergt.-Major Peters.

Mr. R. M. Denniston gave a very fine and most suitable address on the Queen's Jubilee. He contrasted the Queen's reign with the long reigns of Henry III, Edward III and George III, none of whom were in full possession of their mental powers during the whole of their reigns. Brief mention was also made of the wonderful material, moral and religious advancement that has taken place under England's greatest sovereign. The Rev. E.V. Stevenson made a few remarks and asked all to rise and sing the National Anthem. After partaking of refreshments, which the ladies kindly sent in, the entertainment was brought to a close.

—A tremendous business is being done at Calcutt's brewery. Two new wagons have been added to deliver orders. The demand for lager is enormous, as well as other wet goods turned out. The Commodore is well deserving of local as well as an out side share of the trade, and is meeting with every success.

Weekly Half Holiday.

The business men do not, as a whole, appear to be in favour of granting their employees a weekly half holiday this year, thinking that it has a tendency to hurt business.

What Art and Science Can Do.

Prof. Dorenwend announces a visit to Peterborough at the House Thursday, May 27th, with his famous art hair goods. His statement that over 30,000 gentlemen wear his toupees, 20,000 his wigs, and 50,000 ladies his hair coverings, bangs, etc., will open the eyes of our readers as to the immense business his company must do, and is a proof of the excellence of his goods, and now that there is an opportunity, then all haired and bald persons should call on him. For ladies he has wigs, ventilated open wigs, switches, bangs, wavy and plain fronts, etc. For gentlemen, featherweight wigs and toupees. Health, comfort and good looks can be obtained by their use. He can also give you reliable advice as to the care of the hair. Call and see him. dw

The Canal.

The steam drill is again at work on this section of the canal, says the Lakefield News. Both Mr. Fitzgerald's gang and Mr. Buchannan's gang are taking out a large quantity of stone. Parties should be careful not to go near the canal when blasting is going on as it is dangerous. The whistle is always blown as a warning to keep away.

Grant to the Historical Society.

Lieut.-Col. Rogers and Messrs. Hampden Burnham and T. A. S. Hay waited on the council last evening to learn the decision of the members regarding the giving of a grant to the Historical Society. The three representatives were sent on their way rejoicing with a promise of $200, on the condition that the county give $150, and the society raise $100 more.

Dropsy Cured with one Bottle.

A great cure and a great testimony. "For ten years I suffered greatly from Heart Disease, Fluttering of the Heart and Smothering Spells, made my life a torment. I was confined to my bed. Dropsy set in. My physician told me to prepare for the worst. I tried Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart—one dose gave me great relief, one bottle cured the Dropsy and my heart."—Mrs. James Adams, Syracuse, N.Y. Sold by H.S. Macdonald.

THE Y. M. C. A. GYMNASIUM FUND CONTEST.

Blues Still Ahead.

Score stood at 10 p.m. yesterday—Blues, $103½; Reds, $82½.

So the blue flag stays—it will be there on June 4th.

Dear Reds—We don't like to have it so one sided. But we cannot wait for you—only 11 working days left before June 4th.

"The red flag hangs in within the hall. 'Tis said 'twill never fly at all."—By the Blue poet.

The Reds seem to be living on "anticipation" these days. We like something in the concrete.—Points for instance.

Why is a Blue ribbon of more value than hair vigour? Because hair vigour saves the hair, but a Blue ribbon saves the scalp—from the hands of the Redmen.

It is reported that a Redman went into a George street hardware man and asked him to give the Y.M.C.A. a lift. "Certainly," said the merchant, who went to the rear of the store and brought forward a stove lift (valued at five cents) and presented it to the disgusted Redman.

Look out for the programme for the Big Blue Boomer meeting on Tuesday evening, May 25th. Here are some leading features of the programme:—

1. Five four-minute patriotic speeches on England, Ireland, Scotland and Canada, by Rev. J. J. Rae and others.
2. A number of vocal selections, including several patriotic songs by leading town talent.
3. Several select readings.
4. George Zigiire, the Armenian will sing a song in that tongue. He will also be in the costume of that nation.
5. Every lady who attends will be given a present provided she wears the blue.
6. Mr. Martin, captain of the Reds, will be in the chair. Gallery rererved for Reds. Come early as there will be a rush for seats.

"RED" MEETING.

The side led by Capt. Martin gave an excellent entertainment in the Y.M.C.A. hall last evening in the presence of a large and enthusiastic audience. Mr. Williamson occupied the chair.

Several clever character sketches in song were given by Mr. Weese, of Toronto.

Mr. Geo. Mulligan rendered a solo in good style as did Miss Hall. Both received encores.

The debate "Resolved that anticipation is better than realization" was very humorous. This was taken part in by Rev. Potter and Messrs. Kennedy and Froude. Mr. M. Kennedy presided at the piano.

THE JUBILEE POSTAGE STAMPS

A Splendid Souvenir of the Diamond Jubilee.

Through the kindness of the Postmaster General the EXAMINER is in receipt of a double size photographic reproduction of the Jubilee issue of three cent stamp, of which twenty millions only will be issued. The Jubilee three cent stamp is twins, that is, it contains two effigies of her Majesty's head, one at 19 years of age and one at 78. The stamp is double the size of the ordinary three cent stamp, that is, two inches in length and three-quarters of an in breadth. On the left side is the head Queen contained on an oval medallion and underneath it the figures of 1837. On the right side is the head of the Queen, as she now, is with the figures 1897 beneath the medallion. Above the respective medallions and conforming to the curves of the ovals are the words "Canada Postage." The space between the ovals is filled above with the crown and below the letter V inclosing superposed the letters "R" (Regina) and "I" (Imperatrix). The corresponding space below is filled in with maple leaves. At the bottom of the stamp extending beneath the medallions on a white ground are the words "Three cents."

LACROSSE.

The Peterboroughs had a rattling good practice last evening on their grounds and every member of the team is in good shape for the big game on Monday next. The following players have been picked for the team: Goal, Dobbin; point, Brown; cover point, Glover; first defence, Mein; second defence, Borland; third defence, Craig; centre, Thompson; third home, Dobbin; second home, Galley; first home, Lipsett; outside home, Rubidge; inside home, McCabe; field captain, E. Wasson.

As will be noticed, quite a few of the Juniors are figuring on the team, replacing Jimmy McCabe, Lynch, King and Phelan, but the youngsters are all fast and are capable of doing some very close checking.

BASEBALL.

The Park Nine will not go to Campbellford on the 24th, as the inducements held out were not sufficient to warrant them in taking part in the celebration there.

The club holds another shoot on Monday morning, May 24th.

SCIATIC, OUCH

Excruciating Pains—Have You Suffered Rheumatic or Sciatic Pains?—South American Rheumatic Cure will Relieve in 6 Hours and Cure.

"I suffered intensely with rheumatism and sciatica in my left hip. I tried a great many remedies and a number of physicians, but they could do very little for me, only giving me at times a little temporary relief. I saw South American Rheumatic Cure advertised and decided to give it a trial. The first few doses benefitted me wonderfully, and after taking only two bottles the pains disappeared, and there has been no return. I consider my cure a marvel, as I had been so bad for two years, that had I been given the whole universe I could not lie on my left side." E. Errett, Merrickville, Ont. Sold by H.S. Macdonald.

GOD SAVE THE QUEEN.

The Heartfelt Prayer of Four Hundred Millions of British Subjects.

God save our gracious Queen;
Long live our noble Queen,
God save the Queen.
Send her victorious,
Happy and glorious;
Long to reign over us,
God save the Queen.

Thy choicest gifts in store
On her pleased to pour,
Long may she reign.
May she defend our laws,
And ever give us cause
To sing with heart and voice
God save the Queen.

Thou who for three score years,
In sunshine and in tears,
Hast kept our Queen,
Still be her guide and stay
Through life's uncertain way
Till crowned the perfect day,
God bless our Queen.

PERSONAL.

Mr. George A. Stone, one of London's popular travellers, has arrived in town to spend Sunday as promised.

Miss Rehill has been visiting at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Parsons, Omemee, for some days.

Miss Kate Carveth, of Millbrook, is in town spending a few days with Miss May Macfarlane, Homewood avenue.

Rev. J. A. McCamus, of Norwood, is in town. He will conduct the services in the Charlotte street church to-morrow.

Rev. J. G. Potter goes to Lakefield on Monday evening to deliver his popular lecture on "Can you eat Sawdust without Butter.

Mr. S. H. Semon, advance agent for Buffalo Bill's big show, was in town to-day. The show comes along on Saturday, July 3rd.

Mr. John Craig, M.P., of Fergus, has been in town for a few days. He was on his way to Stony Lake to see how his cottage had weathered the winter.

Mr. Harry Cowie is visiting in Detroit. Previous to going he met with an accidental puncture of the eye ball from the point of a pin. After arriving in Detroit a rather serious condition developed in the injured eye and it was thought best that he should be removed to the hospital to get the benefit of special treatment. His father Mr. Wm. Cowie went to Detroit this evening.

TURNER KNOWN EVERYWHERE.

J. J. Turner & Son

Are very busy making flags and sending them to all parts of Canada. They shipped yesterday five 12 ft. Dominion ensigns to the Board of Education, Lindsay, six 9 ft. white ensigns to Toronto, one 25 ft. burgee to B. Gough, Lindsay, one 12 ft. red ensign to Omemee, one 15 ft. burgee to Orillia, one 12 ft. ensign for North Bay, one 12 ft. white ensign to Parry Sound, one burgee for steamer Majestic, Young's Point, one Dominion Ensign 12 ft., Huntsville, one 9 ft. burgee, Gravenhurst, one 12 ft. Dominion Ensign, Perth, two 12 ft. ensigns to Bowmanville, one 15 ft. Dominion ensign, Goderich. They are also busy to-day putting up a flag pole, 55 ft. long and a burgee 25 ft. long, for Gough Bros. Peterborough. They have also made a beautiful Dominion ensign for the Bank of Montreal, Peterborough, one 9 ft white ensign to Bethany, one 9 ft. white ensign to Hastings, and made one very fine ensign for H. Calcutt, Ashburnham. This is not a bad day's business and just about the way it is every day with J. J. Turner & Sons' business. They make good articles and people know it. This firm has also received an order from Guelph to decorate a building, 375 feet frontage.

Sousa's Band is Coming

And no doubt will be a great attraction, but the thing that is attracting the attention of the people of Peterborough and vicinity just now is the marvellously low prices that Alex. Elliott is selling groceries and canned goods at. You can get twenty five pounds of sugar for one dollar, or four cans of vegetable for twenty-five cents. He's after your trade, and at such prices should get a fair share of it. Dont forget—the address is 353 George street, Peterborough.

Art Embroidery.

Miss Arnoldi, of the New York Society of Decorative Art, will visit Peterborough for a short time and will have on exhibition in the parlours of Richard Hall & Sons' store, a magnificent display of art embroidery. A cordial invitation is extended to the ladies of Peterborough to call and inspect this work and to arrange with Miss Arnoldi for a series of lessons in art needlework. This is a grand opportunity for the ladies of Peterborough to get the very latest ideas in this interesting art. Opening day, Tuesday, May 25th. Hours 10 to 5. Tuition free. 3d118

Saw the Point Finally.

A man said: "When I was a young chap, I could use coffee and tobacco without their troubling me, but as I get along in years, they both distress me. I quit tobacco, but only got a little better; liver, stomach, and bowels kept all out of gear, until finally my old doctor told me that coffee had the same poisonous alkaloids as tobacco, but not quite so many, and advised me to leave it off, and give nature a chance to build up. I didn't take much stock in the old man's advice, but found out by trying it that it was just right. Still I missed my hot drink at breakfast and supper—tried chocolate, but that lacks the taste I like, and tea don't exactly go to the spot. Lately I have been drinking Madden Cereal, and like it better than the old coffee. It has that pungent taste that fits my notion of a hot drink, and it agrees with me well enough that I have put on ten pounds in a month. It is made of grains wholly, and brews a deep rich colour like the finest Mocha. Wife buys it at the grocery, and says it cost us about one-third what coffee used to."

PROVINCE OF ONTARIO.

FORTY-YEAR ANNUITIES.

The undersigned will receive tenders for the purchase of terminable annuities running for a period of forty years, issued by the Province of Ontario under authority of an act of the Provincial Parliament (47 Vic., cap. 31).

The annuities will be in the form of certificates signed by the Provincial Treasurer, in which certificates the Provincial Treasurer will agree to make half-yearly payments at his office in Toronto, of sums of $100 or larger sums, on the 30th day of June and 31st day of December in each year, for forty years from 30th day of June next, the first half-yearly certificates being payable on the 31st December next.

The total amount of annuities to be issued in '97, and for which tenders are asked, is $7,000 annually, but tenders will be received for any part of the same not less than $200 annually.

Tenders will be required to state the purchase money which will be paid for either the whole annuities offered or such portion as may be tendered for.

Tenders will be received up to the 15th day of June next. Notification of allotments will be given to tenderers on or before 19th June, and payments from the persons whose tenders are accepted must be made within ten days thereafter at the office of the Provincial Treasurer in Toronto, but if from any cause the purchase money is not paid by the 30th of June, purchasers who have not then paid will be required to pay interest on their purchase money from that date to date of payment at the rate of interest which the investment will yield, according to their respective tenders.

Tenders may, if preferred, be upon condition that the annuities be payable in sterling in London, England. In such case the conversion will be at the par of exchange, $4 86 2-3, equal to the pound sterling.

The annuities will be delivered at the office of the Provincial Treasurer in Toronto.

The highest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

R. HARCOURT,
Provincial Treasurer.

Provincial Treasurer's office, Toronto, April 21st 1897.

Note—Illustration of calculation on interest basis—At the rate of 3½ per cent. per annum (or in strictness 1 5-8 per cent. half-yearly), a present payment of $2,329.55 would represent an annuity of $100 for 40 years, payable half-yearly.

N. B.—No unauthorized advertisement will be paid for. 2d-sm

Tenders for Parsonage.

TENDERS FOR THE ERECTION OF A Parsonage will be received by the undersigned up to 4 p. m., of May 31st, Inst.

Separate tenders are invited:

1st—For the entire job.

2nd—For Excavation, Masonry, Brick Work and Drainage.

3rd—For the entire job, save the Excavation, Masonry, Brick Work and Drainage.

The builders are not bound to accept any tender.

Plans and specifications may be seen at the office of the Architect, Wm. Blackwell, Esq.

The contractors will with tender submit the names of two bondsmen to be sureties to extent of $1,000, for the full completion of the work.

Tenders to be sealed and numbered only.

370 GEORGE STREET.

Their names are in the paper every day in the obituary column. The names of men killed by neglect of their health combined with overwork. They should serve as a warning to others who are fast following in their footsteps. No man can stand the strain of modern business competition who neglects his health. It is not good policy to overwork but the man who looks after his health can stand a great deal of it. The man who neglects his health is soon unfitted for work. When a man's nerves are irregular, his blood becomes impure and the body is badly nourished. The victim of these conditions suffers from brain fag, nervous prostration, and debility, and eventually falls a victim to consumption.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery corrects the digestion, invigorates the liver, improves the appetite and regulates the bowels. It is the best blood-purifier, blood-maker, flesh builder, and nerve tonic. It makes a man well, strong, clear headed and fit for business. It enables him to stand a reasonable amount of overwork. All good druggists sell it. There's nothing "just as good."

Chas. Faulhaber, of Brownlee, Cherry Co., Neb., writes. "I have used Dr. Pierce's medicines, especially the 'Golden Medical Discovery' with much benefit. Some time ago I was troubled with great distress in my arms and hands. It got so bad I could not sleep at night. I thought it was the muscles of my arms that caused the trouble. I began taking the 'Golden Medical Discovery.' Soon I felt a decided improvement, and before I had taken the second bottle the aching was all gone, and it has not returned. I have a copy of your 'Common Sense Medical Adviser' and would not do without it for any money."

Knowing how to take care of health is half the battle against illness. Dr. Pierce's great book, "Common Sense Medical Adviser" is the educator of the age. This book reached a sale of 680,000 copies at $1.50 each. Within its 1,008 pages is compressed the best that Dr. Pierce has gathered by study and practice in thirty years. It is illustrated with over 300 drawings, some of them colored. Its 90 pages addressed exclusively to women are worth the original price of the book. A new edition in paper covers is now ready for free distribution. By sending 21 cents in one-cent stamps, to pay for customs and mailing, you will receive this great book. For cloth binding, send 50 stamps. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

QUEEN'S WEDDING CAKE.

The Germans Marvel at Its Solidity and Size, and an Editor Studies It.

Germans are puzzled considerably by the wedding cakes which Queen Victoria sends to royal couples that are married in German palaces. The cakes seem to be ordinary fruit cakes, of the same general composition as the ones seen at most weddings, but their composition, solidity, weight and appearance are matters of uncommon interest to the editors of German journals as well as the people at large.

To the recent wedding in Coburg the Queen sent a cake, which the editor of The Gotha Gazette studied deeply, in order that he might enlighten the anxious readers of his newspaper. He found that its diameter at the base was 3 feet 4 inches and at the top 3 feet. Its height was 3 feet 6 inches. It weighed 125 pounds, or 25 less than the cake Her Majesty sent to the wedding of the Princess Marie of Edinburgh several years ago. The editor explains that the density of the cake was remarkable, so remarkable, in fact that a knife could not prevail against it, and a saw must be used to divide off the sections distributed among the guests.

The cake had been iced heavily in England, but its journey by sea and land from London to Coburg shook it up so thoroughly that most of the icing was in fragments at the end of the trip, and the cake was sent to a Coburg confectioner for repairs. Before the cake was sawed up it was displayed, with its top piece of artificial orange blossoms, among the presents of the princely couple.

A LONG LIST!

This Whole Column Would not Contain the Names of the Many Prominent Ministers, Members of Parliament, and Professional Men all over this Continent who Have been Cured of Catarrh by Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder—It gives Relief in 10 Minutes.

Volumes of testimony have been written of its curative powers. Catarrh is an aggravating malady, insignificant in its beginning—a little cold in the head—neglect it and soon you're in its thrall. Eighty in every hundred have the taint. Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder will cure the slightest cold in head, and cure the most stubborn case of catarrh, "Its action is instantaneous," says one. "I feel it my duty to recommend it to the public," says another. "Never got relief until I used it," says another, and so on and on. Acts like magic and always cures. Sold by H.S. Macdonald.

Candlefish.

Recent experiments by the curious at Portland, Ore., have revived recollections of a primitive light used in the early days of the settlements along the Columbia River, when the residents called smelts candlefish. The dried smelts burn as well as candles, and give off an appetizing odor.

The Fortress of Aden.

The southern entrance of the Red Sea is commanded by the fortress of Aden and the fort on the little island of Perim, in the Strait of Bab-el-Mandeb; the guns of the latter completely covering the narrow channel, and the fortress dominating the entrance to the sea.

"Ten people out of a dozen are invalids," says a recent medical authority. At least eight out of these ten, it is safe to allow, are suffering from some form of blood-disease which a persistent use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla would be sure to cure. Then don't be an invalid.

CARE OF THE HUMAN SKIN.

Rules in Rhyme Suggested for a Health Primer.

At the recent mothers' congress, Miss E. Marguerite Lindley emphasized the need of care of the skin, and read a series of rhymes upon the subject to impress the facts more deeply. They were received with much applause by the mothers.

Previously she emphasized the fact that the skin's most important duty is carrying off from two to two and a half pounds of refuse matter every twenty-four hours through the pores of the body.

The rhymes might go appropriately [illegible]. They are as follows:

The Skin.

"There's a skin without and a skin within,
A covering skin and a lining skin,
But the skin within is the skin without,
Doubled inward and carried completely throughout.

* * * * * * *

"The outside skin is a marvelous plan
For exuding the dregs of the flesh of man;
While the inner extracts from the food and the air,
What is needed the waste of the flesh to repair.

"Too much brandy, whisky or gin
Is apt to disorder the skin within;
While if dirty and dry the skin without Refuses to let the sweat come out.

"Good people all, have a care of your skin,
Both that without and that within.
To the first give plenty of water and soap,
To the last, little else but water, we hope.

* * * * * * *

"The food which will ever for you be the best
Is that you like most and can soonest digest.
All unripe fruit and decaying flesh
Beware of, and fish that is not very fresh.

"The water, transparent and pure as you think it,
Had better be filtered and boiled, ere you drink it,
Unless you know surely that nothing unsound,
Can have got to it over or under the ground.

"But of all things most I would have you beware
Of breathing the poison of once-breathed air,
When in bed, whether out or at home you may be,
Always open the windows and let it go free.

* * * * * * *

All you who thus kindly take care of your skin
And attend to its wants without and within
Need never of cholera feel any fears,
And your skin may last you a hundred years."

BISHOP B. W. ARNETT.

SWAYS AUDIENCES WITH HIS MASTERLY ELOQUENCE.

He Writes a Letter of More Than Usual Interest to Suffering Humanity.

At Wilberforce, Ohio, three miles north of Xenia and near Dayton and Springfield, is located Wilberforce University and Payne Theological Seminary.

These two institutions of learning have educated many ministers and teachers.

In this somewhat noted educational centre, resides Bishop Benjamin W. Arnett, D.D., a divine who is of especial prominence because of his thrilling eloquence with which he has swayed many audiences.

Among the high officials of the church, no one is more distinguished than he.

BISHOP B. W. ARNETT.

Before being elected bishop he was a leading minister in his church and also a very prominent Republican. He represented his county in the Ohio Legislature for several years.

Having given this sketch of the bishop the following testimonial from him will be found very interesting reading and fully explains itself.

To whom it may concern:

"In April, 1894, while on my way home from Philadelphia I caught a very severe cold, which soon developed into rheumatism. It was impossible for me to rest by day or sleep by night. About the first of June I was compelled to take to my bed, where I remained for some time. When I was able to get up, I could only get about by the use of crutches.

"The fall came on and the rheumatism grew worse, lasting all through the winter of '94 and '95. I suffered as I never suffered before. I thought that the spring would bring me relief, but it did not, consequently I was forced to cancel a number of engagements to speak.

"One day in June, 1895, my wife said, 'Bishop, I read so much about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, suppose yo try them and see if they will not help you?'

"I said, 'No, there is no use of getting them for we have tried almost everything that has been recommended to us, and none of the remedies suggested seem to help my case.

"She said no more, but went to Xenia, Ohio, and bought a box of the pills. On her return she gave me a dose at noon and another at night. She was only called one time to attend to me during the night.

"For months previous she had been called three to four times during the night. The next day I took three doses of the pills, and the second night I was not disturbed. My wife, for the first time in more than ten months, had a good night's sleep.

"I have not lost a night's sleep since that time on account of the rheumatism. I carry a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in my pocket wherever I go.

"I cheerfully bear testimony and hope that others may find relief as I did. I have recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to several people.

"Yours for God and Man.
BENJAMIN W. ARNETT."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure by going to the root of the disease. They renew and build up the blood, and strengthen the nerves, thus driving disease from the system. Avoid imitations by insisting that every box you purchase is enclosed in a wrapper bearing the full trade mark, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

Husband is Well.

Mrs. Wm. Hambly, Belleville, Ont., says: "My husband was troubled with kidney complaint, rheumatism, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, etc., and could not get relief until I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills for him. He has now used four boxes in all and is perfectly cured."

Doans Kidney Pills are the ones to cure. Remember the name, Doan's.

women who ever succeeded in gaining a musical baccalaureate degree from that institution.

The objects of the Bombay settlement seem numerous. Its report says: "The true reformers of India must eventually be natives fully consecrated and highly qualified. It is as a training school for such that this settlement is to find its highest mission. For women's work among them there is a distinct opening. the Parsee ladies are free from Mohammedan and Hindu restrictions; education with them, though partial, is universal, and they are eager for Western culture. In the districts of Nasik and Malegaon, about 100 miles from Bombay, there is pressing need for lady doctors among 2,000,000 native women, who are almost entirely without medical aid. There it is hoped to establish medical branch of the settlement as soon as two fully qualified lady doctors offer for the work."

Would See His Mother.

Mr. Greville was persuaded, when he was over 65 years of age, to attend a spiritualistic seance. Foster, the presiding medium, was in great form, and the revelations were astonishing. Greville sat silent, and his aged, wizened face was emotionless as a mask. Suddenly the medium grew excited, and said to the old gentleman:

"A female form is bending over you. Oh, the extraordinary likeness!"

Greville sighed.

"She lifts her hands to bless you."

Greville sighed again.

"It is your mother!"

"Ah, poor thing," said Greville: "I am glad."

"She smiles! She says all is well with her!"

Greville sighed again and said: "I'm delighted!"

"She says she will see you soon. You are old, and you must see her before long."

Then Greville quietly observed: "That's very true! I'm going to have tea with her this evening!"

ONE HONEST MAN.

DEAR EDITOR,—Please inform your readers that if written to confidentially, I will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigour, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy.

Manchester's Water Supply

The distance to which Manchester, England, has gone for its water supply, as a new source is about 100 miles, to the well-known Lake Thirlmere. The rainfall of this region is said to be about 180 inches annually, and the lake has been raised by a dam so as to have an area of some 800 acres, the dam being at one end near the intake, while the aqueduct starts near the other, says The New York Sun. The dam is a massive concrete structure, rising about sixty feet above the bottom of the lake, and in some places extending nearly as deep in the rock bottom so as to prevent the passing of any water below it through fissures; on the upstream side the dam has an inclination of 1 to 2 inches in every foot of vertical height, and the downstream face is curved to a radius of 100 feet. The water for the city is taken from the lake through a tunnel in the rock, and the flow is controlled by elaborate apparatus. The aqueduct leading from the reservoir is nearly ninety-six miles long, fourteen miles of this being in tunnel, thirty-seven miles masonry work built in trenches and forty-five miles cast-iron pipes.

"IN SICKNESS AND IN HEALTH."

Man and Wife Join Hands in Proclaiming the Great South American Nervine Kind of Cures for Stomach Trouble and Nerves.

Mr. S. Phillips, of Wiarton, Ont., writes: "I was very much emaciated by chronic dysentery and dyspepsia for a number of years. No remedy or no physician seemed to successfully cope with my case. When all else had failed I read of the cures being effected by South American Nervine. I decided to give it a trial. Before I had taken half a bottle I was much improved and felt greatly relieved. A few bottles of it have made me a new man. I am better and healthier than I had felt for years." His wife was also a great sufferer from stomach trouble and headaches. She says: "Seeing the wonderful effect it was having on my husband, I tried it also. The remedy gave me almost instant relief, and has cured and made a strong woman of me." Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

Complete Recovery by the Use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"Some years ago, as a result of too close attention to business, my health failed. I became weak, nervous, was unable to look after my interests, and manifested all the symptoms of a decline. I took three bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, began to improve at once, and gradually increased my weight from one hundred and twenty-five to two hundred pounds. Since then, I and my family have used this medicine when needed, and we are all in the best of health, a fact which we attribute to Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Railway Committee Passed Mr. Casey's Bill

MAKING WHEELS PASS AS BAGGAGE

Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific Officials Put Up a Big Fight, But the Advocates of the Wheelmen Carried the Day—A Non-Political Contest.

Ottawa, May 20.—(Special.)—The wheelmen, which includes the wheelwomen, of Canada, won a great victory before the Railway Committee of the House of Commons this morning. Despite the opposing lobby of the railway companies, Mr. Casey's bill to compel the railway companies to carry bicycles as luggage passed the committee by a vote of 46 to 21.

There was an influential deputation from the executive of the Wheelmen's Association present, headed by Mr. Casey, M. P., and Mr. Ryckman, barrister, of Toronto.

To Mr. Casey the thanks of the wheelmen are due in large measure for the manner in which he has fought this measure through, but he was generously supported by the members of the House, Liberals and Conservatives alike.

The railway companies were represented by William Wainwright for the Grand Trunk and Mr. Tait and Judge Clark for the C. P. R.

For the Wheelmen's Association there were present: Messrs. T. A. Beament, Ottawa; H. B. Donly, Simcoe; G. R. Dir, Toronto, and others. Mr. Blair, Minister of Railways, and Mr. Schreiber, deputy minister, were also present.

Mr. Casey speaking in support of the measure, said that petitions containing over 14,000 names had been presented in favor of the bill. He strongly contended on it as a matter of justice to the community. Canada had liberally subsidized the railways, and he thought some concessions should be made by them.

Mr. Wainwright, for the Grand Trunk Railway, explained that bicycles were now carried for 100 miles for 25 cents. In no case was a bicycle charged more for than a passenger. If the fare of a passenger be five cents the fare of the bicycle would be five cents to 25 cents. He referred to the detention which would occur to trains if bicycles had to be carried as baggage.

Mr. Tait, in opposing the bill, said the C. P. R. had been experimenting and found that a bicycle took as much room as 400 pounds of ordinary baggage. More men were required to handle bicycles than baggage. One man could take a truck full of trunks to a baggage car, whereas he could only handle two bicycles. He pointed out that no such Federal law as this had been passed in the United States. He claimed that in no case did the C. P. R. charge more for a bicycle than the ordinary first-class fare.

Mr. McCleary said that Mr. Tait's last statement was not correct. From his own personal knowledge members of the House who had paid 15 cents regular passenger fare between Ottawa and Britannia had had to pay 25 cents for their bicycles.

Mr. Tait said so far as his company was concerned they were willing to say that the rate on bicycles up to 25 cents should not exceed the first-class passenger rate.

Mr. Penny (Montreal) asked how long it took to write out a receipt for a bicycle.

Mr. Tait said that from his experience it would take three minutes.

Mr. Lount—A rubber stamp would get over that. (Hear, hear.)

The committee decided to hear Judge Clark for the C. P. R.

The judge wanted Mr. Ryckman to speak first, and when he could not get this he claimed the right to reply to Mr. Ryckman, but the committee would not accede to this cool request.

Judge Clark thereupon proceeded to argue against the bill. He objected to it because a bicycle was different to any other article. If it could be protected as luggage, and did not take up so much room, the bill might not be objectionable.

Mr. Cochrane—If this bill passes, will you be more liable to claims for damages than under the present system?

Judge Clark—Yes. Continuing, he said the present arrangement enabled the companies to create a fund by the addition of these small sums, which helped them to meet claims for damages.

The bill sought to impose a liability on the companies without such a fund.

Mr. Lount—And you want a fund to pay for the damages?

Judge Clark—Yes, that is one of our objects.

Mr. Lount pointed out that a passenger who took his bicycle with him as a rule had no luggage. Consequently he occupied no more space than if he had luggage.

Judge Clark mentioned that the companies now were compelled to carry 150 pounds of luggage free.

Mr. Lount—Well, supposing you carry the equivalent of a bicycle equivalent to 150 pounds, and charge for the difference?

Judge Clark said that that was a new idea. Continuing, he contended that Parliament might just as well enact that certain classes of passengers should travel at half rates as to pass this bill.

Mr. Ryckman was then heard. He mentioned that the Wheelmen's Association had sought redress from the railway companies, but had not got very much satisfaction. He was there representing not the bicyclists of Toronto alone, as had been implied, but thousands of wheelmen from British Columbia to Halifax. The only apparent concession which the companies had given was to reduce the rate on bicycles so that it should not exceed first-class passenger rates. After letters had been received from the companies on this point he had tested the sincerity of the companies and in April last bought a first-class ticket from Toronto to South Parkdale station, the fare being five cents. For his bicycle, however, he had to pay 25 cents. [Laughter.] When he had protested against this at the Union Station in Toronto, and asked to see the tariff on wheels, he had been refused. The courts in England had decided that a bicycle was luggage. Legislation of the kind asked for in this bill had been enacted in eleven states of the Union and was working most satisfactorily. The Erie Railway last year carried 93,000 wheels free, and the only claims they had to pay amounted to $104. [Applause.]

Mr. Bergeron asked if the Canadian railway companies would become liable for damages to bicycles.

Mr. Ryckman claimed that that contention was a bugaboo. By means of a rigid loop, bicycles could be firmly suspended from the roof of the baggage car. He was prepared to demonstrate that the statement was absurd that a bicycle took up space equivalent to 400 pounds of baggage. The Pennsylvania Railroad system, with its 48,000 cars, carried bicycles free. The New York Central, which at first opposed this law, now admitted that the company had been mistaken. He read a letter from the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway Company, dated March, 1897, which catered for the wheelmen by pointing out that every accommodation would be furnished them free for the carriage of their bicycles. He mentioned, amid great applause, that the I. C. R. carried wheels free, and that the C. P. R. did the same in the Maritime Provinces, where it came into competition with the Government railway. In the interests of thousands of wheelmen in Canada he urged the passage of the bill.

Mr. Macdonald (Selkirk) and Mr. Craig addressed the committee under great difficulties, both opposing the bill.

By this time lunch hour had arrived and members were clamoring for the vote.

There was silence when Sir Charles Tupper rose to speak. He said he was perfectly aware that the bill was a very popular measure and he was unwilling to oppose it, but, having listened attentively to the discussion, he thought the committee would not be warranted in sanctioning the bill. The main argument, so far as he could gather, as advanced by the promoters, was that, Parliament and the people having given assistance to these companies, they had the right to demand something from them. It was quite true that railway facilities had been obtained by a large amount of aid given by Parliament, but it must not be forgotten that private capitalists had invested millions of dollars in these roads, and were not receiving adequate return. Parliament should, therefore, not take advantage of the fact that aid had been given by Parliament at the expense of private capitalists. He felt it his duty to oppose the bill.

Mr. Gibson, who spoke amid great interruptions, said that people might just as well ask the railway companies to carry their grandfather's clocks free. [Laughter.] It would be simply an outrage to pass this measure.

The question was then put and the bill was reported as stated by 46 to 21 on the following division.

Yeas—Bennett, Borden (Halifax), Bostock, Britton, Burnett, Calvert, Campbell, Cargill, Casey, Clarke, Cochrane, Cowan, Douglas, Fraser (Guysborough), Fraser (Lambton), Haley, Henderson, Heyd, Jameson, Kendry, Klock, Kleinfeld, Lister, Lount, Madean, McAllister, McCleary, McInnes, McLennan (Inverness), McMillan, Maxwell, Monk, Perit, Oliver, Osler, Parmelee, Penny, Prefontaine, Rutherford, Richardson, Russell, Sproule, Scriver, Stenson, Wilson, Wood (Halifax)—46.

Nays—Bergeron, Brown, Champagne, Clancy, Craig, Davis, Edwards, Erle, Gibson, Hale, Hurley, Macdonald (Selkirk), McMillen, Roche, Rogers, Rosamond, Snetsinger, Talbot, Tisdale, Sir Charles Tupper, Tyrwhitt—21.

Col. Domville would not vote, as he had not made up his mind.

Mr. Maclean's bill to compel sleeping car companies to have the upper berth closed when not in use was considered. Evidently there had been a vigorous canvass against the measure. Mr. R. D. McGibbon of Montreal, for the Pullman Company, opposed the bill on the ground that it was forcing the companies to give something for nothing. He was advised that no such legislation was in force in any state in the United States. Minnesota had such a law, but it had been repealed.

Mr. Edwards having opposed the bill, the committee decided against the measure.

OLD CAMBRIDGE IN A FERMENT.

Undergrads Are Terrorizing Seniors Over the Conferring of Degrees on Women.

Cambridge, Eng., May 20. The university is in a ferment on the question of conferring degrees upon women, upon which matter a vote will be taken to-morrow. The undergraduates who oppose the proposition are terrorizing the seniors, threatening to migrate to Oxford and to refuse to take their degrees in June. They are spending large sums on fireworks and rotten eggs, in readiness either to celebrate the defeat of the proposition or avenge its victory. In consequence of the threats of the undergraduates there have been many defections from the ranks of those who supported the proposal to confer degrees upon women.

THE SOUND OF LITTLE FEET.

I listened in the morning
For the sound of the little feet
That patter'd along in the sunshine
Over the quiet street;
For the tones of the sweet voice singing
Some quaint lov'd strain of old,
As I saw the wee hands full of flowers,
And the sunny head crown'd with gold.

I watch'd when the noon was over,
And the clock in the tow'r struck four,
As the children came slowly homeward,
The hours of school time o'er;
And I heard 'mid the ripple of voices,
The one that my heart lov'd best,
And I saw a smile like a sunbeam,
Stray'd out of the glowing west.

And now, in the hush of gloaming,
I watch and I list again;
But the little feet come no longer,
No more do I hear that strain;
For the flow'rs and the tir'd little child-heart
Are hush'd into slumber sweet,
Tho' I know that in heaven the angels
Hear the sound of the little feet.

A woman's headaches may come from several causes. She may have a headache arising from nervousness, or from digestive disturbances. Nine cases in ten, her headaches come from disorders peculiar to her sex. It may show itself in the symptoms which are characteristic of a dozen disorders. Thousands of times women have been treated for the wrong disorders. Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription was compounded for the sole purpose of relieving womankind of these ills and pains. Thousands of women have testified that after taking treatment from several physicians without benefit, the "Favourite Prescription" cured them completely and quickly. It has been used for over thirty years, and has an unbroken record of success.

MASON & RISCH
PIANOS
Are the Instruments of the Cultured

For over twenty years they have been without an equal in the favour of those best qualified to judge of the musical merit of an instrument. There are other points beyond musical excellence, however, which have combined to give the Mason & Risch Pianos their peculiar pre-eminence.

They are Durable Beyond All Comparison.

That is what secured for them the preference in all colleges and schools. Mount Allison Ladies' College has just purchased its 25th Mason & Risch Piano. This is but one instance among many.

They are Moderate in Price.

While but few people of taste or judgment would care to purchase any of the very low priced Pianos now on the market, still fewer can afford the very high figures (plus duties) which are asked for the highest grade American Pianos. Mason & Risch supply a first-class Piano at a moderate price.

Their Terms Are Easy.

One of the great advantages which capital enables our company to afford its customers is easy terms of payment. Write us on this point. Also please write us for our new Illustrated Catalogue. Mailed free.

Citizenship.

(A Paper read Before the National Home Reading Union.)

"Not the possession of rights but the energetic use of rights makes the citizen; the real freeman is he who finds fulness of development in and through active civic life."

"These lines heading the chapter entitled "Citizenship," may be called the keynote of Mr. MacCunn's whole argument in his interesting work "Ethics of Citizenship."

By Ethics is meant the moral right or wrong underlying and running through our theories and practises of citizenship. May we add another definition—Ethics, the science which treats of the nature and grounds of moral obligation, the science of duty, for certainly the book is written not only with the intention of examining the moral right and wrong underlying and running through the theories and practices of citizenship, but also to awaken us to a sense of our individual duty as citizens. Citizenship means the duties or principles of a citizen, so ethics of citizenship simply means duty of citizens.

Now that we have the key to open the avenues of thought brought before us by Mr. MacCunn, let us return to his first chapter which is on equality, taking as the basis for the upbuilding of a conscientious citizen's life, the quality of moral worth which is something all men possess. It is a link in the golden chain of fraternity to know that moral worth though unequally developed through the conditions of life is imbedded in every man's soul. May we not speak of it as soul, for it is only as the soul is awakened that moral worth truly is expressed. It is hard to recognize in the drunken ruffian this divine spark, but it is there waiting for recognition. As the landscape is hidden from our view by the blackness of night and only revealed to us when the sun again sheds its brilliant rays, so will the soul that has been obscured by ignorance and crime shine forth in all its beauty when it is awakened to the possibilities that lie within. As a proof of the recognition of this worth, which demands respect and justice, we have civil rights where rich and poor stand equal in the eye of the law. This is as it should be, for no matter in what station of life a man is he has the right to be protected. From equal civil rights we are led on to political rights. We pride ourselves on the fact that all men are equal at the polls, but are we right to let them vote just because they are men and of age or own property or earn enough to support themselves. Should not the State demand more than this from her children? It is not the casting of the vote at election time that makes the citizen; it is his integrity and earnestness of purpose that from day to day shews his desire to do unto others "even to the least in the nation." But giving to a man civil and political rights is not enough. We must go farther than that and give him the opportunity of making a good living and putting to the highest use the advantages offered him in the way of education, mentally, morally and physically. One can hardly expect a man to be a good citizen or to have a keen appreciation of political rights if he has no means of subsistence. But granted the privilege of good surroundings, there is no reason why all should not fulfill their obligations to their country. But how many there are willing to accept artificial and law-made rights as natural rights, forgetful of the men, who, recognizing the need of protection, have fought step by step to gain for them the rights they so passively accept. Many of these are good law-abiding men but will not take part in active political life because they consider the Government corrupt and they will not vote for the men chosen as representatives. Now these men are themselves obstructions in the way of our having good government. If they would remember their duty as citizens they would lose sight of their own feelings in their desire to assist those in the right and would remain in the arena until corruption would be a thing of the past. If we, each one, fulfilled our duty as citizens what a grand nation we would be. And why should we not? Act in the living present is a motto we can all accept—the living present is ours, the future is what we make it.

It would hardly be fair to speak of equality or rights without mentioning women and their claim for recognition. We all know the old argument that was always brought forward when woman's right to vote was spoken of—"As women cannot fight they should not be permitted to vote. So many people then thought of it as being a purely physical question. As to her fighting, woman is certainly more for peace than for war; but if the necessity arose there is no doubt she could shoulder a musket and use it too. We all know of many women who have proved their courage. It is a matter for congratulation that such objections are a thing of the past (that is among those who have the good of the world at heart), for woman, through her untiring energy, her intellectual ability and desire for a higher development, has proven herself, if not superior, to be at least worthy of standing on an equal plane with man.

It is only a question of time now when women will be permitted to vote, and there is no doubt she will fulfil her duties wisely and justly. Mr. MacCunn in his plea for men to vote unconsciously makes one for women. He says: "We cannot respect men for the moral worth that is in them, and yet think it a final and satisfactory state of things that they should spend themselves wholly on interests that never go beyond the range of private lives. But if this be so, we come at once in sight of a conclusion. Never is it to be forgotten in any question of the extension of the franchise that, outside religion, and perhaps not even outside it, there is no means to be named beside political rights, whereby the wider interests of life may be made a vitalising influence throughout the rank and file of democracy. Does not this apply to women as well as men? And again he says, "A vote, just like any civil right, is simply one more opportunity, one more instrument whereby the political moral worth of the man becomes the realized and practical worth of the enfranchised citizen." Should not women also be permitted to have every advantage that will make good, practical citizens?

We often hear it said that "everyone is for himself in this world," but it is not so. Never have there been such widespread efforts to bring light into dark places as now.

Each reform as it advances proving that love for our fellowman is not dormant but active. The effort to develop the moral worth and lift men and women above the low and vicious lives they lead through ignorance and lack of ambition to rise above their environments has given birth to the college settlements, which is one of the grandest works being done. Refined men and women leaving their comfortable homes and living in the worst parts of the city, preaching through them cleanliness, sobriety, earnestness of purpose and unselfishness the gospel of right living. Kindergartens in the slums do wonderful missionary work, and many families have been reformed through the love which is the spirit of these child gardens. There are many other reforms I could speak of but I only mention these to show the spirit of Fraternity is living and growing. And now that this great strong wave of pure thought is sweeping over the country, now that men and women throughout the world are united in sending forth earnest and heartfelt wishes and counsel to aid their fellow men, surely we may hope for a grand and beautiful future. And as the poets of all ages have been accepted as prophets we may take as a prophesy the following lines of the beloved poet, Whittier:

The airs of heaven blow o'er me,
A glory shines before me
Of what mankind shall be—
Pure, generous, brave and free.

A dream of men and women,
Diviner but still human,
Solving the riddle old,
Shaping the Age o' Gold.

I feel the earth move sunward,
I join the great march onward,
Fore reach the good to be,
And share the victory.

ECZEMA ON HANDS

Completely Covered, and Between the Fingers Skin Perfectly Raw.

Husband Had to Dress and Undress Her Like a Baby.

Physicians' Medicines Drove Her Almost Crazy.

Hears of CUTICURA. Husband Goes Twenty Miles for It.

First Application Gives Perfect Ease in Five Minutes, and a Night's Sound Sleep.

My hands were completely covered with Eczema, and between my fingers the skin was perfectly raw. I had to sit with both hands held up, and away from the fire. My husband had to dress and undress me like a baby. I tried the best physicians, but their medicines gave me no relief, and drove me almost crazy. I was advised to try CUTICURA REMEDIES, and did so, although my husband had to go twenty miles to get them. As soon as he got back, I used the CUTICURA (ointment), and five minutes after the first application I was perfectly easy, had slept soundly all that night. Before I commenced using CUTICURA REMEDIES I could get no ease night or day. I could not bear to get warm, it would put me in a rage of itching. I always keep CUTICURA REMEDIES in my house now, and recommend them to everybody, because of their wonderful effect. Yours gratefully,
AGNES M. HARRIS, Peak, Mecklenburg Co. Va

LIVE STOCK MARKETS.

Mr. H. P. Kennedy shipped to Buffalo 345 head of cattle from Peterborough, via the C.P.R., last night and this morning. The average price paid was about two and one-half cents per pound, and the duty paid to the United States customs was over $700. Mr. Bamford informs the EXAMINER that this was the largest shipment of cattle that ever left Peterborough at one time. Mr. Kennedy expects to continue shipping stockers from Peterborough so long as the duty remains as at present on cattle imported into the States.

On Tuesday Mr. Kennedy will ship one hundred head of cattle to the English market.

Hogs are offering freely and the prices paid do not show any increase over the past week.

KEEP CLOSE WATCH!

Look to it that You are well Guarded Against that Stealthy Enemy. Kidney Disease—South American Kidney Cure is the only Remedy Which will Relieve at once and Cure.

Michael McMullin, of Chesley, writes: "I had been troubled with gravel and kidney disease for eight years. At times the pain was so severe I could not lie in one position for any length of time. I took South American Kidney Cure according to directions. I got immediate relief. The soreness and weakness all left. I can testify to the remedy being a wonderful cure." This stealthy enemy will not quit you by using pill doses. It must be a kidney specific—a liquid that will dissolve all the hard substances and carry them off through nature's channel. South American does this. It is a liquid and never fails to cure. Sold by H.S. Macdonald.

A FORENOON SPENT IN THE FINDERGARTEN.

MOTHERS OWE A DEBT OF GRATITUDE TO THE TEACHERS.

An Idea of How the Little Ones Spend their Mornings — They Never do Anything Long Enough to Get Tired of It, and they Play and work Alternately.

The experience of our parents' early school days was a very different thing to that of the average child of the present age. Then, in perhaps a small room of an ordinary dwelling house, seated on long, uncomfortable benches, slate and primer in hand, they began their early education in fear and trembling, and woe betide the luckless one who dared to whisper or to fidget in any way.

The kindergarten, however, changed all this, and the first day in school is like living in fairyland to the wee tots that gather there. Singing, marching, playing with blocks, running brightly coloured wools through perforated cardboard—could this be school?

The old adage that "Children should be seen and not heard" is in direct opposition to the true spirit of the kindergarten. Whilst guarding and directing, the teacher aims at not allowing her mind to lead the exercises of the day, in the line she might chose, but rather, by to find out in what direction the child's mind is running and to follow this, bringing out its ideas, and insinuating new points, which a child is surprisingly ready to take up and work out for itself. Thus the system is fundamentally one of educating, rather than instructing the budding intellects.

If the mothers and elder sisters of the pupils in the Kindergarten departments would take time to visit one of the schools they would better understand what an extensive ground work is covered in the half days' teaching enjoyed by their small relatives. It would not only be an encouragement to the teacher, but it would certainly prove of value to the visitor as well, for in many ways Kindergarten methods may be carried out in the home life of the little ones, if only the elders become imbued with the spirit of its teaching.

Music forms an important part in the exercises. One teacher presides at the piano whilst the others move about amongst their charges. Every child takes its place on the large outer ring, which is painted on the floor; an opening chord for silence is followed by a brisk march, to which the pupils, keeping perfect time, follow the painted floor guide, each carrying a little chair, seat downwards, over its head. When the circle has been described twice in this way the music stops for an instant, a chord is struck for the lowering of the chairs, and another for the pupils to kneel, when is sung, after which all stand and sing a little hymn. These simple devotional exercises being concluded the day's work begins.

First comes the lesson—a short story with a pointed moral. Then the blocks are produced and by the work resulting, Peterborough certainly possesses a number of embryo architects in its kindergarten classes. Incidentally the pupils are here taught to distinguish between cubes and cylinders and then these mites delightedly count the sides and curves of a cube and at a word select a cylinder.

At another table the first lessons in geometry are learned, as the brilliant wools are drawn in and out of the perforated cardboard, beginning with perpendicular and horizontal lines, followed by angles, triangles, rectangles and squares.

One of the great secrets of the system is the honouring of the old proverb, "Variety is the spice of life," and before the blocks or wools have had time to pall upon the dullest, a chord on the piano indicates a change of exercises. Instantly the boxes are tidily filled with blocks, the cardboard squares are neatly folded away in large evelopes and the children sit waiting for the teacher to select two from them who will be allowed to carry the boxes to their proper place on the shelves. This done, another chord intimates that each child stands behind its chair and another that the chairs are quietly raised and placed upon the tables, which are then carried over to the wall and placed there. It is astonishing to notice how deftly this is done by these tots of five and six, who have the first principles of order inculated in a plersant way, for they know that the next excuse will be "play" and for this a clear space is necessary.

One might suppose that play time would mean a recess, when the children would play together and the teachers rest for a time, but it is nothing of the kind. The teacher's activities are in evidence from first to last and when the next march in quick time is played, she it is who leads off the procession winding in and out along the lines on the floor and it is a pretty sight to follow the movements of these graceful young girls, with their bright earnest faces, as she now smiles at some of the little ones in the rear of the march or casts a warning glance at one who is off the line. Again a circle is formed and the children are asked what they would LIKE TO PLAY. "Squirrel" seems to be the prime favourite as it is almost always called for first. Other games follow, each having its own appropriate song, which is sung with an amount of vim not always found in older if more cultivated voices.

A season of work follows play time, paper folding, crayon drawing or weaving paper mats. The days work ends with a song expressing the pleasure found in class, farewells to teachers and the expectation of meeting on the morrow, etc.

Has it ever occurred to you mothers of Kindergarten pupils, under what an obligation you are placed to these young girls who are in charge of your infant prodigies? at school? How strongly their individuality impresses itself upon the little one's plastic minds? How they study the child and perhaps know its disposition as well as you, its mother; and how patiently they try to unfold the growing intellect, bearing with him if he is dull, restraining him if he be boisterous, and all the while keeping a strong curb upon their own impatiences, having always in mind the fact that to control others one must first control himself.

A Destructive Habit.

"Have another with me?" and they have another. Thus first through sociability, the awful work of alcohol is begun, and then the fiendish desire starts on its work of destruction killing happiness and health. Balfour's Proposal the Firs Topic in Britain.

IT WAS SPRUNG AS A SURPRISE.

The Current Belief is That the Colonial Secretary, Mr. Chamberlain, Was at the Bottom of It Good for Both Landlords and Tenants—Some Comments.

London, May 24.—The scheme of the Government for the relief of Ireland, as outlined in the House of Commons yesterday by the First Lord of the Treasury, Mr. A. J. Balfour, was sprung as a surprise upon most of the members and is the leading topic for discussion in the political world to-day. Both parties attributed it to the influence of Joseph Chamberlain, the Secretary of State for the Colonies, and it is admitted by all that it will do much to popularize the Government in Ireland, and also among its progressist supporters in England.

On the other hand, many Liberals believe it will help them rather than the Unionists, for, if it is a success, it will disarm the opposition to Home Rule.

Under the scheme the landlords will receive about £250,000 yearly, and the tenants will be relieved of about £400,000 of yearly taxation. It is understood that the project was approved at Thursday's Cabinet council, and that before it is submitted to Parliament its salient features will be communicated in confidence to the leading Irish landlords.

Timothy M. Healy and a couple of other Irish Members of Parliament in one of the Liberals newspapers describe the scheme as a minor revolution, largely democratic and beneficent in giving local government to Ireland.

SOME COMMENTS

Written for United States Readers and They Score Mr. Balfour.

New York, May 24.—Mr. Isaac N. Ford cables from London to The Tribune as follows: "The curtain rose yesterday on the prologue in two scenes to the Jubilee melodrama. The Queen entered in triumph at Sheffield upon her Royal progress, which will end a month hence in London, and Mr. Balfour appeared suddenly at Westminster in the part of Lady Bountiful, rich in promise to Ireland. The one scene had been fully rehearsed and every detail had been pre-arranged and described in advance, the other scene was a surprise, since it revealed the Unionist policy which will be substituted next year for Mr. Gladstone's Home Rule scheme.

"While the Queen by her presence in Yorkshire was bringing herself into touch with the industrial forces which have transformed England during her reign into the world's busiest work shop, the leader of the Commons was foreshadowing next year's Queen's speech and a legislative session devoted to a comprehensive measure of local government reform for Ireland.

"What may prove to be an epoch-making speech was delivered at the close of the question hour in Mr. Balfour's listless, halting manner, with occasional spasms of energy. He had come from Westminster Abbey, where as a Scotchman he had paid tribute to the genius of Sir Walter Scott; and before he had fairly regained breath he was treading the Irish bog, where English statesmen have been floundering and blundering for generations. He, however, was on solid ground, and never faltered except to remodel his sentences midway, after the English fashion. The Government's refusal to extend the benefits of the Rating Act to Ireland had created a bad impression, because it revolved a discrimination against the island which could not be logically justified. Mr. Balfour transformed this refusal into a statesmanlike concession. He has promised to give money next year in a large subvention, by which the landlords will be relieved of half the poor rates and the tenants of half the county cess, with a money grant from the Imperial treasury. There will also be introduced a new scheme of local government upon a popular elective basis. Both these measures are promised for the next session, and all the Irish bills now pending are withdrawn. Mr. Chamberlain undoubtedly is the real author of this policy, as he is also responsible for the conversion of the Employers' Liability Bill into a measure which the trades unions can heartily support. This is a stroke of political art by which financial relief to the taxpayer is provided simultaneously with the reform of the antiquated system of local government of Ireland. One problem is set against the other, and each helps to solve the other. The dexterity of this policy is admirable, since it appeals to all classes of taxpayers in the island, and enables the Government to carry out English principles of local government reform under cover of financial relief.

"Lord Salisbury cares for nothing except the intricacies of European diplomacy, and Mr. Balfour is half the time asleep in the Commons and longing for a holiday for golf. Mr. Chamberlain is always wide awake, and deeply interested in politics. He is the master genius of the present Government, through his practical talent for framing measures and directing policies, by which the Opposition may be disarmed. The Government's success in adapting a universal principle of compensation for accidents at employers' expense to the requirements of working England is now followed by a sudden proclamation of Irish legislation, which is hailed with delight by the Nationalist leaders, and meets with little criticism in any quarter."

THE SPANISH CRISIS.

Liberals Agree to Support the Government in the Tetuan Comas Matter.

London, May 24.—The Standard's Madrid correspondent says: In the conference held on Saturday between the President of the Senate, the Premier and Senor Sagasta with reference to the Tetuan-Comas incident, the President said he would not be justified in intervening, as the affair had not occurred in the Senate Chamber. He declared that the Opposition ought to be satisfied if the Duke of Tetuan announced in the Senate Chamber that he never intended to slight or offend the Liberal minority. He added that the Government could not dispense with the Duke's services as Minister of Foreign Affairs, because he alone was acquainted and able to conduct important and delicate pending negotiations with foreign governments (meaning America).

Senor Sagasta promised to give his followers conciliatory advice. He summoned a meeting of the Liberals, who, after a prolonged discussion, gave a vote of confidence to Senor Sagasta, with instructions to settle the conflict on the understanding that they would not enter the Cortes until the Government had given them such satisfaction as Senor Sagasta deemed proper.

The dissident Conservatives intimated that they would follow the decision of the Liberals and, therefore, only the Ministerialists have been present in Parliament since Friday.

The Premier, on receiving the reply of Senor Sagasta, informed the Queen Regent, who summoned a council of Ministers. The crisis has withdrawn popular attention from the attitude of the U.S. Senate, which a majority of the newspapers and of the Ministers affects to consider without importance as bearing upon the immediate relations of the two countries.

The Position at Madrid.

Madrid, May 24. The political situation here seems to be as follows:

The Government, not wishing to yield to the opposition by resigning, will appear before the Cortes; but, if the Liberals do not attend to-day's session, a ministerial crisis will be occasioned. Under the circumstances, the retention of the present Cabinet does not seem impossible. The Liberals, who consider the formation of a Sagasta Cabinet inevitable within a few days, have abandoned all idea of agreeing upon the formation of a working Ministry. The projected duel between the sons of the Duke of Tetuan, Minister of Foreign Affairs, and Prof. Comas, the Liberal Senator, whose ears were boxed by the Duke on Friday last in the lobby of the Senate, has been abandoned, the dispute having been amicably settled.

The Heraldo of this city says it learns that high persons have asked Marshal Martinez de Campos, the former Captain-General of Cuba, to come to Madrid.

Gen. Porter Received.

Paris, May 24.—General Horace Porter, the new United States Ambassador to France, was received to-day by the French Minister for Foreign Affairs, M. Hanotaux.

Charles Still Get Off.

London, May 24.—Charles Still, the ex-detective of York, Pa., who was arrested at Glasgow, on April 24, upon a warrant demanding his extradition to the United States, to answer a charge of receiving stolen money, was discharged at the Bow-street Police Court to-day. A representative of the United States Embassy announced to the court that the Governor of Pennsylvania had cabled the Embassy that the charge against Still had been abandoned. Thereupon the court ordered the prisoner to be released from custody.

VON TAUSCH ON TRIAL.

He Was Cautioned Not to Swear to Lies in Giving His Evidence.

Berlin, May 24.—The trial of Herr Von Tausch, the former commissioner of the secret service police, who was arrested on Dec. 8 last, at the close of the sensational Luetzow-Leckers trial, during which the Imperial Chancellor, Prince Hohenlohe, the Minister for Foreign Affairs, Baron Marschall Von Bieberstein, and the German Ambassador to Austria, Count Philip Von Eulenberg, were among the witnesses, commenced to-day, and will probably last a week. At the opening of the trial the president of the court cautioned Baron Von Luetzow not to depart from the actual truth in the testimony which he might be called upon to give. Von Tausch, the former chief of the secret political police was then examined. He made a statement relative to the employment of Von Luetzow and a newspaper man named Schumann by the secret political police, and assured the court that he (Von Tausch) had never caused political interests to be served by his agents.

Schumann, or Normann Schumann, is said to have been much more guilty than Baron Von Luetzow, whose accomplice he is charged with being.

Von Luetzow, during the course of his examination, testified that he received definite instructions to publish reports about the car troubles of the Emperor. The witness was asked if Von Tausch assigned these troubles to an alleged malady. He replied:

"Certainly. Von Tausch said the malady had a cancerous basis, was inherited from his father, and that the disease considerably affected His Majesty's general health."

Will the Fenians Be Pardoned.

Dublin, May 24.—It is believed to be certain that many, perhaps all, the political prisoners, including the Invincibles, James Fitzharris, Larry Hamlin and Joe Mullet, will be pardoned early in June in commemoration of the 60th year of the reign of Queen Victoria.

Stoned by Women.

Agram, Hungary, May 24.—The Hungarian papers accuse the Catholic clergy of fomenting the riots by asserting that the Government intends to introduce civil marriage. The soldiers who were assigned to preserve order at Bosnyacri have been fired upon and stoned by a crowd of a thousand, mostly women.

Uruguayan Rebels Made a Stand.

London, May 24.—The Times' Buenos Ayres special says: "Telegrams from the Brasilian frontier of Uruguay say that the rebels made a determined stand at Revera. The Government troops tried to capture the town, but were repulsed with severe loss. They are now waiting for reinforcements."

Queen's Birthday in London.

London, May 24.—The birthday of Queen Victoria, who was born May 24, 1819, was observed to-day with the usual artillery salutes, the ringing of church bells, and reviews at the different naval and military stations. The London celebration will take place on Wednesday.

The Break in the Canal.

St. Catharines, Ont., May 24.—The repairs at the break on the new canal are being pushed along vigorously. A large gang of men and teams were at work all day Sunday.

WHAT WILL THEY DO?

Turkey and the Powers May Have Trouble Yet

OVER THE MATTER OF SETTLEMENT

The Porte Wants to Deal With King George Himself, and Greece Says the Powers Have Been Entrusted With the Matter Latest From the East

Athens, May 24.—The Greek Government, as a reply to the notification sent by Edhem Pasha, commander of the Turkish army in Thessaly, to the Greek officers who, in conjunction with Turkish officers, are arranging the neutral zone, that he is empowered to negotiate the terms of peace with Greece direct, has informed the Ministers of the powers here that, as Greece has already confided her interests to the powers, there is no reason why she should negotiate directly with Turkey.

The Expulsion Decree Called Off

Constantinople, May 24. The decree of the Turkish Government calling for the expulsion of all Greeks from the Ottoman Empire, which was to have gone into effect to-day, has been suspended, in view of the peace negotiations.

Italians Raised a Rumpus.

London, May 24. The Telegraph's correspondent in Epirus gives a terrible picture of the excesses of the Italians while traveling from Arta to Zaverda. At Zaverda the villagers fired rifles, and there was a general melee. The Italians displayed a flag of truce, and afterwards were allowed to embark.

Greek Army Paralyzed

London, May 24.—The Standard's Athens correspondent says: "The Government and people are now only anxious for the disarming of the irregulars. The Greek army is paralyzed, and news comes from Salonica of the despatch of large Turkish reinforcements to Thessaly. At Larissa, Trikkala and Karditza, the Turks seized corn valued at a million drachmas.

"Great indignation is displayed at the story that Clement Harris was killed with the butt of a rifle because he was unable to walk."

A SLICK SWINDLE.

St. Catharines Merchants Victimized by an Artist From New York, Who Got Away

St. Catharines, Ont., May 24.—A slick job was put up on several of our merchants on St. Paul-street Saturday night. A young man, calling himself E. Kenneth Houston of New York, came to the Welland House about ten days ago. He represented himself as an artist, said he was commissioned by a firm in New York city to paint a number of pictures in oil to decorate a large building in that city, and that he intended to paint many of the pictures from scenery in this vicinity. He rented rooms, hired a piano and, to all appearances, meant business. Saturday night he took a walk along St. Paul-street and dropped into several of the leading stores and made purchases ranging from $7 to $15, giving his cheque in payment, for a much larger amount, receiving his change in good Canadian money. In order to satisfy the merchants that everything was straight, Houston produced a bank book, showing a balance to his credit in the German-American Bank, Buffalo, of $600. He returned to the Welland House between 9 and 10 o'clock Saturday night and retired to his room. On Sunday morning he did not put in an appearance, and on searching his room nothing was found but an old suit of clothes, which he had left and donned an elegant suit he had purchased with one of his bogus cheques Saturday night. How he got out of the Welland House and took his trunk with him is a mystery, as a watchman was on duty all night. The merchants who were victimized are feeling very sore over the affair, but it is doubtful if they will be able to capture Houston.

FIREMEN AT BOWMANVILLE

The Tournament Was a Grand Success and the Town Was Grandly Decorated for the Occasion.

Bowmanville, Ont., May 24.—The firemen's tournament, which was held in this town to-day under the management of the two Bowmanville fire companies, was an unqualified success in all particulars. The town was very gay, the shops, residences and public buildings being handsomely decorated with flags, bunting and evergreens. The Dominion Organ and Piano Factory was especially conspicuous by its decorations, there being, besides several large flags, 300 Union Jacks. The effect was very attractive.

At 2 o'clock a grand procession was formed and paraded through the principal streets. Mr. C. M. Cawker was marshal and was assisted by several horsemen, distributed along the procession.

The companies participating were: The Niagara Falls Hose and Steamer Company, with the Niagara Falls Band; Andrew Riddle Hook and Ladder Company, with the St. Catharines Garden City Band; Oshawa Fire Company, with band; Trenton Fire Brigade, with Trenton Band; Whitby Fire Company; Merritton Fire Brigade, with the Merritton Band; the Thorold Protection Hose Company, with Thorold Band; the Oshawa Malleable Iron Hose Company; No. 1 and 2 Fire Brigade, Bowmanville; special hacks containing the Mayor, council and corporation office s, Reception Committee, distinguished visitors, guests of the town and members of the press were interspersed in the procession.

The program was opened by a patriotic address by the Mayor, followed by a very full bill of sports and firemen's contests, the principal events and winners being as follows:

Half-mile bicycle race—A. Thompson, Oshawa.

Hose reel race—Trenton Fire Company, in 50¾ seconds; Merritton 2, in 61½ seconds.

100 yards boys' race—W. Boles, Trenton, 1; W. McClellan, Whitby, 2.

3 mile bicycle race—G. Lattimer, Toronto, won.

Fancy drill by firemen—Merritton Fire Company.

100 yards race—G. Nolan, Trenton, 1; G. Mayhew, 2.

Quarter mile foot race—F. Davey, Whitby, 1; W. Coleman, Trenton, 2.

Best dressed fire company—The Niagara Falls Company.

Trail race—Trenton Fire Company 1, 46 seconds; Oshawa M.I. Hose Company, 2.

About 2000 people were on the grounds.

At night an entertainment was held in the Drill Shed, when fully 1000 persons were in attendance. The day's proceedings terminated without any serious accident and a better behaved crowd would be hard to find anywhere. The baseball match in the evening was between Orono and Bowmanville and was won by the home team by a score of 18 to 5.

THE TRANSVAAL TROUBLE.

There is some difference of opinion as to the issue that is creating the present condition of friction between Great Britain and President Kruger, of the Transvaal (South Africa) Republic. But the cause seems to simply resolve into the determination of the Republic to shake off the suzerainty of Great Britain. Their present condition of semi-subjection to that power, seems to be repugnant against the Boer idea and ideal of independence. It is not surprising, therefore, that they have tried to ignore the bond of the suzerainty, and act as if it did not exist. But Mr. Chamberlain has no idea of permitting this to happen. He, of course, has not, from politic reasons, put forward the prominence of this issue, but he says enough, and unmistakably enough, to refresh the memory of President Krueger and his Boerish subjects on this point, and to generally insist on the terms of the London convention being adhered to, to the letter, by the Transvaal Government. According to this convention the Transvaal Government is prevented from concluding a treaty with any state or nation, except the Orange Free State without the approval of Her Majesty Queen Victoria, in contravention of this condition Krueger without consulting the British Government in 1895 concluded an Extradition treaty with the Netherlands, and in 1893 a treaty with Portugal and in 1896 the accession to the Geneva Convention. Per se these are not matters of much moment, but they derive importance from the possibility of their being construed as a release from the conditions of the convention, and their tacit acknowledgement, without protest might crop up in the future as an awkward precedent. From this consideration of the circumstances it is President Krueger who is evidently "spoiling for a fight," and if he pushes affairs to a climax and repudiates Convention obligations, it is pretty certain that "Fighting Joe" Chamberlain will not be adverse to obliging him, in which event it is more than probable that President Krueger and the Transvaal republic will pass into history together.

ALL THAT GLITTERS IS NOT GOLD.

Mining Shares are Often Snares—A few Words of Timely Warning—Making Merry Over Dupes.

A note of warning to investors in gold mining shares is sounded in a recent issue of the Canadian Miner. In referring to the sale by the sheriff of the Orphan Boy mine under a writ of execution against the company by the president for $3,249.16 for unpaid salary, it says:—The Orphan Boy was incorporated for $700,000, and the stock has been sold throughout the Dominion. It would seem that the sale of the property has wiped out the stock, but as to this there are several queries that the law courts could best answer. Whether or not the proper procedure is under the winding-up act? Whether or not the stockholders are liable for debts of the company? Whether or not mining companies chartered in foreign countries but registered and licensed to do business in Canada are subject to the winding-up acts and other laws of the Province and of the Dominion? These are interesting questions suggested by this reported sale of the Orphan Boy. If this were one of many individual properties of what are known as development companies, the loss would not wipe out the stock of the development company, but, being a single mine, its sale deprives the stockholders of any other security for their stock.

Without considering the Orphan Boy at all or any particular property or company, it is within bounds to imagine a mining claim incorporated, capitalized at $500,000, its stock sold to the public and the moneys received from such sales spent in developing and proving the property a valuable one, and then the public frozen out by various devices, legal and otherwise, even to the extent of judicial proceeding and execution sales for the benefit of a chosen few. The public should have the greatest amount of protection for their hazardous risk in investing in mining stocks, otherwise great loss will surely follow, and it will be impossible to sell mining stocks to the general public, who thus would unjustly be deprived of sharing in the great mineral wealth of this country.

On general principles the consent of the stockholders should be necessary to a sale of their property. Further, the forced or other judicial sale of a mining claim should not wipe out forever the stock of the company, but there should be an equity of redemption, so that the mine, if proven valuable in the future, should pay its debts, and afterwards revert to its stockholders.

The fact that the mine is a good one is, in a case of this kind, no protection to the inveator, but rather likely to prove his downfall, because the more valuable a mine is, the more liability of the small inveator being frozen out on some pretext or another and losing his money. People with only ordinary knowledge of the gold mine they are investing their money in, should be prepared to lose it. Every prospect is not a mine, never will be a mine, and people are foolish to throw their good money away on the representation of persons who, having nothing to lose themselves, can afford to be reckless with other people's. When we buy shares at from two and a half to ten cents a piece, expecting in a few weeks they will be worth a dollar, we have no cause to be woefully disappointed is things go the other way; they do sometimes.

It is understood that a legal firm in Vancouver has been retained by those who feel that they have been treated in such a manner as demands a thorough and complete investigation into the whole affairs of the Orphan Boy Company, and validity of the recent sale of the property.

In winding up the affairs of a gold mining company the other day in Edinburgh, the directors cracked a few bottles of special dry sparkling, and the chairman with humor, worthy of Mark Tapley at his best, in moving the toast "Requiscat in pace," said: "Gentlemen, 'tis true, and pity 'tis true,' we are here met on this occasion for lack of gold, but paradoxical as it may seem, we have abundance of gold lac; therefore, charge your glasses, gentlemen, to the shareholders, for while we leave it to them to pay the piper, we shall be just and pay the Piper-Heidsick. (Uproarious cheering, laugher and applause.) While we, as a company have decidedly gone upon the rocks, recollect that a reef would have been our salvation. And although we here pour a melancholy libation in these sparkling pints, we would rather have had the glittering quartz. (Cheers.) We worked in vein, but it is not ore with us; we have suffered all the miner ills of life, the shaft has sped, the prospects are blue, the only buckets left to us that will repay the winding up are those before you. Drink, then, fellow stoneybrokes to the eternal slumbers of the Bustedup Gold Mining Company."

GODEY'S MAGAZINE FOR MAY.

The May issue of Godey's Magazine is notable for many special articles of timely interest. The leading contribution is "Washington Favourites," by Carolyn Halsted, and gives a brief sketch of the prominent society ladies of the capital. The photographs which accompany the article are very attractive.

Following this is an article on "Power Boats," which discusses the gas engine and electric yacht question in a very interesting manner. This article is illustrated with many pictures, and is unique among magazine papers.

"A Eulogy of the Vaudeville," covers the recent developments which have marked the dramatic stage and calls attention to much that is worth considering. The article is illustrated with beautiful pictures of prominent actors, and is very timely.

"American Literary Diplomats" tells of the prominent journalists and literary men who have held foreign office under the government. It is illustrated fully and is quite suggestive at this stage of our national and political development.

The leading fiction piece of the issue is "A Florentine Rose," by Anna W. Young, an intensely dramatic tale of ambition and cruel wrong. There are six other interesting tales in the issue and five excellent poems. The issue is in fact one of the best fiction numbers that Godey's has ever published.

Among the noteworthy articles of general interest, are papers on "American Lace Making," "Mushroom Hunting," "Church Music," and "Amateur Bookmaking," all finely illustrated, and the first of Grace E. Drews's series on "The Decorations and Furnishings of the Modern Home."

A strong and useful contribution is by S. A. Willis, who writes of "Woman's Work in Christian Missions," and furnishes many important points.

—A farmer, who knows a thing or two, the other day said he was glad to see the cold weather as it would largely nip in the bud the 1897 consignment of grasshoppers, as this is the season when they are most easily killed. If he is right the hoppers should be a small crop this year.

MRS. HUFF'S STORY.

After Years of Suffering and Anxiety She Receives a New Lease of Life.

Her Rescuer and Deliverer Was Paine's Celery Compound.

It is The Medicine That Brings Health, Happiness and Good Looks to Every Ailing Woman.

Every sick and ailing woman in Canada will save many weeks and months of suffering and anxiety if Paine's Celery Compound be used at once to strengthen the nerves, purify the blood, and to set the whole digestive machinery in perfect working condition. If you have not yet been benefitted and cured by the medicines you are now using, it will be wisdom on your part to put your trust in Paine's Celery Compound which has wrought such miraculous cures in the past.

The case of Mrs. F. M. Huff of Salmon Point, Ont., is strong proof that Paine's Celery Compound "makes people well." She says:

"After receiving so much benefit from Paine's Celery Compound I think it my duty to inform sufferers what this great medicine can do for all who wish to regain health and strength. I have been a great sufferer for years from nervousness and weakness, and have had the advice and attendance of doctors with but little benefit. I was induced to use your Paine's Celery Compound some time ago, and I must confess that it is the best remedy I ever used. Not else has ever done me so much good, and I now feel quite a different person.

"I trust that sufferers will not be influenced to use any other medicine while they can procure yours which does such good work. I cannot speak strongly enough in favour of Paine's Celery Compound, and you may be assured that I will always recommend it. You are at liberty to publish this letter in your work."

BENSFORT.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Miss Daniels, of Peterborough, spent Sunday at home.

Mr. Thos. Armstrong has put up the frame of an oil warehouse, as the accommodation he had before was too small for the increase in his business in that line.

The summer resort at Jubilee Point is again opened under the careful supervision of Mr. A. Fulton, of Peterborough. A very busy season is expected.

The majority of farmers are done spring work. The spring crops look exceedingly well, although clover and fall wheat are both very badly killed by frost.

The annual excursion of the Sunday school is expected to be held on June 4th. A very pleasant trip may be expected.

Several of the farmers on each side of the river expect to interview the Government at Ottawa some time in the near future in reference to drowned land bordering on their farms, which they claim to own.

Some of the fisherman along the river have been fishing, so it is reported. The inspector has made several raids, but the fishermen are like the proverbial Irishman's flea, not there when wanted.

Pulmonary consumption, in its early stages, may be checked by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It stops the distressing cough, soothes the irritation of the throat and lungs, and induces much-needed repose. Hundreds have testified to the remarkable virtues of this preparation.

Personal Experience.

Mr. H. Hindson, of Hindson Bros., Watford, Ont., says: "From personal experience I recommend Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills for nervousness and general weakness of the system, and can say without doubt they are the best medicine I ever used.

Seagram's Ferdinand Won the Queen's Plate

IN THE FASTEST TIME ON RECORD

Bon Ino Was Second and Wicker Third at Close Distances—Winners in the Past —Hendrie's Fiddle and Dr. Campbell's Thorncliffe Were Winners Yesterday.

Toronto, May 24.—The seventeenth spring meeting of the Ontario Jockey Club opened on Saturday under auspices that could not possibly be excelled. Overhead the sky was clear, beneath the feet the soil was dry and the verdure was at its best, while the air was balmy. The ladies were out in such force as was never known on the first day since the inception of the club 16 years ago. It was a record-breaking day in every respect, and it records did not go helter-skelter it was because the character of the races rather than the quality of the horses did not call for it.

Engineer Fellowes and the weather get the credit of presenting the best track the Ontario Jockey Club has had for 17 years. As a result, a new record was made by Ferdinand for the Queen's Plate, 2.13. The fields were large, seven horses being the fewest to start in any race. Starter Fitzpatrick despatched the fields in good order, and in only the last race was a horse left at the post. The finishes were generally close, and in only one race, the green steeplechase, did more than a couple of lengths separate first and second horses.

FOR THE QUEEN'S PLATE.

This was undoubtedly the most exciting and most keenly anticipated Queen's Plate race that was ever run. Up to the last the faithful stuck to Miss Jones' colt, the "inside" fraternity having every kind of guarantee that words would give them that the form the horse showed in Windsor was the correct one, and that exhibited at Woodbine on Thursday at 1 u.m. incorrect. They were undoubtedly right as regards the latter supposition, and had the colt been given the opportunity that he was to know the track the result might have been different. As it was, he ran an unexpectedly great race, after his Thursday display. He got away well, made play for a distance, stayed with Ferdinand and Bon Ino when they came up to him, then died away, came again, and after almost going into the fence raced to the end, being ultimately beaten out by 2½ lengths. The turns were clearly against such a long striding horse, and that is where he lost ground he failed to make up. Miss Jones was a keen onlooker, and stood the excitement without exhibition of any sort. She comes of good stock, and showed it.

Springbok was in front when the flag fell, with Ferdinand, Wicker, Leading Lady and Dalmoor lying next him. Then Wicker showed and Boston moved up. The order was Wicker, Springbok, Ferdinand, Fiddle, Boston, Dalmoor, Leading Lady, Bon Ino. At the end of the first quarter Ferdinand forged into the lead and at the end of the mile Bon Ino joined him. Wicker was too close into the rails, and fell back just before coming into the stretch. Once straightened out under whip and spur he responded gamely, but could make little impression on the Seagram pair, Ferdinand ultimately winning by two lengths, with something in reserve from Bon Ino, who was half a length in front of Wicker. There was a gap of probably a dozen lengths and then came Dalmoor five lengths ahead of Fiddle, who preceded the much-fancied Leading Lady and hope of Hamilton one length, with Springbok six lengths still further off, next, followed by Boston, Billy Dinmont and King Ken, who straggled in.

Monday's Program.

The Ontario Jockey Club's second day saw a typical holiday crowd at Woodbine Park. Nearly all the notables who were in attendance on Saturday were out again yesterday, and in addition Sir William Van Horne and Mr. D'Alton McCarthy, Q.C., were present.

Though the day was cloudy, the ladies were out again in their tasteful costumes and charming smiles. The hat pool was more in evidence than on Saturday, and these speculators have the satisfaction of knowing that their friends got all their money.

The public fairly swarmed the betting ring, and half the 30 books were forced to the open green south of the sheds. The bookies marked up long prices against the skates, but the holiday public would not think them rank, and nibbled at the odds with an evident satisfaction, and the men on the blocks smiled at their easy harvest.

It was a bookmakers' day. The four winning favorites were at short odds, and the two 3-to-1 shots that won were only moderately well played.

Morphens, Mordecai and Lionheart were the winning favorites, while Tragedian was split favorite with Boanerges at 6 to 5. Thorncliffe, at 3 to 1, beat the favorite, Trillion, 11 to 5, and Fiddle, 3 to 1, landed the Ontario Plate, the favorite, Dandelion, finishing a bad second.

The Red Coat Steeplechase furnished a close finish, and lots of talk about the defeat of the favorite, Trillion, ridden by his owner, Mr. Hayes of Washington, who is generally noticed at the races here.

Bonger landed his first winning mount of the meeting on Fiddle in the fifth race. Lewis, Morrison, Sullivan, Dr. Campbell and Gus Hamilton had the other winning mounts of the holiday.

The track had dried out nicely after Sunday's rain, and was fairly fast.

The big race of the day, the rich Toronto Cup, furnished the best contest, and the victory of Mr. Seagram was a most popular one. He was warmly congratulated, as by none more heartily than Mr. McGilgan, owner of the second horse, the Kentucky Derby winner Boanerges.

The results were: First race, ¾ mile, purse $350—Morpheus 1, Lord Zeal 2, Giveaway 3. Time 1.17.

Second race, ⅞ mile, purse $300; 2-year-olds, selling—Mordecai 1, Flying Bess 2, Wink 3. Time .58¾.

Third race, 1⅛ miles, $1500 added; sweepstakes for 3-year-olds and up; Toronto Cup—Tragedian 1, Boanerges 2, Connoisseur 3. Time 2.11½.

Fourth race, about 2½ miles, $600 added; Red Coat Steeplechase—Thorncliffe 1, Trillion 2, Prince Charlie 3. Time 5.33⅝.

Fifth race, 1⅛ miles, purse $400; Ontario Plate, Dominion Bred horses—Fiddle 1, Dandelion 2, Java 3. Time 2.05½.

Sixth race, about 2½ miles, purse $500; steeplechase, penalties and allowances—Lionheart 1, Lawyer 2, Vicar of Wakefield 3. Time 6.42½.

THE BASEBALL RECORD.

Toronto, May 25.

Toronto dropped two games to Buckenberger's Syracuse Stars before enormous crowds yesterday, and this story of defeat is becoming so monotonous that they must take another turn or the hard luck story won't do. True the Islanders were tossed about in a boat a good portion of the night on their return from Rochester and displayed little ginger in the field. On the other hand the Stars were full of it and only made mistakes three times in two games. The visitors showed up very strongly by contrast and the crowds that saw the games readily understood why the home team lost. The morning score was 7 to 0 and in the afternoon 9 to 3.

LONDON WON AGAIN.

London, Ont., May 24.—The Niagara Falls, N.Y., University Baseball Club played the Londons this morning before 800 people, the Londons pounding out 16 runs in the first five innings, when the pitchers were changed and but two more runs were added to the score. The visitors could not hit Kershaw to any extent and let in seven runs by costly errors. Score:

is the buying of Tires for your bicycle—dollars that you think you save when you buy inferior tires that you have very grave doubts about—good horse sense that you display when you pay the additional difference in first cost and get Electric Tires with the herring bone tread. A pleasing feature in connection with Electric Tires is that the longer you ride them the better you like them, for besides being strong, resilient and durable they neither slip nor throw mud, on wet, greasy roads or pavements. One rider rode 8,800 miles last season on a pair of Electric Tires, and in the end they showed but slight evidence of wear.

Sour

Stomach, sometimes called waterbrash, and burning pain, distress, nausea, dyspepsia, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This it accomplishes because with its wonderful power as a blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla gently tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs, invigorates the liver, creates an appetite, gives refreshing sleep, and raises the health tone. In cases of dyspepsia and indigestion it seems to have "a magic touch."

"For over 12 years I suffered from sour

with severe pains across my shoulders, and great distress. I had violent nausea which would leave me very weak and faint, difficult to get my breath. These spells came oftener and more severe. I did not receive any lasting benefit from physicians, but found such happy effects from a trial of Hood's Sarsaparilla, that I took several bottles and mean to always keep it in the house. I am now able to do all my own work, which for six years I have been unable to do. My husband and son have also been greatly benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla—for pains in the back, and after the grip. I gladly recommend this grand blood medicine." MRS. OFF FOR THE JUBILEE.

The Prince of Wales Canadian Dragoons Contingent Leaves Peterborough for London via Quebec This Morning.

This morning the representatives of the Third Regiment, Prince of Wales Canadian Dragoons, namely, Sergt.-Major Price, of the Peterborough county, Sergt.-Major Terrill, Prince Edward County, Sergt.-Major Syers, Durham County, Corp. Smith, Northumberland county, representing their several county squadrons, mustered at headquarters, Peterborough, this morning, and were inspected by Lt.-Col. H. C. Rogers, commanding the regiment, who handed over the new equipment supplied by the Government. This outfit is complete and not only includes the usual clothing but Lee-Enfield carbines and the regulation soldiers' kit. The squad was escorted to the station by Lt.-Col. Rogers and Major Greenwood and given transport to Quebec, where they enter into quarters with the rest of the Canadian mounted contingent, and will be put into shape for sailing for England on June 5th, by the Vancouver. They left the station amid the plaudits and good wishes of their friends, who are sure that they will give a good account of themselves, for four finer looking or better set-up troopers never mounted charger.

THE DIAMOND JUBILEE IN PETERBOROUGH.

It Seems as if it would have to Look After Itself.

The present indications are that if Peterborough has any sort of celebration of the Diamond Jubilee the celebration will have to be of the automatic character and run itself. The "Citizens" Committee, after superseding the Foresters, has broken down, and the Battalion has practically decided to go to Montreal on June 22nd.

It is left to an outsider to redeem the credit of the town. Capt. Johnston of Otonabee, commanding Peterborough troop of cavalry, Prince of Wales Canadian Dragoons, says that rather than have the day go by default in Peterborough, he will give an exhibition drill with his troop on Jubilee Day. The Dragoons go into camp at Kingston on June 8th, and break camp on the 18th, so that both horses and men will be in fine fettle for the 22nd.

If Capt. Johnson and his troop come here on the 22nd they should have a warm welcome. There will be a few of our citizens who will not want to go fishing on the Queen's Diamond Jubilee Day, or hide their loyalty under canvas.

New Partner for "The Palace."

Arrangements have been completed by which Mr. Lem Felcher, of Toronto, has become associated with Mr. Caresse LeBrun in the ownership and management of the Palace Hotel restaurant, under the firm name of LeBrun & Felcher. Mr. Felcher has gained a large popularity in Toronto and comes with the highest recommendations as to his qualities as a boniface. He has kept a model establishment in the city, both as to services rendered and strict observance of the law. Without deserving the title of a "sport," he has given great encouragement to manly sports—especially cricket, lacrosse and baseball. With his experience, combined with that of Mr. Caresse LeBrun, the Palace will doubtless maintain its high reputation as a first-class hostelrie, in every respect.

Sousa and His Famous Band.

It is a pleasure to be able to announce that the general desire to hear as many of Sousa's own popular marches as possible at his concert here to-morrow afternoon will be gratified. Sousa's success and popularity are doubtless as much due to his musical compositions as to his ability as a leader and musician. He is as widely known in this country through his irresistible marches as for his magnetism as a leader. And Sousa leads one of the finest bands in the world, and certainly the finest in existence. Mr. Sousa claims that every occupant of a seat in his organization is a musician of uncommon skill, and thoroughly worthy of the company he is in, which adds to the pleasure of enjoying such delightful music. Concert begins at 2 p.m., to-morrow afternoon. Prices 50c, 75c and $1.00.

HER MAJESTY'S SEVENTY-EIGHTH.

A SUCCESSFUL MILITARY CELEBRATION.

The Joint Combination of the Rangers, Veterans, and Boys' Church Brigades—The Grand March—The Events at the Grounds—The Evening Concert.

We had veritable "Queen's weather" for the seventy-eighth anniversary of Her Majesty's Birthday. In the morning the light struggled through a canopy of cloud, which broke away at intervals in a manner that threatened a thunderstorm, but the tradition of the day triumphed and about noon the sun came forth in his strength, and the rest of the day was ideal May weather.

Of course there was an almost complete suspension of business and ordinary occupation. While the majority of citizens gave themselves over to holiday-making, a few shop-tired invividuals improved the occasion by digging in their gardens, and giving their places a final tidying up for the spring. But otherwise the town was en fete. There were numerous evidences of loyalty to the occasion. The crimson and white and blue of the grand old flag flashed and flapped in the balmy breeze of a perfect day in May. The colours floated from the towers of St. John's and the George street Methodist church, the post office and custom house, Sons of England Hall, the Public school and the Murray street Separate school buildings and many private residences were also brightened with flags. Several of the hotels in the business quarters were more or less elaborately decorated, and as to flags and bunting the day was fairly well observed.

THE MILITARY DEMONSTRATION,

under the auspices of the Fifty-Seventh Battalion, was the only set feature of the day. Shortly after twelve o'clock the drill shed became the centre of attraction, but long before that hour the various members of the Boy's Brigades might be seen hastening to the rendezvous, proudly carrying their truculent wooden guns with an air of military ferocity and swagger to compensate for the innocuous character of their weapons.

The parade of the military was to have taken place from the drill shed to the Agricultural Grounds at 1.30, but it was two o'clock before the Fifty-seventh band headed the rather formidable procession poured from the Drill Shed and the grounds of Central Park, where the several corps comprising the big muster of Boys' Brigades had been impatiently kicking their heels at the "stand easy" for a wearisome hour.

By this time the streets in the vicinity of the shed and park were thronged with spectators whose patient waiting was well rewarded with the spectacle presented.

First came the band, and bugle and drum corps and then a rather meagre turn-out of the Rangers; these were followed by a splendid parade of the Veterans of 1866; then followed the various companys of the Boys' Brigades as specified below:—

Lakefield company, No. 30 Church Boys' Brigade, Capt. Hayward, First Lt. Gray, Second Lieut. Bloomfield; Colour-Sergt. Rollie Richardson, Sergt. F. Crawford, Sergt. E. Moore and 27 rank and file.

St. John's Church Boys' Brigade—Capt. Fred Sawers; First Lieut. Archie Hagel; Second Lieut. Percy Clarke, Colour-Sergeant; Ed. Kennedy, Sergeant, Geo. Hetherington, Sergeant, Hal Byers, and 20 rank and file.

St. Luke's Church Boys' Brigade—Captain, Claude Rogers; First Lieut., Sid Tivey; Second Lieut., Matthew Edwards; Colour-Seargent, Frank Eaton; Sergeant, Percy Jameson; Sergeant, Evelyn Dormer; Sergeant, Victor Hamilton, and 23 rank and file.

St. Paul's Boy's Brigade—Captain, Jas. Connal; First Lieut., A. C. McCallum; Second Lieut., Chester Lang; Third Lieut., Percy White; Colour Sergeant, Hamilton Munro; Sergeant, Ross Cameron; Colour Sergeant, Richard Lee; Sergeant, Reginald Thompson; standard bearer, Graham Ferguson, ambulance corps, C. Russell, and 43 rank and file.

George street Methodist Boys' Brigade—Captain, Enos Maybee; First Lieut., Walter McGuire; Second Lieut., W. Wareham; Sergeant, Burton Cameron; Sergeant, Ernie Belleghem; Sergeant, T. Irwin; Sergeant, J. Lane, and 45 rank and file.

As the rather imposing parade passed down George street, to the inspiring sounds of the music of the band and the rat-tat of the drums, the procession constituted quite a pageant. The Boys' Brigades attracted much attention and deserved much praise for the steadiness of their marching.

Arrived at the Agricultural grounds the military were followed by a not very large assemblage of spectators, who derived no little pleasure from the capital list of presented, which were carried out under the management of the officers, with the following results:

NOTES OF EVENTS.

The contest for the cavalry "Heads and Posts" brought out two entries, both representing the Prince of Wales, Canadian Dragoons—Lieut Cockburn and Sergt.-Major Price the Peterborough county representative on the cavalry arm of the Canadian Jubilee contingent. Sergt.-Major Price who was in town en route to Quebec, where the cavalry contingent goes into quarters for a week previous to their departure for England, was placed at great disadvantage; his mount was a horse he had never seen before and one unaccustomed to the exercise. Lieut. Cockburn made 30 points out of a possible 40 and scored his points rather cleverly.

The Boys' Brigade competition was a pretty severe test, and the several corps were pretty evenly matched. In the first round St. Paul's and the George street Methodist brigade each scored 29 points out of a possible 40, and St. Luke's and the Lakefield brigade tied with 28 points. In the second trial between the two highest the George street Methodists again scored 29 points and St. Paul's 28 giving the victory after a hard fought battle to the former by 1 point.

The prettiest feature of the afternoon was the bayonet exercise performed by a selected squad—judging their own time—and the selected squad was a select squad for they performed the movements with a steadiness precision uniformity approaching very closely to perfection. Those composing the squad were Sergt. Edwards, Sergt. Raby, Sergt. Smith, Sergt. Murphy, Corp. Irwin, Sergt. Roberts, Sergt. Edwards, Sergt. Jordan and Sergt. Hounsell.

The marching competition, by sections of eight men, under a section commander, was very keenly contested, and was an excellent exhibition, in which all competing did well. In this competition there were represented Companies B, C, D, E and F.

The tug of war contest was the centre of attraction, and was pulled off with great vigour. In the heats No. 3, Sergt. Gaskin, won from No. 6, Sergt. Mathias, and No. 5, Sergt. Murphy, from No. 4, Sergt. Smith, and in the "saw-off" No. 3 literally pulled off the 100 lbs of Lee-Enfield ammunition.

The officers race brought a full field to the scratch. The running was pretty even, but Lieut. Cockburn, who wore cavalry boots and was the only red coat, won without much trouble. He was the butt of several good humoured jokes; one dubbed him as a "scarlet runner," another suggested that it wasn't fair to pit horse against man, and a sour grapes philosopher suggested that running was not much of an accomplishment for a soldier to boast of anyway.

The Fire Brigade Band furnished excellent music during the day and greatly enhanced the proceedings.

The grand stand, which was largely tenanted by ladies, especially their hats, looked like an escaped flower show.

It is proposed informally to make yesterday's demonstration an annual affair, and, judging from the success of the first, the idea would be popular, and would not only form a very proper recognition of the anniversary but would sharpen the esprit du corps of the battalion.

THE EVENING PROGRAMME.

There was an excellent attendance present at the concert which was given in the evening in the drill shed. Mr. Roy put "The Jameson Raid" on the canvas, for the benefit of those who failed to see this fine set of views when put on exhibition in the opera house some time ago. The 57th Battalion band was also in attendance and discoursed some excellent music during the evening. Mr. Roy had two intermissions during the evening. In the second intermission Sergeants Murphy, Hounsell, Smith, Raby, Jordan and Edwards, and Corporals Wand, Irwin and Langford, under the direction of Ser.-Major Peters, went through the bayonet exercise and physical drill with such precision that an encore was graciously responded to. Mr. Roy's entertainment deserves the highest praise and proved to be instructive as well as amusing. That the officers of the Battalion were highly pleased with the views was evinced by their close attention during the exhibition. The concert was a most unqualified success.

Haliburton Gold Fields.

The Township of Harburn, in the provisional County of Haliburton, is the latest addition to the long list of Canadian gold fields. Mr. W. H. Lockhart Gordon has now on exhibition in his office, Medical Council Building, several lumps of ore of a very high grade. Though only surface pieces, they are very strongly mineralized, an assay showing that they bear $23 worth of copper and $9.25 in gold to the ton, a total of $32.25. The dyke in which this ore occurs is a monster, running for at least a mile and a half, and being sixty feet in width. Harburn is one of nine townships owned by the Canadian Land & Immigration Co. of Haliburton, of which Mr. Gordon and Mr. Z. A. Lash are the local managing directors, and the site of this valuable mine is within ten miles of the Grand Trunk Railway. Plumbago has also been found in the neighborhood. The ore referred to above is a granite, with garnets and copper pyrites, and is well worthy of inspection.—Globe.

ST. PAUL'S QUEEN'S BIRTHDAY SUCCESS.

A GREAT PIC-NIC AT LAKEFIELD.

A Very Large Attendance—A Good Days Enjoyment—Addresses Suitable for the Occasion—Sports and Games—The Financial Outcome Wipes out the Debt of St. Paul's.

The tenth annual picnic held at Lakefield under the auspices of St. Paul's Roman Catholic Church, took place yesterday. The Queen's birthday has for a decade been set apart for this picnic, and this year being the jubilee year the picnic was of a jubilee character being by all odds the best of the series. There was a very large attendance at Lakefield and surrounding country, and Peterborough, Young's Point and Lindsay were well represented.

At an early hour the ladies of the congregation had their elaborate preparations completed and a sumptous repast was provided for the multitude who patronized the tables so lavishly spread, in the Agricultural Hall.

After dinner the crowd adjourned to the Agricultural grounds where a fine programme of were run off under the management of Mr. Gus Gough and J. J. Lynch, Peterborough, with the following results:

SPORTS AND GAMES

Men's race, 200 yards—1st prize, one box of cigars, by Jas Dolan; 2nd prize, a paddle, by Strickland & Co—1 William Heffernan, 2 F McPherson.

Hurdle race—1 W Crowley, 2 A Laidlaw.

In the contest for the wedding cake Mr. Peter Corkery of town was successful in landing the prize. Mr. Corkery's friends are anxious to know if he had any particular reason for entering the contest for the cake.

Young's Point defeated Selwyn in a game of football by a score of one to nothing.

THE ADDRESSES.

During the afternoon addresses were delivered suitable to the occasion. Mr. Thos. Cahill, of Peterborough, was called to the chair and on the platform were Ven. Archdeacon Casey, Rev. Father Scanlan, Mr. J. R. Stratton, M. P P., Mr. Daniel O'Connell and others.

Mr. Cahill on taking the chair, thanked the reverend gentleman for the honour of being placed in the position of presiding over so large a gathering and thanked the latter in the name of Rev. Father Fitzpatrick for so liberally patronizing the occasion. He referred to the day being celebrated throughout the Empire in honour of the birthday of a sovereign who had reigned so long and so well.

Mr. J. R. Stratton in the course of a brief address, referred to the occasion which had called so many persons together — the tenth annual picnic in connection with St. Paul's church. He congratulated Rev. Father Fitzpatrick on the large attendance which was no doubt due to his great popularity with his Lakefield parishioners. According to the bills, he (Mr. Stratton) was to speak on the "Queen's Jubilee," but to cover a reign so full of momentuous significance and incident, would require a longer time than was at his disposal. This birthday of her Majesty was of especial significance, being the year of her Diamond Jubilee. Great achievements had been crowded into her long reign. The bounds of political freedom had been greatly widened, and wonderful advancements had been made in art, literature and science, more particularly the latter. During her reign we had seen the origin of the railway and steamboat, the telegraph, the telephone and the modern battleship. Especially conspicuous in her Majesty's character were her personal qualities. As a wife, mother and Queen, she had been a model. She was good at heart, and her example was always for good, and incidents referring to her grand traits of character were related. The great material growth of the Empire during her reign was referred to, and it was pointed out that Canada shared most largely in the advance of any of the colonies. During the Queen's reign Canada had won representative government, and a couple of provinces that then constituted Canada had, with other provinces, been welded into a harmonious confederation, stretching from sea to sea across the continent, and we were a free progressive united people, all working together to promote the welfare of the greatest colony of the greatest Empire the world had ever seen.

Ven. Archdeacon Casey thanked the gathering for their presence in such large numbers. The day was one which all classes were glad to respect on account of the noble character of the woman whose birthday it celebrated. During her reign great advances had been made in all departments of material and humane activity. Her Diamond Jubilee, commemorating the longest reign of history would doubtless witness the most universal—most wide spread and greatest demonstration ever made perhaps in honour of any one individual. Rev. Father Fitzpatrick had good reason to be pleased with the large attendance and the great success of his annual picnic.

Mr. Daniel O'Connell, barrister, Peterborough, paid a glowing tribute to her Majesty's reign, to the advancement it had witnessed in every part of the Empire and in every interest—material, moral, social and constitutional. He had not intended to speak but he could not avoid offering his congratulation upon the success of the present occasion.

Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, thanked the gentlemen who, at some sacrifice had been present to speak at his picnic. He accepted it as a complement to himself and his flock, to have thus given up a day, more especially devoted to secular enjoyment, and he and his people appreciated the complement accordingly. He did not know that a better day than Her Majesty's birthday could be selected for the annual picnic of St. Paul's. He hoped that she might be long spared to reign and that her latter days might be as auspicious as the past had been, for what was to her advantage was to the advantage of the wide empire over which she held sway. He cordually thanked all those who had in any way contributed to the success of the annual picnic of St. Paul's. He was pleased to announce that the receipts of the day would wipe off the debt of the church which was established in Lakefield ten years ago. (Applause.)

The proceedings of the day concluded with the singing of the National Anthem, and thus terminated one of the most, if not the most successful of St. Paul's annual picnics.

The Order was instituted in 1890 and the progress it has made must be very gratifying to its members. There is no life insurance connected with the Order which is formed for fraternal purposes and to give its members the advantage of sick and funeral benefits.

SGT. EVANS IS LEAVING.

His Comrades Give Him a Send Off Before He Goes.

Sgt. George Evans, of No. 6 Company, Peterborough Rangers is leaving to accept a position in Chicago and last evening his comrades-in-arms of the company, assembled in the rooms of the sergeants mess and gave him a royal send off.

Captain L. M. Hayes, of No. 6 company presided and a most pleasant evening was spent in song and merriment. Sgt. Evans is quite a singer himself and contributed a number of songs to the evening's entertainment as also did the chairman and Col.-Sgt. Matthias. Speeches were given by Corporal Belleghem and Pte. Arsenault.

Refreshments were served during the evening when the health of Sgt. Evans was proposed it was received with the greatest enthusiasm and the guest of the evening was overwhelmed with the kindest expressions of esteem from his comrades. His departure will create a vacancy in the company which it will be hard to fill as not only was he the possessor of a certificate from the military school qualifying him to act as sergeant, but he was also a most painstaking non-commissioned officer as well.

ONE HONEST MAN.

DEAR EDITOR,—Please inform your readers that if written to confidentially, I will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigour, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy.

Complete Recovery by the Use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"Some years ago, as a result of too close attention to business, my health failed. I became weak, nervous, was unable to look after my interests, and manifested all the symptoms of a decline. I took three bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, began to improve at once, and gradually increased my weight from one hundred and twenty-five to two hundred pounds. Since then, I and my family have used this medicine when needed, and we are all in the best of health, a fact which we attribute to Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I believe my children would have been fatherless to-day had it not been for Ayer's Sarsaparilla, of which preparation I cannot say too much."—H. O. HINSON, Postmaster and Planter, Kinard's, S. C.

THE BASEBALL RECORD.

Toronto, May 22.

A cold day greeted the Toronto and Rochester teams for the opening game of the Eastern League series at the new grounds at Hanlan's Point yesterday afternoon. The attendance was over 2000, but they were amply paid for braving the weather. It was a see-saw game all along, and in 11 innings Rochester won out by 11 to 10.

TORONTO LYE STOCK MARKET.

Never in its history were there so many cattle on the market in one day as there were yesterday. Every pen was filled, and for a time some of the cattle had to remain in the cars for want of room in the stock yards. The market was glutted, and as a consequence prices were heavy, with butchers' cattle inclined to be easier.

Besides what was left over from Tuesday's market there were 85 carloads made up as follows: Cattle 1700, hogs 1700, calves 140, 350 sheep and lambs and 30 milk cows.

There were 200 exporters unsold, and many of the dealers complain bitterly of having lost money on this season's speculations up to the present time.

For those who have cattle ready to ship it would be better for them to hold them for a short time until shipping space was more plentiful.

The hog market is firm, and there was a slight advance on yesterday's quotations.

D. McDonald, Rice & Whaley shipped via Buffalo to Boston 7 carloads; S. Halligan, 5 carloads; M. Vincent, 2 carloads; A. Montrueil, 2 carloads; Warden & Ironsides, 1 carload; Shortreed, 1 carload, via C.P.R. and Brown & Snell 8 carloads, Mr. Reed 2 carloads, via G.T.R., all export cattle.

BRITISH YUKON COMPANY.

The Word "Chartered" Dropped From the Title and Some Restriction Provided For.

Ottawa, May 21.—(Special.)—At the meeting of the Railway Committee this morning the bill to incorporate the British Yukon Chartered Company came up for further consideration. Mr. Chrysler, Q.C., the solicitor of the promoters, announced that they desired to drop the word "Chartered" from the title of the company, the name thus simply being "The British Yukon Company." Besides permission to build the forty miles of railway through the White Pass, and to maintain a line of navigation, the company asked for power to carry on a mining business throughout the Dominion, to transact the business of carriers and shipowners, to acquire patent rights and to act as general traders in British Columbia and the Northwest Territories.

The Minister of Railways said that he thought the mining powers ought to be confined to British Columbia and the Northwest Territories.

Mr. Lister objected strongly to the powers asked for being granted; they had never before been given to any railway company.

Mr. N. C. Wallace took the same ground, contending that the bill would confer an immense monopoly on this company, to the destruction of individual chances of Canadians going into the rich Yukon district in search of gold.

Mr. Blair said that, apart from the powers to build a railway, the other rights asked for were merely those which could be exercised by any individual. He did not think that the interests of anyone would be imperilled by the bill, especially as one, and, perhaps two, American companies were now carrying on a similar business in the British Yukon territory. He objected, however, to the clause permitting the company to pay for the businesses it may take over with shares of the company, and on his suggestion it was subsequently struck out.

Mr. Oliver (Alberta) likewise claimed that the company was practically asking for a monopoly. He said that British Columbia and the Northwest Territories had learned by past experience that it was possible to pay too much for railways. Being at the same time a transportation, mining and trading company, this company would have peculiar control of the country, both by reason of the fact that there would be no competition as to rates and otherwise, and private enterprise would thus be strangled.

The section relating to land was amended so as to limit what the company could hold to what it required for its own use, and the clause giving the general powers asked for was then passed.

In dealing with the section empowering the company to construct about 46 miles of railroad through the White Pass, the Minister of Railways suggested that the exercise of the powers conferred by the charter should be contingent upon the construction of the road, and the committee agreed that a clause to that effect should be added. The time for the commencement and completion of the road was also limited to two and five years respectively.

The clause empowering the company to navigate steamers on the Yukon, Big and Little Salmon and other rivers, and upon other inland waters in the Northwest Territories, was also approved of. The clause enabling the company to sell any surplus water it may have not required for the use of the company, was struck out. The usual right of expropriation under the Railway Act for wharves, docks and elevators was allowed, and also the right to construct and operate telegraph and telephone lines. The promoters withdrew the sections allowing the company to enter into agreements with the Government of Canada for the performance of police, postal or other administrative duties, and with the Government of British Columbia for the performance of any services required, the consideration to be by royalty on metals mined in the Yukon or otherwise. The remainder of the bill was passed by the committee without any substantial change.

The incorporators of the company are the following: His Highness Francis, Duke of Teck, G.C.B., Messrs. Henry Coppinger Beaton, Adolph Drucker, Charles Herbert Wilkinson, George William Mitchell, Richard Biddulph Martin, Capt. Duncan Vernon Pirie, Harry Samuel Samuel, Major Philip Hugh Dalbiac, the Hon. Hubert Valentine Duncombe, Harry Hauenel Marks, Ernest Flower, Major Edward Pryce-Jones, William Tudor Howell, Thomas Richardson, Henry Charles Richards, the Hon. Sir Charles William Fremantle, George Ashby Pritt, Henry John Hadrill, Gilbert William Don, Charles Granville Kekewich, Frank Bailey Passmore, Alexander Charles Boyd, James Livesay, Colonel Edward Mayne Alexander, William Thompson, Henry Farncombe Billinghurst, John Henry Escolme, John Geale Dickson, Walter Townsend, Frederick Hugh Mackenzie Corbet, Robert Newton Crane, Richard Byron Johnson, Samuel Arthur Chappell, Edward Lucas, William Heape Bailey, James Greenless, Captain Barklie, Cairns McCalmont, Henry Hodgson Holford, George James Suckling, Richard Eve and Frank Anthony Labouchere.

The trade returns for the month of April and for the ten months ending April 30 will be gazetted to-morrow. The total trade for the ten months shows an increase of nearly eleven million dollars.

BRITISHERS IN BUFFALO

Held a Meeting and Took Steps Regarding the Jubilee Celebration.

Buffalo, N. Y., May 21.—A meeting of British-born residents of Buffalo and the subjects of Her Imperial Majesty Victoria, which was largely attended, was held at the Ellicott Club last night for the purpose of making formal arrangements for the jubilee banquet which has already been announced. A general committee of arrangements was chosen and a number of special committees were also named for various purposes. Albert E. Jones was named as chairman of the General Committee, and Arnold D. Ralph, secretary. At a subsequent meeting, the General Committee passed the following resolution: "While it is plainly requested that all citizens of British birth should take a warm interest in the matter on the occasion of Her Majesty's Diamond Jubilee, it is the sense of the committee that no barriers of nationality shall be raised, and that all good American citizens, well-wishers of Her Majesty, are cordially invited to participate at the banquet and will be most welcome."

The banquet will be held at the Ellicott Club on the evening of June 22.

MASON & RISCH PIANOS

Are the Instruments of the Cultured

For over twenty years they have been without an equal in the favour of those best qualified to judge of the musical merit of an instrument. There are other points beyond musical excellence, however, which have combined to give the Mason & Risch Pianos their peculiar pre-eminence.

They are Durable Beyond All Comparison.

That is what secured for them the preference in all colleges and schools. Mount Allison Ladies' College has just purchased its 25th Mason & Risch Piano. This is but one instance among many.

They are Moderate in Price.

While but few people of taste or judgment would care to purchase any of the very low priced Pianos now on the market, still fewer can afford the very high figures (plus duties) which are asked for the highest grade American Pianos. Mason & Risch supply a first-class Piano at a moderate price.

Their Terms Are Easy.

One of the great advantages which capital enables our company to afford its customers is easy terms of payment. Write us on this point. Also please write us for our new Illustrated Catalogue. Mailed free.

Women nowadays are learning that it pays to be healthy, that it pays to be strong. Weak women make bad wives and worse mothers. A woman need not necessarily become an athlete in order to fit herself for the duties of wifehood and motherhood. If she will obey common sense rules of health, and be sure that the organs that constitute her womanhood are always healthy and strong, she will be a capable and healthy wife and mother. The best medicine for the treatment of weakness and disease of the organs distinctly feminine is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

It is the discovery of a regularly graduated physician—an eminent and skillful specialist, Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. There are on file at that institution letters of over 90,000 women testifying to the marvelous merits of the "Favorite Prescription." It acts directly on the organs that make wifehood and motherhood possible. It makes them strong and healthy. It cures all weakness and disease. It smoothes the way to almost painless maternity. It insures healthy children. All good druggists sell it.

Mrs. H. F. Reynolds, of North Fenton, Broome Co., N. Y., writes: "I thought I would write you a few lines as I have been taking your medicine and using it in my family. I have just taken another bottle of your 'Favorite Prescription' and it has done me lots of good. I think it is a grand medicine."

The newly-wedded wife, above all other women, needs a good medical book. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser fills this want. It contains over 1000 pages and 300 illustrations. Several chapters are devoted to the physiology of the organs distinctly feminine. Send 31 one-cent stamps, to cover cost of customs and mailing only, to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., for a free copy, paper-covered. If a cloth binding is wanted, send 50 one-cent stamps.

HEART OF THE WORLD

Gray shadows were creeping over the sand dunes beyond. Pacific Heights. Only here and there a lanceolate form touched the hills, from the crimson ball going out to sea through the golden gate. There was a scent of lilies in the air mingling with the more wonted perfume of February roses. The hum of the city sounded far away, and the song of a meadow lark could be heard from a treetop.

The door of the house stood open, revealing a broad hall. There was a suggestion, in the dim light, of waving ferns and the silvery gleam of a fountain, in the conservatory at one side. From the doorjamb there swayed in the breeze long ends of soft, snowy ribbon, holding in place a cluster of white roses.

In the center of a stately apartment that opened upon the hall stood a tiny white casket on slender pillars. Two candles burned at its head. By a window a man sat gazing with unseeing eyes, in the creeping shadows of the trees. A woman lay in a crushed heap among the pillows of a divan. Neither had moved for a long time. The little form in the white casket had been their all. Now it lay scarcely stiller than they.

Suddenly the silence was broken by the sound of a woman's voice, high-pitched and clear.

"Willy! Willy! oh, Willy!" it cried. A friend within the house hastened to the door. Along a pathway through the shrubbery a handsomely-dressed woman appeared. "Oh!" she exclaimed, advancing; "have you seen a little boy about four years old? My little boy is lost! Some one said they saw him come in here. I cannot find him; and I am afraid he has fallen somewhere in the sand dunes."

"Have you notified the police?"

"Long ago. They are all on the lookout for him. But he may be buried in the sand. We have been searching for hours. Oh, I have lost two little ones through death, but I never felt as I do this moment!"

The mother's heart wailed forth behind the cultured woman's enforced composure.

The woman who had been lying among the cushions came through the hall to the door.

"What is it?" she asked.

The friend put her arm about her and would have drawn her back; but the stranger spoke.

"My little boy is lost," she said, excitedly. "He is only four years old. We are afraid he is among the sand dunes."

"Oh!" cried the younger woman, "I am so sorry! Is there nothing we can do? Cannot we help you look for him? The poor little fellow! Think of him all alone in the dunes! How did it happen?" And she put her hands in the stranger's for sympathy.

The latter was full of her story of coming home from a round of calls to find the child missing and the other children seeking him. Even as she spoke, voices could be heard calling from the sand dunes: "Willy! Willy! oh, Willy!"

"I must go!" cried the mother. "Oh, my heart is breaking! Willy! Willy! Where can he be?"

As she turned a bassing zephyr blew the white ribbon on the doorpost straight out across her cheek. She started back dismayed.

"Why," she cried, "you have a dead child in this house!"

"Yes," said the other mother; "my only child, a little boy just four years old, died this morning."

Tears came into the stranger's eyes. "Oh," she cried, "do forgive me! I am so sorry. I did not know. Dear heart! to think I should have troubled you. I, too, have lost two children by death; but this is more terrible. My little boy! You see, I do not know where he is."

"I know," the other said, calmly. "You must let us do what we can for you. Oh, I am sure you will find him. Let me go with you. We will search together. Not to know where your baby is! Ah, what trouble there is in the world!"

She seized a wrap, and the two women went down the walk together. At the corner they were met by a boy of perhaps a dozen years.

"Some children say they met a little boy like yours goin' down toward North Beach," he said.

They hurried down the hilly street.

"Have you seen anything of a little boy, about four years old, playing about here?" asked Willy's mother of a homeward-bound laborer. "My little boy is lost."

"Shure, mem, now that's very bad, an' I'm sorry," the man said, halting; "mebbe he'd be at the p'lice station?"

"No. I've telephoned all the stations. Some one thought they saw him down here. What shall I do?"

The face of the big, rough man worked sympathetically.

"I'll kape me eyes open ez I go along home, mem," he said; "an' mebby I'll see th' little feller. Tut, now! What if 'twore me own little Tim? He's just four years old, the rascal, an' 'twad kill 'iz mother, shure. Ah, but it's wearying an' comfortin' to th' heart, mem, the childhren bez."

The way grew more squalid as they kept on toward the Beach. On a door-step a young woman sat holding a little child, and looking anxiously down the street.

"Have you seen a little boy?" the older mother began, and again the sad little tale was told.

"No," said the other woman; "but I hope you'll find him, lady. I know how you feel. Me heart's sore over me own little Joey, here, and me man away looking for worruk. The baby is that sick! an' Jim, me other lad, he's gone for medicine. I don't know what's keeping him."

"Let me see the baby;" and the mother, whose little one lay dead at home reached out her jeweled hands. The child was placed in her arms.

"Why, he is very ill, indeed!" she exclaimed. The little one's face was livid. The baby's fingers were clutched over each tiny thumb, and the tiny body shivered convulsively.

Willy's mother eyed the little form knowingly. "The child should be put into a warm bath at once," she said.

The three women entered the house and busied themselves over the sick baby. She whose child was lost found a battered kettle and put water to heat over the single-burner lamp. The other one undressed the little form, while the wee sufferer's mother stood wringing her hands in helpless pain.

They worked rapidly, tenderly; but it was nearly an hour before the terrible convulsions were over and the baby was resting on the bed.

"God bless you, ladies!" the poor woman cried, as she saw relief creeping over the drawn face; "you have saved my baby's life!"

"But, oh, my own little boy!" and the other mother hastened to the door. "It is quite dark and I do not know where he is."

"Sure, lady, the good God will never let your baby be lost!" but the two strangers were gone.

"Oh, where will he sleep to-night?" murmured Willy's mother. "Your boy is safe with God, but where, where is mine?"

Up the street an older boy came tearing. "Mamma! Mamma!" he cried, while yet afar off; "a policeman's found Willy and taken him home!"

"Oh, thank God!" said she whose child was with the All-Father—"thank God!" but the other could not speak.

It was a triumphal progress back to the more aristocratic quarter.

"They've found yer bobby, ma'am," a street urchin cried, who was calling papers on the street corner. A Mexican tamale vender volunteered the same information in broken English, and in the next block a woman threw open a window and leaned forward.

"A policeman took your little boy home, madam!" she said, joyfully.

Near home a gleeful band of children met them.

"He's found—he's found!" and the chorus rang throughout the neighborhood.

The two mothers kissed tenderly and parted. As the younger one turned to enter her childless home her eyes were swimming with the first tears she had shed that day; but they were tears of thankfulness.

On the doorstep of the other home a man stood, holding a child in his arms.

"We've got him," he called, quickly, as he bent to kiss his wife; and then his arms closed tightly around them both.

"O, Willy!" he said, "how could you frighten us so? Why did you do it?"

The curly head was raised and the blue eyes opened in surprise.

"Why, papa," said the little voice, "Mary said they wuzzent any or'nges for dinner, an' I went out to buy some!"

The People Are Convinced

When they read the testimonials of cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla. They are written by honest men and women, and are plain straightforward statements of fact. The people have confidence in Hood's Sarsaparilla because they know it actually and permanently cures, even when other medicines fail.

Hood's Pills are the only pills to take with Hood's Sarsaparilla. Easy and yet efficient.

A Misnomer

William came down to the office with a woe-begone expression that would have invited sympathy from a cast-iron stove. The expression was supplemented and rounded out by a network of scratches and several bits of court plaster.

"What's the matter with your face, Bill?" inquired the assistant bookkeeper.

William made a hoarse sound in his throat, but said nothing.

"Been tattooing a map of Cuba on your physiognomy?" queried the entry clerk.

"Racehorse Charlie ain't been eatin' you, has he?" put in the office boy.

"What is the matter, William?" asked the cashier.

"Shaved myself," was the sullen reply.

The bookkeeper looked astonished.

"I thought you said you used a safety razor?"

"I do!" was William's vicious answer.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

No woman ever really thinks she is homely, and no man ever really believes he is fat.

The average man's idea of luxury is to own a house with a billiard table in the basement.

Understanding a woman is easy compared to knowing whether it is time to let the furnace go out yet.

Probably the reason why babies don't learn to talk sooner is because they think the women are buying them.

If the flood had only lasted a few days longer Noah's wife would probably have insisted on housecleaning.

A man with a lot of virtues and no vices would be about as much of a success as a fresh salad without any vinegar.—New York Press.

We hear a great deal about purifying the blood. The way to purify it is to enrich it. Blood is not a simple fluid like water. It is made up of minute bodies and when these are deficient, the blood lacks the life-giving principle. Scott's Emulsion is not a mere blood purifier. It actually increases the number of the red corpuscles in the blood and changes unhealthy action into health.

If you want to learn more of it we have a book, which tells the story in simple words.

TRADE IN CANADA.

Bradstreet's Report Says Seeding Conditions in Ontario Are Favorable. Manufacturers Are Cautious.

New York, May 21.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say: Seeding conditions in the Province of Ontario are favorable and the grain acreage there will be increased. General trade is dull at Montreal, as proposed amendments to the new tariff have not been settled, and manufacturers prefer to go slowly. Farming operations have been interfered with by wet and cold weather in the Province of Quebec, as well as in Nova Scotia. Business is somewhat improved at Halifax and in Prince Edward Island. There is only a moderate volume of business at St. John, N. B. Bank clearings at Winnipeg, Hamilton, Toronto, Montreal and Halifax this week amount to $21,688,000, compared with $22,247,000 last week, and with $19,821,000 in the week last year. There are 21 business failures reported for the Dominion of Canada this week, compared with 31 last week, 28 in the week a year ago and 25 two years ago.

It is a fortunate day for a man when he first discovers the value of Ayer's Sarsaparilla as a blood-purifier. With this medicine, he knows he has found a remedy upon which he may rely, and that his life-long malady is at last conquered. Has cured others, will cure you.

They do Good Work.

THE Y. M. C. A. GYMNASIUM FUND CONTEST.

The Victorious Blues.

Up to ten o'clock last night the Blues led in the contest by 22½ points. Will the Reds ever catch up?

We intend working every day; we can't even expect to rest for holidays until after June 4th.

It looks as if the Redmen have failed to capture the town. Bread and water is what they honestly anticipate.

It was reported yesterday that one of the red ticket men had gone out on strike. They will all go out on the fourth of June.

The Blues have only one way of doing business: Seeing every man personally, and presenting the facts of the contest to him. Be sure and support the Blues. We have no tickets.

Capt. Kennedy is putting up a great fight. He is popular, not only among the young men, but also with the young ladies!

Many of the Blues did not work on the 24th - they were in mourning for the Reds, who were almost buried beneath the deluge of points.

THE BLUE PROGRAM.

Everybody is welcome at the Blue Rally in the old rooms, at 8 o'clock to-night. The following is the order of the patriotic evening programme:—

AT STITTSVILLE!

The Town's Leading Merchant Laid Up

Rheumatism in various forms is one of the most common diseases there is. It arises generally from impure blood and a broken down system. In the limbs it is painful; in most of the internal organs dangerous, and in the heart usually fatal.

The experience of Mr. S. Mann, the well known general merchant of Stittsville, is interesting:

"Last winter I was badly afflicted with rheumatism. I decided to try Dr. Chase's Pills. To my surprise, I got immediate relief, and before I had used one box my affliction was gone.

"I was also troubled with biliousness for years, and at intervals of three or four weeks would be laid up with a severe headache and sick stomach. Since using Chase's Pills I have not had an attack of either.

"I may add that Dr. Chase's Ointment for piles and skin diseases is just as effective as Dr. Chase's Pills for blood troubles. I have a clerk who suffered terribly from bleeding piles. He tried Chase's Ointment and in a few days was completely cured."

All dealers and Edmanson, Bates & Co., manufacturers, Toronto. 25c.

Chase's Linseed and Turpentine for colds, bronchitis and consumption. Sure cure, 25 cents.

"How to Cure all Skin Diseases."

Simply apply "Swayne's Ointment." No internal medicine required. Cures tetter, eczema, itch, all eruptions on the face, hands, nose, etc., leaving the skin clear, white and healthy. Its great healing and curative powers are possessed by no other remedy. Ask your druggist for Swayne's Ointment. Lyman Sons & Co., Montreal wholesale agents.

LACROSSE.

That the Peterboroughs are in good shape this year was amply demonstrated yesterday afternoon on the P. A. A. A. grounds, when they "played" with the Rosedales of Toronto and it was only play too, although the Rosedales held the intermediate championship of Toronto last year.

When the Rosedales were asked to come to Peterborough, it was understood that their team was one which would give the Peterboroughs a hard game, but play had not been in progress ten seconds before the visitors had been sized up as "juniors" of the most pronounced type but it was ever thus with Toronto. In 1895 the Tecumpsehs were brought down for a game but the team which presented itself was inferior even to the Rosedales as some of the players had never used a stick before in their lives.

The attendance yesterday was all that could be desired and if the game was not up to expectations it was not the fault of the lacrosse club, as the members were even more anxious for a hard close game than the spectators. Hereafter, however, any team which visits the town will have to furnish recommendations of a nature which will be a guarantee of their ability. Amends for the poor game of yesterday will be made by arranging two especially interesting matches within the next month viz., one with Port Hope and one with the Young Capitals of Ottawa.

The two teams lined up yesterday at 3.12 as follows:

ROSEDALE.		PETERBOROUGH.
Adamson	Goal	Dobbin
Nasmith	Point	Brown
W. Abernethy	Cover Point	Glover

Field Captain—E. Wasson
Referee—Walter Phelan.

The first game fell to the Peterboroughs, Lipsett scoring off a pass of McCabe's in two minutes.

Jack McCabe scored a couple of more, and as the crowd thought that it was going too much the way of the Peterboroughs the visitors were allowed to tally once, but as Dobbin turned his back to allow them to do it and it was done with such difficulty even then, the spectators refused to enthuse. Galley scored a couple, but they were not allowed as it was not thought desirable to run up too big a score in the early part of the game. Lipsett scored another, as did Billy Borland, after which time was called and the match was over.

The spectators were much pleased with the way in which the Juniors, Thompson, Dobbin and Craig showed up.

Brown promises to do even better work than last year, catching surer this year.

Mein and Borland both gave evidence of being in good shape.

Dinny Dobbin's eye is as accurate as ever in the goal, although he was not called upon very often yesterday.

Glover will undoubtedly play stronger than ever during the coming season.

Rubidge, Galley, Lipsett and McCabe made a home field, which it will be hard to beat outside the big league this year.

Jimmy McCabe is home again and will soon be seen in the crimson shirt of the Peterborough's. His presence is just what the team needs to steady it down.

Ernie Wasson was acting as field captain yesterday, but when the team plays again he will doubtless be found on the home field.

Walter Phelan made a good referee yesterday, but local lovers of the game would sooner see him out with a lacrosse in his hand. He will probably begin practice next week.

The Granites will go to Toronto on Jubilee Day to play the Rosedales.

The attendance of the grounds yesterday was the largest for many years, and lacrosse will doubtless boom this year.

A meeting of the Granites is called for Wednesday evening in the Palace Restaurant parlours.

The lacrosse season opened at Millbrook on Monday, when the home team defeated Cobourg by a score of 3—0. The playing was even more one-sided than the score, and Millbrook has got together a twelve that will make the best in this district hustle. The teams lined up as follows:—

CRICKET.

The report of the annual meeting of the Marylebone Cricket Club showed that the club has 4,197 members. The ground staff for this year numbers 55 men. The Earl of Pembroke, the retiring president, nominated as his successor the Earl of Litchfield, who used to play when Viscount Anson.

In the Notts-M. C. C. match at Lord's a new bowler was developed in the person of a Notts professional named Deuch. Previously unknown to fame, the young Notts colt has covered himself with glory by taking nine wickets for 50 runs, a wonderful achievement for a young and untried player. Notts won by 43 runs. Scores:—Notts, 112 and 101; M. C. C., 106 and 64.

THE TRIGGER.

The Gun Club held an open shoot yesterday, at the Riverside Park. Out of 20 birds each the following scores were made:—

Macnee	6
Morris	7
Kingan	7
James	15
Collins	16
Ferguson	15
Neill	11
Roberts	9
Daymen	13

Five birds were then scored at unknown angles with the appended result:

Macnee	3
Morris	2
Kingan	2
James	3
Collins	3
Ferguson	3
Neill	2
Dayman	4
Jones	2

STONY LAKE COTTAGE PILLAGE

Steamer Stolen, and Sunk, or Allowed to Drift — Bed Clothes, Wearing Apparel, Tent and Tools Carried Off on Saturday.

On Saturday, Messrs. John Kincaid, Dickson Best, Joseph and John Bennett left for their cottage at the head of Stony Lake, to arrange matters for the season and to spend the 24th of May on the lake. On their arrival they were very much surprised to find that their cottage had been ransacked and the bedding, clothing, crockery, a good tent, tools, fishing tackle, brushes and the general contents of the cottage had been taken away either during the winter or this spring. The door of the cottage had been broken. The key of the boat house was taken from the house and the boat house door opened, the little steamer valued at about $100, taken away and sunk in the deep water or allowed to drift about the lakes. The canoe, paddles, and skiff in the boat house were not interferred with. All together the loss will be about $200, divided among the different parties as they were all interested.

The matter will be referred to the Attorney-General and it is hoped that the guilty parties will be most severely punished.

If the owners of the cottages find out the individual or individuals that are pillaging it will be a most serious matter for them, as they are very indignant.

RAILWAY NOTES.

Sparks From the Wheels—Cinders for the Eye.

Besides the large number of locomotives which the Canadian Pacific Railway will build during the next two years, it will also build 100 refrigerator cars, 60 dump cars and 10 furniture cars. Five first-class cars and seven baggage and smoking cars have recently been constructed.

The locomotive used in the Bank of Toronto yards at Fenelon Falls, after being completely overhauled in the G. T. R. shops here, went north yesterday in charge of driver Jack Thayer, well known on the C. P. R. and G. T. R. systems. Jack is an old Lindsay boy, but has for several years past been running on the C. P. R. main line between North Bay and Fort William.

Mr. Geo. Teale, G. T. R. engineer, who was responsible for the smashup at Napanee a week or two ago, has received notice of his dismissal from the company's employ. His many friends will be sorry to hear of Mr. Teale's misfortune. He has spent his life from boyhood on the G. T. R. and had a clean sheet. It is said the company will be asked to reconsider the case.

TARIFF AMENDMENT.

Government Working for the Whole People.

CONCESSIONS IN SOME CASES.

Mr. Fielding, With Great Ability, States the Intentions of the Administration It is Still Held That German and Belgian Goods are Barred From Canada.

Ottawa, May 25.—(Special.)—At the opening of the House this afternoon, Mr. Davies introduced a bill to amend the Steamboat Inspection Act, by providing that third engineers may take charge of engines of certain horse-power instead of, as now, vessels of certain tonnage. Fourth class engineers may act as assistants to first class engineers, whereas now they can only act with second or third class engineers. The bill authorizes the Government to empower assistant engineers not legally qualified to act as engineers in small boats.

Mr. Parmelee introduced a bill to make it an illegal offence for a person to sell butter or cheese unless such has been actually manufactured at the time or such sale, or unless he is a duly appointed agent for such sale.

Mr. Sifton introduced a bill to amend the Territories Act by increasing the powers of the Executive Council. The effect of the measure would be that the system of responsible government in the territories would be more clearly and definitely defined and established than heretofore.

Bills to amend the Land Titles Act and Dominion Lands Act were also introduced.

AMENDED TARIFF RESOLUTIONS.

A Host of Changes Which Include a Concession to the Tobacco Men.

The House went into Committee of Supply and took up the item of $175,000 for immigration, which was discussed at some length, when the Finance Minister intervened with his motion to go into Committee of Ways and Means, and proceeded with the tariff explanation.

He said: Mr. Speaker, I desire to place on the table of the House, when I conclude, the amended tariff resolutions. I may say that we are proposing a number of changes in these resolutions. The House will of course desire, before proceeding with them, to have the printed papers in their hands, and they will be distributed before the evening session, in the meantime I may facilitate the business of the House if I ask the attention of the honorable members to the nature of the changes, or the principal changes, which we propose to make.

The Tobacco Schedule.

In the matter of the Inland Revenue Excise Department, it will be remembered that we brought down a resolution imposing a duty of ten cents a pound on raw leaf tobacco unstemmed and 14 cents per pound on the stemmed, that is an excise duty. It has been represented that it is desirable in the interests of convenience of the trade that that duty, if it be imposed, should be imposed by way of a customs duty. There would be a manifest disadvantage in imposing it at the first stage as a customs duty, for reasons which I think perhaps it is not necessary to enter into, but which the House will quite readily understand, reasons which are very largely in the direction of increased public revenue. We propose, however, that this excise duty on raw leaf tobacco shall be continued until the first day of July, and thereafter, as respects any raw leaf tobacco which is now in warehouse, and which remains in warhouse after the first of July, but as respects all importations of tobacco after the first day of July, we propose that that duty shall be levied by way of a customs duty, instead of an excise duty. In the meantime, as respects the levying of excise duties, we shall ask the House to authorize the Department of Inland Revenue to make such changes in the regulations as will facilitate the payment of excise duty on raw leaf at convenient times, so that the payment of duty will not be found too oppressive.

As to Cigarets.

In the matter of excise duty on cigarets, a change was made from $1.50 a thousand to $3. We propose that that change stand as respects foreign leaf tobacco out of which cigarets are made, or cigarets made from foreign leaf tobacco, but we propose that, as respects cigarets made from Canadian tobacco, the old rate of $1.50 should stand, so that, as between our former resolutions and the present one, there is a reduction in favor of the Canada leaf. These two articles of course are regarded perhaps by some as coming in competition. The parties in the tobacco trade, however, seem to think that they are not so closely in competition as would be thought from a general view of the question. However that may be, if there is any advantage in that for the grower of Canadian tobacco, we are desirous that he should have it.

Regarding the Customs Duty.

With regard to customs duty we have made a number of increases. But in the great majority of cases the changes that we make we have made them, so far as it was possible to do so, not by increasing the duty upon their manufactured article, but by endeavoring to diminish the cost of their raw material, and in a number of cases we have been able to do that. There are a few items in the tariff where the rates were comparatively low, and when you apply to those items the preferential rate, which is 1-8 in the first stage and 1-4 at the next stage, the result would be that the rate would come down below what perhaps any of us would consider a revenue tariff, and would bring the tariff down to 15 or 17 per cent. In a very few cases it will be found that we have changed the duties in the direction of an increase, but in every case in which we have increased the duty it will be found that, having regard to the reciprocal tariff rate, the net result will be that the duty on those articles is substantially lower than under the old tariff. In three or four cases, I think, we have adopted specific duties. We have endeavored to resist as far as possible the somewhat general demand of manufacturers that specific duties should be maintained, but there are three or four cases in which it seemed that the convenience of the Customs Department, and generally the difficulties created by the situation, might best be met by specific duties. Those, however, are quite exceptional, and we have in the main adhered to our desire.

The Reciprocal Tariff

Let me draw attention to a change with regard to the reciprocal tariff. In schedule D it will be found that there is a slight change in the wording, but it is of no substantial importance; it is merely a change in the wording which describes the articles accepted. The description of spirits, wines, malt liquors, etc., is changed, but it makes no change in the substance of the schedule. In the enacting clause in relation to the reciprocal tariff, section 16, it will be found that one or two of the words, which are mere surplusage and are repeated, have been omitted.

The Zollverein Treaties.

But we have also introduced into that section a sub-section, in accordance with an intimation given at an earlier stage of discussion, as to doubts that undoubtedly existed in relation to the effect of the foreign treaties. In presenting the budget to the House, I was asked by honorable gentlemen opposite as to the effect of those foreign treaties upon the reciprocity treaty, or reciprocal tariff, and my answer was that it was a matter of doubt—that we were not prepared to admit that these treaties did apply or should apply to Canada, but could not give at that time final judgment in regard to it, but we would be influenced to a considerable degree by the judgment of Her Majesty's Government. We hold to that position to-day. We maintain that those treaties do not apply to Canada, and that our course is entirely consistent with any obligation we might owe as part of the Empire.

A Saving Clause.

Nevertheless, there being a doubt in the matter—not so much in our own minds, perhaps, but we go so far as to say that the thing is not certain—in view of all the discussion that has taken place, we think it is well to provide that if it shall appear ultimately that those treaties are held to apply to Canada we have made provision therefor. We provide by sub-section "B" of section 16 T. as follows:

"That the Governor-in-Council may extend the benefits of such reciprocal tariff to any country which may be entitled thereto by virtue of any treaty with Her Majesty."

the treaties would apply, it would be our duty to recognize them and act on them, but the whole question would have to come up for further consideration.

I now propose an amendment, which may be regarded in some quarters as desirable, to what is commonly called the combine clause, No. 17. We propose, before the Government shall take final action on that clause, that they shall refer to a judge of one of the higher courts the question as to whether or not the combine exists of the character contemplated by the resolution. That is to say, the determination of the question shall not be a political determination, but a judicial determination, and that upon that determination the Government shall then proceed to carry out the intention of the clause.

Mr. Taylor: Another backdown.

The Minister of Marine and Fisheries (Mr. Davies): It is in the right direction.

The Minister of Finance: In our original tariff surgical instruments were placed on the free list. We propose to deal with them as we have dealt already with barbed wire and binder twine, that is to fix the date at which they should come in under the free list at first of January, as in the other cases. In the meantime, surgical instruments will pay the present rate of duty, 15 per cent.

Mining Machinery

In the matter of mining machinery, in our tariff resolutions were included a class of mining machinery exclusively used for mining, and provided that it should be admitted duty free. Under the old tariff there was a clause of somewhat similar character, restricting it to kinds of machinery not made in Canada. We found difficulty in the interpretation of that clause, and we have found there would be difficulty in the interpretation of our new clause, owing to the uncertainty as to what is mining machinery exclusively.

We have had interviews with gentlemen interested in the manufacture of mining machinery and also with many people who use such machinery, and, after very full discussion we determined to place 25 per cent. duty on certain articles of mining machinery, and to specify all the articles which we wished to make free. There are a few items of mining machinery which are made in Canada, and which are well made and satisfactory to mining people, and these classes will still have to pay 25 per cent. Then we place on the free list a large number of items which are desired by the miners.

Mr. Foster: Speaking generally, are these articles manufactured in Canada or not?

The Minister of Finance: I think not; some are, but not many.

Mr. Foster: Differences in the specifications, I suppose.

The Minister of Finance: Largely so. The items we place on the dutiable list are ore crushers and rock crushers, stamp mills, cornish and belted rolls, rock drills, air compressors, cranes, derricks, percussion coal cutters. These are to be dutiable and all the others are on the free list.

Wire for Electrical Purposes

Item 257, covered wire for electrical purposes, has been changed from 25 to 30 per cent. The preferential rate will bring that down to 18 3-4 per cent., which is below the former duty. This is an article made both in the United States and England.

The Glass Schedule.

On the clause 197, plate glass, small sheets not to exceed 25 feet square, we have reduced from 30 to 25 per cent. This will be subject to a further reduction under the preferential rate if brought in from the Old Country. Silvered glass, which we placed at 30 per cent., we have increased to 35 per cent. on the ground that it is the highest class of glass and should pay the highest duty.

Cut nails and spikes, item 248, under the old duty, paid 3-4 per cent. per pound. We have placed them at 30 per cent. We have agreed to make a specific duty, but at half a cent instead of 3-4 of a cent, which was the rate under the former tariff. This rate is subject to a still further reduction by the preferential rate.

Nuts and bolts, 269, the old duty, was 1 cent per pound, and 25 per cent. ad valorem. There is a specific duty of 1 cent per pound and two different ad valorem rates. We had placed these at 35 per cent. This is one of the three or four specific duties we have retained. We propose that the duty shall be 3-4 per cent. and 25 per cent. ad valorem, as against one cent and 20 and 25 per cent. ad valorem.

Wire nails, the old duty was 1 cent per pound; we had placed them on the 35 per cent. list, but we now make them 3-5 of a cent per pound, as against 1 cent per pound, under the old list.

Twine and Cordage

Twine and cordage, item 414, these were reduced to 20 per cent., and we now place them at 25 per cent. Cordage will probably come in from the Old Country, and under the preferential rate the duty will be reduced to 18 3-4 per cent., as against the former duty of 1 1-4 cent per pound and 10 per cent. ad valorem. The former duty was equivalent to 20 or 30 per cent. The present duty will be 25 per cent., subject to the preferential rate or reciprocal rate.

Manufactured Tobacco

In the case of the customs duty on manufactured tobacco we make a change, without, however, increasing or decreasing the duty. In the last resolution the rate on manufactured tobacco was 45 cents per pound and 12 1-2 per cent. ad valorem. We think it better to have a specific duty instead of a compound duty, and we change the duty to a straight specific duty of 50 cents per pound, instead of 45 cents per pound and 12 1-2 per cent. ad valorem. The effect is to make it equivalent, and I think we have done so. The 5 cents per pound added is intended to be equivalent to the ad valorem duty.

In regard to cut tobacco, item 425, we have applied the same rule. The first resolution provided for a duty of 50 cents per pound and 12 1-2 per cent. ad valorem, and we now make it a specific duty of 55 cents per pound straight.

The Coal Duty Held in Reserve

On the coal duties we still reserve the final action, as was formerly stated, but in the wording of our tariff resolutions some new words were inserted which have created some difficulty in regard to coal screenings. We have rewritten the item, but we have not changed the rate. There is no change in the duties on coal or coal screenings for the present.

Roofing slate we have placed at 25 per cent., but there was a limitation in the old tariff that it should not exceed 90 cents per square. We left that out. We are told that in some cases the rate of 25 per cent. would be unreasonably high, and so we have provided that it shall not exceed 75 cents per square.

The duty on grindstones we have reduced from 20 to 15 per cent. Under the old tariff there was a specific duty of $1.75 per ton.

The Minister of Finance: We have somewhat re-arranged the duties on marble and other stones, under items 187, 188 and 189. They will be found to be as follows: There are three classes of duties. Rough stones are dutiable at 15 per cent. Those in the first stage of manufacture, dressed or building stone, and marble, sawn, whether on one side or on both sides, is dutiable at 20 per cent. The finished marble and granite is to be 35 per cent., as in the resolutions brought down. As the granite will come to some extent from the Old Country, this rate will be subject to the cut on British goods. The change is a reduction on the lower forms of marble and granite from 20 per cent. to 15 per cent.

Yarns and Worsteds

Worsted yarns and worsted tops are dealt with in items 375, 376 and 377. We have had some difficulty over these owing to the conflicting interests of the various woollen mills. There are a few woollen mills in Canada which make worsted yarns, and there are a considerable number which do not make them, but which use them in the manufacture of cloth. In the resolutions brought down, the item fixed the duty at 15 per cent. on worsted yarns costing 20 cents per pound and under. This does not express what we had in mind. Instead of "under" it should read "over."

Mr. Foster: That was a clerical error.

The Minister of Finance: We have a few clerical errors, but we have also a few which we confess we do not want to blame the clerks for at all. Like other human beings we have made a few mistakes, and we have the good sense to come here an make them right.

Mr. Henderson: Some of them are very pleasant.

The Minister of Finance: I am glad that some of them are pleasant. Next to pleasing our friends on this side we like to please our friends over the way.

Worsted yarns costing 30 cents per pound and upwards will be dutiable at 20 per cent. That is an encouragement to the woollen mills, which do not spin these yarns. A reduction to 15 per cent., we think, would be perhaps a pretty severe reduction to those who are making these yarns. The rate decided upon will, we think, give them a fair chance to continue the spinning and not make the yarns too expensive for the large number of mills that want to use them in order to make a better quality of cloth.

Worsted Tops

Worsted tops, we propose, shall be dutiable at 15 per cent. when made from wools of a similar character to those grown in Canada; when made from other wools they shall be on the free list. This item has given us considerable trouble, owing to the conflicting interests of the different branches of the woollen trade. I do not suppose we can compliment ourselves on making it wholly satisfactory, but I hope it will be reasonably so to the different interests.

Umbrellas Parasols and Skirts

I have said that we have endeavored to make a number of things cheaper to the manufacturers, rather than to increase the duties on the finished product—giving them cheaper raw materials. In conformity with that view we have provided that the cloths used for the nulls

THE FARMERS CONSIDERED.

"THE Government have thought it advisable to make haste slowly," said the Premier during the last session of Parliament in discussing the fast line project. "When Canada is asked to pay no less a sum than $750,000 a year, we not only have the right but it is our duty to make the best possible bargain we can. That is the reason we have not moved hastily." This was, the Ottawa Free Press submits, in marked contrast with the go-it-blind policy of the Conservatives, who were proposing to squander $750,000 per annum on a passenger line which would have been of no practical benefit to the exporters of Canada, whose interests in a fast line are of far greater moment than the comfort of a few first-class passengers. The "hastening slowly" policy has procured Canada all that is needed in the way of a fast, and first-class line at an annual cost of $250,000 less than the expenditure proposed by the Conservatives. Messrs. Petersen, Tait & Co., Sir Richard Cartwright has announced, are going to provide a line of somewhat more than a twenty knots speed per hour, and Canada will pay for this $500,000. The new arrangement is trebly advantageous. It saves money, it will be of a nature beneficial to the farmers, which the one as proposed by the late Government would not have been, and is above the required standard of speed. Things under Liberal rule seem to be coming our way.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THERE will be no announcement of "Honours" conferred throughout the Empire on the occasion of the Queen's Birthday, this year. The announcements as to such distinctions will be made in connection with Her Majesty's Diamond Jubilee next month.

THE Conservative newspapers should, while they are declaring that the Ontario general elections are to be brought on at once, announce the exact date, and put the public out of suspense. It's surprising what some newspapers don't know.

GIVE THE COUNTRY JUSTICE.

There is a growing demand for a better cable news service between Great Britain and Canada. Most of the news coming to the Dominion finds its way through New York channels, and in consequence is often distorted to suit the supposed views of the readers of the New York papers, and still more often matters of keen interest to Canadians are dismissed in a line. In Great Britain it is almost impossible to keep posted on Canadian affairs. The daily telegraphic news sent from Canada, though it has improved of late, is still wofully deficient. English newspaper people have never given that consideration to Canada and Canadian affairs that they ought, and they are only just beginning to realize that Canada is of much greater importance to the British Empire than they imagine. Many things are conspiring to create a community of sentiment and of interest in Englishmen and Canadians, and it is, therefore, absolutely necessary to put this matter of news gathering and news disseminating in the two countries on a more satisfactory basis.

A DIAMOND JUBILEE BOOK.

Messrs. G. M. Rose & Sons, publishers, 25 Wellington street west, Toronto, have in press for immediate issue a volume entitled "Victoria, Sixty Years a Queen; A Sketch of Her Life and Times," by Richard T. Lancefield, Librarian Public Library, Hamilton, and author of "Notes on Copyright," etc. The Hon. G. W. Ross, LL.D., Minister of Education for Ontario, contributes a lengthy and interesting introduction. The book will make a handsome volume of over 500 pages, profusely illustrated with over 150 illustrations (many of them being full-page scenes and photographs of celebrities), and will be artistically bound in handsome, gold-embossed cloth case. The table of contents includes twenty chapters, giving a comprehensive sketch of the Victorian era. Early chapters record the birth of the Princess Victoria, her proclamation as Queen, her coronation, her bethrothal and marriage, the home life of the Royal family, the Queen's attention to public business and the marriages of the Royal children. Other chapters deal with the momentuous political events of the reign, with sketches of the Queen's Prime Ministers. Two chapters are devoted to Britain and her colonies—Canada, Australasia, Africa, etc. Incidentally, Imperial Federation is fully disscussed. The foreign wars also receive considerable space—the Afghanistan Campaigns, the Crimean War, the Egyptian Campaigns, etc. The horrors of war, the claims of Peace Societies, and the all-important question of arbitration are discussed. The great Jubilee celebra- of 1887 is described. The important events of the ten years following the Jubilee are commented upon. The closing chapters give a general survey of the Victorian era. The chapter on the relations of Canada and the United States, and the attitude of the United States Government and Senate on the Venezuelan arbitration question, is both timely and interesting. An analytical index adds great value to the book. A list of authorities consulted, giving the price and publisher of the various books, is a unique feature, which will be much appreciated by many readers. The book is to be sold exclusively by subscription, and agents should make early application for sample. It has already been largely subscribed for. It will no doubt be one of the successes of the season.

HUSTLING HAVELOCK.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Council met on Tuesday evening. There were present the Reeve and Councillors Chapman and Code. The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted.

On motion of Mr. Chapman seconded by Mr. Code the petition of E. Irwin and fourteen others asking for the hill opposite Geo. Bebby's be cut down was laid over for further consideration.

An account of $2.25 board account for tramps was ordered to be paid to Mr. Flynn.

It was moved by Mr. Code and seconded by Mr. Chapman that the telephone company be notified to erect straight poles in the village and straighten up those that are now in a dangerous condition.

A by-law appointing a pound keeper passed its several readings.

One hundred dog tags were ordered to be purchased and delivered to the constable to be disposed of to the owners of dogs.

It was decided that the Court of Revision be held on June 7th and the council adjourned to meet on that day as a Court of Revision.

A STRANGE ATTACK.

A YOUNG LADY PROSTRATED FOR SEVERAL MONTHS.

Suffered Greatly From Pains in the Head and Along the Spine—Added to These a Constant Dizziness Made Life Miserable.

From the Patriot, Charlottetown.

Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Blackmore are well-known residents of Hamilton, P.E.I., and both are very warm in their praise of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, as they believe this medicine saved the life of their daughter after other means had failed. Mr. Blackmore gave the facts as follows: "Early last summer my daughter Rachael began to complain of severe pains in her head and down her spine. These would last for several days, causing great agony and would then relax for a week or so. They were often accompanied by fits of vomiting and dizziness. These alarming symptoms were no sooner noticed than I procured medical aid, but the case was so peculiar as to baffle doctor's skill. The pains which at first were severe had become almost unbearable, and the dizziness was so constant that if she attempted to cross the room unaided she would fall prostrate on the floor. Her appetite had forsaken her entirely and even if it had not, her stomach was in such a disordered condition that it would not retain any food. The only nourishment she took for two months was a little beef tea and a small quantity of lactated food. I had heard of the cures effected by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and resolved as a last resource to give them a trial, and we were very grateful to find that almost from the outset they helped her. She kept on using Pink Pills for three months and her recovery was very rapid, so rapid indeed that at the end of that period she was able to engage in light housework and to walk a mile or two at a time. Never in her life did she enjoy better health than at present, and I am ever thankful to the discoverer of this most effective medicine, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills create new blood, build up the nerves, and thus drive disease from the system. In hundreds of cases they have cured after all other medicines had failed, thus establishing the claim that they are a marvel among the triumphs of modern medical science. The genuine Pink Pills are sold only in boxes, bearing the full trade mark, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People." Protect yourself from imposition by refusing any pill that does not bear the registered trade mark around the box.

Husband is Well.

Mrs. Wm. Hambly, Belleville, Ont., says: "My husband was troubled with kidney complaint, rheumatism, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, etc., and could not get relief until I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills for him. He has now used four boxes in all and is perfectly cured."

A TORONTO LADY TELLS ABOUT THE PROPER TREATMENT.

Mrs. Jas. Astleford, 228 Robert Street, Toronto, says:—"When I began taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills a short time ago I was so excessively nervous that I was almost afraid of my shadow. Such things as the closing of a door or unexpectedly meeting any person would make me jump and completly upset me.

"I felt fatigued and worn out nearly all the time. My heart would palpitate violently, and my physical strength was at a low ebb. These pills have strengthened my nerves, restored healthy action of the heart and removed all the troubles from which I suffered so severly.

"I have been invigorated and built up in a remarkable manner by their use. You have no idea what a comfort it is to have regular healthy action of the heart when one has experienced the torture of heart trouble.

"I can only say that Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are a magnificent medicine, for they proved so in my case."

MUNYON'S COLD CURE

Colds lead to coughs, coughs to pneumonia and consumption; therefore, it is all important to check a cold before it reaches the lungs. Munyon's Cold Cure will positively break a cold inside of twenty-four hours if taken as soon as the cold manifests itself. When the cold reaches the lungs or bronchial tubes the Cough Cure should be used alternately every half hour with the Cold Cure. The Cold Cure is guaranteed to prevent pneumonia if used in the beginning of a cold. Pneumonia, or inflammation of the lungs, can be controlled by the use of these two cures.

The Cough Cure positively cures bronchitis, tickling in the throat, hoarseness, loss of voice, soreness of the chest, difficulty in breathing, hacking cough and all pulmonary diseases where the lungs are not too far consumed by disease or covered with tubercles.

A separate cure for each disease. At all druggists, mostly 25 cents a vial.

Personal letters to Prof. Munyon, 11 and 13 Albert street, Toronto, answered with free medical advice for any disease.

TARIFF AMENDMENT.

ing of umbrellas, parasols, necktties, and so forth, and to be cut into shape for such purposes in bond, shall be dutiable at 20 per cent. We make a similar proposal in regard to the shirt trade. We propose that cotton fabrics, fronting linens, interlinings and flannel shirtings, when imported for use by the manufacturers and to be cut into shape for such purposes in bond under proper regulations, shall be dutiable at 15 per cent. This is a concession to the manufacturers of shirts, collars, cuffs, blouses, shirt waists and things of that sort.

In item 24 we reduce the duty on soap powders and pearline from 35 to 30 per cent.

Books

On the item of books, it will be remembered that the old duty was a specific duty of six cents a pound. In some cases that seemed to bear harshly, and we changed it to an ad valorem duty of 20 per cent. I do not think that, applied generally, that is a high rate, but on a certain good class of books it did bear heavily, and we thought we might reconsider it. The conclusion we have reached is to place paper-covered and unbound books, those of a very cheap character, and not as a rule the best kind of literature, at 20 per cent. These we say shall not include Christmas annuals, juvenile books, and toy books, which are cheap and which come in in large quantities in the Christmas season. These will come in at the lower rate. On novels and books of similar character, the rate will be 20 per cent., and on books other than these the rate will be 10 per cent.

Books for Colleges

We propose that the concession hitherto given to colleges and universities with regard to the free admission of books, not printed in Canada, which are on the curricula of the universities, for the use of the students, shall continue with the omission of the words, "for the use of students." Practically very few of these books are used by others than students and for the little revenue obtained we think it is not worth while to retain this distinction.

Mr. Foster: It is practically no difference.

For Public Libraries

The Minister of Finance: Not very much. Then, we have enlarged the scope of the item with reference to libraries, in which we thought there were certain libraries not included. While keeping in view the intention of the old tariff in that respect we make the item read: "Books specially imported for the bona fide use of incorporated mechanics' institutes, public libraries, libraries of universities, colleges and schools, or for the library of any incorporated medical, law, literary, scientific or art association or society, and being the property of the organized authorities of such library, and not in any case the property of individuals, the whole under regulations to be made by the Controller of Customs. We put in a proviso, which we think will convenience the book trade of the country. It is said that every bookstore is a centre of education, and we do not wish to do anything to inconvenience the book trade.

They have heretofore not been able to sell books as freely as perhaps they should have sold them to the universities, in consequence of the privilege being granted to the universities and not to the book trade. We propose in the case of the libraries, where the privilege is allowed the bookseller of importing the books and paying the duty in the usual way, on proper evidence being furnished that he has sold them to a library that might have imported them free, he would be entitled to a refund of the duty. He will thus be enabled to continue to do business with the library. I think the change is one which will be of great advantage to the book trade.

Mechanical Books Free

Then we propose to put on the free list for everybody books such as would be used by young men interested in the study of mechanical arts, viz.: Books on the application of science to industries of all kinds, including books on agriculture, horticulture, forestry, fish and fishing, mining, metallurgy, architecture, electric and other engineering, carpentry, ship-building, mechanism, dyeing, bleaching, tanning, weaving and other mechanical arts, and similar industrial books; also books printed in any language other than the English and French languages, or in any two languages not being English and French, or in any three or more languages, and Bibles, prayer books, psalm and hymn books and religious tracts.

A part of this item is based upon the old tariff, but that portion which places books upon the free list upon their application to science and to industry, is a new item, and I think the House on both sides will regard it as a worthy consideration.

Books for Benevolent Associations

We also include the item which was in the old tariff, putting on the free list books printed by or for any Government or by any association for the promotion of science, or letters and official annual reports of religious or benevolent associations, and issued in the course of the proceedings of the said associations to their members and not for the purpose of sale or trade.

Concession to Musicians

Printed music under the old tariff bore a specific duty of 10 cents per pound. Under our first resolutions we changed this to 20 per cent. We found that this bore severely upon some good music, and we are going to reduce it to 10 per cent.

Stereotypes, electrotypes, etc., item 292 of the present tariff, the former duty was 2 cents per square inch; we reduce this to 1 1-2 cents per square inch. In another case where the duty was 3-8 cent per square inch we make it 1-4 cent per square inch.

Bicycle Tubing

Steel tubes for bicycles, formerly 15 per cent., are now 10 per cent.

Pig lead, formerly 20 per cent., is reduced to 7½ per cent.; as it comes from England there will be a further reduction under the preferential clause.

Buck thorne and strip fencing, formerly 25 per cent., we reduce to 20 per cent.

Wire

The Rein of wire we have divided into several items. Brass wires are made dutiable at 10 per cent., copper wire 15 per cent., other wire of iron or steel is 20 per cent.

Spring Steel Free

We have placed spring steel, spiral spring steel, spiral springs for railways, steel billets and steel axle bars for the manufacture of carriage springs and axles, on the free list.

Steel for toolmakers is reduced from 15 per cent. to 5 per cent.

Scrap Iron Further Down

Scrap iron under the old tariff was $4 per ton. Under our first resolutions we made it $1.50 per ton; it is now made $1 per ton; steel ingots, blooms, slabs, billets, puddled bars, etc., under the old tariff, were $5 per ton; under our first resolution $4 per ton, now reduced to $2 per ton. These are articles used largely by manufacturers, and as we are dealing more generously with the producers of these goods under the bounty, we think the reduction is one that can fairly be made.

Structural Iron

Structural iron is reduced from 15 to 10 per cent.

Bridge plates for steel plate manufacturers under item 223 are reduced from 15 to 10 per cent. ad valorem. Rolled iron or steel plates used by boiler-makers are reduced from 15 to 10 per cent. ad valorem.

Veneers of wood, are reduced from 10 per cent. to 7 1-2 per cent.

Glycerine for the manufacture of explosives, formerly 20 per cent., is reduced to 10 per cent.

Sir Charles Tupper: "Have you increased the bounty on iron?"

The Minister of Finance: For the present we do not propose any change concerning them. Those resolutions propose an increase in the bounty.

Sir Charles Tupper: But you are reducing the duty on the iron still further, and I want to know if you are increasing the bounty further at the same time.

The Copyright Law Untouched

In regard to the item of books, we inserted in the list of prohibited books, reprints of British copyrights, that brings up the somewhat difficult question of the copyright law. The item was put there, not so much as the declaration of the policy of the Government, as a statement of what was regarded by many as the existing law. But we have deemed it better to leave the copyright matter as we found it, and the schedule of prohibited goods in this respect, as at present. Therefore, unless these reprints of British copyrights are copyrighted in Canada, we do not propose that they should be prohibited. The item will be changed accordingly.

I now place these resolutions on the table.

HOUSE IN COMMITTEE.

The Amended Resolutions Taken Up After Recess and Discussed

The House then went into Committee of Supply, and when the Chairman came to the clause respecting preferential trade, Sir Charles Tupper spoke at some length on the question, and then moved the following amendment:

That in the opinion of this House the reduction by 25 per cent. of the duties upon all imports except wine, malt liquors, spirits, spirituous liquors, liquid medicines and articles containing alcohol, sugar, molasses and syrups of all kinds, the product of the sugar cane or beet root; tobacco, cigars and cigarets, in favor of any country whose tariff is or may be made on the whole as low as that of schedule D, is calculated to imperil the industrial interests of Canada, and is in principle opposed to preferential trade of any kind with the Mother Country.

That on several occasions the Government and Parliament of Canada have requested Her Majesty to be pleased to take such steps as might be necessary to terminate the effect of provisions of all treaties which prevent the Parliaments of the United Kingdom and the self-governing colonies adopting such tariffs as may be required for the promotion of trade within the Empire, but no decisive action has been taken in this direction.

That the desire for preferential trade with the United Kingdom is now general throughout Canada.

That this House is of opinion that the Government of Canada should cause Her Majesty's Government to be advised that so soon as the difficulties in the way are removed, the Parliament of Canada is ready to enter into a preferential trade arrangement with Great Britain and Ireland.

That this House cannot consent that any arrangement made by the Government of Canada with any country involving serious considerations of tariff and revenue should become operative without the sanction and ratification of Parliament."

Mr. Davies' Argument.

Mr. Davies replied to the speech of Sir Charles Tupper. He said that the leader of the Opposition had always been willing to discuss the question of preferential trade in an academic way, but the moment it was presented in a concrete and practical form he turned his back on the child, and abused the author and the proposition itself. The Minister denied that the suggested amendment to the reciprocal clause altered the proposition as tabled. The extravagant language which Sir Charles Tupper had used was unworthy of the character of the question, and should not have been used. Sir Charles, in declaring that the resolution as originally presented was illegal, stood alone. The London Times and Sir Charles Kennedy's lecture on international law at Bristol University were cited by Mr. Davies as authorities opposed to the view of the leader of the Opposition. The Minister addressed himself to the consideration of these questions: (1) Do the German and Belgian treaties in the absence of Imperial or Canadian legislation giving them effect, apply? (2) If they do apply, do the tariff resolutions as formulated conflict with the terms of these treaties? He admitted the right of the Imperial Government to make treaties affecting the colonies, but he said that the moment the Crown made a treaty affecting the fiscal independence of an autonomous colony, it could not be brought into legal effect until Parliament brought it into effect. The claim of the Dominion to customs autonomy had been acknowledged by the Duke of Newcastle on behalf of the Imperial Government over thirty years ago. The constitutional acts of the Australian colonies prohibited the imposition of differential duties or duties which were at variance with Imperial treaties. Neither of these disabilities applied to Canada. In the fact of our customs autonomy, in the absence of such restrictions as existed under the Australian constitutional acts, in view of the limitation of the treaty-making power of the Crown, and in the absence of Canadian or Imperial legislation giving effect to these treaties, they do not apply to Canada. If it were held that the treaties did apply, he argued that the resolution did not conflict with their terms. No preferential duty was imposed in favor of any one country, or withheld from another country. All countries were placed by the resolution on the same footing. Belgium and Germany might avail themselves of the benefits of the treaty to-morrow if they chose to do so. The benefits of the resolution depended upon the voluntary action of any foreign nation that desired to take advantage of it. If these treaties applied they must be denounced, because they were made without our knowledge, and imposed a dangerous limitation to our constitutional powers of raising a revenue. Concessions to Germany in view of their hostile tariff were inexpedient in the extreme. The trade returns showed results of trade between Canada and Germany achieved under an onerous tariff imposed by Germany on Canadian goods.

Mr. Borden moved that the committee rise.

The House adjourned at 11.15.

Sour

Stomach, sometimes called waterbrash, and burning pain, distress, nausea, dyspepsia, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This it accomplishes because with its wonderful power as a blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla gently tones and strengthens the stomach and digestive organs, invigorates the liver, creates an appetite, gives refreshing sleep, and raises the health tone. In cases of dyspepsia and indigestion it seems to have "a magic touch."

"For over 12 years I suffered from sour

with severe pains across my shoulders, and great distress. I had violent nausea which would leave me very weak and faint, difficult to get my breath. These spells came oftener and more severe. I did not receive any lasting benefit from physicians, but found such happy effects from a trial of Hood's Sarsaparilla, that I took several bottles and mean to always keep it in the house. I am now able to do all my own work, which for six years I have been unable to do. My husband and son have also been greatly benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla—for pains in the back, and after the grip. I gladly recommend this grand blood medicine." MRS. CENTRAL EXHIBITION.

Preparations for the Fall Show—Prize Lists now in the Printers' Hands.

On Saturday the directors of the Peterborough Central Exhibition held a conference to consider arrangements for the fall exhibition. The prize list was revised and several additions made. It is expected that, now being in the printers' hands, it will be available for public use in a few weeks. Last night there was another meeting held, and a committee was appointed to procure advertisements for the prize list, so that merchants may expect a call from this committee. It is expected that the special attractions will be larger and better than ever this year. The energetic secretary is in correspondence in several quarters with this end in view.

Messrs. Stothart, Winch, Davidson and Hunter were appointed a committee to wait upon the county council and solicit a grant to the funds of the Exhibition.

Messrs. Fitzgerald, Winch Davidson and Vance were appointed a hotel committee, and yesterday waited upon the hotelkeepers, and the usual grants were given, with two or three exceptions, these exceptions being quite willing to profit by the attendance of the large number of people the Exhibition brings to Peterborough, but unwilling to substantially assist the enterprise.

A MONSTER OF THE DEEP.

Captured by Mr. D. W. Dumble on the Queen's Birthday at Stony Lake.

Mr. D. W. Dumble and his sons spent the 24th back at their Stony Lake cottage, and whilst in Gilchrist's Bay effected the capture of a monster of the deep of the most curious aspect.

The body of the fish is about five feet long, with a tail attached which is fully thirteen feet in length but very small in circumference and tapering like an eel's. The mouth is a huge affair which could conveniently take in the head of a bather, and the eyes and ears are something too horrible to describe. The colour of the fish is also beyond description seeming to have absorbed a tint from every cottage on the Lake. It weighs about seventy-five pounds.

When captured it was found impossible to get it into the canoe and so it was towed to the island where it is now chained to a rock, upon which it sits on four short legs grinning an awful defiance to would-be trespassers, and flourishing its great tail in the air.

NEWS NUGGETS.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

—Court of Revision to-morrow night.

—The druggists have decided to close at seven o'clock in the evenings after the first of June.

—The drug stores will close at seven o'clock, in the evening, commencing on Tuesday evening.

—Another tagless dog being discovered resulted in its owner being fined $2 and $2.60 costs this morning.

—Easy to leave off coffee if Cereal, the food drink, is used in its place. Looks exactly like fine Mocha coffee when brewed.

—Patrick Murphy for fighting on the street was fined $10 this morning. Thomas Courcey on the same count was discharged.

—Nelson Smith, for being disorderly in the Arcade on Sunday was discharged with a warning by the magistrate this morning. The habit of creating a disturbance in this place must be discontinued.

—A few days ago Master Willie Garbutt, son of Mr. R. Garbutt, Smith, aged eight years, made quite a trip. He assisted his father to drive a drove of cattle, leaving about 8 o'clock, and walked fifteen miles before dinner.

—Boarding house keepers say that prices will have to be raised if boarders insist on having Cereal instead of tea and coffee. There is such a wonderful improvement in the appetite and general health when using Madden cereal that there is no money at present prices. Grocers all have it.

WHO HAS THE BOOK?

To the Fortnightly Club:

GENTLEMEN,—May I enquire if any member of the Club has in his library a book—"English Culture." In reading another I found it mentioned. It contains, according to description, anecdotes of Von Ranke, Heine, George Sand, Scenes from Duchesse de Broglie's Salon, Sketches of Guisot, etc. If any gentleman recognizes the book by this, and will kindly loan it, intimating the same through this paper, I shall be very glad to send my name to him.

Also, will some member or members, comment upon the following paragraph which interests me:

"'Unbelief,' says the orthodox preacher, 'is sin and implies it,' and while he speaks the saint in the unbeliever gently smiles down his argument, and suddenly in the rebel of yesterday men see the rightful heir of to-morrow."

Looking with interest for a reply.

Yours,
FORTNIGHTLY.

A Diamond Jubilee Hymn.

The EXAMINER has received a copy of the "Diamond Jubilee Hymn of Canada," composed, words and music, by Mr. Jules Norman, Montreal. This is another of Mr. Norman's timely contributions to the music of the Jubilee year. The composition in question has strong, stirring patriotic words, set to stately and simple, yet ringing, robust music, with a splendid refrain. The song is printed in both English and French, and can be obtained for the small remittance of ten cents from Jules Norman, 1238 St. Catherine street, Montreal.

Is Your Pump in Working Order?

When a pump does not work steadily, smoothly, and without undue effort on the part of the operator, it is either poorly constructed or in urgent need of repair. We make a specialty of repairing and can usually tell you what the cost will be before the job is started, so you can decide whether it is most profitable to get the work done or invest in a new one. A unique feature of the kind we build is that the stroke can be adjusted so as to make the labour commensurate with the strength of the person using it. Pumps, however, are not the only things we make; for instance, another of our lines is washing machines. Our latest, the "Challenge," is, by all odds, the best on the market. They are cheap, too. A post card will bring you full particulars.—G. WALTER GREEN, P. O. box 261; Telephone, 92.

GRAND TRUNK EMPLOYEE BADLY INJURED.

It is Feared That Mr. Richard Foster was Internally Injured Yesterday at the Freight Sheds.

Mr. Dick Foster, the popular yard master at the Grand Trunk station, met with a very severe accident yesterday afternoon, the results attending which are awaited with grave fears by his many friends.

He was engaged in assisting one of the freight shed men in unloading a couple of cases of galvanized iron sheeting from a car. The case was placed on a truck and both men were carefully allowing it to com. wn a board to the platform, when the truck gained more momentum than was expected and before it could be turned the handle caught Mr. Foster in the ribs and jammed him back against the shed. He fell immediately and the case of iron fell across his leg.

The men were almost afraid to pick him up fearing that the blow in the ribs had killed him. After water had been thrown on him, however, he recovered consciousness and was able to be removed to his home. One of the ribs is broken and it is feared that internal injuries have been received.

"Dick" is one of the most popular G.T.R. employees in the entire Division, and news of the accident will be received with regret by any who have ever come in contact with him.

THE Y. M. C. A. GYMNASIUM FUND CONTEST.

The Blues and Victory.

Yesterday a fair days' work was done in the contest, but of course the Blues still lead by 16 points.

Everything was decked with blue at the Blue Concert last evening, except the platform carpet and the chairman's coat.

It is said that even the Red organ shows signs of weakening in their support of the Reds—Blue of course is their original colour.

After June 4th the Reds will have the privilege of seeking a few days' rest in the rural districts—the scene of their former associations.

All who are in sympathy with the Blues, both ladies and gentlemen, are requested to leave their bicycles at the new building on Friday afternoon, to be trimmed for the Bicycle Parade on that evening.

Captain Kennedy on behalf of the Blues wishes to thank all who assisted in the programme last night.

THE BLUE'S GREAT MEETING.

Last night's entertainment must be very cheering to the Blue leaders and their supporters.

The Y.M.C.A. hall was packed to its utmost capacity, as well as the gallery, with an enthusiastic audience, almost unanimous for the Blues.

The hall was well decorated with Blue flags and bunting and Rev. Mr. Potter of the Reds occupied the chair. His discharge of the duties of the peculiar position he occupied was very gratifying. The programme took the form of a patriotic evening. Three excellent addresses were given which were largely tinged with humor, Rev. Rae upheld the Irishman. Mr. B. Anderson spoke for Canada and Mr. McCallum blew the horn for Scotland. A quartette composed of Messrs. Maybee and Skitch, and Misses Hall and Stevens sang the Maple Leaf.

Miss Marks added a well rendered English recitation as did Mr. T. S. Cole, the travelling secretary. The latter also gave a short address. Miss Hall and Miss Weddel sang appropriate solo's and were well received. Miss Belleghem sang "Annie Laurie" in an admirable manner Evy Hall of the Blues gave a whistle solo. Mr. Geo. Zegar was warmly applauded. The meeting closed with addresses by the two Kennedy's, the one for the Blues and the other for the Reds.

TARIFF AMENDMENT.

The tariff statement made in the House of Commons yesterday by Finance Minister Fielding is of interest to the country at large, and of special interest to several Peterborough industries. In the matter of mining machinery, important changes have been made, which will be doubtless of no inconsiderable advantage to the William Hamilton Manufacturing Company, which is especially equipped for the production of machinery of this class. The uncertainty as to what mining machinery was to be admitted free under the first draft of the tariff is removed, and the machinery exempted is specified. At the same time a duty of 25 per cent is placed on ore crushers, rock crushers, cornish and belted rock drills, air compressers, cranes, derricks, stamp mills, etc., and a large number of items desired by miners are placed upon the free list, so that the mining industry is encouraged, while, at the same time, the manufacturers of mining machinery are placed in a much better position. In the matter of the bridge industry, the makers of bridges get an increase of 5 per cent. on the finished product, and a reduction of 5 per cent. on the cost of the bridge plates, which are their raw material. This will it seems be a considerable advantage and should enable any well managed and economically conducted establishment to carry on business to advantage. The partial rearrangement of the iron an steel schedule results in considerable reduction in the cost of the raw material, which should be of advantage to the Electric Works, and also to the Lock Works and industries into which the use of these materials largely enter. Though no manufacturing industry may have got all the advantages it would like to get, yet the aim of the government in its arrangement and rearrangement of the tariff, has been to afford all reasonable concessions to the requests of manufacturers, that could be given consistent with the interests of the people as a whole. The government is working for the country at large and special interests must necessarily surrender something of the special consideration they have recived in the past, to permit such a policy being carried out.

EXCURSION TO PETERBOROUGH.

Several Thousand of Hamilton's Citizens May Come on July 20th.

Assistant General Passenger Agent McPherson, of the C.P.R. was in town yesterday, and during the evening met a number of the members of the Board of Trade, upon whom he urged the advisability of making an effort to induce the Retail Grocers Association, of Hamilton, running their annual excursion to Peterborough this year.

Mr. McPherson stated at the meeting that last year about 2,700 people excurted with the Association in question, and he saw no reason why an equal number should not patronize the excursion if it came to Peterborough. The C.P.R. was most favourably disposed towards the Board on account of the satisfactory manner in which the Trent Valley Canal excursion to Ottawa had been managed, and if the secretary was authorized to write to Hamilton about the matter a sufficiently low rate would be held out to draw the excursion this way.

The members of the Board who were present expressed themselves favourably towards the idea, and in all probability on July 20th, Peterborough will have the pleasure of entertaining several thousand of Hamilton's citizens. The famous 13th Battalion Band will accompany the excursionists, and in the evening a grand band concert will be given.

While in town Mr. McPherson conferred with Lt. Col. Bell in regard to transporting the Battalion to Montreal on June 22nd.

DAUGHTERS OF ENGLAND.

The Next Annual Meeting will be Held in St. Thomas.

The concluding session of the meeting of the Grand Lodge of the Daughters and Maids of England, was concluded yesterday afternoon, in the S. O. E., Hunter street.

Changes in the constitution were made whereby members will be initiated for the remainder of the year at charter rates and also allowing daughters of English women as well as of English men to become members.

Messrs. J. S. Dodson and Thomas Vaughn were respectively appointed District Deputies for Nova Scotia and Quebec.

The next annual meeting will be held in St. Thomas on May 24th and succeeding days.

The Life of Dr. Chase.

As a compiler of Chase's Receipt Book, his name is familiar in every household in the land, while as a physician his works on simple formulas left an imprint of his name that will be handed down from generation to generation. His last great medicine, in the form of his Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, is having the large public patronage that his Ointment, Pills and Catarrh Cure are having. Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is especially adapted for all Bronchial and Asthmatic troubles.

No Man Need be Bald

Or rather appear so. When the hair departs a natural and durable substitute is one of Prof. Dorenwends featherweight toupees or wigs. It is a pleasure and a comfort to wear one besides it improves the personal appearance wonderfully. He will be in Peterborough at the Huffman House, on Thursday, May 27th, where he will be pleased to demonstrate those facts to all interested.

It is only necessary to see these goods to appreciate the bargains in them. All other lines of furniture equally good value. CLEGG'S Furniture Warerooms, 425 and 427 George street.

RURAL DEANERY.

A Number of Deeply Interesting Papers Read Yesterday.

The first paper read at the meeting of the Rural Deanery up Northumberland, yesterday, in St. John's church was a ten minute one by Rev. Geo. Warren, of Lakefield, on the subject of "The Responsibility of vows made by the priests at Ordination." The paper was a very earnest one and evoked considerable discussion.

Rev. W. E. Cooper, of Campbellford, was unable to be present and his paper was read by the secretary. It was on Dr. Salmon's book "The Immortality of the Soul" and the christian teaching on that subject. The essay was a short one but contained a brief review of the book and indicated several of the salient points mentioned by Dr. Salmon. A good deal of discussion followed in the midst of which a pleasing interruption occurred when the clergy were summoned to a luncheon which had been prepared by the ladies.

After luncheon the election of a Rural Dean was proceeded with resulting in the unanimous choice of Rev. Geo. Webb, of Colborne. Mr. Webbs nomination will be submitted by the Deanery to the Bishop to be confirmed, when his appointment to the office will take place.

Rev. H. Symonds then read a deeply interesting paper on the interpretation of the Scriptures, after which the discussion of a number of minor matters took place, including the proposal to establish a library in connection with the Rural Deanery. The idea was submitted to a committee for the purpose of enlargment into a library for the Archdeanery. If the plan is consummated it will be located at some central point—possibly Peterborough—where the clergy will have an opportunity of taking advantage of it.

The next meeting of the Deanery will be held on Aug. 2nd, at Headlands, Mr. Tait's pleasant summer home at Stony Lake.

A Permanent Cure.

Many a happy comfortable home is wrecked and many a robust man is broken in health by drink. Mothers, wives, sisters you can win back the loving ones to health and make your homes happy and comfortable. Others have done it, so can you. ANTI-BOOZE is a tried and true remedy for the liquor habit. It is in pill form and can be given without the patients knowledge with his food and drink. ANTI-BOOZE sells at $1.00 a box. It will be forwarded, prepaid, sealed and in plain wrapper by remitting the amount to Oriental Chemical Co., 20 St. Alexis street, Montreal.

A Timely Work.

The Canadian Literary Bureau, Hamilton, has issued a brochure which discusses the present-time prominent subject of "License Prohibition and the Plebiscite." The pamphlet, according to the sub-title, discusses "Prohibition as now advocated and license as it now exists, compared with the origin of license first instigated by the Evil One, and prohibition and license compared with that existing under Mahommedan and Chaldean rule and that of the apostacy." The pamphlet is written by Charles White and published by the Canadian Literary Bureau, Hamilton. Price 25 cents.

BATTALION NOTES.

The Orders Issued Last Evening—The Jubilee Trip.

The 57th Battalion paraded last evening, when the following orders were issued :—

HEADQUARTERS,
Peterborough, May 25th, 1897.

Orders by Lt.-Col. R. W. Bell, commanding the 57th Battalion of Infantry, Peterborough Rangers :

No. 1—Officer for the week, Capt. Hayes; next on duty, Capt Clegg.
Bugler for the week, Bugler Gross; next for duty, Bugler Galley.
The guard will be furnished by D Company.
C Company in waiting.
No 2—The Battalion will parade for drill on Friday, 28th inst., at 8 p.m.
No. 3—The Commanding Officer has been pleased to make the following promotion :
To be Sgt.: Corp. Wand.

By order,
H. A. MORROW,
Adjt. and Capt.

During the evening, Asst.-General Passenger Agent McPherson of the C. P. R., called on the officers, and an informal discussion was held relative to the Jubilee Day trip of the Battalion to Montreal.

Considerable dissatisfaction exists between the officers and the railway authorities in regard to the rates charged by the latter, which are 50 per cent. higher than would be charged a company coming from Montreal to Peterborough. It is hoped, however, that the matter will be more equably adjusted.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

Wheeling and Other Items of Local and General Interest.

FOOTBALL.

A meeting was held on Saturday for the purpose of re organizing the Mathers Corners Football team. The following officers were elected :
Hon. President—W. T. Mather.
President—G. Howson.
1st Vice-President—W. Howson.
2nd Vice President—A. Drummond.
Sec.-Treas.—J. F. Comrie.
Captain—A. Welsh.
Cutator—W. J. Mather.
Committee—W. Drummond, F. Quinn, E. Wood.

THE WHEEL.

The Victoria Bicycle club will take its first run of the season at 7.30 to-night, starting from the corner of Hunter and Water streets.

Waterloo wheelmen have already begun work on their six mile cycle path, which will connect the towns of Waterloo, Bridgeport and Berlin. These places are situated at the three points of a triangle, and are about two miles apart.

Brantford Expositor : "We believe the proposal now before the city council to impose a tax on bicyclists and expend the fund thus derived in the construction of cinder paths, or in otherwise improving the streets of the city, is a step in the right direction. Certainly the whole bicycle question is one that should not be allowed to drift any longer, and for which a permanent settlement should be speedily sought.

An embarrassing complication has arisen between the police and the lady bicyclists of Lindsay. We all know that the adult ladies who ride wheels as a rule wear short skirts and a youthful appearance. So when the curfew bell rings, the policeman can't tell who's who; they can't just distinguish in the gloaming between the youngster and the girl who is out for a constitutional on her wheel. It is dreadful embarrassing for a gallant police constable to say, "Come, run along home now, girls," and find that he has been addressing a bevy of jaunty maidens in abbreviated skirts.

MEMORIAL TO BARBARA HECK.

If Methodism Sanctioned Saints She Would be the First Female Canonized.

The name of Barbara Heck is one dear to the heart of all Methodists, and it is fitting that the scheme in aid of the construction of a residence for the women students of Victoria College should bear the name of the good old pioneer woman missionary of that denomination. It has already been announced in these columns that the late Mr. H. A. Massey bequeathed the handsome sum of $50,000 to the Barbara Heck Memorial Association as soon as a suitable site has been secured for the edifice which, as stated, will serve as a residence for the students of the female sex at the University. But it will not do this alone. It will at the same time be a lasting memorial to Mrs. Heck and also a college celebration of the Queen's Jubilee. The necessity for such a residence is self-evident. It will not alone advance the individual comfort of the students, but greatly promote their collective interests. An appeal is now made to the members of the Methodist church to aid in bringing this laudable project to a successful issue, and machinery put in motion for the purpose of doing so. The appeal ought to be liberally responded to, and we have no doubt that those who are enthusiastically and industriously working for the cause will find their work of love an easy task. Peterborough, where Methodism is so popular and powerful, must stand, if not at the head of the list, at least close to it.

What Art and Science Can Do.

Prof. Dorenwend announces a visit to Peterborough at the House Thursday, May 27th, with his famous art hair goods. His statement that over 30,000 gentlemen wear his toupees, 20,000 his wigs, and 50,000 ladies his hair coverings, bangs, etc., will open the eyes of our readers as to the immense business his company must do, and is a proof of the excellence of his goods, and now that there is an opportunity, then all haired and bald persons should call on him. For ladies he has wigs, ventilated open wigs, switches, bangs, wavy and plain fronts, etc. For gentlemen, featherweight wigs and toupees. Health, comfort and good looks can be obtained by their use. He can also give you reliable advice as to the care of the hair. Call and see him. dw

BICYCLES WITH A MEDAL!

Sometimes in a group of veterans you see a man with a medal. An ordinary appearing man—looking like the rest except the medal. "For Valor" is the legand on the bit of bronze—somewhere in the supreme hour this man towered for above his comrades—hence the medal.

Every few days you see a group of cyclers standing on the corner. Their wheels all bright, new, shining—many look almost alike. Can you tell which will prove their valor and worth, stand trial and test successfully? We will point them out. We will show you the group of wheels with a medal. Wheels of known reputation only. We will point out without any possible mistake the wheels which won both the Dunlop Trophy Races and all other important races held in 1896. Defeated over 300 bicycles in a coasting contest, and gave the world indisputable evidence of the superiority of the

Nervous Prostration
Complete Recovery by the Use of
Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"Some years ago, as a result of too close attention to business, my health failed. I became weak, nervous, was unable to look after my interests, and manifested all the symptoms of a decline. I took three bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, began to improve at once, and gradually increased my weight from one hundred and twenty-five to two hundred pounds. Since then, I and my family have used this medicine when needed, and we are all in the best of health, a fact which we attribute to Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I believe my children would have been fatherless to-day had it not been for Ayer's Sarsaparilla, of which preparation I cannot say too much."—H. O. HIXSON, Postmaster and Planter, Kinard's, S. C.

BOOTH TUCKER ON TRIAL.

The Charge Was Keeping a Disorderly House at the Army Barracks An Unseemly Noise Kept Up.

New York, May 24.—Booth Tucker, commander of the Salvation Army, was placed on trial to-day, before Judge Newburger, in part two of the Court of General Sessions, for a misdemeanor in conducting a disorderly house at the army barracks in this city. Ex-Mayor A. Oakey Hall defended the commander. Assistant District Attorney Welch opened the case for the people. Several residents of the neighborhood testified that an unseemly noise was kept up during the night at the barracks. When court adjourned the case of the prosecution was not closed.

GAUDAUR BEAT ROGERS.

Orillia, May 24.—A large crowd of visitors and townspeople lined the wharf and the shore of Lake Couchiching this afternoon to see the two boat races which had been largely advertised as chief attractions in the way of the day's sports. It is estimated that altogether 10,000 people witnessed the races.

The water was rather rough, and it was not until about 4.40 that the first race, that between McDowell of Chicago and Rumohr of Toronto, took place. This event was a fizzle, as Rumohr after rowing about a quarter of a mile gave up. McDowell rowed over the course alone.

There was considerable delay before the event of the day was brought on. This was the two-mile race between Jake G. Gaudaur of Orillia and Ernestus Rogers of Worcester, Mass., for the championship of America and $500 a side, together with a liberal purse presented by the citizens of Orillia and the Fox Challenge Cup. It was about 5.40 before the men appeared in their shells at the starting flag, and as a cold wind was blowing, no further time was lost in making a start. The men took the water at the same time, and both hugged the shore. Neither was rowing a very fast stroke, and until near the turning flags they were about even.

Gaudaur turned first, and was a length or two ahead of Rogers when the latter started on the home stretch. Rogers soon decreased his opponent's lead, and until about 200 yards from the finish the race was even. At this point Jake forged ahead and won with apparent ease by two boat-lengths. Loud cheers greeted the champion as he passed the finishing flags. John Laxton of Toronto refereed the match.

AFRAID OF VANDERBILT.

Russian Papers Warn the People That There is Danger of a Monopoly in Oil.

St. Petersburg, May 24.—The Odessky Listok of Odessa announces the coming arrival there of one of the Vanderbilts, who, according to that newspaper, is about to start big naphtha works at Baku, Russian Transcaucasia. The Novoe Vremya, commenting on this statement protests vigorously at "the increasing invasion by foreigners of the naphtha fields," and says: "They will not hesitate to create a monopoly which will be prejudicial to the Russian national industry."

That tired feeling is due to impoverished blood. Enrich the blood with Hood's Sarsaparilla and be strong and vigorous.

BRITISHER CHASED BY A SPANIARD

A Fruit Vessel Which Was Too Fleet for Her Pursuer Was Fired at Several Times.

Philadelphia, May 24.—After being twice chased by Spanish gunboats and passing unscathed through a storm of shot, which splashed in the water across the vessel's bows, the British fruit steamer Ethelred arrived here last night after a five days' run from Port Antonio, Jamaica. When the Ethelred left here May 13, it was the intention of Capt. John D. Hart to accompany her, but he was arrested as he was about to go aboard. His invalid daughter was a passenger. It is supposed that agents of the Spanish Government notified the Spanish authorities at Havana that Hart would be on the vessel.

The first encounter with the Spanish cruisers occurred off Cape Maysi, on the trip down. Just after dusk on May 16 a gunboat without lights shot out from under the Maysi Cape, and, crowding on all steam, steamed directly for the fruit vessel. After steaming for an hour without gaining an inch, the gunboat turned a searchlight on the other vessel. All steam was crowded on the Ethelred, when a cloud of smoke belched from the cruiser's side and a second later a solid shot hit the water a half mile ahead of her bows. Then came a second and third shot, each nearer than the others.

Capt. Israel kept on his course and, after another hour's hot chase, the Spaniard dropped from the race. The second chase happened last Thursday afternoon in almost the exact spot where the first attempt to hold the vessel up occurred. Just as the Ethelred rounded Cape Maysi an immense Spanish gunboat of the newest type started out from under the cape, and gave chase to the Ethelred. For five hours the chase was kept up, enlivened now and then by a solid shot throwing up a small sheet of spray just ahead of the swift vessel's bows. Finally another ship was sighted and the gunboat sheered off and gave chase to the newly discovered steamer.

J. G. MELLOR DROWNED.

He Was an Englishman and Fell From His Wheel Into the Canal at Thorold.

Thorold, Ont., May 24.—A bicycle, having a black frock coat strapped to the frame, was found in the new Welland Canal between lock 24 and 25 here to-day. A small part of the wheel, which is a '95 Cleveland, was above water on the sloping bank. As a black fedora hat was found yesterday floating not far from where the wheel was discovered, it appears probable that the rider was accidentally thrown from his wheel into the canal and drowned. Men are now engaged grappling the canal for the supposed body.

It Is J. G. Mellor's Body.

St. Catharines, Ont., May 24.—The body has been recovered and is that of J. G. Mellor of England. He has friends residing in Welland, but no relatives nearer than Nova Scotia, where he is supposed to have two brothers, both Church of England clergymen.

HAMILTON INCIDENTS.

A Boy Got a Rocket in the Eye and is Badly Hurt Cock Fighters Pounced on by the Police.

Hamilton, May 24.—(Special.)—Ralph Rockvale, a boy of 14, living at 218 Victoria-avenue, was struck in the face by a rocket to-night just outside his home and was badly burnt about the nose and eyes. He is lying under chloroform at the hospital to-night.

County Constables Hunter and Nicholls swooped down on a gang of sports on the Waterdown road this afternoon during the progress of a cock-fight between Hamilton and Brantford birds and captured 50 birds and took the names of all present. The Hamilton crowd is composed of a number of city bloods.

ALL THREE DROWNED.

A Melancholy Queen's Birthday for Some People in Montreal Capsize of a Canoe.

Montreal, May 24.—Queen's Birthday passed off quietly to-day, but a sad mishap at St. Jovite has cast a gloom over the city. While Dr. Gentles, a well-known dentist, with two other men, named Richards and Epps, was out in the lake fishing their canoe overturned and all three were drowned.

Died Making a Prescription.

Binghamton, N. Y., May 24.—F. M. Bailey, a druggist, was found dead in his store this morning. On the prescription desk was found a pestle containing cyanide of potassium. There is a supposition that Mr. Bailey, while at work with this prescription, was overcome by the fumes.

A woman's headaches may come from several causes. She may have a headache arising from nervousness, or from digestive disturbances. Nine cases in ten, her headaches come from disorders peculiar to her sex. It may show itself in the symptoms which are characteristic of a dozen disorders. Thousands of times women have been treated for the wrong disorders. Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription was compounded for the sole purpose of relieving womankind of these ills and pains. Thousands of women have testified that after taking treatment from several physicians without benefit, the "Favourite Prescription" cured them completely and quickly. It has been used for over thirty years, and has an unbroken record of success.

The women who hesitates is invited to send 31 one cent stamps to cover only the cost of mailing a copy of Doctor Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, which contains plain, clear information about all of the organs of the human body and their functions.

WENT OVER THE DAM.

James Sickles of Brantford Could Not Swim and Was Drowned.

Brantford, May 24.—James Sickles went over the dam in a canoe a few minutes after 11 o'clock this morning. The canoe upset and Sickles, being unable to swim, was drowned. He went over the dam three before, a few weeks ago. He was the son of Sickles, the counterfeiter, who was sent to the penitentiary about a month ago.

Sickles' body was found at 2 o'clock this afternoon about 30 feet from where he went under.

BRITISH CABLE CO. GETS IT.

Hawaiian Government Grants the Concession and Surveys are Being Made.

San Francisco, Cal., May 24.—Private letters from Honolulu say that the Dole Government has decided to give to the British Company the concession for the ocean cable. The Hawaiian Government had grown weary of the lukewarm attitude of the United States over the cable question, and has closed with the British proposals.

Recently the British war vessel Pelican left Sydney to make a survey to Fanning Island, and the Wild Swan recently left Honolulu to survey cable routes around that island, which will be the main landing place for the cable.

DROWNED FROM A YACHT.

Mr. Grange of Napanee Fell Overboard and a Promising Life Was Ended.

Picton, Ont., May 24.—Mr. Grange, with eight others, left Napanee to-day with the yacht Orpha to spend Sunday and Monday in Kingston, and when off Indian Point this morning young Grange fell overboard and was drowned. Mr. Grange was only 22 years old and had just graduated in medicine at Queen's University. He was the son of the late William Grange of Newburg.

Many a buisness man who is envied by his associates and acquaintances as a "lucky fellow" stands but a step from the grave. He has purchased success at the cost of health. For every step forward in wealth he has taken two backward in health. Now that he has almost achieved his ambition as a money-getter, he is standing on the verge of his grave. Just one more big business strain—just one more step backward in health—and he will step into his grave. No man has the right to gain money at the expense of health. He owes something to wife and children—something to himself. He may have health easily.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes men and women strong and well. It wards off disease. It makes pure blood, solid flesh, and strong nerves. When the arteries are filled with rich, pure blood, a man doesn't easily break down or get sick. He can stand almost any amount of work or strain. The "Golden Medical Discovery" corrects the all-embracing disorders that cause all manner of disease. It corrects disorders of the digestion, irregularities of the bowels, and impure blood. Druggists sell it.

"I was afflicted with pimples and boils, and running sores on face and neck," writes Robert S. Wert, of No. 615 Galloway Ave., Columbus, Ohio. "Nothing did me any good. I took Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pleasant Pellets;' before I had taken four bottles I was cured."

Every family should have Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. The book was cheap at $1.50—its regular price. Now, for a limited time, it may be had for nothing. 31 one-cent stamps, to pay the cost of customs and mailing only, will procure you the book in strong paper covers, post-paid. Or you can have the book in elegant cloth binding, for 50 stamps. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

TENNESSEE'S WOMEN.

THEIR SPECIAL WORK AT NASHVILLE.

Some Interesting Features - The Woman's Building Built by Woman's Efforts From Plans of a Woman—Miss Enid Yandell's Pallas Athene.

Women interested in the Tennessee Centennial Exposition at Nashville have planned innumerable attractions for their rendesvous—the woman's building—from a collection of hand-painted gourds to a cafe on the roof. Mrs. Van Leer Kirkman, president of the woman's department of the centennial, has aimed to have represented many out-of-the-ordinary, as well as stereotyped, pursuits in the world of woman. There will be shown all sorts of unusual inventions by the sex, from the hand-made hammock of the Indian squaw to the ceramic creations of the metropolitan artist, the newest appliances for the use of the modern housewife, the latest advances made by the progressive sister in professional life—in short, the ingenious efforts of woman in her thousand and one arenas.

The woman's building is placed picturesquely in a cluster of trees. It is made of white staff, as are all the structures which have so suddenly grown on the hilly outskirts of Nashville. Architecturally, the woman's building is a pal counterpart of "The Hermitage," the old homestead of President Andrew Jackson, near the Centennial city. To the colonial style of this hospitable-looking Southern home have been added touches of Greek art, producing an uncommon and artistic effect. The design was the work of a Tennessee woman—Mrs. Sara Ward Conley. The white marble steps of the building lead to the fountain and the lotus pool basin.

The Tennessee women who have worked so arduously to make this beautiful building attractive on the inside for fair visitors to the centennial secured the nucleus of the necessary fund by issuing a woman's edition of a Nashville paper. The dollars which thus filled the exchequer were doubled by the income of various enterprises, including the charge of several downtown stores for a day. The general of these successful efforts, Mrs. Kirkman, is a daughter of the south. The first four years of her life were spent in Cuba, after which Memphis became her home. In that city she received her early education under the Episcopal Sisters of St. Mary, afterward pursuing a course of study at Fairmont College, Monteagle. When 16 years old she was sent to Paris for two years for the finishing touches to her education, which concluded with a year's travel through Europe. Eleven years ago she married Mr. Kirkman, a Tennessean, who, on his mother's side, is descended from General Anthony Wayne of Revolutionary fame. Mrs. Kirkman is the daughter of Caswell Macon Thompson, only son of the Hon. Jacob Thompson, Secretary of the Interior under President Buchanan of the United States.

Mrs. Kirkman's assistants in woman's work include Mrs. Florence Kirkman Dromillard, vice-president for Central Tennessee; Mrs. Charles W. Grosvenor, vice-president for West Tennessee; Miss Mary B. Temple, vice-president for East Tennessee; Mrs. John W. Thomas, vice-president for the State at large; Miss Ada Scott Rice, secretary; Mrs. Robert F. Weakley, treasurer.

Tennessee women are particularly proud, aside from the exhibit in the woman's building, of one piece of art. It is a colossal statue of Pallas Athene, forty feet in height, including pedestal, modeled by Miss Enid Yandell, a Kentucky girl, who is at present pursuing art in Paris. The statue, which is after Frohner's Pallas de Velletri, in the Louvre, Paris, has been placed in front of the Parthenon. The adjustment of the parts of this immense statue, which is said to be the largest ever erected by a woman, was absolutely perfect.

There will be two convocations of women in the assembly room—one in May and one in October.

HAVE YOU CATARRH?

But One Sure Remedy—Obtain It for 25 Cents, Blower Included, and be Cured.

Catarrh is a disagreeable and offensive disease. It usually results from a cold and often ends in consumption and death. The one effective remedy so far discovered for it is Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure.

Physicians failed to cure Geo. Pellrey, toll-gate keeper, Holland Landing road. Chase's Catarrh Cure did it.

One box cured William Kneeshaw and two boxes James T. Stoddard, both of West Gwillimbury.

Division Court Clerk Joel Rogers, Robert J. Hoover and Geo. Taylor, all of Beeton, voluntarily certify to the efficacy of Chase's Catarrh Cure.

J. W. Jennison, of Gilford, spent nearly $300 on doctors, but found no permanent relief until he tried a 25-cent box of Chase's.

Miss Dwyer, of Alliston, got rid of a cold in the head in 12 hours.

Henry R. Nicholls, 176 Rectory street, London, tried a box with excellent effect.

Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure is for sale by any dealer, or by Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. Price 25 cents including blower.

Coughs, colds and bronchial troubles readily cured by the latest discovery, Chase's Linseed and Turpentine. Pleasant and easy to take. 25 cents.

Century Runs for Women.

A word as to century runs for women. It seems almost incredible that one with so delicate an organization as woman's would attempt so foolhardy a task, for task it certainly must be. To dash pell-mell for miles; to ride with one's nose glued over the ground in a given length of time, is to profane human endurance and sink to the level of a mere machine. Cycling is a noble institution, rich in health-giving qualities when rightly used. As a stimulus to mental action and physical vigor, it has no rival; but when it is put to the sordid use of merely piling up mileage, the very act becomes servile and disgusting. There may be exhilaration for a few in the pastime, but it is a rank test of endurance to which any woman should hesitate to put so priceless a thing as her health. No end of ills have been known to follow in the wake of exhausted physical force, and women, above all others, should realize this.

The Universal Trick

"There is one falsehood that even the best of women will tell."

"It is not so. What is it?"

"That she never uses face powder to make her look white, but just to take the shine off her nose."—Puck.

Look the Door

Before the horse is stolen. Purify, enrich and vitalize your blood and build up your physical system before disease attacks you and serious sickness comes. Hood's Sarsaparilla will make you strong and vigorous and expel from your blood all impurities and germs of disease. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla now.

Hood's Pills are the favorite family Cathartic. Easy to take, gentle, mild. 25c.

The Ribbon Craze.

The ribbons, in plain colors, floral designs and stripes, are chiefly in taffeta weaves, and will be worn in large shoulder bows, belts, sashes having long ends, collars and bows across the bust. An entire piece of ribbon lavished upon a dimity gown or organdie is usual, a style for which ribbon manufacturers should be thankful.

The Popular Poppy.

There are indications that the poppy will be an extremely popular flower this summer. Already red hats have appeared which are decorated with poppies, shading from faint pink to deep red. For dress use the purple hat, of purple straw, flowers and ribbons, is in conspicuous evidence at the best shops.

A Railway Manager Says:

"In reply to your question, do my children object to taking Scott's Emulsion, I say no! on the contrary, they are fond of it and it keeps them pictures of health."

Delay Means Death

One Dose Relieves—A Few Bottles Always Cure.

"For ten years I have suffered greatly from heart disease. Fluttering of the heart, palpitations and smothering spells have made my life miserable. When dropsy set in my physician said I must prepare my family for the worst. All this time I had seen Dr. Agnew's Heart Cure advertised. As a last resort I tried it and think of my joy when I received great relief from one dose. One bottle cured my dropsy, and brought me out of bed, and five bottles have completely cured my heart. If you are troubled with any heart affection, and are in despair, as I was, use this remedy, for I know it will cure you."—Mrs. MRS ADAMS Syracuse, N. Y. Sold by H. S. McDonald.

OPPOSITION TO THE BELL.

A Powerful Alliance Being Formed in Chicago for a Telephone Service.

Chicago, May 24.—The Times Herald says: Steps looking to the formation of a powerful alliance in opposition to the Bell Telephone Company are to be taken in Chicago this week. The main things contemplated are a "national association" of the 1000 operating telephone exchanges of the United States, independent of the Bell Company, for mutual protection and development, the establishment of an independent long distance service, connecting the great commercial centres in a field now occupied exclusively by the Bell Company, and co-operation for resisting any action the Bell Company may make in the courts in reference to the Berliner decision. All these matters will be brought prominently to the attention of the public by a meeting which will be held here next Thursday.

Crow's Nest Line Located.

Winnipeg, May 24.—The McLeod Gazette says: "The final location of the Crow's Nest Pass line has been made past McLeod. The line runs diagonally through the northeast corner of the race-track. The station will be about a mile from 24th-street, the present business street of the town."

President McKinley to the Queen

Washington, May 24.—The President this morning sent a cable message to Queen Victoria, congratulating her on the celebration of her 78th birthday.

It is a fortunate day for a man when he first discovers the value of Ayer's Sarsaparilla as a blood-purifier. With this medicine, he knows he has found a remedy upon which he may rely, and that his life-long malady is at last conquered. Has cured others, will cure you.

THE "CHRIST-LIFE."

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—We are pleased that your columns have been open to us, and we shall not abuse your liberty. "The Expositor of the Christ-Life" is published by Nelson Burns, B. A., under the auspices of the Christian Association, at 26 Homewood avenue, Toronto, and we have liberty to elucidate the principle of right through that periodical. It is therefore not necessary to trespass upon the newspapers for the sake of teaching the life we practise, and introducing our gospel.

First of all, we shall briefly rehearse our personal history for the good of all truth lovers. Being converted at the age of 8 years we lived as nearly right as we knew, until at the age of nineteen on the afternoon of Saturday, March 3rd, 1888, we received the gift of the Holy Ghost by faith, whereby we pleased God continually.

Trials came, and the disease of hereditary insanity developed in us to such an alarming extent that God removed us to the Asylum for the Insane, Hamilton, but, though our physicians and friends thought thre was no possible hope of our recovery, ours being pronounced one of the most serious cases of lunacy that ever came under medical skill; God spoke, telling us to prepare for home and we were eventually released.

Afterwards, God told us to attend Toronto Normal School and to capture the gold medal, which we did by faith and obedience. After teaching a few years the Master directed us to remove from Havelock to Peterborough and to establish the kingdom of heaven, which we are now setting forth.

We can truthfully report that our mind as well as our life is perfect, and all are welcome to the evidence which is forthcoming, whether they use the scientific or the spiritual condition at present. Further, we know by our confidence in God as our only law of life that we shall continue perfect even as our Father in heaven is perfect.

To any who desire to be like us we invite you to learn of us for we are meek and lowly and you shall find rest from failure, for our yoke is easy and our burdens are as light as the air we breathe.

Mr. Thos. Bonsfield, whom God has called with us, has an experience which proves that the law of God is perfect, converting the soul; the testimony of the Lord is sure, making wise the simple; the statutes of the Lord are right, rejoicing the heart; the commandment of the Lord is pure, enlightening the eyes; the fear of the Lord is clean, enduring forever; and that the judgments of the Lord are true and righteous altogether. The life of Mr. Bousfield is more to be desired than gold, yea, than much fine gold; and sweeter also than honey and the honey-comb, for not only the words of his mouth and the thoughts of his heart but the actions of his life are well-pleasing to God continually.

With best wishes, I remain,
Yours truly,
W. M. RADIR.

KIPLING'S CONVERSION.

A Good Word Spoken for Canada.

Rudyard Kipling has been roundly rated by the Canadian press for his unhappy poetical title for Canada—"Our Lady of the Snows." But when he comes down from his poetical Pegasus and deals in plain prose he gets down to plain facts. After all the polite abuse he has received for his unhappy Canadian cognomen, it is only just that he should get credit for the following manly remarks about Canada:

In an interview with him published in the London, Eng., St. James' Gazette, he has this to say: It is a great country; a country with a future. There is a fine, hard, bracing climate, the climate that puts iron and grit into men's bones, and there are all good things to be got out of the ground, if people will work for them. What it wants is more men and more money. Why don't Englishmen think more of it as a field for English capital and enterprise? Surely there is an excellent opening both for the investing and immigrating Briton there. Things don't, perhaps, move quite so fast as in the States, but they are safer and you are under the flag you know, and among men of the same stock and breed. Send your folks to Canada; and, if they can't go themselves, let them send their money—plenty of it.

COAL GOES UP.

Not in Smoke but in Price.

The following from the Cobourg Sentinal Star is said to represent the present coal situation pretty accurately:

Now as to prospects it is quite probable that there will be a rise in coal, the wholesale opening price of which is fifty cents a ton higher than a twelve-month ago. This is the result of no combination among coal companies. All recognized companies are controlled by J. Pierpont Morgan, of New York city, with the single exception of the State Line and Sullivan R'y Co., of Towanda, Pennsylvania, doing business in Canada under the name of the People's Coal Company, whose coal has exceeded expectations since within the past year they began deep mining in Towanda county, for a coal pronounced and certified to be the hottest taken out of the ground, 86 per cent. of it being carbon.

As this new company is about to commence active operations in Cobourg, and as the quantity of coal imported by them as well as by the local agents of older companies so favorably known will be necessarily large, the attention of the authorities along the water-front is respectfully called to a matter much affecting the interests of the town, and we have the fullest confidence that the People's Coal Co., and all other companies will find in the Cobourg Harbor Commissioners the highest type of people's representatives.

WARSAW.

Address and Presentation—Tribute to the Popularity of Miss Lottie Edwards.

On Friday evening of last week the residence of Mr. Samuel Edwards, "Maple Lawn," near Warsaw, was the scene of a large and pleasant gathering. Mr. Edwards' daughter, Miss Lottie Edwards, has gone to the Northwest, to Medicine Hat, to reside, and on the occasion of her departure the friends of her youth to the number of about fifty assembled to formally bid her good-bye, and to present her with an address and a substantial tribute of her respect and esteem. After the company had assembled in the parlour, Miss Edith Kidd on behalf of the assembled guests read the following address:

To Miss Lottie Edwards:

We, a few of your friends and acquaintances, learning of your departure from among us, have assembled here this evening to bid you farewell, and while sorry that the occasion is one of severing the ties that have been heretofore so pleasant, yet we are pleased to know that the future for you has such a joyous outlook.

We ask you to accept this gold watch as a slight token of our esteem and good will, hoping that it will arch over the many miles between us and your new home, that in the years to come it may bring to your memory a kind remembrance of your old friends and acquaintances.

We wish you happiness with all the attendant comforts of this life, and that your many social and lady-like accomplishments may be duly appreciated and serve to endear others to you.

Hoping that your long journey may be pleasant, and not attended with any undue anxiety, we wish you God speed, again saying farewell.

Signed on behalf of those present.

EDITH KIDD,
MAYBELL EDWARDS.

The presentation of the beautiful gold watch, was made at the proper moment by Miss Maybell Edwards.

Mr. Samuel Edwards replied on behalf of his daughter who was deeply affected by this striking evidence of the affection and esteem of her large circle of friends. He thanked the company for the beautifully worded address and for the handsome gift that symbolized the sentiments expressed. He thanked them for their good wishes so happily expressed, and both Miss Edwards, himself and the family would long cherish the memory of so important an occasion as the gathering of the evening.

This week Miss Edwards went to her new home where her hosts of friends wish she may have a prosperous and happy life in her new home and her new relations. She must be a young lady of more than exceptional merit to have secured so large and hearty a demonstration of respect as that with which she was favoured.

Baby Mass of Sores

Face Like a Slice of Raw Beef. Cried Night and Day. Would Rub Scratch and Scream.

Moisture from Sores so Great Changed Cloths 12 Times a Day. Hands Tied for Five Months.

After One Application of CUTICURA Child Slept. Cured Without a Scar.

My baby, when one year old (photograph herewith), broke out all over with a rash.

He was a mass of sores. You could not put your finger on him anywhere there was not a sore. His face looked like a slice of fresh beef, and he cried night and day. He would rub, scratch, and scream. The doctor called and left some powder to put on him, but it did no good. It would take two to hold him, and one to put medicine on him. We had to hold him sometimes an hour or two before we could get him quieted down. All said that they never saw such a face or body on any baby as on him. I had to cut the sleeves out of his clothes, and put gauze underwear on him to keep him cool. I had to keep pieces of soft cloth around his neck, it was so wet with moisture from the sores, and had to change the cloths sometimes ten or twelve times a day. I had to tie his hands tight in a cloth, night and day, for five months. My sister had used CUTICURA, and I began to use it and was surprised at the result. After only one application, he lay down and slept as he had not for a month, poor little fellow. After I had used CUTICURA REMEDIES a day he was glad to have me wash and dress him. He [illegible] a scar on him now, and is as fair and his flesh is as soft as any baby just born. He was absolutely cured in three months by one cake CUTICURA SOAP, two boxes CUTICURA (ointment), and one-half bottle CUTICURA RESOLVENT.

PREFERENTIAL TRADE

Resolution Number 16 Debated in the House.

VIGOROUS ATTACK BY MR. FOSTER

On the Controller of Customs—Mr. Lister Used Some Strong Words to the Ex-Minister of Finance—Sir Chas. Tupper's Amendment Voted Down.

Ottawa, May 26.—(Special.) — The House in Committee of Ways and Means devoted the day to the consideration of the preferential clause in the tariff, and the amendment of Sir Charles Tupper favoring delay until the obstacles claimed by the Opposition to be in the way are removed. Mr. Borden of Halifax advanced a legal argument in support of the contention that the German and Belgian treaties entitle these countries to the benefits of the minimum tariff. Mr. Foster spoke as a consistent protectionist and a friend of the workingman. He protested against throwing the door open to all the contries in the world entitled to favored-nation treatment or having tariffs lower on the whole, and as favorable to Canada as the terms of the reciprocal tariffs are to the countries to which they apply. He suggested that China and Japan might qualify under the resolution. The speaking upon the amendment was wholly confined to the Opposition side of the House, but notwithstanding all that was said in its behalf it was rejected by a substantial majority, the vote being 74 against to 42 in its favor. During the discussion between Mr. Foster and Mr. Paterson, which followed the vote, an incident occurred. The ex-Minister of Finance spoke in rather disrespectful terms of the Controller of Customs, and Mr. Lister described his language as being both insolent and impertinent. This produced a storm, which was only dissipated by the withdrawal of the strong words used by the member for West Lambton. To-morrow being Ascension Day the House will not sit.

Mr. Fisher's bill to provide for the registration of cheese factories and the branding of cheese was introduced by the Minister and given its first reading.

Replying to a question by Mr. Davis (Saskatchewan), Mr. Mulock said that Robert McManus, the late husband of the ex-Postmistress of Northfield, B.C., was a deserter from the Quebec Rifles on the Red River in 1870, and that he made out certain affidavits that were used by the United States against Great Britain in the Behring Sea arbitration. Mr. Mulock intimated that the Government had additional evidence as to the late McManus and his character.

Mr. W. F. Maclean asked, in drafting tariff resolution No. 16, now before the House, did the Government consider how its operation might be affected by Lord Ripon's despatch of June 28, 1895.

In reply Mr. Fielding said the Government had fully considered Lord Ripon's despatch, but were acting under the view that tariff resolution No. 16 (the preferential clause), now before the House, did not come within the clause of measures referred to in the despatch.

Sir R. Cartwright informed Mr. Clarke that Lieut-Colonel Gray, late Inspector of Stores, would not be granted a retiring allowance, as it was considered the position which he held for a year was a sinecure.

Mr. Taylor enquired whether the Mr. Reid of New York, now installing the machinery in the American Bank Note Company's new building here, is a son of the Collector of Customs at London.

The reply of Mr. Fielding was that the Government does not know who is placing the machinery in the building.

Mr. Bennett was informed that the successor of Judge Jones of Brant is Mr. A. P. Hardy of Brantford, the former receiving the annual pension of $144 per month.

The House having again gone into committee of ways and means, Mr. Borden (Halifax) replied to the speech of the Minister of Marine upon the new tariff resolutions. He twitted the "business" Government with having attempted a preferential policy without looking into the consequences of their would-be legislation, thereby defeating the object presumed to be in view. The treaty between the German Zollverein and Great Britain was undoubtedly binding upon the British colonies, so long as the British Government and Parliament were in supreme power in the Empire. An express provision of the treaty was that the produce of the zollverein should not be subjected to higher duty in the British colonies than the produce of Great Britain herself. For twenty-five or thirty years this has been regarded both in England and in Canada as binding upon the Dominion, and nobody suggested the contrary throughout a series of discussions of which this treaty was the subject. It was left to Mr. Davies to discover that all Canadian and Imperial authorities, including the law officers of the Crown, were astray in their interpretation that their favored nation treaties were binding upon the Dominion. Nor could it be contended that the reciprocal resolution was not preferential in its effect within the meaning of the treaty, owing to the application of the clause by the Customs. Thus were we disregarding a solemn Imperial obligation. Where, then, was a boasted contribution to Her Majesty in her Jubilee year? The Government were in fact either bringing this country into direct conflict with the Mother Country or bringing the Mother Country into serious conflict with Germany.

"Let us have it and we will know where we stand," interrupted Mr. McGregor, thereby earning a frown of disapproval from the Minister of Marine.

"That," Mr. Borden answered, "was a pretty sort of contribution to the Jubilee year." [Hear, hear.] All were in favor of preferential trade with Great Britain, but it should be gone about in the right way.

At the conclusion of Mr. Borden's speech the Chairman commenced to put the question. Mr. Foster then expressed his surprise that no member of the Government should reply to so able a speech on such an important subject, and alleged that this showed either the Government did not fully recognize the gravity of the situation or that they were unable to refute the arguments of the member for Halifax. A clause had been introduced into the reciprocal resolution enabling the Government to admit Germany, Belgium and other countries having favored nation treaties with Great Britain to the advantages of the minimum tariff. This clause was put in because the Government [illegible] which the Government supposed they had a month ago they had not now. It was to give them a chance to crawl out when the inevitable conflict arose with Great Britain on the question of treaties. This clause would open the door of Canada to nine-tenths of the great manufacturing countries of the world, yet the Government declared that this was preferential trade with Great Britain. As a Conservative who had always been in favor of a liberal protection to the industries of Canada, he protested against a 25 per cent. reduction of duties, which would open up this country to the competition of Belgium, Germany, France and 20 or 30 other countries as well as of the Mother Country. As a consistent protectionist, he did not propose to accept the proposition. The average tariff of China was lower than the reciprocal tariff now proposed. Was it true, then, that the great Chinese Empire would have an open door into the Dominion of Canada? Was the Controller of Customs to decide to what countries the minimum tariff was to be extended on his own will or whim, or was there to be a definite method pursued upon which the question was to be decided? Mr. Foster complained of the indefiniteness of the proposition, as well as of the effect it would have on Canadian industries. Under the resolution commercial treaties might be made by the Government with all the countries in the world, and Parliament would not be able to open its month in regard to them. The Government, he said, had got power under false pretences, and they had swallowed themselves. Absolve the House from one of its important functions, and the members might come back next session and find that unrestricted reciprocity with the United States had been passed by the Controller of Customs, backed up by a Cabinet of 13, who might exercise a little authority over his opinion. The gravest point in the whole affair was that if independent treaty-making power were given to the Government they could make a treaty of commerce with any country under the sun, and without reference to Great Britain's Imperial treaty obligations.

J. Ross Robertson said he regarded the preferential clause as foreign to the principle of protection. He was unwilling that British manufacturers should have the good money that ought to go to Canadian workingmen. He would support the amendment. With regard to the contention that Germany and Belgium would share in the privileges of the reciprocal clause, he trusted the Government's view would prevail, and if the British Government conceded the right of those countries he hoped the Government would return the answer that Canada was going to administer her own customs laws without interference from Belgium or Germany, or even from Downing-street.

Mr. Craig said the manner in which the Government wanted to close this discussion showed they held that the less said about this matter the better. He objected to the preferential resolution because it was so indefinite. Moreover, the resolution was arbitrary. The decision as to whether a country should be entitled to benefits of a reciprocal tariff was to depend entirely on the whim of the Controller of Customs. Further, he held that the resolution was dangerous, because it took out of the hands of Parliament the power to make treaties and put it entirely in the hands of one man. The resolution, moreover, was deceptive. It pretends to be a preferential arrangement with Britain, while actually it was not so at all. He objected to the resolution, because it was injurious, injurious to the manufacturers, workingmen and farmers of this country.

Continuing, Mr. Craig argued that this resolution was not needed to demonstrate the loyalty of Canadians. Nobody could doubt that Canadians were loyal. Preferential trade within the Empire would be a boon to this country, but that consummation was postponed indefinitely by the Government's unthinking, halting, unwise action in this matter.

Mr. Bell (Picton) followed, dealing generally with the tariff issue. He pointed out the glaring incongruity of a largely protectionist tariff, fathered by a free-trade party, and still, that was a matter upon which the Government deserved the congratulation and approval of Conservatives, who hoped the Government would continue in the right

German Papers on the New Canadian Tariff.

THE WAR MAY BREAK OUT AGAIN

Turkey is Getting Troops Ready to March into Thessaly The Greek Foreign Minister's Idea of the Campaign —Queen's Birthday Celebration in London.

London, May 27.—The Berlin correspondent of The Times says:

"The German press is devoting a good deal of attention to the Canadian tariff, and complains that the information regarding the attitude of Germany on the subject comes exclusively from Canada or England. With reference to the Fielding proposal in the Canadian Parliament to safeguard Canada's position in relation to the rights of nations other than England to the most favored nation treatment, the question is asked whether it can be England's intention to give notice that the treaty of May 30, 1865, between Great Britain and the German Zollverein, is to lapse."

IT LOOKS WARLIKE AGAIN.

Turkey Getting Thousands of Troops Ready to March into Thessaly.

London, May 26.—A special despatch from Athens says Great Britain has declared her intention to abandon the concert of the powers if the occupation of Thessaly by Turkish troops is prolonged until Greece has paid the war indemnity demanded by Turkey.

London, May 27.—The Athens correspondent of The Standard reports an interview with M. Ralli, in the course of which the Premier said he was very grateful to England for her firmness, as this might result in saving the corn crop in Thessaly, valued at £1,000,000. If the Turkish troops should withdraw within a fortnight, he said, the crop might be harvested, but if the withdrawal were delayed for a month the whole would be sacrificed, entailing a loss to Greece of quite £2,000,000, since, if the crop were lost, the Government would be obliged to feed the peasants and to incur other expenses. With reference to the alleged loan negotiations M. Ralli said the proposal was merely to renew the treasury bonds authorized by the former Ministry for war purposes.

A despatch to The Standard from Athens says that the municipal authorities have conferred the freedom of the city upon General Ricciotti Garibaldi and Col. Ciprinal, the Italian Socialist leaders, in recognition of their eminent services in the field.

They Don't Believe It.

London, May 27.—A despatch to The Daily Telegraph from Vienna says the Foreign Office discredits the report that Great Britain has threatened to quit the European concert and pronounces it a Greek invention to influence Turkey to evacuate Thessaly.

Preparing for Renewal of the War.

London, May 27.—The Athens correspondent of The Times says: "It is believed that complications have arisen owing to the advocacy by some of the powers, including Russia, of a Turkish occupation of Thessaly until the indemnity is paid, and to England's firm resistance to such a project. The Greek Government is preparing for a possible renewal of the war."

Turks Acting Warlike.

London, May 27.—A despatch to The Daily Mail from Vienna says that the Turkish Government has mobilized 50,000 additional troops, who are now in readiness to advance into Thessaly, and that the Government is making active preparations for a Turkish administration of the province.

A despatch to The Times from Larissa says the impression is general among the Turkish troops that there will be more fighting. A brigade of Rediffs has started for Phourka, armed with Mausers.

QUEEN'S BIRTHDAY IN OLD LONDON

The Official Celebration Took Place Two Days Later Than in Canada.

London, May 26.—The official celebration of the Queen's birthday was observed to-day in London with the usual closing of the courts and Government offices, the ringing of church bells, a display of flags, artillery salutes, and the ceremony of trooping the color on the horse guards' parade, in which the colonial troops, now in London, took part. Although the ceremony was somewhat marred by rain, it was witnessed by the usual throngs of people. The New South Wales, Indian, and other detachments of colonial troops present attracted considerable attention. The Royal family were largely represented at the trooping of the color.

THE SPANISH CRISIS.

Senor Sagasta is Going to Publish an Important Statement About Cuba.

Madrid, May 27.—It is understood that Senor Sagasta, the Liberal leader, will shortly publish an important political statement, in which he will announce his unalterable opposition to the sale of Cuba and his unyielding support of the maintenance of the integrity of Spanish territory.

The Premier, Senor Canovas del Castillo, denies the existence of a Cabinet crisis and says he is resolved to remain in office in spite of the abstention of the Opposition from taking part in the sessions of the Cortes.

The budget committee has reported favorably on the projected loan with the Almaden quick-silver mines as security, and has also reported favorably on the financial measures proposed to meet the expenses of the wars.

Scroggs' Body Sent Forward.

New York, May 4.—The body of Arthur Scroggs, which was shipped to this city from Vancouver Island last Monday, and which was not claimed at the Grand Central Depot upon its arrival there Monday afternoon, and was sent to the morgue, was claimed there this afternoon. Mrs. Scroggs, who ordered the body of her husband sent on, was to have had it placed aboard a steamer, and to have sailed with the body to Southampton. No one claimed the body, and she sailed without it. When the body was sent to the morgue, Mrs. Scroggs' sister-in-law, of Stamford, Conn., heard that Mrs. Scroggs had sailed without the body, and she came at once to this city.

NORWOOD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

God save the Queen!

The 24th was quietly celebrated here this year.

Tucker Bros.' new block is nearing completion.

J. P. Pearce has commenced rebuilding a fine block which will contain post office, general store and offices for himself and store for E. H. Scott, stationer.

The Roxburgh block is nearing completion in the hands of Contractor James Pengelly.

Norwood has a brick famine.

The curfew once more rings the hour of eight, and children make themselves scarce,

Revs. J. A. McCamus and J. J. Rae exchanged pulpits Sunday—the occasion being the opening of the new Sunday School rooms. At a social and concert on Monday evening the proceeds netted $56.30.

Mr. John Davidson is erecting a fancy wire fence on his property, Queen street.

Rev. Mr. Peer is adding a new verandah to his house.

Mr. W. Bailey is placing a gothic window in the front of his residence on Bridge street.

The annual meeting and election of officers of Ladies' Auxiliary of the Anglican church took place Wednesday evening.

Norwood cheese factory was fortunate in securing 9½c for their first sale of thirty boxes at a private sale; also 9½c for sixty boxes, at the recent Peterborough board. This is encouraging.

Mr. Chas. O'Reilly has converted his house on Peterborough street into an implement ware and sales house.

Mrs. Hugh Spence has disposed of her household property and will soon join her husband in the North west.

Will Stephenson left on Monday for Midland, where he will assume charge of a general store for three months during the absence of the owner.

Mrs. Wm. Rutherford left on Wednesday for Toronto and the west to join her husband at Nelson, B.C. We wish her every happiness in her new home.

Miss Pearce is visiting relations at Tweed and Belleville this week.

Mr. Conway, of Kingston, was in town on Wednesday, the guest of his sister, Mrs. H. Fry.

Wm. Cameron spent Sunday and Monday visiting his sister, Mrs. (Rev.) A. Mahaffy, Milton.

Mrs. Gordon Cameron and her two daughters are spending a few days, guests at "Ceaswick."

Mr. Bert Cress, operator on C.P.R., was in town Saturday.

Mr. H. G. Buck is transforming his palace skating rink into a large concert hall for the summer.

Mr. F. Perney spent the holidays visiting relatives at Smithville.

Mrs. Perney is spending a few weeks recreation at her late home in Smithville.

The Hastings Ladies B.B.B. drove over to Norwood Tuesday evening for a pleasure trip.

Amongst the visitors noticed in town for the 24th were: Jas. Paget, Miss S. Paget, Mr. Gee, of Toronto; B. J. Roxburgh, of Keene, Dr. Alex. Robertson, D.D.S., Toronto; J. Fry, Peterborough; D. Eason, of Keene; D. Hunter, Westwood; W. A. Richardson, S. Smart, Toronto; J. Robertson, Tweed.

The sidewalk damaged by fire on east side of Colborne street, is being rebuilt.

A special meeting of village council was held on Friday evening last to open tenders for constructing sidewalk which were as follows:

Boland Scriver 8 ft. walk, 85 cts. per rod, 6 ft. 70 cts., 4 ft. 50 cts.

Wm. Laidley 8 ft. walks 30 cts. per rod, 6 ft. 25 cts., 4 ft. 20 cts.

John Wease all sidewalks required at a uniform price of 60 cts. per rod.

After a short discussion it was moved by Councillor Ebbs and seconded by Councillor Harper that the tender of Wm. Laidley be accepted.—Carried.

A meeting of the joint committees appointed by the school board and town council to draft a programme for Queen's Diamond Jubilee celebration to be held on 22nd June, met in town hall on Friday night and adopted the following programme, viz:—Raising of flag on school buildings in forenoon with suitable addresses by clergy and others. Gathering of pioneers of 50 years and over from surrounding townships. Athletic sports during afternoon and citizens street parade. Beacon fire on hill at night and concert in rink. P pioneer scholarship is talked of as being established permanently to one competed for annually in public and high school.

The following sub-committees of management were drafted.

Flag—W. E. Roxburgh, Rev. J. F. Somerville, Rev. J. Conway, Rev. W. Peer, S. P. Ford, M.D.

Pioneers—S. P. Ford, M.D., J. B. Pearce, P. W. Reynolds, Thos. Rork.

Street Parade—R. J. Stuart, F. Fraser, H. G. Buck, J. B. Pearce, P. W. Stevenson.

Beacon Fire—J. L. Squire, John Walker, Richard Nicol, John Harper.

A general meeting of the citizens will be held on Friday night this week to make further arrangements.

Mr. H. G. Buck kindly offers the use of palace skating rink for concert in evening free. Admission to grounds free.

Court of revision for village of Norwood met on Tuesday, 25th, at 2 p. m. Reeve H. G. Buck. Councillors Richard Nicol, John Walker and John Harper present.

After taking declaration of office, Reeve H. G. Buck, on motion took the chair, when the following adjustments were made:—

Mr. O'Reilly asked that the assessment on Lot 9, south, Peterborough street, be transferred from Wm. Hazard to James McMaster; also his assessment from Lot 1, west, Colborne street, to Lot 12, north, Peterborough street; on motion of councillors Harper and Walker, the request was granted.

R. J. Stewart asked that his name be struck off the roll for assessment on shop lately destroyed by fire, owned by W. E. Roxburgh; on motion this request was granted.

Mr. W. E. Roxburgh appeared in behalf of himself and late tenants re-adjustment on taxes on property and Lot 13, Colborne street, lately occupied by Messrs. R. W. Waters & Son, Wm. Rutherford, R. J. Stewart, J. G. Sherry, Geo. Duffield, A. B. Richardson, Wm. Eaton, D. H. Booth, Thos. Hendren, Mrs. Fred Wasson, Miss Stephenson, assessed for $7,950.00.

Moved by councillors Harper and Walker, that W. E. Roxburgh get a reduction on Lot 3 of $3,300.—Carried.

Mr. Hartley appealed against assessment on part Lot 4 as being to high. On motion of councillors Walker and Harper, the present assessment was confirmed.

W. H. Tucker & Bro., asked for adjustment and reduction on assessment, on building on Lot 4, east Colborne street, destroyed by fire, assessed for $1,000, on building and lots.

Moved by councillors Harper and Nichol that Tucker Bros. get a reduction of $100 on assessment.—Carried.

O. A. Brennan, through his agent, J. B. Pearce, asked for reduction on assessment on livery stable, destroyed by fire, assessed for $300.

Moved by councillors Nichol and Harper that property recently occupied by O. A. Brennan, be reduced from $300 to $240.—Carried.

J. B. McWilliams appealed against assessment on property destroyed by fire lately occupied by Jas. Mongraw, Robt. Wilson, Chas. O'Reilly, Wm. Rogers, total assessment of $1,900. Also that property be assessed in his name.

Moved by councillors Nichol and Walker that J. B. McWilliams get a reduction of $850 on assessment, and that Robt. Wilson, Wm. Rogers, Chas. O'Reilly, and Jas. Mongraw, be struck off the roll.—Carried.

J. B. Pearse asked for readjussment on assessment on property and lot 3, Colborne street: assessed at $800.

Moved by Councillors Walker and Nicol that J. B. Pearse's assessment be confirmed, as it was already as low as basis struck for all losses.

R. S. Ivey asked to be assessed for lot 5, west of Colborne street, occupied by him as a blacksmith shop.

Moved by Councillors Harper and Nicol that above request be granted, and that T. Colby and Wm. Cook be struck off the roll.

Assessment of lot 22, north Queen street, was readjusted, and is now assessed in the names of A. H. Cope and Rebecca Cope in place of the late W. H. Cope.

Assessment of lot 27, north Wellington street, was changed from Thos. Midgley to Thos. Grover.

Wm. Clancy asked fur reduction of assessment on account of depreciation of value of hotel owing to fire.

Moved by Councillors Walker and Harper that Mr. Clancy's assessment be confirmed.—Carried.

Assessment on Lot 18, Queen street, was transferred from Mrs. R. Healy, removed, to Rev. Mr. Weaver, present owner.

Moved by Councillors Walker and Harper that the assessment roll be confirmed as revised.—Carried.

Total reduction on value of property destroyed by both fires is $4,310.

A LABORING MAN'S LEG.

A RUNNING SORE RENDERED IT USELESS. HE COULDN'T WORK TILL HE HAD IT CURED BY KOOTENAY WHICH CONTAINS THE NEW INGREDIENT.

It goes without saying that the average working man finds it difficult to ply his daily avocation without the aid of a pair of good sound legs. To have either of his lower extremities incapacitated by disease is a serious matter. It means inability to provide for himself and those depending on him for support, to which is added the distress and suffering both mental and physical he is called upon in consequence to endure.

Mr. John Dawson, a respectable laborer living at 77 Jones St., Hamilton, Ont., states under oath that about seven years ago an inflammation appeared upon his knee, which continued to grow worse until about three years ago when it got so bad he was unable to work. He tried ointments and various remedies, but the sore continued discharging and the pains in his back were very severe. Last winter he commenced taking Ryckman's Kootenay Cure and in a comparatively short time the sore healed up, the pain disappeared from his back and he was able to resume his work. He thinks there's nothing can beat Kootenay, and he's right.

The whole secret of the cure lies in the thorough blood cleansing properties of the "new ingredient," which is the essential element of Kootenay.

It goes right through the system and eradicates all humors from the blood and in consequence there is a rapid replacing of diseased or decaying tissue by a healthy healing process. Don't be cajoled into taking any substitute for Ryckman's Kootenay Cure. If your druggist does not keep it, send $1.50 for a bottle to the Ryckman Medicine Co., Hamilton, Ont.

Chart book sent free to any address.

One bottle lasts over a month.

Husband is Well.

Mrs. Wm. Hambly, Belleville, Ont., says: "My husband was troubled with kidney complaint, rheumatism, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, etc., and could not get relief until I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills for him. He has now used four boxes in all and is perfectly cured."

Doans Kidney Pills are the ones to cure. Remember the name, Doan's.

HARVEY

From Our Own Correspondent.

The regular monthly meeting of the Gospel Temperance Society was held in the church on Wednesday evening the 12th, but owing to a heavy shower coming up at the time of opening there was not as many present as there would otherwise have been. The programme was very good, there was considerable discussion indulged in by some of these present advocating a change from the old lines which have been followed since the society opened here and wanting a more lively programme, whilst the other party contend that the church where those meetings are held is not the proper place for having a time even in the temperance cause—a cause which every member of the church has at heart. It is remarkable that there is not nearly as many sign the pledge now in the new order of things as there was in the old.

The will of Kennedy Davis & Son is running full capacity now. Instead of using scows for the purpose of towing their lumber to Lindsay they are using rafts. The company have purchased the steamer "Undine," lately owned by Strickland of Lakefield she will do the towing around the mill.

Pulmonary consumption, in its early stages, may be checked by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It stops the distressing cough, soothes the irritation of the throat and lungs, and induces much-needed repose. Hundreds have testified to the remarkable virtues of this preparation.

Undoubtedly the Best.

GENTLEMEN,—I wish to say that Dr. Fowlers Extract of Wild Strawberry has proved a wonderful remedy in my family. We would not be without it for twice its price. I say it is the best (not merely one of the best—but the best) medicine ever brought before the public for summer complaint or diarrhœa, either in children or adults.

PREFERENCIAL TRADE.

way. But while many of the faults of the tariff had been remedied by the new resolutions it was a source of dissatisfaction, to Nova Scotians at least, that, by way of helping the factories, the carriage works and other Ontario industries, the Government had sacrificed the great iron industries of this province by cutting down protection.

Mr. Rogers endorsed the Government's policy.

Mr. McNeill supported the amendment.

Then the committee divided and the standing vote was returned as 76 against and 42 for the amendment, but as Messrs. Richardson and Haley had come in late, their votes were struck off, leaving the vote against the amendment 74.

Mr. Foster plied the Government and the Controller of Customs for an explanation of the principles upon which he decided what countries had tariffs lower than Canada.

Mr. Paterson said he had decided that Great Britain was entitled to preference by reason of a lower tariff than Canada's. He had not decided that China, Germany and others were so entitled. He charged Mr. Foster with endeavoring to secure those preferential rates for Germany and Belgium.

Mr. Foster replied that the honorable Controller was not going to escape thus. His duty was to explain the principle upon which he reached this conclusion. Had he ascertained that China's, that Japan's, tariff was not lower than Canada? If the Controller had the courage he would give the information, and not with a great "I" tell the House what the principle was. Were the Japanese and Chinese to be admitted to competition with Canadian workmen? He waited for information. It was well enough for the Ministers opposite, in their silken seats, and with the robes of office rustling around them, all the more striking for their newness, but the workingmen of this country for whom he spoke demanded an explanation.

Mr. Paterson arose to reply. He began by saying that had he not promised to answer the extraordinary language of the honorable gentleman, his tone and manner would render reply unnecessary.

Mr. Lister: An insolent and impertinent speech.

Mr. Foster asked the chairman's ruling. It was unheard of, he said, that an honorable gentleman opposite, sitting in his seat and with his hat on, should call him insolent and impertinent.

Mr. Lister (rising excitedly): "Then I stand up with my hat off and I call you insolent and impertinent."

Amidst a regular hubbub and cries of "Shame!" Mr. Foster arose and said: "Mr. Chairman, I move that the words be taken down."

"Is it the pleasure of the committee that the words be taken down?" asked Chairman Broderr.

"That is not the procedure," interrupted Mr. Taylor, the Opposition whip, amidst renewed sensation. "The committee does not decide."

Thereupon the Clerk of the House turned up the rules and the Chairman, in obedience thereto, took down the words, "insolent and impertinent."

"And now, Mr. Chairman," said Mr. Foster, rising, "I ask you to carry out the other constitutional practice."

A hush of expectancy followed, the ominous wording of this appeal probably suggesting visions of the Tower and other mysterious means of parliamentary punishment to the minds of the uninitiated legislators. In this gruesome silence the chairman broke in with the sentence: "The rule of debate is that when words are ordered to be taken down like this the hon. member who has used the expression has a right to withdraw them."

Mr. Lister: "Under the rules of the House I withdraw the expressions." [Conservative cheers.] "If it were outside I would not." [Liberal cheers.]

Mr. Foster: "Being of slight build and light weight, I rise to ask the protection of the Chair again. When a gentleman of the height and avordupois of Mr. Lister, with eyes full of fire, looks over at me and declares if it were outside he would not take the expression back, and would still call me insolent and impertinent, I want to know if I cannot ask for the extension of your sphere of protection. Mr. Chairman, outside of this Chamber?"

Deputy Speaker: "I think the words should be withdrawn unreservedly." [Conservative cheers.]

Mr. Lister: "Well, I would not say it to the honorable gentleman outside. [Laughter.] The honorable gentleman need not be the least alarmed. Small as the honorable gentleman is in every way, I would not harm him. [Laughter.]

Mr. Paterson resented the manner in which Mr. Foster had spoken of him. He did not propose to allow him or anyone else to use insulting language towards him. Having promised to define his position, however, he would do so, dropping the I and substituting Controller of Customs instead. When the question arose as to whether or not the products of a country might be admitted under the lower schedule, it would be his duty to take the matter into consideration. He understood the duty of the Controller would be to examine the tariff of such country in all its details. He would examine the course of trade as between those countries. He would have regard to the products of those countries. He would look at the trade of the countries, and if he found the tariff of such country was as favorable as ours, he would so report to the Governor-in-Council. The ex-Finance Minister had put a great lever into the hands of Belgium and Germany in order to sustain their contention, and the manufacturers and workingmen of Canada would realize that Mr. Foster's arguments were calculated to strengthen the hands of those countries to secure admission at the lower rate. [Ministerial cheers.]

Mr. Foster pointed out that weeks ago the consuls of Germany and Belgium had raised this issue. Hence there was no force in the contention of the Controller.

Sir Charles Tupper said he thought the Government were clearly bound to inform officers of customs throughout Canada on what terms they might admit the goods of other countries.

Mr. Ives pointed out that the resolution contained no provision for the withdrawal of any country from the privileges of the reciprocal tariff, supposing such country changed its tariff and made it unfavorable to Canada.

Mr. Fielding thought it might be assumed that any country taking advantage of the clause would desire to continue it. He thought, however, the resolution was wide enough to warrant the Government in cancelling the privilege by Order-in-Council. The matter was a legal one and worthy of consideration.

Mr. Ives said he had looked at the matter closely and found in the resolution no power of retracting. He suggested that it might be better to provide for executive action in that direction.

Mr. Fielding said such a contingency as that suggested could be dealt with by Parliament, as the interval between the sessions was not long.

The committee rose and the House adjourned at 12.15 a.m.

We know that Cod-liver Oil is a fat-forming food because takers of it gain rapidly in weight under its use and the whole body receives vital force. When prepared as in Scott's Emulsion, it is quickly and easily changed into the tissues of the body. As your doctor would say, "it is easily assimilated." Perhaps you are suffering from fat starvation. You take fat enough with your food, but it either isn't the right kind, or it isn't digested. You need fat prepared for you, as in Scott's Emulsion.

ONE HONEST MAN.

DEAR EDITOR,—Please inform your readers that if written to confidentially, I will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigour, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy.

THE BASEBALL RECORD.

Toronto, May 27.

A small crowd saw the champion Maple Leafs go down before Charlie Maddock's winners yesterday afternoon over the Don by 14 to 8. The Don pitching regulars were on the sore list, and your Uncle Jeff Blakey went on the rubber. He was wild but more effective than Lee of the Leafs. It was a batsmen's day, the Torontos leading with 15 to 9. The locals took a good lead at the start, and looked like sure winners up to the sixth, when wild pitching let four men take first, and with a single and an error Guelph got four runs. In the next innings Toronto let out on Lee, and continued the cannonade up to the close, when they bagged the game, with a half-dozen to spare. Score:

Toronto	4 0 0 0 2 0 2 3 3—14
Guelph	0 0 2 0 0 4 0 2 0— 8

POOR LOSERS IN LONDON.

London, May 26.—The Hamiltons played their first championship game against the Loudons this afternoon and won with the greatest of ease. The infield of the Londons is very weak at second base. Johnson, who pitched for London, was batted freely in five innings, but errors at critical times allowed the Hamiltons to double the score they should have made. The London people were much disappointed at the poor game put up by the home team. Score:

WAS THERE FORGERY?

Gumpel, the Writing Expert, says the Imitation in the Fair Case Was Too Exact for Genuine Writing.

San Francisco, May 26.—When the trial of the Angus-Craven case was resumed, Expert Gumpel tried to demonstrate by the aid of a sheet of gelatine that his theory that the alleged Fair documents were not genuine, was correct. Taking the word, "bequeaths," as an example, the expert traced it with a stylus upon the gelatine, from the original, and rubbed the color into the lines thus formed, producing a perfect fac simile of the word as it was first written in the will. This was placed over the other "bequeaths" in the will, 12 in number, and was found to fit two-thirds exactly, and the other one-third only closely. Gumpel declared such similarity could not possibly be found in genuine writing, and was, in his opinion, indisputable evidence of forgery.

THE TRAIL OF DEATH

It begins at the Throat and ends at the Grave How many a human life is unnecessarily sacrificed.

There are many remedies on the market for the cure of consumption, but consumption, once it reaches a certain stage, cannot be cured. In professing, therefore, to do what is impossible, these remedies prove themselves to be simply humbugs.

Consumption is a disease which destroys the tissue of the lungs. Once gone, no medicine can replace that tissue. Good medicine may arrest the disease even after one lung is wholly gone, as long as the other remains sound. Once both are attacked, however, the victim is doomed.

Just why people should risk their lives to this dread disease and go to great expense afterwards to check it, it is hard to conceive. It is much easier prevented than cured. Throat troubles and severe colds are its usual forerunners. A 25-cent bottle of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine will drive these away. It is, without doubt, the best medicine for the purpose to be had anywhere.

BICYCLES WITH A MEDAL!

Sometimes in a group of veterans you see a man with a medal. An ordinary appearing man—looking like the rest except the medal. "For Valor" is the legand on the bit of bronze—somewhere in the supreme hour this man towered for above his comrades—hence the medal.

Every few days you see a group of cyclers standing on the corner. Their wheels all bright, new, shining—many look almost alike. Can you tell which will prove their valor and worth, stand trial and test successfully? We will point them out. We will show you the group of wheels with a medal. Wheels of known reputation only. We will point out without any possible mistake the wheels which won both the Dunlop Trophy Races and all other important races held in 1896. Defeated over 300 bicycles in a coasting contest, and gave the world indisputable evidence of the superiority of the Mothers

Anxiously watch declining health of their daughters. So many are cut off by consumption in early years that there is real cause for anxiety. In the early stages, when not beyond the reach of medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla will restore the quality and quantity of the blood and thus give good health. Read the following letter:

"It is but just to write about my daughter Cora, aged 19. She was completely run down, declining, had that tired feeling, and friends said she would not live over three months. She had a bad and nothing seemed to do her any good. I happened to read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and had her give it a trial. From the very first dose she began to get better. After taking a few bottles she was completely cured and her health has been the best ever since." MRS. ADDIE PECK, 12 Railroad Place, Amsterdam, N. Y.

"I will say that my mother has not stated my case in as strong words as I would have done. Hood's Sarsaparilla has truly cured me and I am now well." CORA PECK, Amsterdam, N. Y.

Be sure to get Hood's, because

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Jubilee Concert Practice.

There was an excellent practice of the juvenile chorus for the Jubilee concert on Waterloo day, June 18th, at St. John's school house last night. The attendance and enthusiasm were greater than at any previous practice. The youngsters are getting the ringing patriotic music in good shape. A few more are needed to bring the chorus up to the required 200 mark, and those who wish to enter the chorus should be present at the next practice, which will be held in St. John's school house, on Friday afternoon at 4.30.

INDEPENDENT OF THE RAILWAYS.

Monaghan People Get Special Market Rates by Steamer.

Since the railways have done away with special market rates, the farmers in the vicinity of Fraserville have made arrangements with the lake and river steamers to enable them to reach the Peterborough market. The steamer will be taken at Dangerfield on the river, and the township council of North Monaghan, in deference to the request of those interested, will open and grade the road to Dangerfield, so that it can be used by vehicles.

A WRIT FOR $50,000.

Action Taken by Mr. Jas. Fair Against Mr. John Rutherford.

A writ has been issued against Mr. John Rutherford, a wealthy bachelor of South Monaghan, by Mr. Jas. Fair, of Garden Hill, township of Hope, for breaking up his home, harbouring his wife, etc. The amount claimed is $50,000.

Mrs. Fair is a sister of Mr. Rutherford, and left her husband to keep house for the former, hence the action.

Hatton & Wood are acting for the plaintiff, and E. B. Edwards for defendant.

THE TECUMPSEHS ARE COMING.

A Great Game of Lacrosse will Take Place on June 10th.

When the Rosedales Lacrosse team made such a laughing stock of itself in endeavoring to play against the Peterboroughs on the 24th, Mr. Lem Felcher heard a good deal of talk about the poor game which Toronto sends to Peterborough. Mr. Felcher suggested having the Tecumpsehs down for a game and was told that the Peterboroughs would be delighted to have them but would be unable to pay the price which would be asked.

With characteristic generosity he then offered to make up the difference by making a side bet of $25 with the Tecumpseh Manager, which money he stated he would donate to the team if he won it.

In order to hold out still further inducements he offered to entertain the visiting team free of charge at the Palace Restaurant during their stay in town.

The offer was at once closed with and negotiations entered into with the Tecumsehs through Mr. C LeBrun, who is now in Toronto. A telegram was received at noon to-day announcing that the game had been arranged and the date of June 10th fixed. Little can be said about the Tecumsehs which is not known. Last year they won from such teams as Cornwall and the Montreal Shamrocks, and their team is just as strong this season.

Mr. Felcher is so confident that the Peterboroughs will win that he has made an additional bet of $200 on the game.

No members of the Peterboroughs should miss even one practice between now and June 10th.

The Diamond Jubilee

Is the all-absorbing topic of conservation with the loyal citizens of Peterborough. But there is a jubilee in the home of every person all the season round who takes the advantage of the high quality and low prices of goods sold by Alex. Elliott, three hundred and fifty-three George street. Whole and retail groceries, wines, liquors and cigars. You can get oranges or lemons at ten cents per doz., or four tins of vegetables for twenty-five cents. Have you tried Chase & Sanborn's unsurpassed coffee If not, why not do so? You will never use any other.

Wall and Window Decorative Sale.

The attention of all interested is directed to the announcement that the Peterborough Bookstore has put on a mark-down sale of wall papers, window blinds and cornice poles. The prices have been put down to less than cost in order to make a clearance for new jubilee goods to arrive. It sometimes pays to lose. The amputation of a leg is often necessary. A loss accepted on certain lines for a certain purpose may ensure a gain all round. If you fail to acquaint yourself with the bargains offered, you may miss the very chance you have been waiting for. This is a genuine sale.

Queen's Birthday Church Service.

Through the intervention of a dies non and pressure on our columns by the report of the holiday proceedings, reference to the beautiful service in St. John's on Sunday evening in commemoration of the Queen's Birthday, was omitted. The service was of a choral character and was admirably conducted, the congregation falling in with the choral responses very readily and heartily. The sermon preached by Rev. E. V. Stevenson was an excellent one founded on the words: "Fear God; honor the King," and set forth very effectively the double character of the duty of the Christian, of loyalty to the King of Kings and the earthly sovereign, one being as much required as the other. A an eloquent tribute was paid to the character and virtues of the Queen. The singing of the choir, under the leadership of Mr. Owens, was excellent, especially shown in the offertory anthem, which was sung with great spirit and feeling. The service altogether was a very beautiful one and worthy of the important occasion.

A DISTINGUISHED VISITOR.

The Belgian Consul-General Visits Peterborough—He Will Take a Look Over the Trent Valley Canal.

Mr. Jules Faucanral, of Ottawa, his headquarters, Belgian Consul-General in Canada, is in town. He is making an official visit of the country with a view of finding out the resources of Canada with reference to trade with Belgium. He has just visited western Ontario, having spent some time in the principal cities and towns. Mr. Faucanral visited Canada in 1892, when he was on his way to the East, where he was Belgian Consul in Indo-China. He speaks very highly of Canada and its resources, especially in the matter of agriculture. To-morrow Mr. Faucanral will take a trip over the Lakefield-Peterborough section of the Trent Valley Canal, in company with Mr. R. B. Rogers, to whom the Belgian Government was extremely courteous and obliging on the occasion of his visit to that country, looking for information in reference to lift locks, which are to be constructed on the new sections of the Trent Valley Canal. Belgium has made a great success of this class of locks on her extensive canal system, having adopted them more extensively than England, where they were invented.

THE Y.M.C.A. BOARD.

Mr. Frank Adams Appointed Treasurer—Electric Light Contract Let.

The Board of Directors of the Y.M.C.A. held a special meeting in the parlours last evening, which was well attended, Mr. Parker, the president, in the chair.

In the matter of the appointment of a physical director to assume charge of that department of the work, it was decided to communicate with Mr. Price, of Hartford, Conn. He is a first class man, and if the Association secures him, success in this department is assured.

It was decided to open the new building at as early a date as possible in the month of June. The exact date will probably be announced in a few days.

Mr. F. Adams has accepted the position of treasurer of the Association.

On behalf of the Furnishing Committee, it was announced that the contract for electric light fixtures had been let to Mr. J. H. Greer.

PERSONAL.

Miss Bertha Doughty, of Warsaw, is the guest of Miss Nellie Foster, 189 Stewart street.

Mr. E. J. Toker is in town for a few days. He sails for England on the 5th of June on a visit to friends.

Mrs. Fred Russell, of Lindsay, is visiting in town, the guest of Mrs. Wm. Scott, Gilmour street.

Mr. Richard Foster's condition is no improving any. He has great trouble in obtaining rest at night.

The Lindsay Post says: Miss A. Fawcett, of Pererborough, is at present visiting her sister, Mrs. S. G. Parkin.

Mrs. John McDonald and the Misses McDonald, Mrs. Keenan, Mrs. G. H. Hopkins, the Misses Knowles, Miss Rose Keenen and several other ladies, left for Peterborough on the 11 o'clock express to attend the Sousa band concert in the afternoon.—Lindsay Post.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

—The Court of Revision meets this evening.

—A meeting of the Charity Board is called for Monday evening at 7.30.

—The Fire, Water and Light Committee meets Monday night at 8 o'clock.

—William McNern was fined five dollars by the magistrate this morning for allowing his cow to run at large.

The EXAMINER has to thank Mr. James Kendry for copies of parliamentary papers, —the amended tariff resolution.

—Wm. Duggan, on a charge of being drunk and disorderly, was fined $2 and $6.95 costs this morning by the Magistrate

—Bert Craig and Manly Smith each contributed $4.60 to the magistrate this morning on a charge of being drunk and disorderly.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Lawn Tennis Club will be held on Friday afternoon at 8 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. rooms. Election of officers, &c.

Dr. Robinson, of the Asylum for Insane, Toronto, has written a very complimentary letter to the Madden Cereal Co., in praise of their Cereal drink. This new substitute for tea and coffee is receiving the endorsation of the leading physicians. 2d —Miss Mary Nash called at the EXAMINER office to complain that she had been assaulted on Louis street this morning. Children she says threw stones at her, and a woman beat her with a stick of a broom, and besides her little dog was assaulted. She has invoked the aid of the police, and as the matter is, so to speak, sub judice, any comment is inadmissable.

—The patients of Toronto General Hospital receive their cup of Cereal now. The medical staff consider it a good nerve restorer, useful in stomach troubles as well as being a perfect substitute for tea and coffee. Madden Cereal is for sale at all leading grocers. 2d —About a year ago the ratepayers of Bowmanville voted on a by-law to grant a bonus of $8,000 to a rubber factory upon condition that the factory would commence operations on 1st Jan., 1897, but as the company failed to get started at that date the by-law lapsed. The town council submitted a second by-law to the ratepayers to grant $6,000 as a bonus, the factory to start 1st August, 1897. Polling took place last Saturday, and the by-lay was carried by 41 majority, there being 425 legal votes cast, 334 being necessary to carry the by-law. Only 15 voted against it. Business men and citizens generally worked hard in the interests of the by-law.

FROM THE FAR EAST.

A Letter to His Parents from Rev. W C. White Formerly of Norwood.

Rev. W. C. White who left Toronto about the 20th of January to engage in missionary work in China has reached his destination in safety. In a letter to his parents in Norwood he says:

We stopped over in Japan for nearly three days altogether and then going on to China reached Shanghai on Feb. 19th. From there I went down to Foo Chow by another boat and then came up here to Ku Cheng with Mr. Boyd who is the missionary here and whom I knew in Toronto. We came by a native launch for 70 miles and then had to walk thirty miles up hill and down, because the district is very mountainous.

There are no roads here but only little paths which are for the most part paved with rough stones which makes it very hard in walking. They have no horses or carts here but men (coolies) carry all the loads. It took us all day to walk it and at night my feet were blistered, but I am having a good rest now. I expect to stay here for a couple of weeks longer and then have to go four days journey over the mountains to where I have to stay until the fall.

This is the place, in fact the very house, where those people lived who were killed about two years ago. There is no danger now though and the people cannot make enough of one. The place here, in fact, all the country of this province, is very beautiful.

There are mountains and rivers and waterfalls, and such lovely palms and trees and fruits.

At present it is the rainy season and raining nearly every day. It keeps up for about three or four months. All is green and nice, but raw in the atmosphere. It is a damp cold. The heat they say is a very moist heat and is the same all the year round.

TRUANCY.

It is Reported to be Deplorably Prevalent.

There is a statute requiring the regular attendance of children of school age at school. Complaints have been made to the EXAMINER of the prevalence of truancy amongst the boys of our public and other schools. A gentleman says he often sees groups of scheming truants idling on the streets in school hours. When asked why they do not go to school, the polite answer is received, "We don't have to." And this is politeness and refinement refined, compared to the language these boys will acquire if their education is neglected through their truant habits. This first, and to them and others, apparently nominal, breach of the law will open the downward way to vicious courses. With unimproved minds and no fixed habits of reading, these boys have no internal resources of amusement or enjoyment. Their vacant minds are thus clear to receive evil impressions from the outside sources, from which they will be tempted to seek amusement and relaxation. The public safety demands that the law in regard to truancy be closely enforced. Not only are lessons of a literary character learned in the the schools, but discipline and a spirit of self-restraint have their effect on the pupils. Those who do not learn these lessons in early life, seldom learn them afterwards. Contempt and disregard of small laws lead inevitably to contempt of laws whose infraction brings more immediate and more serious consequences. It is, therefore, easy to see how criminals are made from our now clever and unpolluted Canadian boys, if they are allowed the dangerous liberty of truancy. The genius of modern criminal reform is prevention. To prevent the making of criminals is comparatively easy and practicable; the reclamation of criminals is, in the majority of cases, impossible and impracticable, under the appliances and so-called remedies now available.

The Life of Dr. Chase.

As a compiler of Chase's Receipt Book, his name is familiar in every household in the land, while as a physician his works on simple formulas left an imprint of his name that will be handed down from generation to generation. His last great medicine, in the form of his Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, is having the large public patronage that his Ointment, Pills and Catarrh Cure are having. Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is especially adapted for all Bronchial and Asthmatic troubles.

$10.38 Bedroom Set.

This is the price of our cheap bedroom set. It is well made, nicely finished and has a good mirror in the dresser. There may be lower priced sets, but none better value. Then see our $14 and $16 sets. They are worth 20 per cent. more, but we give you the benefit of close buying in large quantities. It is only necessary to see these goods to appreciate the bargains in them. All other lines of furniture equally good value. CLEGG'S Furniture Warerooms, 425 and 427 George street.

THE Y. M. C. A. GYMNASIUM FUND CONTEST.

The Blues Bound to Win.

The Blues lead to-day by 16½ points.

Yesterday the Reds added 5½ points to their score and the Blues 5½.

The hardest work of the contest on both sides yet remains to be done between now and the 4th of June.—Only 6 days left.

Yesterday the Reds hinted that their glory would be during the last 24 hours. The swan always sings her best song at the last and then dies.

It will be the final report of the Blues that will accomplish the grand final for the Reds.

Now is the time for young men to come to the rescue if they want to have the new gynasium the best in Canada.

GOLF.

A match of mixed foursomes takes place to-day on the links at Burnhams's Point. This invigorating game is becoming popular. It is a splendid exercise, and is a game in which skill more than chance is the successful element. The putting greens having been placed in proper order, the game may now be played "according to Hoyle." One of the chief features of golf is the country played over, which ought at least to be three or four miles long. The setting of the game may be made most picturesque. Howevever, in default of a better course, the golf club is very glad to take advantage of Mrs. Burnham's kindness in placing the Point at the service of the club.

LACROSSE.

The public will have quite a treat in store for them on Tuesday, June 8th, if arrangements can be made to bring the Orillias here on that date, at the team is reported to be in fine shape this year. On the Queen's Birthday, Orillia won from the Elms of Toronto by 9 goals to 2.

Correspondence is now being carried on with the Young Capitals, of Ottawa, with the view to bringing them here on June 22nd.

Jim McCabe was out for his first practice last evening, and Walter Phelan turns out to-morrow night. The team will be very strong this year and the prospects were never brighter.

THE WHEEL.

Mr. R. M. Roy has offered to photograph the Victorias on the occasion of their next run.

The Victoria Bicycle club held its first run last evening when forty-one members turned out, and with the bugle band at their head, rode to Nassau and back. The trip out was made on this side of the river and the bridge was crossed at Nassau and the return trip made on the other side. This is undoubtedly the largest club run which has been held in Peterborough in many years.

Mr. Will Lytle has gone out on the telephone line near Port Perry, where he will remain until he leaves for the west in the fall. Will's presence will be greatly missed on the local bicycle track.

METHODIST WOMEN MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

IT IS NOW IN SESSION IN THE GEORGE STREET CHURCH

The Delegates in Attendance—Full Text of the Districts Organizers' Report—Public Meeting To-night to be Addressed by Mrs. Grange of Napanee.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the district is in session to-day in the George street Methodist Church. Mrs. Sherin, of Lakefield, is presiding and at the morning session the following delegates were in attendance:

Bailliboro.—Mrs. Lightfoot, Mrs. Sketch, Mrs. Hutchinson, Mrs. Dawson.

Bridgenorth.—Mrs. Kelly, Mrs. Udy, Mrs. Bell, Mrs. Clair, Miss Udy.

Lakefield.—Mrs. Madill, Mrs. Robinson, Mrs. Edmonds, Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Simpson.

Lakefield Band.—Miss Stinson.

Lakefield Circle.—Miss Cox.

Millbrook.—Mrs. Cummings, Miss Nugent.

Peterborough, George street.—Mrs. Syer, Miss Greer, Mrs. Stubbs, Mrs. Payne, Mrs. Shields, Mrs. Mann, Mrs. Carlisle, Mrs. Rutherford, Miss Meharry, Mrs. Young, Mrs. Hamilton, Mrs. Hart, Mrs. Whiten.

Peterborough, Charlotte street.—Mrs. Jory, Mrs. Moore.

Mark street.—Mrs. Wand, Mrs. Hambridge, Mrs. Matchett, Mrs. Cleaves, Mrs. Cooper, Miss Smith, Miss Beer.

Pontypool.—Mrs. Sexsmith.

Warsaw.—Mrs. Payne, Mrs. Blight, Miss Wasson, Miss Lukey.

The opening devotional exercises were led by Mrs. Jory of the Charlotte street Methodist Church after which the roll was called by Mrs. Meharry, District Secretary. The Auxiliaries and Mission Bands then reported after which Mrs. Sherin, District Organizer, read her annual report as appended:

ORGANIZERS REPORT.

A seasoning of reckoning is profitable for societies well as for individuals, and as with individuals, so with societies, results rarely are fully satisfactory. For while our written reports are indeed an index to the minds of our women who can tell what the Lord has wrought in and through us by His Holy Spirit while engaged in this work. We rejoice that there is no decline in our work. Here I am reminded of an incident I once read. When the Free Church of Scotland sent out its first expedition to Africa it became necessary when they had reached a certain point on one of the rivers, on account of the accumulation of debris, to disembark, take their vessel to pieces, and carry it in sections overland to the clear waters of Lake Nyassa, where they could again set sail. The manager of the expedition appealed to one of the chiefs for assistance, impressing upon him the necessity of choosing only responsible persons to do this work for if in its transportation, any part of it should be lost, the whole enterprise would fail. The chief responded to the call by sending fifty women, who came, many of them, from great distances, bringing their food with them for their journey. The vessel was divided, made into bundles, and each woman bore upon her shoulders her part of this great work. For seventy miles, through the thickets and tangled grass, they went over the ragged rocks, and around the projecting cliffs, up an ascent of several hundred feet, and when they had reached their distinct place, and laid their burdens down, it was found that not a nail or a screw had been lost by the way.

For many years the question, "How shall we teach more effectively our heathen sisters" occupied the thoughts and filled the hearts of those who lived in the full light of Christian land. How shall we bring them out from under the shadows of false customs, and remove from them the superstitions of a false religion, by which their lives are darkened, and give to them the gospel of peace?

It was a peculiar work, and needed peculiar wisdow, patience, and tact. Many were the prayers that went up to the throne of grace from burdened souls that the way might be opened. God heard these prayers, and answered the call by giving it into the hands of the women—the Christian women of our land. Gladly they responded; and with eager hands they lifted the burdens laid at their feet. Up the steep ascent which every new movement must take, through many dark thickets of discouragements, around the projecting cliffs raised by those who saw no need for woman's work, through the tangled brush and over the jagged rocks of all difficulties, they patiently, prayerfully went on their way.

Your seventy miles are not all traversed but as our African sisters sat down by the wayside to rest and refresh themselves on their journey, so you have turned aside, for a season, to talk over the way you have come, and rest yourselves in each others sympathy and council.

My dear sisters, we who have had the privilege while in Lindsay at our branch meeting, of hearing Miss McDonald, cannot soon forget her burning words, when she urged the last locked room, and cupboard, and secret chamber of our imagery and idolatry to be thrown open to Him, and let Him sweep out all the vile things which have been hoarded and hidden. How He urged us to give him the keys of our hearts and let the whole home be surrendered up to the Lord Jesus, and the whole government of our little empire within transferred to His shoulders. Let us look for a moment at that crown of all promises in John 14, 23: "If a man love Me, he will keep My words, and my Father will love him and we will come unto Him and make our abode with Him." Christ ought to be and may be, on the throne of our inner being, Master, Lord and sovereign. It would be difficult to over-estimate the enlargement that has come to the woman of our society through this work. This work for Christ I know has become deeply rooted in the hearts of many of the women of our church. Spiritual life has been developed, intellectual powers improved and mental visions quickened to recognize the world as the Lord's vineyard, and the heathens as neighbours.

The weeks and months have glided so swiftly by that we can hardly realize that we are again called upon to gather up the work of the year in the form of a report. In the review of the past year, as given in the reports, we find much of success as well as failure. Through the former we receive encouragement, and the lessons that have been presented by the latter will, we trust, prove to us stepping stones to better things in the future.

We are very thankful that, notwithstanding the continued financial depression, that our work still advances and we note with gratitude a growing interest in almost all our Auxiliaries. In our thankoffering meetings, which have become a regular institution in our Auxiliaries, they are not only a means of stimulating our members to greater zeal, but add greatly to the contributions, and we were pleased that this year our special thankoffering should be for the Indians of our own Dominion. When definite information was given to a work that ought to be so near our hearts, surely our marching orders are to carry the Gospel to every creature, beginning at our Jerusalem.

If other lands cry for help, our own makes as eloquent an appeal. We do not lack even in this work the reflex influence for good. Let our faith and zeal keep pace with the growth of the cause. In this district the bales of clothing which the Indians can appreciate and which appeals to the side of their nature, which is not dormant.

The proof they bring of a thoughtful and intelligent sympathy comes home to them in a most convincing way and the soil is prepared for the sowing of the Gospel seed. Our missionaries speak very gratefully of the clothing, Christmas presents, and supplies sent them. And we are grateful for the privilege to help in this work, for this mass of Paganism existing in the centre of our Dominion is a menace to its peace and prosperity. These Thank Offering meetings lead us to combine the privilidge that is ours of giving systematically and proportionately. There is an awakening in this subject. Let us be seed sowers in this department. Let us magnify our calling. Our object is the conversion of our Christain women to the Christain standard of giving, which when gained will revolutionize the power of the church in putting into it the financial ability to accomplish every inspired enterprise, when burdens will be equalized, and empty treasuries will be a thing of the past. We will not anticipate the work of this afternoon along this line, but we are very grateful that the Auxiliaries have given this subject much of their prayerful thought. Information is all that is needed.

We are glad to notice a hungering for knowledge. The letter leaflet contains a source of interest to our Auxiliaries, and we feel the time has come when there should be an enlargement of our leaflet. Surely none of our members can afford to do without the leaflet, and its helpful influence. We cannot work to any purpose in any walk of life if we are in ignorance of the work. No society can be a live one, which from time to time does not make itself acquainted with the work of our Missionaries. These letters are for you, and any member who feels indifferent whether she reads them or not cannot be a help either to the society, or a living worker in her Master's cause.

Let me ask have the Auxiliaries given the Bands under their care the proper oversight? We earnestly urge upon you to take a deeper interest in the Mission Bands. They should have our fostering care. Let us keep up the bond of sympathy between the Bands and Auxiliaries which there ought to be. Don't let us forget that we are parts of one great whole, that we are banded together for one object to help to win "the world for Christ" and that the interests of the one should be the interest of the other; we should try in every possible way to train up the young in missionary thought and effort. We have no more sacred charge than the children. When we think that the church is not allowed to remain in undisputed possession of the children. Never was the piper more earnestly endeavouring to beguile them away from her care than today. And fair scenes and bright pleasures are held up before the children and young people. What shall be our attitude while all this is going on? Let us be faithful in voicing our message and proclaiming that name which is music in the sinners' ears. Cannot we strike a higher keynote? Let us seek for grace that we may present to them Christ's service in all its winsomeness.

Your organizer has endeavoured to organize Auxiliaries in the unorganized stations by writing and sending literature and urging them to call a meeting, and only for that most cheerless word but, we might have gone. In some cases they would but the people are scattered and could not come together. In other cases they would be pleased to but for Ladies' Aid or church debts or so on.

It is not such as these whose final "but" in grief of spirit will be, "but when saw we thee and hungered and did not minister unto Thee?" Let our prayers ascend that the hearts of the people may be opened, that they may no longer shut out of their hearts and churches the sweetness and healthfulness of a world-wide sympathy which can only spring from knowledge.

In this district we have nine auxiliaries with 186 members, raising last year $321.99. As we look forward to the work of a new year, we feel and know that there is much land to be possessed. Surely this is a perfectly practicable thing. If only each woman now interested would do her best to interest one or two more. We ought to double our membership and receipts just in this way, by personal, persevering prayerful effort. Who will do it? We have learned to think, I fear, that every reference to missions means a collection, and have braced against it with startling unanimity, and even our ministers have made this fatal mistake, and it is really true we have failed to follow our Master, and so lost the special manifestations of His grace. Pray for your workers, your President, your secretary, your treasurer; pray for the members of the church who are not members of the Missionary Society, and then answer your own prayers as far as you can. The promise is ours "Be strong and work; for I am with you saith the Lord of Hosts." As we go back to our work, there are wonderful possibilities before each worker, and when combined what could not the members of this Peterborough district do. We trust that the Divine Master, according to His promise, will be with us to the close of our convention, and His blessing, which maketh rich, may rest upon us, by His Holy Spirit inspiring the thought, dictating the word, giving wisdom in all we do for future work, so that all may redound to His glory. Let our watchword for the coming year be, "Whatsoever ye do, do it heartily as to the Lord, and not unto men, knowing that of the Lord ye shall receive the reward of the inheritance, for ye serve the Lord Christ." Let us go from this convention cultivating the habit of knowing about missions. The habit of giving. Let us get a new conception of stewardship, learn to recognize all we have as God's because we are His. We need the habit of praying. Prayer has turned every crisis of the kingdom. How long it takes us to learn that the shortest way to reach our fellowman is by way of the Throne of Grace. What motive power in the church is so neglected?

We need the habit of loving. Unselfish benevolence is a lesson to be learned only at the Cross. I have thought, looking on the depressions of these time, and the hindrances to missionary success, that God was saying to us in the same voice with which Christ spoke to the Apostles—"Tarry ye till the Spirit comes." Let us set ourselves to overcome the hindrances in our own hearts; let us be much in earnest, and may God answer our heart's longings, and fill us with more love for Him and His work,

LAKEFIELD.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Miss Walker, of Peterborough, was in the village on Tuesday.

Mr. Bertram and wife, of Harrowsmith, were in the village, they are visiting their daughter Mrs. Perry at the North Smith cheese factory.

Mr. Garnet Green has removed his photographic studio to the rooms above Mr. Harper's store, and is now better prepared than ever to execute good work.

The steam drill is again at work on the canal, last week they were working at the foot of Caroline street, but this week it has been taken down near Mr. S. Nelson's woods. It is expected that Mr. Fitzgerald, jr., will be at work there with a large gang of men making three gangs excavating on the Lakefield cut.

Mr. and Mrs. Gale returned home on Tuesday from their trip to England.

Mr. Clarence Bell, of Toronto, was in the village on the Queen's Birthday.

Mrs. Wakeley, of Huntsville, is the guest of her mother Mrs. Tanner.

Mrs. Conroy, of Peterborough, is visiting her mother Mrs. Chamberlain.

Mr. George Guillett, M.P., of Cobourg, spent a few days last week at his cottage.

The Golden City made a good run up the lakes on Monday, the Queen's Birthday. She had on quite a number of Peterborough and Lakefield people who were up looking after their cottages, to see how they had come through the winter.

The picnic held here by St. Paul's Roman Catholic Church on the Queen's Birthday was a great success. There was a large attendance, a beautiful day, and everything passed off pleasantly and to the satisfaction of all.

For clothing, boots and shoes, parasols, blouses, wrappers, etc., you will find an excellent stock at rock-bottom prices, at R. Graham & Son's.

Mrs. Wm. Crowe, of Lakefield, has returned home after spending a few days with friends in Bobcaygeon.

Miss Hattie Northey of Young's Point, is the guest of Mrs. Wm. Crowe of Lakefield.

COURT OF REVISION.

The Court of Revision on the Assessment Roll for 1897 met in the town hall on Tuesday evening, the 25th inst.

Two appeals from Messrs. R. C. Strickland and Geo. B. Hilliard for two high as sessment were heard. In both cases the assessment confirmed.

The roll as corrected was confirmed and the court adjourned sine die.

BOYS' BRIGADE CHURCH PARADE.

The Lakefield Boys' Brigade attended service at St. John's church last Sunday morning and listened to a splendid sermon preached for their benefit by the incumbent, Rev. Geo. Warren. The boys to the number of some 60, mustered at the town hall and marched to church, led by the old Lakefield band, whose ex-members kindly offered their services, and who, after service played them back to the hall. The streets were crowded with our citizens and many from the country, who expressed great praise of the marching and appearance of the boys, as well as the care and attention given to their training by their drill instructor, Lieut. Cockburn.

Magistrate Hull held a court in the town hall on Monday afternoon to mete out justice to two young rowdies from town who, with two companions, who escaped, concluded they could run Lakefield because they were drunk, and who to their sorrow were landed in the coop by Constable Doidge.

Nervous Prostration

Complete Recovery by the Use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"Some years ago, as a result of too close attention to business, my health failed. I became weak, nervous, was unable to look after my interests, and manifested all the symptoms of a decline. I took three bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, began to improve at once, and gradually increased my weight from one hundred and twenty-five to two hundred pounds. Since then, I and my family have used this medicine when needed, and we are all in the best of health, a fact which we attribute to Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I believe my children would have been fatherless to-day had it not been for Ayer's Sarsaparilla, of which preparation I cannot say too much."—H. O. Hinson, Postmaster and Planter, Kincaid's, S. C.

HOW EASY IT IS.

How easy it is to spoil a day!
The thoughtless words of a cherished friend,
The selfish work of a child at play,
The strength of a will that will not bend,
The slight of a comrade, the scorn of a foe,
The smile that is full of bitter things—
They all can tarnish its golden glow,
And take the grace from its airy wings.

How easy it is to spoil a day
By the force of a thought that we did not check!
Little by little we mold the clay,
The little flaws may the vessel wreck,
The careless waste of a white-winged hour,
That held the blessings we long had sought,
The sudden loss of wealth and power—
And lo! the day is with ill inwrought.

How easy it is to spoil a life!
And many are spoiled ere well begun—
In home light darkened by sin and strife,
Or downward course of a cherished one;
By toil that robs the form of its grace,
And undermines till health gives way;
By the peevish temper, the frowning face,
The hopes that go and the cares that stay.

A day is too long to be spent in vain,
Some good should come as the hours go by;
Some tangled maze may be made more plain,
Some lowered glance may be raised on high,
And life is too short to spoil like this;
If only a prelude, it may be sweet;
Let us bind together its threads of bliss,
And nourish the flowers around our feet.

THIRD DAY AT WOODBINE.

Races Filled Well, the Track Was Fast and the Events Were Hotly Contested

Toronto, May 26.

The track was fast, the weather fine and the crowd of regulars enjoyed first-class racing on the O. J. C.'s third day at Woodbine Park. The races were won by the two favorites, three 4 to 1 shots and Lavrock at 6 to 1. The fields were again large, except in the third race, in which only three started, and Wicker won at prohibitive odds.

An even dozen faced the starter in the opening event. Stonemason, the favorite, got away sixth, but after working up to second place fell away and finished in the rear. Arlington had a splendid position at the start, soon took the lead and was never afterwards headed, although he had to fight it out with Wadsworth in the final eighth.

With the Seagram lot out Wicker had it all his own way in the second race, Leaning Lady ran poorly and deserved last place.

Zeal looked like the winner in the third race for three-quarters of the journey, when Distant Shot and Kapanga colt came along. King Bob's filly being only beaten out of the place by a neck. The winner ran a great race and had a lot left.

The steeplechase furnished a little sensation. Lady Lightfoot was made favorite by the public, who expected a ride for the money, and when the gentleman jock from Washington returned after his miserable attempt he was roundly hooted in front of the stand. Clark was the best of the others. He ran out at the timers' stand, when Cockatoo passed him, but Mr. Stone easily made up the lost ground, and, although the two raced the stretch on nearly equal terms, Clark had to lengths to the good at the finish. Lady Lightfoot started off full of running.

Lavrock furnished the biggest surprise of the day in the two-year-old race, which several good ones. The Hoodlie filly got away well, but could not beat off Wicker and just at the finish, winning in a drive, Rose was third ten lengths away, and Elle Lavrock Dance fourth. The victory was well received.

It would look peculiar if the day passed without Mr. Seagram landing at least one winner, and Patron captured the closing event in splendid fashion, nipping Sea Foot at the Judges' stand by a neck, due credit to the splendid ride of Lewis. The others were well strung out.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK MARKET.

The live stock market had a little more life in it than last Friday, owing to some parties wanting cattle to fill space on some of the steamers. On the whole, the market was dull, and bitter complaints could be heard on every side from dealers, who have had to take less money than they paid the farmer.

There were 50 carloads of live stock, made up as follows: 800 cattle, 178 hogs, 80 calves, 150 sheep and lambs and 20 milk cows.

Joseph Gould of Boston was on the market, and bought several carloads of extra good cattle for export. Brown & Snell of Galt bought a few loads for the same purpose. Good export cattle brought 4¼c to 4½c, and a few extra choice sold at 4 3-5c per lb. Butchers' cattle sold at 3½c to 4c per lb. There was a demand for heavy feeders' cattle that would weigh from 1100 to 1200 lbs., to put on grass. Such cattle would bring 3½c to 4c per lb.

Cows sold from $20 up to $35, but good ones would have brought $45.

The bulk of the cattle were for export.

The following were the shipments of cattle yesterday per C.P.R.: Halligan & Delorme, 12 carloads; Mr. Montreuil, 1 carload; J. J. & W. Dunn, 8 carloads; and per G.T.R. on Saturday: J. Aikins, 6 carloads; W. H. Bean, 7 carloads; W. Levack, 8 carloads; J. & C. Coughlin, 3 carloads; J. A. Hathaway, 5 carloads. On Monday: Featherston & Mayne, 3 carloads; C. Halligan, 3 carloads; J. C. Coughlin, 1 carload; and yesterday: Jas. Aikins, 8 carloads; Brown & Snell, 7 carloads.

W. H. Stacey shipped a double-decked car of hogs to the Lang Packing Company, per C.P.R.

BY THE BABY'S BED.

Of what is the baby thinking
As he smiles so, in his sleep?
Of the mother-kisses given
In the silence sweet and deep?
Or the land he has lately come from,
Where the souls of the little ones stay
Till into our earthly keeping
God gives them some sweet day?

It may be an angel whispers
In the little dreamer's ear
Some message of tender meaning
That we can never hear.
It may be hears an echo
Of the songs that angels sing,
As they float down the starry spaces
With the dreams God bids them bring

Dream on while you may, my baby—
While your soul is free from stain
As the lilies are, when summer
Has washed them pure with rain.
Only a year from Heaven!
God keep your soul so white
That you always can talk with angels,
As I think you do to-night.

I fear for the future, baby,
And what it may bring to you—
So easy it is to falter,
So hard it is to be true!
O, feet that in sin may wander,
O, soul that may go astray,
If mother might only lead you
Into the one right way!

Dear angel, whose loving whisper
He hears in dreams to-night,
Watch over this child and guide him
In paths that are paths of right.
Walk ever, I pray, beside him,
Until God calls him home,
Then lead back to the heaven
From which he has lately come.

Five Attempts at Assassination.

Although the Queen, from the time of her succession to the throne, has enjoyed to the fullest extent the respect and affection of her subjects, no less than five attempts, all, fortunately, unsuccessful, have been made to assassinate her—the first in June, 1840, by a crazy lad named Oxford; another in May, 1842, by John Francis, who was sentenced to be hanged for the offense, but the sentence was commuted to transportation for life. The third was in July of the same year, by one J. W. Bean, whose only punishment was eighteen months in prison; the fourth, in 1849 by William Hamilton, an Irishman, who was transported for seven years; the fifth in April, 1882, by Roderick McLean, a Scotchman, who was ordered to be confined during Her Majesty's pleasure, and is, we believe, still in prison.

As a Matchmaker.

The Empress Eugenie used to say: "Queen Victoria is a great matchmaker." She has certainly justified the title, for she implicitly believes in the family. They say that one of her recent efforts to make up an alliance between a lady and gentleman of the court was not received by the lady chiefly interested with the enthusiastic approval which the Queen had been accustomed to expect. The contumacious damsel quoted scripture: "He who marries doeth well, but he who doth not marry doeth still better." "Well, my child," replied the Queen, "you must be content with doing well, and let those who can do better."

Making the baby happy is a womanly woman's best pleasure. It is easy to make a healthy baby happy. Such a baby is born happy. Smiles and dimples are as natural to it as fretfulness is to a puny, sickly child. It rests with every woman whether her baby shall be healthy and happy, or puny and miserable. If during the period preceding maternity a woman takes proper care of the organs upon which the perpetuation of the race depends, she insures the health of herself and child. It is easy to do this. The proper medicine is at hand. Over 90,000 women have testified in writing to the value of it.

The organs that make wifehood and motherhood possible are directly acted upon by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes them strong and healthy. It cures all weakness and disease. It prepares for maternity. It does away with the discomforts of the expectant period. It insures baby's health and makes its advent easy and almost painless. Druggists sell more of the "Favorite Prescription" than of all other similar medicines combined.

"I am anxious to add my testimonial to your 'Favorite Prescription,'" writes Mrs. C. G. Braudon, of Fort Grant, Graham Co., Ariz. "I had been using the 'Prescription' for several months previous to my confinement, and I am sure I have been benefited greatly from the time I commenced to use it. I feel fully as well as ever I did in my life. Up to the very day when the baby was born I did all my own housework, and during confinement I had not the least symptoms of fever. The 'ordeal' was nothing to what I expected."

The woman who owns a copy of Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser probably does not realize at once all that she gave in exchange for it. There was the price of $1.50. That paid for the large volume of 1008 pages. Then, as day by day she looked into these pages, one by one she gave away her anxieties for her family's health. She learned how to make her children well. In the chapters especially treating of her own weaknesses, she learned the causes and the cures. 680,000 copies have been sold at $1.50 each. Now an edition in paper covers, will be distributed FREE. Send 21 one-cent stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., to cover the cost of customs and mailing only. Send 50 stamps for cloth binding.

A FAITHFUL FRIEND.

A rough, brown dog sat at the very edge of the tumble-down breakwater. He was looking steadily seaward. He was evidently old, and he was scarred by many fights; but his sunken mouth, from which he had lost many teeth, showed that he would not fight again victoriously.

He was gaunt from a lifetime of insufficient food, but yet he had the air of a dog who is loved.

Sometimes he turned from his gaze at the sea and glanced behind him at the child sitting in a wheelbarrow a few feet away. Every time he glanced thus he slightly wagged his stump of a tail, and the child smiled, or she said in a soft voice:

"Good Boss."

And then Boss wagged harder; but he could not give much attention to his companion, for his whole heart was with that bent old woman who was up to her waist in the water by the outermost ledge. It was there that the Irish moss grew, and at low tide the woman could gather it. She thrust her arm down to the shoulder each time for her handful of moss. She was wet, sodden wet, save for a small place across her back.

She had a man's straw hat fastened by a small rope tightly under her chin. Her face looked a hundred years old, it was in truth 70—old, seamed, and leathery; and it was a face you loved to look at.

Every few moments she raised her head and put her dripping hand up over her eyes as she turned toward the land; she was at first dazzled by the glare of the water. When she looked up thus the little girl in the wheelbarrow always waved her hat; then a dim, beautiful smile would come in the faded eyes.

"It's jest a-doin' of her lots of good," she would say aloud. "I'm awful glad I wheeled her down. I wish now I'd brought her down oftener during this summer."

Twice as she looked shoreward she called out shrilly:

"Boss, you take care of her; won't you, Boss?"

Then Boss pricked up his ears and shook his tail, and the girl laughed and said she guessed she'n' Boss could git along first-rate.

"We're use't to it; ain't we, Boss?"

When she said this the dog got up, came to her side, gave her a swift lick across the face, then hurried back and sat down on the edge of the planks again.

Once the woman out in the water slipped and fell splashing, and Boss jumped up, whining in a piteous quiver, and would not be comforted even when the child said soothingly:

"Never mind, old fellow!"

But when the woman floundered to her feet again, and cried: "All right!" the dog sat down. Still he frequently gave a little whine under his breath. He was thinking that this was the first summer that he had not gone out mossing with his dearest friend, and he could not understand why he was so stiff and clumsy that he was unable to run over the slippery rocks and keep close to her, nosing the moss she picked up, poking over lobsters and crabs, and seeing that nothing happened to her. Something was the matter with his legs, and with the whole of him, somehow, and he could not get over the rocks. Was it the same thing that kept him from gnawing bones? And he liked them just as well as ever. He noticed that the young dog who lived down the road could crack bones without any trouble. It was all very mysterious.

When he lay in the sun near where the moss was drying, dozing and snapping at the flies, he often looked as if he were thinking of all these things.

And what did the girl's grandmother mean only yesterday when she stroked his head and said:

"Poor old Boss! You're gittin' old, jes' 's I be. 'Twon't be no kind of a place round this house 'thout Boss." He had nuzzled his head under her hand when she had spoken thus, but he didn't understand.

How pleasant this bright day was, with its sunny, gentle east wind—a wind that brought sweet, salt smells from the ocean.

The child sniffed the embracing odor and stretched out her hands, smiling happily.

To be sure, she could not walk, but granny often wheeled her to the breakwater, where she could see the moss gathered.

It was a low course of tides, and now the water had gone far out, so that one could go to the ledges where the moss grew.

Granny had no boat, as most of the gossers had. There were some boats now farther along, but little Molly could see the men put their long-handled rakes down and draw them up full. She knew that these men took more money than her grandmother, but then she didn't know much about money. Some of the neighbors often said that they themselves could not afford to keep a dog. When they said this granny shut her lips tight, and the next chance she had she would stroke the dog's head.

"I guess they don't know much about a dog," she told Molly, "'n' I guess 's long's we've anything to eat Boss'll have some of it. Eh, old feller?"

Molly sank back on her pillow in the barrow. She amused herself by almost closing her eyes so that the sea seemed to come up nearer and crimple in sparks of fire. Then she would open her lids wide, and the great stretch of water would flash fearfully on her vision. She played at this for a long time, and always in front of her was the dog; she had grown up in the conviction that all was well if he was near.

Soon everything grew deliciously dim and then clear, and the salt smell was sweeter, and she was walking over the hard sand as straight as anybody, holding her head up strongly. She did not know she was asleep. It was real to her that she was walking.

Suddenly she sat upright in her barrow, clutching the sides of it. Boss was not there. Had he barked? Or had some one called? She looked off the ledge. She saw Boss leaping frantically over the wooly rocks. He went as if he were a young dog he went like a creature possessed. He seemed not to leap, but to fly from one rock to another, over the still, green pools.

Molly could only see the dog, and, beyond him, shining water. Where was granny?

The child tried to scream, but she felt as if in a nightmare, and could not make a sound.

Oh, there was something down between the rocks, on the far side of the ledge! It was there that Boss was going. And there was the mosser in his boat, putting the rake down just as he had been doing when the child had gone to sleep. For an instant she thought she was dreaming. But Boss was gone, and—yes, there was something among the rocks it was granny's hat sticking up, and it did not move.

Molly tried again to scream, and it was if her heart would break in the trying. Her voice was only a hoarse kind of a whisper.

But there! Boss had reached his friend. He tried to pull her out. Between his lips he barked, he howled—was he screaming? Was his heart breaking also?

At last the mosser out there held his rake just above the water and gazed toward the shore, listening. The wind was off the sea, and sounds from the land did not come clearly.

The man saw little Molly Towne on the breakwater. Had she cried out, and was that the Towne dog carrying on so on the rocks?

Boss was down by the still figure that was lying in the shallow pool. He was struggling with it, making frantic efforts to pull it from the water.

Outlined on the breakwater, against the dazzle of the blue sky, the man saw Molly rise up in her barrow, as if she would walk and then fell back again.

"Good God!" he cried. He dropped the rake into the water, caught up his oars, and rowed to the ledge. All the time he rowed he saw old Mrs. Towne's motionless form lying there and the dog trying to help her.

As he stepped out of his boat and began slipping and jumping over the rocks the woman moved and raised her head. He saw her reach out her hand to the dog; he saw the dog throw himself down and lick her face eagerly.

"That you, Jim Stowell?" she asked. "I guess I've broke my leg. I slipped. I've mossed 20 year, 'n' I never slipped to speak of before."

She spoke tremblingly, but with pride. "I s'pose I've fainted, or something."

"I'll git you right into the boat," said Jim Stowell, briskly, "'n' take you home in no time."

Boss stood close by watching the man.

It was not easy to get her into the boat, and she winced and grew pale, but she helped all she could and made no sound.

When she was in at last Jim took up his oars to go round to the sandy landing. There stood Boss shivering on a rock. All at once he appeared older than ever; it seemed as if he could hardly stand.

"Take him, too," said his mistress.

"No, let him walk."

"I want you to take him, I tell you," almost fiercely. "He's too old 'n' stiff to walk on the rocks."

"Old!" with a laugh. "You oughter seen him goin' it after you!"

The man began to row. Tears came into Mrs. Towne's eyes. Her voice was choked.

"You've got to take him," she said, "or you needn't take me."

"Oh, if you feel like that"—Jim lifted the dog into the boat, and Boss crouched down by his friend, who put her hand on him. He leaned more and more heavily on her: his eyes were fixed on her face.

Lying there on the wet moss in the bottom of the boat she could look, without moving, into the dog's face. He slowly put his tongue out on he fingers. He pressed yet closer.

With a curiously quick movement she managed to draw him nearer. She bent her head to his head.

"He lays too hard on ye!" said Jim. "Lemme pull him away."

"Don't touch him!" she cried, in a sharp voice.

The next moment she said hoarsely: "He's dead!"—From Boss and Other Dogs.

How an Empress Reduced Her Weight

Extreme plumpness would be avoided if the rocking-chair were given up. If women were less lazy they would not grow so stout. No woman can reduce her flesh who lacks courage. The woman who is inclined to be stout can gain a pound quicker in a day than the slender woman can in a year. It is said that when the beautiful Empress of Austria discovered that her waist was growing larger and that her beautifully-modeled chin was losing its curve, she, the finest horsewoman in the world, gave up riding and took long walks every day and in all sorts of weather. To grow thin you must exercise. Walk if you can, but better still, work; keep mind and body busy. Above all, renounce everything that comes from the confectioner. Eat moderately of underdone meat, green vegetables, salads and those fruits that are slightly acid. Drink but little, bathe regularly, taking tepid baths. Constant work will do more to reduce one's flesh than anything else.—Ladies' Home Journal.

It is a fortunate day for a man when he first discovers the value of Ayer's Sarsaparilla as a blood-purifier. With this medicine, he knows he has found a remedy upon which he may rely, and that his life-long malady is at last conquered. Has cured others, will cure you.

They do Good Work.

The following letter tells what people think of Laxa Liver Pills:

DEAR SIRS,—I gladly testify to the virtues of Laxa Liver Pills. I used to be troubled with severe headaches and constipation for a long time, and took these pills hoping for a cure, and my hopes were rapidly fulfilled. I have found them a never failing remedy and heartily recommend them.

FAIRWEATHER & CO

PETERBOROUGH AND TORONTO.

DOWN THE RIVER.

How the Queen's Birthday was Celebrated at Jubilee Point.

Jubilee Point was thronged with pleasure seekers on the 24th of May, there being about seven hundred on the grounds.

The steamer City of Peterborough, with Capt. Clare Calcutt and Capt. Sam Lambert at the wheel, made the run to the Point, 22 miles, including stops, in two and a half hours, arriving there at 10 20.

At the grounds a number of sporting events were run off.

The steam marry-go-round did a flourishing business during the day.

Manager Arkles of the hotel, with an able staff of assistants, had a bill of fare to suit the "upper crust," while Archie Fulton dished out Calcutt's famous lager beer to those becoming thirsty.

Geo. Paxman had plenty of lemonade, peanuts, candy and such like, and did a big business.

In the dancing pavilion, as well as on board, Sid Martin's orchestra furnished music to those desirous of having a dance through the day. The following is the result of the sports :

BASEBALL.

(For a handsome cup presented by Mr Calcutt.)

Roseneath.		Hiawatha.
C Down	p	John Paul
J Down	c	W Jackson
B Macklin	1st b	M Howard
Geo Bull	2nd b	J Bull
Geo Burkle	3rd b	D Fawn
J Wyley	s s	C Bull
E Bull	l f	C Macklin
Ed Nettles	r f	Frank Smoke
S Downs	c f	J Jarvis

E Barry, umpire.

The Roseneath boys had everything their own way, while the Hiawathans, with a picked team, fared badly. The score in conclusion was 28 to 4, in favour of Roseneath.

Then came the football match, Roseneath vs. Gore's Landing, with the following lined up :

Roseneath.			Gore's Landing.
Ed Bull	captain		McCracken
J Downs	goal		D McAllistor
C Downs	full backs		W Herald
F Barry			W Davey
J Wiley	half backs		W McCallister
G Wallace			A Edwards
B Macklin			F Hawkins
E Bull	forwards		F McCracken
F Harris			Dr Murray
E Mathall			Wm Cameron
C Bull			W Harris
G Bull			A Fowlds

Referee—F Herald.

The Gore's Landing team did all the "kicking," the Roseneaths not being in it for a minute, time being called to the tune of four to nothing. Then Roseneaths did "kick" when they found that they had lost the Calcutt Cup for the season, but, however, they will have another opportunity of a game with their opponents at the Farmers' Institute picnic, June 10th, on the same grounds, for the Jubilee Plate, presented by the Farmers' Institute officers.

The aquatic events of the day were next on the list and created quite a deal of excitement. An excellent view of the course from the natural grand stand allowed every one to witness the races, the first of which was the double canoe event. It was a hotly contested one, ½ mile with turn, between Jim Howard and Dan McCallister and D. Fawn and Jim Crowe, the first winning by half a length. There were several entries in this race but the others dropped out at the turning point. Then the ½ mile single canoe race took place with a score of entries and on crossing the line the contestants were so evenly matched, that the referee had to decide to have it paddled over again. The crack of the pistol announced that Richard McBride was the winner with an inch or two to spare. So delighted were his many friends, they carried him to the bath room in connection with the hotel and gave him a turkish bath and a rub down with a sponge.

The foot races were then run off, W. Jackson, of town, being in each event an easy winner with C. Downs second. The day was most enjoyably spent by all, the various steamers leaving for their destination about five o'clock. The steamer City of Peterborough arriving in port at nine o'clock in the evening.

NOVEL TOUR.

The Northwestern Miller Sends its Representative Out on a Bicycle.

(Nashville, Tenn., Banner, May 15.)

The Weekly Northwestern Miller has inaugurated a new departure in methods relating to advertising, subscriptions and the collection for data for special weekly reports. On Monday next, W. A. Whitney, (son of Mr. John Whitney, Peterborough,) the Miller's special representative, will leave this city on a bicycle tour, canvassing the States of Tennessee and Kentucky, and during which he expects to make the acquaintance of every miller and flour jobber doing business in the territory above indicated. Mr. Whitney will carry a camera on the handle bars, and the readers of the Miller will doubtless soon soon become familiar with the picturesque in still and animate life as seen by that journal's representative in the valleys of Kentucky and Tennessee.

THE ORANGE GRAND LODGE IN SESSION.

The Sixty-Eighth Annual Meeting—Statistics of the Order—Secretary Birmingham Resigns.

The Grand Orange Lodge of British North America opened its 68th annual meeting in Windsor on Tuesday. Over 200 members are present, including representatives from every part of the Dominion except British Columbia. There is an especially large delegation from Ontario West, almost every prominent Orangeman in that district being in attendance. It was expected that the proceedings would be of an exciting nature, but since the lodge opened the indications are that beyond keen contests for some of the offices, the meeting will be of a harmonious kind. Many of the members of the order who were followers of Hon. W. Clarke Wallace in his stand against the position taken by the late Conservative Government on the Manitoba school question came to the meeting with the resolution of deposing Mr. Robert Birmingham from the Grand Scaretaryship in consequence of his hostility to Grand Master Wallace, but Mr. Birmingham has taken the wind out of their sails by tendering his resignation. This was not unexpected, but lest he should make a fight to retain this office, which he has filled for seven years, his opponents gathered in strength. In his report as Secretary, Mr. Birmingham, in stating his determination to resign, refers to his long connection in an official capacity with the Orange Society, and declares his unalterable allegiance to the principles of the order. When he reached that clause to day in reading his report his voice broke and he was unable for some time to proceed.

The statistical portion of his report read as follows :

Ten new primary lodge warrants have been issued during the past year, and have been located as follows : Ontario West—No. 197, Bothwell ; No. 1,108, South River ; total 2. Ontario East—No. 261, Rosenath; No. 640, Bowmanville ; total 2. Nova Scotia—No. 1,677, Mapleton ; No. 1,678, Ellershouse ; total 2. Manitoba—No. 1,515, Eldon ; total 1. British Columbia—No. 1,679, Sandon ; total 1. Newfoundland—No. 1,602, Bay of Islands ; No. 1,604, Charlottetown ; total 2.

One new county lodge warrant has been issued—Indian Head, N.W.T.

Seven new Orange Young Briton warrants have been issued this year as follows: No. 50, at Wesleyville, Nfld.; No. 51, at New Edinburgh, Ontario East; No. 52 at Vars, Ontario East ; No. 53, at Kemptville, Ontario East ; No. 54, at Staples, Ontario West ; No. 56, at Hintonburg, Ontario East ; No. 57, at Little Glace Bay, N. S.

The following Royal Scarlet Dispensasations have been issued : To Nelson, B.C., Moose Jaw, N.W.T., Regina, N. W.T.

One female lodge has been organized this year, viz., at Charlottetown, P.E.I.

Eight primary lodges, one district and one county lodge have been incorporated under our act of 1890, as follows : Nos. 19, 274, 489, 950, 1 159, 1,368, 1,384, 1,560 ; district lodge, Hinchbrook, Ontario East ; county lodge, Parry Sound, Ontario West.

The Grand Secretary then noted that the correspondence for the year had been very satisfactory, and recommended the issue of a new edition of the constitution and laws.

The figures by Provinces showed the movements of the membership during the year to be as follows :

Ontario West—Initiated, 1,479 ; joined by certificate, 523 ; reinstated, 226 ; withdrawn by certificate, 700 ; suspended, 1,324; expelled, 50 ; died, 191.

Ontario East—Initiated, 655 ; joined by certificate, 259 ; reinstated, 101; withdrawn by certificate, 328 ; suspended, 324; expelled, 86 ; died. 103.

British Columbia—Initiated, 117 ; joined by certificate, 61, reinstated, 7; withdrawn by certificate, 52 ; suspended, 60 ; expelled, 2; died 9.

Newfoundland—Initiated, 214 ; joined by certificate, 19 ; reinstated, 75; withdrawn by certificate, 33; suspended, 181 ; expelled, 0 ; died, 28.

Recapitulation—Initiated, 3,618 ; joined by certificate, 1,153; reinstated, 499 ; withdrawn by certificate, 1,414 ; suspended, 2,418; expelled, 166; died, 396.

A glowing reference to the diamond jubilee preceded a reference to the approaching Imperial Council of Orangemen, which meets in Glasgow in July.

CLOTHED FOR
$7.00

People take pride in telling of some of the Bargains they get at Gough Bros. The ordinary man would consider it clever buying if he spent no more than $25 for an entire outfit, including Suit, Shoes, Hat, Underwear, &c. But we make it possible to secure a serviceable outfit for less than $7.00, and this is not figuring on the cheapest goods either. The following bill of goods shows the possiblities which await bargain-seekers at our two big stores :—

All-Wool Halifax Tweed Suit	$3.75
Serviceable Pair of Shoes	1.00
Stiff or Soft Felt Hat	.50
Undershirt	.20
Drawers	.20
Sox	.08
Suspenders	.10
Shirt	.30
Collar	.07
Tie	.08
Handkerchief	.05
	$6.33

Although these prices may seem ridiculous, they are the minimum price of the goods enumerated. A man with this outfit would be fairly well dressed.

OUR PROFITS are made in the buying. You have the same chance.

Youth's, Boy's and Children's Jubilee Suits

NEW TARIFF POLICY

Which Hon. George E. Foster is Developing.

CHEAP LABOR BOGEY TROTTED OUT

The Ex Minister of Finance is Very Much Afraid That Canadian Workingmen Will Suffer, But Figures and Facts Show His Fears to Be Groundless.

Ottawa, May 27.—(Special.)—Mr. Foster is developing his policy. It is his at present, but there is little doubt that it will become the policy of the party. "Down with the Grits, who would subject Canadian labor to the competition of the pauper labor of Europe! Down with the Government that may throw our ports open to the products of Asiatic slaves!" These are the cries with which the policy-maker of the Conservatives proposes to rouse the party from lethargy. "We're ruined by Chinese cheap labor" is the motto inscribed on the banner of the ex-Finance Minister. A strange commentary upon this attitude of despair is to be found, curiously enough, in the Montreal despatch to-day, which tells of the decision of the Montmorency Cotton Company to erect a huge factory on the rapids of the St. Francis River, where 1,000 persons will be employed to manufacture cottons on a large scale for the markets of China and Japan, a survey of these fields having been made by agents of the company.

It is as well, however, that the exact extent of this dreadful Chinese competition should be stated. During the last fiscal year we imported from China exactly $538,878 worth of dutiable goods, or as nearly as possible one-half of one per cent. If may be that if China goes on the minimum tariff list our dutiable imports will increase to half a million, or, say, 10 cents yearly per head of the population. Then indeed we shall be, in the Fosterian use of the word, deluged with Asiatic cheap labor products. The whole cheap labor business is a bogey of the most ridiculous sort. What are the facts? Last year we imported for home consumption $67,230,759 of dutiable goods. Of this total Great Britain sent us $24,366,179 worth and the United States $29,101,646 worth. These two nations, whose workmen are the most highly remunerated in the world, sent us four-fifths of our imports of dutiable goods. From all the other nations, including those 22 "most-favored" nations, of which we hear so much in Tory speeches, we took dutiable goods to the value of thirteen and three-quarter millions.

But in this total a rough calculation shows that there were included sugars to the value of four and a half millions, cigars and tobaccos worth close upon a quarter million, molasses $580,000, liquors $800,000, besides smaller items upon which no reduction of duty is made under the reciprocal tariff. This reduces the importation of other than British goods, upon which reductions of duty might be made under the minimum tariff, to about seven and three-quarter millions, if all the world, apart from the United States, were given entrance on the minimum tariff. In other words, less than 11 1-2 per cent. of the total dutiable imports of Canada that might be affected by the minimum tariff arrangement come from all the pauper labor countries of Europe and Asia.

A writ was issued in the High Court this afternoon by Bishop and Smith, claiming $10,000 damages for slander against Rev. H. A. Constantineau, O. M. I., pastor of St. Joseph's Church, and secretary of Ottawa University, and a similar sum from Rev. Father Valiquette, O. M. I., pastor of the Sacred Heart Church, on behalf of Mary A. O'Sullivan of Nicholas-street. The plaintiff is an unmarried lady, about 30 years of age, and alleges that Rev. Father Constantineau and Rev. Father Valiquette, about a year ago, made and caused to be circulated slanderous statements reflecting on her character. The action is taken to vindicate her name.

In the annual report of Department of Fisheries the value of the Canadian fisheries for 1896 is computed at $25,190,338, being a decrease of over half a million dollars as compared with the previous year. With the exception of British Columbia, showing a surplus of nearly half a million dollars, and New Brunswick, which shows a slight increase, all the other provinces yielded less than last year. The fur sealskins are valued at $713,590. The Canadian catch was 23,115 skins less than that of the previous year. There was distributed in fishing bounties for 1895 the sum of $163,567. Since its inception in 1892 the Department has paid over $2,000,000 in bounties.

During the last fiscal year the expenditure for construction and maintenance of lighthouse and coast service amounted to $406,057.55.

The products of the fisheries of Ontario were valued at $1,584,473, a decrease of $75,494 as compared with the previous year.

Mr. John V. Ellis, M.P., the veteran journalist of St. John, N. B., had the degree of LL.D. conferred upon him yesterday by the University of New Brunswick.

The marriage took place to-day of Mr. John A. Cameron, a prominent lumberman of Ottawa, to Miss Ida F. Wilson of Cumberland.

The Governor-General to-night presented the medal of the Royal Humane Society of Canada to Master Douglas Lyon, a pupil of the Ottawa Collegiate Institute, who dived into the Rideau Canal last November to rescue a couple of drowning skaters. The presentation took place in the Rideau Skating Rink and several hundred school children participated in the event.

Mr. Laurier will leave this day week for England, sailing by the Lucania from New York on the Saturday following.

GOING TO THE JUBILEE.

Sir William Whiteway Will be the Senior Colonial Premier, and, It is Said, Will Talk Up Union With Canada.

St. John's, Nfld., May 27.—Sir William Whiteway, the Premier and Attorney-General, will start for London on June 3 to represent Newfoundland at the Jubilee festivities. He will be the senior colonial Premier in the parade on Diamond Jubilee Day. It is understood that while in London the Premier will re-open negotiations for the settlement of the French shore question as a preliminary to arranging for the federation of Newfoundland with the Dominion.

SPLENDOR AT ROME.

The City of the Seven Hills Has Had Nothing Like It in Many Years.

Rome, May 27. The canonization to-day of the Blessed Zaccaria, founder of the Order of Barnabites, and of the Blessed Fourier de Mataincour, surnamed the Apostle of Lorraine, was the most impressive ceremony witnessed at St. Peter's since the abolition of the temporal power of the Popes. The only difference in this morning's ceremonial and those which occurred under the sovereignty of the Popes being that the external gates of St. Peter's were closed and that tickets of admission to the cathedral had to be obtained.

The huge basilica was thronged. According to estimates 40,000 persons were present. The approaches to the sacred edifice were lined by Italian troops. Inside the building were the Pontifical Gendarmes and the Swiss Pontifical Guards. Young men belonging to the different Catholic societies, under the direction of the Pontifical Chamberlains, acted as ushers.

From as early as 6 o'clock in the morning an unending stream of carriages and pedestrians set in towards the basilica, and by 8 o'clock St. Peter's was crowded. Its interior was aglow with the light of thousands of candles, which a force of 300 lay brothers commenced lighting at 5 o'clock. The illumination was specially brilliant at the apse, where the pontifical throne, surmounted by an immense picture of the Holy Trinity, was surrounded by banners depicting the miracles wrought by the Blessed Zaccaria and the Blessed Fourier.

Soon after 8 o'clock the strains of the Ave Maria heralded the approach of the inaugural procession from the Sistine Chapel. It was headed by representatives of the mendicant and monastic orders, and was typical of the entire ecclesiastical orders, from the students to the prelates, patriarchs and cardinals, culminating in the venerable figure of the Supreme Pontiff, Leo XIII., borne on the sedia gestatoria, attended by the bearers of the traditional Flabelli. His Holiness wore the pontifical tiara; in his left hand he carried a lighted candle, and with his right hand he blessed the people while traversing the nave.

The procession halted at the altar of the Blessed Sacrament to permit the Pope making adoration. Then, after the Pontifical Noble Guard had presented arms, His Holiness proceeded to the apse, and seated himself upon the throne, on the steps of which were grouped twelve assistant archbishops and bishops.

The assembled dignitaries of the church made the customary obeisance to the Pontiff, the Cardinals kissing his hand and receiving the accolade, the Bishops kissing his hand and knee, and the lower prelates kissing his foot. This ceremony completed, the dignitaries of the church took their places in the stalls. The side seats of the apse were occupied by the princes and patricians of Rome, the Knights of Malta and the members of the diplomatic corps.

The ceremony of canonizing the Blessed Zaccaria and the Blessed Fourier followed. It was divided into three parts, namely, the request of the Pope to grant the canonization, the proclamation canonizing the Blessed Zaccaria and the Blessed Fourier and the Pontifical Mass.

Cardinal Gaetano Aloisi-Masella, prefect of the Congregation of Sacred Rites, the advocate of the cause of canonizing, formally demanded that the Blessed Zaccaria and the Blessed Fourier be inscribed on the roll of saints, making the demand thrice, Instanter, Instantius and Instantissime.

After the first request, the Pope intoned the Litany of the Saints. After the second request His Holiness intoned the "Veni Creator." After the third request His Holiness, wearing the mitre of doctor of the church, proclaimed the new saints. The Pope then authorized the official act of proclamation, and afterwards intoned the "Te Deum," in which the entire congregation joined. At the same time the bells of the Vatican and of the basilica were tolled, and they set ringing the bells of all the churches in Rome.

The canonization being completed, Cardinal Luigi Oreglia Di Santo Stefano, dean of the Sacred College, and Camerlengo of the Holy Roman Church, celebrated mass. The offertory followed, at which special gifts, emblematic of the canonization, were presented to the Pope. They included five colored decorated candles, two loaves of bread, embiazoned with the arms of Leo XIII. in gold and silver, two casks, one gilded and containing wine and the other silvered and containing water, and, finally, three cages. In the first cage were turtle doves, in the second were rock doves, and in the third were smaller birds, all symbolical of the virtues of the Blessed Zaccaria and the Blessed Fourier, whose names have just been inscribed upon the Hagiological calendar.

The music of the mass was chanted by the choir of the Sistine Chapel, and at the moment of the elevation, the famous silver trumpets played a prelude to a chorus of several hundred children stationed in the gallery of the dome. The effect of the childish voices descending from the great height was very beautiful. After mass the processions returned to the Vatican in the same order and subsequently, the great gates of St. Peter's were opened in order to permit the general public to view the decorations.

TREMORS IN QUEBEC

Montreal and Surrounding Districts Shaken by Earthquake.

NO GREAT DAMAGE IS REPORTED.

Some People Were Scared and Rushed Out of Their Houses—Vibration Extended to Vermont and New York States, and as Far West as Hawkesbury, Ont.

Montreal, May 27.—(Special.)—The shock of an earthquake vibrating from east to west was felt at 10.30 p.m., it being even more severe than the last one. No damage is reported.

At other Places.

Como, Que., May 27.—A severe shock of earthquake was felt here to-night at 10.14. It appeared much heavier than those of some weeks ago.

Like a Big Gun Firing.

St. Lambert, Que., May 27.—An earthquake, lasting some 15 seconds, and accompanied by a report as if a big gun was being fired, occurred here at 10.15 this evening.

A Rumbling Sound.

St. Hilaire, Que., May 27.—At 10.16 to-night a very severe shock of earthquake, followed by a rumbling sound westward, and lasting some 10 seconds, was distinctly felt here.

Severe at St. John's.

St. Johns, Que., May 27.—One of the most severe shocks of earthquake ever felt here occurred at 10.13 to-night. It lasted about 30 seconds. Direction west to east. The alarm was so general that people rushed out of every house where they had not yet retired for night.

Very Severe

Granby, Que., May 27.—The shock was very severe here and lasted over 10 seconds.

In Eastern Ontario.

Hawkesbury, Ont., May 27.—Felt the shock here at 10.13, very distinctly.

Lasted Eighteen Seconds.

St. Polycarpe, Que., May 27.—The earthquake was felt here at 10.15 p.m., and lasted about 18 seconds.

The Earthquake Was Distinctly Felt

Coteau, Que., May 27.—The earthquake was very distinctly felt here. It lasted about 20 seconds and took place at 10.15 p.m.

Over in New York State.

Winthrop, N. Y., May 27.—The earthquake shock at 10.15 to-night was very severe here.

Plattsburg, N. Y., May 27.—The earthquake occurred at 10.14, lasting some 15 seconds. The shock was very pronounced in this vicinity.

Vermont Also Trembled.

Burlington, Vt., May 27.—The most pronounced shock of earthquake felt in this city for several years was felt here about 10.13 this evening, the shock lasting 15 seconds. Most of the business places were closed, but buildings were swayed enough to awaken people and rattle bottles on the shelves, especially in high buildings. The vibrations seemed to be from north to south.

Some Damage Reported.

White River Junction, Vt., May 27.—The earthquake shock was quite severe at this place, lasting several seconds. Stations along the line report slight damage to chimneys, lamps, etc.

TROUBLESOME IMMIGRANTS.

Some of the Galicians Had to Be Thrown Out of Immigration Hall—Slap at the Victorian Nurse Scheme.

Winnipeg, May 27.—(Special.)—The Galician immigrants brought in lately by the Government are proving troublesome. Large parties of them who refused to leave Immigration Hall here to look for work were ejected last night by the police. Another party, containing 675, arrived to-day. A committee of the Trades and Labor Council are investigating a rumor that an agent in Europe receives $5 a head for each immigrant he secures.

The weekly crop report of the Manitoba and Northwestern Railway, which covers the northwestern portion of the province, shows wheat to be over an inch high and growing finely. The acreage sown is considerably in excess of last year.

At a meeting of the medical profession, held last evening, a resolution was adopted declaring that the scheme of the Victorian Order of Nurses will prove an entire failure in the Northwest.

DISASTROUS COLLISION.

Nine Men Known to Have Been Killed and Eight Others Seriously Injured Out in Idaho.

Pocatello, Idaho, May 27.—A head-end collision between a freight and a passenger train at American Falls, 25 miles west of here, at 4.30 o'clock, caused the death, so far as known, of nine men and the serious injury of eight others. Two of the latter will die. This is the worst wreck that has ever occurred on the Short Line in many years. The westbound passenger train was waiting for the freight at American Falls, standing in front of the station building. The freight coming east ran away on the hill west of the Falls. It is thought the air brake was tampered with. The freight, running 50 miles an hour, crashed into the passenger train, which was already backing up right in front of the station. Two men were on the station platform. One was killed and the other fatally injured. The station building was shattered. Both engines were converted into scrap iron and 20 freight cars piled up in a heap. Eight box-car passenger sheep-shearers, and tramps were crushed to death. Up to noon five bodies had been taken out. George Moore, the engineer of the freight, is seriously injured. The fireman, Dick Cosgrove, had a leg broken, and C. E. Heckman, engineer of the passenger, sustained slight injuries. He stayed by his engine until he had reversed it. The conductor and brakeman were on top of the freight setting the brakes and Fireman Cosgrove had climbed back to help when the crash came.

FRIDAY, MAY 28, 1897.

A DIVIDED HOUSE.

THE Conservative organs do not seem to be able to agree on anything, not even in abuse of the Government and the new tariff. The Mail and other organs of its kidney, do nothing but sneer in a small way, but the Montreal Gazette, a more powerful and influential and a more fair and honest journal, in this regard at least, has to say in reference to Mr. Fielding's tariff amendments, that "the changes announced by Mr. Fielding yesterday are in the right direction. Many of them will help to put manufacturers doing business under similar conditions on an equal footing. This is justice and business like, if it is not as far as the Government should have gone in considering the country's industrial interests." The Liberals during the general election campaign, in answer to the charge that their fiscal policy meant ruin to our manufacturing industries, stated that the change in the direction of a lighter scale of duties would be made in such a manner as to interfere in the least possible manner with existing industries. And the new tariff, according to a most pronounced high tariff journal, the Gazette, have redeemed their promises; under the new tariff any well conducted industry that has a legitimate reason for carrying on operations in Canada can get along very well, while the industries that existed and flourished long before a protective tariff was enforced, are materially assisted by the cheapening the raw material which they use.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

IT seems hard for Mr. ex-Finance Minister Foster to realize that he is not in office. He has a standing grievance against the people of Canada who voted to put the Liberals in power.

Mr. FOSTER declares that the Opposition needs "explanations" to understand the tariff, but the alleged absence of information doesn't prevent the Opposition from talking by the hour upon what they profess not to understand.

AN Englishman has invented a boat which he claims cannot be sunk. He might make a profitable "dicker" with the United States navy department. Our cousins have been long struggling with the problem of constructing a battle ship that will float.

THERE are all sorts of cranks.—"A Boston man says he can change the climate of New England and the Maritime Provinces of Canada by building a dam across the Strait of Belle Isle, blocking it and diverting the northern currents. The dam would have to be ten miles long and about two hundred feet high, and strong enough to resist the ocean. He thinks this could be done for $9,000,000, and that it would give the territory named a climate much like that of Southern New York and New Jersey." Speaking with only a desire to express a literal fact, this proposal doesn't seem to be worth a dam.

THE REVISED DUTIES.

Independent Opinion on the Subject.

The Ottawa Journal, Independent in politics, but willing, as it has shown so far, to give credit to or condemn the government in power, as it seems to find occasion, says of the revised tariff:

One gratifying feature of the revisions in the Fielding tariff is the change in the duty on books. The reduction to 10 per cent. upon all bound books, and the wide extension of the free list to books intended for educational purposes or for educational institutions, will both be very welcome concessions, and indeed seem to remove all the real grievance.

Another sensible move is the placing of a revenue tariff upon such classes of mining machinery as are made in Canada.

The further reduction of the duties on iron and steel ought to be welcome equally to manufacturers and to free traders.

The government has not yielded unduly to the great pressure to increase duties, and in important respects it seems to have made sensible concessions to public opinion.

THE PROHIBITION PLEBISCITE.

Hamilton Herald.

Those who are objecting so strongly to an expression of public opinion on the question of direct taxation as a means of raising the revenue that would be lost by prohibition are themselves influenced by political motives. If the government desires to escape embarrassment, its enemies desire that it shall be embarrassed as much as possible. Why should this question respecting the revenue not be put to the people? It will give prohibitionists a fine chance to show their sincerity and self-sacrifice. They will be able to give the government their assurance that they are willing to submit to be directly taxed in order that the liquor traffic may be wiped out. It is claimed that the majority of the people of the country are in favour of prohibition; but the prevalence of a mere sentiment in favour of prohibition is not enough to warrant the government in introducing a prohibitory law; it is also necessary that the people should be willing to bear the additional burden of taxation that prohibition would put upon them. The Herald thinks that not only the revenue question, but also the question of compensation, should be put to the people along with the straight question of prohibition.

REMARKABLE CASE WHICH HAS LATELY COME TO LIGHT.

Our reporter visited Mr. Alfred Crowhurst, and from him received the following statement. Said Mr. Crowhurst, "I have suffered greatly for sometime with pains across my body and in my side. The pain was often so great that I could not sleep. I took many kinds of medicine but they did me no good.

Finally I commenced using Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at T. Geo. Watson's Drug Store, and have now used two boxes with the result that I am perfectly cured. My wife has also taken them with beneficial results, and as a kidney medicine I heartily recommend them, for I know of no other remedy which could exercise so beneficial an influence in so short a time.

I esteem these pills a blessing to humanity, and trust that all who suffer as I did will give them a faithful trial."

The specific and direct action of Doan's Kidney Pills on the kidneys always restores them to healthy natural action, thus curing all diseases arising from disorder of the kidneys, bladder or urinary organs.

Backache, weak back, diabetes, Bright's disease, gravel, etc., all yield readily to Doan's Pills. Full directions with each box. Price 50c per box or six boxes for $2.50. 64

Mr. Thos. Buck, Norwood, has been visiting at Mr. John Cook's.

Mr. Wm. Grady was in the village last week, the guest of his sister, Mrs. John Doherty.

Mr. John Sargent and Master James, were visiting at Mr. Samuel Sargent's on Friday.

Mr. B. C. McMillan was in the village Sunday on his wheel.

Miss Mary Stewart has been visiting friends in Otonabee.

Mr. Ed. Lynch has been in Havelock the past week carpentering.

Mr. John Thompson, Toronto, is home again for a short time.

Quite a number of our villagers took in the celebration at Campbellford on the 24th.

Mr. Ed. McGrath has greatly improved the appearance of his residence by the addition of a new fence.

Mr. John Doherty has had his hotel thoroughly renovated. Mr. Michael Doherty showed his skill in handling the brush.

To-day the city fathers meet. Quite a parade of business awaits them.

Our vicinity has been disturbed by different little robberies which have been committed by tramps. Last week Mr. Sargent's farm house was broken into and the contents rifled. Goods to the amount of about $30 were lifted in broad daylight.

Mr. Thos. Cardwell was threatend with an attack, but too sharp a look out is kept. It will not be healthy for the first one that is caught.

Many of the elderly chaps are practising the game of quoits. You can notice that bright little weed, conceit, growing among our flowers.

Pulmonary consumption, in its early stages, may be checked by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It stops the distressing cough, soothes the irritation of the throat and lungs, and induces much needed repose. Hundreds have testified to the remarkable virtues of this preparation.

Undoubtedly the Best.

GENTLEMEN,—I wish to say that Dr. Fowlers Extract of Wild Strawberry has proved a wonderful remedy in my family. We would not be without it for twice its price. I say it is the best (not merely one of the best—but the best) medicine ever brought before the public for summer complaint or diarrhœa, either in children or adults.

CANADA'S NEW TARIFF

Gets Editorial Praise From The London Times.

TURKEY STILL ACTING WARLIKE.

Troops Being Massed in Thessaly in Great Numbers—The Thunderer Thunders Against the United States on the Seal Question General News by Cable.

London, May 28.—The Times this morning, in an editorial on the Laurier tariff, says: "The scheme is simple and ingenious, while its resemblance to the Davies proposal of 1892 proves that it is no hasty invention to dish the irate Conservatives. While not saying that all possible objections have been met, we do say that he has made out a strong case for his proposals, and ever should they be defeated on technical grounds, they will none the less have assisted enormously the ultimate solution of the problem. Whatever their fate, they constitute by far the most important and effective contribution ever made to the commercial unification of the Empire."

The Morning Post to-day, in an editorial on the speech of the Hon. L. H. Davies in the Canadian Parliament, urging reasons why England should denounce the German zollverein treaty, says: "We commend these weighty words to the Government's notice."

HORRORS OF FANATICISM.

More Than Two Dozen Bodies of Persons Who Were Buried Alive Have Been Discovered in Russia.

London, May 27.—Details have been received from Odessa of the self-immolation of a number of the fanatical followers of Raskolniki, a report of which was first received two weeks ago. More than 24 bodies of persons who were buried alive have been recovered from a series of pits near Tirespol. The sect is a survival of the old dissenters, who were persecuted in Russia for two centuries. Their treatment was worst under Empress Sophia, when thousands of them were knouted by the state. The result was that they became fiercely fanatical and invented a doctrine of salvation by martyrdom. They are now practicing self-immolation.

Six bodies were accidentally discovered on the premises of Feodore Kovaleff, who confessed that he had walled up in his cellar nine living persons, including his wife and two young children. He further admitted that he had buried the other six, while they were still alive in a specially excavated pit eight feet deep. Kovaleff declares that all these were voluntary victims. In an adjoining garden, belonging to Matvei Sukula, four bodies were discovered in a pit. Sukula says that these were buried alive at their own request.

A large number of persons, including many foreigners, among whom is an American touring party, are visiting the scene.

THE SEAL FISHERIES.

London Times Has a Stinging Editorial Against the United States.

London, May 28.—In an editorial on Prof. D'Arcy Thompson's report as to the Behring Sea seal fisheries, The Times this morning says:

"The report must tend to increase surprise at the proposal of the United States to revise the Paris award. Nothing short of the most urgent necessity could render such a demand other than somewhat ungracious on the part of a friendly government. America obtained at once all the advantages which the award conferred upon her, and she might have been expected to await the expiration of the period which the judges named before inviting us to re-open the discussion with the declared purpose of getting the conditions altered in a sense favorable to her interests.

"As a matter of fact, both the Thompson and the Jordan reports agree that our knowledge of seal life, on many important points, is still very defective. This ought to be decisive against an immediate change of regulations. The burden of proof lies with America. Can it be said that she has made out her case?

"There is no mystery about the wishes of the American Government. The Americans desire to put an end to pelagic sealing altogether. We shall be quite ready, when the time comes, to agree to protective measures in the common interests of all classes of seal fishers, but these measures must be based on the facts of natural history and not in the interest of one nationality against the interests of another, and it seems to us that the data in the Jordan report do not justify its conclusions. What would the United States answer to a similar proposal with regard to their fishery rights on the American shore of Newfoundland? They would answer, 'It is not business.'"

THINGS LOOK STORMY.

Turkey Rushing Troops Into Thessaly—Moderate Reply of the Porte to the Powers Russia Mad at Germany.

London, May 28.—The correspondent of The Times at Salonika telegraphing Wednesday, says:

"I have just arrived here, after passing through Larissa, Klassona and Sorovitch, en route. There is a steady forward movement of reinforcements along all the roads. The forces under Edhem Pasha's command must now be close on to 200,000 men."

The Porte Replies to the Powers.

London, May 28.—The Daily Mail's correspondent at Constantinople says:

The Porte has replied to the note of the powers and consents to negotiate for peace provided the Greek commanders first sign an armistice. As soon as this is done, the Government will negotiate as to the peace conditions with the ambassadors, and the treaty will be signed by the Turkish and Hellenic plenipotentiaries in Thessaly.

Things Look Stormy.

London, May 27.—The correspondent of The Standard at Constantinople says:

"The immediate entourage of the Sultan favors restoring Thessaly to Greece. The Turkish Foreign Minister has spoken on the subject in a conciliatory tone to the Baron de Calice, the Austro-Hungarian Ambassador, asking only a little delay in order that public excitement may subside.

"On the other hand, the whole religious and official world, including the Sheik-Ul-Islam, denounces the idea of restoration; while every military measure points to retention. Even those who had supposed that the Sultan was manufacturing the excitement in order to exact better terms from the powers are beginning to think he has gone too far and lost control of the situation.

"Russia does not conceal her extreme irritation at Germany's policy, which is so openly and persistently directed against Russia that many Turks accuse Germany of deliberately plotting to produce a rupture between the two countries."

The Grand Vizier Shows Vigor.

London, May 28.—A despatch to The Times from Constantinople says:

"The attitude of the Grand Vizier is the subject of much comment. He was regarded as merely the obedient instrument of the Sultan, but he now shows unexpected vigor as an advocate of an exacting policy towards Greece.

"The reply of the Porte delivered this evening (Thursday) confirms the report that it would not discuss the conditions of peace."

THE FAST LINE CONTRACT.

Allan Line People Think Peterson, Tait & Co. Will Make a Failure.

London, May 28.—The secretary of the Allan Steamship Company, writing from Glasgow to The Times to-day, in reference to the announcement by Mr. Chamberlain in the House of Commons on Tuesday on the subject of the proposed fast steamship service between Canada and Great Britain, says: "The late Dominion Government accepted the tender of the Allan Line Company subject to Imperial approval, and never invited the company to modify it. It seems, therefore, at least unusual to accept the tender of a new firm merely because it is cheaper. We certainly were asked whether we would care to join in the adventure of Peterson, Tait & Co. of Newcastle, but did not hesitate to decline, because we believed that on the terms and conditions of their acceptance the undertaking would end only in disaster. We are still of the same opinion and we think the Government, instead of hurriedly approving a scheme which seems certain to fail, should have considered our suggestion as to fast steamers when slower ones could be advantageously employed for the remainder of the season."

Metric Weights and Measures.

London, May 27.—In the House of Commons to-day, the President of the Board of Trade, Mr. C. T. Ritchie, introduced a bill to legalize the metric system of weights and measures. No details were given.

DROPPED DEAD!

Suddenly Stricken Down by Heart Disease.

"A sad and sudden death occurred to a well-known citizen on one of the leading streets this morning."

Nearly every large city paper contains daily some such heading. The number of deaths from heart failure is very large, but it is only when they occur in some public and sensational manner that general attention is drawn to them.

Palpitation and fluttering of the heart are common complaints. With the heart itself there is nothing radically wrong. But the system is disorganized, the kidneys and liver are out of order, and the stomach is not in condition to do its work porperly. Between them all, they throw too much responsibility on the heart, and the latter is unable to stand the strain.

A box of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills at a cost of 25 cents will regulate the system, purify the blood and make a new person of every sickly man, woman or child.

Dr. Chase's Liver-Kidney Pills may be had from any dealer or from the manufacturers, Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. One pill a dose, one cent a dose.

Dr. Chase's Linseed and Turpentine is and colds. Largest bottle on the market; only 25 cents.

BICYCLES WITH A MEDAL!

Sometimes in a group of veterans you see a man with a medal. An ordinary appearing man—looking like the rest except the medal. "For Valor" is the legand on the bit of bronze—somewhere in the supreme hour this man towered for above his comrades—hence the medal.

Every few days you see a group of cyclers standing on the corner. Their wheels all bright, new, shining—many look almost alike. Can you tell which will prove their valor and worth, stand trial and test successfully? We will point them out. We will show you the group of wheels with a medal. Wheels of known reputation only. We will point out without any possible mistake the wheels which won both the Dunlop Trophy Races and all other important races held in 1896. Defeated over 300 bicycles in a coasting contest, and gave the world indisputable evidence of the superiority of the Bank

President Isaac Lewis of Sabina, Ohio, is highly respected all through that section. He has lived in Clinton Co. 75 years, and has been president of the Sabina Bank 20 years. He gladly testifies to the merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and what he says is worthy attention. All brain workers find Hood's Sarsaparilla peculiarly adapted to their needs. It makes pure, rich, red blood, and from this comes nerve, mental, bodily and digestive strength.

"I am glad to say that Hood's Sarsaparilla is a very good medicine, especially as a blood purifier. It has done me good many times. For several years I suffered greatly with pains of in one eye and about my temples, especially at night when I had been having a hard day of physical and mental labor. I took many remedies, but found help only in Hood's Sarsaparilla which cured me of rheumatism, neuralgia and headache. Hood's Sarsaparilla has proved itself a true friend. I also take Hood's Pills to keep my bowels regular, and like the pills very much." ISAAC LEWIS, Sabina, Ohio.

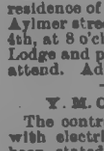
Where Was the Inspector?

One evening last week, says the Campbellford Herald, while two boys were in a boat on the river, they came across what they supposed to be a large eel lying still in shallow water near the shore. One of them lifted the paddle and dealt it a blow, and it turned out to be a maskinonge that weighed 19½ pounds. They secured the big fish.

Notice.



All members of Court Little John, No. 92, Canadian Order of Foresters, are requested to be present at their court room on Monday evening, 31st of May. Regular business. The Bylaw Committee will meet in their committee room on Saturday evening, 29th instant. By order. R. A. KEMP, Recording Secretary.

Grocers' Early Closing.

Attention is directed to the early closing announcement in another column of the grocers. It is hoped that grocers will all see that their places of business are promptly closed at 7 o'clock and no lights left in the rear of the shop to entice customers after that hour. It is also hoped that shoppers will make a point of leaving their orders before 7 o'clock and save disappointment.

Chartered Accountant.

By advertisement in another column it will be seen that Mr. D. Eagleson, chartered accountant, has established a business connection in Peterborough. He was last year auditor of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Ontario, and will willingly give information to any person desirous of qualifying for and becoming a member of the Institute. Mr. Eagleson is also auditor for the County of Victoria and the Town of Lindsay. The latter body requires that its monthly statement shall be properly audited before being presented. Isn't this plan worthy at least of consideration by our town council? See advertisement.

HORSE THIEVES IN NORWOOD.

Squire Bros. Lose a Fine Animal—Other Attempts Made.

Messrs. Squire Bros' large dapple gray horse was stolen from their stables in Norwood, opposite the grist mill Wednesday night. The horse is 17 hands high and has only one bridle tooth yet. It has a small scar below the right front knee, received when a colt. A set of single harness is also missing.

A description of the horse has been telegraphed to all the principal towns and cities.

The same night, about ten o'clock, two men attempted to steal a horse from Mr. Thos. Buck in Asphodel. They had got the buggy out of the driving shed, and were in the stable hitching up the horse when Mr. Buck's son, George, who had not yet retired for the night, heard a noise and went out, when the thieves took to their heels. Mr. Buck was closely pursuing them when the rascals turned and fired four shots at him.

A light spring wagon belonging to Mr. Will Hendren, of Norwood, is also missing.

NATURAL SCIENCE ASSOCIATION.

Mr. E. Elcome Discussed the Woodpecker Last Night.

At a meeting of the Natural Science Association held last evening in the Collegiate Institute, a very interesting paper was read by Mr. Elcome on the "Picus" or woodpecker order of birds.

He minutely described the habits and peculiarities of each of the species to be found in the neighbourhood of our town. His lecture was illustrated by nicely mounted specimens of each variety, being seven in all, which added greatly to the interest of the meeting.

Those lovers of our "feathered friends" who did not hear Mr. Elcome missed what was a great treat to those present.

AT THE GOLDEN LION.

English Agents Taking Orders.

Did it ever occur to the numerous shoppers at the Golden Lion that expert representatives of the largest manufacturies of England come all the way to Peterborough twice a year for the special purpose receiving Mr. Robert Fair's large export orders? To-day Mr. W. E. Williams, representing the Messrs. Rylands, of Manchester, is in town engaged in booking Mr. Fair's large export orders for the fall. The Messrs. Rylands are spoken of as "the greatest unlimited company" in their line, and it is fair to assume that Mr. Fair's direct dealing with Mr. Williams' firm may suggest reasons why the Golden Lion has so many special advantages to offer in the values and qualities of so many of its leading lines.

PERSONAL.

Mr. H. B. Meharry has returned from Lindsay.

Magistrate Dumble is back in Apsley for a day or so.

Mrs. J. J. McBain is visiting Mrs. Geo. A. Little, Lindsay.

Mrs. W. Kempt is spending a few days in Lindsay visiting her sister, Mrs. Keenan.

Mr. S. R. Armstrong, town clerk, is spending a few days at the residence of his father, in Campbellford.

Prof. Robison, of Michigan, who passed through town on Saturday last has been engaged to make a series of balloon ascensions at Chemong Park during the summer.

The Norwood Register says: Rev. J. J. Rae of Peterborough, preached in the Methodist church here on Sunday, morning and evening, and delivered two excellent discourses. Mr. Rae is a clear, earnest and very interesting preacher.

Rev. J. C. Anderson, pastor of the South Dummer and Westwood Methodist churches, intends leaving in the near future on a two months trip to the Northwest, on a two-months visit to his parents, who reside in Q'Appelle Valley, about six miles from Indian Head. It is his intention to go by the lakes to Fort William, and then by rail. Before returning he will visit Banff and other places of much interest in the Rocky mountains. He will return about the first of August.

The Lindsay Post says:—George Henry, who died in Peterborough on Sunday last at the age of fifty-three years, was known to many in Lindsay and vicinity, where several of his brothers and sisters reside. He was a son of James Henry, of Cameron, and he came to Canada with his parents in 1856 from Banff, Scotland. They first settled in Brock township, and afterwards removed to Ops, near Lindsay, where deceased grew to manhood. He then left the farm and started contracting, in which line of business he proved very successful; he took up his residence in Peterborough about eleven years ago, and made many warm and devoted friends in that town.

Dr. Robinson, of the Asylum for Insane, Toronto, has written a very complimentary letter to the Madden Cereal Co., in praise of their Cereal drink. This new substitute for tea and coffee is receiving the endorsation of the leading physicians. 2d

New Bridge at Manvers.

The June session of the Northumberland and Durham council has been called to meet on Tuesday, June 8th, when some important legislation awaits the action of the counties' parliament. Since the last session, the Pigeon river bridge, on the boundary between the township of Manvers and Victoria county, has become demoralized and Engineer Smith, of Victoria county, is preparing a professional report upon it for presentation at the June sessions of the respective councils. As the bridge is a boundary bridge, only half the cost of a new structure, if a new structure is required, will have to be borne by these counties. The Pigeon river bridge has been in a bad condition for years, and it is not surprising that the climax has now probably been reached when a new one will be necessary. A new bridge will cost probably $7,000.—Sentinel-Star.

Calcutt's Lager a Grand Success.

The appearance on the market of Calcutt's Lager, for whose manufacture special preparations in the way of brewing and expert maker have been made, has fully justified the great expectations. Peterborough lager can now be quoted as of the best in the country. It achieved instant success. On May 24th it was first put on the market, and the first day 97 kegs were sold in town. Experts who fancy this refreshing summer beverage say that Calcutt's Lager is the best they have tasted in Canada. Lager is a practically non-intoxicating drink, exceedingly refreshing in hot weather and its use instead of strong beer and strong drinks is beneficial. Peterborough, through the enterprise of Mr. Calcutt, can, in the manufacture of lager, compete with the largest cities in the country. Mr. Hummel, who learned the secret of making lager in Germany, is the maker. 1d

COURT OF REVISION.

Consideration of the Appeals Against the Assessment for 1897.

The Court of Revision met last night to consider the appeals against the assessment of the year. The members present were Councillor Neill, chairman, and Councillors Robertson, Cobb, Graham and LePlante.

The following disposition of the appeals considered was made:

T. J. C. Tindle—Against being wrongly omitted.—Change refused; applicant not of age.

Jno. Huffman, Barnardo avenue—Change asked.—Changed to Alfred Stephens.

M. Collins—Change asked.—George H. and W. J. (his sons) to be assessed jointly and relieved of statute labour.

The Court then adjourned until Wednesday night.

YESTERDAY'S GOLF MATCH.

An Interesting Game Played on the Links Yesterday at Burnham's Point.

A very interesting foursome match was played off on the golf grounds, Burnham's Point, yesterday afternoon, the couples competing being Miss Hatton and Mr. W. D. Parker, Mrs. Aylmer and Mr. C. Wallace, Miss Boucher and Mr. P. Campbell, Miss L. Hall and Mr. Hampden Burnham.

Miss Hatton and Mr. Parker won from Miss Boucher and Mr. Campbell in the first round by one hole and Mrs. Aylmer and Mr. Wallace were victors by five holes over Miss L. Hall and Mr. Hampden Burnham.

In the finals Mr. Wallace and Mrs. Aylmer won from Mr. Parker and Miss Hatton by five holes.

WOMEN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The Closing Session of the District Meeting Held Last Night.

The opening devotional exercises yesterday afternoon at the Women's Missionary Society convention were conducted by Mrs. W. Stubbs. Mrs. W. R. Young then welcomed the visiting delegates in a brief but cordial address, which was replied to on behalf of the visitors by Mrs. Clare, of Bridgenorth.

During the afternoon a most interesting paper on "Systematic Giving" was read by Mrs. Matchett, of the Mark street church, Ashburnham.

At the evening session the following programme was presented, Rev. W. R. Young, B. A. being in the chair.

The meeting was opened by singing the missionary hymn, "From Greenland's Icy Mountain." This was followed by a selection from the choir, "Why seek ye the Living Among the Dead?" in which Miss Clara Belleghem and Mr. J. Miller took the solo parts very acceptably. In the chairman's address Mr. Young warmly welcomed the convention to the church.

Following this was a solo given by Miss Florence Hall, who always delights her hearers with her excellent voice.

Mrs. Meharry then read the district reports, which showed that they had increased both in their missionary offering and in numbers.

Mesdames Seward & Kerneghan then sang a duet in their usual excellent style.

Mrs. Dr. Hunter presented greetings from the Murray street Baptist church. She said that the Baptist missionaries often hear of the work which is being done by the missionaries of the Methodist church. She was also glad to see the amount of interest which was displayed by the members of all Protestant churches in the missionary work.

The members of the George street Methodist church Mission Band then went through a number of very pleasing exercises.

The solo which was given by Mr. John Millar won the admiration of all present.

Miss S. Rutherford at this juncture gave a recitation, which was followed by another solo by Miss F. Hall.

Mrs. A. W. Grange, of Napanee, then gave her address on the "Kingdom of God." Mrs. Grange began her address with a reference to Adam in the Garden of Eden, who needed nothing and yet he sinned. Then her address came on down through the ages to the present century. By this means she showed just how, when and where the missionary movement originated. Ever since its origin it had been on the increase—financially and spiritually. She concluded her address by urging all to put forth their best efforts to further the missionary cause.

Mesdames Seward and Kerneghan gave another duet, which was followed by a selection by the choir, during the offertory, and the meeting was closed with the benediction.

FRIDAY MAY 28, 1897.

UPPER CANADA BIBLE SOCIETY.

The Work of the Society—A Few Statistics Presented.

The fifty-seventh annual meeting of the Upper Canada Bible Society was held Thursday evening in Association Hall, Toronto, and was attended by a fair audience. Hon. G. W. Ross, President of the society, was in the chair, and among the gentlemen supporting him on the platform were: Right Rev. Bishop Sullivan, Rev. Principal Sheraton, Rev. Dr. Greig, N. W. Hoyles, Q. C., Dr. J. J. Maclaren, Q.C., Rev. Canon Sanson, Mr. Warring Kennedy and Mr. John Harvie.

The proceedings opened with devotional exercises by Rev. Dr. Greig, after which the President made a few remarks upon the report, which was in circulation in the hall, a report which he thought satisfactory and containing much to encourage the friends of the society. It showed that a splendid work was being done, but their operations would have been considerably hampered for want of funds if it had not been for the generous help given by the parent society in England. This was jubilee year, when men were recounting the achievements of the reign, but to his mind the work of the British and Foreign Bible Society was one of the greatest achievements of the Victorian era.

The report, which was presented and approved recommending the Governor General as patron and Hon. G. W. Allen as president, opened with a summary of the work of the society from the start, in which were many interesting and valuable historical details. From these it was learned that the society has 584 branches between Kingston and the Pacific coast; these have distributed by sale or free gift 1,720,707 volumes. The receipts for the year were $32,572, being $500 better than last year.

Appended to the report of the local society is an abstract of the report of the parent institution. This showed that 3,776,133 copies of the Scriptures, complete or in part, have been issued during the the year, and that since the start in 1804 no less a number than the stupendous total of 151,142,802 volumes had been circulated through the society's agency. The receipts for the year had been about $1,025,000.

Change in the Flour Business.

Having bought the business formerly carried on by the firm of Meldrum & McAllister, together with all trade marks and brands of flour, I will again give my personal attention to making the old reliable brands of flour formerly made by me, which will take the prominent position they always occupied when under my control. I have made arrangements with three of the best mills in the Dominion to supply me with flour till I rebuild, and will guarantee all my goods. To my numerous patrons and friends, who have loyally supported me for the last ten years, you will find me at the old stand, Stevenson's storehouse, corner Simcoe and Bethune streets, where the highest market price will be paid for all grain; and flour and feed sold at lowest possible prices, consistent with quality. Ask for the old reliable brand of flour, "Mikado.—W. H. MELDRUM." dw

LACROSSE.

Practice to-night.

In view of the big game on June 10th every player should take the greatest care of himself between now and then.

If Peterborough can beat the Tecumsehs all Ontario will hear of it.

The game which was to have been played with Orillia on the 8th of June has been postponed. The Orillias, however, will be glad to play home and home games with Peterborough during July.

Port Hope writes to know if home and home games can be arranged. The Ontarios would like to come to Peterborough on June 22nd and have the return match in Port Hope on July 12th. In concluding his letter the secretary says:—"We had sufficient proof, as evidenced by the criticism of both the Port Hope and Peterborough papers, that rough and ungentlemanly play will not be tolerated, or what is perhaps more important, will not be patronized by the sport-loving people. Therefore we are confident that Peterborough and Port Hope will meet this year without displaying any of the old-time animosity."

As negotiations are now in progress between the Young Caps and the Peterboroughs for a game on Jubilee Day, it will be impossible to have the Port Hopes up on the date in question, but friendly return matches can doubtless be arranged later in the season.

At a meeting held on Tuesday evening last the Norwood Lacrosse Club was reorganized for the season as follows:—

President—J. Finlay.
Vice President—Dr. Hall.
Captain—Fred. Code.
Sec.-Treas.—L. McGregor.
Field Captain—Wm. Fry.
Executive Committee—F. Hendren, T. Graham, A. Hall.
Ground Committee—Harry Stephenson, A. Fraser, G. Sherry.

THE WHEEL.

A writer in Harper's Weekly says: In directions to bicycle riders regarding the rule of the road it has frequently been pointed out that when overtaking and passing a vehicle on the left, which is the correct side, the cyclist must be extremely watchful against the possibility of colliding with a waggon approaching from the opposite direction. The fact has not been emphasized, however, that the danger in such instances is far greater for a woman than a man. This is not because she is less prudent or skillful in her riding either, but simply because of the way in which she is dressed. Any skirt, no matter how well it is cut and fitted, will blow about somewhat, and in passing through a comparatively narrow space between two vehicles there is a chance of its becoming entangled in the spokes of the wheel on the "leeward" side of the rider—if a nautical term may be forgiven. Such an occurrence would be almost certain to cause a horrible accident, and yet every cyclist who has ridden much in the city has doubtless seen dozens of hair-breadth escapes from just this state of affairs. The only preventative is unremitting vigilance on the part of the woman as she overtakes or passes a wagon. Sometimes I have thought that there is more danger when she is riding with a man, because it is natural, after seeing him pass safely between the vehicles, to suppose that she can follow without risk. She does not always remember in time that her fluttering skirt requires more room. It is only one of the many occasions in bicycling where quick thinking and equally prompt action, the characteristics of a good rider, become necessary.

GOLF.

One of the executors of the Rev. Mark Burnham estate wishes to correct a wrong impression which he says is conveyed in a paragraph in yesterday's issue, respecting the Golf club's occupancy of "Burnham's Point. The use of the grounds is not, as might be inferred, allowed free to the Golf club, as rental is expected to be paid.

The Diamond Jubilee

Is the all-absorbing topic of conversation with the loyal citizens of Peterborough. But there is a jubilee in the home of every person all the season round who takes the advantage of the high quality and low prices of goods sold by Alex. Elliott, three hundred and fifty-three George street. Whole and retail groceries, wines, liquors and cigars. You can get oranges or lemons at ten cents per doz., or four tins of vegetables for twenty-five cents. Have you tried Chase & Sanborn's unsurpassed coffee. If not, why not do so? You will never use any other.

$10.88 Bedroom Set.

This is the price of our cheap bedroom set. It is well made, nicely finished and has a good mirror in the dresser. There may be lower priced sets, but none better value. Then see our $14 and $16 sets. They are worth 20 per cent. more, but we give you the benefit of close buying in large quantities. It is only necessary to see these goods to appreciate the bargains in them. All other lines of furniture equally good value. CLEGG'S Furniture Warerooms, 425 and 427 George street.

THE CARE OF THE POOR.

Simcoe County Sternly Reproved for not Furnishing a Refuge.

Mr. Justice Robertson, presiding recently at the spring assizes in Barrie, spoke as follows of the housing of the poor:—"The sheriff has handed me a list of paupers that astonishes me, and what astonishes me more is that a wealthy county like Simcoe has no house of refuge. The jail contains 33 paupers at present, old people herded with criminals, whose only crime is poverty. This is a state of things that should not exist. Because they have not been able to provide for themselves in their old age, you should not allow them to die in jail like dogs in a gutter. The jail was never intended for the poor. The Ontario government grants $4,000 to counties erecting a house of refuge, and it is a disgrace that one should not exist in Simcoe."

The Toronto Farmers' Sun, commenting upon the above, adds: "It must be sadly admitted that there are many other counties in Ontario of which Judge Robertson might have made these vigourous and timely remarks. Why the Ontario farmer should be slow to make humane provision for the care of the unfortunate poor is difficult to understand. His ready hospitality, his contributions to the home and foreign mission enterprises of the churches and his maintenance in every village of several branches of the Protestant church, differing only in immaterial points of dogma, belie the assertion that he is not a generous giver. His stern Puritanism is, no doubt, partly responsible. Temperate and careful himself, he does not sympathize with those who have come to poverty by drunkenness and idleness. Nor does he recognize the fact that in the struggle of life the weak and unfortunate of necessity come to grief. It cannot be believed that his jealousy of the towns and villages play any part. It is to be hoped that the reproach of inhumanity will ere long be impossible in any county of Ontario.

CORPORATE CHARITY.

A Few Pointers in Relation to Corporation Management of Indigent Poor.

Napanee Express.

The practice of committing old and indigent people to gaol in order that the municipalities in which they reside can shirk the responsibility of maintaining them, goes merrily on. This Christian-like custom is rapidly converting the gaols in counties where no poor house has been established, into second-class hospitals, and in many instances the wards are so lumbered up with poor and heart-sick old men and women that proper provisions for the safe-keeping of criminals is rendered difficult and escapes are becoming of more frequent occurrence in consequence.

Gaolers all over the province are complaining against the practice, and we believe the matter will be brought before Parliament at an early date. The manner in which these poor people are committed is a crime against decency and our boasted nineteenth century civilization. A poor old man (or woman as the case may be) finds himself often through no great fault of his own, unable to work and with no visible means of support. He applies to the municipality for aid. An officer of the municipality goes before a magistrate and swears out an indictment against him for vagrancy, and the poor old victim of a rich municipality's munificence is committed to gaol for six months. At the conclusion of his sentence he is brought forth and re-committed, and so the farce goes on until death ends his probation. After the coroners' inquest has pronounced the dissolution a final and genuine one the remains of one who had seen better days, is placed in a cheap coffin and consigned to mother earth.

A commitment before the magistrate costs anywhere from $1 to 50. The municipalities in the county have to pay their share of the maintenance of the inmates of the gaol. As municipalities are all alike, the only ones gaining any advantage by committing their poor to gaol are those who have a plethora of indigents. One of the objections raised against the erection of a poor house in Lennox and Addington was that a few of the larger municipalities—Napanee in particular, would reap the advantage, as they had the greatest number of indigent people. Admitting that, does not the same objection hold good under the present inhuman system?

The Ontario Government grants a certain sum towards the erection of a poor house in each county and supplements it with an annual grant towards its maintenance. Counties like Lennox & Addington, which do not avail themselves of the Government's liberality, are not only maintaining their own poor, but are contributing to the support of those in counties where poor houses are established.

The different municipalities in Lennox & Addington expend about $3,000 per year in the support of their poor, and this does not include the cost of those kept in gaol. In many counties where poor houses are established they have become almost self-sustaining. The average cost per head of the inmates of these institutions is placed at 96 cents per week, including all expenses. Don't you think it would be an economical move to establish a poor house in Lennox?

RESULT OF USI)

AYER'S P LLS

"Ayer's Cathartic Pills fo. ver thirty years have kept me in g l health, never having had a sick day all that time. Before I was twenty I suffered almost continually—as a result of constipation—from dyspepsia; headaches, neuralgia, or boils and other eruptive diseases. When I became convinced that nine-tenths of my troubles were caused by constipation, I began the use of Ayer's Pills, with the most satisfactory results, never having a single attack that did not readily yield to this remedy. My wife, who had been an invalid for years, also began to use Ayer's Pills, and her health was quickly restored. With my children I had noticed that nearly all their ailments were preceded by constipation, and I soon had the pleasure of knowing that with children as with parents, Ayer's Pills, if taken in season, avert all danger of sickness."—H. THE DUTY ON YARNS

Considerable Changes in the Classes of Goods

UNDER THE READJUSTMENT MADE

In a Year the Duty on the Yarns Imported From Britain Will be Only 15 Per Cent —The Agriculture Committee Discusses the Cattle Quarantine Regulations—Ottawa News.

Ottawa, May 26.—(Special)—The readjustment made in the duties on woollen yearns is likely to effect considerable changes in the classes of goods manufactured in Canadian mills. The new tariff provides that yarns worth less than 30 cents per pound shall be taxed at the rate of 30 per cent. Yarns worth 30 cents and over per pound are taxed at the rate of 20 per cent. only. The intention is to stimulate the production of higher-class woollens than have heretofore been made in the Dominion. The mill-owners stated that the very great reductions made in the tariff on the cheaper classes of woollens would force them to go in for the manufacture of the more expensive grades. The Government, recognizing the advisability of aiding the mill-owners to carry out this intention, have placed the duties on the finer yarns—which are the raw material for these finer cloths at 20 per cent. This it is believed will enable the mill-owners to go in for finer classes of products. The duty is, of course, subject to the reduction of 25 per cent. under the preferential tariff, so that in a year from now the net duty on these finer woollen yarns, which are imported largely from Great Britain, will be only 15 per cent.

Dr. McEachran, chief veterinary surgeon of the Dept. of Agriculture, again appeared before the Committee on Agriculture this morning, and explained the new regulations as to quarantine between Canada and the United States. Speaking of the regulations to prevent the introduction of disease, he stated that he did not know of a single case of glanders in horses in Canada.

The practice of American cattle being brought into the Northwest, and put to grass on the ranches during the summer to be taken back to the United States in the fall, was discussed, and a recommendation from the committee invited, with a view to putting a stop to a practice which might, under present regulations, grow up, of fattening American cattle on the large ranches of the Northwest, which should be stocked, Mr. McMullen contended, from the farms of Ontario, and other provinces of the Dominion.

Another matter in regard to which Mr. Cochrane urged action, was the regulation allowing the manufacturers of hams and bacon to import American hogs in bond and export the product in hams and bacon. It was contended that this product might be exported to Great Britain as Canadian, and injure the reputation of our hams and bacon.

Sir R. Cartwright was this morning waited upon by a large deputation representing the veterans of 1866, who think their services to Canada on that occasion should be acknowledged by the issue of a medal. The deputation was introduced by Mr. Lonut, M.P., and other members of the House present were Messrs. Corby, Cowan, Wilson, Tisdale, Craig, Beattie, Bennett, Cargill, Choquette and Hutchison.

The spokesmen were Major Farwell, representing Ontario, and Majors Scott and Boyd, representing Quebec. It was at first proposed that the veterans should ask for a land grant, but this idea has been dropped, and they will be satisfied with medals.

Sir Richard Cartwright in his reply said he fully recognized the gravity of the circumstances under which the militia regiments were called out for active service in 1866. The medals asked for would be but a trifling recompense for the services rendered on that occasion, and the Jubilee year was a fitting time for urging the matter. He would do his best, he said, to have their request complied with, and would lay the matter before his colleagues without delay. He did not quite see why the Imperial authorities had refused the request when it was made several years ago, but the matter would be taken up at once.

The deputation also waited on the Governor-General and presented a memorial in favor of a general service medal and requested His Excellency to forward the memorial to the British authorities.

The special committee on Mr. Casey's and Mr. Maclean's bills for the safety of railway employes met this morning and continued the taking of evidence. Mr. A. W. Low, secretary of the Legislative Board of Dominion Railway Employes, was first heard, and was followed by Mr. William Hughes, also of this city. Mr. Hudson replied to the statements made by the railway authorities. The committee will meet again next week.

A well-known French-Canadian journalist, Oscar McDonell, died this morning at his residence, 200 Wilbrod-street, after an illness extending over a period of eight months. He was troubled with cancer in the throat, and some three months ago had an operation performed, since which time he has been confined to his bed. The cancer broke two days ago and he bled internally up to the time of his death. For some time he was unable to speak and was forced to write down anything he wanted to communicate. The late Mr. McDonell was born in St. Madeline de Rigaud, County Vaudreuil, on April 11, 43 years ago and was the son of Donald McDonell. He received his education at Rigaud College, and, at the conclusion of his studies, came to Ottawa and entered into the grocery business. He afterwards took up journalism, being owner of Le Canada and Le Temps. The deceased leaves a widow and five children, the eldest of whom is only 11 years of age. The members of the Parliamentary press gallery, who appreciated the genial disposition of their late confrere, to-night passed a resolution of condolence with the widow and family.

News has been received here of the death of Rev. Dr. McTavish, who was prominent in Canada at the time of the union of the Presbyterian churches. A Mislaid Train.

We lately told the story of a train which, breaking incontinently with all traditions, set fire to the station at Becoula-Bruyeres; but this is nothing to what has happened to the train that usually leaves Antwerp for Termonde at eight minutes past seven in the evening. At the intermediate stations would-be passengers waited vainly for its arrival, and at length, when it was feared some awful catastrophe had occurred, and inquiry was made, it was discovered that by some unaccountable oversight the authorities had forgotten to despatch the train! The train did not start, but the story got here all the same.—Le Gaulois.

Tacitus' History.

The entire history of Tacitus, as we have the work, was regained from a single copy found in the fifteenth century in a monastery of Westphalia. That we should owe the works of this author to one copy is a remarkable circumstance, for the Emperor Tacitus, who claimed to be a descendant of the historian, had copies of the history placed in every library of the empire, and each year had ten copies transcribed for presentation to scholars. All, it seems, perished save the Westphalian copy.

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

FOR WEAK PEOPLE.

At all Druggists. Price 50 cents per Box, or 3 for $1.50. Sent by Mail on receipt of price. T. MILBURN & CO., Toronto.

A man fears and abhors the highwayman who at the point of the revolver robs him of his money. The mere thought of the ruffian who robs by violence makes a man shudder. There is a deadlier enemy than the highwayman that robs men not only of their money, but of their ability to make it, and of their health and life. And yet men actually court the advances of this deadly enemy. Its name is consumption. Thousands of bright men and women are passive victims in its clutch. its daily victims are numbered by thousands.

A sure cure for this dread disease is found in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It goes directly to the seat of the trouble. It restores vigorous action to the digestive organs, tones up the liver, and makes the appetite good. It makes the assimilation perfect and supplies the blood with the elements that build up healthy tissue. It acts upon the lungs driving out all impurities and disease germs. It soothes the shattered nerves and they resume their normal function of imparting healthy activity to all the organs of the body. All Druggists sell it. Nothing else is "just as good."

"Dr. Pierce: I am one of your most grateful patients," writes Mrs. Annie M. Norman of Equinunk, Wayne Co., Pa. "I have taken 'Golden Medical Discovery' also 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Pellets' with wonderful results. I am, as many of my friends tell me, like the dead brought to life. The doctors said I had consumption and death was only a matter of time. That was six years ago. I concluded to try your medicine. I continued until I had taken nine bottles of 'Discovery' and several bottles of 'Pellets.' I got well and have done a great deal of hard work since."

What more need be said of a book after the one statement: "680,000 copies sold at $1.50 each?" That book was Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. In that many homes it is known as the best medical book ever published in any language. Several chapters relate exclusively to diseases peculiar to women. There is now ready an enormous edition that is absolutely FREE. This edition is bound in heavy paper. Send thirty-one one-cent stamps to pay cost of customs and mailing only. If fine French cloth binding is desired, send 50 stamps. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

IN THE QUEEN'S REIGN.

How Labor Has Fared and How the Common People Have Advanced.

Until 1850 children under 8 years of age worked in the factories ten and twelve hours a day. Human beings for the first time were competing with machinery, and for twenty years human beings were the cheapest. The vicious conditions of their lives made for crime. A man in working clothes could not enter a park, there were no free libraries, free schools, people's institutes, bath or wash houses. The public-house was the only refuge of the poor man from the sweatshops and cellars. The paupers numbered 1,500,000, the criminals 50,000. In 1893, with the population increased 50 per cent., crime was reduced 87 per cent.

The laboring man is now enfranchised the children taken from industrial life and put in schools, sanitation and factory safeguards are compulsory, agriculture is largely abandoned for manufacture and commerce. Water and sewer systems are universal, the parks and libraries are open, and the slums are rapidly being demolished by wholesome and wholesale condemnation laws. Wages are actually higher than sixty years ago and the purchasing power of money greater, owing to rapid transportation and the removal of duties. The laboring voter is largely in the majority over all voters, so much so that the lords are threatened. The demand for universal franchise dates with the demand for free schools.

Two years after Victoria came to the throne Parliament made the first appropriation for popular education of the sum of £30,000. Now the annual appropriation is £9,000,000. The universities are now open to all classes (Mr. Hardy denies this in "Jude the Obscure"), the purchase of commissions in the army has been stopped and places in the civil service are open to those who pass the examination.

In all these improvements novelists, a practically unknown class of authors before the Victorian age, have taken a prominent part. Dickens was instrumental in rehabilitating the private schools, in abolishing the imprisonment for debt, correcting the abuses and delays of chancery court; Walter Besant's "All Sorts and Conditions of Men" hurried the people's palaces, museums and schools of science into existence; Mrs. Browning released the factory children; Tom Hood called his attention to sweating by his "Song of the Shirt"; Kingsley and Charles Reade each helped in the regeneration of the age, and Carlyle was the prophet of altruism as opposed to the political economical system of Adam Smith.

This sentiment pervades English politics. The law interferes to protect labor in its life, safety and wages; the Government is the model employer; the "living wage" the issue of the day. Factories must be sanitary, the dwellings on estates must be healthful, the home of a lord is no more his castle than that of the humblest laborer. Readers of Mrs. Humphrey Ward are informed that there is still pauperism and game laws, overcrowding in the cities, sweating, defective tenements, too long hours of labor and no place but the work house for the aged poor.

But without doubt the standard of comfort is higher and the opportunities immeasurably extended for bettering

It is a fortunate day for a man when he first discovers the value of Ayer's Sarsaparilla as a blood-purifier. With this medicine, he knows he has found a remedy upon which he may rely, and that his life-long malady is at last conquered. Has cured others, will cure you.

Personal Experience.

Mr. H. Hindson, of Hindson Bros., Watford, Ont., says: "From personal experience I recommend Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills for nervousness and general weakness of the system, and can say without doubt they are the best medicine I ever used.

WINNERS AT WOODBINE.

The Woodstock Plate Was the Big Event Yesterday and Bonnie Lass Captured It The Other Race.

Toronto, May 27.

The Ontario Jockey Club was favored with another fine day for the fourth day of their spring meeting, and a good crowd, about 4000, were in attendance.

First race, Flash Stakes, for all ages, a sweepstake of $10 each, half forfeit with $350 added, of which $75 to second horse and $25 to third, distance 5-8 mile:

1—Looram, G. Hendrie's ch. g., by Himyar—Leon Ban (107), Walker.
2—Imposition, E. S. Edwards' b.f., by Tremont—Pretence (105), Lendrum.
3—Her Excellency, C. T. Hounsball's ch.f., by Favor—Miss Josie (105), Snell.
Time—1.03 1-4.

Second race, Woodstock Plate, Sweepstakes, $5 each, payable at time of entry; $500 added, of which $100 to second, $50 to third; distance 1 1-3 miles:

1—Boanerges, W. & A. McGuigan's b. c., by Spendthrift—Llandrino (127), Morrison.
2—Tragedian, J. E. Seagram's ch.c., by Egmont—Vera (127), Lewis.
3—Quick Quack, J. E. Seagram's bl. c., by Queen's Counsel—Catch Duck (117), Sullivan.
Time 1.55 1-4.

Third race, Helter Skelter Chase, purse $400, second $75, third $25; entrance $5, divided between second and third. For horses that have not won an open hurdle or steeplechase in 1896 or 1897 of the value of $400; weight 160 lbs.; thoroughbreds 5 lbs. extra; winners across country or over hurdles, and non-winners across country in 1896 or 1897, allowed 5 lbs.; short course, 2 miles:

1—Lion Heart, T. P. Phelan's br.g., by Lepanto—Queen Lion (162), Hamilton.
2—Don Pedro, Owner's br.g., by Brazil—Ethel (152), Houston.
3—Aide-de-Camp, Col. Milligan's br. g., by Milesian—Morena (147), O'Donnell.
Time—5.43.

Lion Heart won in a walk, with Don Pedro a dozen lengths behind. Bond Head went down at the club house bank, and Ralston narrowly escaped being run over by Gamble Orr, who was following. Ralston got up, and at the stone wall his horse threw him again. He rolled over a couple of times and lay stretched out. A doctor was sent over, and he was brought in a hack to the judges' stand, where he was attended by a number of medical men. Ralston's collar bone was found to be broken.

Fourth race, Waterloo Handicap; purse $650, $100 to second, $50 to third; allages; $5 to accompany entry; $10 additional from horses not declared out; winners after publication of weights, 5 lbs.; twice, 7 lbs. extra; distance 1 1-2 miles:

1—Basso, J. Flynn's b.h., by Falsetto—Ethelda (119), Knapp.
2—Joe Miller, J. E. Seagram's br.g., by Springfield—Milly (112), Lewis.
Time—2.39.

There were only the two horses, and it was a fine sight to see them gallop along together. Miller had the pole, while Knapp kept Basso right beside him and just shook him up when they entered the stretch. Basso won, pulled up, by three lengths.

Fifth race, purse $350, for maidens three years old and upwards, 3-4 mile:

1—Dyment's Superior; 2, Snell's Umberto; 3, Smith's James Doyle. Time 1.16 3-4.

The start was a straggling one, and Superior was never in trouble, but it was a hard drive for the place. Doyle would have had it in another jump.

Sixth race, purse $400, for 3-year-olds and up, selling; 1 1-8 mile:

1—Knapp's Skate; 2, Morrison's Lord Zeus; 3, McGlone's Scenland. Time 1.57 1-4.

The start was good and the race was won driving hard. Lord Zeus should have won, but Morrison took him back and out of it on the back stretch; then he came like a wild horse and in the last quarter was gaining at every jump.

A Bit of Detective Work.

Somebody had been violating the recent ordinance against expectorating in public places, for the floor of a car was covered with tobacco juice. A big man who looked as if he might be a policeman entered the car, noted the evidence of crime, and, approaching a young man in the corner of the car, demanded:

"Did you do that?"

"No—no—sir; I don't chew," stammered the embarrassed youth.

"Did you do that?" asked the big man as he confronted a little old man on the other side of the car.

"No, sir, I did not," he replied, with some warmth in his manner.

The big man looked around, and then rushed up to a tall thin man in the corner.

"Did you do that?" he again demanded, as he aimed a finger at the evidence.

The man addressed hesitated, and every one expected to see him yanked out of the car by the collar.

"Did you do that?" repeated the big man, more determined than before.

"Yes, I did," came the reply. "What of it?"

"Then give me a chew. I'm nearly dead for one."—San Francisco Post.

A woman's headaches may come from several causes. She may have a headache arising from nervousness, or from digestive disturbances. Nine cases in ten her headaches come from disorders peculiar to her sex. It may show itself in the symptoms which are characteristic of a dozen disorders. Thousands of times women have been treated for the wrong disorders. Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription was compounded for the sole purpose of relieving womankind of these ills and pains. Thousands of women have testified that after taking treatment from several physicians without benefit, the "Favourite Prescription" cured them completely and quickly. It has been used for over thirty years, and has an unbroken record of success.

The women who hesitates is invited to send 31 one cent stamps to cover only the cost of mailing a copy of Doctor Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, which contains plain, clear information about all of the organs of the human body and their functions.

LOST A THOUGHT.

ad a thought—a thing so slight,
It vanished ere I grasped it quite,
Whence hath it gone? Ah, welladay!
Can learned doctors tell me, pray?
Or whence it came? That too as well
I would that wisest sage might tell.

As lightning parts the clouds in twain,
And heralds thus the coming rain,
So with my thought, both swift and bright,
It promised much—now lost to sight!
I've searched to-day and yesterday;
It still eludes, is still astray.

I wonder if some greater mind
This truant thought may one day find!
May quickly seize and hold and use
That which to me elusive proves;
To me a tantalizing hint,
To him, perhaps, a golden mint.

Perchance 'tis this that draws the line
Where large souls o'er the lesser shine.
The master mind hath power to see
These flashes from infinity;
Aye, more than that—to also free
The mighty truth, concealed from me.

And yet, withal 'twas but a thought—
A thing you'd almost count for naught,
Yet thoughts ere this have conquered kings!
Have given steam and lightning wings!
Have sped the arrow speech, to smite
To death the wrong—to guard the right.

But as I thus my loss proclaim,
Back to that silence whence it came
Hath fled this vexing, ghostlike thing,
Where mystic shadows veiling cling;
Nor seer nor sage can tell me when
I'll find that wandering thought again.
—G. M. Howard, in Chautauquan.

Lithographic.

The cost of lithographic stones, like that of diamonds, increases in geometric proportion with the size, and the craft will appreciate the advantages of an invention which enables small stones to be so combined as to form plates of any size at greatly reduced cost. The edges of the stones are made perfectly true and square, cemented so compactly together as to leave no perceptible joint, and cemented to a backing of slate, forming a large, practically integral and exceedingly solid stone.

Well, perhaps it was my fault, but never mind, I have a pot of "Quickcure" in my kit and it will cure our bruises before we get home. You never saw anything like the way it will heal a cut or a bruise of any kind, and for sprains and strains it is—well, it is just "out of sight."

HENRY IEVERS, L.D.S., Quebec, writes: "One of my children sprained her ankle, which became much swollen and discoloured. Some 'Quickcure' was spread on linen, and applied; the pain ceased at once, the swelling was gone the next day, and on the fourth day she walked to school as usual. I have also proved it to be a wonderful remedy for cuts and bruises.

NORTH MONAGHAN.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Court of Revision.

The Court of Revision on the assessment roll of the township of North Monaghan for 1897 met in the town hall on Tuesday, May 25th, at 2 o'clock. All the members were present, Mr. McIntosh presiding. After the necessary statutory declaration of each had been made and subscribed, appeals were heard and disposed of in the following number.

A. King, assessment reduced $250.

Thos. Brown, assessment reduced $300.

H. B. Rye, assessment confirmed.

Mr. Wm. Spilsbury also appeared entering an appeal against his assessment but as the appeal was irregular and the requisite notice had not been given no action was taken with reference thereto. With these amendments the Assessment Roll was passed and finally accepted as the Revised Assessment Roll of the municipalty for the year 1897. Court then dissolved and went into council for the transaction of the general public business of the township.

The Reeve Mr. J. McIntosh in the chair.

The minutes of the meetings of April 9th and April 24th were read and confirmed.

The following accounts were presented: Massey Sawyer Co., 2 bevel pinions for road grader, and express charges on same, $1 35; W. J. Hall, flour for W. Close, and food for Anderson, charity, $6; Alex. Turner, cleaning drain on Park street, 6½ days, $6.50; Geo. Moncrief, filling washout at bridge on 8th con., $3; J. J. Bennett and J. Armstrong, filling washouts on 9th con., $5; W. J. Payne, filling in ruts on roads between park lots, $1.50; G. H. May, filling washout on 11th con. and fixing culvert on Brickley's lane, $1.50; A. Pearson, hauling material and repairing culvert at lot 16, con. 11, $1; Geo. Raper, damages to plough when performing statute labour on b ndary, $1; James Thompson, repairing Douglas bridge, $4.

Moved by Mr. Bradburn and Mr. Madill, that the accounts as presented, when properly certified to, be passed and paid—Carried.

Moved by Messrs. Bradburn and Madill, that a committee composed of the reeve, and Messrs. Yelland and Hunter, be appointed to confer with a committee of the council of Peterborough respecting sewer arbitration costs—Carried.

Moved by Messrs. Hunter and Madill, that whereas a number of ratepayers of the township have arranged with the proprietors of the steamboats on the river to convey them and their produce to the market at Peterborough, and for the purpose of reaching the river require the use of the ½ line on 7th con. Therefore the clerk is instructed to notify the owner of lot 7 to remove the fence from the road and open the same—Carried.

Moved by Messrs. Bradburn and Hunter that an order be drawn upon the treasurer for the sum of $26, assessor's salary and postage, 1897.—Carried.

Moved by Messrs. Hunter and Yelland, that the first half year's salary of each Councillor and clerk be paid.—Carried.

According to instructions of a resolution of the last meeting, the clerk submitted bylaws necessary for the commutation of the statute labour within the township at a rate of 50c per day, and to divide the township into three road districts, and also to appoint highway commissioners thereon.

These bylaws were given the necessary readings and passed.

In Committee of the Whole, council on the second reading of bylaw No. 442, the names of David Galloway, Robert Sanderson and Geo. Moncrief were inserted as highway commissioners in road districts No. 1, 2 and 3 respectively, each to be paid at the rate of $1 50 per day, and to have general supervision over all the public highways, bridges and culverts, and all work thereon, and to be subject to all regulations and duties assigned to them by the bylaw or directions hereafter imposed by the council.

Moved by Messrs. Yelland and Hunter, that the clerk be instructed as soon as convenient after the final revision of the assessment roll of the municipality each year, to furnish each highway commissioner with a list of the names of all parties appearing thereon in his district liable to pay statute labour commutation tax and the amount thereof, and when it is found necessary, or at such time as the council directs, the work of road repair or improvement to commence. The highway commissioners for each district shall employ all parties as shown in the aforesaid list, who may so desire, provided always that each person so employed will supply such aid, material, horses and wagons and fulfil such requirements as may be deemed sufficient or compatible with the amount of expenditure and the proper carrying out of any such work.—Carried.

Moved by Messrs. Yelland and Hunter, that all parties who may be employed under the highway commissioner in the work of repair and construction of public roads, etc., in township be paid at the rate of ten cents per hour for a man and twenty-five cents per hour for a man with a team and waggon or plow or scraper—Carried.

The name of James W. Dawson in district No. 3; G. W. Bennett in district No. 2, and Francis Brown in district No. 1 were inserted as pound keepers, and John Fowler, Fred Stinson, and Geo. Young, Sr. in No. 1; Thos. Brown, Jno. Armstrong, and Jos. Foster in No. 2; and Wm. Whitfield, R. Waterman and Wm. Laing in No. 3 district respectively as fence viewers for the township for 1897.

On motion bylaw No. 443, a bylaw to authorize the reeve and treasurer to borrow money to meet the current expenses until such time as the taxes can be collected, was introduced and passed.

The clerk presented the detailed time and pay list as filed by the foreman of the road grader showing the total amount of work for the two weeks ending May 22nd and total cost of same as follows:—Number days grading with 3 men and 2 teams 10½ days; number of days with 1 man and team, extra 5½; total number of days 16; total number of rods of road graded 670; total cost of work for two weeks $79 89; Moved by Messrs. Hunter and Bradburn that the report be received and an order issued in favour of F. Moncrief for the above amount in accordance with contract.—Carried.

Council then adjourned until called by the reeve.

The Life of Dr. Chase.

As a compiler of Chase's Receipt Book, his name is familiar in every household in the land, while as a physician his works on simple formulas left an imprint of his name that will be handed down from generation to generation. His last great medicine, in the form of his Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, is having the large public patronage that his Ointment, Pills and Catarrh Cure are having. Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is especially adapted for all Bronchial and Asthmatic troubles.

BAPTISTS IN CONVENTION.

Presentation of the Foreign Mission Board's Report.

At yesterday morning's session of the Ontario and Quebec Baptist Convention in London, the first order of business was the presentation of the Foreign Mission Board's report, which was very cheerful in tone. It referred to the heroic effort made by the native churches towards self-support. The people are being taught along this line and are responding very heartily. The educational work of the mission includes village school, boarding schools and Samulcotta, which has four departments, literary, theological, industrial, primary. Last year there were 92 students in attendance. The medical work has been very helpful under the charge of Dr. Smith, his wife, who is a trained nurse, and Mrs. Chute, M. D. During the year 3,224 patients have been treated. The famine has not affected the fields as much as other parts of the country. The approximate population of the whole field of operations is 1,357,000; on this area there are 1,914 villages. Twenty seven churches have been established with 3,726 members; 478 converts have been baptized during the year. There are also 90 Sunday schools with 2,910 scholars. The total income for the year from all sources was $32 374 75. The year closed with a deficit of $5 159.07. Last year the deficit was $8,079.11. The report urged the sending out of two more missionaries next fall. The question of commencing a new mission in Bolivia, South America, was also mentioned, and the hope expressed that something definite would be done in the matter during the meeting.

After the reading of the report, which was adopted, the convention had the pleasure of hearing a few words from the Rev. J. Brown, of Vuyyuru, India, who had just returned on furlough.

The Rev. D. Dack of Simcoe spoke on the "Present Outlook on the World Field." He drew a striking picture of the great need of the Gospel in the dark nations of the world, amongst the millions of India, China, Siam and other places. The inlook was most appalling but the outlook inspiring and encouraging. Few places were now inaccessible to the Gospel.

The afternoon's session began with an address by Prof. Goodspeed of Toronto on "What do the Scriptures teach Respecting the Condition of the Heathen?" He held that the heathen were under the condemnation penalty and power of sin. They were condemned to be lost unless saved by the Gospel. There was no probation between death and the judgment.

The Rev. W. H. Cline, of Paris, spoke on "What do the Scriptures Teach Respecting the Obligations of Christians to the Unevangelized?" He affirmed that it was obligatory to minister to the unevangelized, because we had opportunity because of our relation to the world, and because it was the direct command of God.

In connection with the suggestion that two more missionaries be sent to India, the Rev. A. P. McDairmid, Toronto, pointed out that to do so would cost $2,800. The board had not the money.

The Rev. Ernest Grigg moved that himself and the Rev. Mr. Davis, who are both returned missionaries from India, be again sent to the foreign field, and that if the money was not forthcoming it be borrowed.

The motion was subsequently withdrawn.

Attention was called to the resolution passed two years ago in Toronto providing that appropriations to the Foreign Mission Board should be according to the previous year's income. Discussion was postponed until the evening.

At the evening session the question of sending Messrs. Grigg and Davies to the foreign mission field was discussed. An amendment by Prof. Goodspeed to appropriate a sufficient sum for same was laid over by a motion to adjourn.

MR. MULOCK'S REPORT

How the Country's Postal Department Stands.

AN INCREASE IN THE REVENUE.

Letters, Newspapers, Periodicals, Books and Parcels Carried During the Year Ended June 30, 1896—The Report of the Expert Accountants.

Ottawa, May 28.—(Special.)—The annual report of the Postoffice Department for 1895-96 was laid on the table to-day by Mr. Mulock. From the report of Deputy Postmaster-General White it appears that on June 30 last there were 9103 postoffices in the Dominion, of which 1640 were in the Province of Quebec. The total number of letters carried is given as 156,028,000; postcards 24,794,800; registered letters 3,505,500; free letters 4,898,800; transient newspapers, periodicals, etc., 24,024,000; printers' copy, photographs, etc., 2,352,000; packages, fifth class matter, 1,320,700; parcels, post, 321,700; closed parcels for United Kingdom and other countries 22,630.

During the year 318 additional miles of railway mail service were established. The average daily railway mail service was 14,609, an increase of 206. The value of the issue of postage stamps was $3,779,993, an increase of $154,178. The net revenue of the postoffice was $2,964,014, an increase of $171,224.

The following statement will show the development of the postoffice business during late years

	1886.	1896.
Number of postoffices in Canada	7,295	9,103
Number of letters sent by post	71,000,000	115,730,000
Number of miles of railway over which mails are carried	10,556
Revenue	$ 2,463,747	$ 4,005,890
Savings bank deposits	7,645,227	8,138,947
Money orders issued	10,231,189	13,081,890

There were 1319 money order offices in operation on June 30. The number of money orders issued in Canada was 733,517 for $2,355,191. The number of orders paid was 144,892, for $2,124,553.

The general business of the savings banks shows a considerable increase over that of the previous year. The number of deposits was from 143,685 to 155,398; and the amount from $7,488,028 to $8,138,947. The aggregate balance, including accrued interest, on June 30 was $28,932,929.08, or $2,127,387.41 in excess of the balance at the close of the present period. The average balance at the credit of each depositor advanced from $222.22 to $228.82. The average deposit is 1895 was $52.11; in 1896, it was $52.37.

An interesting feature of the (Mr. Mulock's) first blue book is the report of the expert accountants, Messrs. Cross and Munro, upon the financial affairs of the department, which they examined into at Mr. Mulock's request last autumn. Their conclusions are as follows:

At the beginning of the fiscal year 1895-96, as the result of the deficits of previous years, there were outstanding liabilities of the department in the shape of unpaid accounts to the amount of $616,712.99. At the close of the fiscal year 1895-96, the liabilities of the department in excess of all Parliamentary appropriations applicable thereto amounted to the sum of $695,447.03. Thus, the liabilities had increased during the year 1895-96 to the extent of $68,734.04. The actual cost of maintenance of the department in all its branches for the year 1895-96 was $4,085,325.53. The revenue of the Postoffice Department for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1896, amounted to the sum of $3,957,798.51; which, deducted from the above-named gross cost of maintenance, namely $4,965,327.53, leaves a deficit of $1,027,529.02. Heretofore, it has not been the practice to treat the amount expended under the head of civil government as a charge against the department, and were such practice adhered to the deficit of $1,027,529.02 would be reduced to $246,376.83, leaving the outside service shortage $781,152.19. During the fiscal year 1895-96 there were increases of a permanent character to the cost of the service; such increases were not in existence throughout the whole of the fiscal year 1895-96, but they will occasion an increase in expenditure in 1896-97 over 1895-96.

As every branch of the service continues to expand it would be advisable in each year's appropriations to include a sum for the extension of the service and have such extensions decided upon with reference to such special appropriations, otherwise there is danger of unauthorized and unprovided-for necessary expenditures being undertaken and a consequent laxity in the administration of the financial affairs of the department.

METHODISIS AND THE PLEBISCITE.

Owen Sound District Meeting Don't Want to Have the Taxation Question Linked with the Vote.

Owen Sound, May 28.—At the afternoon session of the Owen Sound district meeting of the Methodist Church, held in the First Methodist Church here, the following plebiscite resolution was unanimously carried: Moved by Rev. R. Strachan, seconded by C. W. Rutledge, Whereas certain representatives of the liquor traffic have, in an interview with the Hon. Mr. Laurier, Dominion Premier, expressed a desire to have the Government so frame the question, or questions, to be submitted to the electors in the approaching plebiscite on the prohibition of the liquor traffic throughout the Dominion, as to ask the electors' opinion, coupled with direct taxation conditions, be it resolved, That we, the members of this Owen Sound district meeting of the Methodist Church, composed of ministers and laymen, assembled in Owen Sound this 28th day of May, 1897, do most respectfully, but strongly, protest against the suggestion of the representatives of the liquor traffic, and urge that the vote to be taken shall be on the simple and definite issue of the prohibition question, leaving it to the Government to determine how the loss, if any, of revenue now derived from the liquor traffic, shall be made up, and, further, that a copy of this resolution be sent to the Hon. William Paterson, M. P., member for this riding, with the request that he present it to the House, and also use his influence to have the plebiscite bill framed without such direct taxation conditions."

ALIEN LABOR COMMITTEE.

Mr Davies and Other Liberals Disapprove of the Idea of an Alien Labor Bill—The Measure Stood Off

Ottawa, May 28.—(Special.)—Hon. L. H. Davies presided at a meeting of the Alien Labor Special Committee to-day. There was considerable talk over the position taken by Mr. Davies at the last meeting of the committee. Mr. Davies had then stated that he had no objection to passing an alien law as far as Ontario was concerned, but he would oppose it being made applicable to the Maritime Provinces, where it would prove disastrous.

Mr. Davies to-day said that he would not have accepted a position on the committee but on the ground that the bill was not to apply to the Maritime Provinces, where it would prove so disastrous.

Messrs. Cavan and Casgrain said that to enforce a law along the Ontario frontier was just as much retaliation against the United States as if the bill applied to the whole Dominion.

Mr. Davies maintained that the legislation was a disgrace to the civilization of the United States.

Mr. Langelier opposed the bill as being opposed to the interests of Quebec Province, where it was not wanted.

Mr. Sifton suggested that all initiation of proceedings should be taken by a Minister of the Crown.

It was thought that a clause could be passed to suit the views of the members, and the committee adjourned to permit this being done.

BURGLARS AT ELMIRA.

They Stole Into Several Residences and Stole Out Again With Cash and Valuables Suspects Arrested.

Elmira, Ont., May 28.—Burglars entered the residence of Mr. William Behrens here last night by a back window and succeeded in getting a valuable gold watch and chain and $40 in cash. They also entered the residences of Messo Weber, John Schaefer and Ignatz Martin. At Martin's they got some money belonging to the R. C. Church, which is next door. At Weber's they got a small sum of money, and at Schaefer's they only got some eatables. They worked so quietly that none of the parties robbed knew anything of it until they got up this morning. Some suspicious-looking parties have been arrested.

TILLMAN RAISED A SENSATION.

He Proposes to Find Out Whether Senators Speculated in Sugar While the Tariff Was Being Considered.

Washington, May 28.—Senator Tillman of South Carolina has introduced a resolution in the Senate for the appointment of a special committee of five Senators to enquire into recent reports of speculation by Senators in sugar stocks, and as to advance information by New York speculators as to the sugar schedule of the Tariff Bill, also to continue the investigation made in 1894. The resolution recites that one man is serving a sentence in jail and that another was yesterday acquitted on a technicality, and provides for conducting the investigation so all questions shall be pertinent.

Mr. Tillman made a very sensational speech. He said the Democratic members of the Finance Committee were under a cloud on account of the sugar schedule of the Tariff Bill of 1894; also that the Republican members of the Finance Committee were now under suspicion. One party, continued Mr. Tillman, was as deep in the mud as the others in the mire.

Mr. Pettus (Dem., Ala.) demanded that Mr. Tillman should specify his charges and that the whole Senate should not be subjected to his sweeping assertions.

Mr. Tillman said the present Tariff Bill was made in the rooms of the Arlington, with close connections by telephone and telegraph with New York, and close touch with the sugar trust magnates.

Mr. Tillman said Mr. Chairman was in a fall turned into a club, while the great magnate had gone free on a technicality.

Mr. Aldrich replied to Mr. Tillman. He denied that any person connected with the sugar trust had anything to do with the making of the present schedule. No person except the Republican members of the committee knew anything about the sugar schedule, except [illegible] of Nevada, to whom it was shown [illegible] hours before its re[illegible]

The Kaiser Can't Go to Paris.

Paris, May 28.—A number of people who have been interviewed by representatives of The Gaulois on the subject of Emperor William of Germany visiting Paris during the exhibition of 1900, agree that His Majesty's visit is inadmissible so long as the question of Alsace-Lorraine exists.

Walked to Death While Asleep.

Buffalo, May 28.—John Mennenhuber, 62 years old, a subject of somnambulism, took a fatal walk in his sleep last night. He got out of bed about midnight and walked about the upper floor of the house. There is a stairway with a banister leading to the first floor, and in some way the old man fell over this and landed heavily on the floor.

Almighty Voice is a Very Dangerous Indian.

HE MURDERED SERGT. COLEBROOK

And on Being Located by Mounted Police Fled to a Bluff and Shot Three of His Pursuers, Wounding Them Seriously. Others News From Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, May 28.—(Special.)—Almighty Voice, the Indian who murdered Sergt. Colebrook of the Northwest Mounted Police, was located near Crooked Lakes, about 40 miles south of Prince Albert, by Corp. Boirdrodge and Scout Napoleon Vonne yesterday, who came suddenly upon a camp of two Indians. They fled to cover and from the bluffs fired two shots, one of which took effect in Vonne's shoulder, wounding him badly. The fugitives were hotly pursued by the party, under Inspector Wilson, and another party under Capt. Allan. Later, on approaching a small bluff, the police were met by a bullet, which broke Capt. Allan's arm, and a moment later by another, which struck Sergt. Raven in the groin. The party drew off from the bluff out of range and surrounded it, so that the Indian's capture must soon be effected. Should he show himself he will be shot down immediately.

MATTERS SERIOUS AT ATHENS.

King George Pratically Barricaded in the Palace at Athens Britain Holding the Turk Down.

London, May 29.—The correspondent of The Morning Post at Constantinople says: "To-day (Friday) the embassies received word from their respective Ministers at Athens that the position of the Greek Royal Family is now critical. King George is practically barricaded in the palace, and it is reported that he is making preparations to leave Athens in order to evade the fury of the populace. The relations between the King and Premier Ralli are very much strained, and the general situation is extremely serious."

London, May 28.—The correspondent of The Times at Athens says: "The despatches which the Government has received from the representatives of Greece abroad all indicate that the peace negotiations have taken a turn more favorable to Greece. Turkey's proposal to occupy Thessaly no longer receives any consideration owing to Great Britain's attitude, while the proposal to abolish the capitulations in the case of Greek subjects in Turkey is rejected and the suggested extradition treaty is apparently set aside.

"The powers have fixed £6,000,000 as the highest limit indemnity and will allow only such a strategic alteration of the frontier as will not involve the subjection of any inhabited district to Turkish rule. Germany's demand for an international control of Greek finances has not been favorably received, as the Government hopes to raise a loan abroad on the guarantee of England, Russia and France, at low interest, to pay the indemnity, conceding certain revenues, but not accepting the principle of foreign control."

A despatch to The Post from Constantinople says the Turkish Government has given orders for the forwarding of 30 battalions from Syria for service on the Servian and Bulgarian frontiers, and that six transports sailed yesterday (Thursday) under sealed orders.

JOHN REDMOND SUSPENDED

And Other Obstreperous Irishmen Removed From the British Commons.

London, May 28.—Mr. John Redmond, the Parnellite leader, was suspended in the House of Commons today owing to his persisting in an irregular discussion of the financial relations between Great Britain and Ireland. Mr. John J. Clancy, member for the north division of Dublin County; Mr. William Redmond, member for West Clare, and Mr. William Field, member for the St. Patrick's Division of Dublin, for similar conduct, were removed from the House of Commons by the sergeant-at-arms.

The disturbance took place during the committee vote for the maintenance of harbors. Mr. Clancy declared that Ireland was over-taxed to keep up English establishments.

The chairman said that statement was not relevant, and called Mr. Clancy to order. Mr. Redmond arose and made the same statement. The chairman called him to order and when Mr. Redmond persisted in speaking he was ordered to resume his seat. This he refused to do, whereupon he was named.

The president of the Board of Trade, Mr. C. T. Ritchie, moved Mr. Redmond's suspension, which was adopted by a vote of 223 to 32.

When the House resumed regular business, the matter was reported to the Speaker of the House, Mr. William Court Gully, and the House confirmed the suspension by a vote of 238 to 52, several anti-Parnellites supporting the Parnellite minority.

The House then again went into committee and Mr. Clancy persisted on the same lines as Mr. Redmond. The chairman ordered him to withdraw; he refused to do so, and the Sergeant-at-Arms was ordered to remove him.

Mr. William Redmond shouted: "Send for the horse guards."

The Sergeant-at-Arms proceeded to Mr. Clancy's seat, and, immediately on his arrival there, Mr. Clancy rose and withdrew with the Sergeant-at-Arms.

Mr. Redmond said: "Opinions may differ as to what is disorderly. I consider it not only disorderly, but grossly criminal to not only rob a country, but to gag its representatives. I shall take every opportunity of objecting to Ireland taking part in a single one of these votes under the present circumstances.

AN EXPERT OPINION.

When the first draft of the tariff resolutions was brought down in March, as well as at the presentation of the amended draft on Tuesday, it was contended by the Opposition that the preferential schedule which had the effect of giving a favourable discrimination on goods imported from Great Britain, was inoperative, and a mere hollow semblance of friendliness towards the mother country, inasmuch as it was contrary to the German and Belgian Treaties. But high English authorities do not see any difficulty in this direction, in the way of Canada showing loyal preference to the Mother Country in trade matters. Sir Charles Kennedy, late head of the Commercial Department of the British Foreign Office, considered an expert and weighty authority, in the course of a lecture on international law, at Bristol, in referring to the Canadian tariff, said that, while on the surface, the new preferential clause of the Canadian tariff appeared contrary to the Belgian and German treaties, the circumstances of the case were materially altered since those treaties were enacted. For instance, said Sir Charles, self-government has been conceded to Canada, including the power to regulate her own fiscal policy. Acting on that power Canada has prohibited the entrance of prison-made goods, an export favoured by Belgium and Germany. Moreover, he continued, Canada is willing to concede tariff preference to every country on reciprocal terms. This tariff rule was adopted by the United States, and had to some extent been recognized bp the powers already having agreements with the United States, including England and France.

THE METHODS CONTRASTED.

The United States people consider themselves a rather swift people; but compared to Canadians they are exceedingly slow in some things. In Canada the people declare for a change of government, and within a few days a new government is in harness and transacting the business of the country. In the United States the government declare a change of policy and have to wait four months before their wishes are implemented. In Canada a tariff measure measure is brought down, and within a week the customs collectors are notified to act accordingly to the new order of things. In the United States the Dingly tariff bill has been between the jaws of the legislators for weeks, and the prospects are that the summer will be over before it becomes law. The United States Senate has had a "whack" at it, and the debate in the House of Representatives, which began last Tuesday, will be continued through June, July, August and September. Then the Senate will have another hand at delaying the bill. It is said that certain senators, thinking that the bill will be either defeated or carried by a small majority, have placed a high price on their support, and intend holding out for their price for their vote; and it is also said that each interest involved in the bill has its representative in the Senate, who will insist on obstruction till his own particular request is granted. So that it looks as if the Dingley bill, for whose principle the people voted, will not become law until about a year after the popular demand for it. And yet the present Canadian government has received any amount of lectures from the Opposition because of the ruin of the interests of the country from the delay in introducing tariff reform.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

QUEBEC has things lively this year—two shocks of earthquake from below and one political earthquake on the surface.

THE summer resort season will hardly break into full bloom till the coal stove can be set aside and the furnace sealed for the summer.

IT is probable that the ultimate fate of the Dingley Tariff Bill in the United States may depend upon the Speaker's casting vote. A close shave for the tariff, but not so close as it will shave the consumer.

WHAT is the difference in principle and effect between a business combine to raise prices above legitimate values by the help of a high tariff, and a similar combine of criminals to raise money by robbing a bank?

THE Government, it is stated, has issued a regulation in connection with customs packages, which is important to business men. Hereafter packages valued under fifty cents will not be dutiable, and such packages will be delivered by the post office.

SIR RICHARD CARTRIGHT has promised to do his best towards getting a medal or similar recognition for the Veterans of 1866. It is suggested that, with the millions of acres of land at the Government's disposal, a grant of land would not be an inappropriate form of recognition by the Canadian Government, which cannot give medals, that being a prerogative of the Imperial Government.

A FAMOUS WOMAN

Recommends Paine's Celery Compound and Thousands Take Her Advice.

Broken-down Wives and Mothers Are Made Strong and Healthy.

The foremost champion of the world for the advancement of women—Elizabeth Cady Stanton—has devoted fifty years of toil and work for the women of both hemispheres. She fully believes in the virtues and efficacy of Paine's Celery Compound. Writing to Wells & Richardson Co. she says:

"Some members of my family have been using your Paine's Celery Compound, and I heartily recommend it to anyone who is run down or suffering from nervous ills. Hereafter I shall always keep a bottle on hand."

Mrs. M. Thompson, Eastern Ave., Toronto, also writes as follows:

"I feel it my duty to let the public know what Paine's Celery Compound did for me, and trust it will be a benefit to other sufferers.

"I was much reduced in flesh and in a thoroughly broken-down condition, resulting from dyspepsia and nervousness. I was recommended to try the Compound; I did so, and three bottles have made me a different woman.

"Previous to taking your Compound I had taken medicine from some of the best doctors in the city, but with no good results. Therefore I have every reason to be thankful for Paine's Celery Compound, and take great pleasure in recommending it to others."

GETTING READY FOR THE FRAY.

Liberals of East Victoria Selected a Candidate Yesterday.

Fenelon Falls, Ont., May 28.—The Reformers of East Victoria met in convention here this afternoon in Dickson's Hall. The attendance was very good and representative, all the municipalities in the riding being represented, except one or two of the more remote. The principal business was the selection of a candidate to contest the riding at the next provincial election. Several nominations were made and, on the names being balloted for, Mr. John Austin of Fenelon Falls, who is also a member of the lumbering firm of Craig & Austin of Kinmount, was chosen on the first ballot. Short addresses were delivered by the candidate, Mr. John A. Barron, Mr. R. J. McLaughlin of Lindsay, and Alex Smith, Toronto, Provincial Organiser, on the necessity of organization and the revision of the voters' lists. Resolutions of confidence in the leaders and policy of the Provincial and Dominion Governments were passed and the meeting closed with cheers for the Queen.

Mr. Austin is a native of the constituency, and has a business connection with a large portion of the electorate, extending over twenty-five years.

It is Important that You Have the Best.

When it is necessary to have an important and delicate surgical operation performed, we call in the very best surgeon. When we have money to put away we deposit it in the safest and strongest bank. When we have home dyeing work to do it is wisdom to use the safest, strongest and fastest dyes.

Years of test work and experience prove that Diamond Dyes are the best in the world—the dyes that give the grandest and most satisfactory results.

If you are unfortunate enough to be talked into buying the low-grade dyes—the imitations that are sold for the sake of the large profits—your goods will certainly be ruined and your money thrown away.

See that your dealer gives you the Diamond Dyes when you ask for them. Every package is warranted, so that you are fully protected against loss.

GRENADIER AND BUTCHER

A Military Bandsman of 50 Years' Standing and a Young Butcher Experience the Marvellous Curative Powers of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

A NEWSPAPER INVESTIGATION.

In the Case of Mr. Henry Pye Diabetes Had Brought on Paralysis—Two Doctors Said Wm. Wade Was Dying of Bright's Disease.

Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Them.

Each of them tells an interesting story to a newspaper Reporter—Mr. Pye played in the Marine Band at the Duke of Wellington's funeral—In the Royal Grenadiers' Band for 20 years—He had given up hope when Dodd's Kidney Pills cured him—Wm. Wade, after being sick for years with Bright's Disease and his life despaired of, tests the power of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and is now in good health.

From Mail and Empire.

The reputation which Dodd's Kidney Pills enjoy to-day must have been built upon a broad foundation of sure curative qualities. To verify this view a Mail and Empire representative investigated two wonderful cures that have been much talked of in the East End of the city, and the results of the enquiry are worth recording.

The first man interviewed was Mr. Henry Pye, 115 Pape avenue. He is a genial, happy, prosperous looking man of sixty-five years, and was very pleased to see anyone who wished to talk about Dodd's Kidney Pills. "Why shouldn't I talk about Dodd's Kidney Pills?" asked Mr. Pye. "In the first place, they saved my life—no doubt about that—and in the second place, if it hadn't been for them I couldn't have kept my situation. A neighbour of mine, Mrs. Farrell, she's a great Methodist was cured by them, and she calls them God's Kidney Pills.

"But you want to hear my story. I'm a bandsman, you know. By trade I'm a shoemaker, but six years ago I laid away my last, and since then have given all my time to music. I've been a member of the Royal Grenadiers Band for twenty years. It's just fifty years ago last month since I joined the Marine Band in England. I played at the Duke of Wellington's funeral in 1852.

For thirty five years I have lived in Toronto.

"In the winter I play at the rinks. Two years ago the first night was very cold and I got chilled through. That was the beginning of my sickness. Last summer, when the Grenadiers went to Berlin, I could hardly get through the day. The next morning I got up feeling pretty well. But after breakfast I was taken with frightful pains in my back. I had to send for a doctor. He gave me morphine and pronounced it a very bad case of diabetes. In a week I lost forty pounds of flesh. I would drink so much water that I would go out and vomit it. But I would come in with just as great a thirst as ever. I must have drank gallons of it a day."

"But could you still get round all right?"

"Well, no. My right leg began to be paralyzed, and at times my foot would swing about as if I had no control of it. I was living on Grant street then, but as I couldn't walk, I thought I might as well ride a bit further, and came out here to get the country air.

"I have been accustomed to play in the band at the Exhibition, and last year, as the Exhibition time drew near I was anxious to stick it out for that engagement, thinking it would be my last. I was beginning to feel the paralysis in my fingers, so that could scarcely work the keys. My friends, too, thought it was all up with me.

"During the Exhibition I stayed with my daughter, who lives in Parkdale. I was getting worse every day. My son-in-law said he had heard of several women in Parkdale who had been cured of kidney disease by using Dodd's Kidney Pills. So he got a box for me, and I started taking them. Before two days I began to feel better. I took that box and ten others. By that time I felt so well that I stopped taking them, except occasionally. My health is now first-rate, but I still take the pills, off and on.

"Last winter I played sixty nights at the rink without the least inconvenience. Yesterday I walked ten miles. Last summer I could no more have done than fly. Really I feel myself getting stronger every day. I can run up the four flights of stairs to the band practice-room easier than I could crawl up them last summer. I'm just about my healthy weight and fit as a fiddle.

"I tell you Dodd's Kidney Pills are all right. I've started a dozen people taking them since I was cured. My daughter, who has been sick and doctoring for a long time, has begun to take the Tablets, and she says they help her as nothing else has done."

William Wade, the nineteen-year-old son of Mr. Henry Wade, the well-known East End butcher, 940 Queen street east, was another who it was reported had been marvellously cured. When seen by a Mail and Empire representative, he was in the act of hoisting a hundred-and-forty pound quarter of beef to his shoulder and carrying it into the shop.

"Are you the boy that was thought to be dying of Bright's disease a year and a half ago, and had been given up by two doctors?" asked the newspaper man.

"I am, and it was a pretty close shave I had."

"Well, you don't look much of an infant or invalid now."

"You saw what I was doing. Well, I was as good as a corpse a year and a half ago. It'll just take a minute to tell you about it.

"Six years ago I had a bad attack of diphtheria. I was just over it when I went hunting, and got a relapse. Kidney trouble set in. It would come back every spring and fall for three or four weeks. Of course, the attacks became more severe, and in the intervals I was of little use to myself or anyone else.

"A year ago last fall I got so bad that two doctors were attending me daily. It was Bright's disease, they said. They said, too, that if I got over that attack I would not be able to work for six years. Before long they gave me up altogether, and said my death was but a matter of a few weeks. It was then that some one brought me a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills. I took fifteen boxes, and was cured.

"I continue to take the pills occasionally, especially after heavy lifting. Now I can do a heavy day's work and feel first-rate after it. I recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to everyone that I know has kidney trouble."

THE AMBITION OF EVA

Eva Norrington inserted her latch key into the keyhole of a Bedford Square boarding house, and entered. It was a distual, windy, rainy November evening, and ever since lunch she had been padding about London, climbing grimy stairs of newspaper offices, and talking to people who did not seem especially pleased to see her. Her skirts were wet, and a wisp of damp hair was tumbling over her eyes. On the hall table, disclosed by the flickering gas-jet, were some letters.

"A year ago to-day!" said Eva to herself as she closed the door against the wind. "Has he written, or has he forgotten?"

He had not forgotten. Eva picked up the letter from the hall table, looked quickly round at the closed hall door, at the closed dining-room door, and at the baize door that led to the kitchen stairs and kissed it. Then she went upstairs to her bed-sitting-room with the letter in her hand and joy in her heart.

"Hateful little room!" she murmured to herself, as she struck a match and lit the gas. "But it's the last time, thank God!"

The room was not really bad; a bed in the corner, a wash-stand, a wardrobe, here and there a picture on the walls, and a tabe by the window, rather rickety, on which lay a heap of manuscript—a half-finished story.

"I will burn that before I go to bed to-night," said Eva, as she caught sight of it.

Eva Norrington had been the pride of the provincial town which gave her birth. At the high school no girl could stand against her. Her form governess, who now and then asked her favorite pupils to tea, even said she might be a head mistress one day. To Eva this seemed absurd. But when, at the age of 20, she gained a guinea prize for a story in a weekly paper she began to think that at least she might be a great novelist. At any rate she felt sure that somewhere ahead of her stretched a career and as her 21st birthday approached she announced to her startled parents her intention of going to London in search of it. Thereupon ensued a series of domestic scenes such as have been common of late in the homes of England, wherein the parents play the part of the apprehensive hen. The daughter that the adventurous duckling. The duckling invariably gains its point; and so it was with Eva Norrington. Having refuted argument and resisted persuasion for a certain number of weeks, Eva obtained a grudging consent to her departure. The townspeople knew not whether to admire or disapprove. But they had read in novels of young ladies who took their lives and latchkeys into their own hands, became famous, and married respectably after all. So during the weeks of preparation for her campaign Eva become something of a figure in local society, and more than one dinner party was given in her honor, as well as plentiful advice as to the necessary precautions against London guile, and many recipes for guarding against the colds induced by the fogs that infest the metropolis.

Eva was almost happy; for she had the hopefulness of youth and beauty, and all the exhilaration of taking her life into her hands and fashioning it as she would, with none to raise objections to the process. She would have been quite happy but for Allan Craig. For Allan Craig, whenever he heard that Eva was bent on going to London to make a name for herself, promptly offered her his own for a substitute. It was a good enough name, and at the foot of a check it was generally respected, as Allan Craig had lately stepped into his father's business as estate agent and was prospering. Eva was disturbed, but she turned not aside from her project. Eva had mapped out her life and Allan Craig was not included in the scheme.

As she sat fingering her letter in her bedroom, she went over the parting scene in her mind. The details of it would only increase the delight of the letter. For Eva had learned during the last year that happiness is so rare that it deserved to be rolled on the tongue and not swallowed in haste. It was at a dance on the night before her departure—her last dance, so she thought, before she started life in earnest. They were sitting out a dance together, for Eva was not disposed to think unkindly of Allan, though she might resent his intrusion into her scheme of life. She remembered how there had been silence between them for some moments, how Allan had leaned his elbows on his knees and dug the heel of his dancing shoe into the carpet.

"And so you are quite determined to leave us?" said Allan.

"Of course," replied Eva. "My boxes are all packed."

"Full of manuscript novels and other things?"

"One novel and several stories."

"I cannot understand why you want to go when—"

"I want to well—to live a larger life."

"You mean you want to live in a bigger place?"

"Well, not exactly. I don't think you quite understand."

"I quite understand that there is not enough scope for you here, and that I am a selfish brute for trying to keep you from your ambition. Look here, Eva, can you honestly say that you don't love me a little bit?"

"I shall be sorry to leave you—very sorry."

"Then why—"

"Cant you see, Allan? I know I have it in me to do good work, and I must be where good work is wanted. Here I am hampered; in London—"

"You may fail," said Allan, with a note of hope in his voice. Then Eva spoke:

"I shall succeed. I know I shall."

"Will you write to me?"

Eva hesitated. She was half inclined to give in to that extent. Allan had mistaken her hesitation.

"No," he said. "There shall be no selfishness in my love for you. I will wait a year from to-night, and then if London is no go, you know there will always be me. You can't expect me to pray for your success, can you?"

Eva, placed on her mettle, looked him in the face.

"I am bound to succeed," she said and turned to go. The waltz had ceased in the room below, and a rush of skirts and a ripple of tongues had taken its place.

"Eva—once the last time, perhaps."

She turned again, laughing.

"Quick!" she said; "some one will come."

A woman may forget many things, but no woman ever forgets the first time a lover's arm was around her waist and a lover's lips upon her own. And as Eva sat in the corner of a third-class carriage in the London train next morning, looking forward to the career before her, the remembrance of the support of Allan's arm persisted in obtruding itself. Having got what she wanted she had already begun to doubt if she wanted what she had got. For a career, after all, is a rather lonesome sort of a thing.

Such small success as may come to the inexperienced girl upon her first incursion into literature came to Eva. She lived sparingly, worked hard, and never made the mistake of refusing invitations on the ground of work. She staid up a little later or got up a little earlier instead. A weekly column on "Health and Beauty" placed at her disposal by the youthful editor of a new woman's paper, who had met her at the Writers' Club, and thought her pretty, paid her weekly bill at the boarding house. Her stories found frequent acceptance and occasional welcome in the minor periodicals, and a happy meeting with an editor at a dinner party paved the way to her appearance in a widely-read magazine. By the end of the year Eva Norrington had got so far towards the realization of her ambition that when people heard her name mentioned they wrinkled their brows and tried to remember where they had heard it before. At home, of course, her fame was great. The papers in which she wrote circulated freely in the town, her stories were discussed at afternoon teas, and townfolk were glad to think that they participated to some extent in the literary work of the century.

All this time Eva was horribly lonely. She knew plenty of people and liked them; they were kind to her, some of them because they liked her for herself, others because they saw that she was marked for ultimate success. Having advanced a certain distance along the road she had longed to travel, she could judge better whither it would lead her. It would lead her to a place in the newspaper paragraphs, to a place on the book stalls, to a place in the photographers' windows, and to a place at Baywater or South Kensington. This, then, must be the end of the struggle and the turmoil of the fight. And how she hated the fight! A fight wherein victory would bring her no nearer to the actualities of life; for she had come to learn in the year's struggle that our social system by no means places women on an equality with men, and that whereas men can buy the coveted fruit of the tree of knowledge of good and evil by the pottle, women must buy the tree outright, and pay cash. It was a terrible affair. And the most unfair thing about the whole business was that, while success was almost within her grasp, success was not what she wanted. There is no fun in living your own life when that is precisely the life you do not want to lead.

It was not as though Allan Craig had never kissed Eva Norrington.

She opened the letter—cutting the envelope with her nail scissors. For some distinction must be made between your first love letter and your bootmaker's bill. She felt like one who has held his breath to feel what suffocation is like. The letter was long. Eva read quickly at first, then slowly, knitting her brows as she turned the pages, and came at last to the signature: "Ever your friend, Allan Craig."

The letter lay for some minutes in Eva's lap, while she looked vaguely round her room.

"He is afraid of spoiling my career—my success has put an insuperable barrier between us," she murmured. The phrases of the letter had burned themselves into her brain. "Oh, Allan! I wish I could tell you—or do you want to hear?"

Five years passed before she saw Allan Craig again, and then the meeting was unexpected—at the exit of the theatre where Eva had gone to see the hundredth performance of her play. Allan was obviously proud of knowing her and introduced his wife, to whom she gave graceful recognition. It was raining and Allan offered to see Eva to a cab. They stood for a moment on the steps to the entrance.

"Yes," said Allan, in answer to Eva's polite question, "all is going well. We have a little daughter—Eva—my wife's name, curiously enough."

He stood by the hansom as she entered, guarding her dress from the wheel. As she turned to give the address, he said:

"I ought to congratulate you on your success. It is very sweet to me. You know—you—owe it all to me. Are you grateful?"

"Yes, I owe it to you," she said, leaning forward as the apron closed upon her, and the attendant constable grew impatient. "Come and see me—Tuesdays."

"I can't think why I should be so silly," said Eva to herself as she stuffed her handkerchief back into her pocket and felt for her latch-key, when the cab drew up before the hall door of her flat in Kensington.—Black and White.

Present Mode of Hair Dressing.

The ruling tendency in the present mode of hair dressing is to make a full soft puff all around the head. So the hair is pushed forward and held in place by long side combs circling in shape to fit the head. Three and four of these are used, and the effect is not always becoming, especially when the locks are not very abundant.

WONDERFUL WOMAN CYCLIST.

200 Miles a Day is Easy Work for Mrs Rinehart.

Mrs. A. E. Rinehart of Denver, Col., one of the expert cyclists of the world, in an interview the other day, said: "Of course I believe in cycling for women, but I believe it is something each woman must understand for herself. What I am able to stand another woman is not. I've never felt bad effects from my 200-mile runs, and my 100-mile runs I never felt at all.

MRS. A. E. RINEHART, CHAMPION WOMAN CYCLIST.

"I've only been riding since September, 1895. I rode 118 centuries in fourteen months, from the time I began riding. I rode 116 in the year, and three different days I rode 200 miles. Once I rode 204 miles in seventeen hours and twenty minutes, which is the record of Colorado. My mileage for last year was 17,196."

She has a chain of century bars given her by the Century Road Club of America. Twenty of these bars bear dates proving that this wonderful woman rode twenty centuries in twenty successive days.

She used to wear the chain as a belt until it got too big for her slender waist. Now she wears it around her neck, crossed over her breast.

Mrs. Rinehart rides a nineteen pound diamond-frame Olive wheel. "I believe," she said, "that for comfort a woman should have her saddle and handle bars level. I like a hard saddle. Mine is steel, covered with lizard skin. The fault with women riders is that they have their saddles too high. I have mine so I can sit straight on my saddle, and put both heels on the pedales when they are down.

"I like everything about my costume light weight. I wear a silk combination suit, a cycle corset, short and loose, silk bloomers, a short divided skirt, golf hose and low shoes. I wear a shirt waist, except on my long runs, when I wear a sweater. I like a soft Alpine hat, and I always wear gloves.

"My divided skirt is as easy and comfortable as bloomers, and no one could tell it was divided. It has all the grace and modesty of the skirt. Long skirts are dangerous, and, besides, they do not look well."

For the Home Woman.

Denim of a golden tan or old gold shade makes a very effective and inexpensive portiere for a library or dining-room.

To remove the smell of fresh paint lay a bunch of hay in the room and sprinkle it with a little chloride of lime. Close the room for several hours, and when it is again opened the smell of paint will all be gone.

It is better for house plants if the soil be loosened about the roots once a week. This allows the air to reach the roots, and assist the evaporation of the excessive moisture when they have had too much wetting. Always have the water at least as warm as the temperature of the room when using it upon the plants.

Perfumed flannels in dainty colors come now for laying in the bottom of drawers, and are particularly nice in drawers where bedding and table linen are kept. They have the appearance of ordinary flannel and are sold by the the yard and cut to fit the drawers, the edges being buttonholed or bound. The flannel emits a delicate perfume, and will scant every article in a drawer where it is kept. The perfume is said to be far more enduring than any of the sachets commonly in use.

Sun Plaiting.

The use of sun plaiting is an important feature of fashion this season. Plaited skirts of silk, net, lace and chiffon, which are more and more in evidence all the time, are only a beginning on the list of its many uses. Accordion-plaited silk and laces form our capes, plaited frills by the dozen yards trim our gowns, and a pretty novelty is a short jersey basque coat of accordion-plaited black mousseline de soie over a plain lining of rose-colored silk. Little boleros are also made in this way. It appears in millinery, especially on the children's hats, the brims being often made of kilted satin striped chiffon, and for the skirts of children's dresses it has no equal.

In Black and Very Dark Blue.

Rather striking are the black and very dark blue shirt waists. The material is linen, and the effect would be decidedly somber but for the yokes, plaits and cuffs of brighter goods which enliven them. A shirt waist made of black linen has a square yoke of clear pink linen, with horizontal stripes of white beading stitched firmly at each edge. Cuffs of this finish the sleeves, and a straight band of it about two inches wide extends from the yoke to the belt. The effect with a black skirt and blazer will be extremely chic and pretty.

BICYCLES WITH A MEDAL!

Sometimes in a group of veterans you see a man with a medal. An ordinary appearing man—looking like the rest except the medal. "For Valor" is the legand on the bit of bronze—somewhere in the supreme hour this man towered for above his comrades—hence the medal.

Every few days you see a group of cyclers standing on the corner. Their wheels all bright, new, shining—many look almost alike. Can you tell which will prove their valor and worth, stand trial and test successfuliy? We will point them out. We will show you the group of wheels with a medal. Wheels of known reputation only. We will point out without any possible mistake the wheels which won both the Dunlop Trophy Races and all other important races held in 1896. Defeated over 300 bicycles in a coasting contest, and gave the world indisputable evidence of the superiority of the

"GENDRON" Wheel

In its moment of trial. The wheel with a medal "For Valor" is the Gendron. Ride no other.

CHILDREN'S STYLES.

ALL ABOUT THE NEW FASHIONS FOR LITTLE FOLKS.

Variety and Extravagance for Girls and Fancy Suits for Little Boys. Evening Dresses and Outing Coats. The Materials for Both Are Many and Varied.

Perhaps it is the accepted idea that children should be seen and not heard, which leads my Lady Vain to put as much stress on their dressing. The styles for the little folks this season contradict the theory that men and women are only boys and girls grown tall, and lead one to believe that children are big folks grown short. Variety in styles and extravagance characterize gowns designated for girls from the age of 4 to 16. Mothers with a dozen children, all of 'em girls, find no reason to complain of lack of novelty.

White loose dresses are always picturesque on little maidens, and are always worn by a great many, the waist dress predominates in thin and thick materials just now. Cotton crepons in delicate shades, ginghams, canvas cloths, and dimities are the favorite materials for morning wear. A charming costume for a four year old is made of pale blue crepon, which, it might be well to add, does not fade. The waist is gathered in blouse effect, and a bolero jacket of white piqué, edged with a frill of fine embroidery. The sleeves are very short and the gown is worn with or without a guimpe. Even eight year olds wear morning dresses made in this style.

A gown entirely new, both as to material and design, is made of plaid Scotch canvas, the predominating colors being linen and green. The waist is full and has a piece of white embroidery set on either side in front and laced across with green ribbon. Shoulder capes of embroidery fall over the tight sleeves, giving a broad fluffy effect to the shoulders. It is hard to make satisfactory gored skirts of plaid materials, so this one is quite full all around. It is the thing nowadays for children as well as grown folks to acquire a good tan in the summer; consequently they are dressed while in the country with this end in view. Nearly all the gowns for small girls are made slightly low at the neck, and short sleeves. These are usually worn without guimpes out of doors as well as in, when the weather permits. Few children look well in plain things, and their sleeves, which are decidedly smaller, are relieved by capes and epaulettes or frills and embroidery and lace.

Dancing dresses are made of fine batiste and organdies over colored silk. The white organdies are more effective and becoming than the flowered ones, and a striking dress has a pointed yoke, front and back, of exquisitely fine valenciennes lace. A cascade of tiny frills, each one a little deeper than the other, falls from the shoulders. These are edged with lace, and the full skirt is trimmed with zig-zag bands of insertion, let in, and is finished with a deep hem.

Foulards have made their way into the wardrobe of the little girl as well as that of the big sister. The polka dot design is considered the most correct for the young folks, and while their bright eyes may admire the big splashy patterns, so much affected by women, they are not allowed to wear them. Soft shades of dull red, with big dots, bright red with black dots, and blues with white or black dots are the choicest combinations. One of the handsomest designs on exhibition at a store devoted exclusively to children's garments has a brickdust red gown with a small white dot. The long waist is gathered on to a tucked yoke outlined with a narrow frill of accordion-plaited white mousseline de soie, edged with fine lace. The sleeves are shirred and have a small puff at the top, and the neck is finished with a ribbon, collar and bow, embellished with a frill of lace at the back. The skirt is gored. This gown is just as becoming to a girl of 10 as to one of 16.

Few of the skirts for girls are trimmed. Plain, plaid and striped batistes, embroidered dotted batistes and organdies are made up over colored silks, and some of these skirts are made with a Spanish flounce. The yokes and caps are usually made of butter colored lace, though some very pretty organdies have no trimming other than bands and rosettes of baby ribbon in contrasting colors.

Outing suits for the girl who is half woman, half child, are made of serge, piqué cloth, Military grey, cadet blue, and various shades of green are used. The skirts are gored, and either an Eton jacket or loose sitting coat is worn with cotton or silk shirt waists. Suits of duck, piqué and crash are made after the same models. Very little girls wear dark blue or bright red serge suits, with extra full skirts and waists, trimmed in rows of narrow braid.

In jackets there are stunning little reefer coats. Most of them are made in Eton or pire style, but some for the older girls half reveal, half conceal the figure. Brilliant plaid and changeable silk linings are used.

A chic coat for a very small girl is made of scarlet cloth in the Empire style. A crash sailor collar forms broad-pointed revers in front, which extend considerably out from under cloth revers edged with a plaiting of scarlet taffeta ribbon. Some swell jackets for older girls have tight backs and loose fronts, and fasten with handsome buttons. A huge sailor collar of brilliantly striped silk gives a girlish look to the wrap. Long coats for little girls are made of sheer linen batistes and lined with pink, blue, or yellow silk in delicate shades. These are elaborately trimmed with lace and handsome shaded ribbon. They are not so practical as the long coats of white piqué, which can be easily laundered.

The small boy is ever with us, even when we enter fashion's realm. Styles from him change from season to season as just as marked a degree as they do for his little sister. For the little fellows from three to ten, sailor styles, with blouse waists and admiral jackets take the lead. The majority of these suits are brought out in blue serge, though a desire for a change has made mixed cheviots popular. One thing in their favor is the quality of endurance which this material possesses. The tendency is to make sailor collars smaller. Trousers are worn short, though boys from three to six do, on certain occasions, wear the long sailor trousers.

One of the newest things in the line of fancy suits for party wear is made with a flounce of very heavy white taffeta silk with an overcollar of light blue silk and a tie of the same. On the shield piece is an embroidered wreath of blue silk, enclosing an anchor. These blouses also come in pale blue and bright red silk, with colors of a contrasting color. They are worn with duck, white serge or black velveteen trousers. Older boys, from 8 to 18, wear Tuxedo and Eton suits for full dress.

The average boy considers a cycling suit of far more importance than a party suit. There has been a change in his sporting rig, too, this season. The golf cuff on the knickerbockers is out of date, and a strap and buckle take its place at the knee. Sacque coats with patch pockets are worn awheel by older boys, while the young scorchers of from 4 to 9 affect a Norfolk coat made with a narrow yoke front and back. A mixed homespun is the favorite material.

In wash goods not so many striped Galateas are used as formerly. The tendency is to fine linen crashes and white duck. They are made up in sailor and admiral suits for small boys, but those from 8 to 15 wear double-breasted sacque coats made of duck for the afternoon.

FOR MORNING WEAR.

This Gingham Gown Is the Thing This Summer.

Wash fabrics are deliriously enticing. When the clerk says 25 cents a yard after showing those meshy, quaint plaids that he calls etamine, visions of airy loveliness rise out of a small income.

A SMART GINGHAM COSTUME, COSTING $18.45, COMPLETE.

Fancy the very beginning of the pretty checked gown shown in the accompanying cut costing just $4, with no linings to buy. This new summer stuff is 32 inches wide, with an alternate gingham and grenadine stripe, and it is the very latest importation, is this etamine. It is displayed in great variety of color and design in broken plaid.

The gown illustrated was made of an etamine of dark blue and white, even check. The ruffles were vandyked, that is the correct way of saying "cut on the bias."

These vandyked ruffles, which were three, and which overlapped each other in an economical way, were finished with an embroidered edge. The foundation skirt did not extend beyond the heading of the bottom flounce. This point, however, is optional, and the added cost of an entire underskirt is a matter of not more than $2 at most.

Wash goods, and, indeed, all thin stuffs, when made into skirts, are used generously. The sweep must not be less than five yards—seven or eight yards is none to much. The flounces divided the overskirt into three equal sections. The waist was round-banded, with three rows of insertion of the same pattern as the edge and gathered at the neck. The collar and girdle were grass green satin ribbon. A perky bow finished the waistband at one side where the under arm hooks closed the bodice. It would have been quite as pretty with a fastening of white pearl buttons down the back. This is said to be a seasonable fad.

The sleeves were tight. A cuff finish was made of the insertion. Another band defined the bottom of the sleeve portion covered by the cap. This was made of three vandyked ruffles cut circular and fitting with a very little gathering over the shoulders. These ruffles were edged like the deep flounces with embroidery.

White silk gloves were worn with this gown and black kid Oxfords.

The parasol, which is so essential a feature this season, was of dark blue taffeta. About four inches from the edge was a band of five rows of hemstitching, each row a quarter of an inch wide, with a space intervening of three-eighths of an inch. The long stick was made into a twisted handle.

The hat was a simple round affair, almost a sailor, but lacking a sailor hat's severity. It was made of braided cornhusk, which, by the way, is the new braid for hats. It wears exceedingly well, and can be found in a variety of combinations—old rose, and black or white, dark blue and white, black or green, etc.

About the crown was a twist of the material so much used in millinery this season, a chiffon canvas, known to the trade as Batavia—just why no one seems able to explain. Well, this twist was of dark blue batavia, which also formed the high trimming in the back. The three upright loops were edged with the blue and white braid of the hat. Two bunchy rosettes, rather far apart at the back, gave an excuse for the forward tilt. The rosettes were the green of the collar and girdle. The total cost of hat, dress and parasol was $18.45.

A Courteous Retort.

One may be excused for feeling a little joy when the man who goes out of his way to make a rude remark in order to show his wit receives a rebuke that is as courteous as it is effective.

The retort given by a certain learned scientist must have been more amusing to the onlookers than to the learned gentleman's antagonist.

It happened at dinner that one of the guests began to deride philosophy, and went on rudely to express the opinion that philosopher was but another way of spelling fool.

"What is your opinion, professor?" he asked. "Is there much distance between them?"

The professor, with a polite bow to his boorish vis-a-vis, responded gravely: "Sometimes only the width of a table."

Novelties to Be Avoided.

Shirt tailors are showing one or two novelties in linen collars for women. One of the most pronounced consists of a high band to be placed inside the stock, and this is surrounded with a narrow linen collar standing out all around the throat at right angles, as though the wearer's head were resting upon a small white plate.

Novelties of this sort are best let alone, in gentle reproof to the bad taste of the maker. The collar which turns down all around from a high band, notwithstanding prediction to the contrary, remains one of the favorites; in fact, it equally divides popularity with the collar that stands straight up, except for a gracious bending of the corners just underneath the chin.

21 KNOTS AN HOUR

To be the Speed of the Fast Steamships,

THE TERMS OF THE CONTRACT.

Sir Richard Cartwright Brought Down the Papers Just as the House Was About to Adjourn Last Night - It Seems to be a Good Deal for the Government.

Ottawa, May 28. (Special.)—At the very last minute, namely at twelve o'clock, just as the House was rising, Sir Richard Cartwright laid on the table the papers relating to the fast Atlantic steamship scheme. The documents comprise copies of the proposition of Messrs. Peterson, Tait & Co., the reply of the Government thereto, and the treaty as finally ratified.

The latter, of course, is the principal feature. It is dated on March 1st and signed by Sir Richard Cartwright and William Peterson. The company by this instrument undertake to provide a fleet of four steamships of not less than 10,000 tons gross, and of a speed of 21 knots per hour. They are to have a capacity for 1500 to 2000 tons of freight. There is also to be provided cold storage capacity for 500 tons of freight on each vessel, while the passenger accommodation is to be for at least 300 first, 200 second and 800 steerage. As to the latter, it is stipulated that they shall be carried for $15 per head.

The steamers are to be constructed under Admiralty supervision, and to be up to the standard of the best ocean vessels afloat, say the Lucania and Campania of the Cunard Line. They are to be not less than 526 feet long, with a draught of 25 feet 6 inches, which is the navigable depth of the St. Lawrence channel, for the steamers are to run to Quebec and on to Montreal in summer. Their winter port is to be either Halifax or St. John, at the option of the contractors, the agreement being that the company shall declare which of the ports it will run to before the date of the commencement of the service, namely, before the 31st of May, 1899. But on that date the service will be commenced with the two steamers, the remaining two not to be put on the route until May 1900, when the service will be weekly.

For the first year the steamers will perform a fortnightly service only, and during that time shall receive but half the stipulated subsidy of £134,500 sterling annually. Of this sum Canada will provide £103,000 sterling and the Imperial Government £31,500. Besides the steamships, which will be capable of conversion into cruisers in time of war, the company is to provide a fast tender of the torpedo boat type, of a speed of not less than 22 knots, whose occupation will be to meet the steamers on their arrival in the St. Lawrence with a pilot on board to bring the steamer up to Quebec.

Among other requirements it is exacted of the company that they shall carry the mails free, that they shall not discriminate against Canadian railways, nor accept a subsidy from any other country, nor call at a foreign port. The term of the contract is ten years, and for the due fulfilment thereof the Peterson and Tait Company deposit security to the value of about $100,000.

THE HOUSE PROCEEDINGS.

Preferential Clauses of the Tariff Resolution Again Under Discussion - Bank Note Contract.

Ottawa, May 28.—(Special.)—At the commencement of to-day's proceedings in the House Mr. Laurier moved to take Mondays for Government business, whereupon Mr. Foster protested that the state of the order paper was such that at least next Monday should be left for the business of private members. The Premier compromised by leaving Monday, June 7, to private members, and with this the resolution passed.

The House then went into Committee of Ways and Means on the tariff resolutions, and the ex-Finance Minister resumed the discussion on the so-called preferential clause.

The Opposition, said Mr. Foster, felt that this clause was such a change, and a change for the worse, that they would be derelict in their duty not to present its objections to the Government and the country. In fact, it was the importation of this extraordinary clause into the customs law that impeded the progress of consideration of the tariff resolutions. While the Opposition did not desire to unduly prolong the session, they would insist on knowing upon what principle the Government proposed to proceed in this extraordinary tariff-making power they were about to take by this resolution. There was no assurance of infallibility on the part of the Government. There were industries that would have been completely snuffed out had the first tariff views of the Finance Minister prevailed.

Mr. Wood (Hamilton): No.

Mr. Foster: Then why these changes?

He concluded with an appeal to the Government to make some statement as to their principle of proposed procedure under this amendment.

Mr. Laurier, by way of reply, repudiated any desire to avoid explanations, but protested that the Government had been called upon to answer the same enquiries over and over again. As to the charge that this resolution would open the door to serious complications, the Cabinet had taken all this into consideration, and, having looked through the tariffs of the whole world, they saw but one nation which could take advantage of the lower tariff offer, and that was Great Britain. Mr. Foster had no need to trouble himself about deviations from Liberal principles; the Liberal party would look after that.

The Governor-in-Council, under this resolution, claimed or asked nothing but what had been the law for years. The old tariff contained a provision that certain articles from the United States, named, should be admitted into Canada at a lower rate than the general tariff, upon proclamation by the Governor-General-in-Council. Now, all the Government proposed in this resolution was to vary that to the extent of providing that the order-in-council should apply upon report of the Controller of Customs. The Controller had only to see whether the tariff of any country on the whole was as low as Canada's.

Mr. Foster: Just give us a concrete instance.

Mr. Laurier: Well, after looking through the tariff of all countries, the Government came to the conclusion that England was the only country coming within the requirements. Possibly, also New South Wales might be included. Then, the moment the tariff of a favored country was changed the Controller of Customs simply looked at the new tariff, and if it were found to be higher than ours, the preference would no longer exist. [Laughter.] Mr. Laurier [illegible] the politics of [illegible] and placed it on an Imperial plane, where it was bound to remain.

Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper pointed out from the record how sedulously the Liberals in Parliament had contended for the Parliamentary control, which they now disregarded. He contended that Mr. Laurier had not answered a single point raised by Mr. Foster. Why, the Government appeared to-day to be in doubt as to whether or not New South Wales was entitled to the admission of its products into Canada under this reciprocal clause. Did the Government really know what was the average rate of duty in Canada? If they really did, he would like to know what was the average rate under Mr. FleMing's first tariff, and what under the tariff now under consideration.

Mr. Frost said that the trouble with the Opposition was they were jealous that the Liberals had done in one stroke more to bind Canada to the Empire than the Tories had accomplished in 18 years. They had no need to fear competition from the foreign countries referred to by Mr. Foster.

"Do I understand the honorable gentleman to say that we don't need to fear competition from China and Japan?" enquired Col. Prior.

"Not in manufactured goods," replied Mr. Frost.

Mr. Frost was proceeding to praise the new tariff when Mr. Bennett interrupted to ask what reduction the honorable gentleman's firm proposed to make in the price of harvest machinery as the result of the reduced duties on iron.

Mr. Frost declined to talk shop. He reminded his honorable friend that he (Mr. Bennett) was one who supported the unreasonable, irrational reduction of the duty on agricultural implements in 1895. [Laughter.] Later on, however, Mr. Frost observed that in about a year, when the new tariff had been given a chance, his agricultural implements would be cheaper.

The first hour after recess, set apart for the consideration of private bills, was taken up with the discussion of the bill to incorporate the American Bank Note Company, the third reading of which was moved by Mr. Belcourt.

Sir Charles H. Tupper criticized the action of the Government in practically subsidizing this foreign corporation to come into Canada and perform work heretofore done by a domestic concern. He pointed out that it would be impossible for a Canadian company to obtain any such concession in the United States.

The hour having expired further consideration of the bill was held over and the House again went into Committee of Ways and Means.

Mr. Clancy resumed the debate on the new reciprocal clause of the tariff amendments. He pointed out inquiry into the tariffs of China and Japan showed that on the whole they averaged lower than Canada's, and these countries were, therefore, entitled to the benefits of the preferential rate under the amended resolution.

Mr. Rogers said as a Patron he could endorse the resolution, because a plank in the Patron platform was for reciprocal trade with the whole world. The tariff changes were not what they as farmers had hoped for. They hoped for something else. He said he had received several letters from gentlemen all over the province in reference to the remarks that had been applied to him the other day.

Mr. Bennett regretted that he was not present when the hon. gentleman had referred to him. He would be pleased if he would repeat his remarks.

Mr. Rogers: You're not worth it.

Mr. Bennett, continuing, said if the Patrons were not a lot of humbugs, then he knew very little of them since this Parliament had an existence. Proceeding to speak to the resolution before the House, Mr. Bennett said he had looked upon the preferential resolution when first introduced as a piece of bravado, and assumed that the Government would withdraw it when they found their position untenable. In amending the clause, however, the Government frankly admitted that preferential treatment was not to be confined to Great Britain, but that other countries were to share in the reduction of duties. The position now was that Canadian artisans would have to meet the cheap labor of Germany and Belgium. With respect to the lumber trade he urged the Government to impose an export duty on saw logs as an offset to the hostile import duty of $2 a thousand on Canadian lumber entering the United States. This policy was favored by the lumbermen on the north shore of Georgian Bay, who were convinced that it would be better for them in the long run, even should it result in an immediate addition to the United States import duties.

Mr. Charlton desired as much as anyone to see all Canadian lumber manufactured in Canada. He believed all export duties were wrong in principle, and saw no difference between an export duty on saw logs and on any other raw material. He did not approve of putting on an export duty because the Americans proposed to do so, his reason being that if Canadians did not like a $2 duty they would like a $4 duty less. It would be a mistake to impose an export duty at present, for that would only mean that the provisions of the Dingley bill would be immediately enacted. He did not think the American duty would ever be enforced. There was a large section of lumbermen in Michigan that were opposed to the duty, and had spent considerable time and money to secure free lumber, and it was this section which would be hurt, he said, if a Canadian duty was imposed. The consequences of such action would be, he said, more disastrous to Canadians than Americans.

Mr. Taylor moved that the committee rise and report progress to enable Mr. Wallace to resume the debate at the next session of the House.

The motion was carried and the House adjourned at 12.10 a.m.

Which would you rather trust? An old, true friend of twenty years, or a stranger? You may have little health left. Will you risk it with a stranger? If you have a cough, are losing flesh, if weak and pale, if consumption stares you in the face, lean on Scott's Emulsion. It has been a friend to thousands for more than twenty years. They trust it and you can trust it.

Pulmonary consumption, in its early stages, may be checked by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It stops the distressing cough, soothes the irritation of the throat and lungs, and induces much-needed repose. Hundreds have testified to the remarkable virtues of this preparation.

Erysipelas Cured.

GENTLEMEN,—In the spring of 1893 I was taken with erysipelas in the face, which left me in a very bad state of health, but having taken one bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters I can truly say it cured me. You are at liberty to refer anyone to me for further particulars as regards this wonderful medicine.

The Bylaw Committee will meet in their committee room on Saturday evening, 29th instant. By order, E. A. KEMP, Recording Secretary.

Boys' Brigades.

St. Paul's church Boys' Brigade did excellent work in presence of the Sunday school teachers and boys of St. Andrew's church last night, and certainly reflected great credit on their instructor. Mr. A. McCallum gave a very interesting address to the teachers, after which the Rev. Mr. Potter expressed his delight at the exercises of the St. Paul's boys, and thanked Mr. McCallum for his kindness in bringing them over.

DEATH OF GEORGE CROWE.

His Demise Occurred at Seven O'clock This Morning at the Nicholls Hospital.

The death of Mr. George Crowe occurred this morning at the Nicholl's Hospital at seven o'clock. The deceased was a victim of consumption, and had been steadily failing for the last several years.

He was a graduate of the Ontario College of Pharmacy in 1891, having served his apprenticeship with the firm of Ormond & Walsh. When at college he almost broke down through over study, but graduated with honours. Immediately afterwards he went to Boston and took a position there with a prominent drug firm. Whilst in Boston he contracted a very heavy cold which settled on his lungs and which he was never able to shake off. When he felt that the seeds of consumption had been sown in his system he went west and south in a vain endeavour to recover his health.

Summer before last he returned to Peterborough for a few months, but when the winter came on again went south, returning in the spring without any perceptible improvement. He was then admitted to the Nicholls Hospital, where he has since been a patient.

George Crowe was a son of the late Charles Crowe, for many years switchman at the C.P.R. diamond, Ashburnham, and was born in 1870. His brothers are William and Christopher, of Johannesburg, South Africa; Charles, of the Armour Packing Co., Dubuque, Iowa; David, of Fredrickton, New Brunswick; John, of West Superior, Minnesota, and Joseph, of town.

A few days ago the deceased made a request that his pall-bearers be chosen from amongst the druggists of the town.

The funeral will take place on Tuesday afternoon at 2.30.

JUBILEE DAY.

A Local Celebration to take Place on a Grand Scale.

The following gentlemen have formed themselves into a committee for the purpose of getting up a Jubilee Day celebration in town, to consist of sports and games, including horse racing on the Driving Park:—Messrs. T. E. Bradburn, W. B. Bamford, P. Clunan, G. W. Hatton, H. C. Winch, H. LeBrun, L. B. Felcher, W. H. Meldrum and W. H. Robertson.

The committee proposes to draft a programme to submit to a general meeting of citizens to be held in the Palace Restaurant parlours on Monday evening next.

Although the lacrosse club is bringing the Capitals, of Ottawa, here for a game on the P. A. A. A. grounds on Jubilee Day and is also putting on a programme of athletic events, yet the crowd which will be drawn to town will doubtless be sufficiently large to make both ventures a success.

THE Y. M. C. A. GYMNASIUM FUND CONTEST.

Blue Points Behind, but Apparently Pushing Forward to Sure Victory.

The Reds lead to-day by 4½ points. It is only the old question—getting enough rope to swing on at the last.

The Reds are ahead, but are desperate in their efforts to maintain their position. Did you see their red collection boxes? The next thing they will do will be to import a half dozen organ-grinders from Toronto with full catch penny attachments.

We have only two requests for next week—to be ahead on Monday and Friday nights. We will have both.

Every promise that has not backed up with cash should be attended to not later than Tuesday.

One of the town philosophers has, after much consideration and loss of sleep, ventured the assertion that this contest is becoming a public nuisance. Wear the blue, dear brother sage, and you will not be troubled.

Though clouded for the moment,
Hurrah for the constant BLUE,
'Tis the emblem of fidelity,
The arching heaven's own hue.
The crimson glow of sunset
Red's symbol fades away;
But the azure vault above
June 4th and aye will stay.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Thomas Lannin is in Rochester on a visit to relatives.

Mrs. P. W. Peters, of Nashille, Tenn., is visiting her sister, Mrs. W. B. Brown, Weller street.

Mr. M. W. Matchett, principal of the Ashburnham school, has been seriously ill for the last day or two.

Mrs. Brandon, and her son, Mr. J. J. Brandon, are visiting at the residence of Mr. W. H. Robertson, Water street.

Principal Grant, of Queen's University, passed through town this afternoon en route for Orillia, where he preaches to-morrow.

The Tweed News says,—Miss Falconer left on Saturday for Peterborough to visit her sister, Mrs. Gibson. Miss Falconer will also visit Belleville before her return.

Mr. Frank Cloucher, Mrs. Cloucher and family, of Bobcaygeon, passed through on Thursday en route for Vancouver Island, on the Pacific coast. Mr. Cloucher has for many years been a most valued employee in the M. Boyd Co., and goes out to British Columbia to join Mr. Gidley in establishing the new lumbering operations of the firm in that distant province.

"On Monday evening last," says the Lakefield News, "the Rev. J. G. Potter, of St. Andrew's church, Peterborough, addressed a fair sized audience in the Presbyterian church, on the subject, "Can you eat Sawdust Without Butter?" The lecture was well delivered and well received, and many valuable lessons were conveyed regarding the way in which to meet the difficulties and hardships of the battles of life."

Miss Hettie Lumsden, sister of the Misses Lumsden, No. 426 George street, has just graduated from the Lady Stanley Institute for Nurses, Ottawa. The Journal makes the following reference to the graduating exercises: The presentation of diplomas and medals to the successful young nurses took place at the Lady Stanley Institute, Rideau street, yesterday afternoon. Madame Laurier presented the medals. Besides the medical staff of the Institute, there turned out many of the elite of Ottawa's society to witness the ceremony. As each of the young ladies names were called out, she stepped upon the platform and received from the hands of Madame Laurier a gold medal and from Mrs. E. H. Bronson a diploma.

Lot No. 3.—Your choice of any of a series of cloth-bound books, worth 25c. to 75c., for 24c. We want a big day in books on Saturday.—A. H. STRATTON & Co., Peterborough.

THE JACKSON PARK.

It Has Become a Favourite Resort for Bicyclists as the Roads are in Excellent Condition.

The frequent showers during the month have had the result of making the parks look even more attractive than usual in the greenness of their growth and profusion of shady foliage.

The Jackson Park has been greatly patronized by wheelmen this year, and is becoming a favourite resort for those whom business does not confine too strictly during the afternoons.

The roadways have been raked clear of loose stones and are as hard and level as could be desired for wheeling purposes. On entering at the south-western corner a long grade presents itself, bringing delight to the heart of the coaster. Winding as it does along the side of the hill, some very pretty pieces of scenery are revealed as hurried glimpses are caught of the miniature lake and dashing little brook far below, spanned at intervals by picturesque bridges, and its banks affording shady lounging places for a rest if the trip to the park has proved a warm one.

Inviting dells, carpeted with green sod form ideal spots for quiet little picnic parties, and on Saturday afternoons large numbers of little ones take their baskets and spend several hours there most enjoyably. Seats are scattered around on all sides, and many are built in odd nooks and corners, where to the weary wayfarer they are most welcome.

Some of the hills are a trifle precipitate, but are in no way dangerous, even to the inexperienced wheelmen.

When the Park is brought nearer to town by reason of the extension of the electric street car line, its beauties will be enjoyed by many to whom it has hitherto been a trifle inaccessible.

TENNIS CLUB ANNUAL MEETING.

Officers Elected for the Season Yesterday Afternoon—A Vote of Thanks.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Tennis Club was held yesterday afternoon and the following officers elected for the coming season:

Patron and Patroness—Mr. A. P. Poussette, Q.C., and Mrs. Poussette.
President—Mr. W. D. Parker.
Vice-President—Miss Lundy.
Secretary-Treasurer—Mr. A. A. Hollingshead.
Executive Committee—Mrs. P. Campbell, Mrs. Aylmer, Mr. F. J. Rogers, Mr. H. S. Greenwood.

The club wishes to extend thanks to the Y.M.C.A. for the use of the rooms for the meeting.

NEWS NUGGETS.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

—Minden is troubled with diphtheria.

—Haliburton town hall is being rebuilt.

—Lakefield is talking up a demonstration for Jubilee Day.

—The harvest of fruit will undoubtedly be large this year by the present appearance of the orchards.

—Several deer have been seen close to Haliburton village. They are more numerous than was ever before known to be the case.

—Alderman Hungerford, of Belleville, bought a mining right for $100 in North Hastings, and returning to Belleville sold it for $700.

—The first narrow escape from a banana peel accident is reported. Too much care cannot be exercised in the disposition of banana peels.

—The stationery and fancy goods stores will close at 7 o'clock, with the exception of Saturdays, and days preceding holidays, during June, July and August.

—All Grand Trunk passenger trains now carry weather signal discs, thus furnishing farmers and others with correct meteorological forecasts for 24 hours in advance.

—A torpid liver means torpid brain. Stop medicines, pills, and dyspeptic cures in particular. Use Madden Cereal instead of tea and coffee. One month will prove the case. 2d

—The village of Tweed is without a school board at present, all the members except two having resigned. The cause of the resignations was dissatisfaction arising over the purchase of a new school site.

—The little steamer Undine, of Lakefield, has been purchased by Mr. Parker Davis, of Nogey's Creek, a member of the firm Kennedy, Davis & Son. It is said he intends fitting the boat for passenger service on the lower lakes.

—The reported rumour of amalgamation of the Public and Separate Schools of Hastings was all a myth. There is no prospect of any such union, and the Star says to get news without foundation one must go from home.

—Madden Cereal is not a patent medicine, but a food drink made from selected grains. Use it instead of coffee, and you will have no use for the numerous pills and dyspeptic cures. Grocers sell it. 2d

—Mr. Joseph Hughes, who recently sold out his stock of boots and shoes and gents furnishings in Norwood, was married at Lakefield on the 10th inst. to Miss Mary M. Walsh, of Peterborough. They left on Friday for St. Louis, Mo., and have the best wishes of their many friends and acquaintances.

—Sunday cars are now in operation in Hamilton, Windsor, St. Catharines, Hamilton to Dundas, Queenston to Niagara Falls, Berlin to Waterloo. The places at which street railways are in operation, but do not run on Sunday, are London, Ottawa, Kingston, Sarnia, Guelph, Belleville, Brantford, Peterborough and Woodstock.

—Mr. John O'Donnell is very busy shipping his telegraph poles. A drive of 3,000 now in Pigeon Lake, made the run from Swamp Lake, by Nogey's Creek, in twenty days. The run often takes six weeks, but the water was unusually good. Mr. O'Donnell will, it is said, ship his poles by the Chemong railway.

—Now that the boating season is rapidly approaching we must expect to hear of the perennial idiot who insists on changing seats or rocking the boat, to the terror of weak nerved women and the indignation of all rightly constituted sane men. If matters could be so arranged that the one who does the rocking could be drowned comfortably and nicely, there would not be as much reason to complain. But the victim of this idiot's pranks is generally some person with sense who would not indulge in the practice.

The anniversary social will take place on Tuesday, the 15th June.

The Jubilee Concert.

Regardless of the rain, which failed to dampen the enthusiasm of the youngsters, there was a large turn out, including some new voices at the Jubilee concert practice in St. John's school house last night. The choruses were rehearsed with great success. The next practice next Monday afternoon at 4.30. Any wishing to join the chorus should be on hand at that time.

The Bylaw Committee will meet in their committee room on Saturday evening, 29th instant. By order. E. A. KEMP, Recording Secretary.

Boys' Brigades.

St. Paul's church Boys' Brigade did excellent work in presence of the Sunday school teachers and boys of St. Andrew's church last night, and certainly reflected great credit on their instructor. Mr. A. McCallum gave a very interesting address to the teachers, after which the Rev. Mr. Potter expressed his delight at the exercises of the St. Paul's boys, and thanked Mr. McCallum for his kindness in bringing them over.

DEATH OF GEORGE CROWE.

His Demise Occurred at Seven O'clock This Morning at the Nicholls Hospital.

The death of Mr. George Crowe occurred this morning at the Nicholl's Hospital at seven o'clock. The deceased was a victim of consumption, and had been steadily failing for the last several years.

He was a graduate of the Ontario College of Pharmacy in 1891, having served his apprenticeship with the firm of Ormond & Walsh. When at college he almost broke down through over study, but graduated with honours. Immediately afterwards he went to Boston and took a position there with a prominent drug firm. Whilst in Boston he contracted a very heavy cold which settled on his lungs and which he was never able to shake off. When he felt that the seeds of consumption had been sown in his system he went west and south in a vain endeavour to recover his health.

Summer before last he returned to Peterborough for a few months, but when the winter came on again went south, returning in the spring without any perceptible improvement. He was then admitted to the Nicholls Hospital, where he has since been a patient.

George Crowe was a son of the late Charles Crowe, for many years switchman at the C.P.R. diamond, Ashburnham, and was born in 1870. His brothers are William and Christopher, of Johannesburg, South Africa; Charles, of the Armour Packing Co., Dubuque, Iowa; David, of Fredrickton, New Brunswick; John, of West Superior, Minnesota, and Joseph, of town.

A few days ago the deceased made a request that his pall-bearers be chosen from amongst the druggists of the town.

The funeral will take place on Tuesday afternoon at 2.30.

JUBILEE DAY.

A Local Celebration to take Place on a Grand Scale.

The following gentlemen have formed themselves into a committee for the purpose of getting up a Jubilee Day celebration in town, to consist of sports and games, including horse racing on the Driving Park:—Messrs. T. E. Bradburn, W. B. Bamford, P. Clunan, G. W. Hatton, H. C. Winch, H. LeBrun, L. B. Felcher, W. H. Meldrum and W. H. Robertson.

The committee proposes to draft a programme to submit to a general meeting of citizens to be held in the Palace Restaurant parlours on Monday evening next.

Although the lacrosse club is bringing the Capitals, of Ottawa, here for a game on the P. A. A. A. grounds on Jubilee Day and is also putting on a programme of athletic events, yet the crowd which will be drawn to town will doubtless be sufficiently large to make both ventures a success.

THE Y. M. C. A. GYMNASIUM FUND CONTEST.

Blue Points Behind, but Apparently Pushing Forward to Sure Victory.

The Reds lead to-day by 4½ points. It is only the old question—getting enough rope to swing on at the last.

The Reds are ahead, but are desperate in their efforts to maintain their position. Did you see their red collection boxes? The next thing they will do will be to import a half dozen organ-grinders from Toronto with full catch penny attachments.

We have only two requests for next week—to be ahead on Monday and Friday nights. We will have both.

Every promise that has not backed up with cash should be attended to not later than Tuesday.

One of the town philosophers has, after much consideration and loss of sleep, ventured the assertion that this contest is becoming a public nuisance. Wear the blue, dear brother sage, and you will not be troubled.

Though clouded for the moment,
Hurrah for the constant BLUE,
'Tis the emblem of fidelity,
The arching heaven's own hue.
The crimson glow of sunset
Red's symbol fades away;
But the azure vault above
June 4th and aye will stay.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Thomas Lannin is in Rochester on a visit to relatives.

Mrs. P. W. Peters, of Nashille, Tenn., is visiting her sister, Mrs. W. B. Brown, Weller street.

Mr. M. W. Matchett, principal of the Ashburnham school, has been seriously ill for the last day or two.

Mrs. Brandon, and her son, Mr. J. J. Brandon, are visiting at the residence of Mr. W. H. Robertson, Water street.

Principal Grant, of Queen's University, passed through town this afternoon en route for Orillia, where he preaches to-morrow.

The Tweed News says,—Miss Falconer left on Saturday for Peterborough to visit her sister, Mrs. Gibson. Miss Falconer will also visit Belleville before her return.

Mr. Frank Cloucher, Mrs. Cloucher and family, of Bobcaygeon, passed through on Thursday en route for Vancouver Island, on the Pacific coast. Mr. Cloucher has for many years been a most valued employee in the M. Boyd Co., and goes out to British Columbia to join Mr. Gidley in establishing the new lumbering operations of the firm in that distant province.

"On Monday evening last," says the Lakefield News, "the Rev. J. G. Potter, of St. Andrew's church, Peterborough, addressed a fair sized audience in the Presbyterian church, on the subject, "Can you eat Sawdust Without Butter?" The lecture was well delivered and well received, and many valuable lessons were conveyed regarding the way in which to meet the difficulties and hardships of the battles of life."

Miss Hettie Lumsden, sister of the Misses Lumsden, No. 426 George street, has just graduated from the Lady Stanley Institute for Nurses, Ottawa. The Journal makes the following reference to the graduating exercises: The presentation of diplomas and medals to the successful young nurses took place at the Lady Stanley Institute, Rideau street, yesterday afternoon. Madame Laurier presented the medals. Besides the medical staff of the Institute, there turned out many of the elite of Ottawa's society to witness the ceremony. As each of the young ladies names were called out, she stepped upon the platform and received from the hands of Madame Laurier a gold medal and from Mrs. R. H. Bronson a diploma.

THE JACKSON PARK.

It Has Become a Favourite Resort for Bicyclists as the Roads are in Excellent Condition.

The frequent showers during the month have had the result of making the parks look even more attractive than usual in the greenness of their growth and profusion of shady foliage.

The Jackson Park has been greatly patronized by wheelmen this year, and is becoming a favourite resort for those whom business does not confine too strictly during the afternoons.

The roadways have been raked clear of loose stones and are as hard and level as could be desired for wheeling purposes. On entering at the south-western corner, a long grade presents itself, bringing delight to the heart of the coaster. Winding as it does along the side of the hill, some very pretty pieces of scenery are revealed as hurried glimpses are caught of the miniature lake and dashing little brook far below, spanned at intervals by picturesque bridges, and its banks affording shady lounging places for a rest if the trip to the park has proved a warm one.

Inviting dells, carpeted with green sod, form ideal spots for quiet little picnic parties, and on Saturday afternoons large numbers of little ones take their baskets and spend several hours there most enjoyably. Seats are scattered around on all sides, and many are built in odd nooks and corners, where to the weary wayfarer they are most welcome.

Some of the hills are a trifle precipitate, but are in no way dangerous, even to the inexperienced wheelmen.

When the Park is brought nearer to town by reason of the extension of the electric street car line, its beauties will be enjoyed by many to whom it has hitherto been a trifle inaccessible.

TENNIS CLUB ANNUAL MEETING.

Officers Elected for the Season Yesterday Afternoon—A Vote of Thanks.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Tennis Club was held yesterday afternoon and the following officers elected for the coming season:

Patron and Patroness—Mr. A. P. Poussette, Q.C., and Mrs. Poussette.
President—Mr. W. D. Parker.
Vice-President—Miss Lundy.
Secretary-Treasurer—Mr. A. A. Hollingshead.
Executive Committee—Mrs. P. Campbell, Mrs. Aylmer, Mr. F. J. Rogers, Mr. H. S. Greenwood.

The club wishes to extend thanks to the Y.M.C.A. for the use of the rooms for the meeting.

NEWS NUGGETS.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

—Minden is troubled with diphtheria.

—Haliburton town hall is being rebuilt.

—Lakefield is talking up a demonstration for Jubilee Day.

—The harvest of fruit will undoubtedly be large this year by the present appearance of the orchards.

—Several deer have been seen close to Haliburton village. They are more numerous than was ever before known to be the case.

—Alderman Hungerford, of Belleville, bought a mining right for $100 in North Hastings, and returning to Belleville sold it for $700.

—The first narrow escape from a banana peel accident is reported. Too much care cannot be exercised in the disposition of banana peels.

—The stationery and fancy goods stores will close at 7 o'clock, with the exception of Saturdays, and days preceding holidays, during June, July and August.

—All Grand Trunk passenger trains now carry weather signal discs, thus furnishing farmers and others with correct meteorological forecasts for 24 hours in advance.

—A torpid liver means torpid brain. Stop medicines, pills, and dyspeptic cures in particular. Use Madden Cereal instead of tea and coffee. One month will prove the case. 2d

—The village of Tweed is without a school board at present, all the members except two having resigned. The cause of the resignations was dissatisfaction arising over the purchase of a new school site.

—The little steamer Undine, of Lakefield, has been purchased by Mr. Parker Davis, of Nogey's Creek, a member of the firm Kennedy, Davis & Son. It is said he intends fitting the boat for passenger service on the lower lakes.

—The reported rumour of amalgamation of the Public and Separate Schools of Hastings was all a myth. There is no prospect of any such union, and the Star says to get news without foundation one must go from home.

—Madden Cereal is not a patent medicine, but a food drink made from selected grains. Use it instead of coffee, and you will have no use for the numerous pills and dyspeptic cures. Grocers sell it. 2d

—Mr. Joseph Hughes, who recently sold out his stock of boots and shoes and gents furnishings in Norwood, was married at Lakefield on the 10th inst. to Miss Mary M. Walsh, of Peterborough. They left on Friday for St. Louis, Mo., and have the best wishes of their many friends and acquaintances.

—Sunday cars are now in operation in Hamilton, Windsor, St. Catharines, Hamilton to Dundas, Queenston to Niagara Falls, Berlin to Waterloo. The places at which street railways are in operation, but do not run on Sunday, are London, Ottawa, Kingston, Sarnia, Guelph, Belleville, Brantford, Peterborough and Woodstock.

—Mr. John O'Donnell is very busy shipping his telegraph poles. A drive of 3,000 now in Pigeon Lake, made the run from Swamp Lake, by Nogey's Creek, in twenty days. The run often takes six weeks, but the water was unusually good. Mr. O'Donnell will, it is said, ship his poles by the Chemong railway.

—Now that the boating season is rapidly approaching we must expect to hear of the perennial idiot who insists on changing seats or rocking the boat, to the terror of weak nerved women and the indignation of all rightly constituted sane men. If matters could be so arranged that the one who does the rocking could be drowned comfortably and nicely, there would not be as much reason to complain. But the victim of this idiot's pranks is generally some person with sense who would not indulge in the practice.

Two Opinions—Take Your Choice

It is hard to form an estimate regarding the hay crop this year, when two of the district papers within twenty-three miles of one another give the following diverse opinions on the matter:

"It is predicted that the hay crop in this vicinity will be nearly a total failure, the frost having killed nearly all the seed."

"It is predicted that there will be a large hay crop in this locality, as the meadows of every farm have a promising appearance."

Bicycle Accident.

The following from the St. Catharines Evening Journal of the 22nd, refers to Mr. H. Mellor, whose home is in Lakefield: A. H. Mellor, of the Quebec Bank, Thorold, met with a very painful accident on Friday afternoon. He was riding on his bicycle along the new canal tow path and when near lock 17, as he was pushing his wheel along at a good gait, and leaning over the handle bars, he struck the guy rope of the steamer Bannockburn and was thrown with such force that his side was pierced by one of the handles of his wheel. His face was badly scraped and cut also.

GOD SAVE THE QUEEN.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

It is with much regret that I learn that the proposed celebration of the Diamond Jubilee of Her Majesty Queen Victoria of Great Britain will fall through. I think it is of greater importance—the remembrance of her long and prosperous reign—than any observance of her birthday. In England the latter is kept by very few; in Canada it is more of a holiday for her subjects. There is nothing wrong in that, but when we remember that for nigh sixty years, prayers, both by appointment in what is called the English Church, as well as voluntary in many others, besides many a prayer in private has been presented that the Almighty would protect and bless, where is the one that has never joined in singing of God Save the Queen? There can surely be no doubt about how it has been answered. We cannot forget the many times her life has been shielded by a Divine Providence. Her Majesty has had a good share of the trials and sorrows to which all are subject, but she has been very graciously blessed under them all. It is not only for our Queen that we would show our gratitude, but also for ourselves. We have been indirectly blessed under her long and prosperous reign. But then the question comes, how shall it be observed? It should not be altogether devoted to horse racing or any other circus performance. Could we not in some way or other show that in one thing we are a united people? In politics we are divided, in religion we are hydra-headed. We have each our homes without number, but in defence of our homes and those we love, do we not stand together as one?

I do not know that Peterborough has more churches in proportion than any other town, yet I believe there are church goers enough to make up a large assemblage in one place, and each having a representative for five minutes in their best way, would show their loyalty to God and the Queen. Besides, without training, a good number of children could be gathered together and sing God Save the Queen in such a way they would not forget while their memory would last. Would anything like this spoil their sports for the balance of the day? To my mind it would be like bringing in the first sheaf as in olden days, or the first ripe fruit. Is there one among us, whatever his or her nationality, but now a Canadian, that would object to such a gathering? Yea, more, is there a religious body that could not unite in the same?

It may appear to some a little fulsome to talk of our Great Britain that we belong to, here. I forget whether the Jew in entering the synagogue thanked the Lord that he was a man, or whether he thanked the Lord that he was not a woman; anyway if I must not boast of being a Briton I will thank the Lord that I am not a Turk, whatever may be the outcome of the day. By thus writing I show my heart to be in the right place. It is a pity that those who at first were making arrangements for sports should have been stopped, but this often happens when big boys break up the game of the little ones because they cannot amuse themselves.

Thanking you for this space in the people's column, I remain with much respect,

Yours,
J. BABB.

May 29th, of Her Majesty's Jubilee year.

A LITTLE TOUCH OF SARCASM.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I am not a member of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, but I have, I hope, a few drops of humane blood in my veins. A day or so ago I had some leisure time on my hands and I was watching the grading on Charlotte street west of Park. I saw two teams and three men ploughing the street side, and though it is hard to believe, the heartless teamsters urged their horses to such a cruel degree that the round trip with the plough, up one side and down the other, was exactly an hour (I took the time). The distance is about 1,000 feet, or 2,000 feet the double trip. The horses were allowed only some three or four stops of about ten minutes each. As a ratepayer I am anxious enough that we should have full value for the money spent on streets, but I protest in the name of humanity against overworking horses in the cruel manner mentioned. Why, a farmer working at the same rapid rate would plow about an acre a week. The teams working the grader were cruelly urged at about the same rate. The police should see that dumb animals should not be thus wantonly abused.

Yours, etc.,
HUMANITY.

Goods go to all Parts of the World, which is conclusive evidence that they make the best goods.

They shipped to-day, by steamer Grangewood, two bales of their celebrated folding beds to one of the largest firms in London, England, this being the second shipment made to this same firm, which shows that the goods were quite satisfactory.

The firm also received an order to-day from a gentleman on Broadway, New York, for a large tent, 15 x 25, which is the third order from this gentleman, showing again another satisfied customer, which is very gratifying, as this gentleman has to pay the duty of 35 per cent., and that, too, when there are hundreds in business right in the same city of New York. 1d

A BOOM IN BIRCH TIMBER.

Haliburton Township has a Great Quantity of it Ready for the Axe.

"At the usual weekly meeting of the Book Club, on Thursday evening," says the Haliburton correspondent of the Bobcaygeon Independent, "some very interesting facts were brought forward by a member who is addicted to statistics. This locality, like all other rural localities in Ontario, is anxious for a boom. No matter in what direction the boom may be, we want a boom in something, and the statistical member proved to our great satisfaction that a boom in lumbering was as certain as anything could be certain among mortals. The Land Company which owns nine townships around this village, contemplates disposing of its property, and these nine townships contain an enormous number of birch trees. Birch lumber is one of the most valuable of woods for furniture and flooring. The following were the figures of the statistical member: Each township contains 12 concessions of 35 lots, which is 420 lots to a township. Nine townships of 420 lots contain 3,780 lots. Each lot contains 100 acres, therefore there are 378,000 acres. Each acre contains 10 birch trees, or 3,780,000 birch trees in the whole nine townships. The trees will each yield three logs of 200 feet, each board measure, or 600 feet each tree, which is 2,268,000,000 million feet. The value of birch lumber is about $16 per thousand, and 2,268 million feet at $16 per thousand amounts to $36,328,000. Call it thirty-six million dollars. It is quite clear that if this municipality, which consists of the nine townships in question, is going to export thirty six million dollars worth of birch lumber in the next few years, we shall have an industrial birch lumber boom which will knock the Rossland gold boom into a cocked hat. Be it remarked that in the nine townships there are quantities of black ash, cedar, elm, maple and hemlock, each equal in amount to the birch. There is timber to the value of fifty millions of dollars here. Hurrah for the boom."

The statistician in his anxiety to establish the monetary value of the birch, has entirely forgotten the educational advantages of its presence as a stimulus. It would be a good locality in which to establish a school apparently.

A Grand Army Man Crosses Swords with Heart Disease and Wins a Glorious Victory with the Aid of Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart

Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart cannot be over estimated, says H. M. Musselman, a well-known G. A. R. man of Weisport, Pa., and he continued: "My ailments were palpitation and fluttering of the heart. I used two bottles of your valuable cure and feel like a new man. I have taken bottles and bottles of other medicine without help. I introduce it to my friends at every opportunity possible. It is a great medicine. Inside of 30 minutes after the first dose I had relief." Sold by H. S. McDonald.

Change in the Flour Business.

Having bought the business formerly carried on by the firm of Meldrum & McAllister, together with all trade marks and brands of flour, I will again give my personal attention to making the old reliable brands of flour formerly made by me, which will take the prominent position they always occupied when under my control. I have made arrangements with three of the best mills in the Dominion to supply me with flour till I rebuild, and will guarantee all my goods. To my numerous patrons and friends, who have loyally supported me for the last ten years, you will find me at the old stand, Stevenson's storehouse, corner Simcoe and Bethune streets, where the highest market price will be paid for all grain; and flour and feed sold at lowest possible prices, consistent with quality. LACROSSE.

It is said that there may be a possibility of Frank Boland again playing lacrosse this year. His presence would greatly strengthen the defense field of the Peterboroughs.

The lacrosse team will continue to practice on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings and it is hoped that on the alternate nights the members will take a run so that they may be in the best possible condition for the game with the Tecumsehs on June 10th. A large number of lacrosse enthusiasts from Lakefield, Norwood, Omemee, Millbrook, Campbellford and Port Hope are expected in town to witness the match.

Word has been received from the secretary of the Tecumsehs, that the team which will play here on June 10th, will be composed as follows: Goal, Devine; point, Patterson; cover point, Davis; 3rd defence, York; 2nd defence, Grimes; 1st defence, Peaker; Centre, Murphy; 1st home, Cross; 2nd home, McVey; 3rd home, Shalleon; outside home, German; inside home, Hartley.

Such a team of "corncrackers" will give the Peterborough players the fastest game which they ever had on the home grounds.

Devine was brought to Toronto from Ottawa the other day and played with the Toronto's against Montreal. After the game both he and Patterson joined the Tecumsehs. Grimes is known here, having played with Peterborough once against Beaverton, Peaker, Murphy, Cross, McVey, German and Hartley, are all well known here, as players of the first water. Of the latter six five played with Madoc against the Peterborough Juniors last year in Madoc.

GOLF.

Golf is the only first-class game at which cheating is at all easy, says a writer in St. Jame's Gazette, supposing, of course, that the player is unaccompanied by a caddy, and even when accompanied by a caddy it is still quite possible to cheat. If a player, having played five strokes, says to his caddy, "That is four, is it not?" the latter will probably reply, "I think it's five, sir;" but if the player responds, "Oh, no, I'm sure it's only four," the caddy will probably say no more. Possibly at the end of the match he may mention to the other caddy his opinion of the circumstance, but this will not affect the player's reputation unless he happens to be at his own club. Even then it will take a good long time and many repetitions of various caddies' adverse opinions of his arithmetical powers to throw anything like a serious doubt upon his honour. And yet what club is there which does not possess one or two members of whom it is sotto voce said that if you play with them you will have to look pretty sharply after their score?

I am sorry to have to express the deliberate conviction that the belief in the honour and honesty of golfers has very unsubstantial foundation in fact. I have golfed for a number of years over all kinds of greens and with all sorts of people; and on innumerable occasions I have been driven strongly to suspect my opponent of cheating, and on many occasions I have positively detected him in so doing. In a match, as every golfer knows, the two players are often pretty widely separated. If a player discovers his ball in a rather bad lie he can, in the act of addressing, alter its position and thus give himself a good lie. Such a thing as missing the ball altogether is not unknown even with fairly experienced players; and I have known many instances when I have not been obviously looking, but have only detected out of the corner of my eye that my opponent has had a mishap of this kind—that the coup dans l'air has not been counted unless I have drawn attention to it when on the green. Of course, this miscounting of strokes is much easier when the fortunes of the game carry the two players in different sides of a hedge or other defence from observation. I remember on one occasion having satisfactorily negotiated a somewhat high bunker into which my opponent blundered, watching his head and shoulders—the only part of him visible—from the other side. He made several strokes, and at last jerked the ball over. I thought it had taken four to get out, but he declared that the three first strokes were only practice ones on the sand. I, of course, could not contradict this, and bding of a placable temperament refrained from pointing out that it was scarcely etiquette to practice strokes when practically out of sight in a bunker.

Apart from instances of this sort, nothing is easier than intentionally to forget a stroke when counting up after holing out on the green. As a matter of fact, unless one steadily counts as one goes along, it is quite easy genuinely to make a mistake, and it is to this fact that the habitual cheater trusts, should at any time his miscount be detected. And if, being somewhat doubtful of the accuracy of his computation, you endeavour to recall his individual strokes, he will very likely tell you that it is not etiquette to do so. No doubt he is right in a sense, for it is the honourable custom of good golfers to entirely trust each other in the matter of counting strokes. But if one's suspicions are aroused as to the untrustworthiness of the memory of your opponent (to put it politely) it it is impossible to avoid keeping an eye on him and counting his strokes; and when your total does not tally with his, it seems only right to point out the fact. As a matter of fact, the true scoring etiquette of golf enjoins the frequent reference by the two players to their several scores. Most players ought to be approaching the putting green, and consequently pretty near together, at the third stroke; and by that time a pleasant colloquy of "You've played the odd," or shall I play the like?" should be easily practicable, and always is desirable.

Considering the enormous growth of the golfing spirit nowadays, it seems desirable to put in an emphatic plea in favour of the strictly honourable playing of the game. Cheating under all circumstances is utterly despicable, and nowhere is it more so than on golf links.

NOT A SICK DAY

For Over Thirty Years!

RESULT OF USING

AYER'S PILLS

"Ayer's Cathartic Pills for thirty years have kept me in good health, never having had a sick day, all that time. Before I was twenty I suffered almost continually—as a result of constipation—from dyspepsia, headaches, neuralgia, or boils and other eruptive diseases. When I became convinced that nine-tenths of my troubles were caused by constipation, I began the use of Ayer's Pills, with the most satisfactory results, never having a single attack that did not readily yield to this remedy. My wife, who had been an invalid for years, also began to use Ayer's Pills, and her health was quickly restored. With my children I had noticed that nearly all their ailments were preceded by constipation, and I soon had the pleasure of knowing that with children as with parents, Ayer's Pills, if taken in season, avert all danger of sickness."—H. THE BASEBALL RECORD.

The Hams visited the Don grounds yesterday and were never in the game. McDermott had them at his mercy all the way and only for errors in the fourth and eighth they would have been blanked. The visitors changed pitchers in the sixth, but still the Torontos scored. Not a hit was made off McDermott until the fourth, when Marr Phillips broke the spell. He got half of all the visitors' hits. Now that the Torontos have struck a winning gait they will give a hard contest to all their much-touted opponents, with the chances in favor of victory for all the games on the home grounds. London and Toronto play here on Tuesday. Yesterday's score:

LONDON AGAIN BEATEN.

London, May 27.—The Maple Leafs and the Londons played eleven innings this afternoon to decide the game. Towards the end the excitement was intense. With two men out, Bradford hit to centrefield for two bases, and Vigneaux brought him in with a single in the same direction. In the first two innings Kershaw sent men to bases on balls, which helped materially to win. Afterwards he pitched a brilliant game. Score:

A Very Old Lady's Death.

London, Ont., May 27.—Mrs. Elizabeth Logan, West Nissouri, died yesterday at the remarkable age of 97 years and 10 months. Mrs. Logan was born in Edinburgh.

The workman often eats his lunch on the same bench where he does his work. The office man turns his desk into a dining table. Neither gets the out of doors exercise he needs, neither takes the proper time for eating. It is small wonder that the digestion of both gets out of order. In such cases Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets come to their assistance by aiding nature in taking care of the food.

The cause of nine-tenths of the sickness of the world is constipation. From this cause come indigestion; disorders of the stomach, liver and kidneys; biliousness, headaches, flatulence, heartburn, impurity of the blood and the serious complication that follow. To begin with, constipation is a little thing, and a little thing will cure it. The Pleasant Pellets are tiny, sugar-coated granules. They will perfectly cure the worst case of constipation and indigestion. If the druggist tries to sell you some other pill that pays him greater profit, just think of what will best pay you.

Personal Experience.

Mr. H. Hindson, of Hindson Bros., Watford, Ont., says: "From personal experience I recommend Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills for nervousness and general weakness of the system, and can say without doubt they are the best medicine I ever used.

DR. GRIFFIN WAS A SCHEMER.

He Inveigled New Yorkers in a Mining Scheme and Organized a Company, Then He Suddenly Flitted.

New York, May 27.—According to the Journal and Advertiser of to-day, many persons who were inveigled into all sorts of projects by Dr. G. H. Griffin, who formerly had an office at No. 19 Broadway, are mourning the loss of their money. Dr. Griffin left town suddenly a short time ago and only now is the extent of his scheming coming to light. The companies which he organized are too numerous to mention. Among them was the Nanaimo Coal Mining Company of British Columbia. Dr. Griffin announced himself as the owner of large and valuable coal properties in British Columbia, and organized a company by the name of the Nanaimo Coal Mining Company of British Columbia, under the laws of West Virginia. Stock was issued to the amount of $5,000,000 and bonds amounting to $2,500,000. Dr. Griffin was president of the company, and several New Yorkers were interested financially in the scheme.

The bonds and stocks were printed in Montreal, Que., and the Western Loan and Trust Company of Montreal registered the bonds of the company and guaranteed the interest on them, amounting to $180,000 per year. Dr. Griffin then went to London to dispose of them, but meanwhile the trust company investigated in British Columbia and called to London, which prevented his selling the bonds to investors there.

RYAN IN DE BARRY'S CHAIR.

The Chief Debarrer and Deporter is Sick and Mr. Ryan Has Gone Up From the Falls in the Meantime.

Buffalo, May 27.—Inspector of Immigration De Barry is indisposed, and Inspector Ryan of Niagara Falls was occupying the office to-day where Mr. De Barry is wont to grind out his column stories of the terrible effect of Canadian cheap labor on the workingmen of this state. In an interview Mr. Ryan says: "It is extremely quiet all along the frontier now. In our department the calls for duty are growing less and less, because the people of Canada are becoming more careful in regard to infractions of the alien labor law. There are ways of evading the law also, and these are being learned. Aliens can come to this country as long as they are not under contract or agreement to work before they come, so the people on this side who want Canadian labor are careful to get them here by indirect means and evidences of previous agreements or contracts are more and more hard to secure."

A REMARKABLE CASE.

DOCTORS COULD NOT AGREE AS TO THE TROUBLE.

A New Brunswick Lady the Victim—Suffered for Thirty Years—The Attack Caused Partial Blindness and a Feeling of Semi-Paralysis.

From the Woodstock, N. B., Sentinel.

Mrs. E. P. Ross, of Riley Brook, N. B., says: "I have been a sufferer for thirty years, and I am sure I would still be in the same lamentable condition had it not been for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I was married at the age of twenty, and am now fifty-one years old. I had always enjoyed good health until after my first child was born. About a month later the illness attacked me which has since made my life miserable. I consulted different doctors, but they did not agree as to the nature of my illness. One said it was a species of paralysis, others said symptoms of fits. I would be feeling well when I would suddenly have a sensation of partial blindness, and everything before me would sparkle. Then my hand and arm on one side would become numb, and after about ten minutes this sensation would pass to my lower limbs, then my tongue would become affected, as would also my hearing. Voices no matter how close to me, would seem dim and far away. These symptom would last for about forty minutes, I would have a violent pain over the eyes, which would continue for twelve hours or more. Notwithstanding all that was done for me, these spells were coming more frequently, and at last I would sometimes have two attacks a day. I was also troubled with bronchitis, which added to my misery. I could not sew or knit, or do any work that required close attention to it. All this trouble had never left me for years, and at the age of 48 I consulted another doctor. The medicine he gave me, however, made me worse instead of better. Then I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I was using the third box before I found any benefit, but then there was a decided change. By the time I used twelve boxes I felt as well as I did in my young days. Every symptom of the trouble that had so long made my life miserable had disappeared. For eighteen months I did not use the pills and was as well as ever I had been in my life. Then one morning I felt a slight attack of the old trouble and determined to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills again. I got a box and took an occasional pill and have never since had a symptom of the trouble. To say that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done wonders for me is putting it mildly, and I strongly urge their use on all who may be ill. Pink Pills were also of great benefit to a neice of mine, Miss Effie J. Everett. Her mother died when she was quite young, and naturally much of the care of the household developed upon her, and as she grew up she became weak, easily tired, subject to headaches and her complexion was pale and wax-like. A young lady teacher who was boarding with the family, and who had used Pink Pills with great success, urged her to try them. The result was that she soon was enjoying the best of health and is a fine robust young lady who shows no traces of her former illness."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure by going to the root of the disease. They renew and build up the blood, and strengthen the nerves, thus driving disease from the system. Avoid imitations by insisting that every box you purchase is enclosed in a wrapping bearing the full trade mark, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

PYNY-PECTORAL

Positively Cures

COUGHS and COLDS

In a surprisingly short time. It's a scientific certainty, tried and true, soothing and healing in its effects.

W. C. McCOMBER & SON, Bouchette, Que., report in a letter that Pyny-Pectoral cured Mrs. C. Garceau of chronic cold in chest and bronchial tubes, and also cured W. G. McComber of a long-standing cold.

MR. J. H. HUTTY, Chemist, 428 Yonge St., Toronto, writes: "As a general cough and lung syrup Pyny-Pectoral is a most invaluable preparation. It has given the utmost satisfaction to all who have tried it, many having spoken to me of the benefits derived from its use in their families. It is suitable for old or young, being pleasant to the taste. Its sale with me has been wonderful, and I can always recommend it as a safe and reliable cough medicine."

FIFTH DAY AT WOODBINE.

The Weather Was Fine and There Was a Large Attendance—Fast Track and Good Time.

Toronto, May 28.

The Ontario Jockey Club was favored with perfect weather for the fifth day of the spring meeting. The crowd was the smallest of the week, and, although the fields were small in a couple of races, they witnessed some good events and close finishes.

The track was perfect, and as a result fast time was made. Havoc covering a mile without much effort in 1.43, the fractional marks being :25, :49½ and 1.16. Marplot made a Canadian two-year-old record for the track, going a half mile in 49¾ secs. Favorites won four of the six races, well-played choices capturing the other two.

There were only three horses left for the opening event, and Freddie Gebhardt should have been run off the track. He made a sorry showing, and was hooted as he came up the home stretch about a furlong behind. Havoc and the Kapsnga colt made a bit of a race for half a mile, and then the Seagram candidate went out ahead and won in a gallop.

The second race had seven good two-year-olds. They went away at the first break to a good start, with Marplot's neck showing in front of Mordecai. The favorite steadily increased its position, and won out by three lengths, Flying Bess taking third place a length and a half ahead of the McGuigan candidate. The winner was a real good thing, and full of running after he had passed the finish.

The third race was a canter for Mr. Seagram's Downright. There were only two in the race, and they stayed together for half a mile, then Lewis let out a wrap, and when he reached the judges' stand was 10 lengths ahead of the Hendrie filly.

The jumping contest furnished a nice race for three of the steeplechasers. Dom Pedro was ahead all the way, and won easily. Prince Mark started out in second place, but tired on the second round. The other three got into difficulty soon after the start, Rapid Belle falling at the club-house bank, breaking her neck. She made a couple of kicks and then died. Her rider, Southard, was only slightly injured. The unfortunate mare collided with Morvent, and spoiled whatever chances Mr. Macdean's candidate had in the race. Hudson also fell early in the game.

Zeal was thought to be the good thing for the handicap. He got away practically in front to a fair start, and stayed there until the betting ring was reached, then Samson came strong in the finish, and won out by half a length, Zeal evidently tiring in the latter part of the journey. Bean Ideal came strong at the finish, and got ahead of Billy Fisher and inside the money by half a length.

The closing event of the day, the selling race for a purse of $250, had a field of seven. This was a great betting race, there being strong tips out on five of the lot. After a tedious delay they went away to a fair start with the long shots in front. South Africa was the first to work through and showed a clear length at the three-quarters ahead of Hurns. They kept this position until the stretch was reached, and then Sinaloa came with a great burst of speed, and just managed to separate the two, taking the second place only half a length behind Hurns and a length ahead of South Africa. The rest of the field were 10 lengths away. Hurns showed good form and finished strong.

First race, 1 mile, purse $350, for 3-year-olds and up: Havoc won, Kapsnga Colt 2nd, Freddie Gebhardt 3rd. Time 1.43.

Second race, ½ mile, purse $300, for 2-year-olds: Marplot won, Mordecai 2nd, Flying Bess 3rd. Time .49¾.

Third race, 1½ miles, Maple Leaf Stakes, $450 added, for Canadian-bred 3-year-old fillies: Downright won, Fiddle 2nd. Time 2.02.

Fourth race, Tally-ho Steeplechase (selling), short course, purse $350: Dom Pedro won, Clark 2nd, Prince Mark 3rd. Time 4.50.

Fifth race, ⅞ mile, Handicap, 3-year-olds and upwards, purse $400: Samson won, Zeal 2nd, Beau Ideal 3rd. Time 1.30⅝.

Sixth race, ¾ mile, purse $250, for 3-year-olds and up (selling): Hurns won, Sinaloa III. 2nd, South Africa 3rd. Time 1.17.

"I HAD NO FAITH."

But my Wife Persuaded me to Try the Great South American Rheumatic Cure, and my Agonizing Pain was Gone in 12 Hours and Gone for Good.

J. D. McLeod of Leith, Ont., says: "I have been a victim of rheumatism for seven years—confined to my bed for months at a time, unable to turn myself. Have been treated by many physicians without any benefit. I had no faith in rheumatic cures I saw advertised, but my wife induced me to get a bottle of South American Rheumatic Cure from Mr. Taylor, druggist in Owen Sound. At that time I was in agony with pain. Inside of twelve hours after I had taken the first dose the pain had all left me. I continued until I had used three bottles, and I now consider myself completely cured."

SAD SCENES IN NEW YORK.

The Striking Tailors and Their Families Are Suffering—A Struggle Which Promises to Be Long.

Buffalo, May 27.—A special from New York to The Evening News this afternoon says:

Leader Schoenfel, for the striking tailors and garment workers, in an interview, gave as his opinion that the strike will be a long and bitter fight. "The manufacturers and contractors are slowly coming round, but there are 150 manufacturers, large and small, and over 1000 contractors. Before all these come into line there will be much suffering, but the tailors are firm and know that their future depends on the result of this contest. All other strikes pale into insignificance before it. The result will show at once and for all whether it is possible to make contracts which the contractors can be compelled to respect." Evictions are kept up with regularity and sad scenes are witnessed hourly in the district where the strikers reside. One in particular, your correspondent saw this morning, where a mother and her three children were seated upon their furniture in the street, hungry and dejected, with no place to go. Your correspondent quickly procured food for them and the neighbors soon offered to care for their furniture. This offer was quickly and cheerfully accepted and the children were also taken care of by the neighbors temporarily.

"Now," said the mother, "I can go out in the world and battle with my husband for a living."

BRIGANDAGE IN INDIANA.

An Aged Preacher Who Had Wealth Kidnapped and Held in Bondage Because He Wouldn't Sign a Draft.

LaGrange, Ind., May 27.—A letter has been received a Sonabia from the Rev. A. S. Case, who disappeared from there during the first week in April. Detectives were placed on his track, and a large reward offered. The letter was dated at a small town near Syracuse, in which he says he was kidnapped and in effort made to extort a large sum of money from him by means of a bank draft. He refused to sign the draft, and has been kept in bondage ever since. Mr. Case adds that he was kept for a time in the woods near town, but one night was blindfolded and taken away in a buggy. It is not known whether he is yet in the hands of the men, and every effort is being made to capture them. Mr. Case is wealthy, and 60 years old.

A woman's looking-glass does not lie to her. If she looks carefully and owns the truth to herself, she will acknowledge that it shows to her, as it shows to others, a face full of the ugliness of suffering and pain. If a woman wants her mirror to reflect a pain-free face she should take proper care of her womanly self. She should see that the organs that are distinctly feminine are kept free from weakness and disease. By this means only can a woman remain fresh-looking and attractive.

Women may erase from their faces the lines of suffering by using Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Over 90,000 women have testified in writing to its marvelous merits. It acts directly on the womanly organs. It makes them strong and healthy. It cures all weakness and disease. It allays inflammation, soothes pain, and calms and steadies and invigorates the pain-racked nerves. It prepares for wifehood and motherhood. It does away with the discomforts of the expectant period. It insures baby's health and makes its advent easy and almost painless. All good druggists sell it.

"I am going to write and tell you the benefits I have received from taking your medicines," write: Mrs. J B Clough, Box 253, Lisbon, Grafton Co., N. Hampshire. "I am the mother of a nice baby four and a half months old. He is a perfect child and weighs about eighteen pounds. If you remember I wrote you about a year ago about my condition. I cannot give too much praise to your 'Favorite Prescription' as it saved me a great deal of suffering. I got along remarkably well, this being my first baby."

"Knowledge is power." In a thorough knowledge of the human body lies the power that will at last stamp out weakness of the body and mediocrity of mentality. Dr. Pierce has taken a long look into the future through his "Common Sense Medical Adviser." It is full of just such knowledge as will do the family the most good. This book of over 1000 pages and finely illustrated has had an unprecedented sale. About 700,000 copies have been sold at $1.50 per volume. Now it can be had in paper covers for 21 cents in one-cent stamps. In fine cloth for 50 stamps, customs and postage pre-paid. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

WORDS.

When violets were springing,
And sunshine filled the day,
And happy birds were singing
The praises of the May,
A word came to me, blighting
The beauty of the scene,
And in my heart was winter,
Though all the trees were green.

Now down the blast go sailing
The dead leaves, brown and sere;
The forests are bewailing
The dying of the year;
A word comes to me, lighting
With rapture all the air,
And in my heart is summer,
Though all the trees are bare.

—JOHN HAY, U.S. Ambassador to England.

TRAVELLED HALF THE GLOBE TO FIND HEALTH, WITHOUT SUCCESS.

Took the Advice of a Friend and Now Proclaims it From the Housetop—'South American Nervine Saved My Life."

Mrs. H. Stapleton, of Wingham, writes: "I have been very much troubled for years—since 1878—with nervous debility and dyspepsia. Had been treated in Canada and England by some of the best physicians without permanent relief. I was advised about three months ago to take South American Nervine, and I firmly believe I owe my life to it to-day. I can truthfully say that I have derived more benefit from it than any treatment I ever had. I can strongly recommend it, and will never be without it myself." Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

Gloves for Dress and Every Day.

There has been a very decided change in the fashion of gloves.

All sleeves coming well down over the wrist and fitting closely from there to above the elbow, the long mousquetaire glove is entirely too bulky for either neatness or comfort.

One and two-button gloves have superseded the three and four-button gloves, though they are not by any means as short at the wrist as the one and two-button gloves of years ago. Heavy kid and dogskin are generally used for them, as they are, as a rule, street gloves of such length.

White glace, two, three and even four-button heavily stitched gloves are yet in favor, says Harper's Bazar, for smart occasions—calling, receptions, etc.

For summer wear there is one style of white suede made in the same lines as the heavy kid gloves, and a heavy white glace kid with heavy stitching is to be worn also with washable gowns.

ONE HONEST MAN.

DEAR EDITOR,—Please inform your readers that if written to confidentially, I will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigour, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy.

THE QUEEN AS A CHILD.

A Pretty Youngster Who Was Surnamed by a Fond Grandmother "Little Monkey."

Portraits of the Queen give evidence that she was a singularly pretty child and had far more than average good looks as a young woman. At the age of 9, according to Fowler's portrait, she was an ideal of a certain type of childish beauty, and that it was not an artist's flattery of his royal patron is proved by the fact that all the portraits of this period painted by different artists agree closely. She was exceedingly fair, with soft ringlets, clear complexion and bright blue eyes. Nothing ostentatious was allowed her in the way of dress, and, indeed, she never cared for finery of any sort. Attired in a plain muslin frock, straw bonnet with a white ribbon, tiny shoes on her pretty feet, she walked in the palace gardens like any other child. In her rambles she was always accompanied by her German nurse, a page and footman in scarlet keeping at a respectable distance. She was usually a well behaved and punctiliously honest child, and gave the Baroness Lehzen, her governess, very little trouble. In fact, it is said that she often assisted her guardian in laying her own delinquencies before her mother. Daily reports of her conduct were made.

"Once she was somewhat troublesome," said the good German lady.

"No, twice. Don't you remember?" queried the little culprit brightly nodding up her head with an air of pride. She was always brimful of fun of a gentle sort, and was called by her grandmother of Saxe Coburg-Gotha her "little monkey."

On one occasion, while the little Princess Victoria was walking in the garden, Sir Walter Scott's attention was called to her. He looked at her long, and finally said: "This little lady is educated with so much care and watched so closely that no busy maid has a moment to whisper, 'You are heir of England.' I suspect if we could dissect her little heart we could find some pigeon or other bird of the air had carried the matter." This seemed to be the truth, for, when the Baroness Lehzen, after the childish death of George IV, and the accession of her uncle, told Victoria of her prospects, she showed little or no surprise, but said solemnly: "Now, many a child would boast, not knowing the difficulty. There is much splendor, but there is some responsibility." Then she put her little hand into that of her teacher, and said, "I will be good; I will be good!" As this utterance was made before the child was 10 years old, it can be regarded as nothing less than marvelous. It is notable, too, that this early declaration of principles has been faithfully lived up to through all the vicissitudes of an unusually protracted reign, for goodness and forbearance have been the marked characteristics of her sovereignty.

Her adherence to truth was as pronounced and scrupulous as was that of George Washington, and she was always ready to acknowledge a fault.

The royal child accompanied her mother wherever she went, and traveled through England, Scotland and Wales, visiting universities, the iron workers and sailors of her future realm. This was when she was about 12 years old, an attractive little girl, half smiling, half serious, interested in everything, and yet devotedly deferring to her elders and waiting patiently to be told of things rather than allowing her curiosity to prompt her to tedious queries.

It is a fortunate day for a man when he first discovers the value of Ayer's Sarsaparilla as a blood-purifier. With this medicine, he knows he has found a remedy upon which he may rely, and that his life-long malady is at last conquered. Has cured others, will cure you.

A Six Year-Old Teacher.

There is a little lady out in Kentucky who, although only six years of age, teaches school. She is the youngest school teacher in the United States, if not in the world.

Her pupils are younger than herself, and they show a deep attachment for their teacher, who is bright beyond her years. This little girl is Myra Tevis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Tevis, of Richmond, Ky.

Miss Florence Hood teaches a kindergarten school in the neighborhood, and from this school little Myra Tevis graduated last June. Miss Hood was much impressed by the little lady's brightness.

She displayed an intelligence far beyond her age, and had occupied the head of her class from the very start. Before she graduated she was frequently observed to assist other scholars in their work, seeming to be naturally fitted for teaching.

Miss Hood, in view of these facts, employed the little girl to assist her this year. She is a blue-eyed little girl, and is much impressed with the dignity of her new position.

A Point To Remember

If you wish to purify your blood you should take a medicine which cures blood diseases. The record of cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla proves that this is the best medicine for the blood ever produced. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures the most stubborn cases and it is the medicine for you to take if your blood is impure.

Hood's Pills are the best family cathartic and liver medicine. Gentle, reliable, sure.

Husband is Well.

Mrs. Wm. Hambly, Belleville, Ont., says: "My husband was troubled with kidney complaint, rheumatism, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, etc., and could not get relief until I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills for him. He has now used four boxes in all and is perfectly cured."

Doans Kidney Pills are the ones to cure. Remember the name, Doan's.

DRAWINGS BY PREHISTORIC MAN.

Curious Discoveries on the Walls of the Cave of La Mouthe, France.

At the cave of La Mouthe, in the Dordogne, in the south of France, M. E. Rivière has made some curious discoveries during his last excavations. They consist of drawings made by prehistoric man during the stone age on the walls of the cave itself. The first one discovered was at a distance of 95 metres from the entrance of the cave, and the last one found so far as 147 metres. The animals represented are a sort of ox, a deer or reindeer with a spotted body, and other animals difficult to identify. The heads are generally badly drawn or preserved, except in the case of the bison, while the legs and neck are finely drawn. They are still represented in profile. In another drawing can be seen a hut, represented in three-quarters position, so that the entrance can be seen.

All these sketches are made with flint engravers, fine specimens of which M. Rivière found during the excavations. Red pigment was used to stain some of these drawings. It is made out of an iron oxide to be found in abundance in the vicinity.

The caves of the Dordogne are celebrated for the many prehistoric discoveries made there. Drawings have been often found on bones or slate, but it is the first time that wall decoration has been brought to light.

Beautiful Materials.

The new muslins are of the most beautiful colorings and texture. Many of them look as though painted by hand, so fine is the work and so well executed the design. Lace as yet is the favorite trimming and the amount of it that can be used is a little terrifying. Fortunately the narrow Valenciennes imitation, be it understood, which is at present the fashionable lace, is really very cheap. Besides the lace used to edge the ruffle, there are yards and yards of insertion, but this also is not necessarily expensive.

There are many ways of trimming a skirt. Some exceedingly pretty ones have three graduated ruffles, one falling over the other and reaching from waist to hem. These ruffles or flounces are sewed to a gored skirt with the fullness well thrown to the back, and are trimmed with lace or embroidery, or sometimes have merely a small heading. This is not a style to be adopted by short stout women, for it cuts the figure and adds the width to the hips. In sharp contrasts are the skirts which have the lines unbroken and the insertion put in horizontal lines.

OUT OF THE TOILS.

Physicians Failed, Cure-alls Failed—But the Great South American Kidney Cure, a Specific Remedy for a Specific Trouble, Cured Mrs A. E Young, of Barnston, P.Q. Quickly and Permanently.

This is her testimony: "I was taken sick in January, 1883. I employed several of the best local physicians and was treated by them for kidney disease until the autumn of the same year without receiving much benefit. I then began using your South American Kidney Cure, and derived great benefit almost immediately. I feel now that I am quite cured. I have taken no medicine for some length of time and have not had a return of the slightest symptom of the disease." Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

Short Sketches of Great Men.

Benjamin Jowett.

Amongst the many varieties of progress which have distinguished the reign of Queen Victoria, there is none more remarkable and important than the progress of education, and amongst the great educationalists of the country few names will stand higher than that of Benjamin Jowett, Master of Balliol College, Oxford, whose life in two volumes has just been written by Evelyn Abbott and Lewis Campbell. This work has not yet reached Peterborough, so far as we know, but the reviews and magazines have notices sufficiently copious to enable us to pin together a brief account of this distinguished man.

Benjamin Jowett was born in 1817, educated at St. Paul's School and Balliol College, Oxford, where, after a distinguished career, he was first a Fellow, then a Tutor from 1840 to 1870, when he was elected as Master. Thus his whole life has been identified with Balliol College, nor is it wonderful that the welfare of his college became "his ambition, his passion, his life."

"The head of a college," he wrote, "should be identified with the interests of the college. The life of the college is his life. His money is the money of the college. He is married to the college, and has a duty to support his family. He should inspire a feeling of duty in the whole family.

Like so many others who have made their mark in the world, Jowett had to contend against great difficulties of various kinds. As an undergraduate he was extremely poor. One of his friends writes, "His poverty is so evident that A. H. scrupled even to accept his invitations to tea." He was too, exceedingly shy. Men of business mixing from early youth in the hurly-burly of the world, accustomed to rub shoulders with all sorts and conditions of men have little idea of the suffering shyness occasions to men whose lives are mostly intellectual. They are peculiar, and become conscious of their peculiarities. More and more do they shrink into themselves, more and more eccentric do they appear to the world. Jowett must have largely overcome this difficulty for, as master, he freely opened his doors to men and women who cared to mingle in the society which gathered about the principal figure of Oxford University life.

There is extant a story, probably not literally true, but very characteristic of the man, that on one occasion the master went for a walk with an undergraduate, who turned out to be as shy as himself. They walked in absolute silence until in sheer desperation the youth remarked that it was a fine day, and as they parted at the college lodge some half an hour later, Jowett said "That was a very foolish remark of yours—good-bye."

* * *

It is good for us to take note of things of this kind, for at a distance we are wont to shed a halo of almost supernatural light around the great men of our time, and to imagine them pursuing the pathway of their lives with swiftness and ease. Jowtet not only had such difficulties as the above to contend against, but he had many enemies. This is not the place to refer to the violent and in some cases mean assaults which were made upon him by theological opponents. Tennyson told the Queen that Oxford used him shamefully. But it was not only in the sphere of theology that the master found enemies. He was a member of a commission to reform the Indian Civil Service. Partly with reference to his policy on this commission, and partly on account of his efforts on behalf of his College, he had to be told that "Balliol was the embodiment of selfishness and greed, the master the apostle of meddling and managing." It does not appear that the master ever retorted upon his enemies, but went steadily on his way. "I mean to be quiet and take no notice of attacks," he said, but none the less he felt them.

Jowett's chief literary achievement was his monumental translation of the works of Plato, concerning which John Bright said, "I have been more astonished at the wonderful capacity and industry of the Master of Balliol than at the wisdom of the great philosopher of Greece" He wrote a notable essay on "The Interpretation of Scripture, and two volumes of a commentary on St. Paul's Epistles. He translated other famous Greek classics, and recently a volume of his sermons has been published.

Although a clergyman of the Church of England, Jowett was exceedingly broad and independent in his views. The April number of the Review of Reviews contains a good summary of his sayings on various topics, from which we select a few quotations:

Of immortality he said:—"The more we think of reason as the highest thing in the world, and of man as a rational being, the more disposed we shall be to think of human beings as immortal."

Of Religion: "The first great truth of religion is the sense and practice of the presence of God, the sight of Him and the knowledge of Him as the great over-ruling law of progress in the world. The second great truth of religion is resignation to the general facts of the world and of life."

"I wonder what the religion of the next generation will be? People must believe more strongly in a few truths which we all acknowledge, and they must apply them more vigourously to practical life."

It was the dream of the master's life to write the life of Christ, but in his closing years, when questioned why he had not done it, he replied, falling back in his chair, with tears in his eyes, 'Because I cannot; God has not given me power to do it.'"

The Church: "In speaking of the church, I should always distinguish between the actual church and the ideal church—the first, much what human nature is; the second the embodiment of all good and all perfection, the will and law of God, existing in the mind only. Many persons regard the second as imaginary, to me it seems the most real of all things."

"The Church in the middle ages did more for the reconciliation of classes than all the professions in our own day put together."

"I rather like, when I have the opportunity of preaching in Westminster Abbey, to take the liberty of saying a word in favour of some great Dissenter, ... whose praise is not heard in all the churches."

The conduct of Life: "I believe that the secret of happiness is courage; and that when difficulties are the greatest we should have the most spirit to meet them."

"When one has a great object to attain, while keeping an honest heart it is necessary to be very attentive to little things—and these little things have a nobler side; that mean (what so few attain) the absolute elevation of the mind above personal feeling."

"Troubles of all sorts should be minimized, not exaggerated by feeling. Most trials, whether fanciful or real, are best borne in silence. A year afterwards we are glad that we never mentioned them."

To a lady: "It does not really matter, my dear, whether you are married or unmarried, if you live with dignity and do good to others." I don't like to say with Voltaire, whichever you do you will be sorry for it, but always that a woman may have as happy and useful and distinguished a life unmarried as married."

There is much more that one would like to quote. We hope the Public Library will give us all the opportunity, and that this short notice will give some the incentive to read the life of one of the great and good men of the 19th century.

A TERRIBLE ECZEMA

Her Face Covered with Scales. Could Not Leave Home. Had to Sacrifice Hair.

Tried CUTICURA REMEDIES. Improvement in Three Weeks. Six Weeks Complete Cure.

Four years ago Eczema made its appearance on my head in its worst form. I was attended by two physicians, but notwithstanding their treatment it continued spreading, until my face was covered with scales and became a horrid, loathsome sight. For three months I did not leave the house. I had a fine head of hair, seven years' growth, and had to sacrifice it. I was in despair. The physicians had failed even to relieve me, when one of them recommended CUTICURA SOAP. I used three boxes of CUTICURA (ointment), one half dozen cakes of CUTICURA SOAP, and one bottle of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and in three weeks from the time I began, the scales had left my face and the skin lost its florid hue. In six weeks I was entirely cured. My face was smooth and my complexion clearer than it had ever been before. MARION A. SMITH, Sunbury, Pa.

SATURDAY'S MARKET.

The Price Asked for Produce and Live Stock.

The market to-day was well attended, but the prices fluctuated in rather a curious manner. The produce was late in arriving from the country, and the early-comers did not exactly know whether to raise their prices or not. When the market finally settled chickens brought from 50c. to 60c., eggs, 8c. to 9c., butter, 16c. to 17c., turkeys, 75c. to $1, lettuce, 40c. to 60c. per doz. bunches, radishes the same, onions, 30c. to 40c. per doz. bunches, rhubarb, 20c. to 30c. per doz. bunches, asparagus, 40c. to 50c. per doz. bunches, potatoes, 40 to 50c. a bag, greens, $1 per bushel, tomato plants, $1 per doz. boxes, cabbages the same.

LIVE STOCK NOTES.

Mr. H. P. Kennedy shipped to-day about two hundred head of cattle per G.T.R. to Buffalo and Montreal.

Among the export cattle shipped to Montreal were some very choice animals fed by some of our best farmers: Six steers by Mr. John Garbutt, three by R. E. McKee, four by C. Cobeu, Smith; eighteen fed on Mr. J. J. McBain's farm, nineteen by Mr. David Crowley, Otonabee; three by Mr. Johnston Cooney, four by Mr. John Shaughnessy and one each by J. Davidson and Mr. Brown, of Smith.

Prices while weaker continue about the same. Export cattle 3 3-4 to 4c. butcher 3 to 3¼ and stockers 2 to 2¼. Mr. Kennedy is willing to pay these prices for all choice stock offering, and is also prepared to pay the highest price for choice veal calves, and would be pleased if any persons having stock to sell would call and leave their names in his store.

A Smooth Villain.

The most polished and artful villain among the drug habits is coffee. A smooth spoken knave that has bewildered many a noble temperance worker who was preaching against poisonous liquors, and in poor health, because of the daily use of the drug—coffee. Honest and sincere enough, but he had not yet learned that the same alkaloids are shown by chemical analysis in coffee as in strychnine, whisky, morphine and tobacco. Try leaving off coffee ten days and prove the truthfulness of the statement. In nine cases out of ten the body will feel the unmistakable sensation of "getting well," a heaven to many a poor soul. Then the body should have food that will furnish the albumen, gluten and phosphates, which nature requires to rebuild the grey matter in the nerve cells in the brain and all over the body. This is furnished in Madden Cereal Food Coffee, which is made from those parts of the cereals that furnish these elements in their purity and strength. All leading grocers sell Madden Cereal. 1d.

How to Handle Tramps.

Detective Rogers, of Toronto, gives the following pointers to constables as to how to handle tramps: He says that all tramps who ask to be given a night's lodgings by the municipality, should be searched before being put away for the night. If firearms are found on their person, they should be deprived of them and brought before the magistrate next morning and fined or imprisoned for having concealed weapons. If money is found with them they should also be fined or imprisoned for vagrancy. Mr. Rogers says that nearly every tramp possesses a revolver or money and if these rules are carried out the town will soon be freed from their presence, as other tramps will soon be informed of the town's hospitality, and give it the "go by."

A FAMOUS MAN!

What His Researches Have Done for the World.

DR. CHASE.

All successful and distinguished men have imitators, and Dr. Chase, the well-known author of Chase's Recipe Book, proved no exception to the rule. Dr. Chase's discoveries have many pretended rivals, but no equals.

Long scientific researches produced Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and Chase's Ointment, the first a certain cure for all kidney, liver, stomach, bladder and rheumatic troubles; the latter an absolute specific for chronic and offensive skin diseases. Among his other discoveries were Chase's Catarrh Cure and Chase's Linseed and Turpentine for colds and bronchitis.

During 1895 the Canadian manufacturers, Edmanson, Bates & Co., 45 Lombard street, Toronto, gave away free 500,000 samples of Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and 100,000 samples of Chase's Ointment. The return they brought proved how much they were appreciated. The same free distribution of samples will be continued during 1896. Those at a distance should enclose a 5-cent stamp and also receive a sheet of the latest music in return.

"ALMIGHTY VOICE"

Is Now Responsible for the Death of Four Men.

THE DESPERADO NOT YET CAPTURED

Surrounded by Mounted Police, Who Have Brought Field Pieces to Bear—Two Mounted Policemen and Postmaster Grundy of Duck Lake His Latest Victims.

Ottawa, Ont., May 30.—(Special.)—The Comptroller of Northwest Mounted Police has received official notification of the shooting on Friday of Corporal Hockin, Constable Kerr and Postmaster Grundy, while trying to arrest the Indian murderer Almighty Voice, but up to a late hour to-night no notice of the arrest of Almighty Voice and the two or three Indians with him had been received. At latest accounts a 9-pounder gun had arrived at Duck Lake and the police were leaving for Batoche, 19 miles distant.

The bluff where the Indians are ambushed is about six miles from Batoche, and the police may not have reached it before dark last night. The bluff was pretty well surrounded and more police were going forward, while another gun was being brought down from Prince Albert, so that, unless the Indians escaped in the darkness last night, they ought to have been killed or captured to-day.

No fears are entertained here of any possibility of trouble with the Indians on account of Almighty Voice. He is a young buck of not very good character, who was arrested in October, 1895, for killing cattle. He escaped and was chased by the police, who came up with him, when he turned and shot Sergt. Colebrooke and made good his escape. He has kept out of the way since until last week, when, in an attempt to arrest him, he shot a settler named Venne and wounded Inspector Allan and Sergt. Raven. An attempt to dislodge him from the bluff of timber where he and two or three cousins of his were in ambush resulted as above.

Corporal Hockin was a son of Admiral Hockin of the British navy, and was about 35 years of age. He was at one time in the regular army, holding a commission as captain in the 44th Essex Regiment. He afterwards served several years in India. In 1894 he went to the Northwest, apparently with the intention of taking up land, as he seemed to be possessed of means, but shortly after his arrival in Regina he applied for admission to the force, as so many young Englishmen of good family have done, the semi-military free life of a mounted policeman on the prairies seeming to possess a singular fascination for men of his stamp, especially those who are fond of horses. A friend of Corporal Hockin, who is in Ottawa, told your correspondent to-day that Hockin was an excellent soldier, and a well-educated, steady and quiet gentleman, of rather retiring manner, who seemed to have joined the force simply because he liked the life. He was possessed of some means, and had the reputation of possessing the largest and most complete wardrobe of any man or officer of the force, it being a matter of common remark that he seemed to have more different suits of good clothes than almost any man in the Northwest.

Inspector Allan, who had his arm broken by a bullet on Thursday, is a native of Montreal, a brother of Mr. W. A. Allan of this city, and a nephew of the late Robert Anderson, from whom he inherited a very considerable fortune. Capt. Allan was a member of the Victoria Rifles, and was one of the Red River expedition of 1870. He settled in Manitoba and was for several years a member of the Local Legislature. He joined the Mounted Police about 12 or 13 years ago. Capt. Allan was in Montreal and Ottawa a few weeks ago, and could not have returned to duty more than a week or ten days when the trouble with Almighty Voice occurred. His wound is painful, but not dangerous. He has gone into hospital at Prince Albert. Sergt. Raven's wound is said to be slight.

Kerr an Ontario Man.

Winnipeg, May 30.—(Special.)—Constable John R. Kerr, who fell with his comrade, Corporal Hockin, was a native of Ontario, and was born at Barrievale, Renfrew County, 29 years ago. He joined the force at Regina, May, 1894.

SHELLING THE BLUFF.

Almighty Voice Seems to be an Indian With Considerable Nerve.

Winnipeg, Man., May 30.—(Special.)—Capt. Gagnon arrived at the Bluff with a seven-pounder field gun just before dark on Saturday night, and fired seven shells into it. At dusk, when everything had quieted, Almighty Voice yelled to the police that they were doing well, but would have to do better. A nine-pounder, in charge of Assistant Commissioner McIlree, was turned on the Bluff at 6 o'clock Sunday morning and got range at the second shot. Later on in the day a transport left Duck Lake with picks and shovels for the purpose of throwing up earthworks to enable the men to advance on the Bluff under cover in case they are not successful in driving him out with shells. The Indians on the Bluff placed the dead body of a comrade up against a tree to mislead the fire of the police.

From Prince Albert.

West Prince Albert, N.W.T., May 29.—(Special.)—News from the scene of the Indian trouble is necessarily very meagre, as it is a long distance from the Duck Lake office, and men cannot be spared as messengers. Last night's tragedy was the result of a charge on the bluff by the policemen and two civilians, Postmaster Grundy of Duck Lake and Crown Timber Agent R. S. Cook of Prince Albert. They killed one Indian. There are two remaining and probably more. From indications it is believed the spot was a pre-arranged rendezvous and they are securely entrenched in pits, and appear to have a supply of provisions. Almighty Voice is supposed to be accompanied by an Indian known as Rom Lamack, also a fugitive from justice, having murdered another Indian two years ago on the reserve near Qu'Appelle, where he was interpreter.

Corporal Hockin, who was wounded in the charge, lived only three hours. He is a son of Admiral Hockin, and has been a captain in the Imperial service.

Constable Kerr was a member of F. Troop, N.W.M.P., and a much respected man in barracks.

Mr. Grundy was a highly respected citizen of Duck Lake, and leaves a wife and family of small children.

The bodies of Grundy and Kerr still lie where they fell, as there conditions were unable to recover them.

A party of twenty five men and horses left Regina this morning, and will reach the scene before dark.

A brother of the halfbreed scout Venne, the first victim, reached Duck Lake this morning at six o'clock, and reported that they had succeeded in keeping the Indians in the hole during the night.

Supt. Gagnon, on his way here with field pieces, may arrive at any moment.

A party of volunteers is forming here and will return with Capt. Gagnon.

Capt. Allan's arm will have to be amputated.

Sergt. Raven and Mr. Venne are doing fairly well.

It is reported that Indians on the reserves at Duck Lake are greatly excited and are discussing the advisability of going to the assistance of the fugitives.

Later.—Supt. Gagnon is expected to arrive here in a short time to return to the scene of the shooting with a Maxim gun from this post.

Great sorrow is felt here over the death of Corporal Hockin and Constable Kerr and Mr. E. Grundy all being well known and highly respected in Prince Albert.

It is thought Supt. Gagnon is bringing in some of the wounded.

A volunteer contingent to relieve those now on the field is being organized in Prince Albert to-day, and will leave this evening after Supt. Gagnon's arrival.

Reinforcements were telegraphed for to Regina, and this morning twenty-five men and a Maxim gun, under command of Asst. Commr. McIlree and Inspector McDonell were despatched to the spot.

The unfortunate feature is that the young men are deserting the reserves and joining Almighty Voice.

When the news arrived at Regina, a farewell ball was being given the Northwest Mounted Police Jubilee contingent and the festivities were instantly stopped.

WILL HE GO TO PARIS?

And Will the People of the French Capital Stone the Kaiser If He Does Go?

London, May 30.—The topic of moment in Paris is how to treat the Emperor of Germany if he comes to the French capital. The Gaulois has been sounding politicians and authors, and the responses are almost unanimous against the Emperor coming to Paris. Mme. Adam thinks Paris and the French people would be the laughing-stock of Europe if Emperor William were to come. Mr. Morris Barres thinks Paris might stone the Emperor to death, which would be a misfortune. "It would be a misfortune," he adds, "if they did not." The other replies oscillate between these opinions. An eminent person, who assumes to know the Emperor's mind, says: "Emperor William quite appreciates the rebuff he has lately received. He expected it, but he has not changed his intentions on that account. It is a fixed resolve with him to come to Paris, and as a friend, and he will find the means of coming."

Dropped Dead in the Doctor's Office.

West Selkirk, May 29.—John Logan, a farmer from Clunboye, while consulting Dr. Grains this morning about his physical condition, dropped dead in the doctor's office. He had been complaining for some days of being unwell.

DIAMOND JUBILEE HYMN.

London, May 30.—The Diamond Jubilee hymn, written by Bishop Wakefield and approved by the Queen, will be included hereafter in the English Prayer Book. It has been set to music by Sir Arthur Sullivan. The hymn has four stanzas, and it is entitled "Oh, King of Kings." It concludes as follows:

Oh, Royal heart with wide embrace,
For all her children yearning!
Oh, happy realm, such mother grace
With love love returning!
Where England's flag flies wide unfurled,
All tyrant wrongs repelling,
And made the world a better world,
For man's brief earthly dwelling.

Meeting of the Executive of the D. R. A.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE MATCHES

The Building at Bisley Will be Ready for the Canadians When They Arrive—Scores Made in the Military Rifle League Matches on Saturday.

Ottawa, May 30.—(Special.)—There was a meeting of the Executive of the Dominion Rifle Association on Saturday evening, at which final arrangements were made for the annual matches of 1897. The officers present were: Lieut.-Col. Tilton, Major Hughes, Major Hemlock, Major Ibbotson, Lieut.-Col. MacDonald, Lieut.-Col. Anderson, Lieut.-Col. Hood, Capt. Sutherland and Lieut.-Col. Hodgins, secretary. Among other changes in the program decided upon were to increase the number of prizes in the Dominion of Canada match to 125 and in the Minister of Militia match to 105.

Final arrangements were also made in regard to the Bisley team. Reports received from Major Perley announced that good progress was being made with the Canadian building, which is expected to be ready by the time the team arrives in England. The Executive Committee regretted being unable to accept the excellent match proposed by Major-General Gascoigne, the principle of which involved a contest in marching eight miles and a target match upon return, the squad returning first to go first to the butts, and the time to be the essence of the contest. The committee decided that the present range does not afford adequate security from accidents to admit of such a competition. This year's matches will be the last fired on the old Dominion ranges.

WOOL.

A market report states that new clip wool began to offer in the Ontario market last week and 21c to 22c has been paid by local dealers for lots of washed that have been brought in Toronto, and as high as 21c has also been paid at country points. Dealers say these prices are largely speculative and that it is impossible to sell any quantity of wool in the United States at a price that will even bring back the money paid for it. All is uncertainty about the passage of the American tariff bill in Congress. It may be passed any day, and when it takes effect it will make a big difference in the price that can be paid for Canada wool. Even if it is not passed till the bulk of the crop is on the market it might be impossible to sell any very large quantity at good prices owing to the fact that the United States mills have large supplies on hand.

Since the change of government it is said that there is wool enough in the United States to last for months and the adoption of the new United States tariff is going to have the effect of increasing the price in the United States and decreasing it in Canada. The Toronto price of 21 cents applies to clean, selected wool, and is equivalent to about the 17 or 18 cents that is paid in Peterborough, for, the 21 cents price would apply to only a small proportion of a lot shipped from, say, Peterborough, the balance bringing lower prices according to the classification of the Toronto buyer. Wool opens in Peterborough this week with 17 to 18 cents for clean wool and 9 to 10 cents for unwashed and inferior. Canadian wool is not used to any considerable extent by Canadian manufacturers, and is therefore subject entirely to United States prices, and a United States tariff that shuts it out means a lower price for Canadian wool. In this connection it may be interesting to present what at a large American wool dealer says respecting the outlook of outside wool:—

"We are full of wool. I have only bought one lot of American since January 12, when I went to England, where I bought heavily both at sales and of English and Irish wools, at very low prices. I think I never bought English wools at lower prices and the pressure to sell was very great. Within three weeks a Yorkshire wool merchant was here and he said he had $1,000,000 worth of wool sold on time in the United States, and he had then 300,000 to 400,000 pounds of English and Irish wools lying in Boston through the customs house which he wished to close out for cash so as to enable him to go home. I agreed to take the lot at the same prices I paid in Bradford in February. I got the wool. I paid for wool in Boston, 97,000 pounds, Kent, 10 1-8d; 60,000 pounds, selected Irish at 10 1-8; 100,000 pounds Shropshire hogs, 10 3-4d. I had in all, say, 259,000 pounds, averaging 21 1-2c per pound in Boston. I bought all my English wools in February, fully as cheap, and could do so now if I was in England. As to tariff and duty on wool I think there will be a tariff and a duty on wool. When they will pass the bill I give up. How much duty they will put on wool I give up. You may say for yourself if you want to, five, eight, eleven cents per pound, or more, whatever pleases you. There are all sorts of ideas, and I can form no idea of what will come from the Babel of voices at Washington—probably eleven cents per pound on Canadian wool. We have put ourselves on the defensive; we can fight if they do nothing, and we can fight if they pass a tariff, and we can fight till they settle the matter, whether they will pass a tariff or not. As for the rest we do not know and can wait till we do know. I cannot advise what to do except to use your old reliable friend—your own judgment."

THE HUCKSTER POLICY.

The Montreal Witness very patly calls Sir Charles Tupper's amendment to Mr. Fielding's tariff resolutions the "huckster policy." Mr. Fielding gave tariff favours to the Mother Country with a free hand, without bargaining or chaffering for an equivalent, in return for the continuous favours this country has enjoyed at the hands of the Mother Country. Sir Charles wishes to haggle like an apple woman for a quid pro quo—and an impossible one for Great Britain, which steadfastly refusing to tax the bread of its people, will not likely change its policy at the request of a colony that has always had free access to the British markets, that has enjoyed free the benefit of Imperial protection on sea and land, and that has in the past, under unwise rulers, not hesitated to raise up discriminating tariff barriers between mother and daughter. Referring to Sir Charles' amendment the Montreal Witness says:—

"On the essential matter of the motion there was no echo of Sir Charles' sentiments on either side of the House. Canada has for twenty years done her best to exclude Great Britain from her markets, though all that time enjoying for nothing the protection of Great Britain's army and navy and leaning with the utmost assurance on the backing of imperial power in her repeated differences with powerful neighbours. Great Britain has defended her rights and borne with her unfilial trade policy. For more than twice twenty years Canada has enjoyed the free use of the British markets, which has been continued to her in spite of her returning the very opposite treatment. Sir Charles Tupper thinks that Great Britain should not only do this for us, but should tax her people on our behalf. Now that the Canadian Government has partially reduced its tariff towards Britain and towards all countries which will do as Britain does, he is in a spasm of distress, crying out that we should not have so reduced our tariff towards Britain without exacting that Great Britain should give us an equivalent for our kindness to her by taxing her own people for our benefit. Now, he mourns; the opportunity is lost forever."

Sir Charles is touchy, but he is not in touch with the relations of Canada with the Motherland.

It is respectfully suggested by the Montreal Star that Mr. Bennett, M. P., who charges a "Patron" member with inconsistency on the ground that he may take the usual box of stationery furnished to all members, turn his attention to those Conservative Protectionist members who move free trade resolutions. "Patron" Rogers would be wise to ignore flea bite criticism of this kind.

BUTTER.

Hints on Preparing it for Market—Don't Hold it Too Long for a Rise in Price.

We have received the seventh annual butter circular issued by the well-known firm of D. Gunn Brothers & Co., Toronto. After some preliminary remarks, in which they discourage, in all cases, the practice of holding butter for a rise in the market, and of mixing different grades in the same package, the circular, which is addressed to merchants rather than to farmers, gives the following instructions, which, if scrupulously followed, will secure for Canadian butter a higher price than has hitherto been paid for it in the English market:

First—Prepare a special room in the cellar in which only butter is stored; the room if possible should be chilled with ice. The room should be thoroughly whitewashed once or twice during the season; it is best to add to the whitewash a small quantity of common salt. The salt will assist in making the whitewash adhere to the walls or partitions better than if the lime is used alone in the water.

Second—When received, care should be taken to class the butter according to grades in colour and quality. This will save time in the packing process. The butter should be packed every day, in order to get a uniform colour in each tub. The butter may be worked on any of the ordinary table mixers; but in no case should the hands be used for this process. None but experienced persons having good judgment should be allowed to do the mixing. Care should be taken that the butter is not overworked, as in this way the grain is often destroyed.

Third.—The person who is working the butter should have, by his hand, ordinary pickle, which may be made by using three pounds of salt, two ounces of saltpetre, and one gallon of water. A small portion of this should be sprinkled over the butter from time to time as it is mixed. This will serve the purpose of washing the butter and freeing it from any buttermilk that may remain in the product.

Fourth.—The fifty-six pound dovetailed square box, the inside of which should be paraffined and lined with the best quality of parchment paper, is the proper package for butter intended for the British market. We do not, however, favour this package for the local trade, and as the majority of this class of butter is used locally, the ordinary fifty or sixty pound tub is usually preferable. Any of the ordinary woods, such as white ash or white wood, will serve the purpose.

Fifth.—Tubs should be soaked at least twelve hours before packing, and then rinsed out with a strong salt pickle, after which a small quantity of fine salt may be rubbed over the sides of the tub. If the tubs are paraffined they are preferable, and do not require to be soaked.

Sixth.—Butter should be well packed into the tub by means of a hardwood masher. In filling leave about half an inch space at the top of each tub, so that a paste of fine salt may be applied, after covering the butter with a bleached cotton cloth.

Seventh.—Market without delay as butter will not keep fresh in ordinary cellars for any length of time during the summer months.

Toronto Testimony Comes Home to Toronto People.

Here is what Mrs. Robt. Mitchell 78 Huron St. says, "Three years ago I had rheumatism, since then I have had serious heart troubles, my physician said caused by the former attack of rheumatism.

My heart was so badly affected that I could not go upstairs or walk a short distance without experiencing violent palpitation, sometimes so badly that I could hardly breathe.

Sleep was almost impossible to obtain on account of the smothering nervous feeling which affected me. Frequently I was so bad that I could not lie down, or even sit down on account of my heart and the shortness of breath.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have changed these distressing and alarming symptoms. They have strengthened the muscles of my heart so that it now performs its duties in a natural way. I can now walk about without inconvenience, and sleep naturally and well.

Exertion does not affect me or cause my heart to beat unnaturally as before, and I am a great deal stronger and better than I have been for a long time. They have done me a world of good, and I heartily recommend them." 137

MILLIONS OF PEOPLE

Will Celebrate the Diamond Jubilee in London.

DANGER OF MANY BEING CRUSHED

Festivities Already Begun—Good Will of President McKinley Hon. Wilfrid Laurier Will be the Hero Among the Colonial Premiers All Nations Intermingle.

London, May 30.—The published announcements, showing that the United States will be represented at the Queen's Jubilee with exceptional distinction, worthy of the unparalleled historical event and the exalted character of the sovereign, causes many manifestations of pleasure. The announcement that one of the finest ships of the American navy would take part in the review at Spithead and that Admiral Miller and General Miles would be present, at the Jubilee ceremonies had already been received with favorable comment by the English press. The appointment of Mr. Whitelaw Reid as special envoy has led to fresh expressions of this satisfaction, as is shown by the cordial references to it in many of the London and provincial journals. While the Jubilee has been designed to be primarily an Imperial event with the colonies in the highest places of honor, every court in Europe will be represented with great distinction, and the action of President McKinley's administration in honoring in an exceptional way the Gracious Sovereign, who has always been a sincere friend of America, will be heartily appreciated in England and tend to promote good feeling.

More serious than the chance of being cheated by extortionate speculators is the risk of being crushed by the terrific pressure of the swarming millions who will block the approaches to the route of the procession. The authorities are considering the advisability of suspending carriage traffic by night, as well as by day. This will render it necessary for spectators anxious to see the illuminations to cast themselves adrift in the swollen torrents of humanity, swirl down Whitehall, the Strand and Fleet street, to St. Paul's and the Bank.

The town is already pulsating with Jubilee festivity. At Chelsea Barracks there is a motley encampment of Zaptiehs from Cyprus, Houssas from the Gold Coast, Dyaks from Borneo and troopers from the Cape. At Agricultural Hall, at the other end of the town, the Royal Military Tournament has opened with recruits from the length and breadth of the Empire, and with bush fights and war dances, and a really splendid series of pageants. The streets are astir with unwonted movement, and soon will be aflame with color. Strange uniforms and dark-skinned warriors may be seen at every turn in the thoroughfares and parks. Beggars and tramps have also swarmed into London by legions. Every lodging house is full. The Salvation Army shelters have been crowded for weeks, and the workhouses in the provinces have been warned against assisting casuals in their pilgrimage to London to see the show.

The Jubilee functions have virtually opened with the trooping of the color of the Horse Guards, which was witnessed by the Indian Princes in their brilliant uniforms, and by a vast assembly, indifferent to the rain. The Ministerial dinners and the Foreign Office reception which followed this birthday ceremony were attended by ambassadors, officials and the London world of wealth and fashion. The state concert last night threw open Buckingham Palace to all the civic dignitaries from the colonies and royal guests from the Continent who have arrived. The Jubilee music was excellent, Mme. Eames, M. Plancon, Signor Ancona and Mr. Edward Lloyd being the chief singers. Every night there are a score or more of great parties, balls and dances. Royalty is constantly on exhibition, whether at hospital dinners, temple flower shows or first night ballets, like Sir Arthur Sullivan's. The opera is well attended nightly.

The town is filled with foreign musicians, whose services are in demand not only for public concerts, but for private entertainments. The Kneisel Quartet gives today its second concert in St. James' Hall and is playing constantly to great houses, winning compliments everywhere by the vigor, delicacy and refinement with which its programme of classical music are performed. M. Dalcroze, the Swiss composer, is introducing his own work in London halls and houses. While the West End is revelling in gaiety, the Lord Chamberlain and all the other masters of ceremonies are arranging a thousand details connected with the Jubilee week, and police officials are wondering how the millions of sightseers can be controlled and protected against panic and crush.

LAURIER WILL BE A HERO.

Why the Canadian Contingent Will be Well Received in London.

New York, May 30.—The London correspondent of The Tribune says: "Mr. Laurier's tariff proposals have been hailed in England as the best testimony of the fervent loyalty and patriotism which the Jubilee year has called out from the world wide Empire. Whatever changes may be required by the Imperial treaties with the most favored nation clause nothing will be done to discourage the aspiration of the Dominion of Canada to lead the way toward Imperial Federation. Mr. Laurier will be a hero among the colonial Premiers next month, and the Canadian contingent will be received with popular enthusiasm."

Mr. Harold Frederic cables to The Times: "It is impossible to keep the Jubilee out of one's talk now. It slips in unawares at every pause. The central parts of London are beginning to recall the Midway Plaisance, so bewildering in scope and variety are the costumes of the outlandish strangers who are arriving and going about to see the sights.

"England has so slight a talent for pageantry, compared with the more feudalized lands, that it is unlikely that the gathering of representatives of her subject races will equal in spectacular value that wonderful procession of Asiatics which Moscow beheld a year ago. Yet the show will at least be immeasurably beyond anything ever seen before in an English-speaking country.

"There are to be two visiting princes who will go a good deal against the English grain. Nothing but the compulsion of hospitality will secure a civil treatment here for the Grand Duke Serge, who is loathed not only for the martrydom he imposes on one of the Queen's granddaughters, who is his wife, but for his own vile character, which, if he were merely a poet instead of a prince, would force him to be undergoing reformation in a prison cell. The prospect of seeing Abdul Hamid's son riding through the London streets as an honored guests also fails to please the popular fancy, and various plans for protesting publicly against it are under advisement."

THE QUESTION OF COLOR.

Royal Irish Constabulary Refuse to Dine With Gold Coast Officers.

London, May 30.—The preparations for celebrating Queen Victoria's Diamond Jubilee have brought into prominence the fact that there are persons who have objections to recognizing to the full and logical extent the principle that colored men are brothers. Officers and men of the various military and police forces from all parts of the Empire are arriving in London in a steady stream, and for the most part are being lodged in ordinary barracks. The privates get along famously with Tommy Atkins, who does not worry much about color, provided the colored man is properly deferential and willing to spend his pay in ministering to his white comrades' creature comforts. The difficulty is with the officers, who will not have a colored officer at the same tables. In London, so far, the matter has not gained sufficient publicity to cause a scandal, but a somewhat similar difficulty in Dublin has set the newspapers by the ears. The officers of the Royal Irish Constabulary refused to mess with the black officers of the Gold Coast Constabulary, sent over with a squad of men. The result is that the negro officers have to walk something like two miles to their meals. One of them, Capt. Willoughby, who is described as a fine athletic young fellow, with a pleasing, candid countenance, resents this treatment, and talks of getting it brought to the notice of the Queen. Should he succeed there would be pretty serious trouble for the Irish officers, for the Queen has fine, old-fashioned notions about the absolute equality of her subjects of all colors and creeds; and, as is well known, one of her most trusted servants, who is always in her company on public occasions, is a highly colored and learned Hindoo.

Health and happiness are relative conditions; at any rate, there can be little happiness without health. To give the body its full measure of strength and energy, the blood should be kept pure and vigorous, by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

THE MARKETS.

MR. GIBSON IS QUITTING.

The Veteran M. L. A. for East Huron Has Decided to Go Out of Politics.

Brussels, Ont., May 28.—The Liberal Association of East Huron met in the town hall this afternoon at 1 o'clock for the purpose of nominating a candidate for the next provincial election. Nearly 200 delegates were present. After the routine business, nominations were called, when sixteen names were handed in. All withdrew excepting Mr. A. Hislop of Grey Township, and Mr. W. H. Kerr of The Brussels Post. The ballot resulted in a victory for Mr. Hislop by 124 to 64.

Mr. Kerr moved that the nomination be made unanimous.

The name of Mr. Thomas Gibson, M. L. A., was placed in nomination, but he having decided to retire at the end of the present Parliament, withdrew and gave a valedictory speech.

Mr. M. McLean, M. L. A., also delivered a short address, speaking in complimentary terms of the Hardy Government.

WHY SUFFER WITH PILES?

Dr. Chase's Ointment Will Cure Them at a Cost of But 60 Cents.

Piles, scrofula, eczematic eruptions, scald head, salt rheum and all other annoying and painful skin diseases can be easily cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment.

"I had protruding piles for ten years," writes H. H. Sutherland, commercial traveller, of Truro, N.S., "tried many remedies, and had doctors operate. It was no use. Was completely laid up at times. Chase's Ointment was recommended to me by Mr. Brennan, of the Summerside, P.E.I., Journal. I tried it, and one box completely cured me."

Mr. Statia, the editor of the Streetsville, Ont., Review, gives this unsolicited testimonial under date of Nov. 6, 1895: "Hall a box of Dr. Chase's Ointment cured my daughter of eczema. That was six months ago, and there has since been no reappearance of the disease."

T. Wallace, blacksmith, of Iroquois, Ont., was troubled with blind itching piles for 20 years. "I tried every remedy that came out in vain," he writes, "until I tried Dr. Chase's Ointment. It was a godsend. One box cured me."

All dealers and Edmanson, Bates & Co., manufacturers, Toronto. Price 60c.

Boschee and turpentine are every mother's household remedy for coughs, colds, throat and lung affections. Dr. Chase has disguised the taste and made the remedy pleasant to take. Large bottle only 25c.

A Summer Specific.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry cures cholera, cholera morbus, diarrhœa, dysentery, cramps, colic, summer complaint, canker of the mouth and all bowel complaints of children or adults. It is a soothing, effectual and never failing medicine, which gives immediate relief and speedily effects a cure.

Mrs. T. S. Hawkins, Chattanooga, Tenn says: "Shiloh's Vitalizer 'Saved my Life. I consider it the best remedy for a debilitated system I ever used." For dyspepsia, liver or kidney trouble it excels. Price 75c. Sold by John Nugent 389 George Street.

THE EYES OF THE WORLD

Are Fixed Upon South American Nervine.

Beyond Doubt the Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

WHEN EVERY OTHER HELPER HAS FAILED IT CURES

A Discovery, Based on Scientific Principles, that Renders Failure Impossible.

In the matter of good health temporizing measures, while possibly successful for the moment, can never be lasting. Those in poor health soon know whether the remedy they are using is simply a passing incident in their experience, bracing them up for the day, or something that is getting at the seat of the disease and is surely and permanently restoring.

The eyes of the world are literally fixed on South American Nervine. They are not viewing it as a nine-days' wonder, but critical and experienced men have been studying this medicine for years, with the one result—they have found that its claim of perfect curative qualities cannot be gainsaid.

The great discoverer of this medicine was possessed of the knowledge that the seat of all disease is the nerve centres, situated at the base of the brain. In this belief he had the best scientists and medical men of the world accepting exactly the same premises. Indeed, the ordinary layman recognised this principle long ago. Everyone knows that let disease or injury affect this part of the human system and death is almost certain. Injure the spinal cord, which is the medium of these nerve centres, and paralysis is sure to follow.

Nerve is the first principle. The true cure is the one which has shown the outward evidence only of derangement is healed. Indigestion, nervousness, impoverished blood, liver complaint, all owe their origin to a derangement of the nerve centres. Thousands bear testimony that they have been cured of these troubles, even when they have become so desperate as to baffle the skill of the most eminent physicians, because South American Nervine has gone to headquarters and cured there.

The eyes of the world have not been disappointed in the inquiry into the success of South American Nervine. People marvel, it is true, at its wonderful medical qualities, but they know beyond all question that it does everything that is claimed for it. It stands alone as the one great certain curing remedy of the nineteenth century. Why should anyone suffer distress and sickness while this remedy is practically at their hands?

Trent Valley Canal.

The public works at Rosedale are progressing steadily under the superintendence of Mr. T. Archer, says the Fenelon Falls Gazette. There is a channel forty-five feet wide from the locks to the lake, deep enough for steamers to go up, but there is still about five hundred feet of hard pan to be dredged out below the bridge, and it is probable that the work will not be entirely finished before the end of summer. Seven buoys are to be placed in the channel above the railway bridge at the Falls, and three more on the sunken piers opposite the site of Green & Ellis' mill at the mouth of Fenelon river.

DEATH OF GEORGE MUNRO.

The Funeral Took Place This Afternoon To the Little Lake Cemetery.

The demise of Mr. George Munro, aged 73 years, occurred early Sunday morning at the family residence, No. 22 Division street.

The deceased was born in Sutherlandshire, Scotland, in 1843, and came to Canada with his parents in 1851. The family first settled in York, near Toronto, and afterwards moved to the township of Eldon in Victoria County. They afterwards lived in Cavan for some years and from there moved to Allandale, Otonabee, where they resided for five years, coming to Peterborough in 1861, where Mr. Munro obtained employment at the Blythe Mills. In 1867 the milling firm of Munro & Dawson was formed and business was carried on by them for ten years in the flour mill recently burned on the Dickson raceway. On account of ill-health Mr. Munro retired from the business in 1877, and after living in town for a year or so, moved to Goderich. He afterwards resided in Prince Edward County and Brighton, living in the latter village for five years. In 1886 the family returned to Peterborough, where they have remained since.

The deceased leaves a widow and eight children to mourn his loss. The latter are: Mrs. John Carlisle of Ashburnham; Miss Jessie K. Munro, of Tokio, Japan; Mrs. T. Porter and George K. Munro, of Grand Forks, North Dakota; Robert, of Minden; James, Nihil and Charles of town.

Paralysis was the cause of death. The deceased has not been down town since last September, and has been confined to his bed for the last three months.

The funeral this place this afternoon, the ceremony being conducted by Rev. W. C. Beer.

ANOTHER OLD RESIDENT GONE.

John Hamilton Marshall Dies After a Residence of Sixty Years in Peterborough.

John Hamilton Marshall, one of the oldest residents of the district, died yesterday at his residence in Ashburnham.

Mr. Marshall was 62 years of age, and with his parents came to Peterborough over sixty years ago from Cobourg, where he was born. At that time there were only a few log houses on the site of the town. The deceased was unmarried, but his aged mother still survives him, as do two sisters and two half brothers, viz. Mrs. Forsyth, of Pontypool; Mrs. Wm. Gainer, of Smith; Mr. Robt. Sheridan, of Ashburnham, and Mr. John Sheridan, of the United States.

He was well known throughout the whole district, being for many years a foreman on the Scott Limits and also with Mr. Benedict. Heart failure was the cause of death.

Funeral takes place to-morrow from the family residence, Brown street, Ashburnham, to Little Lake cemetery.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. M. Hurst of Lindsay is visiting friends in town.

Miss Gertie Danne was in Bailliieboro over Sunday.

Mrs. J. W. Bryans of Havelock was visiting friends in town last week.

Miss Neil has returned to town after spending a short time in Havelock with her sister, Mrs. J. Graham.

Mrs. P. Begley received word to-day of the death of her sister, Mrs. B. Shannon, in Acworth, New Hampshire. Her remains will be interred in Belleville.

The Toronto Globe says: Mrs. George A. Cox has returned home from a sojourn in New York, and her friends are glad to know that she is feeling better than she did previous to her visit.

Mr. Geo. M. Furby, manager of the Midland Loan and Savings Co., and Henry Burnham, both prominent citizens of Port Hope, passed through Saturday on their return from a trout fishing expedition up north. They had about 100 pounds of fish, and reported having had a first-class time.

Master Alf Cox has purchased one of the world's celebrated Washburn Mandolin's from G. W. Mulligan & Co. The Washburn is the only mandolin that is guaranteed to be perfect in scale and tone. Master Cox is studying with Prof. Newton.

PETERBOROUGH MARKSMEN.

They Stand at the Head of the Dominion To-day.

Local riflemen are jubilant to-day over the fact that in the published score of the Military Rifle League match Peterborough stands at the head with 891 points.

There were one hundred and twenty-three teams participating in the match on their respective ranges. Both the old Martinis and the modern Lee-Metfords were used. The Peterborough team are using the new rifle and the victory is therefore even greater. Two local teams were entered and that taking first place was Team No. 1 composed as follows:

	200 Yds.	500 Yds.	600 Yds.	Tl
J B Pentland	31	29	29	89
D Cameron	28	29	31	88
F Bartlett	30	35	29	94
C Curtis	31	33	30	94
J Campbell	27	32	30	99
G Fitzgerald	29	31	31	91
W H Hill	28	30	29	87
T J Ritchie	27	27	31	85
E B Clegg	28	29	26	83
R M Dennistoun	31	29	31	91
				891

It will be noticed that at the 500 yards range Mr. Bartlett made the highest possible score, viz., 35. The other Peterborough team made 745 points, and Captain Miller, one of the team also scored a "possible."

The 77th Battalion team of Dundas, stood second with 887 marks, and the 5th C. A. team of New Westminster, was third with 882 points.

The members of the local team ascribe the advantage which gave them their victory to the fact that each of them used the new orthoptic invented by Staff-Sergt. Fred Bartlett of the 57th. The little instrument is quite a convenient adaptation in its way, and is designed for the purpose of focusing the eyesight and clearing away any existing blurs. An elastic band around the head binds a plate to the forehead, from which, suspended on a wire, is the orthoptic, which fits to the eye and clears the vision to an extent hardly credible to one who has not tested it. Local marksmen who have tried it are enthusiastic in their praise of the simplicity and effectiveness of Mr. Bartlett's orthoptic.

PRESENTATION TO REV. FATHER CONNELLY, OF HASTINGS.

His Silver Jubilee the Occasion of a Gathering of the Clergy of the Diocese.

Rev. Father Connelly, of Hastings, has just completed the twenty-fifth year in the priesthood and his confreres of the diocese not wishing such an event to pass without due observance as an occasion for congratulation, presented him on Friday evening last with a handsome silver chalice, accompanied by an illuminated address, which was read as follows by Rev. Father Conway, of Norwood:

To Rev. Father Connelly, Pastor of Hastings:

On this remarkable day in the life of your priesthood, the confreres you have known these many years gather around you to offer their congratulations and to share in the joys that this auspicious festivity brings.

Our hearts united with yours during the holy sacrifice of the mass in acts of praise and thanksgiving to God, to whose altar you came for the first time, a priest twenty-five years ago, with the words of the Psalmist on your lips: "Introibo ad altarem Dei: Ad Deum qui laetificat juventutem meam."

The fervour with which you then uttered these words of confidence to-day returns in all its sweetness, so that you realize what every true labourer in the Lord's vineyard must feel, that "to serve God is to reign."

The generous sacrifices in early youth of home and friends, the arduous labours, the solitary hours, the struggle against nature, in the life of a man who belongs entirely to God, all these are in some small measure repaid by the happiness and consolation which this feast brings. Surrounded by many of your confreres of this and other dioceses, your old and tried friends, who have assembled to join with your beloved flock in wishing you a thrice happy jubilee year, your heart must be aglow with gratitude to to the loving Providence that blessed the years of your priestly career, so that to-day, more than ever, you feel the full force of our Lord's words of invitation to serve Him, "Come to Me, for My yoke is sweet and My burden light."

From your beautiful presbytery here in Hastings, which your taste and energy and the spontaneous help of your people have built, you may look back with grateful feelings at the many works that have prospered under your wise direction. In the parish of Victoria you will always be remembered in the pretty church you there erected, whilst your name will ever be associated by the parishioners of Emily with the magnificent presbytery that adorns that parish. But above all these, above all earthly considerations, are the many Christian virtues you have sown in the souls of those entrusted to your care, not only by preaching and teaching the Word of God, but also by your own exemplary, edifying life.

We who have known you in the intimate relations of friends and fellow-workers during these many years can fully testify to your worth as a man of strict honourable principles, a firm and constant friend, a true brother in the doing of acts of kindness and charity, in the dispensing of services regardless of the inconvenience attached to them, and in the ever-ready and obliging manner of their performance. The solid virtues so faithfully practised for your own personal sanctification, your zeal for the souls of your fellow men, your noble ambition in giving a generous hand, in extending the Kingdom of God, during the past years of your life, are safe pledges for an auspicious future.

We desire to emphasize our congratulations and expressions of esteem on this joyous occasion by asking you to accept these gifts, the offering of your brother priests, who pray that our Divine Master may prolong your usefulness, that His bountiful hand may make your future years as fruitful as those of the past, and that you may see—

"A green old age, unconscious of decays,
That proves the hero born for better days."

Signed on behalf of the clergy of the Deocese of Peterborough.

P. D. LAURENT, V. G., M. LARKIN,
J. BROWNE, V. G., W. J. MCCLOSKEY,
E. H. MURRAY, D. O'CONNELL,
P. CONWAY,

A large number of personal marks of esteem were also received by Father Connelly. The Cathedral Clergy were represented on the occasion by Ven. Archdeacon Casey of town.

Rev. Father Connolly was consecrated a priest at Smith's Falls by Rt. Rev. Bishop Horan, on May 28th, 1872.

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION.

The Regular Monthly Meeting Held This Morning—Resolutions of Regret.

The Ministerial Association met at the residence of the president, the Rev. W. R. Young, this morning.

Arrangements were made for the weekly visitation of the Hospital and Home for June.

A resolution was placed on the minutes expressive of the Association's regret at the departure of three of its members, Messrs. Young, Rae and Beer, and wishing them God-speed in their new fields of labour.

It was also decided that with reference to the proposed establishment of the Victorian Order of Nurses, as commemorative of the Diamond Jubilee of Her Majesty the Queen, the Ministerial Association will be glad to co-operate with any committee of citizens in carrying out the wishes of Her Excellency, the Countess of Aberdeen.

The Persistent Blues in Lead Once More.

The Blues worked hard on Saturday and lead by 6½ points.

The storm of course did it for us—we prophesized that the squall would strike the camp of the Redmen.

We always do as we say—we lead to-day will also on Friday night.

The temperature is low to-day—at 9 o'clock on Friday evening next the Redmen will need an extra blanket.

The Reds can go back to their "anticipation" bill of fare again.

Like Haman of old, the Redmen suggested the bread and water bill of fare, and now they are in despair as they see that they will have to eat it.

The rose is Red,
The violet's Blue;
The rose is loud,
The violet's true.
The violet's modest,
And liveth low;
The Reds are boastful,
But painfully slow.

A VETERAN REFORMER.

Mr. Donald Shaw, of Guelph, one of the Pioneers of the County of Simcoe.

The Illustrated Saturday Globe contains a lengthy biographical sketch and picture (from a portrait by his son, Mr. D. A. Shaw, artist, town,) of Mr. Donald Shaw, Guelph. The subject of the sketch lives, hale and hearty, at the age of 86, at his residence, "Spring Grove Farm," Guelph. The following extract from the sketch of his life will be of interest:—

"Mr. Shaw's superior education brought him not a little prominence among the early settlers of Simcoe. For some twenty years he sat in the township and county councils, and for many years held the position of school inspector and superintendent. He was always a staunch supporter of Reform principles, but from the time of the Mackenzie rebellion, in which he took a lively interest, giving both moral and financial support to the Reformers, he took a more active part in politics, and from that time forth he was one one of the leading Reformers in the community, fighting hand in hand with the leaders of the party some hot battles in the interest of Reform, and, indeed, was prominent in all matters which pertained to the county's and country's welfare."

MR. THOS. BLEZARD, M. P. P.

He Visits the Ontario Institute for the Deaf and Dumb at Belleville.

"On Friday, the 21st," says the Canadian Mute, "we had the pleasure of a visit from Mr. T. Blezard, M.P.P. for East Peterborough. Mr. Blezard believes it is the duty of each member of the Legislature to make himself acquainted, as far as possible, with the various public institutions in the Province in order that he may better appreciate the work that is being done and understand more fully what the requirements may be. Mr. Blezard visited the class rooms, shops, dormitories, etc., so far as his time permitted, and afterwards very feliecitously addressed the pupils in the chapel. He expressed himself as astonished and delighted with all he saw and said that heretofore he had had no adequate conception of the magnitude and importance of the work that was being done here. He had himself noticed how cramped we were for room, and said he realized the necessity for increased accommodation, and would exert his vote and influence towards the securing of it. We are always very glad indeed to receive visits from members of the Legislature, and we hope that many others of them will follow Mr. Blezard's example in this respect.

A BARNARDO BOY ABUSED.

A Farmer of Fenelon Township Charged With Having Committed an Aggravated Assault.

Col. Deacon, police magistrate of Victoria county, held court Friday at Fenelon Falls, when Wm. Irwin, a farmer of Fenelon township, was charged with having committed an aggravated assault upon Henry Ball, a Barnado Home boy, who had been in his employ for a year and three months. The evidence went to show that the boy had been told to drive some cattle into a certain field, but failed to obey and when questioned told an untruth. His employer became enraged and threshed the boy severely with a leather strap. Irwin denied that he inflicted the injuries and said the boy had been crushed against the side of a stall by a horse. Col. Deacon remarked that the story sounded fishy, and that the punishment given the boy for his untruthfulness having been excessive, he would fine the prisoner $30 and costs, in default to serve three months in gaol at hard labour. It appears that Irwin drove into the village the evening before the trial and the boy's story being already known, he spent a very unpleasant hour. While a number threatened to throw man, horse and rig into the canal, others repaired to the adjoining grocery store for eggs and when all had armed themselves they gave Irwin his liberty and made him run the gauntlet of the crowd. When he finally gained shelter, portions of five dozens of eggs adhered to him and he was a pitiable looking object.—Post.

A BRUTAL AFFAIR AT FENELLA.

A Woman Almost Killed by Her Husband, Who is Now in Goal.

A blood-curdling story comes from Fenella this week, which tells of a woman being cruelly beaten by a brutal husband until she was left for dead in a barnyard. Gilbert Smith, a man about 45 years of age, lives in the neighbourhood of Fenella with his wife and three children, aged 16, 14 and 12 years respectively, a boy being the youngest. The story is told as follows in the Port Hope Guide and Times:

Smith and his wife are in the habit of quarelling, and on the morning of Monday, 17th inst., a family jar was on the boards. Smith became enraged, and proceeded to teach his spouse her proper place by grabbing her by the hair and playfully dragging her about the floor of the house, at the same time threatening to kill her, it is said. The children chimed in on behalf of their mother and endeavoured to separate the two. Mrs. Smith at last forced herself from his grasp, and in fear of her husband, rushed out of the house to go to a neighbour's for protection.

Smith ran after her, and over-taking her in the barnyard, struck her a violent blow on the right side of her head with a piece of an iron buggy spring. Mrs. Smith fell in a heap to the ground, her skull almost stove in by the violence of the blow. The man was not satisfied with his bloody work, but deliberately pounded her over the hips with the iron piece, then left her for dead and calmly proceeded to fix a waggon near by. Meantime one of the children had alarmed a neighbour, who, on arriving, at first thought the women was dead. He taxed Smith with the deed, and strange to say he denied having done it. Several more neighbours arrived soon after, and the woman was carried to the house and Dr. McLellan of Roseneath was summoned. She will probably recover.

Constable Bradley, of Grafton, happened to be in the neighbourhood that day and instantly procured a warrant and arrested Smith. He is now in gaol at Cobourg awaiting trial.

CHURCH CHIMES.

The anniversary social of St. Andrew's church will be held on Monday evening, June 14th, instead of Tuesday, as announced.

"Mr. Harold Nelles sang "The Coming of the King," as a solo, in the George George street Methodist church last evening. Mr. Nelles was formerly the baritone soloist in the Church of the Redeemer, Toronto, and has some especially fine notes. The expression and sympathy in his voice was most favourably commented upon by the large number who were present to hear him from the other choirs of the town.

A GOSPEL SERMON
BY REV. DR. BILL

IN THE MURRAY STREET BAPTIST CHURCH YESTERDAY.

That which was Good Enough for Paul, the Cultured Philosopher and Scientist, Should be Good Enough for Christendom To-Day.

A most interesting gospel sermon was delivered in the Murray street Baptist church last evening by Rev. Mr. Bill of McMaster University, Toronto. The address was not interlarded with anecdotes, or upon what is known as "a present day" subject. It was simply the Gospel preached with a fervency and simplicity which called for the closest attention.

The speaker took as his text, "According to the glorious gospel of the blessed God, which was committed to my trust."—Chapter I, verse 4 of St. Paul's Epistle to Timothy.

St. Paul here sets up a standard by which the doctrine, as well as the conduct, of a man can be tested. It is a standard to go by; the only standard in fact by which to be guided. It is, therefore, the principle of the gospel which Paul says is set up as the standard of doctrine, and the speaker trusted this would be the only standard by which doctrine would be tested.

Everything must be brought up to the standard of Jesus, and if it is not according to that standard there must be something wrong. If all the views of Christendom were brought to conscientiously by men and women on their knees, who were willing to stand or fall by the decision of the text, there would not be so many religious sects in the world to-day.

There must be something wrong somewhere. All cannot be right. They cannot all be brought to the standard of the text. There should not be such a diversity of opinions amongst theologians and Christians. All of these different sects cannot be brought to this simple standard of the Gospel and judged by it.

By looking at the preceding verses of the chapter it will be seen that Paul is again on his favourite theme—the Gospel.

It seemed as though the Gospel was good enough for Paul, though it is not good enough for use in the present day. They say the Gospel is an old story now, and a Gospel preacher may not have a large congregation. The people say they need something different. Something on which intelligent thinkers can feed afterwards. Yet the Gospel was good enough for Paul—Paul the cultured philosopher and scientist, Paul the first man of his age in letters, Paul than whose there are few brighter intellects in the world to-day. He knew this God in the Gospel. It pointed the only way God could save a guilty sinner and adapted itself to the wants of humanity. Is it any wonder that he stood by it and went far and near to spread its truths.

This Gospel is good enough for the best men and women that ever lived.

Notice that Paul speaks of the "glorious" Gospel. Glorious as revealed in nature and as looking into man and seeing how He created the universe.

It is left to the Gospel to make known all the attributes of His character, just and holy.

If we want to know how just He is take a

GLIMPSE OF CAVALRY.

It is His own Son that is perishing and calls out in His agony "My God, why hast Thou forsaken me?" There is the justice of God revealed in that tragedy—Jesus Christ crucified between two thieves.

Not until we read the Gospel and study the story of the cross, can we have any realizing sense that God is a God of love. That He so loves poor sinners and men in their sins; that He so loved the world that He gave His only begotten son to save sinners.

Then again Paul might speak of it as a "glorious" gospel, because it reveals to us a glorious plan of salvation. Where outside of the heavens could such a plan have been devised?

Then he might have called it "glorious" because it reveals a glorious light to every one of God's people.

Every Christian does not realize how much God does for them in this world. Many expect very little joy in this life, thinking that if they get into heaven, it will be a wonderful miracle in the end. So it may be, but there is more in this life for a child of God than many realize. A great many are receiving great things from His hands. Jesus promised perfect peace. Many of His children do not have it. Then there must be some unbelief in our hearts that we do not receive this blessing. He would have His people be a joyous people. There should be a glorious life for the child of God even in this world. It means the

and the victory and attaining of higher heights as all go on gaining strength and learning more of Jesus' power. There is such a thing as Christians so living that agnostics find it hard to explain, and the reason is only to be found in the belief of the doctrine of the Gospel.

Paul seemed to believe that it was a solemn thing to live in this world, and that there was an awful responsibility in having the trust committed to him. He would, however, have disavowed having a monopoly of the trust. There were other disciples amongst whom it was shared, as well as amongst all portions of the churches and to every man and woman. To them God has entrusted some of the responsibility. All have been made the custodians of the soul-saving truths of the Gospel. A responsibility rests with every Christian. All have a mission—to divide up the bread of life with others.

There is also the responsibility resting with fathers and mothers of God-given children. This is the greatest responsibility of all. They should begin with the children at an early age. Before they are conscious of sin let them learn of Jesus and be trained in the Gospel.

The speaker then spoke of the mistakes made in this connection. In training the children for this life the feeding of their physical system might be well looked after but their spiritual nature would be starved through acting on the system that when they get far on in sin it is time to endeavour to lead them to Christ. But evil influences so often get ahead of fathers and mothers that there is no restraining it and who then is to bear the responsibility?

Rev. Mr. Bill closed with a strong appeal to parents to guard with all care their little ones, as once having a thorough knowledge of Jesus through the Gospel they were in a position themselves to do good.

Mrs. S. James, Seaforth, suffered for years with what is called old people's rash. She was treated by many physicians without any result. Mr. Fear, the local druggist, recommended Dr. Chase's Ointment, which relieved the irritation at once and speedily effected a permanent cure of the skin eruption. Mrs. James also says Dr. Chase's Ointment cured her of Itching Piles which she had been troubled with for years.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

THE WHEEL.

The Victorias hold a club run on Wednesday. The time and route will be announced later.

The 15th National Championship Meet of the Canadian Wheelmen's Association, which will be held this year in Chatham, Ont., July 1st, 2nd and 3rd, bids fair to eclipse all the previous gatherings. The cycle club of that city, realizing that this should be a jubilee year in cycling matters, as well as in all others, offer a prize list the most valuable Canada has ever seen and more than double that given at any preceding national meet.

The special features are the $1000 "Jubilee" handicap at two miles for professionals, and the Century road-race over the famous Talbot Road, recognized as the finest stretch of road in Canada to day.

The big handicap was promised by the Maple City people when bidding for the meet last spring, and it has created much interest throughout the country, entries beginning to come in as soon as it was officially announced. The purse will be divided as follows:—1st, $700; 2nd, $125; 3rd, $75; 4th, $50; 5th, $30; 6th, $20; and as the handicapping will be done jointly by C. W. A. and L. A. W. handicappers, everyone will be on equal footing. The entry fee is $10, entries closing Monday, June 21st.

We will first consider what the road-hog is, says Terence O'Brien in the Wheelman. He is a by-product of the age; a man who believes that bicycles and bicyclists have no rights, legal and moral, on the face of the earth, more especially on that particular portion of the earth where the road-hog happens to be. To quote the elegant language of some of them will be sufficient, as they all adopt the same creed. "Get off th' road! Ye's have no business on th' road where horses is." After all, he was merely expounding the gospel as he knew it. Another one remarked, "Youse fellers have no rights to the road; yu don't pay toll." Now what earthly good it would do him were every bicyclist taxed, is hard to say. The roads would be no better, that is, the toll-roads, and in this section of the country unfortunately we have not yet emerged from that semi-civilized state where such abominations exist. His unexplained antipathy to bicycles is, if possible, more noticeable when he has a 'tide' on. Then his refined and chaste language takes on a tinge of colour which redeem it from mediocrity. His remarks run thusly: "You —— —— —— ——." The blanks may be easily filled in by any bicyclist, but freely translated they run something after this style, "You highly-tinted, bright-eyed, golden-haired, nobly descended person, would you discommode yourself and place me under an eternal obligation, by removing your wheel and yourself far enough from the centre of the road to allow me to pass?" He will tell you that wheels frighten the horses, therefore wheels are worse than useless. Reply by saying that horses will get accustomed to them as they do to electric cars, and what does he say? "Ah, ha, you go to —— (language too strong for these pages)." This is his best argument, but it is beginning to show signs of wear, and the edges are badly frayed. Generally his education has not been carefully attended to in his youth, and politeness and courtesy are unknown quantities. Suppose that he runs you into a ditch (of course it is hardly likely that any one will do that) but just suppose it. Perhaps you don't feel much like getting up just then, you prefer to lie there quietly and meditate for a minute. What does the road hog do? Get down and help you to rise, or, if a lady, offer an apology for the accident (?) and give her some assistance to repair the wheel if broken? No, he does none of these things. He simply grins and moves on or if he thinks it will not result in bodily harm to himself, indulges in some such soliloquy as this, "That's another o' them —— things done for." Then his heart beats joyously, and he feels a warm glow run through him, and tingle at his finger ends.

Take the ladies of his family, who generally aid and abet him in his honest, earnest endeavour to advance the good of society. What would be more withering than the virtuous air they assume, as some lady passes on a wheel? What could approach the biting sarcasm of their criticisms of the dress and deportment of the ladies aforesaid? What can equal the frozen, horror-stricken glance, when, proceeding in state to church they meet a wheeling party? Or where, in all the resources of the English language, can you find more heart felt contempt (not unmixed with a dash of envy), than in the courteous remark, distinctly audible at that, "Oh! the bold huzzies!"

After all they are in pretty much the same position as the yap who tries to hurry a procession the wrong way. He makes no headway, but he does make things unpleasant for everyone near him, and incidentally comes in for a considerable quantity of what the late lamented William Nye called "cursory remarks."

For stupidity, ignorance and general all-round "cussedness," I will back the road-hog against any other animal on the face of the earth, the common or Chicago article not excepted. The uselessness of his fool policy cannot be demonstrated to him, and it finally comes down to the proposition, O-O-O, the truth of which is self-evident, or in vulgar, but most unmistakeable English, "You can't expect anything from a hog but a grunt."

The "Red Bird"

Is Canadian by birth—not by adoption. Canadian because it was born that way, not because there happened to be dollars in it. . . .

It is the Canadian wheel that has carried more riders to victory than all its Canadian competitors. It is the one Canadian wheel that has gained distinctions abroad and advertised Canada. It is the one Canadian wheel that is high grade in every particular, and seldom needs repairs.

PROVINCE OF ONTARIO.

FORTY-YEAR ANNUITIES.

The undersigned will receive tenders for the purchase of terminable annuities running for a period of forty years, issued by the Province of Ontario under authority of an act of the Provincial Parliament (47 Vic., cap. 31).

The annuities will be in the form of certificates signed by the Provincial Treasurer, in which certificates the Provincial Treasurer will agree to make half-yearly payments at his office in Toronto, of sums of $100 or larger sums, on the 30th day of June and 31st day of December in each year, for forty years from 30th day of June next, the first half-yearly certificates being payable on the 31st December next.

The total amount of annuities to be issued in 1897, and for which tenders are asked, is $5,000 annually, but tenders will be received for any part of the same not less than $200 annually.

Tenders will be required to state the purchase money which will be paid for either the whole annuities offered or such portion as may be tendered for.

Tenders will be received up to the 15th day of June next. Notification of allotments will be given to tenderers on or before 19th June, and payments from the persons whose tenders are accepted must be made within ten days thereafter at the office of the Provincial Treasurer in Toronto, but if from any cause the purchase money is not paid by the 30th of June, purchasers who have not then paid will be required to pay interest on their purchase money from that date to date of payment at the rate of interest which the investment will yield, according to their respective tenders.

Tenders may, if preferred, be upon condition that the annuities be payable in sterling in London, England. In such case the conversion will be at the par of exchange, $4 86 2-3, equal to the pound sterling.

The annuities will be delivered at the office of the Provincial Treasurer in Toronto.

The highest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

R. HARCOURT,
Provincial Treasurer.

Provincial Treasurer's office, Toronto, April 21st, 1897.

Note—Illustration of calculation on interest basis—At the rate of 3½ per cent. per annum (or in strictness 1 5-8 per cent. half-yearly), a present payment of $2,229.55 would represent an annuity of $100 for 40 years, payable half-yearly.

NOT A SICK DAY

For Over Thirty Years!

RESULT OF USI)

AYER'S P LLS

"Ayer's Cathartic Pills fo. ver thirty years have kept me in g health, never having had a sick day all that time. Before I was twenty I suffered almost continually—as a result of constipation—from dyspepsia, headaches, neuralgia, or boils and other eruptive diseases. When I became convinced that nine-tenths of my troubles were caused by constipation, I began the use of Ayer's Pills, with the most satisfactory results, never having a single attack that did not readily yield to this remedy. My wife, who had been an invalid for years, also began to use Ayer's Pills, and her health was quickly restored. With my children I had noticed that nearly all their ailments were preceded by constipation, and I soon had the pleasure of knowing that with children as with parents, Ayer's Pills, if taken in season, avert all danger of sickness."—H. Funny Mistakes of Language Picked From Various Planes of Life.

A transposition of two or more letters, or the mistakes of hasty punctuation, offer a miscellaneous comic literature that, from its very absurdity, is worth collecting. Take for instance this extract from a bride's letter of thanks: "Your beautiful clock has been received and is now in the drawing-room on our mantelpiece where we hope to see you often."

The literature of advertisements is sometimes as humorous as the sayings of the funniest men. In the far West a man advertises for a woman "to wash, iron and milk two cows." A rather ghostly humor surrounds the announcement of an enterprising undertaker, who says in the daily paper: "No person who has once tried our air-tight caskets will ever use any other."

A dry goods firm put a placard in the window which read: "Bargain sale now going on. Don't go elsewhere to be cheated, come in here."

A compilation of curious advertisements results in the following:

"Wanted—An organist and boy to blow the same."

"Wanted—A boy who can open oysters with a reference."

"A lady desires to sell her piano as she is going abroad in a strong iron frame."

"Widow in comfortable circumstances wishes to marry two sons."

"Bulldog for sale; will eat anything: very fond of children."

A dentist advertises: "Teeth extracted with great pains." There is a delicious humor in the description of "a young man who sold peaches with red hair."

The mistakes of speech are sometimes amusing to all except the embarrassed speaker. For instance, that of the insignificant youth who was introduced to a distinguished lady, and completely transposed the meaning of his elaborate address when he bowed low and said: "I think, madam, you have had the pleasure of meeting me before." Or that of the charming elocutionist who rendered the climax of the heroic poem she was reciting: "Go, your liver loves," said Cromwell, "curfew shall not ring to-night." And the mishap of the smart boy of the village who spoke his piece before a large audience, beginning thuswise:

Under the spreading blacksmith trees
The village chestnut stands.

Then come the slips of reverend tongues, when it is wicked to laugh, and worse not to, for who could preserve a normal gravity on hearing the hymn "Conquering Kings" given out as "kinkering congs," or the "fig tree" transposed into the "wig tree," and not feel a sinful inclination to laugh? And the parson who took for his text "Bow not thy knee to an idol," and read it to his congregation "Bow not thine eye to a needle," must have been chagrined to see the smiles follow, and not know why. So with another of the cloth who intended to read "This world is all a fleeting show," but by a slip of the tongue rendered it thus: "This world is all a floating shoe."

One can imagine the embarrassment of the grand lady who, finding a stranger in her pew, asked him haughtily if he intended to "occupew that pie." An Oklahoma editor expressed his thanks for a basket of oranges in this strain: "We have received a basket of oranges from our friend Fred Bradley, for which he will please accept our compliments, some of which are six inches in diameter."

The workman often eats his lunch on the same bench where he does his work. The office man turns his desk into a dining table. Neither gets the out of doors exercise he needs, neither takes the proper time for eating. It is small wonder that the digestion of both gets out of order. In such cases Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets come to their assistance by aiding nature in taking care of the food.

The cause of nine-tenths of the sickness of the world is constipation. From this cause come indigestion; disorders of the stomach, liver and kidneys; biliousness, headaches, flatulence, heartburn, impurity of the blood and the serious complication that follow. To begin with, constipation is a little thing, and a little thing will cure it. The Pleasant Pellets are tiny, sugar-coated granules. They will perfectly cure the worst case of constipation and indigestion. If the druggist tries to sell you some other pill that pays him greater profit, just think of what will best pay you.

Karl's Clover Root will purify your blood, clear your complexion, regulate your bowels and make your head clear as a bell. 25c. 50c. and $1.00.

SIXTH DAY AT THE WOODBINE.

A Slow Track, But Nevertheless There Was Some Good Racing—The Baseball Record

Toronto, May 29

The sixth day turned out showery for the Ontario Jockey Club, and Woodbine Park had the smallest crowd of the meeting. The rain made the track slower than the day before and nothing unusual was done in the way of fast time.

A half dozen went away to a good start in the opening event, Sheepy Belle in front, with the favorite and Kenosha behind. Arlington could not get through, and bumped Rideau and Giveaway at the lower turn in the attempt. Kenosha came on the outside, with the favorite in hot pursuit, and another jump would have beaten the long shot, who won by a head, a half length separating second and third. Arlington finished full of running. The Duchess and Sheepy Belle were ten lengths behind at the finish. There was scarcely a ticket out on Kenosha, the stable not thinking she had a chance. Arlington was strongly played to win and Rideau, Giveaway and the Duchess for the place.

Harvey was a real good thing in the 2-year-old event, and had speed to sell. He got away last and romped in four lengths ahead of the other youngsters. Mordecai had a bad start, and ran over the rest, taking second, a length ahead of Wink, who was the same distance in front of Hardcastle. The rest were strung out. The Hamilton colt was carefully played for first and second, as was McGuigan's top weight. Miss Patrick was favorite, but not very strongly played.

W. B. caused a delay at the post in the third event, and when they went away he stayed a while with Lord Kent, who was galloping easily. The Lord was never extended, and won handily by a length. Straystep was very tired after going three-quarters. Cartwright made a book with the favorite out, and accommodated the Higgins followers to a lot at 3 to 5, which was easy money.

The story of the steeplechase is a doubly sad one. Mr. George Carruthers was on the favorite, and had the race well in hand when All Blue hit the hurdle in the stretch and rolled over his rider. Prince Charlie passing him. Mr. Carruthers had a rib broken and his right collar bone fractured. After being pulled from under the hunter he remounted and finished ahead of Cockatoo. Chester was in second place and looked dangerous until he balted at the pig pen and was out of it. Prince Charlie took all the jumps well and went along at his own safe gait. All Blue nearly went down at the club house bank. Cockatoo threw Mr. Beardmore at the twelfth jump, but he remounted and finished. All Blue wrenched his back in the fall. All sorts of big bets were made on the favorite. Several of the books kept 4 to 5 up to the close, and the money poured in in 25's, 50's and 100's, and it looked like a sure thing until All Blue took too long a jump and the misfortune came, just as the race seemed won. Prince Charlie carried considerable place money.

Lady Doleful got away well in the selling race and won without effort, having five lengths to spare at the finish. Master Fred copped second money in the same fashion the two leading the entire distance. Sir Dixon, jr., was inside the money, five lengths ahead of the well-played Earth. All except Pay or Play were well backed, Master Fred being almost a split favorite with the winner.

The takers of odds were nearly desperate when the last race on the card was reached, and they even went after the long shots, forgetting Stonemason and Dumbarton. The Seagram favorite was less played than the Hendrie chestnut, while Billy Fisher and Anna Lyle had plenty of supporters. Stonemason was in the rack to the stretch. Then it was a two horse race, the favorite nipping Dumbarton by a neck at the end. Lewis again riding a masterly finish. Fisher was tired, and only a half length ahead of fiver.

First race, ¾ mile, purse $350, for 3-year-olds and upwards, penalties and allowances—Kenosha 1, Arlington 2, Rideau 3. Time 1.17.

Second race, ¾ mile, $400 added, for 2-year-olds, Woodbine Nursery Stakes—Harvey 1, Nordecai 2, Wink 3. Time 1.04.

Third race, 1 1-16 miles, purse $500, for 3-year-olds and up, penalties—Lord Zeni 1, W. B. 2, Straystep 3. Time 1.53¾.

Fourth race, Green Hunters' Steeplechase, 2½ miles, $400 added—Prince Charlie 1, All Blue 2, Cockatoo 3. Time 6.42.

Fifth race, 1 1-16 miles, purse $300, for 3-year-olds and up, selling—Lady Doleful 1, Master Fred 2, Sir Dixon Jr. 3. Time 1.51½.

Sixth race, ¾ mile, purse $300, for 3-year-olds and up, allowances—Stonemason 1, Dumbarton 2, Billy Fisher 3. Time 1.31¾.

THE MARKETS.

LOCAL BREADSTUFFS MARKET

Flour—Trade is very dull and prices are generally weaker. Straight rollers are quoted at $3.50 to $3.60. Straight rollers have changed hands at $3.70 and $3.80 in cars lots on track at Montreal. Newfoundland is buying very little flour, expecting to buy at lower figures later.

Bran—Trade quiet, with bran quoted at $8 to $8.50 west, and shorts $9.50 to $10.

Wheat—Offerings show an increase, and prices are lower owing to a further decline in Liverpool. Red winter can be had at 72c outside and white at 73c. Manitoba wheats also weaker; No. 1 is quoted at 73c to 74c at Fort William and at 78c at Midland. No. 2 hard at 76c at Midland.

Buckwheat—The demand is moderate, but there is none offering, and prices are nominal.

Barley—The market is quiet, with limited demand. No. 1 is quoted at 30c, No. 2 at 25c and No. 3 extra at 23c to 24c. Feed barley sold at 22c west.

Oats—The market is quiet, with prices steady. Sales of white at 20½c west. Mixed quoted at 19c to 19½c, high freights.

Peas—The market is steady, with car lots quoted at 40c middle freight, and at 39c high freight.

Oatmeal—The market is quiet and prices steady at $2.80 to $2.90 for car lots.

Corn—Trade quiet and prices steady. Cars are quoted at 22½c to 23c west.

Rye—Trade quiet and prices unchanged. Car lots quoted at 33c east.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK MARKET.

Although there was not over half the amount of stock that there was one week ago, the market was inclined to be flat. One reason for this is that American dealers are shipping cattle from Chicago via Montreal and taking up space that is badly needed for our own trade. Quite a number of cattle were unsold yesterday, and the main reason given was that some of our dealers could not secure the space they required, and therefore would not buy. However, quite a number changed hands at former quotations.

William McGill of Napanee, who bought two carloads last week, was on the market yesterday and bought another car of heavy feeders to turn on grass at 4½c.

A. W. Talbot sold one car of export cattle that averaged 1300 lbs at 4½c per lb.

There were 56 car loads of stock on the market, made up as follows: 1075 cattle, 1300 hogs, 150 sheep and lambs and 75 calves. The price of hogs unchanged, but firm.

Milk cows sold at $25 to $35, but extra good ones would bring more money.

Mr Foster's Movements.

London, May 28.—The Daily Chronicle says this morning that Mr. J. W. Foster, the American special commissioner on the seal question, will remain in London for a few days only and then go direct to St. Petersburg. With Ambassador Hay and Mr. Henry White, secretary of legation, Mr. Foster paid a number of official visits yesterday, among them being visits to the Foreign Office and to the French and Russian Embassies.

Ill-health is the "Sword of Damocles" that hangs suspended by a slender thread above the heads of thousands of men. In the end-of-the-century rush and crush, men forget and neglect everything but money-getting. They forget that the facility for money-getting is in the long run dependent upon a sound mind in a sound body. The man who is too busy with his business to spare a moment to look after his health, will eventually lose both health and business. A man may be in too big a hurry. The man who would be permanently successful should take time to eat, time to digest his food, time to sleep, and time to look after the most precious endowment—his health.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the best-known medicine for the over-worked man or woman. It keeps the system toned up. It makes the digestion perfect, the appetite keen, and the bowels regular. It makes blood—pure, rich, life-giving blood—and lots of it. It builds flesh and muscle. It invigorates the nerves. Thousands have testified to the benefits derived from its use. Druggists sell it.

"I have used quite a number of bottles of your medicines and have received a great deal of benefit from them," writes Urban Howell, Esq., of Williamsville, Wayne Co., Pa. "In 1880 I took six bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and it cured me of the salt-rheum so that it did not break out again."

"The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser" is a well named book. It is all that its title implies. It has proved a daily help in over a million families. The book contains 1,008 pages—over 300 illustrations. 680,000 copies of this book have been sold at $1.50 each. Now an edition, in heavy paper covers, is to be given away to whoever will send 21 cents in one-cent stamps to pay the cost of customs and mailing only. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y. A copy in cloth binding may be had for 50 stamps.

THE LATIN QUARTER.

LIFE IN THE FAMED EDUCATIONAL CENTER OF PARIS.

In No Place in the World Is Knowledge More Free—The Government Provides the Student With Everything But Brains, Books and Food.

It is all well enough to air our theories that a government should not control the higher educational institutions of a land; and, as far as words go, these theories may be proved. But, practically, it is a grateful thing to find one of the greatest universities in the world absolutely free to all comers, its support furnished by the state. Its privileges seem none the less valuable because they exact no money from the student, and one may well feel like thanking the fate that sent him into the world at this particular moment, when a liberal education is almost as free as air and water.

Looking over the list of courses offered during the next semester at the Sorbonne, all this strikes home more effectively than ever. There is nothing left out. To teach "everything about everything" is the apparent purpose, and the thoroughness of the methods is a foregone conclusion. In fact, judging from my own experience here, the detail work is much more exhaustive than in America, where only in the scientific department of the graduate schools is such minute investigation possible. With us it might be said that the colleges aim at impressing general truths, leaving the student to do his own burrowing among details, while in Europe the idea seems rather that of furnishing accurately all the details and leaving the student to do the generalizing.

Greater liberty than is found in the Sorbonne can exist in no university. No roll of students is kept except in special courses, called "conferences," so absences from lectures are not recorded. The names of the vast majority of students are unknown at the offices until the examinations for degrees approach. There are no other examinations of any kind. Students come and go as they please, select their own courses in every detail and are accountable for progress to none but themselves.

The academic groves and other natural beauties with which we love to surround our colleges are not thought of as important here. The practical is the sole criterion, the one impulse. The Sorbonne is in the very heart of the crowded Latin quarter, and its few buildings are huddled together in a picturesque but entirely careless mass. A brand-new gray stone structure called the "Nouvelle Sorbonne" looks down on a tiny and very ancient court, lined by the hoariest of architectural relics, crumbling and almost useless, one would suppose for university purposes. The whole institution occupies a space of only 150 yards square; for there are no official dormitories, and room for laboratories and lecture halls is all that is needed.

Yet no college in the world can offer greater facilities for study. In a certain sense, the Louvre and the Luxembourg are but departments of the Sorbonne, and the special schools located in the different museums of Paris are gladly accepted. The students study everything at first hand, so to speak, and need depend on no makeshifts. The various faculties contain many famous men, whose university duties are but one of the claims of their time. They are a fine looking set of men, most of them rather advanced in life, and are veritable lords over the students, who treat them with the most formal and ceremonious respect. So much so, indeed, that the excessive formality seems somewhat ludicrous to the American, who, as a rule, is not at so great a distance from his college instructors, or, at any rate, certainly does not bend his spine so much in his intercourse with them. The other day, after Prof. Lichenberger's lecture on Goethe's youth, a bearded fellow, 30 or 40 years old, approached him to ask some questions, amid much affable bowing on both sides and striking of apologetic attitudes on the part of the student. The professor leaned back in his chair, answering pleasantly his interlocutor, who, on finishing, stepped back a few paces from the desk, made a low salaam and hurried bashfully away, his hands glued to the seams of his trousers. The strained and straining manner of dealing with a member of the faculty may be noticed at every lecture.

After climbing a long series of temporary stairways in the "new" Sorbonne, where most of the lecture-rooms are situated, one reaches his particular "salle," as it is called. Before the door sits a uniformed attendant, adorned with the tri-color, whose business it is to see that no one enters without signing his or her name in a book lying on a table near by for that purpose. This custom is enforced for statistical interest, and must be complied with each time one enters. The audience inside the room is miscellaneous. Girls and women of all ages are seated on the first few rows of benches, which in common courtesy are accorded to them, since the Sorbonne faculty, like all others, has that irritating way of dropping the voice at times to a mere murmur. Most of these women are shabbily arrayed, and as different from our home idea of the "college girl" as one can imagine.

No extra ribbons and stick-pins here! No hot-house flowers or silken rustle to call back soft memories of Smith and Wellesley! The element in Parisian society which affects these feminine daintinesses is shut up in convents or boarding schools. The class which one sees in these lecture hours is quite another one; but these women are busily taking notes, and bend over their work as if they enjoyed it.

The young men look much as our own college "hopefuls," but seem less divided into cliques, and certainly less fastidious as to dress. Such odds and ends of clothing as you see! And yet there are fine and enthusiastic young faces emerging from frayed collars and impoverished neckties. Think, indeed, of a university in which it is the fashion to be poor! What a generally attainable and altogether convenient method of keeping "in style!" This can be said truthfully of the Sorbonne, as of many another Latin quarter institution. Even the Americans—an American here always is supposed to be wealthy—even Americans fall naturally to wearing coats through which the cotton shows. Sometimes a coat appears two hours consecutively in a lecture-room—but on different backs. On the Rue de Ecoles, to find students wearing each other's clothing is too common to be noteworthy. Wardrobes are interchanged as freely as tobacco or lead pencils. You may allow yourself the luxury of a clay pipe on the street in broad daylight, but look out for that walking cane and silk muffler! Don't take them into the lecture if you want to keep them intact. It is a dangerous thing to give the laugh to the Sorbonne styles.

The members of this great, free university have learned to minimize the cost of living. The neighborhood over the Seine is full of cheap hotels and apartment houses, where rooms can be rented for practically nothing. I know any number of young fellows who pay only 25 francs ($5) a month for a room, which they share with two or more companions. It may contain only beds and a few chairs, but it keeps out the weather, if not the wind, and at least means a roof. Food is high-priced in Paris; so this item no economy can reduce to an amount less than the American pays at home for a much better quality. Students must buy their own books, of course, but these are usually in paper covers, and are amazingly cheap. The best text books and all the best literature can be bought for 90 centimes (18 cents) a volume.

There are few, if any, large social clubs, but a great many Bohemian circles flourish, made up of intimate friends, with no formal bond of union—and, by all means, without dues! There is also a general association called "The Union of French Students," which provides a committee to welcome and assist foreign students, but in general the social life of the great French university presents a mournful contrast to that which keeps English, German and American colleges so green in the memory of students. The reason for this seems to be a woeful lack of the sinews of war. The French student may have lots of brains, but this possession is his only wealth. His social life, like his meals, must be picked up at odd times.

Amateur Frame Making.

A curious fad of the season is frames which correspond with the pictures they inclose.

These are to be seen of the most exquisite workmanship, and sometimes have a design from the picture repeated upon their border, sometimes only a dash of the predominant color, sometimes a sentence or a word. The idea may be worked out in home manufacture in a thousands ways.

Amateur frame making is extremely popular, and this notion of its correspondence to the thing framed goes far beyond the old-fashioned simplicity of having all matters whatsoever to "match." The effect there was tiresoe and flat; with this extreme of correspondence there is often a touch of cleverness which enhances the value of the picture.

THACKERAY.

Prof. Max Muller Relates Some Interesting Reminiscences.

One of my earliest dinners I remember at Oxford was to meet Thackeray. Thackeray was then writing "Esmond," and a Mr. Stoddart, a fellow of St. John's College, asked me to meet him at dinner. We were only four, and we were all very much awed by Thackeray's presence, particularly I, not being able as yet to express myself freely in English. We sat silent for some time, no one ventured to make the first remark; the soup was over, and there was a fine John Dore on the table waiting to be splayed. We were hoping for some brilliant sally from Thackeray, but nothing came. At last Thackeray turned his large spectacled eyes on me and said, "Are you going to eat your own ancestor?" I stared, everybody else stared. At last we gave it up, and Thackeray, looking very grave and learned, said: "Surely you are the son of Dorian Muller—the Muller who wrote that awfully learned book on the Dorians; and was not John Dore the ancestor of all the Dorians?" There was a general "Oh oh!" but the ice was broken, and no one after this horrible pun was afraid to say anything. All I could tell Thackeray was that I was not the son of Ottfried Muller, who wrote on the Dorians, but of Wilhelm Muller, the poet, who wrote "Die Homerische Vorschule," and as to John Dore being our ancestor, how could that be? The original John Dore so I had been told, was il Janitore, that is, St. Peter, and had no wife—or at least he never acknowledged her in public. Though all this did not promise well, yet the rest of our little dinner party was more successful; it became noisy and even brilliant.

Thackeray from his treasures of wit and sarcasm poured out anecdote after anecdote; he used plenty of vinegar and cayenne pepper, but there was always a flavor of kindliness and good nature, even in his most cutting remarks. I saw more of him when he came to Oxford to lecture on the "Four Georges," and when he stood for Parliament and was defeated by Cardwell and Charles Neate. After one of his lectures, when I expressed my delight with his brilliant success, "Wait, wait," he said, "the time will come when you will lecture at Oxford." At that time my English was still very fragmentary, and there was no talk of my ever staying in England, still less of my ever becoming a professor at Oxford.—From Cosmopolis.

MR. FIELDING AND HIS TARIFF.

A "Splendid New Departure in Imperialism"—Happy Choice of a Day for His Budget Speech.

The London, Eng., Canadian Gazette says: "The Hon. William Stevens Fielding, to whom we owe Canada's splendid new departure in Imperialism, is one of the many journalists who have risen to eminence in the Canadian political world. He is, a native of that brainy, fish-eating province of the Dominion, Nova Scotia. There he was born 49 years ago; there he was educated; and there, too, he laboured for many years on the staff of the Morning Chronicle. So great was his influence with his party that fifteen years ago a Liberal convention at Halifax sent to his newspaper office and tendered him the position of Premier. He declined; but later in the same year he did enter the Ministry, and two years afterwards became Premier and Provincial Secretary. Again and again he received the confidence of the electorate, until, in July of last year, after the victory of Mr. Laurier in the Dominion general election, he was prevailed upon to quit the scene of his Provincial triumphs and enter the field of Federal politics. His first Dominion budget will make his name and the whole empire. Did Mr. Fielding purposely choose St. George's Day for his budget speech? If so, it was a happy thought, and, in any case, the association of the day with the deed is most appropriate. In colonial circles in London the prophecy has been freely hazarded that the Australasian colonies may be expected in their own individual ways to follow the lead of Canada with more or less promptitude. What, too, of the United States? The preference clause touches her very nearly, of course, for in 1895 she exported products to the amount of $54,635,000 to Canada—more than half the imports of the Dominion—against $31,132,000 worth exported from Great Britain to Canada. It may be that this tariff argument will show Washington that there may be something in Canadian reciprocity after all. In any case, there will be plenty of work along the 4,000 miles of frontier to keep the smugglers in check. Indeed, to many people this seems the most difficult part of the whole affair from the United States' point of view. As to Great Britain, a great impetus will at once be given to the trade from this country to Canada.

LIVE IN THE HISTORY OF CANADA

OBITUARY.

Funeral of the Late Herbert Graham, of Otonabee.

The funeral of the late Herbert Graham, second son of John Graham, Esq., of Otonabee, took place from the family residence at 2 p.m. on Sunday, May 23rd. The deceased, who would shortly have entered on his seventeenth year, was a bright, intelligent boy, much liked by all who knew him, and his sudden death, which occurred after an illness of six days, was a sad shock to his many friends. Though the weather was disagreeable, the funeral was a large one, over sixty vehicles following the body to the place of interment, Fife's Cemetery, Bethel. The family has the deep sympathy of the whole community in their sad bereavement, particularly as four other children have been taken from the home circle.

The family wish to sincerely thank those friends who so kindly contributed flowers for the coffin, amongst which, a floral cross from the Bethel Epworth League of Christian Endeavour, deserves special mention.

The family tie is once more severed—
One more loved one's gone
To join his brother and sisters
In that heavenly throng.

I think I hear the angels wafting
Hither from the throne,
To meet our darling Herbert
And to bear his spirit home.

Dear father, mother, sisters, brothers,
Weep not for him that's gone before;
He has gone to that place of blissful rest,
Where pain and suffering are no more.

There to await the trumpet's sounding—
To obey the Saviour's call—
When the dead shall rise and the living meet
For Christ to judge them all.

In sympathy,

A Remarkable Memory.

Many writers, both speculative and of military art and science, have called in question the value of permanent fortifications, but every great soldier has regarded them of the highest utility and necessary to the defense of a country.

SPECIAL REDUCTIONS in Stamped Linen Goods this week. Stamping a speciality, at MISS MELVILLE'S 424 George Street.

O. J. C. MEETING CLOSED.

There Was a Large Crowd in Attendance at the Woodbine and Seven Races Were Run on Saturday.

Toronto, May 31.

Saturday, get away day, as racing people call it, was graced with beautiful weather, a capital attendance, and tolerably good sport. Four favorites, two second choices and one third won, the public and the books breaking pretty well even on the day. There were no surprises and comparatively little excitement, although it was one of the busiest days of the meeting in the ring. In between the second and third races the McGuigan's crack colt, Bannockburn, in all the glory of new colors was paraded, but few people seemed to know what was going on, no announcement being made from the stand. The sport introduced one particularly good filly in My Maryland, owned by Chas. T. Henshall. She is by Bramble, and has a good deal of the quality of that famous animal. Her owner, it is said, is willing to match her against Bannockburn, the owner of which, the aforesaid McGuigan, made Mr. Hendrie and offer of $3000 for his Himyar colt Harvey, and met with a polite refusal.

The result of the meeting is that Mr. Seagram, as usual, comes out on top with nine firsts, four seconds and three thirds, and the largest amount of money won. Buddy "Bill" McGuigan and his good wife have to be credited with five firsts and six seconds. Mr. Hendrie with five firsts, three seconds and one third, and the great half-bred owner, Mr. T. P. Phelan, with four firsts and two seconds, all in jumping races.

First race, Norway Purse—$350, of which $75 to second and $25 to third; for all ages; for horses that had run and not won at this meeting; 3-year-olds, 100 lbs.; 4-year-olds 110 lbs.; 5 years and up 112 lbs.; horses that had not been placed 1, 2, 3 once allowed 3 lbs., twice allowed 5 lbs.; no other allowances; entrance $5; 7 furlongs.

People take pride in telling of some of the Bargains they get at Gough Bros. The ordinary man would consider it clever buying if he spent no more than $25 for an entire outfit, including Suit, Shoes, Hat, Underwear, &c. But we make it possible to secure a serviceable outfit for less than $7.00, and this is not figuring on the cheapest goods either. The following bill of goods shows the possiblities which await bargain-seekers at our two big stores:—

All-Wool Halifax Tweed Suit	$3.75
Serviceable Pair of Shoes	1.00

HE'S A DEAD INDIAN

Almighty Voice Will Do No Further Harm.

THE MOUNTED POLICE KILLED HIM

Field Pieces Were Brought to Bear With Good Effect and the Desperado Was Shot Dead Mr. Davin Made Anxious Enquiry in the House About It.

Ottawa, May 31.—(Special.)—Upon the order of the day being reached in the House to-day, Mr. Davin arose and said he desired to call the attention of the Prime Minister to the news that has come from Saskatchewan. "It seems," he continued, "that Almighty Voice has killed three citizens, one a civilian and the others a constable and a corporal of the Mounted Police. It sounds alarming, because we gather from the telegrams in the newspapers that Almighty Voice is being reinforced by young men from the reserves, and from Regina and elsewhere the Mounted Police are going out. I wish to ask the Prime Minister whether he has any more recent information."

The Premier replied: "I have all the information obtained so far. I may say in advance that Almighty Voice has been killed in the attempt to capture him.

"This is the information that has been supplied by the Commissioner of Mounted Police: On Thursday of last week an Indian named Almighty Voice, who had previously shot and killed a sergeant of the Mounted Police, shot from ambush a settler named Venne, wounding him in the shoulder. Venne was brought to Duck Lake and the police at once started in pursuit of the Indian. On Friday morning they located him with other Indians in a bunch of timber, but the Indians had the advantage of the position, and in an attempt to capture them the folowing casualties occurred:

"Constable Kerr and a volunteer named Grundy were shot dead.

"Corporal Hockins received wounds from which he died the same evening.

"Inspector Allan's arm was shattered by a bullet about two inches below the shoulder, and Sergt. Raven was shot in the groin. One Indian was known to have been killed.

"A field gun was sent for to shell the Indians out of the timber, with the result that two Indians were killed, one of them being Almighty Voice. No further trouble is expected. We have not been able to get authentic information as to the circumstances which led up to the shooting of Venne by Almighty Voice, but it is believed that he and Corp. Bowdridge of the Mounted Police came suddenly on Almighty Voice, when the latter ran into the woods and shot from ambush."

THE PLAN OF CAMPAIGN.

How the Death of the Desperado Was Brought About.

Mintchines Hills, via Duck Lake, N. W. T., May 31.—The location of Almighty Voice was revealed by accident. Corporal Bowdridge and two constables were investigating a case of cattle-killing on Thursday, and had with them Napoleon Venne, a half-breed, whom they had hired to assist them. They passed three Indians and immediately Venne was shot from behind. The ball struck his shoulder, but the wound is not serious. He proceeded quickly to Duck Lake and gave the alarm, and Prince Albert was telegraphed to from there. Inspector Allan, Sergt. Raven and a posse of constables set out in the night to join those whom Venne had left watching the culprits. On the way they, too, were attacked at 9 a.m. on Friday by two Indians near a bluff, about 15 miles from the place where Venne was shot. It transpired that Bowdridge and his men had proved insufficient to prevent the Indians' escape from the bluff to which they had escaped after shooting Venne. In this attack Inspector Allan was wounded in the arm, which may have to be amputated, and the sergeant was shot in the thigh. Almighty Voice and his companions and a youth quickly retreated to the bluff close by.

Reinforcements arrived from Prince Albert under Supt. Gagnon and Inspector Wilson. Sergt. Bird and Dr. Stewart, the detachment surgeon, with six companies arrived from Duck Lake. Corporal Hockins said: "Let's rush it," and Mr. Grundy, Postmaster at Duck Lake, was of the same opinion. A gallant rush was made, when the Indians were found in a pit they had dug. The pursuers were upon the Indians without knowing it, with the result that Corporal Hockins was shot and fatally wounded. Constable Andrew O'Kelly shot the Indian dead who had done this. As he was turning round to get another cartridge a ball whizzed past him and struck Constable Kerr in the lung. Kerr said, "I am shot," and fell dead. Under a galling fire, Dr. Stewart entered the bluff to attend Corporal Hockins and R. S. Cook, homestead Inspector. Mr. Davison, manager for Stobart & Co., of Duck Lake, with Constables Andrew O'Kelly, McNairn and Ferris, gallantly assisted under a rapid firing. One ball struck the buggy into which they were lifting Corporal Hockins, who, though dying, bravely gave all the information in his power. Another bullet carried away O'Kelly's spur.

It was noticed that the Indians' firing was always upward from their hiding pits and that several lines had been cut in different sections in the bluff so that the pursued could see and shoot their pursuers long before the latter could ascertain the whereabouts of the former.

Reinforcements now rapidly arrived. A detachment of volunteers from Prince Albert, under Mr. James McKay, Q.C., came, but the old and historic seven-pounder and another detachment, with Mr. C. E. Boucher, M.L.A., from Batoche, also joined Mr. McKay. At this stage Regina was communicated with and a detachment of 25, with Assistant Commissioner McIllree and Inspector MacDonell, fully armed and equipped, and with the nine-pounder, left the Northwest capital at 10.30, and after a splendid run arrived at Duck Lake at 4.30 p.m. Here the scene of the intended capture was found to be in Minetithinez Hills, at a spot about 16 miles away. No stop was made either for rest of refreshment, and the detachment started as soon as their loading could be accomplished. There was no hitch, and the only delay was the unavoidable one at Batoche ferry, which could only accommodate a small portion of us at a time.

It was 11 o'clock at night ere the last rig arrived at its destination. It was a dark night. All the armed persons formed a close cordon round the bluff, within whose shelter was the cowering but terrible and desperate Indian. The rest of us bivouacked round a blazing fire. There was no sleep for anyone, and no attempt to secure it. The darkness was intense and the stillness was unbroken save by an occasional snap from a rifle as any of the sentries saw or thought they saw the men they had come out to meet, to which Almighty Voice and his companions occasionally deigned a similar reply. Once a bullet came whizzing and spluttering amongst us at the fire, showing that no one of us was free from the possibilities of being added to the last two victims.

The force was a strong one, considering that the object in view was merely the capture of one or two men. Of the Mounted Police, there were 30 from Prince Albert, 25 from Regina, 7 from Duck Lake, and 6 from Batoche, all sworn in, while quite a number of civilians with rifles, from all around, were also present to help in forming and maintaining the cordon. If the attacking force was strong, daylight (so eagerly longer for) showed that the outlaws' retreat was little short of impregnable, although a sharp fusilade indicated a suspicion the men were attempting to escape. A butte clad with dense poplar with a strong undergrowth of willow and withy entangled and entwined and matted, mixed with brule, all showed the great risk of anything like a rush. It is impassable to men on horseback, and on foot they have to make headway on their hands and knees. The bluff is about 300 yards long by about 60 yards wide. Of course, it could be taken by a rush, but it would have entailed a great loss of life, and Assistant Commissioner McIllree had strict orders not in any event to imperil lives if possible or add to the number of those already killed or wounded.

The other buttes or hills surrounding this particular one had no bluffs upon them, as is indicated by their name, the Beautiful Bare Hills, and thus, while Almighty Voice had splendid cover and the sound of his ax nearly all night long showed that he was strengthening his position, yet the force outside had no cover whatever, and could be easily popped off individually, if the Indians had a plentiful supply of ammunition.

At dawn the camp became full of activity, and by 6 o'clock the two cannon were placed in position, pointing to opposite corners of the bluff, and sighted for seven hundred yards. A bright and beautiful Sabbath, in a fair and lovely country, was heralded by loud cannonading; this started at 6 a.m., and shrapnell and canister and balls were rained into the bluff to scare or destroy the Indians sheltered in their pits. Boom, boom, from 6 o'clock to 7 o'clock; the white smoke wreathed and the missiles crashed and exploded among the trees and bushes.

Winnipeg, May 31.—Shortly after noon yesterday a break occurred in the telegraph line somewhere north of Saskatoon, and, in consequence, communication with Duck Lake and Prince Albert was cut off. At 3.30 this morning communication with Duck Lake was restored and the following despatch was received:

Duck Lake, May 31, 3.30 a.m.—The Prince Albert volunteers got impatient yesterday afternoon and prevailed on the officer in charge to allow them to rush the bluff, which they did at 2 p.m., led by William Drain, James McKay, Q.C., and Police Officers Wilson and Macdonald. On the first rush they did not find the hiding places of the Indians. They again went through and killed the only remaining Indian. Almighty Voice and another Indian were killed by the shells from the nine-pounder. No further casualties occurred on our side.

The dead have been brought in. The father of Almighty Voice is under arrest here as an accomplice.

No further trouble is anticipated.

The remaining members of the contingent from the Mounted Police for England, who were expected to pass through Winnipeg yesterday, were detained at Regina for a couple of days in consequence of the trouble. It is expected that they will proceed east on Tuesday.

Mr. Ernest Grundy, the Duck Lake postmaster who was shot by the Indians, is well known in Toronto. Although an Englishman by birth he was brought to this country when a child and lived around Rice Lake and Cobourg, subsequently going to Toronto. Some fifteen years ago he went to the Northwest. He leaves three children. In the Northwest rebellion he was employed in the transportation of the troops and was attached to the Queen's Own.

Three of his brothers live in Toronto. They are Mr. G. H. Grundy of 117 Rose-avenue, district manager of the London and Lancashire Life Assurance Company; Mr. Frederick Grundy of the British American Assurance Association, who lives in Eglinton, and Mr. Oswald Grundy, whose residence is on Toronto Island.

THE ARTILLERY EFFECTIVE.

Regina, May 31. (Special)—The smoke of battle has cleared away and a few matters are seen more distinctly. Dr. Bain, who was in the final rush at the bluff in the Mintchinese Hills, declares that the two Indians had been dead for several hours. It does not detract from the gallantry of the men in storming the bluff that there was no more formidable enemy than three dead Indians. Had they been alive it is but too certain that many lives would have been lost. It is quite evident that the shrapnel from the cannon did the work. Both Almighty Voice and his youthful companion had sought the pit for safety and were killed while there. Almighty Voice's skull was shattered and the brains protruded. Gunner Smith fired with wonderful precision, one shell only out of 38 having gone astray. Almighty Voice had previously received two wounds, one in the ankle and one in the knee. It is certain that he made at least one attempt to escape, as his improvised crutch was found 75 yards away from the bluff, as well as the track made by him when creeping back. The idea that the bluff was a cache is erroneous. The Indians had no food reserve and had no water. They were living on the birds they could shoot and drinking the sap of trees. They had very little ammunition indeed and were completely at bay. The Indian who shot Constable Kerr, and was immediately shot by Constable O'Kelly, did not die immediately, as he was dressed in Kerr's clothes. Kerr, too, may not have died immediately, as in addition to the shot in his lungs a bullet had been put through his head and his skull beaten in with a carbine, the hair, brains and blood still clinging to the stock. Inspector MacDonnell has the carbine. The mutilation may have been done after death.

There were signs all around that Almighty Voice and the wounded lad with him were driven to their last extremity. The digging of a pit with a piece of old iron, the marks on the trees whence sap had been drunk, the cutting of leaves with knives, all speak of the patience bred of despair. The end of the affair has given a feeling of relief to all the neighborhood, and security to life and property is felt to be assured. Their work finished, the detachments returned to their respective quarters. Assistant-Commissioner McIlree going to Prince Albert, where he will remain a few days. The Regina contingent left Duck Lake this morning and arrived here just as the men for the jubilee, preceded by the N. W. M. P. Band, were marching into the depot to leave for England. A large crowd had assembled and cheers of welcome for the arriving and farewell for the departing troops were mingled and were oft repeated.

Mr. Chamberlain in the British House of Commons Refers to the Canadian Fast Line Contract

London, May 31.—The Secretary of State for the Colonies, Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, answering a question in the House of Commons to-day regarding the proposed fast steamship service between Canada and Great Britain, said the contract for this service was between Canada and Peterson, Tait & Company of Newcastle. Mr. Chamberlain added that he would ascertain whether the Canadian Government objected to the publication of the terms of the contract. The Government of the Dominion, Mr. Chamberlain further explained, had informed him that it was fully satisfied with the competency of the contractors to carry out their engagement.

The Crop Situation

London, May 31.—The Mark Lane Express, in its weekly review of the crop situation, says:

"We are unable to share the view that wheat is making seasonable progress. It is not thick, and the ground growth since Easter has been extremely slow, but last summer's warmth is still in the ground, and the autumn's store of moisture beneath the soil should protect us from absolute disaster. Thus the outlook is for a mediocre yield of 27 to 28 bushels. A hot, dry June may improve the plant, but we don't believe the full average can now be obtained, even under the most favorable circumstances.

"In France the weather has not been favorable. Even the Minister of Agriculture's good report of wheat only argues a yield of 37,000,000 quarters, leaving 6,000,000 quarters to be imported.

"The Russian and Polish wheat is promising, but cold rains in Austria have reduced fine prospects.

"Russian reports are mostly encouraging.

"The popularity of American flour increases."

Armistice Extended

Constantinople, May 31.—An irade has just been issued and communicated to the representatives of the powers, by which the Sultan agrees to an armistice of a fortnight, beginning May 20 (May 30.) Fresh instructions, consequently, will be sent to Edhem Pasha, the Turkish commander in Thessaly.

The Ambassadors are urging the Turkish Government to engage to prolong the armistice in the event of the peace negotiations not being ended when the armistice expires.

The Post Takes It Back.

London, June 1.—The Morning Post says to-day: "We are requested to contradict the rumor that the Duke of Leeds will succeed the Earl of Aberdeen as Governor-General of Canada."

Duke of Cambridge Pleased.

London, May 31.—The Duke of Cambridge, who presided at the meeting of the National Rifle Association to-day, referred in terms of pleasure to the fact that a Canadian Club House is in process of erection at Bisley. In the course of the proceedings a letter was read from Brigadier-General Spencer of New Jersey, inviting the English marksmen to compete at the September meetings of the National and New Jersey Rifle Associations.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

A Pennsylvania bridal pair performed their wedding journey from Pittsburg to Niagara Falls on bicycles. Probably to decide which will be the "scorcher" in the domestic establishment to be set up.

THE Montreal Star suggests that probably one reason why the Federal Opposition do not appear hungry for "divisions" n the House, is that the have divisions enough of their own.

IF the efforts for a second vote on the Sunday car question in Toronto should be successful, it should be stipulated that the vote should be taken without debate for the credit of the city, whose "good" people as well as "bad" people possess an unlimited capacity for forensic Billingsgate.

THE "Almighty Voice" is silenced forever. He is a good Indian now. In addition to the previous murder this turbulent Northwest Indian, who defied the authorities, was responsible for the death of four white men before the top of his evil head was shot off by a shell. The rumours that the young buck Indians were inclined to rise were without foundation.

CANAL CONSTRUCTION.

Work that the Government has Put Under Way to Complete Canada's Canal System.

Montreal Herald.

One of the most important problems which the new Government has to solve is that of transportation, and to this responsible matter the Minister of Railways and Canals has addressed himself with vigour and determination. One of the great difficulties which the grain trade in particular has had to contend against has been the lack of facilities for the carriage of grain in bulk by water direct from the head of navigation at Fort William or Duluth to the steamer's side in the Port of Montreal.

With an inland system of navigation such as Canada possesses and with its chain of canals, grain merchants and ship owners perceived that they could get control of a large portion of the trade of the Western States, as well as the Northwest, if these canals were deepened to an extent which would allow the passage of grain vessels through to Montreal, and so obviate the necessity of transhipment to lighters at Kingston. Boards of trade, corn exchanges, and other influential commercial bodies have been urging this for years, but until the advent of the present government, with little success.

DRIBBLING MONEY.

Conservative Governments dribbled out money on canals as if these were of little value to the country, and the consequence has been that there is a heavy interest charge on the money which has been so sunk, without any benefits accruing to the public. The policy of the present government, as announced, is to spend about $4,500,000 within the next two years in making the St. Lawrence route the safe advantageous highway it ought to be. And it is only in this way, by taking one bold step in advance, can Canada get any return for the millions already spent on the canals, or make them what they should be.

The effect of this on the port of Montreal will be enormous, and taken in conjunction with the harbour improvement works cannot fail to cause a boom in the business of the metropolitan city. The work has to be completed in time for the opening of navigation in 1899, by which time there will be a straight, wide, and deep channel from the tide water to the head of navigation, down which the ever-increasing produce of the great West can float direct to the vessels which will convey it to the European markets.

MONEY AT PRESENT AVAILABLE.

The votes on the estimates for the current year on the St. Lawrence canals are as follows:

Soulanges (construction)	$600,000
Cornwall (enlargement)	225,000
Rapide Plat (enlargement)	100,000
Galops (enlargement)	250,000
Lachine (enlargement)	300,000
Lake St Louis channel (straightening and deepening)	25,000
River reaches	20,000

Under its new policy the Government will ask Parliament for the following sums for the year 1897-98, for work on St. Lawrence canals:

Soulanges canal, construction	$1,250,000
Cornwall canal, enl rgement	125,000
Cornwall canal, conv rting basin into a dry dock	15 000
Farran's Point, canal enlargement	$75,000
Rapids Plat, canal enlargement	115,000
Galops canal, enlargement	1,635,000
North channel, straightening and deepening	375,000
Galops channel	50,000
River reaches	50,000
Lake St Francis, removal of boulders, etc	75,000
Lachine canal, enlargement	216,000
Lachine canal, deepening river at St Pierre	40,000
Lake St Louis channel, straightening and deepening	86,000

In addition to these items are three others, which, although not for any portion of the St. Lawrence system, are of great importance. These are:

Trent canal, construction	$450,000
S S Marie canal, construction and equipment	75,000
Grenville canal, enlargement	90,000

A great deal of the work is now in progress, although the bulk of it cannot be begun until later this season.

This indicated includes not only the deepening and widening of the canals, but the improvement of the approaches, the straightening and deepening of the river channels, and the removal of obstructions.

TRENT VALLEY CANAL.

The Trent Valley Canal is not exactly a part of the St. Lawrence system, but when completed it will shorten the distance between the West and the sea, and provide an entirely Canadian waterway into Lake Huron. Its construction has been much talked of and long delayed, but now active work is being carried on on three sections. The Balsam Lake section, which Onderdonk is constructing, is to be ready in July. Corry and Laverdure are at work on the section between Peterborough and Lakefield, and a contract has been let to Brown, Love & Aylmer for the section between Lakefield and Nassau.

From this resume it will be seen that a good start has been made on what is a great national undertaking all along the line. With a capable administration the work will be pushed on rapidly, so that in two years from now Canadians will be able to boast a canal system which will be the finest in the world, and which will benefit the city of Montreal as much as the agriculturists of the West.

GREAT DAY FOR LAURIER.

(Toronto Telegram.)

It is not given to many Canadians to visit Great Britain under the auspicious circumstances which attend Wilfrid Laurier's first excursion to any country further away from home than the United States.

Being a lover of books, the Premier has probably voyaged and journeyed much through all countries within the wide realm of literature. Being also a Canadian, unblessed with rich parents, or a large fortune, Wilfrid Laurier has lived his life in Canada, with occasional glimpses into the centres of United States life.

Whatever other burdens Wilfrid Laurier may carry to London, he ought not to take much unsatisfied ambition with him, for the son of a hard working land surveyor, separated in race, creed, and language from the majority of his fellow countrymen, has no reason to quarrel with the destiny, which has made him first citizen of Canada, and a conspicuous figure in the Imperial pageant, which marks a mighty epoch in the annals of the British peoples.

Take No Risks.

Do Not Foolishly Experiment With Medicines That Have No Standing or Reputation.

Paine's Celery Compound The Only Medicine That Cures and Blesses the Sick.

In matters of health and life no man or woman can afford to take risks or experiment foolishly. A wrong move, or following the advice of the careless or ignorant, may result in serious complications. This is especially true in regard to the use of medicines when people are in a low condition of health.

When the physical powers are impaired, when you are weak, nervous, irritable, despondent, sleepless or weighed down with that dull and tired feeling that usually commences at this season of the year, it is wise and prudent to use the medicine that has given health, vim and activity to thousands of weak people in the past.

This safe, certain and health-giving remedy is Paine's Celery Compound, which is now so extensively prescribed by the ablest doctors in Canada. The indorsers of Paine's Celery Compound, besides those in the ordinary walks of life, are clergymen, lawyers, judges, members of parliament, hundreds of whom it has rescued from suffering and death.

Avoid the numberless liquid medicines that are worthless from a medical standpoint, and that have never gained the shadow of a reputation. Put your faith in Paine's Celery Compound, and when you purchase be sure you are supplied with the right article. See that the bottle and box bear the name "Paine's Celery Compound" and the stalk of celery; that is the only genuine make—the kind that makes people well.

STONY LAKE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The Leason copper mine is taking another boom. The chief man and his foreman from the Deloro mines of Marmora were up the other day to see it, and were well pleased with the indications, and said that if they could buy the mine from Mr. McWilliams, they will include three adjoining farms in the purchase. Mr. McWilliams himself was up for three or four days last week and had several men with him making an inspection of the place.

A few days ago two of our worthies, whom we will style for the present B. and T., went over to Burleigh to make some improvements on their farms (which they located under the free grant act) in the way of settlement duties and to erect a house. It had come dinner time, B. had went to get some water to make tea, and T. made the fire to boil the kettle. When B. came back with the water the fire was all ready and he sat down until the kettle should boil, and as he sat he was looking around and he saw something moving in the bushes, and as it came a little nearer it sat up on its haunches which indicated what it was, and he shouted, "See the bear! see the bear! see the bear!" T. ran to get the axe, asking, "where is the bear? where is the bear? where is the bear? the bear, the bear." The bear had two cubs, and the cubs were between her and the men, and she made two or three springs to get to the cubs. The boys say that every spring she made was over ten feet. B. jumped and ran for all he was worth to get to the lake for safety, but T. could not run; he was sure the bear had him and all he could do was to stand and scream at the top of his voice. But by this time poor Bruin and her cubs were far enough away. The lads started for the lake dinnerless, and they declare that the bear was as big as a cow. If the free grant land in Burleigh can produce such bears as that it ought to have been located years ago.

CAN'T UNDERSTAND IT

The Reciprocal Clause Puzzles Mr. Foster.

HE MOVED TWO AMENDMENTS.

Mr. Wallace Could See No Virtue in the Liberal Tariff Policy Mr. Laurier, Mr. Fielding and the Controller of Customs Explain Matters.

Ottawa, May 31.—(Special.)—The consideration of the reciprocal clause of the new tariff occupied still another day of the session. There was much talking by the Opposition, and a persistent clamoring for information as to the real meaning of the resolution, the interpretations being almost as numerous as the critics. Early in the evening Mr. Foster offered an amendment to the proposition providing that the Government in determining the countries that should be accorded favorable treatment should take into consideration the average tariff rates imposed by these countries upon products interchanged or interchangeable. The Prime Minister stated that the Government in interpreting the clause would consider the average of the whole tariff of another country. The amendment was rejected. It was followed by another declaring that the benefits of the minimum tariff should not be extended to any country until the assent of Parliament had been signified. This proposition had not been disposed of when the Committee of Ways and Means rose.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

Mr. McMullen asked if the Government had come to any decision in regard to recompensing the volunteers of 1866, and, if so, in what the recognition of their services was to consist.

Sir Richard Cartwright answered that the volunteers were anxious to obtain recognition in the shape of a medal, and the Government had recommended that application to the careful consideration of Her Majesty.

In reply to Mr. Jameson, Mr. Blair said that the Government was not aware that the C. P. R. was imposing a discriminatory rate of ten cents per 100 pounds on freight arriving at Fort William by other vessels than those of the C.P.R. and Beatty Line. If facts to that effect were brought to the knowledge of the Government he would consider it his duty to look into the matter.

Mr. Dobell informed Mr. Davin that he was not a director of the Quebec Railway Bridge Company.

Mr. Taylor put several queries respecting the superannuation of Mr. James Shannon, ex-postmaster at Kingston, and the appointment of Mr. Alexander Gunn, ex-M.P., to that position.

In reply Mr. Fielding stated that the superannuation of Mr. Shannon was preceded by an inquiry of the Treasury Board, as provided in the statutes relating to the superannuation of members of the civil service. The report of the Treasury Board had been to the effect that the superannuation of Mr. Shannon would be a benefit to the service and in the public interest. The Parliamentary Companion for 1885 was probably correct in giving 1828 as the date of Mr. Gunn's birth. There was no limit of age in appointments to the outside service.

In Committee of Ways and Means, Mr. Clarke Wallace resumed the debate on the proposed amendment to the reciprocal clause of the tariff. He pointed out that the proposed reduction of 25 per cent. in favor of Great Britain and any other countries which may be entitled to it was a serious menace to the industries of Canada, because the interests of this country were inseparably bound up with a protective policy. [Hear! Hear!] It appeared to him that the Controller of Customs had not treated the House quite fairly in the matter of explanation of the principle upon which he proposed to decide which countries were entitled to the reduction. Through the publication of the Belgian customs bureau, the Controller of Customs was kept posted from day to day of changes in the tariff of every country in the world. There was no excuse, therefore, for the Controller not applying the test of the new terms, and announcing to the House exactly what countries, by the tariff, are entitled to reciprocal benefits under the new policy.

At first, too, the Government were positive that the preferential treatment need only be extended to British goods. Now, they came forward with a proposal to add a clause enabling them to extend this preferential treatment to the goods of Belgium, Germany and any other country. This seriously intensified the objectionable features of the tariff lowering.

Proceeding to deal with the several items of the tariff, Mr. Wallace pointed out that by the reduction, the revenue from nuts, bolts and hinges would be brought down to $16,213 per year, while now it is proposed to change the tariff so that it will bring in a revenue of $20,517 yearly, which is about the revenue raised under the old tariff.

The reduction of the yarns duties threatened the extinction of a valuable Canadian industry and involved the certainty of reducing the wages of Canadian workmen in those factories by 25 per cent.

The rice duty was another absurdity. Allowing that 156 pounds of uncleaned rice would be required to produce 100 pounds of the cleaned, the manufacturer has had to pay 8 cents per cwt. more upon the uncleaned than the importer upon the prepared rice.

Another item to which Mr. Wallace objected was that permitting the importation free of duty of articles from abroad, valued at 50 cents and under, coming by post or express. It would result in the importation of thousands of dollars' worth of such articles as silk handkerchiefs and badges, to the detriment of the Canadian trader and manufacturer. In conclusion, he urged the Government, seeing they had somewhat improved a tariff which, as originally framed, struck down many Canadian industries, to continue the process of rectifying it, and thus doing what was best for the whole country. [Cheers.]

Major Beattie pointed out where in many instances this country was certain to be flooded with German imitations of British goods, forwarded from England, with the German manufacturer's mark removed.

Mr. Foster, after recess, resumed the discussion on the tariff. He said it was the next thing to disgraceful for the Government to ask the House to put abnormal and extraordinary powers into its hands without vouchsafing one single glimmer of light as to the method of procedure by which the reciprocity clause shall be put in operation. He insisted once more on the indefiniteness of the clause, and again pressed for further explanations.

Mr. Paterson said he could not add anything to his explanation of last week.

Mr. Foster then asked Mr. Laurier to explain.

Mr. Laurier: My view is that of the Controller of Customs.

Mr. Foster said it was a sorry exhibition which the honorable gentlemen opposite made. They would go down to history as the first Government in the history of this country that had persistently refused to explain its measures, either through unwillingness or inability. He moved to amend the clause, so that it should read as follows:

That when the customs tariff of any country admits the products of Canada on terms which, on the whole, are, taking into consideration the average tariff rates of this country, upon the principal products to be interchanged, as favorable to Canada as the terms of reciprocal tariff herein referred to.

The amendment consists of the insertion of the words "taking into consideration the average tariff rates of this country upon the principal products to be interchanged."

Sir Charles Tupper, in seconding the amendment, said the clause should certainly be made clearer. It should be intelligible to the mass of people and these words were calculated to do this.

Mr. Laurier said it was not possible to satisfy the Opposition. No matter what explanations were given to them, they would not exercise their intelligence or judgment. He paid Mr. Foster the compliment of saying that he was a man of keen intellect. But on this matter it could not be said he was a bright man, but rather an obtuse man. The clause was as intelligible as anything ever put before Parliament, and yet Mr. Foster pretended he could not understand it. It almost required a surgical operation to get the meaning into his head. By the amendment, however, Mr. Foster had shown that he did not thoroughly understand what the clause meant. Mr. Foster could understand it if the Government would amend the tariff by stating that when the tariff of a country upon articles we sell to it was on the whole on a level with our tariff on articles they sell to us—"He understands," Mr. Laurier continued, "this limited operation, but he cannot understand the higher operation of making a comparison not on a few articles, but on all the articles. If he can made a comparison between certain articles, I ask him to extend the operation to make a comparison not only with regard to articles which we exchange but with regard to articles which are to be found in the tariff of this country and the tariff of another country.

Mr. Foster said Mr. Laurier had given him too much credit for being able to understand this clause. Evidently, the honorable gentlemen opposite could not understand it themselves. Mr. Laurier had just made a most important admission. It appeared the Government's decision was to take the average not on interchangeable articles but on the gross tariff of a country. Under this ruling Japan and China, and all nations which had not favored nation treaties, could come in under this clause. Nothing could come in under this clause. Nothing could be more unfair to Canada than to adopt such a rule as this.

Sir Charles Tupper said it was incredible that in this nineteenth century a deliberative assembly, after weeks of discussion, could now only learn what the Government meant by this clause. The construction put upon it by Mr. Laurier was directly opposed to the very words of the clause. Mr. Laurier's ruling must certainly permit Turkey to come in under the reduced tariff.

Dr. Sproule insisted upon the clause being made perfectly clear. This could only be done, in his judgment, by adopting the amendment.

Mr. Wood (Brockville) said what the tariff law strove to avoid was indefiniteness. In this clause, however, the Government had adopted a plan which must lead to endless confusion. At different ports of entry importers would pay duty under protest, and then it would be for the Controller of Customs to decide. The result must be more blunders than ever previously known. Hence, it would be far preferable to make a ruling now than for the Controller to have to do the work piecemeal.

Mr. Davin, in the course of his criticism of the tariff indefiniteness, drew attention to the cases cited by Major Beattie, in which goods were made in Germany and elsewhere in imitation of British products, asking if the Controller of Customs had provided against such goods being given the preferential rate.

Mr. Paterson: More definite instructions will be given when the tariff bill finally becomes law.

Mr. Davin: Oh, but the tariff is now in force.

The chairman then put the amendment, which was declared lost on division.

Then Mr. Foster gave another amendment. He premised it by saying that the Opposition desired to protest against the handing over to the gentlemen of the council, by Order-in-Council, the power of making the full equivalent of a commercial treaty with any country in the world.

The amendment was to provide that the products of other countries than England should not be admitted to Canada under the minimum tariff until "after Parliament has given its sanction thereto."

The Finance Minister replied by stating that this preferential rate, if extended to every country in the world having favored nation treaties with Britain, would not half so seriously affect the revenues as if the Government applied "the standing offer" so-called of the national policy tariff of 1879. Taking from the value of imports of last year the imports of Great Britain and the United States, it would be found that upon the remainder the duty paid was but $5,092,530. And taking off this the one-eighth, which is all the remission that can be made until next session, the result would be a revenue of $63,506 thrown off, which would be the worst that could happen if every favored nation country in the world should come in. On the other hand if the articles mentioned in the standing offer of 1879 were admitted free last year it would result in a reduction of $1,722,757 in the duty. He thought it inconsistent that the Conservatives would condone the latter and refuse to consent to the Government being allowed to make the former reductions.

Sir Charles Tupper replied that the question was not one of revenue, but as to whether Parliament should allow the Government to make treaties. As to the camparison, there was no similarity between the stated, definite offer of 1879 and the present ambiguous proposal. Moreover, the trade of 1896 was done under a protective tariff; the new tariff was lower and there was still the cut of one-eighth. He drew attention to the despatch of Lord Ripon, of last June, advising that if any bill providing for preferential duties were passed it should be reserved for Her Majesty's sanction, and "if included in a general tariff bill a proviso should be added that it do not come into operation until Her Majesty's pleasure be signified." Yet now the Governor-General was to be asked to extend such preference without even the sanction of the Dominion Parliament.

After some observations by the Controller of Customs, Dr. Sproule moved that the committee rise. This carried, and the House adjourned at 10 minutes past midnight.

The revelations in connection with the administration of the Kingston Penitentiary are such that the Government are seriously considering the advisability of instituting criminal proceedings against a number of officials employed in the penitentiary. It is said that an eminent prosecuting counsel of Toronto has been consulted in regard to the matter.

The Biggest Bicycle Value In Canada To-Day.

The frame is enamelled black and the rims red, the combination making a very pleasing effect. It is made of high grade material and is finished better than the bulk of the $100.00 wheels. It is a bicycle built to wear and give honest satisfaction, while it is second only to the peerless Red Bird in easy running qualities. Best of all, however, by the most liberal of guarantees. This is pretty good evidence that we do not entertain any doubts concerning its quality. The fact of this guarantee coming from a Canadian manufacturer make it doubly valuable as repairs are easily got, and should there be a possible defect no time is lost in making it good. The Ruby Rim is sold at our various agencies throughout the Dominion, and if you are a prospective purchaser, you will find it worth your while to examine it. Of course $54.00 is the spot cash price.

It is Fully Guaranteed

SIX MONTHS IN THE CENTRAL.

The Third Time Thomas Radford Has Been Convicted on Charges of Vagrancy.

Thomas Radford was before the magistrate this morning charged by Fishery Inspector Breeze, with a violation of the fishing laws.

Radford, it seems, was fishing at the Locks, when a small boy, named Bruce Patterson, caught a bass. Knowing this fish was out of season the lad was about to throw it back into the water again, when Radford intervened, stating he would take the fish and assume any responsibility which might be connected with the act.

Inspector Breeze heard of the transaction, with the result that Radford was apprehended and fined five dollars and costs or ten days in goal.

A charge of vagrancy was also preferred against the prisoner, who failed to show that he had any visible means of support.

Constable Adams testified that the man had been out of work, by his own statement, since March last and he lived on the charity of a cripple, who could hardly find the means to support his own family, in a miserable hovel.

Twice before Radford has been convicted on the same charge. At one time he was living in the same house with a woman who was very ill and who was supplied with provisions by the ladies of the town. Radford fared sumptuously until the police were asked to interfere by the ladies, and the man was allowed to try the fare at the county gaol for a change.

This morning the magistrate imposed a sentence of six months in the Central Prison.

JUBILEE CELEBRATION.

The Council Will be Asked for a Guarantee and a Programme of Sports Take Place.

A meeting of the Jubilee Celebration Committee was held last evening, when Mr. H. LeBrun was asked to take the chair, and Mr. W. H. Robertson to act as secretary pro tem.

A very attractive programme was arranged, consisting of a free balloon ascension in the morning from the market square, and an afternoon programme of sports, consisting of bicycle and horse races and a lacrosse match. In the evening there will be an exhibition of fireworks.

Suitable prizes will be presented for the bicycle races, and the horse races will consist of four events—two trotting and two running races, for which prizes will be hung up, aggregating $550 in all. The lacrosse match will in all probability be between the Checkers of Beaverton and the Peterboroughs.

A committee composed of Messrs. W. H. Meldrum, T. E. Bradburn and H. LeBrun will wait on the town council to endeavour to arrange for a guarantee in case the venture does not meet with success.

Committees were also appointed to wait on the hotelkeepers, liverymen and merchants to solicit donations and by the promises made by those present the subscriptions secured will be sufficient to warrant the citizens in pushing the matter to an issue and having a celebration which will reflect credit on the town.

Another meeting of the citizens will be held on Wednesday evening next to complete the details.

Corbett-Fitzsimmons.

Read what the Montreal Herald says of the great fight:—"On Saturday afternoon the latest European marvel, the 'Feriscope,' was exhibited at the Eden musee theatre. The fac-simile of the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight reproduced by counterparts is most realistic, so much so in fact that the audience which filled the theatre got most enthusiastic and cries of "Bravo," "Break away," "Give him another Fitz" and "Rush him Jim," were constantly heard." In addition to the above will be presented the great six round battle between Corbett and Courtney, the champion of New Jersey. This is the attraction at the opera house on Thursday, June 3rd. Prices 25, 35 and 50c.

No verandah will be complete this summer without one of these serviceable plaid Cushions. Material for the above in all shades at MRS. APPLEBY'S Fancy Goods Store.

STREET LIGHTING.

Old Lamps to be Moved and New Ones to be Placed in Position.

The members of the Fire, Water and Light Committee assembled last evening and taking carriages, drove around the town examining the position of certain lights, the location of which it was proposed to change, and also selected sites for several new lights which are needed.

The changes proposed are to move the light on Smith street near Dennistoun avenue, to the corner of Harvey and Smith streets; to move one from Benson street to the corner of Manning avenue, and one from Lake street at the foot of Aylmer, to a spot a few feet distant where it will be more serviceable.

The new lights, which will be recommended to the council, are to be placed at the corner of Perry and Aylmer streets; corner of Gilmour and Park, and corner of Antrim and Aylmer.

Those present at the meeting were Councillors White, chairman, Graham, Best, Dawson, Davis, Neill and the Mayor.

THE ASSESSMENT ON STONY LAKE COTTAGES.

The Cottagers send Mr. D. W. Dumble to the Burleigh Court of Revision to Make an Appeal for Reduction.

Mr. D. W. Dumble has just returned from attending the Court of Revision for Burleigh township in Apsley on behalf of the Stony Lake Cottagers Association, the members of which desired to appeal against excessive assessment.

Mr. Dumble states that he learned when in attendance at the court that the cottagers who have islands in Burleigh township pay one-seventh of the entire taxes of the municipality, although they only reside in the township for a few months in the year, and get no benefit whatever from the roads or schools. The farmers, he states, are assessed at the rate of one dollar an acre and two dollars an acre extra for cleared land. No account is taken of the buildings, while the cottagers are taxed for buildings alone, and at a rate which is felt to be burdensome.

Mr. Dumble submitted a basis of taxation to the members of the court, which he states will be more equitable, though still too high. The matter will be settled at the next meeting of the court.

GEORGE STREET PARSONAGE.

H. C. Stabler is Awarded the Contract for its Erection, at $3,250.

At a meeting of the trustee board of the George street Methodist church last night, the tenders for the building of the new parsonage on the lot at the rear of the church were opened.

A large number of tenders were received and the contract was awarded to H. C. Stabler at $3,250, this to include the heating and plumbing.

Mr. Stabler's tender was one hundred dollars lower than the next above him. The contract calls for the building to be completed by November first next.

PERSONAL.

Mr. W. W. Daly is in Lindsay for a day or two.

Mr. W. H. Bradburn is in Toronto on business to-day.

Messrs. A. J. and R. G. Gough left yesterday on a purchasing trip east.

Mrs. T. McMahon, of Rochester, N. Y., is visiting her mother, Mrs. D. Costello.

There is no change in Mr. Wm. Walsh's condition to-day. He still continues very low.

Mr. John Lansing is lying very ill at St. Joseph's Hospital. He is suffering from attack of appendicitus.

Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., has been chosen a member of the Advisory Committee of the Kingston School of Mining and Agriculture.

Rev. W. R. Young left yesterday to attend the meeting of the Bay of Quinte Conference at Bowmanville, and Rev. J. J. Rae left for the same place to-day.

It is a pleasure to say that the condition of Mr. M. W. Matchett, who has been suffering from a severe attack of quinsy, is improving. He is still at 91 Hunter street, being yet unable to return to his home, where many of his friends, not knowing of his absence, have called to see him.

The Lindsay Post says:—"A bicycling party from Peterborough, comprising Messrs. O. B. Shortly, Geo. Dixon, J. H. Hall, Roger Davidson, Harry King and W. C. Davidson, reached town yesterday about noon, and after dining at the Benson House, set out on the return journey about three o'clock. They reported a very pleasant run out as far as Omemee, where the roads became very heavy.

NO FISHING UNTIL WEDNESDAY.

We learn that some of our local fishermen calculated on taking a fishing excursion to Rice Lake to-day in search of maskinonge, under the impression that the close season for such fish in Rice Lake ends May 31st. Such is not the case, however, as will be seen by the following table, which states that the fish named shall not be caught, sold or had in possession between the two dates given, both of which are strictly inclusive in each case:

Bass—15th April to 15th June.
*Maskinonge—15th April to 15th June.
*In Rice Lake, close season for maskinonge ends 1st June.
Salmon Trout—1st to 30th of November.
Whitefish—1st to 30th of November.

Mrs. S. James, Seaforth, suffered for years with what is called old people's rash. She was treated by many physicians without any result. Mr. Fear, the local druggist, recommended Dr. Chase's Ointment, which relieved the irritation at once and speedily effected a permanent cure of the skin eruption. Mrs. James also says Dr. Chase's Ointment cured her of Itching Piles which she had been troubled with for years.

Change in the Flour Business.

Having bought the business formerly carried on by the firm of Meldrum & McAllister, together with all trade marks and brands of flour, I will again give my personal attention to making the old reliable brands of flour formerly made by me, which will take the prominent position they always occupied when under my control. I have made arrangements with three of the best mills in the Dominion to supply me with flour till I rebuild, and will guarantee all my goods. To my numerous patrons and friends, who have loyally supported me for the last ten years, you will find me at the old stand, Stevenson's storehouse, corner Simcoe and Bethune streets, where the highest market price will be paid for all grain; and flour and feed sold at lowest possible prices, consistent with quality. Ask for the old reliable brand of flour, "Mikado.—W. H. MELDRUM." dw

TAKE A HINT FROM MARY.

Mary had a little lamb;
You do not look surprised,
Of course you don't, for Mary has
Been widely advertised.
And something you may learn from this
If you are not a clam;
You can be just as widely known
As Mary and her lamb.
Your name can be a household word
And you be known so well
That folks will confidently buy
The things you have to sell.
And when you once have got yourself
Into the cheering rays
Of the sunlight of publicity,—
You bet your life it pays.

ONE HONEST MAN.

DEAR EDITOR,—Please inform your readers that if written to confidentially, I will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigour, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy.

RESOLUTIONS OF CONDOLENCE.

Passed by Branch No. 21, Emerald Beneficial Association.

The following resolutions were unanimously passed at the last regular meetings of St. Peter's Branch, No. 21, E. B. A., May 13th and May 27th:

Whereas it has pleased Almighty God in His infinite wisdom to call to His eternal reward John McAuliffe, father of our worthy brother Redmond McAuliffe, be it therefore resolved, That we, the members of the above branch, do tender to Bro. R. McAuliffe and relatives our heartfelt sympathy and condolence in this the hour of their sad affliction and pray that the Giver of all good may enable them to bear with Christian fortitude the loss they have sustained. Be it further resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to Bro. R. McAuliffe, spread on the minutes of our meeting and a copy sent to the official organ for publication.

MAY WEATHER NOTES.

A Rainy Record—Rain on Twenty-one Days—Low Temperature, but not to the Freezing Point.

Numerous showers characterized the past month of May. Out of the thirty-one days in the month rain fell on twenty-one days, the heaviest fall being on the 2nd of the month. The total amount was 3.67 inches, as compared with 2.72 inches last May. May, of 1896, had ten days in which rain fell.

The highest temperature of the month was on the 11th, namely, 77 degrees. On the 9th of May, 1896, 90 degrees in the shade was recorded. The lowest temperature of the month was 34 degrees, on the 22nd, while frost was noticed on several occasions. However, the freezing point was not reached.

The average temperature of the month as a whole was 53.83 degrees. This is about 10 degrees lower than last May (which was an exceptionally warm month) and about 2 degrees below the average.

The mean daily range was 18.8 degrees. The weather, though colder, was of a more equable nature than last May.

O.S. Doan, of Clinton, says not to go on suffering as he did for years with Salt Rheum, when a few boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment will cure you.

Dr. Chase's Ointment cured Hiram Frey, of Norwood, after suffering ten years with Eczema of the leg.

Chase's Ointment also cured his little girl of Eczema on her face.

THE Y. M. C. A. GYMNASIUM FUND CONTEST.

The Blues Must Work and Win—The Reds are One Point Up.

Because they are 1 point behind to-day.

Because the gymnasium fund lacks $150 yet.

Because we have only three days more.

Because it is reported on good authority that the Reds have a large sum "up their sleeve."

Parties who have subscribed to either side can leave the amount at the secretary's office, where it will be properly credited.

The Reds are going to entertain on Thursday evening. Their bill of fare on that evening will be "Sawdust without Butter." On Friday it will be bread—with water thrown in.

We don't care for prison fare when we can get better with a little hard work.

There will be a big union rally at the old rooms on Friday night. A good programme will be arranged and returns will be announced up to 9 o'clock, when the contest will be declared closed.

Let every man put his shoulder to the wheel and roll up the 500.

Bright leafy June is ushered in
With a vault of cloudless blue;
Let the "Blue" boys work and "Blue" must win—
And they'll win if their duty they do.

"Blues" work no game of guarantee—
They insist on cash in hand;
They work on the rule of equity,
And by right they fall or stand.

The "Reds" have "points bid up their sleeves,"
The "Blues" have a laugh up theirs;
And they'll bring it forth, you may well believe,
When Friday their victory declares.

"He laugheth best who laugheth last,"
The "Blues" want the ultimate smile,
It will come with a roar like a clarion blast
When Friday tots up their "pile."

NEWS NUGGETS.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

—Leafy June!

—The June bugs are wearing spring overcoats.

—Belleville veterans hold a banquet to-morrow night to commemorate the Battle of Ridgeway.

—The Chief of Police wants an owner for a purse picked up on Water street on Saturday.

—The steamer City of Peterborough left port this morning for Hastings. Quite a number of passengers took in the trip.

—Commodore Calcutt has kindly offered the Sons of England the free use of Riverside Park for Jubilee Day, providing a list of sports are run off.

—The new uniforms for No. 4 field battery have arrived, and will be distributed to-night by Capt. Snider at the Customs House.

Mr. John Nugent's handsome cottage on Bear Island, Stony Lake, is about completed. The painters are now putting on the finishing touches.

Welcome, bright June, with all its smiling hours,
With song of birds, and stir of leaves and wings,
And run of rills, and bubble of cool springs,
And hourly burst of pretty buds to flowers.

—According to the new regulations from Washington, the U.S. flag will fly from the consulate every day when the weather is favourable, instead of only occasionally, as formerly.

Lawn mowers, $3.25, garden hose, lawn sprinklers at 25, 45 and 90c., nozzles, couplings, menders, washers, lawn rakes. GEORGE STETHEM & SON, next the Post Office. 2dw-w

—The Belleville city council will give $300 towards the Jubilee celebration fund of that city, $150 of which goes to the Board of Education, $50 to the Separate School and $100 to the general committee.

—Grain coffee is rich in bone-making properties, therefore it is just the thing for children. Tea and coffee is very injurious, especially for young persons. You can get Madden Cereal, the grain coffee, from any grocer.

—After many threats the Fire Underwriters' Association has notified the council that after June 1st, the town of Oshawa will be rated one grade lower, which will mean an increase of fifteen per cent. in the cost of insurance.

—The Y.M.C.A. camp at Kingston the last three weeks of June will be a big affair—it is expected that nearly 3,000 men and boys will be under canvass. A free reading room will be one of the attractions where all the leading papers of Midland and Central Ontario will be kept on file. Mr. W. J. Mallagh, formerly of Lindsay, is secretary of the Kingston Y.M.C.A.

—The publishers of the Montreal Star are bringing out two magnificent Jubilee souvenirs. A grand photographic portrait of Queen Victoria, 22 x 30, said by every one who has seen it to be by long odds the finest thing brought out in connection with the Jubilee. The Star has also had executed a grand Canadian Jubilee Medal, beautifully designed and struck. These two souvenirs by the Star will make Canada talked about the world over. Happy indeed should those be who secure these two treasures.

—The annual report of Mr. A. W. Campbell, C.E., provincial instructor in road-making, is now being mailed to municipal officers, members of Farmers' Institutes, dairymen's, fruit growers' and all kindred associations. The question of road and street improvement is one attracting considerable attention at the present time, and it is the wish of the minister of agriculture that the report should reach all who take an interest in the subject. Any person not receiving a report may obtain one on application to Mr. Campbell, at the Parliament Buildings, Toronto, or to the Department of Agriculture.

THE HASTINGS DAM.

The Farmers Waiting for the Government Valuator's Report on the Matter.

Another meeting was held on Saturday afternoon in the council chamber, with Mayor Yelland in the chair, to discuss the matter of the land along the river being flooded on account of the Hastings dam.

Representatives were present from the townships along the river and it was decided not to take any steps in regard to appealing to the Government until the Government Valuator, Mr. Geo. H. Pope, had made his report on the matter.

Attention was drawn at the meeting to the serious aspect of the case as affecting the farmers, who stated that they were unable to get in their crops early on account of the flooding in the spring, which also annually destroyed the grass.

The opinion was advanced that if the water could be let away faster through the Hastings dam in the spring the difficulty would be remedied.

LACROSSE.

As the Young Capitols cannot come to Peterborough on June 22nd, on account of a Jubilee celebration in Ottawa, the Checkers, of Beaverton, Peterborough's old antagonists, will be asked to come for a match on that date.

The Peterboroughs are practising hard for their game with the Tecumsehs. Last night there were over a score of players on the field, and a splendid practice was the result. The senior home field played against its own defence, and some very fast work was done. It was expected that Phelan and Borland would have shown up, but neither have been able to turn out to practice yet. Both are much needed to strengthen the team for the big game.

The Juniors are putting up a very fast game, but all of them have not been out to practice yet:

An endeavour will be made to have Millbrook come up some evening and give the boys a good practise game before the Tecumseh match.

THE WHEEL.

The Victorias hold their second club run to-morrow night.

The Victorias will assemble at 7.15 o'clock sharp to-morrow evening at the club rooms, as Mr. R. M. Roy will take a photograph of the members before they start on their weekly run. The route will be Crawford's Grove and back.

The most important part of the bicycle requiring attention is the chain. When one stops to consider the numerous small pieces that constitute this part of the driving gear, and its exposed position in regard to the elements, it is not to be wondered that, allowed to take care for itself, it should go wrong. Few riders bother to remove the chain from the sprocket wheels in cleaning, but this simple operation should be done at least once a week, and each link and block wiped carefully, removing every trace of dirt and grit. In case of rust, it is a good plan to soak the chain over night in kerosene oil, after which treatment it should be carefully wiped off. In some chains the blocks are drilled out and a small felt pad inserted, the entire chain receiving a bath in lubricating oil for twenty-four hours before attaching to the machine. This is of advantage, as the presence of the oil repels rust, and the pads can be treated to a fresh supply of lubricant after each cleaning. Many riders prefer graphite, but a combination of graphite and oil, and even vaseline, is not uncommon. No matter what lubricant is used, care should be taken to keep the chain clean, and the result will be satisfactory to the rider. When the chain is removed the sprocket should be cleaned and the bearings examined, and any side play taken up by the adjusting cones. A ball bearing should be tightened just enough to allow it to revolve without binding. The task of adjustment is not a difficult one, and a little practise will enable one to become an expert. It is as well, however, to refrain from tinkering too much, as all first-class bicycles are carefully adjusted by experts before shipment, and rarely require any attention to the bearings.

There are many things for which a strong-armed committee of mature riders might find itself useful, chief among which is the suppression of the "yawp." Now the "yawp" is a very peculiar bird. He dashes out from the bushes that screen a corner, and tears at full speed through a bevy of fair maids, ringing a door-bell loudly as he does so. He narrowly escapes sending any luckless wight who may get in his way to earth, and rejoices in taking chances which no mortal in full possession of his sense would dare to take. He has been known to glory in having shot between a horse's legs, doubled in half, so as to avoid striking the stomach of the horse. The "yawp" is usually a scorcher. Every cyclist will join heartily in any measures, however radical, the police may take to suppress him. He is a danger to the public body of sensible riders who go to the public parks for rest and recreation, and those who puncture his tires with an air gun as he rides are deserving a vote of thanks.

—Brain workers who have trouble in digesting coffee will enjoy Madden Cereal Food Coffee; try it.

BENSFORT.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Miss Florence Nimmo, of Peterborough, visiting friends in Monaghan.

Miss Lizzie Riddell, of Toronto, is visiting friends in Bensfort.

Mr. Thos. J. Nimmo spent the 24th of May in Toronto.

Mr. George Smithson, one of Bensfort's popular contractors and builders, has the contract of erecting Mr. Wm. Henry's new residence at Hale's Bridge.

Mr. R. O'Hare has commenced operations on his new dwelling. Mr. Wm. Thompson is superintending its erection.

Mr. D. H. Morrison is breaking in a colt. It promises to be something extra when properly broken.

Mr. Thomas Woods sold a horse recently for the neat little sum of $140. Mr. Woods always had good roadsters.

Mr. Davidson, of Myrtle, buyer for Mr. Jas. McFee, of Montana, has been through Monaghan buying cattle. He purchased in the neighbourhood of 1000 head in Monaghan alone. The prices paid were good. He was accompanied by Mr. James Bullied, of Millbrook.

Mr. Chas. Stirton lost a valuable mare and colt recently.

We are happy to announce the wedding of Mr. Richard Thornbeck to Miss Mary Medd, both of Bensfort. We wish them every happiness and success in their married life.

The Sunday School excursion on Friday, June 4th, promises to be one of the leading events in the history of Bensfort for the season of 1897. Everybody welcome.

NOT A SICK DAY

For Over Thirty Years!

RESULT OF USE

AYER'S PILLS

"Ayer's Cathartic Pills for over thirty years have kept me in good health, never having had a sick day all that time. Before I was twenty I suffered almost continually—as a result of constipation—from dyspepsia, headaches, neuralgia, or boils and other eruptive diseases. When I became convinced that nine-tenths of my troubles were caused by constipation, I began the use of Ayer's Pills, with the most satisfactory results, never having a single attack that did not readily yield to this remedy. My wife, who had been an invalid for years, also began to use Ayer's Pills, and her health was quickly restored. With my children I had noticed that nearly all their ailments were preceded by constipation, and I soon had the pleasure of knowing that with children as with parents, Ayer's Pills, if taken in season, avert all danger of sickness."—H. WETTSTEIN, Byron, Ill.

WHAT DOES THE TURK MEAN?

Abdul Hamid is Playing a Double-Dealing Game With the Powers.

London, May 29.—The negotiations at Constantinople have entered upon the anxious stage, owing to doubts as to the real intentions of the Sultan, whether he means to resume the war or not. A spirit of conciliation is shown at the Yildiz Kiosk towards the ambassadors, but the Turkish Government is playing a double game and is inciting public opinion secretly to oppose the abandonment of Thessaly.

The Sultan affects to be greatly afraid of the Islamic party and the attitude of the Grand Vizier, as shown by the report which he presented to the Sultan on Saturday last, urging that the whole of Islam was fully determined to retain Thessaly, and tendering his resignation in case Abdul Hamid differed with these views, has created a greater impression, if the suspicion had not already prevailed that the report was merely a got-up affair to enable the Sultan to refer to Islamic pressure as the reason for not yielding to the powers. Besides, the Turkish Government is trying to induce the population of Thessaly to appeal to the Sultan for annexation. Advices from Thessaly show that agents of the Turkish Government have been calling upon the Thessalian, Mussulmans and Spanish Hebrews to protest against the evacuation of Thessaly, and those Greeks who have not fled dare not refuse to join in the movement.

The Turkish newspaper Sa Bah, which only publishes what is endorsed by the Turkish Government, congratulates the inhabitants of Thessaly upon their alleged decision in favor of Turkish rule and points out the blessings of the Ottoman regime to the Christians, who, it is claimed, will benefit by lower taxes and exemption from military service.

The Ambassadors' Reply is Peaceful.

Constantinople, May 29.—The ambassadors of the powers, in their reply to the Porte's note of May 28, (saying the Turkish Government consents to negotiate for peace, provided the great commanders first sign an armistice, and that so soon as this is done the Turkish Government will negotiate the peace conditions with the ambassadors, the treaty to be signed by the Turkish and Greek plenipotentiaries in Thessaly), announced to-day that they do not object to the conclusion of a military armistice, and will take steps at Athens with the object of securing it. But in the meanwhile they are of the opinion that the discussion of the peace conditions should begin without delay.

Earthquake Added to War.

Athens, May 29.—A shock of earthquake was felt in various parts of Greece to-day, and was especially severe at Larvia and Patras. The disturbance was slight in Athens.

Order Will be Maintained.

Athens, May 29.—There appears to be little inclination here to accept the accusations against the Royal family, made in certain newspapers, and the maintenance of order is fully assured. Prince Constantine has received an invitation to attend Queen Victoria's diamond jubilee next month. The opportunity for such a visit on the part of the Crown Prince has given rise to much discussion.

The workman often eats his lunch on the same bench where he does his work. The office man turns his desk into a dining table. Neither gets the out of doors exercise he needs, neither takes the proper time for eating. It is small wonder that the digestion of both gets out of order. In such cases Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets come to their assistance by aiding nature in taking care of the food.

The cause of nine tenths of the sickness of the world is constipation. From this cause come indigestion; disorders of the stomach, liver and kidneys; biliousness, headaches, flatulence, heartburn, impurity of the blood and the serious complication that follow. To begin with, constipation is a little thing, and a little thing will cure it. The Pleasant Pellets are tiny, sugar-coated granules. They will perfectly cure the worst case of constipation and indigestion. If the druggist tries to sell you some other pill that pays him greater profit, just think of what will best pay you.

BASEBALL RECORD

EASTERN LEAGUE.

Toronto, May 31.

Williams had a heart-breaking game to pitch on Saturday before a good crowd at the Island oval, but he stayed on the slab to the close, notwithstanding the cannonade of the Bisonic aggregation. McGann and Lash made very rank errors that kept the visitors on the inside. The redheads and their comrades made 17 hits for a total of 32 bases, including four homers, one triple and three doubles.

Buffalo, May 30. An enormous crowd witnessed the Buffalo Toronto game to-day, the weather being perfect. The game was a pretty and exciting one until the ninth, when Grey became unsteady and gave a couple of bases on balls. This, with some timely hitting and costly errors, gave Toronto the victory. Score:

R.H.E.

Rochester	0 0 0 0 0 2 1 1 0—4 10 2

Batteries—Willis and Shaw; Yerrick and Zahner.

At Providence—The game between Springfield and Providence at Rocky Point this afternoon was witnessed by 2000 persons, a good crowd for the first day of the season down the river. The game was exciting and evenly contested. Costly errors figured in the scoring on both sides, but those of the Springfields were the most costly. A wild throw by Gilbert strengthened the lead of the Greys by two runs at the end. Score:

HOME RUNS AT GUELPH.

Guelph, May 29.—A very poor game of baseball was played here this afternoon between London and the Leafs. Each team put in three pitchers, but the Blue Jays got decidedly the worst of it. Guelph made 19 hits, three of them being home runs, and most of the others long drives. In the seventh Snyder made the longest hit ever seen on the grounds by the ball striking the centre field fence. Following is the score:

R. H. E.

Guelph	3 4 0 8 0 0 0 5 4—24 19 6
London	0 0 0 0 4 4 0 0 0—8 13 4

Batteries—Bradford, Lee, O'Brien, Vigneaux and Taylor; Seifert, Carney, Johnston and Snyder. Umpire—Reid.

Hamilton, May 29.—(Special.)—The Hamiltons had little difficulty in defeating the Torontos in the league baseball match at Dundurn Park this afternoon. There was no very hard hitting, but two home runs were made. Lauer, the new first-baseman for the Hams, and Phillips doing the trick. In the course of the game three balls were knocked over left field fence. Dyson of Guelph, the latest appointment by President Cal Davis, was umpire. The score:

The Lost Lake Agassiz

Lake Agassiz was a very large body of water in Manitoba, adjoining parts of North Dakota and Minnesota. It had a north and south diameter of 700 miles—very much larger than any of the five great lakes of the present time. Lake Agassiz was formed in this way: The great ice sheet which came down from the north was a series of great glaciers. For these there were three principal areas of distribution. The first was in Labrador, the second in the highlands west of the St. Lawrence River and south of Hudson's Bay, the third the mountain ranges of British Columbia. These three great floes of ice reached their maximum extent at different times. The Kiwatti glacier swept down over Manitoba into the upper Mississippi valley into Minnesota, and probably down as far as Iowa; then it commenced to retreat, and while it was retreating, the great Laurentian glacier from Labrador was coming in from the east. There came a time when the Kiwatti glacier formed a northern dam and the Laurentian glacier an eastern dam, the two standing nearly at right angles; and in this great dammed-up space was formed Lake Agassiz. It rose until it could overflow the barrier to the south, and thus discharge into the Mississippi River by means of a river which has now entirely disappeared, and was known as the River Warren, after the late Gen. George K. Warren, who first discovered it. This lake continued until the glaciers up there, retreating, one to the northward and the other to the eastward, separated and left a space between them. Then the drainage way to Hudson's Bay was opened again, and the lake was very rapidly drawn in that direction. We can find perfectly well the old beach line and the old drainage outlets by which this drainage of Lake Agassiz was completed. The old terraces and beaches are there to-day, and the level bottom of the lake is clearly shown. The whole history of the lake has been made out with perfect clearness and definiteness.

CATARRH

Mrs. Dobell, of London, Ont., Cured for 25 Cents

Doctors Could Help, but Couldn't Cure—Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure Released the Prisoner, and To-day She is as Well as Ever—She Says it is a Great Remedy

"Yes, I am Mrs. Dobell," said a comely, pleasant-faced woman at her home on Horton street to a News reporter to-day, "and I will very gladly tell you what you want to know. About three years ago my husband was very ill, and I had frequently occasion to rise in the night and go for a doctor or to the druggist. In my hurry I often neglected to properly clothe myself, and contracted several heavy colds, which turned at last to chronic catarrh. I tried doctors, who helped me, but did not cure me, and several special catarrh medicines. I was relieved but not cured. I was suffering intolerably when Mr. Shuff recommended me to try CHASE'S CATARRH CURE, and it began at once to help, and in about two months had entirely cured me. I cannot speak too highly of this remarkable medicine, and cheerfully recommend it to all sufferers from catarrh." The blower included is a great help to sufferers.

The drowning of a woman is a shuddersome sight. Yet it is swift and comparatively painless, and blissful, compared to the pain and agony suffered for many years by many thousands of women. Most of the suffering endured by women may be traced to one great, aggravating set of disorders. The woman who does not take proper care of the organs distinctly feminine is sure to be sickly, nervous, fretful, and racked with pain. She is unfitted for wifehood and motherhood. Every woman owes it to herself to be strong and healthy in a womanly way. She may insure this if she will use the proper remedy.

The greatest of all medicines for weak and suffering women is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It acts directly upon the delicate organs that make wifehood and motherhood possible. It makes them healthy and vigorous. It cures all weakness and disease. It allays inflammation, soothes pain and stops weakening drains. The nerves become steady, and calm, and health resumes its natural sway throughout the system. It prepares for wifehood and motherhood. Over 90,000 women have testified to its marvelous virtues and all good druggists sell it.

Ignorance of her own physical nature is responsible for a great deal of the pain and suffering that woman undergoes. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is the best medical book for the home. It is now on the bookshelves of over a million American households. Several chapters of the book are devoted to the diseases and weaknesses of the organs distinctly feminine. Every woman should read it. It contains over 1,000 pages. Any one may obtain a paper-covered copy, absolutely FREE, by sending 21 one-cent stamps to cover the cost of customs and mailing only, to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y. If a handsome, durable cloth binding is desired, send 50 one-cent stamps.

HER MAJESTY'S DIAMOND JUBILEE.

THE LONDON CELEBRATION.

Sketch of the Proposed Festivities in Which the Queen Will Take Part—The Historical Aspect of the Reign—The Empire and Its Constituent Parts.

The most brilliant periods in English history have been those when a female ruler occupied the throne. The age of Elizabeth was the most glorious period of English literature; it was also the age of Raleigh and Drake and Frobisher, when the nation suddenly burst into a larger life, and felt the first pulsations of imperial power. The age of Anne was the age when English language and literature were polished and perfected by such intellectual giants as Addison, Swift, Pope, Atterbury and Bolingbroke; it was the age of Marlborough and Peterborough, who added glory to British arms and extended and established British power in Europe. The Victorian age has been in many respects more remarkable and glorious than any other. It has been rich in literary production, richer still in scientific discovery and philosophical development, and richest in material progress and in the spread of philanthropic spirit and other humanizing influences.

It is therefore not surprising that the celebration of the Queen's Diamond Jubilee on the 22nd June next, when our beloved Queen, Victoria, will have completed the 60th year of her reign, will outclass any celebration which has been held since the days of Imperial Cæsar. In every sense this will be Queen's year. In all the lands which own her sovereignty throughout an empire some portion of which is always sunlit, the occasion will be celebrated.

The preparations for this event are now well under way and every man, woman and child in the united kingdom seems to feel as if each would have at least a small portion of the great rejoicings of this series of days. Properly the observance will begin June 20, accession day, but the day of days will be June 22, and this is the real occasion of the diamond jubilee. Around this date have been grouped the plans of a celebration such as no one at least in modern days every imagined would take place.

Right Hon. C. P. Villiers. Earl Nelson.

Lord Leicester. Gladstone, 60 Years Ago.
THE FOUR SURVIVORS.

Oddly enough, the jubilee itself is proof positive of the somewhat surprising modesty of one of the world's greatest rulers. It is the people who have brought about the jubilee and not the Queen. In fact, that lady was originally opposed to it, for in her motherly heart she objects to fuss and feathers, and finds to-day, as she has ever, more enjoyment in her own home, royal though it be, even in its simplicity. However, Victoria is an earnest believer in vox populi, vox dei. The head of the most liberal monarchy that ever enjoyed existence, she, while preserving the rightful position of the house of Guelph, constantly remembers that the wants and wishes of the majority of the millions who bow to the sway of her scepter should be paramount. As a matter of fact, the use of the personal pronoun in the Queen's address to Parliament has become a figure of speech. Near to the people she has always been, and in each of the sixty years that have elapsed since she ascended the throne, barely more than a child, she has grown more democratic.

All England, therefore, is looking forward to June. While the 20th is Accession Day and the day following an occasion for rejoicing, June 22 is the time set for the ceremonial. It will include a religious service outside St. Paul's Cathedral, the acceptance of an address outside the Mansion house from the Lord Mayor and citizens of London, a presentation from the children of England, and a tour through the important streets of the city and west end.

While the ceremonial is on Tuesday, the Queen will go to London on Monday. About 11 o'clock Tuesday morning Her Majesty, accompanied by an escort in which every power of the world will be represented as well as all her colonies, will start from Buckingham Palace for St. Paul's Cathedral. The immediate attendants of the Queen will fill twelve carriages. These attendants include royal princesses and maids of honor and other feminine dignitaries of the court in waiting. The guard of honor of the Queen will be composed entirely of the princes of the reigning houses of Europe who may then be in England. The Queen will ride in an open carriage drawn by those famous cream colored Flemish horses which every Londoner has learned to know. The Princess of Wales will occupy the carriage with the Queen.

Before and behind the procession of carriages will be an escort of troops formed of representative regiments of every colony in the British Empire, besides representatives of all the arms of the regular British service. There will be other processions in the vicinity of that in which the Queen is the feature consisting of the suites of foreign countries and other notables. After leaving the great central gates of Buckingham Palace, the Queen will be slowly driven to St. Paul's Cathedral. Upon arriving beneath the great steps, the carriage of the Queen will stop and those of the ladies attending on her will be drawn up behind and on either side of the Queen's carriage. Selected members of the clergy will then take up a position on the center of the steps and a short service will be carried out, consisting of a prayer, a special anthem, and an address by His Grace the Archbishop of Canterbury. This will be followed by a processional hymn or some other jubilant music. The princes who are acting as the Queen's escort will remain seated on horseback during the service. It is expected that about twenty minutes will be occupied by this ceremonial. Then the Queen's procession will be reformed and proceed to the Mansion House, where Her Majesty will be presented with a special address from the citizens of London. Then the procession will reform and return to Buckingham Palace.

AGED 20

The streets through which the procession will pass will be lined with soldiers and sailors, representing every arm of the British service. Guards of honor, with bands, will be placed at intervals throughout the whole length of the route. It is estimated that the time occupied by the procession from the moment of leaving Buckingham palace to the return, will be two hours and twenty-five minutes. The Queen will not be seen in public again, except at the receptions which will be given, until June 24, when she returns to Windsor castle.

To tell all that the Queen's Jubilee means, all that will transpire in consequence thereof, is a task the end of which would be distant indeed.—Love.

CONTEMPORARIES.

Only Four Who Were Present at the Coronation Are Now in the Land of the Living.

Queen Victoria has outlived nearly all of her contemporaries. This is perhaps not a fresh piece of news. But it is brought to mind just now in a peculiarly vivid manner by the fact that of all those peers and personages who attended the coronation of Her Majesty, only four remain to figure in the grand diamond celebration which will be held on June 22 next.

AGED 32

They are the Earl Nelson, who, as a 13-year-old peer donned his silver coronet for the only time in his life at the moment when the Archbishop of Canterbury solemnly placed the crown of Great Britain upon the head of the Queen; the patriarchal Earl of Leicester, who acted on that occasion as page of honor and train-bearer to the sovereign's uncle, the old Duke of Sussex; Mr. Gladstone, now in his 88th year, and Mr. Villiers, "the Father of the House," who at the age of 95 still takes part in the deliberations of Parliament.

Both Mr. Gladstone and Mr. Villiers witnessed the Queen's coronation from that portion of Westminster Abbey reserved for the accommodation of the members of the first Parliament of the present reign.

A Mutual Mistake.

Two ladies stood on the doorstep of a friend's house, waiting for admission, and they became very impatient at the delay.

"It's very odd to be kept waiting at Mrs. Darley's," said one. "The door is usually opened so promptly."

"So it is. I'm getting very tired."

"I wonder if there is absolutely no one in the house?"

"Of course there are people in. We'll ring again."

"You rang before, didn't you?"

"Why, no. I thought you rang."

"Well, I was sure you rang. How ridiculous!"

"Yes," isn't it?"

Then one of them rang, and the door was opened.—Tid-Bits.

A FARMER IN A FURY

Gilbert Smith Attempted to Kill His Wife.

HE IS NOW IN JAIL AT COBOURG

Committed for Trial by a Justice in Haldimand Township—Chased the Woman to the Barnyard and Struck Her With a Section of a Buggy Spring.

Cobourg, Ont., May 31.—Mr. Gilbert Smith, a farmer, 45 years of age, is now in the County Jail here awaiting his trial on a charge of assault with intent to kill.

It appears that on Monday, the 17th inst., Mr. Smith, who lives with his wife and family on their farm near Fenella, in the township of Haldimand, 15 miles from here, had a dispute with his wife regarding family matters, and he threatened to kill her.

He threw her down outside the door and dragged her around by the hair. His eldest daughter, Nellie, a girl of 14 years of age, and a young son, Fred, aged 12, caught hold of their father's arms, to try and prevent him from hurting their mother. Through their interference she became released and ran towards a neighbor's, named William Milne. She ran through the barnyard as the shortest way to Mr. Milne's. When she started to run Smith picked up the leaf of a buggy spring and started in pursuit of his wife. When he overtook her in the barnyard he struck her on the head at the base of the skull, inflicting a severe scalp wound, which involved at least the outer plate of the skull.

After Mrs. Smith had fallen he struck her twice about the hips, inflicting two very severe bruises, one five inches long and one four inches long by two inches wide. After inflicting these wounds Smith left his wife for dead, and calmly proceeded to repair a box in a wagon, which was near by. Edith Smith, another daughter, went over to Mr. Milne's and told him what had transpired. He returned with the girl and found Mrs. Smith with her head lying down a slight incline. She was unconscious and supposed to be dead.

Smith came down to where Mr. Milne was standing, and was asked if he had killed his wife, to which he replied: "No, she is up to some more of her tricks," that he had not touched her.

Milne then went for some of the neighbors. After he had left, Smith sent the boy Fred to the house for some clean water, and he proceeded to bathe his wife's head and care for her as best he could. After she regained consciousness he carried her to the house.

In a short time Mr. Milne arrived with a doctor, who made a careful examination of the wounds and found them to be of a very serious nature. Smith was shortly afterward arrested, charged with assault with intent to kill. He was given a hearing before Platt Hinman, J. P., at Grafton, on the 26th inst., when he was committed for trial.

Greians are Threatening

London, June 1.—The Athens correspondent of The Times, in a despatch dated yesterday, urges the powers to make a speedy and firm statement as to the Cretan difficulty, and to insist upon Turkish evacuation, after which, he says, the Cretan chiefs will be willing to accept autonomy. If, on the contrary, Turkey is allowed to send more troops to Crete, there will be a renewal of the horrors of 1866-68.

Another Royal Betrothal.

Copenhagen, May 27.—The Princess Ingeborg Charlotte Frederica, second daughter of the Crown Prince Christian of Denmark, was betrothed at Bernstorff Castle to-day to Prince Carl, Duke of Westergotland, third son of King Oscar II., of Norway and Sweden. The Princess was born August, 1878, at Charlottenland and Prince Carl at Stockholm on February 27, 1861.

CLOTHED FOR

$7.00

People take pride in telling of some of the Bargains they get at Gough Bros. The ordinary man would consider it clever buying if he spent no more than $25 for an entire outfit, including Suit, Shoes, Hat, Underwear, &c. But we make it possible to secure a serviceable outfit for less than $7.00, and this is not figuring on the cheapest goods either. The following bill of goods shows the possiblities which await bargain-seekers at our two big stores:—

All-Wool Halifax Tweed Suit	$3.75
Serviceable Pair of Shoes	1.00
Stiff or Soft Felt Hat	.50
Undershirt	.20
Drawers	.20
Sox	.08
Suspenders	.10
Shirt	.30
Collar	.07
Tie	.08
Handkerchief	.05
	$6.33

Although these prices may seem ridiculous, they are the minimum price of the goods enumerated. A man with this outfit would be fairly well dressed.

OUR PROFITS are made in the buying. You have the same chance.

Selling Clothing alongside of Boots, Shoes, Hats, Caps and Furnishings, as well as forming one of the syndicate of eight big stores, who buy in immnse quantities, gives use normous advantages not found in strictly Clothing, Hat or Shoe Stores.

The House Finally Passes the Preferential Clause.

MR. M'NEILL HAD AN AMENDMENT

Which Was Voted Down by 67 to 33, and Then the Resolution Went Through Allen Labor Bills Before the Special Committee—Talk of Early Prorogation.

Ottawa, June 1.—(Special.)—The special committee appointed to look the alien labor bills of Mr. Taylor and Mr. Cowan into legislative shape met this morning and completed its work.

Mr. Davies described the American law as an infamous and heathenish thing. This was the feeling produced by his recent careful examination of it.

Mr. Sifton (in a jocular mood): "I don't think, Mr. Chairman, you are fit to sit on this committee." [Laughter.]

Mr. Davies: I don't think I should. If I had known at the time I was appointed, I would not have been. He was of opinion that the act should only be put in force by future proclamation of the Government.

Mr. Cowan and Mr. Wood wanted the act to go in force if it passed.

Mr. Davies suggested a clause that the act should not come into force until a date fixed by the Governor-General.

The committee decided that the law would come into force when passed.

Mr. Sifton, Mr. Wood, Mr. Taylor, Mr. Cragrain and Mr. Cowan supported this, while Mr. Davies and Mr. Langelier wanted the act put in force by proclamation.

The bill will only apply to such countries as will have similar legislation against Canada.

There is talk in the lobbies to-night of Parliament proroguing on the 19th inst., to enable most of the members to celebrate the jubilee at their own homes.

Mr. Laurier leaves here on Thursday morning at 8 o'clock for Montreal, where he will spend the day and proceed by the night train to New York, whence he sails by the Lucania Saturday.

He will be accompanied by Madam Laurier and his private secretary, Mr. Boudreau. Chief Justice Sir Henry Strong will also be a passenger by the Lucania and will be accompanied by his grandson, Mr. L. M. Lyon, who has been on The Globe staff in the gallery this session. Sir Henry will be sworn of the Privy Council while in England, and is expected to return to Ottawa in September.

HOUSE PROCEEDINGS.

The Preferential Clause Took Up Another Day—Mr. McNeill's Amendment Voted Down.

Ottawa, June 1.—(Special.)—At the opening of the House this afternoon Mr. Davis (Saskatchewan) expressed his regret that exaggerated reports of the trouble in the Northwest had been published in the newspapers. He thought they were calculated to create a bad impression in the country and to prevent immigration. He said the report that the half-breeds were unwilling to lend assistance to the Mounted Police was absolutely untrue, 30 half-breeds from Batoche having joined the police to help capture Almighty Voice. He appealed to the Government to assist the widow of Mr. Grundy, who was killed by the Indians. Deceased has left a large family of children.

Col. Prior said that smelting men in British Columbia had communicated with him to ask how it was that effect was not given to the act passed by the Dominion last year to encourage silver lead mining. On the strength of the Government bonus capitalists had been induced to put money into these companies, but up to the present time no action had been taken by the Government on the bill. He asked whether it was the intention of the Government to give effect to the measure.

Sir Richard Cartwright said regulations had been framed, but had not yet been passed. In addition the question had arisen as to construction of the act, and this was now before the Department of Justice. As soon as the pressure of public business became easier he would call a meeting of the Treasury Board to pass the regulations.

The House went again into Committee of Ways and Means on the tariff. Dr. Sproule resumed discussion of the reciprocal clause. He contended that no reciprocal arrangements had been made with any country without the assent of Parliament, and quoted writers on international law to justify this argument.

Mr. Clancy pointed out that a tariff difficulty might arise in determining what goods were really British, and entitled to the reduced rate of duties. He asked what steps were being taken to identify British goods.

Mr. Fielding said that no doubt at the beginning there might be some difficulty in identifying the products of Great Britain, but after a while the regulations would be of such a character that the difficulty would be minimized or largely avoided. Goods manufactured abroad, passing through England, would be in some way identified, so that the true intent and meaning of the clause could be carried out as respects these goods, without admitting foreign products by mistake. The Finance Minister did not think the Government should withdraw from the important step it had taken in the matter of imperial trade, merely because custom-house difficulties were apprehended.

After remarks by Messrs. Craig and Bell (Addington), the amendment proposing Parliamentary assent to any preferential arrangement with countries other than England was lost on a division.

Mr. Foster said it was unfortunate that this information had been withheld until the time that the vote was being taken. The order in council was assented to on May 11, 1897, a long time after the tariff resolutions were brought down, consequently the whole load had been carted away before the horse was brought out, harnessed and put into the vehicle. The order was based on the report of the Controller of Customs. A man outside of the Cabinet sat in his chair and wrote down that he had decided to let such and such a country in. He sent that decision to the Cabinet to have it registered by the 13 men who composed it, having previously instructed the customs officers to carry out his decision. The Cabinet had abrogated its functions, which were being arbitrarily discharged by the Controller. In this case he had submitted his action 20 days after he had approved it for the sanction of the Governor in Council. If he could do it in the case of England he could do it in reference to any other country.

Mr. McMullen pointed out that the clause distinctly provided that the Controller of Customs should act under the authority of the Governor in Council. He said that the clause was designed to promote trade between Canada and Great Britain, and that if any amendment were needed to confine it within these limits it could easily be made. He contrasted the bitter faultfinding course of Mr. Foster and his colleagues with the action of Sir John Macdonald, who, when defeated in 1873, had accepted the situation and offered to assist Mr. Mackenzie in carrying on the Government. Mr. Foster should cultivate a little patience and show some respect for the opinion of the people who had placed Mr. Laurier in power. He should not spend his time hindering, preventing and nagging at the Government.

Mr. McNeill said he could not allow the opportunity to pass without expressing his objections to the reciprocity clause, which in some respects commanded his sympathy. He laid it down as a fact of history that no country in the world had ever succeeded in building up its industries without recourse to a policy of protection. He was unable to support the resolution under discussion, because by its terms it must—and the Government admitted it—admit, in competition with our industries, the gigantic producing agencies of the greatest countries in the world. Moreover, the Government themselves seemed scarcely to be aware of the scope and the extent of the policy to which they had committed themselves. The amendment suggested by the Government made this policy still more indefensible, as it proposed to enable the Government to discriminate against our fellow-colonists in other parts of the Empire. He held also that the reduction of the tariff on all lines of goods in favor even of England alone, to the extent of 25 per cent., was dangerous to the industries of Canada. Although born across the Atlantic, he had spent 25 of the happiest years of his life in Canada, and if he had to choose between Canadian interests and British interests he would stand for Canada. In developing the trade of Canada the trade of the Empire was also being developed. But this resolution was calculated to strike a blow at the industries of Canada. Moreover, it was in principle absolutely opposed to preferential trade of any kind with the Mother Country. Lastly, he held that the Government, by the policy they had pursued, had weakened the hands of those in the Mother Country who were desirous of getting preferential trade for the colonies in the markets of England as against the outside world. He asked whether the Government are or are not in favor of preferential trade with the Mother Country in the sense of giving her better terms in our markets than we accord to other countries, all things otherwise being equal.

Mr. Fielding, in reply, said the best answer he could give was that that was exactly what the Government was doing at the present moment. It would depend on Her Majesty's Government whether Canada was to give a preference to British goods or not, but so far as the Government was concerned they were anxious to have preferential trade with the Mother Country, and they had it at this moment.

Mr. McNeill then moved the following amendment:

That in the opinion of this House it is advisable that a customs arrangement be effected between the United Kingdom and her colonies by which trade within the Empire may be placed on a more favorable footing than that which is carried on with foreign countries. That, while it regards a reduction of 25 per cent. without any compensating advantages in the markets of the United Kingdom as greater that the industries of Canada can at present safely endure, yet, as an initial step in the direction of commercial union of the Empire, and in recognition of the many benefits conferred upon Canada, this House will make an appreciable and unconditional reduction in duties which it levies on goods, the produce of the United Kingdom only, so soon as the Government and Parliament of the United Kingdom are prepared to take advantage of such reduction.

The discussion was continued by Messrs. Kendry, McClure, Rogers, Gagnon and Domville.

Mr. E. B. Osler did not think that the resolution was really a preferential one in any way.

The amendment was then negatived by 67 to 33, and the original clause adopted on the same division reversed.

The committee then rose.

Mr. Foster was informed that the tariff would be proceeded with to-morrow after the address to the Queen had been disposed of. He remarked, as the House was about to adjourn, that business would be facilitated if the Government dropped resolution 17, the anti-combines clause.

Sir Richard Cartwright: The hon. gentleman must not indulge in any idle hopes.

The House adjourned at 12.15 a.m.

A PROTEST FROM GERMANY.

Mr. Chamberlain Notified That There is Dissatisfaction in Connection with the Canadian Tariff Proposals.

London, June 1. Replying in the House of Commons to-day to a question put by Sir Charles Howard Vincent, Conservative and Fair Trader, member for Central Sheffield, the Secretary of State for the Colonies, Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, said Belgium and Germany had protested against British goods entering Canada at a lower tariff than German and Belgian goods. Mr. Chamberlain added that the law officers of the crown were considering the matter.

The Standard, in an editorial with reference to the denouncing of the Belgian and German treaties, says it is difficult to see how a conclusion can be arrived at favorable to Canadian desires.

Transvaal Raid Enquiry.

London, June 1.—When the inquiry of the Parliamentary Committee into the Transvaal raid was resumed to-day, Mr. Alfred Beit, a former director of the British Chartered South African Company, read a statement denying the charges of Mr. Henry Labouchere to the effect that he had "rigged the market," and offered the books of his firm to prove the truth of the denial.

Lord Robert Cecil, counsel for Dr. Rutherford Harris, made an application to the committee in behalf of his client, asking that Mr. Harris be re-examined on the subject of Mr. Labouchere's letter of Tuesday last, which, while purporting to be an apology, in reality reiterated in a veiled form the charges made by Mr. Labouchere against Dr. Harris. The committee put the question under advisement.

Mr. Joseph Chamberlain testified that he was convinced Dr. Harris had not said to him that a force of the British Chartered South Africa troops would be on the border ready to assist the Uitlanders if a rising occurred at Johannesburg. Touching the raid itself, Mr. Chamberlain said the moment a suggestion of the raid was brought to his notice he cabled to Cape Town telling Sir Hercules Robinson to warn Mr. Cecil Rhodes, who was then Premier of Cape Colony. But, Mr. Chamberlain explained, nobody, however unfriendly, would believe that he (Mr. Chamberlain) had any foreknowledge or the raid or of the preparations for the raid, in view of the fact that when suspicion was aroused he had not lost an instant in taking every possible means to defeat it.

The chairman, Mr. W. L. Jackson, here announced that the committee had heard all the evidence necessary in this part of the inquiry, except in the case of Lord Selborne, the Under Secretary of State for the Colonies, and son-in-law of the Marquis of Salisbury, who will testify on Friday next, when counsel will also be heard.

SOMBRA VERSUS CHATHAM.

The Old Dispute About Drainage Revived Before the Supreme Court Judges, and the End is No Yet.

Ottawa, June 1.—(Special.)—When the Supreme Court met to-day the case of Goodwin v. The Queen was called, and Mr. Ferguson, Q.C., for the appellant, asked that it stand until next session of the court.

Mr. Ritchie, Q. C., stated that he was instructed by the Department of Justice not to oppose the application. The case stands over accordingly.

The Corporation of Sombra v. Chatham was next called, and Aylesworth, Q. C., appeared for the appellants. Wilson, Q. C., for the respondents. The proceedings in this case arose out of the adoption in 1883 by Chatham of a drainage scheme, and the constructing of a drain called the Whitebread drain. The townships adjoin each other, Sombra being on higher ground to the north, and having its own system of drainage. The scheme of Chatham comprised an embankment on the south side, and Sombra alleges that there is frequently an overflow from the Whitebread drain, causing damage and annoyance to its ratepayers. A former action was brought by Sombra to compel Chatham to complete the drain. An appeal in that action was taken to the Supreme Court (21, S. C. R., 205), resulting in a judgment ordering the completion. The present action is to restrain Chatham from finally passing the bylaw to provide for the repair of the drain and to borrow money for the cost of such repair of the drain, and for damages and costs payable by Chatham, which bylaw was previously passed in 1894. An account was also asked of moneys that came into the hands of Chatham applicable to the construction. The plaintiff (Sombra) alleges in this action that the drain was still uncompleted when the action was begun, and for some time after. It was completed when the action came on for trial, but Sombra proceeded to protect itself from assessment for a portion of the cost, of which notice had been given by Chatham. The trial judge held that it was still not completed, and gave judgment for the plaintiff township. The Court of Appeals reversed this judgment, holding that the bylaw was in reality for completion and not for repair, and dismissed the action. From that decision this appeal is brought.

The case was still proceeding when the court adjourned.

OFF TO THE YUKON.

Twenty-Five Young Winnipeggers Start for the Far North With Provisions for Two Years. Winnipeg Notes.

Winnipeg, June 1.—(Special.)—A party of 25 young men left here to-day for the Yukon gold fields. The party includes Dr. Norquay, son of the late Premier, and ex-Ald. Bannerman. The trip includes an overland journey of 400 miles from Jenus, Alaska. They will be forced to saw lumber and build a boat in the head waters of a tributary of the Yukon after crossing the mountains. They take with them provisions to last two years.

The Lake of the Woods Milling Company will this year build elevators with a total capacity of 200,000 bushels throughout the Province.

PYNY-PECTORAL
The Quick Cure for COUGHS, COLDS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, HOARSENESS, etc.

MRS. JOSEPH NORWICH, of 68 Sorauren Ave., Toronto, writes: "Pyny-Pectoral has never failed to cure my children of croup after a few doses. I cured myself of a long-standing cough after several other remedies had failed. It has also proved an excellent cough cure for my family. I prefer it to any other medicine for coughs, croup or hoarseness."

H. O. BARBOUR, of Little Rocher, N.B., writes: "As a cure for coughs Pyny-Pectoral is the best selling medicine I have. My customers will have no other."

HOW IT WASN'T DONE.

It will take the present Dominion Government a long time to uncover the inefficient and extravagant methods of the late Conservative Government's maladministrating the affairs of the country, with the result of inefficient service and an extravagant waste of money. In every department upon which the search light of investigation has been turned there are revelations of gross corruption, mismanagement, and waste of the public funds. It is well known that the Post Office Department has long been blessed with a deficit, but this is not to be wondered at in the face of revelations made through the report of the expert accountants, Messrs. W. H. Cross and W. F. Munro. In order to make the Post Office Department deficit as small as possible the late Conservative Government permitted arrears to accumulate amounting, at the time of the Liberals taking office, to $685,447. This is one of the many legacies of debt which has been left for the Liberals to pay, to this extent preventing a reduction of taxation, and when, in a proper business way, the Government demands from the House money to meet the consequences of Conservative extravagance the charge will be made by the Opposition that the Liberals have failed to carry out their promises of decreased expenditure. The outside service has also been shamefully mismanaged and the legitimate cost of conveying mails has been greatly increased by jobbery in the letting of contracts without tender and in giving favoured contractors extravagantly generous figures. But a new order of things is inaugurated now and we shall have hereafter the disparity between post office expenditure and income reduced to a minimum. Extravagance and mismanagement, which seemed to touch every department under the late Administration, will give place to economical management, and expenditure of public money only for value received, with, of course, a better service and a smaller expenditure of the public funds.

OMEMEE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Rev. Thos. Marsh, missionary to the Northwest, gave a most interesting address on missionary life in the west in the Episcopal church Sunday evening. He referred to the difficulties encountered, travelling in winter by dog trains and snow shoes. The diocese is a large one, but there are only fifteen white families, and a large number of Indians and half-breeds. They are very illiterate and much opposed to Christianity. Miss Turner, an Omemee young lady went out there about eighteen months ago, together with Miss Marsh, sister of the speaker, and are doing a good work as teachers in the Indian schools. The speaker made an earnest appeal for more help from young men—to go out as labourers.

Rev. Mr. Marsh leaves for his field of labour shortly—a distance of 3,000 miles, with his bride, a daughter of Col. Deacon, of Lindsay, who is going to share in the hardships and difficulties in the Indian and halfbreed settlement.

Mr. J. D. Thornton represented Emily and Omemee division at Fenelon Falls at the East Victoria Reformers Convention on Friday last. Mr. Austin Lumber, merchant of Kinmount, was unanimously chosen as the candidate for the ensuing elections. There were about 75 delegates present.

David Mimms is now on the way to recovery from a dangerous attack of congestion of the lungs, under the skillful treatment of Dr. J. N. Thompson.

The people who attended Sousa's band concert at Peterborough, returned delighted with the performance.

There is a certain line of loyalists who do not like to see the cartoon of Major S. Hughes and Birmingham turned downwards as appeared in the Globe.

The Downeyville picnic of this week promises to be largely attended. Reaboro L. O. L. band will be there.

HARVEY

From Our Own Correspondent.

Mr. Noxon Harris met with a serious accident on Wednesday of last week at the Kennedy & Davis mill. Whilst examing one of the saws, he happened to step down in the slide, where the chain runs that draws the logs up into the mill. One of the saddles caught his heel and dragged his foot under a piece of timber, tearing it considerably and breaking one of the bones. Dr. Thorne was summoned to dress the wound and set the bone. He took several pieces of splintered bone out of the cut. He is progressing favourably, and if nothing happens will be around in a few weeks.

Mr. John O'Donnell after getting his drive of telegraph poles out into the lake, had the misfortune to get them blown on to the shore of Big Island, and was under the necessity of getting the steamer Sunbeam to pull them off.

Mr. J. Pearson, of Lakefield, paid a flying visit to Harvey last Sunday.

Crops in this locality are doing very well, but owing to continued cold and wet weather, are not looking as well as might be expected, considering how far the season is advanced. However, we are better off than many of the older sections of country, as the land in most cases is dryer.

Mr. S. H. Crowe raised a new house on one of his lots last week, where he intends clearing land this summer.

A THANK OFFERING.

A CLERGYMAN WRITES ON BEHALF OF GRATEFUL PEOPLE.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Restored Their Health and They Wish Other Sufferers to Know it—A Letter That Will Bring Hope to Many—No Other Medicine Gets Such Voluntary Praise.

The following letter written by the Rev. Wm. Lawson, Methodist minister at Richibucto, N.B., attests in the strongest manner the merits of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and a perusal of it will suggest why this great medicine is so popular in thousands of homes throughout the Dominion—it cures when other medicines fail.

RICHIBUCTO, N.B., April 26th, 1897.

Dr. Williams' Medicine Co.

DEAR SIRS,—I am glad to furnish you the following voluntarily given testimonial, with the fullest permission to give the names and place. They do this as a thank-offering to God and your medicine. Mrs. William Warman, of Molus River, near here, says her son Alden was sickly from birth. He could hardly ever retain food, and his parents had but little hopes that he would live long and the doctors who attended him were of the same opinion. Till seven years of age he continued in that condition. Then the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills was begun, and under them he recovered and is now a strong healthy boy. Mr. Warman, the boy's father, also adds his testimonial to the great value of Pink Pills, saying:—"I suffered for years with a bad back, until I used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and they cured me." Miss Annie Warman adds this evidence with enthusiasm and freedom: "I was weak and sickly, and did not know the blessing of good health till I took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I used eight boxes and have since enjoyed the best of health. In fact I am never sick now."

Here you have three members of a family restored to health by the use of your medicine, and you would almost covet their good health and genial ways largely resulting from such health. They wish you to freely use these facts to help other sufferers, and I am able as their pastor to certify to the facts above stated.

Sincerely yours,
WM. LAWSON,
Methodist Minister.

A TERRIBLE TIME!

A Port Hope Lady Undergoes a trying experience, from which she is at last freed by the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

This is Home Talk From Home People.

Mr. F. J. Armstrong, one of Port Hope's best known citizens, speaks as follows:—"My wife has had a terrible time with her heart for the last fifteen months.

The pains were intense, and she had a smothering feeling together with shortness of breath, weakness and general debility. Medicine seemed to do her no good, and we had about given up trying when she started to take Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, which she got at Deyell's Drug Store. They have toned her up wonderfully.

She is stronger to-day than she has been for months, thank to Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I am sure there can be no better remedy from their remarkable effects in Mrs. Armstrong's case."

THE JUBILEE ADDRESS

Which Our Parliament Will Send to the Queen.

SENATORS PASSED IT YESTERDAY.

The Veteran Leaders of Both the Right and Left Eloquently Eulogised Her Majesty and Reviewed the Progress of the Empire During the Sixty Years.

Ottawa, June 1.—(Special.)—In the Senate this afternoon, after routine business had been disposed of, Sir Oliver Mowat moved that a loyal and patriotic address of congratulation from the Parliament of Canada to Her Majesty the Queen on the occasion of the sixtieth anniversary of her ascension to the throne be adopted. In introducing his motion Sir Oliver spoke at considerable length. The present, he said, was a most opportune time for the Parliament of Canada in common with the other legislative bodies in the Dominion, to give some expression of congratulation to Her Majesty on the occasion of the sixtieth anniversary of the beginning of her long and glorious reign. The reign of Queen Victoria had been essentially a reign of peace.

Sir Oliver outlined the progress made during the Victorian era by the British Empire in the acquisition of new territory throughout the world, the extension of her commerce into every portion of the known world, the improvement of her railway and steamship transportation facilities, and her application of all the latest scientific discoveries to the useful commercial arts. Consequent upon the immense growth of British commerce and the commercial wealth of the country, he pointed out that the poverty which existed in England 60 years ago was fast disappearing. Sixty years ago 1,100,000 of the population of the British Islands were aided by the poor rates. To-day, despite the immense increase in the population, that number had been reduced to 800,000, and was rapidly diminishing. The improvement in the system of education and the growth of a strong moral and religious tendency among the people, had resulted in a tremendous reduction in the number of criminals, who, 60 years ago, numbered 30,000, while to-day there were only 6500 in British prisons.

Great as had been the progress of England during the 60 years of the Queen's reign, the progress in Canada had been even greater. He drew a picture of the scattered provinces of the Dominion as they were 60 years ago, and compared it with the present condition of Canada as a solidified country—the oldest colony of the greatest empire in the world. Canada's constitution had its faults, but he did not think there was another as good in the wide world. It was true that the Canadian Parliament had not always legislated wisely and well, but there was, in his opinion, no parliament in the world that legislated more wisely, even at the present time.

After dwelling upon the birth and growth of representative institutions in Canada, the improvement in the educational facilities and the growth in importance of our commerce, he attributed much of the progress and development which had come to Canada during the past 60 years to the wise and beneficent rule of England's Queen. To that noble woman was due the unswerving loyalty of the entire population of Canada and the Empire, for her conduct, public and private, since her ascension to the throne had done more than anything else to strengthen the British monarchy and render such development possible.

When in God's good time she passed into another world, she would long be remembered by her faithful subjects in Canada as Good Queen Victoria.

He concluded, amidst great applause, by moving the adoption of the following address, which was read by the Secretary of State to the Senators, who listened to it standing:

To the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty:

Most Gracious Sovereign,—We, Your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Senate and House of Commons of Canada in Parliament assembled, beg to offer our sincere congratulations on the happy completion of the sixtieth year of your auspicious reign.

When, on the memorable occasion of Your Majesty's golden Jubilee, the representatives of your loyal Canadian people joined those of other parts of the empire in expressing their heartfelt pleasure that by the grace of God the nation had for half a century enjoyed the inestimable benefit of Your Majesty's constitutional and beneficent rule, they stated their earnest hope that Your Majesty might be spared for many more years to reign over your loyal subjects.

A decade has since passed and today we contemplate with renewed satisfaction the fact that Your Majesty is still the head of the state. Not only have none of your illustrious predecessors sat on the throne of our country for so extended a period, but in the history of the nations of the world few monarchs have ruled so long, and none have been so universally honored and revered.

Looking back across the 60 years which have elapsed since Your Majesty's coronation, it is impossible not to be impressed with the immense strides which, during that period, have been made by the civilized world in all that constitutes the moral, intellectual and physical well-being of mankind. The gospel of our divine Teacher has been preached in the remotest parts of the earth; temperance in all things has become more than at any previous period an accepted rule of human conduct; more adequate provision has been made for suffering humanity; the administration of justice has been placed on a more humane and otherwise satisfactory basis; great advances have been made in science and the arts, and the literature of the Victorian era surpasses that of any former period in breadth of thought and general excellence, as well as in volume and popular appreciation. By the establishment of railway and steam communication; the inauguration of an improved postal system; the invention of the electric telegraph and telephone, as well as the general utilization of electric power, and by an indefinite number of other agencies, the comfort and convenience of the people have been immensely increased. During the same period the Empire has been enlarged, and its scattered members brought into more intimate fellowship with one another, and with the Motherland. Your Majesty's colonies in North America have, with but one exception, been gradually consolidated into a united Dominion, the people of which have been, and we believe will continue to be, amongst the most loyal of the races and peoples owing fealty to the British Crown.

We trust that we and Your Majesty's subjects in other parts of the Empire may continue for many years to come to enjoy the benefit of your gracious and peaceful rule, and we earnestly pray that He who is the Supreme King of Kings, may endow Your Majesty with every blessing in what remains to you of this life, and with everlasting felicity in the life to come.

When the applause which greeted the reading of the address had subsided, Sir Mackenzie Bowell rose to second the motion for the adoption of the address. He said that, in common with the Minister of Justice and others present, he had been privileged to live through the long period of the Queen's reign, and was, therefore, a witness to all the memorable events which the people of Canada were now called upon to commemorate. There was a somewhat pathetic element in the celebration, inasmuch as in the ordinary course of things we were compelled to contemplate the close, after 60 years of rule, of one of the most memorable and beyond all the most beneficent reigns in our history. It was the boast of one of the Roman Emperors that he found Rome brick and left it marble. Queen Victoria might justly boast that she found her Empire comparatively weak, and would leave it widespread and strong beyond even the dreams of any Roman Emperor. It would be gross flattery to attribute the progress and greatness of the Empire exclusively to the Queen's abilities, but it could be fairly claimed for Her Majesty that she has been one of the hardest laborers in the cause of advancing British civilization. She utilized the genius and reconciled the jealousies of statesmen. The Queen's authority was never used to postpone or prevent the accomplishment of any project which was for the good of her people or the upbuilding of her Empire. Every public man was aware of the ever-alive and present powers of the Crown. The reigns of George Third, George Fourth and William Fourth showed in many ways how the personality of the ruler was reflected in the national life of the monarchy, especially when that ruler was personally opposed to measures of reform and progress. Queen Victoria never stood in the way, but with the general opinion of the country considered the path of progress. The Queen has indeed been a great stateswoman, possessing all the qualities of a wise and sagacious ruler. He would not go over the ground so well covered by the Minister of Justice in tracing the wonderful progress made during the Victorian era throughout the Empire, but he desired to recall the fact that at the commencement of Her Majesty's reign Canada was in the throes of a disastrous rebellion. Now, the contingent which will represent Canada at the Jubilee will represent one of the most loyal portions of the Empire. Few could forget that at a later period India was ablaze with revolt. To-day the contingent from India will represent the vastest population of loyal people that any monarch ever ruled. At beginning of the Queen's reign the Australasian colonies had scarcely begun to exist. To-day, they are the homes of a large, vigorous and loyal population who honor England's Queen.

All could read, and many remember, the commencement of the Queen's reign, when she, but a timid girl, was called to rule over the world's greatest Empire, how she received the advice of her constitutional advisers. After 60 years, filled with many joys and sorrows, the Queen is once more alone, but with an experience and knowledge greater than that of those who may be called upon to advise her. Then she received advice, now she confers with her advisors. Then she depended for support on the loyal assistance of statesmen and the loyal devotion of her people; now she is in a position to still command that assistance and devotion in a more ample measure. Sixty years of rule enabled her to recall with pride the faithfulness of her people. Sixty years of experience enabled her people to recall with pride the royal devotion of their Queen.

He had the greatest pleasure in seconding the motion for the adoption of this address of congratulation on the Queen's glorious and beneficent reign.

Senator Bernier, speaking in French, expressed the loyalty of the French-Canadian citizens of Canada. If called upon to chose between their present condition and any other, the French-Canadians would prefer to live under British rule. The loyalty of his race to the Mother Country, and the constitution of Canada was shown by the way in which a small minority of French-Canadians in Manitoba submitted to injustice at the hands of a Protestant majority. He expressed the hope that the Queen would have enough influence with that majority to induce it to render justice to their fellow subjects of French and Roman Catholic origin.

The motion for the adoption of the address was then formally adopted.

A Heartless Stratagem.

"How did they stop the elopement?" asked Maud.

"By a detestable piece of trickery," replied Mamie.

"They came very near getting away in safety."

"Yes; but her father put his head out of the window and shouted that her hat was on crooked, and when she grabbed for it she upset the tandem."—Washington Star.

Prompt Work.

The Board of Trade last night consumed a good deal of time in talk, and seemed to be imitating the methods of the town council. But the committees appointed were prompt enough to compensate. One appointed to see the Mayor regarding a meeting to consider the Jubilee, retired, did their work and were back with their report before the Board had adjourned. Another committee, composed of the president and Mr. Peter Campbell, to arrange about the earlier opening of the post office, waited on Post Master Rogers this morning, who at once complied with the request of the depatation, and will arrange that hereafter the post office corridor will be accessible to all that have boxes at 7 o'clock in the morning. This will be a great convenience to business men.

A JUNE WEDDING.

Nuptials of Miss Annie Tyldesley, of Montreal, and Mr. J. F. Wilson.

A very pretty wedding took place last evening in St. John's South Ward Mission when Rev. W. L. Armitage performed the marriage ceremony between Miss Annie Tyldesley, of Montreal, and Mr. J. F. Wilson, of the Canadian General Electric Works.

The bride was most becomingly costumed in a travelling suit of blue grey cloth and carried a handsome shower bouquet of Marechal Neil roses. She was assisted by her sister, Miss Georgina Tyldesley, also of Montreal.

The groomsman was Mr. Herbert Godwin. Mr. Wilson is a valued member of the Mission choir, and the members of it, therefore, took a warm personal interest in the event, and decorated the church profusely with flowers. The full choir was in attendance and Mr. E. Bell presided at the organ. On the entrance of the bride into the church, the wedding hymn, "The Voice that Brea'hed o'er Eden" was sung, and during the service the choir rendered the psalm "Deus Miseratur." At the conclusion of the ceremony Mr. Bell played Mendelssohn's Wedding March.

There was a very large attendance at the church besides the invited guests, for whom a portion of the pews were ribboned off. The wedding party afterwards repaired to No. No. 224 Rubidge street, where Mr. and Mrs. Wilson will reside, and where the wedding breakfast was served.

BRIDAL BELLS AT KENNE.

Wedding of Mr. R. McKerrihen and Miss Elise Londreville.

This pretty and romantically situated village was the scene of an interesting wedding. Miss Elise Londreville was united in marriage to Mr. R. McKerrihen, of Toronto, to-day.

The ceremony was performed at the residence of 'Squire Lang, in the presence of a large number of guests, by Rev. Francis Andrews, pastor of the Presbyterian church, in which the fair bride had been organist for many years. The bride, who is highly respected and extremely popular in the village, received a large number of beautiful presents. After the ceremony the happy pair went east on a wedding tour.

REV. MR. DAVIDSON'S RETURN.

Formal Congregational Reception Postponed till Friday Night.

Rev. Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Davidson, who arrived in Montreal yesterday at 3.30 from their European tour, were expected in town on Thursday, and arrangements were perfected for extending them a most cordial congregational reception on Thursday night, but this has been postponed till Friday night, owing to the receipt of a telegram stating that Mr. and Mrs. Davidson could not arrive till Friday afternoon at 4.40 The parsonage has been elegantly prepared for their reception, the entire premises being fitted up anew. Painting has been done, and the walls and ceilings beautifully decorated with new paper, etc., so that Mr. and Mrs. Davidson on their arrival will have nothing to do but enter into possession of a beautiful home, which the thoughtfulness of the church wardens and of the ladies of the congregation, have completely metamorphosed.

THE Y. M. C. A. GYMNASIUM FUND CONTEST.

The Blue Side of the Battle.

No doubt now as to the outcome—the Reds are expecting defeat.

The report as far as visible points are concerned places the Reds half a point ahead to-day. The Blues would have had first place, but the returns from the back townships did not come in until after 10 p. m.

Two of the Blue men looked after foreign missions last night and did well. The Red men spent yesterday afternoon in the home field and scored half a point for their pains. Evidently the Blues have been there before them. Home missions have pre-eminence with the Blues.

This is going to be a hard week for the few Redmen left in this country. Almighty Voice was killed on Monday, and on Friday fifteen members of the Otonabee tribe will be extinguished. The last of the noble race.

"Work" is the watchword.

THE "REDS'" ENTERTAINMENT.

At the Reds' entertainment on Thursday night Mr. Roy will present on canvas views of the new Y.M.C.A. building, also portraits of prominent Y.M.C.A. workers. He will also present some of the best of his South African collection and views of China, India, Italy and English scenery, all beautifully coloured. These will be intermixed with comic views. The Rev. J. G. Potter will deliver his now celebrated address, "Sawdust without Butter." This entertainment promises to be good. Tickets are selling like hot cakes. Come early and secure a seat.

The "Reds" may entertain their friends,
But those, who "know the ropes,"
Know that's the best th .t they can do—
They entertain no hopes
Of winning in the "Gym" fund fight
That ends in Blue on Friday night.

PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Stratton have been in Toronto for a day or two.

Mr. Wetlauffer, of Berlin, one of the Alpha Chemical Company's popular travellers, is in town.

Mrs. Abrams, of Port Hope, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Jones, of town, returned home yesterday.

Mr. Jas. T. Stinson has returned, after a month's treatment at Clifton Springs, very much improved in health, and is now able get down to business.

A telegram was received this afternoon that Rev. J. C. and Mrs. Davidson find it impossible to be in Peterborough till Friday night. The reception prepared for them on Thursday night has accordingly been postponed till Friday evening.

THE BOARD OF TRADE QUARTERLY MEETING.

SEVERAL IMPORTANT MATTERS CONSIDERED.

The Jubilee Celebration — Telephone Rates—More Suitable Post Office Hours Wanted — Railway Freight Rates to Receive Attention.

The regular quarterly meeting of the Board of Trade was held in the Council Chamber last night.

There were present: Mr. John Carnegie, in the chair; Mr. H. S. Macdonald, secretary; Messrs. P. Campbell, Peter Hamilton, W. Manson, H. LeBrun, T. A. S. Hay, R. Fair, W. J. Wattam, T. E. Bradburn, H. S. Knapman, Dr. Rose, Hampden Burnham, T. Cahill, J. J. Turner, John Clarke, R. B. McKee, F. J. Rogers, F. D. Kerr, J. B. Oke, T. Barrie, Dr. Rose, R. McWhinnie and J. Philp.

After routine,

A communication was received from Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., stating that he had been in communication with Mr. D. Derbyshire, president of the Dairymen's Association in reference to the proposal to hold the next annual meeting in Peterborough next January. The communication pointed out that Mr. Derbyshire thought it desirable that the Board of Trade and the Town Council should jointly extend an invitation. Mr. Stratton had written the Council, stating that it would require about $150 to suitably entertain the convention.

The matter was on motion, referred to the Council of the Board of Trade.

TELEPHONE RATES.

In the matter of the petition favouring the application of the Bell Telephone Company for power to increase their rates, (deferred from the last meeting), Mr. J. S. Knapman, local manager, explained that the petition would only affect Toronto business, where the company had lost money. Peterborough now had the lowest rate of any place in Canada. The law gave the Company power to charge in Peterborough $30 for a single wire service and $40 for a metallic service. The petition if complied with, would give the company power to charge $5 additional, but there was no probability that the company would take advantage of this power. The matter was disposed of by referring it to the Council of the Board of Trade

JUBILEE CELEBRATION,

Mr. Burnham spoke of the failure of the town council to take any action in regard to celebrating the Queen's Jubilee, beyond a conditional grant to the museum. He contended that it was not in keeping with the dignity and importance of the town that there should not be a fitting celebration of the sixtieth anniversary of the glorious reign of her Majesty. For the failure the council was not responsible, but the blame was upon the signal incompetence and mismanagement of the so-called citizens' committee. He moved that the town council be requested to assist any and all local responsible bodies of citizens who desire to properly celebrate the Queen's Diamond Jubilee, and that the assistance given by the town council constitute their official contribution to the celebration. Mr. Burnham's remarks, which had an eloquent and patriotic ring, were loudly applauded. The motion was seconded by Mr. Hay.

Mr. Cahill rather objected to the censure of the citizens' committee, and to the idea of anybody making any money out of it. He was in favour of having all the children on the Jubilee day assemble and sing "God Save the Queen," and they should be also presented with a souvenir of the occasion that they might preserve with pride as a memento of the occasion. He had spoken to the superintendent of the Separate schools, who said that was a very proper thing. He (Mr. Cahill) was an Irishman and Home Ruler, but he also prided himself on being as good a British subject as there is in Canada (cheers), and he was anxious to have the day fittingly celebrated. (Applause.)

Mr. J. J. Turner mentioned that last night a meeting was held for the purpose of inaugurating a celebration of the day.

Mr. LeBrun said that the meeting had simply met to propose a celebration involving sports, amusements and fireworks, which depended upon the action of the council in giving assistance, in which case another meeting would be called to perfect arrangements. He thought it a pity that the great day should pass without a proper celebration.

Mr. Bradburn spoke in a similar strain and remarked that Peterborough seemed to be the only town of any size in Canada that was not preparing a proper demonstration. It was proposed to have as much amusement as possible, free of charge, but at the Park sports a small charge would have to be made to cover expenses. Whatever was to be done must be done quickly.

Mr. Burnham's motion was carried by a standing vote.

Mr. Turner said the meeting last night appointed a committee of four to wait on the town council, and he suggested that the Board of Trade appoint a committee to co-operate with them.

Mr. LeBrun said if the celebration had been left in the hands of the Foresters, the day would have been properly celebrated.

On motion of Mr. Manson, Messrs. H. Burnham, T. A. S. Hay, P. Campbell and R. Fair were made a committee to carry out Mr. Burnham's resolution re Queen's Jubilee celebration.

A good deal of pointless discussion was brought to a close by Mr. Cahill, who closed a few remarks by the expression: "For heaven's sake, let us have a celebration of the Jubilee anyway." (Cheers and laughter.)

After some further discussion, the committee just appointed retired and waited upon the Mayor, who was in his office, to present the matter for which they were appointed.

The committee soon returned and reported that they had seen the Mayor and he had consented to call a meeting of the council in committee of the whole to-night. Mr. P. Hamilton and Mr. F. J. Rogers were added to the committee.

The matter of entertaining a grocers' excursion—about 2,500 strong, from Hamilton, was discussed, and the secretary was instructed to make inquiries as to details.

Mr. Campbell brought up the matter of earlier opening and later closing of the post office in the interests of business men.

Mr. J. J. Turner suggested that if the office was open at 7 o'clock it would be a great convenience. The matter was referred to the President and Mr. Campbell to be looked after.

Mr. Cahill moved, seconded by Mr. J. J. Turner, that the President, Chairman of Council and Secretary and Messrs. Dumble and Burnham be a committee to draft a loyal address of congratulation to the Queen on the occasion of her Diamond Jubilee.

The President brought up the matter of railway freight rates which at present bore heavily on our manufacturers, who have to import and export heavy freight, and on motion of Messrs. Manson, seconded by Mr. Campbell, the matter was referred to the Railways and Canals Committee to endeavour to remedy the grievance.

INDEPENDENT BICYCLE CLUB.

The Young Ladies Organized Last Evening Officers Elected.

Peterborough now has four bicycle clubs, as still another was organized last evening amongst the ladies. It is to be known as the Independent Bicycle Club and starts out with a membership of thirty. The following officers have been elected —

Hon. Pres.—Mrs. W. R. Young.
Pres.—Miss Florence Davidson.
Sec.—Miss Flo. Patterson.
Capt. Miss Edith Shortly.
Lieutenant—Miss Vina Belleghem.

The club is contemplating the establishment of club room, and a committee is on the lookout for a suitable one now. The colours that have been selected are yellow green and black. Twenty-two of the members participated in the first club run last night and another one will be held to Nassau on Friday evening.

Most coughs may be cured in a few hours or at any rate in a few days, by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. With such a prompt and sure remedy as this at hand, there is no need of prolonging the agony for weeks and months. Keep the remedy in your house.

WHILE WE STOP TO THINK, WE OFTEN MISS OUR OPPORTUNITY.

It needs no thinking to discover that corn at TWENTY-FOUR CENTS PER BUSHEL IS CHEAP, and a safe speculation. Corn has sold on the Chicago market in the years mentioned at the following prices—1887 at 51 cts., 1888 at 60; 1889 at 53; 1890 at 75; 1891 at $1.00; 1892 at 44; 1893 at 39; 1894 at 55 and in 1895 at 30. A big crop and a good crop cannot put it much lower and a small crop and a bad yield can double it in price. I will buy it for investment and purchaser can let it remain in the Chicago elevator, or for speculation, on an advance of $150 for every 5,000 bushels.

MESS PORK is extremely low around $8.00. Stocks are light and decreasing and exports large, local consumption double what it has been for the past two years. What kept pork down for two years was large stocks and poor export and domestic demand. If you have money to invest or speculate your opportunity is now.

Horse and Buggy Stolen.

The chief of police to-day received a post card from Seagrave, Ontario, stating that when the escaped convict, James Farewell alias Jones, was captured there last week he had in his possession a bay horse 16½ hands high, with white star on forehead and white left hind foot; attached to a buggy, supposed to be stolen from this part of the county.

Pain Banished as if by Magic.

Nerviline—nerve pain cure—is a positive and an almost instantaneous remedy for external, internal, or local pains. The most active remedy hitherto known falls far short of Nerviline for potent power in the relief of nerve pain. A trial will demonstrate.

The Cellar Nozzle.

The Fire Brigade was out on the market square last night with the cellar nozzle. The nozzle is a rotary affair and tosses its stream in every direction, being designed for the purpose of being thrust into a cellar and thoroughly saturating it. A number of citizens who were standing too near the apparatus, can testify to the effectiveness with which the water is dashed around.

The Diamond Jubilee

Is the all-absorbing topic of conservation with the loyal citizens of Peterborough. But there is a jubilee in the home of every person all the season round who takes the advantage of the high quality and low prices of goods sold by Alex. Large books, good paper and good type, regular 25c books at 10c each, or 3 for 25c. Lot No. 2—250 volumes, 25c and 50c paper-bound books. All new books, good titles by by best authors, at 2 for 25c. Lot No. 3—Your choice of any of a series of cloth-bound books, worth 25c to 75c for 24c.—A. H. STRATTON & Co., Peterborough.

Single Tax.

Here is the briefest definition of the single tax that we have seen lately: The single tax is a tax on land values, excluding buildings and all improvements, so that two lots of the same size, lying side by side, one with a house on it and the other vacant, would be taxed exactly alike. In other words, the tax is according to the value of the location, and labour is not taxed for anything that labour puts on the land. The intention is to introduce this tax on land values, and gradually increase it until it brings in revenue enough to dispense with all other taxes, Dominion and municipal.

The report was adopted on motion of Dr. Burnham and Mr. Ferguson.

SOME INQUIRIES.

Dr. Burnham inquired regarding the disposition of the communication from the Sons of England regarding the appointment of a representative from the Board to arrange the details of the church service as mentioned above.

The matter was then brought up for discussion.

Seconded by Mr. Fair, Dr. Burnham moved that Mr. Hamilton, the chairman, be appointed to represent the Board at the meeting, and that the Board accept the invitation. The motion was carried.

Mr. Stevenson asked if there was any check kept on the school supplies in order to ascertain if there was any waste.

Inspector Walker stated that he now kept track of all purchases in order to see if there was any material increase from month to month.

Dr. Burnham inquired regarding letters in the papers concerning the prevailing of truancy.

The Inspector stated there was very was very little truancy, as could be seen by a glance at the report of the school attendance, which showed that the average attendance was 90 per cent. of the names on the roll. It was true though that quite a few children of school age were not attending classes. It was found impossible to ascertain the names of these children, as although the residences of all children of school age were designated in the rolls of the assessors, yet it was not stated whether they were those who should be at the Separate or the Public Schools. If some arrangement could be made whereby the assessors could specify them in this respect, quite a few children could be looked up by the Truant Officer, which were now out of his reach.

On motion of Dr. Burnham and Mr. McKee, a resolution was passed asking the council to instruct the assessors to attend to the matter.

Mr. Hamilton stated that a lady had complained to him that her children were only allowed to attend school half the day.

In regard to this the Inspector explained that in the Primary grade in the South Central School the room was greatly overcrowded. A number of promotions had been made but this did not relieve it long as new pupils kept coming in. At present there were 74 on the roll and only seats for 60 in the room. A teacher, he stated, could not make satisfactory progress with so many pupils. Of 20 who came in at Easter ten were instructed to attend in the morning and ten in the afternoon. There was still an average attendance of 58. The midsummer promotions, it was expected, would relieve this room.

The Board then adjourned.

PETERBOROUGH PRIME CHEESE.

The English Market so Uncertain that no Bids are Made.

At the meeting of the Cheese Board to-day 3,732 cheese were boarded, but it was decided that no bids be made and that the Board adjourn for a week, as the cheese is not ripe enough to ship immediately and the present uncertainty of the English market would make the offers necessarily low. Cheese was boarded as follows:

Mr. Drummond, the President, stated that numerous complaints had been made about the refusal of some of the cheese purchased at the last sale.

The salesman from Darlington Union Union complained that he had sold his cheese at the last meeting of the Board to Mr. Cook at 8 9-16c. He had sent them to Belleville, but they had been refused there, and in having to make a new sale he had lost $27. Mr. Watkins had bought them.

Mr. Cook stated that he had bought the cheese subject to inspection at Belleville. When they arrived there a large number were puffy and porous and none of them would fit the boxes. He would have had to rope every box if he had sent them to England. He had therefore refused them.

The Cavanville salesman complained that Mr. Cook refused to take his cheese, through his inspector, stating they were too green. Cavanville had asked Mr. Wrighton, the arbitrator of the Board, to to inspect them, and assisted by another competent man he had done so and pronounced them all right.

Mr. Wrighton stated that he had inspected the cheese, though at a later date. They were then in good condition.

Mr. Cook and Mr. Whitton both thought that a great deal of difficulty with the cheese offered had been that they were not properly cured. There were no fires kept in the factories during May, and as the weather had been cold the cheeese was not of the first quality.

One of the salesmen thought that the chief difficulty was that cheese had dropped in price after the purchase had been made.

It was agreed that hereafter when either salesman or buyer desired the presence of a second arbitrator, that the Instructor for the district be engaged to act with Mr. Wrighton, and that if they disagreed a third arbitrator should be fixed on by both and his decision would be final.

The following buyers were present at the Board: Messrs. Cluxton, Wrighton, Hodgson, Cook, Whitten, Maddon, Fitzgerald and Rollins.

The Board meets on Wednesday next at 11 a.m.

BATTALION NOTES.

Orders for the Week—A Few Words of Advice From the Colonel.

The Battalion paraded last evening 150 strong and put in several hours drill on Central Park and in the armoury. Before dismissing the following orders were read;

HEADQUARTERS,
Peterborough, June 1st, 1897

Orders by Lt.-Col. R. W. Bell, commanding the 57th Battalion of Infantry, Peterborough Rangers:

No. 1—Details of duties. Officer for the week, Capt. Clegg; next for duty, Capt. Miller. Bugler for the week, Bugler Galley; next for duty, Sergt. Sharpe. The guard will be furnished by E Co., F Co in waiting.

No. 2—Sergt. D. Evans having left limits, is struck of the strength of the regiment. Pte. F. McKee is hereby struck off the strength of the regiment.

No. 3—Men wanting their discharges from Battalion, will not be permitted to re-enlist except in the company from which discharged, without the consent of the captain of that company, unless they have served their full term.

No. 4—In view of the probability of the Battalion going to Montreal on their annual trip, there will be parades every Tuesday and Friday evenings until further orders.

No. 5—The Commanding Officer has been pleased to make the following promotions: To be Acting-Sergt, Corp. McNully vice Edwards, left limits. To be Acting Corp., Pte. W. Dredge vice McNully promoted.

By order,
H. A. MORROW,
Adjt. and Capt.

The parade states was appended:

A Co.—Capt. Stevenson—1 Lieutenant, 2 sergeants, 18 rank and file.

B Co.—Capt. Clegg—1 Lieutenant, 2 Sergeants, 16 rank and file.

C Co.—Capt. Hill—1 Lieutenant, 1 Sergeant, 14 rank and file.

D Co.—Capt. ———, 2 Lieutenants, 2 Sergeants, 20 rank and file.

E Co.—Capt. Miller, 2 Lieutenants, 3 Sergeants, 24 rank and file.

F Co.—Capt. Hayes—1 Lieutenant, 3 Sergeants, 16 rank and file.

At the conclusion of the drill the Colonel briefly addressed his men stating that after Tuesday evening next no more men would be enlisted and allowed to go on the trip to Montreal on Jubilee Day. He expected those who went on the trip to appear on parade with neatly cut hair and with boots and uniforms clean and neat.

A large number of recruits were sworn in after the drill.

Capt. Miller has filled his company and now has 40 men on the membership roll.

The Battalion has had enough of sleeping in warehouses and at Montreal will endeavour to find a spot where tents can be pitched.

Mrs. S. James, Seaforth, suffered for years with what is called old people's rash. She was treated by many physicians without any result. Mr. Fear, the local druggist, recommended Dr. Chase's Ointment, which relieved the irritation at once and speedily effected a permanent cure of the skin eruption. Mrs. James also says Dr. Chase's Ointment cured her of Itching Piles which she had been troubled with for years.

NOT A SICK DAY

For Over Thirty Years!

RESULT OF USI

AYER'S P LLS

"Ayer's Cathartic Pills fo ver thirty years have kept me in g l health, never having had a sick day all that time. Before I was twenty I suffered almost continually—as a result of constipation—from dyspepsia, headaches, neuralgia, or boils and other eruptive diseases. When I became convinced that nine-tenths of my troubles were caused by constipation, I began the use of Ayer's Pills, with the most satisfactory results, never ...ving a single attack that did not readily yield to this remedy. My wife, who had been an invalid for years, also began to use Ayer's Pills, and her health was quickly restored. With my children I had noticed that nearly all their ailments were preceded by constipation, and I soon had the pleasure of knowing that with children as with parents, Ayer's Pills, if taken in season, avert all danger of sickness."—H. [CONTINUED FROM YESTERDAY.]

With these four notable exceptions, all those who stood near the sovereign during the first moiety of her occupancy of the throne have departed for another world, preceding her to that land from whence no traveler—not even the "Anointed of the Lord"—ever returns. The Archbishop who crowned her, the Ministers and statesmen from whom she sought counsel in her youthful inexperience, the great soldier, Arthur, Duke of Wellington, who, performing the functions of Lord High Constable of the Realm, carried the great Sword of State before her, nay even the very titled maidens who bore her train, all twelve of them daughters of dukes, have every one of them gone down to the grave before her.

This in itself cannot fail to endow the gorgeous spectacle in Westminster Abbey a few weeks hence with a certain degree of pathos, especially when the venerable soverign of the British Empire will be seen making her slow and difficult way up the nave—so truly alone and lonesome in the midst of the vast and magnificently attired throng—to the thousand-year-old throne of King Edward the Confessor.

And then when the last strains of the "Amen" have died away, and the organ commences to peal forth the magnificent Recessional march from "Athalie," the Queen's children, her relatives, and her royal and imperial guests will approach one by one to pay homage to the grand old lady, who is not merely the mother of kings, but the grandmother of emperors, and the Matriarch of all the sovereign houses in Europe.

If at that moment her lip commences to quiver and tears unbidden well up to her eyes, and stream down her wrinkled cheeks, no one need feel in the least surprised. For let alone the changes that have been wrought during the three-score years that have elapsed since she first ascended the throne, she cannot but sorrow over the disappearance of many of those who were present at her golden jubilee in the self-same abbey only ten years back. She will look in vain for her gallant and stalwart son-in-law, Emperor Frederick of Germany, the noblest figure of the pageant in 1887; and his tragic death will be recalled to her memory by the widow's weeds worn by her eldest daughter, the dowager Empress of Germany.

The same somber garments of Princess Beatrice will revive the sense of the loss which she sustained through the death of Prince Henry of Battenberg. Gone, too, are Her Majesty's son-in-law, Louis, the burly Grand Duke of Hesse, her brother-in-law, the late Duke Regnant of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, and her favorite grandson, the Duke of Clarence. She will likewise look in vain for ex-King Amadeus of Spain. Duke of Aosta, who represented King Humbert at her golden jubilee, and for the ill-fated Crown Prince Rudolph, who attended the celebration on behalf of his father, the Emperor of Austria and Hungary. Nor are these the only windows which will at the moment cast down her heart and depress her spirits. For the abbey is for her a Walhalla peopled by the ghosts of the illustrious dead, who in their lives bore ...

Heart Disease Kills.

Relief in 30 Minutes.

The most pronounced symptoms of heart disease are palpitation, or fluttering of the heart, shortness of breath, weak or irregular pulse, smothering spells, swelling of feet or ankles, nightmare, spells of hunger or exhaustion. The brain may be congested, causing headaches, dizziness or vertigo. In short, whenever the heart flutters, or tires out easily, aches or palpitates, it is diseased and treatment is imperative. Dr. Agnew's Heart Cure has saved thousands of lives. It absolutely never fails to give perfect relief in 30 minutes, and to cure radically. Sold by H. H. McDonald.

PROGRESS DURING THE REIGN.

The Most Glorious Period in a Material Sense of the Empire.

While no great wars have marred the luster of Victoria's reign, yet it may be considered as the most glorious period in the entire history of Great Britain if one is to judge by the growth of the area, the population, and above all, the wealth of that empire upon which the sun never sets.

The population of the United Kingdom alone has well nigh doubled, as has also the number of Her Majesty's lieges in India and in her Colonial dependencies, the grand total of those who now accord her a willing allegiance, amounting to the colossal figures of 320,000,000. In 1837 the area of the British Empire amounted to 2,000,000 square miles, whereas to-day it is five times that size, its superfices exceeding 10,000,000 square miles. The aggregate property of the people of the United Kingdom, calculated on the basis of the income tax figures, has trebled in the last sixty years, as has also the revenue of the State, while the advance in the foreign trade of Great Britain during the same period has been more than 450 per cent.

Australia and Canada comprise 6,500,000 square miles. Canada has increased from 1,000,000 to 5,000,000 inhabitants, and has been transformed from a disintegrated number of rebellious colonies to a compact, loyal dominion. Australia in 1837 had 175,000 white inhabitants, of whom a third were transported convicts. It now has 4,500,000, a population nearly equal to that of the United States in the beginning of the century. The British Empire thus comprises 10,000,000 square miles of land. One square mile out of nine on the face of the globe acknowledges the rule of Britannia, and one person out of every four owes allegiance to Her Majesty.

The output of coal to-day is exactly twenty-five times as large as it was when Her Majesty ascended the throne, and whereas, at that moment, the annual consumption of cotton barely exceeded 4,000,000 pounds, the returns for the last year show a consumption of more than four times that amount. And all this addition in land, in wealth and in population has been acquired not by great and sanguinary conflicts and campaigns, but during a reign that on the whole may be described as the most peaceful in English history.

Indeed it is this absence of those big wars which contribute so much to obstruct the progress and to impair the prosperity of the nations involved therein, that must be regarded as accountable for the phenomenal development of Great Britain's wealth, industry, trade and enlightenment—especially the last. It is a colossal task even to attempt to enumerate the changes that have taken place since Victoria became Queen.

There was no regular or properly organized postal service three score years ago, and the price paid for the conveyance of the mails was enormous, people being compelled to pay as much as 30 and 40 cents for the transport of a letter for a few miles only. It was not until 1839 that "penny postage" was introduced, and the success of the scheme so widely denounced at the time, may be gathered from the fact that during the twelve months which have just been brought to a close no less than 2,323,839,010 letters, postcards and parcels, have been delivered in the United Kingdom through the postoffice.

In 1837 there were no railroads and no steamships. The journey from Liverpool to London was accomplished by means of a "coach and four," while the trip across the Atlantic to New York was regarded as a quick one if done within six weeks under sail, in lieu of the six days which it takes to-day by steam.

Victoria had been several years a queen before telegraphy was introduced, while it was not until she had become a grandmother that submarine communication with the United States was established. Photography, electric light, telephones, phonographs, etc., were all unknown when she became Queen, and the first entry of an iron-built ship on Lloyd's register was made when Queen Victoria's reign was only six weeks old, while during the three score years which have elapsed since then Great Britain's commercial tonnage has increased by close upon 1000 per cent.

It was not until several years after the birth of the Prince of Wales that chloroform and other anaesthetics came into use for surgical operations, and though it is scarcely credible, within the memory of Victoria surgeons have been obliged after amputations to resort to the same barbarous methods as those practiced in dealing with the wounded during the battle of Trafalgar—namely, to plunge the bleeding stumps into hot pitch to stay the hemorrhage.

Thousands upon thousands of hospitals and analogous charitable institutions have been called into existence in the British Empire during the last three score years, partly through the influence of the Queen herself, and partly through that of her eldest son, the Prince of Wales, the people having been taught by their illustrious ruler, and by her children as well, to believe that the best and surest way to royal favor was to vote money to the relief of those of their fellow-citizens in want and misery. Thus, all through the memorable visit of the Prince of Wales to India, whenever the native princes in their excess of enthusiastic loyalty expressed their intentions of erecting costly statues and monuments to the Queen in their dominions, as a memorial of his stay, he invariably urged them to vote the money instead to the construction of charitable institutions, explaining that it was by relieving the distressed and the less fortunate of the Sovereign's liege that they would best please Her Majesty and himself. The result is that to-day in India some splendidly equipped hospital or charity marks every town in which Albert Edward halted during his progress

They Don't Throw Mud.

An important feature of the Electric Tire that is not generally recognized, is the fact that the construction of the herring bone tread is of such a pattern that the usual suction found in other tires is broken and it is impossible to throw mud. When the rider of the Electric Tires strikes a wet, slippery road or pavement, he does not suffer mental torments, but watches the other fellow get the streak of mud up his back as he slips and slides along. The Electric Tire is a boon to cycling humanity, for it renders it possible for the righteous as well as the wicked to ride in slippery places. Go thou and do likewise.

Diving For a Wife.

In many of the Greek islands diving for sponges forms a considerable part of the occupation of the inhabitants. A visitor to this unfrequented region describes the following rather startling custom. He says: "Himia, which is a little island directly opposite Rhodes, is worthy of notice, on account of the singular method by which the Greek inhabitants of the island get their living. On the bottom of the sea in this locality the common sponge is found in greater abundance than in any other part of the Mediterranean.

"The natives make it a trade to gather these, and their income from this source is far from contemptible; their goods are always in demand among the Turks, who use an incredible number of sponges in the ablutions prescribed by the Mohammedan ritual. A girl in this island is not permitted to marry until she has brought up a certain number of sponges, and given proof of her skill by taking them from a certain depth. But in certain of these islands this custom is reversed. The father of a marriageable daughter bestows her on the best diver among her suitors. He who can stay longest in the water and bring up the biggest cargo of sponges marries the maid."

The workman often eats his lunch on the same bench where he does his work. The office man turns his desk into a dinning table. Neither gets the out of doors exercise he needs, neither takes the proper time for eating. It is small wonder that the digestion of both gets out of order. In such cases Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets come to their assistance by aiding nature in taking care of the food.

The cause of nine tenths of the sickness of the world is constipation. From this cause come indigestion; disorders of the stomach, liver and kidneys; biliousness, headaches, flatulence, heartburb, impurity of the blood and the serious complication that follow. To begin with, constipation is a little thing, and a little thing will cure it. The Pleasant Pellets are tiny, sugar-coated grannies. They will perfectly cure the worst case of constipation and indigestion. If the druggist tries to sell you some other pill that pays him greater profit, just think of what will best pay you.

Nothing Better.

Miss Emily Craig, Almonte, Ont., says:—I have never found anything better than your Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for pains in the stomach or diarrhœa. A few doses cured me of severe diarrhœa after other medicine had failed. We always keep it in the house and have every confidence in its virtues.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE IN THE EXAMINER

The murderer who, at dead of night, creeps, stealthily out to bury the dead and mangled body of his victim inspires men with horror and dread. There is a murderer abroad who yearly slays one-sixth of all the human race who go down to untimely deaths. This dread monster is called consumption. The approach of consumption is slow and insidious. First there is a slight disorder of the digestion. The appetite is poor and the nourishing properties of the food are not properly assimilated. The blood becomes thin and impure. The body begins to starve. Old tissues of the body are not properly replaced by new. The lung tissues are not properly nourished and are inert and half dead. In this condition they offer a good soil for the germs of consumption which invade and attack them.

This operation is promptly reversed by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It invigorates the digestion and appetite and makes assimilation perfect. It builds up and purifies the blood. It makes new and healthy tissue to replace the old, inert matter which it causes to be carried off. It drives out all disease-germs. Thousands of cases given up as hopeless have been cured.

Miss Laura Piersel, of East Bethlehem, Washington Co., Pa., writes: "I must write you telling you of the great benefit derived from the use of your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' Last summer my friends thought I was surely going into consumption, and having tried doctors with no satisfactory results and hearing your medicine so highly spoken of, I took one bottle. My cough left me together with all the distressing symptoms, and in fact the cure seemed almost miraculous to all who saw me."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are tiny, sugar-coated granules that are an unfailing and permanent cure for constipation.

HER MAJESTY'S DIAMOND JUBILEE.

through England's great Oriental empire, just one and twenty years ago.

The same policy has been pursued at home, and by this means millions upon millions of dollars, which would otherwise have remained in the pockets of their donors, or hoarded in banks, have been lavished upon charity and philanthropy, and it is in keeping with the entire tenor of the reign of Queen Victoria that the sixtieth anniversary of her accession to the throne should by her particular wish—so eloquently expressed by the Prince of Wales—be signalized by gifts to the poor, to the hospitals and to philanthropic undertakings of every kind. It is a fitting climax to her glorious reign, which has seen so many marvelous changes and such phenomenal progress.

THE QUEEN'S INFLUENCE.

Its Strength and Beauty Lay Chiefly in Her Perfect Understanding of What Is Required of a Constitutional Monarch.

To give the history of Queen Victoria's reign thus far would be to tell the story of the mighty British Empire for sixty years. She attended the first meeting of her Cabinet in Council on the morning of her accession to the throne at 11 o'clock, and charmed them all with her amiable and dignified bearing. Mr. Greville, who was by no means given to snobbish adulation of royalty, described the scene in words well worthy quotation. "The King died 22 minutes after 2 o'clock in the morning, and the young Queen met the Council at Kensington Palace at 11. Never was there anything like the first impression she produced, or the chorus of praise and admiration which was raised about her manner and behavior, and certainly not without justice. It was very extraordinary and something far beyond what was looked for. Her extreme youth and inexperience naturally excited intense curiosity to see how she would act on this trying occasion, and there was a considerable assemblage at the palace, notwithstanding the short notice which was given. * * * She bowed to the Lords, took her seat, and then read her speech in a clear, distinct and audible voice, and without any appearance of fear or embarrassment. She was quite plainly dressed, and in mourning. After she had read her speech and taken and signed the oath for the security of the Church of Scotland, the Privy Councillors were sworn, the two royal Dukes first by themselves; and as these two old men, her uncles, knelt before her, swearing allegiance and kissing her hand, I saw her blush up to the eyes as if she felt the contrast between their civil and natural relations, and this was the only sign of emotion which she evinced. Her manner to them was very graceful and engaging. She kissed them both, and rose from the chair and moved toward the Duke of Sussex, who was old and infirm. She seemed rather bewildered at the multitude of men who were sworn, and who came, one after another, to kiss her hand, but she did not speak to anybody, nor did she make the slightest difference in her manner, or show any in her countenance, to any individual of any rank, situation or party. * * * She went through the whole ceremony with perfect calmness and self-possession, but at the same time with a graceful modesty and propriety particularly interesting and ingratiating."

Ever since that memorable occasion, and at all times, the Queen's influence has been of exceeding strength both within and without her own realm. Carlyle says the history of mankind is the history of its great men. He might have added, and its great women, for in the annals of this century the Queen must take high place. When one stops to think that during her experience with the men who ruled millions, she has met the briarlike intellect of Napoleon III., the genius and hauteur of that monarch of the Russias, Nicholas I., the crafty intelligence of Louis Philippe, the unswerving determination of the Iron Chancellor, Bismarck, the skill of Guizot, and the Chesterfieldian diplomacy of Metternich, it can be realized how strong a mind she must have, how firm a grasp on the affairs of men, how keen an intelligence.

These are the things which Englishmen the world over remember and love their sovereign for. Anyone who has ever heard a Britisher sing "God Save the Queen" knows what a wealth of genuineness there is in the conclusion, and how lustily he sings:

"Send her victorious,
"Happy and glorious,
"Long to reign over us,
GOD SAVE THE QUEEN!"

Sixty years is within ten of the number which constitute what is supposed to be the allotted span of the life of man. And Victoria has reigned almost an ordinary lifetime. The history she has seen made is of the most vital interest. The events which have transpired are among the most notable in history. From the time she ascended the throne until the present day, her interest in the affairs, not only of her empire but of the world itself, has been of the keenest. Although entailing oftentimes a serious addition to the other cares and labors of state, she has invariably desired to be made fully acquainted with the nature and character of diplomatic dealings of importance with foreign powers, and it is no more than an acknowledgement of fact to say that no minister ever failed to find in his consultations with the Queen ready and cordial sympathy in all that pertained to the wants and wishes of the people.

Perhaps no event during the Queen's reign has illustrated the strength of her character more than that most conspicuous one of 1848-9, her disagreement with Lord Palmerston, whose headstrong rashness of policy and mode of action nearly plunged England into a general war with Europe. Palmerston was for war and the Queen for peace, as she always has been. At this time there existed the Austrian difficulty which proved so great a menace to the peace of Europe. Kossuth was then gaining the victories that made him famous. In November, 1851, came the famous coup d'etat in Paris. The Queen considered that the British Government should remain passive and neutral. Palmerston personally expressed his sympathy with

IN FANCY COSTUME

Louis Napoleon to the French Ambassador at the court of St. James, and this officially as England's Foreign Minister. Despite Palmerston's high standing and his popularity with Parliament and the people, the Queen promptly dismissed him from office, an action which those best capable of judging believe saved England from the horrors of a long and serious war.

Following this came the Crimean war period, in which the Queen showed wondrous tact and diplomacy, together with a knowledge of the affairs of nations which, considering the multitude of affairs that claimed her attention, seems more than passing strange. Since then wars have been prevented on more than one occasion by her advice and influence over her own Ministers. Diplomatic troubles and friction which might have led to war have been smoothed over by personal and foreign influence upon far more frequent occasions than history reveals to us.

That war between England and the United States has been averted by the Queen on several occasions there is no doubt. There was the conflict over the Trent affair, when the Queen left the bedside of her dying husband in order to prevent the despatch of the full-fledged ultimatum drawn up by Prime Minister Lord John Russell and Foreign Secretary Lord Palmerston, and by means of a phrase changed here and modified there, she toned down the entire document from an aggressive and peremptory demand, couched in such offensive terms that the American nation could not have permitted their Government to accede thereto, into a most courteous appeal to the sense of justice of the American Government. The wisdom of the Queen's action in the matter was made apparent by the ready compliance of the Washington Government to the request contained in the despatch, and that inasmuch that England would undoubtedly have gone to war had satisfaction been withheld, the avoidance of a bloody struggle between the two great kindred nations was entirely attributable to Her Majesty.

During the American rebellion it was really the Queen's influence which prevented Great Britain taking up arms for the Confederacy.

What changes she has seen during her long rule! In the sixty years Nicholas I., Alexander II., Alexander III. and now the youthful Nicholas II. have ascended the Russian throne. Indeed, she followed the politics and participated in the international policy of that empire for a quarter of a century before the present Czar was born. She has seen the papal throne occupied by Gregory XVI., by the veteran Pius IX., and by Leo XIII. She has been in close touch with all the foreign relations of France during two republics, and the reign of Louis Philippe and Napoleon III. She has had frequent communications with the Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria, and probably understands the complex mechanism of that empire better than any living person beside the Emperor himself. She has known Frederick, William III. of Prussia, and has been upon most intimate terms of friendship with William I. of Germany, and has examined the family and state relations of the Emperor Frederick and the present youthful ruler. And yet, this veteran diplomatist, woman though she be, in spite of her great age, exercises to-day an influence upon the affairs of Europe which is not equalled by any person who lives.

The Queen Rules Over:

Supported a Family on Five Cents

The Pantagraf has just heard of one man who puts in his valuable time by making a living for himself and family allowing the politicians to do the rest. He resides at Ford, and if we kenw his name ew and gladly give it. This man purhased five cents' worth of apples in the early winter while fruit was yet very cheap. After pleasantly watching his household of little tots devour the apples, he baited rabbit traps with the cores. First and last he caught three dozen of the timid creatures, which, after beheading, were exchanged at the stores for his children's winter clothing. Using the heads he baited traps for more profitable game. While these were serving him in an humble way he was earning $2.50 and meals each day working on the beams. Going to his traps at an opportune time he got 18 "short forks" (polecats), 17 "long forks" and 27 black cats, besides several fur-bearing varmints of less worth. The proceeds of this catch brought his numerous family winter's footgear, paid his rent, laid in a good supply of that sparkling "out of gladness," and left a balance for provisions and other luxuries.—Richmond Pantagraph.

How Should She Know.

Mr. M., a Boston gentleman, has a telephone in his new house, and he instructed a newly engaged Irish maid servant how to reply in case there should come a call over the wire during the absence of Mr. M. and his wife. One day there came such a call, and Norah went to the telephone.

"Will, sor?" said Norah, with her mouth to the speaking tube.

"Who's that?" came over the wire in a masculine voice.

"It's me, sor."

"And who is me?"

"How the divil should I know who yez are?" retorted Norah.—Harper's Bazar.

WANT THE SHOW STOPPED.

Belleville's Mayor Asked to Prohibit the Corbett-Fitzsimmons Pictures.

A number of citizens of Kingston are endeavouring to have the Feriscope exhibition of the Corbett Fitzsimmons fight stopped and some Belleville people yesterday took their cue from Kingston and called a meeting for the same purpose. The mayor presided at a meeting held in the Council Chamber and a large number of ladies and gentlemen were present, representing the Ministerial Association, Women's Christian Association, Women's Christian Temperance Union and Christian workers generally.

Rev. T. J. Thompson, Rev. C. E. McIntyre, Rev. R. Wallace and Mr. J. R. Herdman spoke of the immorality of the pictures to be presented and of the demoralizing effect they would have on the youth of the city. They asked the mayor if he would stop the exhibition.

The mayor said he had consulted the city solicitor that he might proceed legally. Sir Oliver Mowat had introduced amendments in the criminal code to cover these exhibitions, but unfortunately these amendments have not become law. If he had the power he would put a stop to the exhibitions, but what was done must be done legally.

Mr. C. P. Holton said if a prize fight was illegal surely a life like representation of it would be also.

Rev. Mr. McIntyre suggested that everyone who attended the exhibition be arrested.

After some further discussion it was decided to leave the matter in the mayor's hands, and he promised he would do all he could for them.

O.S. Doan, of Clinton, says not to go on suffering as he did for years with Salt Rheum, when a few boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment will cure you.

Dr. Chase's Ointment cured Hiram Frey, of Norwood, after suffering ten years with Eczema of the leg.

Chase's Ointment also cured his little girl of Eczema on her face.

Railway Notes.

It is reported that General Manager Hays of the Grand Trunk Ry. has issued an order, which came into effect on June 1st, to the effect that section foremen must dispense with the services of relatives working under them, and that relatives must not in future be employed by them. The order is said to have been rendered necessary by the fact that many section gangs have become quite family institutions, thus interfering with the proper performance of duty.

Boils, pimples and eruptions, scrofula, salt rheum and all other manifestations of impure blood are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Rapid Heart Beat.

Mrs. Jas. Grist, Blenheim, Ont., says: "I was troubled with rapid beating of the heart and a strange sinking feeling. I took Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and they have cured me. The heart weakness and throbbing, together with the nervousness which it caused, have completely disappeared, and I am now strong and well."

Signs of worms are variable appetite, itching at the nose, etc. Dr. Low's Worm Syrup is the best worm expeller.

MESSAGE FROM THE COUNTY PRESIDENT.

TO CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOURERS OF ALL DEGREES.

New Methods of Work—New Responsibilities—More Vigour and Enthusiasm Called For.

I consider it a privilege to be permitted to address a few lines to the Endeavourers throughout the county. First of all I desire to express my high regard for the great movement amongst our young people through the Christian Endeavour Society. The work in which we are interested is of the highest importance, having the three fold object (1) salvation of sinners, (2) edification of beleivers, (3) extension of the Redeemer's kingdom. The heritage handed down to us by our fathers is one that we should not lightly esteem. Had it not been for the noble characters of the past who were willing to lay down their lives for the truth of God, we would not to-day enjoy the glorious liberty and blessed privileges that are daily ours. As young people we recognize this fact, and we remember that the work which we are now seeking to carry forward has had as promoters in the past men and women of whom the world was not worthy. This should keep us humble. The responsibilities of new methods of work and new opportunities are such as call forth more vigour, enthusiasm and continued effort than what the past has demanded. Only a few years ago to thresh the wheat was a task required as it is to-day, but it could be done leisurely. Now with the improved machinery, it requires two men with all they can do to keep the measure from running over. It seems to me that in our day with the improved methods of work, we need to seek and obtain the help and guidance of the Holy Spirit to enable us to overtake the great work to which we stand pledged. Millions now stand under solemn oath and covenant, in the name of our Lord and Master, to serve Him and to minister to a world needing righteousness. God has used the Endeavour movement to be one of the mightiest forces that have ever moved Christendom, and although it has led to the altar of obedience and willingness young men and women of character and of worth, who are already making their influence felt in the various walks and stations of life. Now, what does it mean? Its very title and scope imply: 1. A change of relationship—"Except ye be converted, etc." This is the grand thought that the world is carried on by those who have experienced conversion, and who by God's grace and by faith in Christ have set their faces Zionward. 2. A change of masters—"and that He died for all that they which live should not henceforth live unto themselves but unto Him who died for them and rose again." In other words, consecration of body, soul and mind. 3. A change of purpose. Concentration. "This one thing I do." Let it be ours to have our minds fixed upon the will and work of our God, and allow nothing to interfere with our loyalty and devotion to Him. The summer season is upon us—holidays are drawing near—the fine sunny days when the temptation to be all taken up with pleasure, and exchange of friendships, visiting, boating camping, &c., is very great. What great privileges the many will enjoy, yet what great opportunities for sacred influences.

Instead of letting our Christian ardour cool, only to be resuscitated next fall, may it be a season of joyous preparation and prayer and happy experiences that will tend to make the work a continued and inspiring success in all our societies. when you again take up the work in your different churches. Let us, however, not be unmindful of those who will be continuously at the work, and all our prayers ascend that the blessing of God may be poured out upon every effort put forth, whether present or absent.

4. Our work implies a change of contact. Our fellowship is no longer with the unfruitful works of darkness, but as children of the light let our lives be such that the religion of Christ will be an attracting, rather than a repelling force. Just as the contact with the battery gives power, so shall our contact with others be an instantaneous help and encouragement.

5. So, too, it imples a change in the conflict. We have changed captains. We now fight the good fight of faith. Our weapons are no longer carnal but spiritual. We fight against the powers of evil and sin, and our leader is the "Captain of our salvation." Therefore we need to "watch and pray"—we need the "whole armour of God,"—we need to call forth all our energies and talents that with the wisdom and blessing of God we may "tread all the powers of darkness down." Then, lastly, it implies a blessed change. In our outlook. Conquest is written on the Christian's brow. Doing what we know He would like to have us do leads to victory. This is the incentive to preserve and remain faithful and true to the pledge we have taken together in His name. In closing, I would like to suggest that the various societies in the country might take an interest in the furnishing of the "Endeavour Room" in the new Y. M. C. A. building in Peterborough. The Executive is always under a deep debt to the Directors of the Y. M. C. A. and now that they have set apart a room for us let us all do what we can to make it worthy of the magnificent work that has been done and the gigantic work yet to do.

Yours very sincerely,
JAMES G. POTTER.

AN AWFUL SORE
A Babe's Untold Suffering And Mother's Many Sleepless Nights.
CUTICURA WORKS WONDERS.

I herewith write out in full the beginning and end of that terrible disease, Eczema, which caused my babe untold suffering, and myself many sleepless nights.

My baby was born seemingly a fair, healthy child, but when she was three weeks old a swelling appeared on the back of her head, and in course of time broke. Every one called it a boil, and, now it had broken, would soon heal, but that was only the beginning of the trouble. It did not heal but grew worse, and the sore spread from the size of a dime to that of a dollar. I used all kinds of remedies that I could think of but nothing seemed to help, in fact it grew worse, her hair fell out where the sore was and I feared it would never grow again. It continued until my aged father came on a visit, and when he saw the baby he told me "to get CUTICURA SOAP and CUTICURA ointment right away." To please him I did so, and to my surprise, by their use the sore began to heal over, the hair grew over it, and to-day she has a nice head of hair, her skin is as fair as a lily, and she has no scar left to recall that awful sore.

CUTICURA soothes and allays all itching and burning that cause a child to fret and the mother to worry, and gives rest and comfort both to parent and child.

MRS. WM. EYER, Elk River, Minn.

SCALP FOR SKIN-TORTURED BABIES and REST FOR TIRED MOTHERS in a warm bath with CUTICURA SOAP, and a single application of CUTICURA (ointment), greatest of emollients and skin cures.

This treatment will give instant relief, permit rest for parent and sleep for child, and point to a speedy, permanent, and economical cure of the most torturing, disfiguring, and humiliating of itching, burning, bleeding, scaly, pimply, and crusted skin and scalp humours with loss of hair, when all else fails.

GOVERNMENT CAUCUS

Some Very Important Business Transacted.

THE CROW'S NEST RAILWAY POLICY

An Arrangement of a Most Favorable Nature to the People Made With the Canadian Pacific Company—Government Control as to Running Powers and Rates.

Ottawa, June 2.—(Special.)—The Liberal caucus this morning was the most important gathering of the party since the general election, and afforded an opportunity to the rank and file to lay their views frankly before the Ministers.

The first matter of importance decided was in regard to the status of the Controllers. The proposal of the Government that they be raised to Cabinet rank was concurred in. It was decided that the salary of the Controllers should remain at the present figure, $5000, instead of being raised to $7000, the salary of the other Cabinet Ministers.

It was announced that the Government, in view of the departure of the Premier, and the difficulty of reconciling speedily the conflicting views as to the form that the questions to be put to the people should take, would not press the prohibition plebiscite bill this session. There is a good deal of opposition in the House to the plebiscite proposal, and the Premier has no desire to see it laid before the House and defeated in his absence. When the bill is introduced next session it will be in such form as to meet with the approval of the supporters of the Government and a fair fulfilment of the party pledges. Mr. Laurier, it is understood, regretted very much the necessity of abandoning the plebiscite bill, which he regards as the carrying out of a personal pledge. The franchise and superannuation bills are also to be dropped.

The most important announcements made at the caucus were those relating to the railway aid to be granted by the Government. As everyone knows, a keen contest has been going on for some time between a sub-committee of the Cabinet and the officials of the Canadian Pacific Railway as to the terms upon which the Kootenay country of British Columbia shall be provided with a through line of railway. Echoes of the fray have from time to time reached the lobbies, and it was known that Mr. Blair, the Minister of Railways, was disposed to get everything possible in the way of concessions from the Canadian Pacific Railway. In this he was assisted by Mr. Sifton and his colleagues of the sub-committee. The result of the prolonged negotiations was the drafting of an agreement under which the C.P.R. will get a bonus of $11,000 per mile for the construction of 330 miles of railway from Lethbridge through the town of McLeod and by way of the Crow's Nest Pass across the Rockies, terminating at Rossland.

In return for this grant the Canadian Pacific binds itself to concede running powers to any and all other railways that may be in a position to avail themselves of such running powers from Canmore, at the eastern entrance to the Crow's Nest Pass through the Pass and over the Crow's Nest extension and all its branches. The Government reserves the right to grant the running rights herein provided for at such terms as may be considered fair and reasonable. It is provided that the local freight rates and tolls on the entire extension from Canmore to whatever point the railway may be extended shall be under the control of the Railway Committee of the Privy Council. All freight rates upon goods shipped from any point on the extension to any point of the Canadian Pacific Railway or its connections, and all freight rates upon goods shipped from any point on the C.P.R. lines to any point on the Crow's Nest extension shall also be subject to the control of the Railway Committee, and the powers reserved shall be vested in any railway commission hereafter appointed. In effect this gives the commission, when appointed, full control over all freight rates upon goods entering or leaving the Kootenay over the Crow's Nest line.

It is further provided that reductions of rates and tolls shall be made, beginning in 1898, on certain specified classes of merchandise from all points east of and including Fort William, ranging from 10 to 35 per cent. The schedule will, of course, not be made public till the proposals are laid before the House, but it is known that existing rates upon apples and other fresh fruits will be reduced 33 per cent., an important consideration for the fruit-growers of Ontario. A reduction of 20 per cent. will be made on coal oil freights and reductions of varying amount will be made on agricultural implements, iron in bars, plates and sheets, wire, binder twine and cordage, bags and bagging, live stock for breeding, paints and oils and other material much used by the agriculturists of the west. The freights upon all wheat and flour, the principal freight from the west, will be reduced 1 1-2 cents per 100 pounds for the year 1898 and 1 1-2 cents additional in 1899, making three cents in all below present rates. This reduction and all others made must remain in force always thereafter.

To prevent the possibility of monopoly the C. P. R. agrees to convey to the Dominion Government 50,000 acres of picked coal lands, part of the land required by it from the Province of British Columbia, in consideration of the construction of the railway. The intention of the Government is to prevent the present owners of the coal lands from exacting exorbitant rates. Should any attempt be made to charge other than reasonable rates for coal, the lands reserved by the Government would be sold or the mines worked, if that were necessary to the securing of efficient competition.

An agreement exists between the British Columbia Coal Company, which will operate mines in the district whenever the railway is constructed, and the C. P. R., by which the former must sell coal free on board the cars at the mines for $2 a ton, or such an amount as shall not yield a greater sum than 75 cents per ton above the cost of production.

The Government have provided in regard to timber lands that these lands must be held by the company acquiring them subject as to their sale and the prices to be put upon them to such provisions as the Governor-General-in-Council may require. All of these terms and conditions will be embodied in the bill to be introduced providing for the subsidy.

Mr. Blair announced also that the question of granting a subsidy to the Heinze Syndicate for 200 miles, from Trail to Penticton, was under consideration. If this subsidy is granted this session, as it may be, it will probably not exceed $6,000 per mile, the route being less difficult.

SMALL BOY WITH MATCHES

Started a Fire in Brampton and Caused a Loss of About $1200.

Brampton, June 2.—(Special.)—A small boy playing with matches started a fire at William Fendley's, the market gardener and huckster, this evening at 6. A large stable and a hennery, with valuable contents, including a fine driving horse, were destroyed. A large section of the greenhouse and contents were ruined. The loss is upwards of $1200, with $250 insurance.

The Sultan Accepts Mr. Angell.

New York, June 2.—A special to The Tribune from Washington says: The Sultan of Turkey has withdrawn his objection to the appointment of James B. Angell as Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States at Constantinople. Official word to this effect was to-day received by cable by Secretary Sherman.

THE TIMES ON CANADA.

Tariff Peace on the South of Us Will Make the Imperial Connection Sure.

London, June 3.—The Times this morning, in an article discussing Canadian affairs, says:

"Canada stands midway upon an Imperial high road, the opportunities of which enable her to regard with relative indifference the fence erected along her southern frontier. The longer that fence is maintained in its present position, the more assured will be the connection between the Dominion and the Mother Country, the connection we have now had ample proof that both Canadian parties are desirous of maintaining."

Referring to the fact that Peterman, Tait & Company, the Newcastle shipbuilders, have secured the contract for the fast Canadian service instead of the Allan Steamship Company, The Times says:

"Perhaps in this connection proper consideration has not been given to the services of Mr. James E. Huddart, the promoter of the Canadian Pacific Steamship Company. To his personal energy and labor it is largely due that difficulties apparently insuperable have been overcome and the adoption of the scheme of his inception has been made practicable. The public which profits from these services should gratefully recognize them and him."

NOT SO BAD AFTER ALL.

Lieut. Henderson and His Party Were Not Massacred in Guinea.

Cape Coast Castle, West Coast of Africa, June 2.—Lieutenant Henderson and other members of the expedition attacked early in April at Wa, where they were making treaties with the chiefs of the Hinterland, have been released, and are returning to Kumasi, bearing presents from Chief Samory to the governor. It was at first feared that the mission had been massacred by the followers of Chief Samory, who is a very powerful chief, and who has hitherto professed friendship for the British. Wa is considered to be within the sphere of British influence, and preparations were being made to send an expedition to Wa with instructions to ascertain the fate of the Henderson expedition and punish Chief Samory if disaster had befallen it.

Ran Down a Fishing Boat.

London, June 2.—The Atlantic Transport Line steamer Massachusetts, Captain Bocquet, from New York, May 22, for London, while proceeding up the English Channel in the midst of a fog ran down a fishing boat off Eddystone Lighthouse. Four occupants of the boat were drowned.

Where is Constantine?

Athens, June 2.—There is much speculation regarding the movements of Crown Prince Constantine.

Queen Olga and Crown Princess Sophia have gone to Volo, it is believed, to bid farewell to the Crown Prince on the eve of his sailing for England by way of Brindisi, thus avoiding returning to Athens, where the feeling is very bitter against him.

AGREED IN LOYALTY.

One Matter on Which Liberals and Tories Unite.

CANADA'S ADDRESS TO THE QUEEN

Eloquent Speech by the Premier in Moving It and Graceful Eulogy by Sir Chas. Tupper in Seconding — After That the War of Politics Was Resumed.

Ottawa, June 2.—(Special.)—The chief feature of to-day's sitting of the Commons has been the adoption of the address to the Queen. Both Mr. Laurier and Sir Charles Tupper made graceful and felicitous speeches, the leader of the Opposition paying quite a compliment to the Premier in regard to his carrying the address to the foot of the throne.

Mr. Laurier informed Mr. Mc[illegible] that the time within which the Governor-in-Council could disallow the British Columbia Southern Railway Aid Amendment Act expires some time next month.

Mr. Sifton told Mr. Lister that 1,425,935 acres of the C. P. R. land grant had been patented.

Mr. Davin called attention to a statement in The Quebec Chronicle as to the inferior appearance of the Jubilee Regiment. The regiment should reflect the highest credit on Canada, but he was informed by an eye-witness on whom he could place the greatest reliance that some of the men selected would not do the country credit. According to his information the sizing-up of the men had been bungled. It was not possible to make elephants out of mosquitoes, or men out of mice. He hoped the Government would do something to make a creditable showing for Canada in England.

Sir Richard Cartwright said he was sorry to hear what had been said, even if it applied to a small portion of the Jubilee contingent. No later than yesterday, Col. Aylmer, who was to command the regiment, had expressed to him (the Minister) how extremely pleased and well satisfied he was with the appearance of the contingent. Units had been selected from the various corps at the suggestion of the Horse Guards, as it would lend greater interest to the parade, and it was obvious that when 20 or 30 regiments were drawn upon there must be a lack of uniform appearance. He promised to make enquiries into the matter, but with possibly one or two exceptions he had reason to believe that the men chosen were all right.

Sir A. P. Caron said that yesterday he met two military officers from Quebec, who were present on the occasion of the church parade of the Jubilee contingent last Sunday. Those officers spoke very highly of the physique and drill of the men. [Hear, hear.] He was glad to learn this, as he was desirous of seeing Canada well represented in England.

The Prime Minister, Mr. Laurier: The Senate adopted an address to Her Majesty the Queen, in connection with her diamond Jubilee, to which they have asked the concurrence of this House, and I am sure the concurrence will be cheerfully given.

The Premier at this point read the address.

Continuing, he said: "I am sure the House will appreciate the language of this address. It seems to me to convey in very felicitous terms some of the splendors of what will be known in future ages as the Victorian era. It has been our privilege, and I may say a privilege which will be more and more appreciated as time goes on, to live under what is certainly one of the most illustrious reigns in all history; certainly the most glorious of British history. In many respects the reign of Her Majesty Queen Victoria resembles and in other respects surpasses, the reign of Louis XIV. of France. In the number of years the reign of Her Majesty approaches, though it does not yet equal, the reign of Louis XIV. In many respects it equals and in some other respects it surpasses the reign of the French monarch in the development of arts, and in literature it may be perhaps said that it is equal if not superior to, the reign of Louis XIV., whereas in the application of the arts and sciences to the comfort of mankind and to the utility of the human race, it surpasses not only the reign of Louis XIV., but all other periods known to history. It was the misfortune of Louis XIV. that his reign was cursed by war, whereas the long reign of Her Majesty has been comparatively free from that mighty scourge. Wars happily have been few, happily for the British people and for the happiness of mankind at large. It is gratifying to British subjects of all origins to remember that in the wars which took place the old renown of the British arms for pluck, endurance and valor has been kept to the highest pitch. [Cheers.]

"But, above all this, there has been the personality of the sovereign herself. That personality has been higher in everything that has tended to cultivate and adorn her reign. Of what we know of her private life we know that in all those domestic virtues which above all appeal to the human heart, she has been a model to the humblest of her subjects, and we know that in public life, though she has been a constitutional sovereign in every sense of the term, on more than one occasion she has exerted a personal influence in unravelling difficulties and in carrying the nation successfully through troubled periods. [Hear, hear.]

"Perhaps one of her chief glories, perhaps the chiefest of all her glories is that, in so far as she has been a sovereign, she has been in every sense a model constitutional sovereign. [Hear, hear.] For us Canadians, one thing which we cannot forget is that under her reign we have obtained the inestimable benefit of responsible government. [Hear, hear.] It is as dutiful subjects that we approach her on this occasion, and not as sycophants; but it is our pride to give her upon this occasion the allegiance, the willing allegiance, of free men. [Applause.] It is in this spirit, Mr. Speaker, that I move, seconded by Sir Charles Tupper, that the House do concur in the address of the Senate to Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen, congratulating her upon the completion of the sixtieth year of her illustrious and auspicious reign, by filling up the blank with the words 'House of Commons.'" [General cheering.]

Sir Charles Tupper: It gives me very great pleasure to have an opportunity of seconding this address to Her Ma-

EDITORIAL NOTES.

A LITTLE success against little Greece has given the Sultan of Turkey a bad attack of "big head." He not only "sasses" the Powers, but he actually refuses to accept or entertain Dr. Angell as the American minister, unawares or otherwise. He has been offensively partizan in the Crete and Armenian affairs.

THE Tories, remarks the Ottawa Free Press, are no doubt deeply concerned about their friends, the rings and combiners. Although the new tariff will have the effect of undoing these public nuisances, it was interesting to see Mr. Foster making a last kick on their behalf in the House of Commons. He would like the Government to drop the anti-combines clause in order "to facilitate business" nominally. They wont. His supporter, Mr. N. Clarke Wallace, the promoter of the combines commission, ought to have been heard of on this subject. But for any one of the opposition, leaders or followers, to talk about facilitating business in view of their factious opposition, is too sublime.

PATRIOTISM is all right, but it must not be too costly. The Government has been criticised as unpatriotic because Americans are mixed up with the new bank note printing contract. The more the matter is ventilated the more the advantage to the country by the new contract appears. In the discussion of the subject it has been brought out that under the terms of the bargain made by the late Government with Mr. Burland, the late contractor, all the engravings used in the work, and for which a high price had been charged, remained the property of the private company, and were not to be handed over to the company. Under the new contract—which is $120,000 lower than Burland's—all the plates become the property of the Government.

Miss M. Birdsall, Rice Lake, visited friends here Tuesday.

On Wednesday night of last week Norwood was again visited by horse thieves, the sufferers being this time, the Squire Bros., who misses a fine grey gelding and set of single harness. Will Hendron also misses a light single wagon, which it was supposed the thieves used in making good their escape. On the same night the stables of Thos. Buck, of Asphodel, were visited by the supposed same parties, who on being detected, escaped after discharging several shots of lead in Mr. Buck's direction. At time of writing no trace of the stolen articles has been found.

Death has again visited our neighbourhood, claiming as its victim, Mr. Abraham Sloan, at his residence on Dummer road, who died, aged 34 years, on Thursday, May 27th, and was conveyed to his last resting place in the Norwood cemetery on Saturday at 2.30 p.m. Also that of William Russell Parker, son of Francis Parker, in his 3rd year. The funeral was held on Tuesday, at 2 o'clock p.m., to the Norwood cemetery.

We take much pleasure in announcing the wedding of our highly esteemed townsman, Mr. H. G. Buck, Reeve of Norwood, and Miss L. Reynolds, daughter of P. W. Reynolds, town, which took place at the residence of the bride's parents, Peterborough street, on Tuesday afternoon of this week. The groom was supported by M. E. Knox, and the bride by her cousin, Miss M. Dunnigan, of Warkworth, maids of honour being Gracie Reynolds, younger sister of the bride, and Annie Birt, daughter of F. H. Birt, all of town. After the ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. A. McCamus, and congratulations extended, the merry party of 30 guests sat down to a most sumptuous spread, most fitting for the occasion, after disposing of which the happy couple were driven to the C.P.R. station where they boarded the westbound train for Toronto. Before returning they will visit New York, Montreal, Quebec and points east for about three weeks. We extend best wishes and much joy to the bride and groom.

Town Council met on Monday evening last and, after routine, the following business was transacted.

Minutes of Court of Revision meeting were read and confirmed.

W. E. Roxburgh appeared before the council in reference to assessment of his property on Colborne street, stating that as there was an error in the assessment he asked that a reduction be granted on same.

Moved by Councillors Nicol and Walker that W. E. Roxburgh get a rebate on his taxes on amount of assessment, $667.00, on lot 13 South Peterborough and Colborne streets.—Carried.

IT DOESN'T PAY
TO PARLEY WITH RHEUMATISM.

Rheumatic joints, and aching limbs mean inability to work, and inability to work, for most people, means inability to gain a livelihood. So from that point of view it doesn't pay to parley with Rheumatism. Then there's another side of the question—the days of agony and suffering.

How many people are there whom Rheumatism compels to give up their occupation, and threw up a splendid position that it took them perhaps years to attain?

Mr. Thomas Warren, of 134 Strachan St., Hamilton, states under oath that he had to give up his situation in the shops of the "Big Four R. R." on account of Rheumatism. He tried mineral springs in Indiana and mud baths, but these did him so little good that he returned Home to Hamilton a cripple.

Then he started taking Ryckman's Kootenay Cure, and four bottles have completely cured him. He feels fit to start to work now

If he'd only known of Kootenay at the outset, how much time and money he would have saved, and how much suffering he would have escaped.

Mr. James Watson, living at 64 Florence Street, in the City of Hamilton, makes a sworn statement, he is employed as moulder in the Grand Trunk shops. He had Rheumatism so bad in his feet and knees that he could not work steadily. He says since taking Ryckman's Kootenay Cure he has not felt a twinge of Rheumatism.

Now he can work every day, without the slightest suffering. Kootenay has put the Rheumatism to rout.

It will pay you if you are a victim of Rheumatism or Sciatica to investigate the Merits of Ryckman's Kootenay Cure. To parley with these diseases means loss of time, loss of money, loss of health.

Sworn statements of cures sent free on application to the Ryckman Medicine Co., Hamilton, Ont.

One bottle lasts over a month.

LIVE STOCK MARKETS.

MONTREAL.

Montreal, May 31.—Cattle—Cable reports shew that the English market was weaker to-day; a private cable quotes Canadian steers at 5¾d in Liverpool and 4¾d in Glasgow, with the markets completely glutted. There were about 560 head of butchers' cattle, 400 calves, 400 sheep and lambs and 50 store hogs and small pigs offered for sale at the east-end abattoir to-day. The butchers were out in full force, and trade was good, with the prices firm all round, especially for small stuff. Mr. Geo. Nicholson bought 20 head of prime beeves at 4 1-4c per lb; pretty good stock sold at from 3 3-8c to 4c per lb; common animals at from 2¾c to 3 1-4c, and the leaner beasts at about 2 1-4c per lb. Some of the best calves were bought up before reaching this market; among these was a lot of four good calves, which brought $26. Common veals sold at from $2 to $4 each. Shippers are paying 4c per lb for good large sheep, but choice sheep bring from 3 1-2 to 4 1-2c per lb. Lambs sold to-day at from $2.25 to $5 each. Fat hogs sell at about 5 1-4c per lb. Store hogs sold at from $4 to $7 each, and young pigs at from $1 to $3 each.

AGREED IN LOYALTY.

Jesty from the Parliament of Canada. After the eloquent words to which we have all just listened with such pleasure from the First Minister, no poor words of mine are required to commend this address to the hearty approval of the House of Commons. But I may at the outset take the opportunity of expressing the satisfaction I feel that this tribute of the Parliament of Canada will be laid at the foot of the throne by one so well calculated in every way to represent this Dominion. [Hear, hear.] The hon. mover of this address has already stated that the Victorian era will be one that will shed a lustre on the world. He has referred to the fact that as a woman, as a wife, as a mother, Her Gracious Majesty has presented an object of admiration and a model for the women of every country and of every clime. The condition of the court over which Her Majesty has presided has never in the history, certainly of this Empire, been equalled. In everything that has contributed to elevate the tone of public sentiment Her Majesty has contributed in no slight degree. As a sovereign Her Majesty, although administering a system of parliamentary government which, during her reign, has reached probably the highest point that parliamentary government has ever attained in any country, has yet by her great ability, by her devotion to her public duties, exercised a most potent influence on the administration of the affairs of the Empire, and, as has already been mentioned, we have every reason to believe that on more than one occasion the voice and influence that Her Majesty has exerted with the Ministers of all parties has been such as to determine the fate of the nation towards peace rather than towards war. [Hear, hear.]

The great achievement of Her Majesty's reign, so far as we are concerned, is the fulness with which the great principle of self-government has been conferred upon the autonomous colonies. The House need not be reminded that when Her Majesty ascended the throne a rebellion prevailed in the old Province of Canada, a struggle caused by the determination of the people to obtain that power and influence in the control of their own affairs which they felt they were entitled to achieve. That result has not only been obtained, but, under the beneficent reign of Her Majesty, that fulness of self-government has been given to the outlying portions of the Empire, to the autonomous colonies, and that has resulted in bringing about a condition not only of complete and thorough devotion to the Crown and to British institutions, but has resulted in the happiness, prosperity and well-being of all those great portions of the Empire. [Cheers.] Reference has been made, and properly made, in this address to the union of this Dominion, and the following words have been used:

> "Your Majesty's colonies in North America have, with but one exception, been gradually consolidated into a united Dominion, the people of which have been, and we believe will continue to be, amongst the most loyal of the races and peoples owing fealty to the British Crown."

We all not only concur in that sentiment, but I think we will one and all agree that there will be no exaggeration in stating this, that not only is this a united Dominion, but it is a Dominion which at this moment is as happy and as prosperous as is to be found in any portion of the world. [Cheers.] I trust that Her Majesty may still live to see a great confederation, not only of Australia, but of South Africa, and that those great outlying portions of the Empire, being thus consolidated, as the Dominion of Canada has been, will not only be equally happy and equally prosperous, but in their progress this prosperity will become still more able and capable of strengthening the hands of the Imperial state, and to increase the greatness of this great Empire. [Cheers.] In that prayer for the long life and happiness of Her Majesty we shall be joined not only by the people of all climes, by the people of all colors and the peoples of all sections of the British Empire, but by every good man and woman throughout the world, who will wish long life and happiness to Her Majesty the Queen. [General cheering.]

The motion was then unanimously agreed to, and Col. Prior struck up "God Save the Queen," and the anthem was sung with great spirit by members and spectators in the galleries.

The Anti Combine Clause Up.

The House having gone again into committee of ways and means, Sir Charles Tupper arose and objected to the adoption of the anti-combine clause. It had, he said, been somewhat improved by the importation of a judge into the case, since first introduced, but it was still legislation of a most vicious character. If the Government wanted to prevent combinations why did they not introduce a stringent bill against combines, so that procedure could be taken in the regular way before the courts? But this clause on the fact of it does what no law in any country in the world does, namely, punishes the innocent with the guilty, by providing that upon the combination of any two or three in any line of manufacture the Government may place their articles of manufacture upon the free list, thus striking the other unoffending menufacturers of such lines. He moved in amendment as follows:

> "That while this House is prepared to support a stringent measure for effectually preventing illegal combinations with a view to enhance prices, such legislation should not be included in a tariff bill, and thus leave the industries of the country to be interfered with by the Government without the judgment of a superior court of law."

Mr. Fielding contended, in favor of the clause, that it was the only way of reaching those who entered into combines, as manufacturers might who had grown up under the system of protection.

Mr. Casgrain pointed out that whether conducted privately or openly, any such summary investigation as proposed before a judge would be a grievous wrong to innocent persons.

Mr. Britton concurred in Sir Charles Tupper's objection as to the liability of the innocent being punished with the guilty by the reduction or removal of the protective duty. He proposed, therefore, that a provision should be inserted providing that in case of the removal or reduction of a protective duty to punish combinesters, those not in the combine should be compensated for the loss in the stock on hand.

Mr. Casgrain: And who would determine the compensation?

Mr. Britton: Why, the Governor-in-Council of course.

Mr. Casgrain (amidst laughter): Why, that would be worse than ever; putting still more power in the hands of the Government.

Mr. Davies spoke in defence of the proposal, pointing out that the present anti-combines law was imperative.

Mr. Foster asked, in case a judge reported that a combine existed, would the Government have discretion to act or do nothing?

Mr. Davies replied in the affirmative.

Mr. Clarke Wallace pointed out how outrageously such a clause would work just about election times, when funds were needed, and the opportunity was then furnished the Government to squeeze them out of the manufacturers. Then there was a combine among the manufacturers of biscuits and confectionery, and one of the prospective Cabinet Ministers (Mr. Paterson) was a biscuit manufacturer. Would the Government proceed against the biscuit combine?

Mr. Foster: Oh, the Controller of Customs is to be one of the judges.

Of course, added Mr. Wallace, the biscuit trust would thus be safe. Yet the raw material had been lowered and the protective duty increased. There was a law now against combines, but the very word "unduly" had been smuggled into it by the Senate and spoiled it, just as the words appeared in the clause under consideration.

Mr. Davies: We use the word in your own resolution.

Mr. Wallace: I have no resolution.

Mr. Davies: I mean your leader's resolution.

Mr. Wallace: I don't know that I have any leader either.

"Hear, hear!" cried the Ministerialists.

"Well," Mr. Wallace continued, "I have been so long now on my own hook that I've rather begun to like it." [Laughter.]

The first hour after recess was taken up in discussing the provisions of the bill to incorporate the American Bank Note Company, which came up for third reading on motion of Mr. Belcourt.

Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper and Mr. Foster criticized the proposition to incorporate a foreign corporation to do work which had been done heretofore by a Canadian company. They should not be allowed to retain the name, confusing it with another company, viz., the British American Bank Note Company.

Thus was the bill talked out again.

The House went into committee again on the tariff resolutions. Mr. Clarke Wallace resumed the debate on the combines clause, but drifted immediately into a charge against the Ontario Government as to the administration of the license laws. Sir Oliver Mowat, he said, had intimidated the licenseholders when he was Premier of Ontario, and his hand had drafted this clause for the same purpose of interfering with the freedom of manufacturers and exercising terrors over them. The machinery of the ordinary courts, in Mr. Wallace's opinion, was sufficient at present to protect the people against combines, and no Government or judge had a right to dictate to a manufacturer what he should sell his goods for. He asked the Government to withdraw this clause, No. 17, from a tariff which was not a creditable one for any Government.

The discussion was continued by Messrs. Sproule, Dupont, Taylor, Henderson, Bennett, McCleary, Kaulbach, Davin and others, with occasional explanations from Mr. Fielding and Sir Richard Cartwright.

Shortly after midnight Mr. Foster suggested that the committee rise.

The Government refused, having determined to carry the clause at this sitting.

The House adjourned at 12.30 a.m.

ONE HONEST MAN.

DEAR EDITOR,—Please inform your readers that if written to confidentially, I will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigour, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy.

SECOND DAY AT HAMILTON.

Thorncliff Won the Cocktail Steeplechase—Wordsworth in Front in the Opening Event.

The crowd on the second day of the Hamilton meeting was about the same size as on the first, with the same good turfmen from Toronto. The weather was fine and the track fast. It was a day of general upsets and the talent were all askew on their choices. Curiously enough the only favorite was in the steeplechase, when Thorncliffe, at 1 to 2, won handily. Wordsworth came in a winner and was a split favorite with Hurns, both being strongly played at 2's and 3's. Hume was strongly backed at less than even money and, although the odds-on favorite, she threw her rider and the Hendrie pair, about whom 3 to 1 could be had, came home easily in first and second places. Anna Lyle was a 12 to 1 shot in the betting and came home an easy winner ahead of the favorite Samson. The upset of the day was in the closing event, when Mike Gorman's Odd Genius turned the trick with 20 to 1 marked up against him. There was a quiet tip out on the good thing and quite a few cashed in $100 tickets for the small outlay of $5.

There was a rather sad occurrence in the second race, when Songer, the Toronto jockey, who made a clever reputation at New Orleans the past winter and around through Cincinnati and Windsor this spring, was thrown from the favorite Hume, and fractured a bone in his left arm. This will necessitate his retirement for at least two months. He got his mount off well in second place and only a length behind Beaumont. The Hendrie pair had forced their way up around the turn and Belle of Stockwood crowded Hume, with the result that the horse went down and the rider got mixed up with the flying feet of the field and he was carried off in a limp condition. Leudrum was thrown from Ben Morgley in the mix-up, but escaped with only a slight shaking. Songer is now in the Hamilton General Hospital.

Infests the blood of humanity. It appears in varied forms, but is forced to yield to Hood's Sarsaparilla, which purifies and vitalizes the blood and cures all such diseases. Read this:

"In September, 1894, I made a misstep and injured my ankle. Very soon afterwards,

A Sore

two inches across formed and in walking to favor it I sprained my ankle. The sore became worse; I could not put my boot on and I thought I should have to give up at every step. I could not get any relief and had to stop work. I read of a cure of a similar case by Hood's Sarsaparilla and concluded to try it. Before I had taken all of two bottles the sore had healed and the swelling had gone down. My

The Welcome of the Non-Coms.

The Non-Coms. mess of the 57th Battalion at a meeting held last night decided to join in the welcome home of Rev. J. C. Davidson, who was recently gazetted chaplain of the Battalion, by presenting an address of congratulation suitable to the circumstances of the occasion.

Jubilee Concert.

There was a grand rally of the chorus at the Jubilee concert rehearsal in St. John's school house last night. There was an attendance of 282, the violinist was present and the music went with a grand swing. On Saturday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock, when the next practice will be held, there will be a piccolo added.

Reception to Rev. J. C. Davidson.

The EXAMINER is requested to announce that the reception to Rev. J. C. Davidson has been postponed till Friday night. Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Davidson will reach town by the 4.40 C.P.R. express Friday and at 8 o'clock, the reception will take place in St. John's school house. All the parishioners of St. John's and friends of the rector, are cordially invited to be present.

Yelland vs. Yelland.

Judgment as to costs was given yesterday in this cause The judgment was that the costs of the plaintiff and infant are made payable out of the $1,000 Foresters' endownment in dispute. The costs of the executors are to be paid out of the general estate. The Court decided that as Mrs. (Dr.) Yelland had acted on the advice of counsel she should not be made personally liable for costs.

Sewerage Arbitration Conference.

The Sewerage Committee met the committee of the council of North Monaghan in conference over the sewer arbitration costs last night. The counsel on each side were present. The township felt disposed to consider the agreement whereby the town was to pay 85 per cent. of the taxed costs as being voided by the delay of the council. The town resisted this contention, and are willing to abide by the agreement. However, nothing definite was arrived at, and another meeting will have to be held.

Jubilee Celebration Meeting.

At a meeting of the committee of the whole council last night the representatives of the Board of Trade appointed at the last meeting were present—Messrs. John Carnegie, Hampden Burnham, Peter Campbell, F. J. Rogers, H. LaBrun and others. The result of the meeting was that it was decided that the mayor call a public meeting in the council chamber on Friday (to morrow) evening, at eight o'clock "for the purpose of taking steps to celebrate the Diamond Jubilee of Her Majesty Queen Victoria.

The Great Corbett-Fitzsimmons Fight.

To-night the Feriscope, the only picture throwing device in Canada that gives the fac-simile, reproduced by counterpart, of the great Corbett and Fitzsimmons fight that took place in Carson City on March 17th last, will be the attraction at the opera house. In addition to this exhibit, a series of pictures showing the terrific 6 round battle between Corbett and Courtney, will be shown. This last fight is considered one of the fastest battles ever fought in the prize ring. Don't fail to see these interesting fights at the opera house to-night. Prices 25c, 35c and 50c.

The Diamond Jubilee

Is the all-absorbing topic of conservation with the loyal citizens of Peterborough. But there is a jubilee in the home of every person all the season round who takes the advantage of the high quality and low prices of goods sold by Alex. Elliott, three hundred and fifty-three George street. Whole and retail groceries, wines, liquors and cigars. You can get oranges or lemons at ten cents per doz., or four tins of vegetables for twenty-five cents. Have you tried Chase & Sanborn's unsweetened coffee If not, why not do so? You will never use any other.

OLYMPIC EXCURSION.

A Big Party off for Burleigh—Exciting Beginning of the Excursion, for One Member of the Party at Least.

This morning about seventy-five persons, constituting the Olympic excursion party, took the train for Lakefield, where they will embark on the new steamer Majestic for a trip to Burleigh, where the day will be spent discussing the business situation—the excursion being generally recognized as the business men's day off. One member of the excursion party, who is blessed with liberal layers of adipose matter, weighs several pounds less now than when he left his house this morning. He started for the station but returned home, a short distance, to exchange his light top coat for a waterproof. When he reached the station he saw the departing train down near the diamond. He then made a spirited sprint for Ashburnham with the design of intercepting the train, and the time he made badly dilapidated the record. When he left the house he weighed 190 lbs.; when he reached Ashburnham he had lost his breath, lost about five pounds of flesh and lost his labour, for he had to wait about twenty minutes for the train, which, when he saw it, had simply run down the track south for the purpose of putting on another coach. The disgusted sprinter, who hired a small boy to flag the train, he being too much exhausted for the effort, was dragged into the train in a semi comatose condition. By the merest chance, a member of the excursion party was found with a flask that contained a few ounces of stimulant and under its application the retired merchant speedily recovered and ere long his laugh was the loudest and merriest of the party.

ST. PAUL'S PICNIC, LAKEFIELD.

Statement of Results of Prize Drawing—The Names of the Fortunate Ones.

The prize drawing for the Lakefield R. C. Picnic took place yesterday at Lakefield, Mr. W. H. Casement doing the drawing.

First was the $10 gold piece, and the winning ticket, No. 2738, sold by Miss Foley, of Lakefield, was held by Mr. Albert Moher of Douro. Mr. Moher can have the ten dollars by presenting the aforesaid ticket. Mrs. Conroy of Ashburnham, was fortunate enough to win the beautiful music stand, the gift of Mr. Martin McFadden. The dressed doll, presented by Miss Annie Simons, was won by Mrs. Flynn. Miss Josie Phelan won first prize in the ticket contest, and Miss Lottie Kearney of Young's Point, the second. Each of these young ladies will be presented with a valuable hat by Miss Cahill and Miss Rudkins.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Phillips, an English mining expert, is in town. He has had experience in the Rand, South Africa.

Mrs. Hewson has returned to Toronto after visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Bradburn.

Mr. A. L. Davis left last evening to attend the Bay of Quinte Conference now in session in Bowmanville.

Mr. Arnold Prest, a former resident of town, but who has been employed in the Brantford bicycle factory for the past few months, is in town renewing old acquaintances.

Miss Edith Mason has returned to town from Port Perry, where she was present in the capacity of bridesmaid at the wedding of Miss Minnie V. Bruce to Rev. C. R. Sing, S.T.L., B.D., of Innisfail, N.WT.

Mr. H. J. Kearney of Young's Point, passed through town to-day, on his return from a three months visit to Chicago. He reports that the cities and towns in the west are very quiet, and Peterborough is by no means the dullest place on the continent.

Mr. James Kennedy of the inspection department in the Canadian General Electric Works has resigned his position to accept a more lucrative one in the United States. Mr. Kennedy will be missed in various circles, especially in the ranks of the C.O.F., where he has been an active member, and is the present C. R. of Court Langton.

NEWS NUGGETS.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

—During the month of May there were twenty-nine births and twelve deaths registered.

—Mr. R. M. Roy has taken photographs of the new Y.M. C. A. building from three different positions. They are all excellent photos, and will be put on the canvas to-night at the "Reds" entertainment.

—Hastings prides itself on having a building situated on the corner of Front and Bridge streets, which has been used as a dwelling house, a jewelry and a fancy goods store, barber shop, billiard room, machine shop, shooting gallery, grocery, and is now occupied as a butcher stall and shoe shop. Quite a record, indeed!

A Splendid Special Number.

THE EXAMINER has received from the Woodstock Sentinel-Review a copy of a "Pictorial Jubilee Edition" printed and prepared at the Sentinel-Review office. It consists of a twenty-page quarto in pamphlet form and is most profusely illustrated with scenes of Woodstock and vicinity which justify the modest boast of the title "Woodstock and the County of Oxford, the Garden of Ontario." The edition is a beautiful one and reflects the greatest distinction, typographical and literary, upon the publishers of the Sentinel-Review. It is a worthy contribution to the special Jubilee newspaper literature of the year.

No verandah will be complete this summer without one of those serviceable plaid Cushions. Material for the above in all shades at MRS. APPLEBY'S Fancy Goods Store

The reduction in the assessment made by the Court of Revision on Saturday last, was about $1600, but as the rate is almost 5c on the dollar, the cottagers think it is yet too high, as it is about one-sixth of the entire assessment of the township.

THE Y. M. C. A. GYMNASIUM FUND CONTEST.

Blue Notes—Otherwise Blue Bank Bills.

We are ahead again—we don't care whose flag flies to-morrow, but ours will Saturday.

Through a misunderstanding several of the Blues circulated a report that Mr. Martin had retired from the fight. This was incorrect of course. Mr. Martin says he is in it until the finish. He is also confident of a Red victory—but is mistaken as it will belong to the Blues.

Support given to the Blues will not be misplaced. The Blue leaders say victory is their's beyond a doubt.

Don't let us lose through over-confidence—Blue men get in all the cash promised and we are on top you may be sure.

Everybody should attend the Red entertainment to-night—it will be well worth the small fee charged.

We have no time to get out any jokes to-day—business is business. We will save our jokes for Friday night.

Only dollar bills count to-morrow night when the returns are completed. Points, not covered by cash, figure at zero.

THE GRAND FINALE.

A union rally will be held in the old rooms on Friday evening. Mr. A. Parker, president, will occupy the chair.

The Sons of England Band will be in attendance. A good musical programme will be given.

Returns will be given into Treasurer Knapman up to 9 o'clock, when the contest will be declared closed. Speeches by the victors and vanquished will then be in order.

Everybody is welcome. Come early if you want a seat.

The "Reds" unto the colour,
Will not it's feared prove true;
On the night of Friday next,
With baffled hopes perplext,
They will drop with such a thud
"In the soup" as thick as mud,

That they will be black and Blue—
And we'll all be "a hue,
When the treasurer says, "Hello!"
"The Blues have got the shew."

* * *

If you would be in the swim
With the stock you put in the "gym"
At a premium, what you do
Is to rally round the Blue;
Then 'twill be your boast and pride
That you're on the winning side.

LOCAL LEGAL.

The following is from the report of yesterday's proceedings at Osgoode Hall; Trial Court, before McMahon, J.:

Pearson v. Linton.—Judgment in action tried without a jury at Peterborough. Action by Nathaniel Pearson, a farmer residing in the township of Harvey, against James Linton & Co., a firm of bankers doing business in the village of Lakefield, to recover $600 damages for the alleged wrongful seizure and conversion of upwards of 5,000 logs out by plaintiff and driven to Lakefield in the summer of 1897. Counterclaim upon certain Division Court judgements. Judgment for plaintiff on his claim for $580 and costs, and for defendants on their counterclaim for $310.64 and costs. The amounts to be set off pro tanto, and execution to issue for the difference. R. M. Dennistoun (Peterborough), and A. Stevenson (Peterborough), for plaintiff. W. F. Kerr (Cobourg), F. W. Gladman (Peterborough), and F. D. Kerr (Peterborough), for defendants.

BUOYS WANTED.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

SIR,—Could you not inform the public how it is we cannot have the Otonabee river bouyed out the same as the waters of Stony Lake, along the route of the T.V.C.? The river above Hastings is well buoyed, where steamers only frequent once a week or less, and the Otonabee, where boats are up and down at all hours, there are five or six miles of it very difficult to navigate, and to a stranger very dangerous and impossible to keep the channel. I trust the Department will see fit to rectify the grievance at once. I remain, dear editor,

Yours sincerely,
MARINE.

Mrs. S. James, Seaforth, suffered for years with what is called old people's rash. She was treated by many physicians without any result. Mr. Fear, the local druggist, recommended Dr. Chase's Ointment, which relieved the irritation at once and speedily effected a permanent cure of the skin eruption. Mrs. James also says Dr. Chase's Ointment cured her of Itching Piles which she had been troubled with for years.

Grant to West Peterborough Agricultural Society	40 00
Balance on hand	38 72
	$152 52

The statement was certified correct by the auditors, Messrs. Ed. M. Elliott and T. M. Hunter, and adopted.

THE SECRETARY'S REPORT as presented by Mr. John A. Davidson, was adopted as follows:

GENTLEMEN,—In presenting my annual report for the year ending 30th June, 1897, I may state that the attendance at the regular and supplementary meetings has been very good and more interest taken in Institute work by the farming community. The delegation sent out by the superintendent of Institutes consisted of practical men as follows: A. McNeil, on fruit; A. Elliott, on stock, and Thos. A. Duff, on poultry. At supplementary meetings the following gentlemen: J. E. Myer, on poultry; G. C. Geeson, on fruits; A. Rawlings, the other delegate, having taken sick, had to go home. This was unfortunate, as he was a good man, and well known in Western Ontario among stockmen.

The membership for the year ending 30th June, 1897, is 128.

Our annual picnic will be held at Jubilee Point June 10th. I would like to have as many of the members as possible attend and make success.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

JOHN A. DAVIDSON, Sec.-Treas.

The following officers were elected:—

President—Ed. M. Elliott, Smith.

Vice-President—Geo. W. Bennett, North Monaghan (acclamation).

Secretary-Treasurer—Wm. Collins.

The regular Institute meetings will be held at Lakefield, North Monaghan and Peterborough, with supplementary meetings at Bridgenorth and Buckhorn.

The following are the directors: Messrs. Geo. W. Bennett, Thos. M. Hunter, North Monaghan; G. J. Galvin, R. H. Braden and R. Q. Dench, Lakefield and Douro; Geo. W. Fitzgerald, Geo. E. Elliott, Ed. M. Elliott, H. C. Garbutt, Smith; Dawson Kennedy, Otonabee; Wm. Collins, Peterborough; Wm. Rutherford, South Monaghan.

Messrs. W. J. Hall and J. A. Fitzgerald were elected auditors.

Up-to-Date Songs.

The Peterborough Music Co. has a large and select stock of up-to-date song at close prices.

SEPARATE SCHOOL BOARD.

Report of Proceedings of Regular Monthly Meeting.

The regular meeting of the Separate School Board was held last evening, there being present Messrs. Quinlan, chairman, Hickey, Goselin, McGrath and Kylie.

Ven. Archdeacon Casey, superintendent of schools, was also present.

The minutes of meetings of 5th and 12th ult. were read and confirmed.

Accounts were received from

M McFadden, de-ks	$110 40
D J Sadlier & Co., blackboard paper	11 00
J B Burns, removing partition	15 00
" alterations and repairs	10 00

On motion of Mr. McGrath, seconded by Mr. Goselin, the accounts were ordered to be paid.

An account of Thos. Blodgett for $16 50, on order of chairman of the Property Committee, was confirmed.

The report of school attendance for May was received:

	On Roll.	Ave.
Central	226	200
Convent	218	191
Lake street	197	173
	641	564

Supplies asked for by the teachers of the Lake street and Central schools were referred to the Property Committee with power to act.

The Principal of the Central school gave a list of pupils who persist in being absent from attendance at school. It was received and referred to the truant officer for action.

The caretaker of the Central school wrote asking for some increase in the present salary.—It was received.

The Sons of England wrote inviting the Board to attend divine service in commoration of the Diamond Jubilee, and asking the appointment of a representative to confer with others in arranging the details. It was received.

Moved by Messrs. McGrath and Kylie, that the caretaker's salary be increased $37 per annum, beginning on the 1st of July.—Carried.

On motion of Messrs. Goselin and McGrath the necessary blinds for the windows of Lake street school are to be procured by the Property Committee.—Carried.

The Board then adjourned.

PETERBOROUGH CUSTOM'S RETURNS.

CRICKET.

The annual cricket match between married and single men will take place on the new grounds on Saturday at 2 30.

The crease is finished as far as the sodding is concerned. Mr. John Cousins, who had charge of the work, has done a fine job, and the local cricketters will have one of the best creases in the country. The new crease will be ready for use in August.

There is a chance that the Peterborough eleven will play T.C.S. at Port Hope on Jubilee day.

LACROSSE.

The fastest practice of the year was held at the P.A.A.A. grounds last night, and the staying power of the team is now such as to enable them to stand any amount of hard close play. The Tecumsehs will have their hands full when they tackle the Peterboroughs on Friday, June 11th. It will be observed that the date of the big match has been postponed. This is to avoid conflicting with the date of the Farmers Institute picnic on June 10th.

It is expected that Millbrook will be up some evening next week. The game will start at 6 30. Fu ler particulars later.

The Hastings Star says: "At a meeting of the lacrosse club Friday night the following games were proposed: Hastings at Campbellford, June 5; Norwood at Hastings, June 15; Hastings at Norwood, June 22; Peterborough at Hastings, July 1. The team will hold a grand ball on the evening of July 1st." While no communication has been received, it is just possible a team might leave town for Hastings on the date mentioned.

Bills are out announcing the Tecumseh-Peterborough game on Friday, June 11th. It is expected that large numbers of lacrosse enthusiasts from the surrounding towns will witness the game.

The Granites are practising hard for their game with the Toronto Rosedales Jubilee day.

THE WHEEL.

The members of the Victoria Bicycle club turned out in force last night and thirty-eight riders rode in line to Crawford's grove, where they turned, and returning to town rode through the principal streets headed by their bugle band. The parade was undoubtedly the largest of any yet held in Peterborough, and much credit is due the officers for the way in which they drummed out the riders. After the run the members spent the balance of the evening in the new club rooms, which are beginning to assume a home-like appearance and are quite inviting. Captain Davidson had charge of the run assisted by Lieut. Dickson.

PLANETS IN JUNE.

Mercury reaches greatest elongation west from the sun on June 15th, and at that time will be visible in the morning twilight at the east. He will be in conjunction with Neptune on June 29th. Venus will reach her greatest brilliancy today, June 3. She has been shining in the east as a morning star for some time, and has a brightness far exceeding that of any of the stars. She will be in conjuction with the moon on June 25. Mars is too low in the west for good observation this month. His motion with reference to the stars Castor and Pollux was easily noticeable last month, and during this month he will continue his journey eastward among the stars, passing from the Praesepe in Leo. During this month Jupiter will get well down toward the west horizon, but he may be observed in the evening twilight. His eastward motion is becoming plainly evident in relation to the star Regulus, which is a few degrees west of Jupiter. Jupiter's equatorial belt appears to have more colour this year than usual. The Great Red Spot is still in position, but is dim and difficult to outline. Its place is indicated by the big notch in the broad red belt to the north of the spot. Jupiter will be in conjunction with the moon shortly after midnight next Sunday, June 6. Saturn and Uranus are in the constellation Libra, visible toward the south-east in the evenings. Saturn shines as brightly as a highest grade first magnitude star, and is of a golden colour. A small telescope will show Uranus as a tiny, dull-green disc, with no definite markings. Uranus and Saturn will be in conjunction on June 18. Uranus being four diameters of the moon due south from Saturn. Neptune is invisible. The sun will be at the summer solstice on June 20. Spots are scarce and small.

A Weak Sister

may so prepare your coffee, cereal or chocolate that it hurts your feelings to drink the cup. Many a good-natured man has been denied the health and comfort from Madden Cereal because it has come to him pale, weak, half cold and entirely unpalatable. Boil 15 minutes, make it black and strong. "There you are a friend forever." Ask your grocer for Madden Cereal. 2d

Caterpillars.

The common tent caterpillar is very numerous and destructive this spring, especially to apple trees, which seem to furnish their favourite food. The basswoods, however, are suffering greatly from their ravages. They appear upon these trees in town by thousands and make quick work of destroying the foliage. When not at work they cluster on the trunks in large patches, either for warmth or possibly to conspire against some other tree. When in this condition they can be destroyed wholesale which is the best way of ending their career, that is if watchfulness has not noted the first formation of the webs when the worms are very small, take up little space, and being inactive are easily killed. In some parts of the town the worms drop on the walks, "skinning" down, as the small boy would say, by paying out their web. They are rather a disagreeable surprise to nervous ladies who find themselves struck in the face by these disgusting nuisances.

WHILE WE STOP TO THINK, WE OFTEN MISS OUR OPPORTUNITY.

It needs no thinking to discover that corn at TWENTY-FOUR CENTS PER BUSHEL IS CHEAP, and a safe speculation. Corn has sold on the Chicago market in the years mentioned at the following prices—1887 at 51 cts., 1888 at 60; 1889 at 53; 1890 at 75; 1891 at $1.00; 1892 at 44; 1893 at 50; 1894 at 55 and in 1896 at 30. A big crop and a good crop cannot put it much lower and a small crop and a bad yield can double it in price. I will buy it for investment and purchaser can let it remain in the Chicago elevator, or for speculation, on an advance of $150 for every 5,000 bushels.

MESS PORK is extremely low around $8.00. Stocks are light and decreasing and exports large, local consumption double what it has been for the past two years. What kept pork down for two years was large stocks and poor export and domestic demand. If you have money to invest or speculate your opportunity is now.

A FORMER PETERBOROUGH BOY IN THE PENITENTIARY.

The Present Address of E. Gahan, a Former Resident of the Town.

The Gahan mentioned in the following despatch was at one time a resident of Peterborough, and will be remembered by many as a farm student in Douro:

QUEBEC, June 2.—Gahan, who forged Hon. R. R. Dobell's name on a check for $150, was sentenced by Judge Chaveau in the police court this morning to ten years in the penitentiary.

Gahan was recently released from the penitentiary for throwing vitriol in the face of Louis Seivert of Toronto.

The reason for his release was that he was convicted and sentenced by Magistrate Denison, whereas a magistrate cannot try such a case.

A COUNTY HOSPITAL FOR VICTORIA COUNTY.

A Movement Set on Foot for the Establishment of Such an Institution.

At a largely-attended and enthusiastic public meeting in Lindsay, called in the interests of the establishment of a county hospital, on Tuesday, the spirited discussion that took place was crystalized into the following resolution, which was adopted:

Moved by Mr. T. Stewart, seconded by His Honour Judge Dean, that in the opinion of this meeting the erection of an hospital for the sick in the counties of Victoria and Haliburton is most desirable, and that a committee be appointed to take such steps as may be deemed best to secure the erection and maintenance of such an hospital. The committee to have power to add to their numbers.

The resolution and the project was referred to a standing committee composed of the county council and municipal reeves and prominent citizens of Lindsay. It is to be hoped that the undertaking will succeed. Victoria could in no nobler manner justify her title to her name than by establishing, in the Diamond Jubilee year of Queen Victoria's reign, an institution which means so much in the way of alleviating the sufferings of humanity.

A healthy woman experiences the greatest happiness of all her life when her first-born nestles in her neck. Motherhood is a woman's duty and should be her joy. There are thousands of women to whom motherhood is a torture because of weakness and disease of the organs that make it possible. This is wrong and need not be. If a woman will but study the physiology of the organs distinctly feminine, and learn to take the proper care of her health—to take the proper remedy for weakness and disease peculiar to her sex, motherhood will become an unalloyed pleasure, where now it is dreaded and avoided for its pains and dangers.

The best medicine for a woman to take during the period preceding motherhood is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is the only medicine for this purpose invented by a regularly graduated, skilled and expert specialist in the treatment of the peculiar diseases of women. It cures all weakness and disease of the organs that perpetuate the race. It makes them strong and vigorous. It rids the expectant period of its usual discomforts. It insures baby's health and makes its coming easy and almost painless. It is the discovery of Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. Women who wish to know more of the "Favorite Prescription" should write him.

Frederick Frederick, of No. 1114 S. Second St., Camden, N. J., writes: "My wife is a customer of yours. She has used 'Favorite Prescription' to prevent miscarriage. She had a sickness last July, and suffered untold misery from a severe pain. I repeatedly told her to use your medicines, but she persisted in going to a so-called specialist, whose treatment only made her more sick and miserable. Then she used the 'Favorite Prescription' and was cured."

Pleasure. It is a matter of health alone. Nothing else. A healthy man can't be unhappy if he wants to. Much sickness is caused by constipation. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation.

THE BASEBALL RECORD.

Buffalo, June 1.—The Torontos took their fourth game from the local yops to-day and reduced the distance between first and last places.

Steady batting on the part of the Canadians did the trick. There was a great deal of wrangling over Swartwood's decisions, principally by the home players. Score:

THE MARKETS.

Toronto, June 2.

The grain markets continue dull and the tendency is towards weakness.

Flour—Trade continues dull and prices are generally unchanged. Straight rollers are quoted at $3.50.

Bran—Trade quiet, with bran quoted at $8 to $8.50 west, and shorts $9.50 to $10.

Wheat—Trade is very dull, with buyers holding off. Red winter is quoted at 70c to 71c high freights, and white at 72c. Manitoba wheats are heavy. No. 1 is quoted at 73c, Fort William, and at 78c at Midland. No. 2 hard at 75c to 76c at Midland.

Buckwheat—The demand is limited, and prices nominal.

Barley—The market is quiet, with limited demand. No. 1 is quoted at 30c, No. 2 at 25c and No. 3 extra at 23c to 24c. Feed barley sold at 21c to 22c.

Oats—The market is quiet, with prices heavy. Sales of white at 20c, middle freights. Mixed quoted at 18½c, high freights.

Peas—The market is easy with car lots quoted at 33c middle freight, and at 35c high freight.

Oatmeal—The market is quiet and prices steady at $2.80 to $2.90 for car lots.

Corn—Trade quiet and prices steady. Cars are quoted at 22c to 22½c west.

Rye—Trade quiet and prices unchanged. Car lots quoted at 32c east.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK MARKET.

There were fully 100 car loads of live stock offered on the market yesterday, 84 of which came in Monday evening and Tuesday morning and were made up as follows: 1400 cattle, 170 sheep and lambs, 50 calves, about 20 milch cows and 1400 hogs. The bulk of the cattle were for export, but there were plenty of butchers' cattle to satisfy the demands of the trade, if not more. Cattle weighing from 1200 to 1300 pounds sold at 4½c per pound. On the whole, the market was dull owing to lower markets in England and Scotland and want of shipping space at Montreal.

In the hog market the supply was not equal to the demand. Mr. Harris stated that he could have handled 5000 hogs if he could have got them. Prices have advanced from $5.25 to $5.87½ per cwt.

Dealers complain generally of having paid too much to farmers for their cattle, as they were expecting better markets. Light stockers were in demand at 2½c to 3c. Messrs. Dunn, Rakins, Dean and Crawford were purchasing for export.

ASHES TO ASHES!

The Body of Mr. J. H. R. Molson Cremated in Boston,

IT TOOK BUT ONE SHORT HOUR

To Reduce the Remains of the Montreal Millionaire to a Bit of Dust That a Quart Jar Would Hold—Mrs. Molson and Other Relatives Were Present.

Boston, Mass., June 1.—The mortal remains of the late J. H. R. Molson were resolved to their original elements by the agency of fire at the crematory of the Massachusetts Cremation Society at Forest Hill, West Roxbury, a suburb of this city, at noon to-day. The remains arrived here from Montreal shortly after 8 this morning, accompanied by some of the relatives of the deceased. In the party were: Mrs. Molson, widow of deceased; Miss Hill, H. Archibald, E. S. Archibald, E. W. Molson and H. Markland Molson. On arrival the case enclosing the casket and remains was entrusted to the care of Lewis Jones & Sons, undertakers of La Grande street. Mrs. Molson and friends proceeded to the Hotel Brunswick, and at 11 o'clock re-assembled at the Union Station, and the casket having been transferred to a hearse, the cortege set out for the cemetery. This is situated in a lovely spot, some ten miles from the centre of the city, in a rolling, naturally-wooded country, where are situated a number of peaceful, well-kept cemeteries. The crematory itself occupies a pretty rustic property in a wealth of forest trees and wild flowers, and with an idea of care and refinement conveyed by the trim drives leading up to the quiet yet ornate little structure, and the well-kept lawn and fragrant flowering shrubs, just now in full bloom, surrounding it.

It was about noon when the remains of the late Mr. Molson were driven up to the crematory door, through rows of flowering rhododendrons and deutzias. The little steam engine in the rear apartment was in operation, the great flues in the stack were heated, and everything in readiness for the cremation. At the door stood a plain black catafalque on castors. The casket in which the remains had been brought from Montreal was at once taken out of the severely plain hearse and placed on top of the little black-draped bier, which was wheeled over to the door of the retort nearest the door of the crematory.

A little group of sorrowing friends followed. They found themselves in a severely neat little apartment, say 15 by 30 feet, 15 feet high, tiled floor and tinted walls. The sun was shining through the open windows and gave a bright appearance while the chorus of the song birds without and the perfume of spring flowers pervading the whole place formed a marked contrast to the grief of the mourners assembled in the little apartment.

The bronze plate having been removed by the undertakers' assistant to be later on affixed to a receptacle containing the ashes of the deceased, the casket was quietly rolled into the retort, the relatives taking the last look as the massive door closing the entrance was drawn down.

The retort is practically a long, arched fire-brick chamber, just large enough to accommodate a casket. In the case of Mr. Molson's remains the process occupied little more than an hour, after which the jets were turned off and the ashes and retort, which by this time was heated to a perfect white glow, were left to cool off.

The ashes will be placed in a plain copper cylinder of about a quart capacity and taken back by the sorrowing friends to Montreal to-night or to-morrow.

The superintendent of the crematory states that all the constituents of the casket and the clothing, being lighter than the constituents of the body, are dissipated and delivered up the flues, all of the ashes left in the retort being human ashes, practically the mineral matter of the bones. The combustion of inorganic matter is complete and during cremation there is not the least visible discharge from the chimney.

Mrs. Molson and most of her friends returned to Boston about 1 o'clock.

A Funny Announcement.

The minister of a colored church in a Connecticut town gave out a funeral notice one Sunday which came near upsetting the gravity of a visiting clergyman, who had come to preside over some ceremony in the mission church which was connected with his own society.

"I hab to announce to you, bredren and sisters," said the pastor, earnestly, "dat de funeral ob de only surviving son ob de late William Johnson and his widow, Sarah Johnson (formerly Baker), both deceased, will take place and come to occurrence on Tuesday next at 12 m. noon precisely.

"And I hab to say, bredren and sisters, dat contributions for carrying out dat funeral will be in order and acceptatious, or else de funeral cannot take place, excepting and save only a plain burial; for Samuel Johnson has got jes' money enough to bury hisself widout any obsequious ceremonies, such as he deserves."

The visiting clergyman was glad to learn that this remarkable appeal was not without effect and that Samuel, "the only surviving son," did not lack proper "obsequious ceremonies."—Youth's Companion.

RACING AT HAMILTON.

The First Day of the Jockey Club Meeting Was a Success, Though the Crowd Was None Too Large.

The Hamilton Jockey Club were favored with fine weather for the opening of their spring meeting yesterday afternoon. There were good fields in every one of the six races that generally furnished close finishes.

Favorites carried off four of the events. The only long shot of the day was Lady Doleful, at 6 to 1, in the third race, the favorite, Skate, finishing in second place. Harvey was a well-played second choice in the 2-year-old race, and won at 2 to 1; Marplot, the favorite, running in second place. Zeal was a slight favorite over Dunfuerton at 2 to 1, although these odds were shortened against both horses during the play on the race. Wicker was at prohibitive odds in the 3-year-old event, and won handily. Hamilton made a great ride in the steeplechase and won in good style, although he was pressed through the field for two miles. South Africa, the favorite, captured the closing event of the day without effort. Billy Fisher whipped hard, without avail, coming up the stretch, and finished two lengths behind.

The Toronto train arrived in good time, and when the eight coaches were in, the Queen City contingent numbered about 800. The seats in the grand stand were generally vacant, Hamilton people evidently not being very loyal to their jockey club. The total attendance was about 1300. As usual, the Hamilton turn-out included very many beautiful and tastefully-gowned ladies.

First race, ¾ mile, purse $250, 3-year-olds and up—Zeal 1, The Duchess 2, Belair 3. Time 1.18.

Second race, ½ mile, purse $300, 2-year-olds, allowances and penalties—Harvey 1, Marplot 2, My Maryland 3. Time .50½.

Third race, 1⅛ miles, purse $400, Wellington Handicap—Lady Doleful 1, Skate 2, Kapanga Colt 3. Time 1.50.

Fourth race 1⅛ miles, purse $500, Prince of Wales' Plate, Dominion-bred 3-year-olds—Wicker 1, Rosebury 2, Fiddle 3. Time 2.02¾.

Fifth race, about 2½ miles, purse $400, steeplechase—Lawyer 1, Brother Bob 2, George C. 3. Time 4.42½.

Sixth race, ⅞ mile, purse $250, all ages, selling—South Africa 1, Billy Fisher 2, Beaumont 3. Time 1.30.

The Fluffy Shirt Waist.

The fluffy shirt waists which are the delight of the "fluffy" summer girl's heart are particularly fetching this season. They are made of the delicately tinted materials with blossoms, big or little, scattered over them. Two frills set on each side of the button row and facing it usually trim these. The ruffles are the primmest and daintiest of their kind, and are prettily fluted.

A "Regal" Revival.

The old-time sunshade called the "regal" is one of the revivals of the season, and its special recommendation is the joint in the handle, which allows the stick to fold up. If this swivel joint could be applied to umbrella handles, which are forever trapping people up in the cars and jabbing them in the face, it would be a boon to all man and womankind.

AYER'S PILLS

"Ayer's Cathartic Pills for over thirty years have kept me in good health, never having had a sick day all that time. Before I was twenty I suffered almost continually—as a result of constipation—from dyspepsia, headaches, neuralgia, or boils and other eruptive diseases. When I became convinced that nine-tenths of my troubles were caused by constipation, I began the use of Ayer's Pills, with the most satisfactory results, never having a single attack that did not readily yield to this remedy. My wife, who had been an invalid for years, also began to use Ayer's Pills, and her health was quickly restored. With my children I had noticed that nearly all their ailments were preceded by constipation, and I soon had the pleasure of knowing that with children as with parents, Ayer's Pills, if taken in season, avert all danger of sickness."—H. DAY OF NEW DRAPERY

FRESH MATERIALS FOR THE DRESSING OF COTTAGE WINDOWS.

Some New and Inexpensive Bead Curtains Showing Pretty Designs—They Are to Be Fashionable For Doors, Sashes and Fireplaces.

It is perhaps a sad fact, but none the less true, that if you would have your home windows display, to a passing world, that you are an artistic and modern housekeeper, all your summer curtains of last season must be cast aside. Almost every species of drapery put forth by the house decorators is an absolute novelty this season.

Of course handsome lace window hangings, if they are genuine quality and in good repair, are forever in style, though it is no longer considered in quite nice taste to use lace curtains in summer. They are meant exclusively for winter and the city. For the hot weather and the country bead hangings, new tambour muslin, Dutch madras, French Louis XVI. lawn, Delhi net and Persian gauze, are all or any one entirely appropriate, if you have not made up your mind to drape your windows in chintz or muslin to exactly match your new wall papers.

This last is a method very much in vogue with the women who are reveling in the joys of entire renovation of their summer homes, and have taken a hint from the decorators. It is a nice idea if not repeated in too many rooms, as then the house reflects a most monotonous scheme of color. Yet it is hard to risk failing into the enticing trap. If a room is to have the walls covered in delicate mimosa flowered paper, the mimosa sprayed French Louis XVI. muslin, that comes to exactly match it, is an almost irresistible temptation. There are exquisite muslins besides to absolutely coincide, in color and figuring, with the papers sprayed in morning glories of every tint and solid toned ashes of roses, robbin's egg blue and dove-gray papers, sold with muslin hangings to correspond.

Of course, if you don't wish to carry out this plan in more than a room or two, there are the Delhi nets and new tambour muslins to fall back on for the other windows that may be crying out for fresh dresses. The net referred to is woven on an Indian grass in two tones of green or gray, with a strand as large and a mesh almost as coarse as that employed in making Mexican grass hammocks. The vast difference is that Delhi net is exceedingly soft and interwoven with the vegetable fibre are bright silks or colored beads, to give brilliancy and show, when the material is stretched, that quaint, oriental figures are formed by the introduction of color. At windows or doors the net must hang quite straight from small brass rings encircling a slender brass pole. At the bottom of every net curtain is a finishing frill of grass, or silk fringe, or maybe the big glass beads are strung along the lower edge, tinkling musically together whenever the drapery is disturbed. This mention of beads reminds me to assure the owners of country homes that for summer use the bead draperies are absolutely usurping every doorway, shutting out the ugly view of the fireplace, and hang very close against the sashes of windows, to take the place of Holland shades.

Decorators have come to employ them lavishly, first, because a bead curtain is the coolest and cleanest of all hangings; they are not costly, they outlast any woven goods, and as they are now manufactured are pretty beyond words. One of the most delightful possible effects to arrive at in draping a back hall door, or a long French window, is to suspend there a portiere of blue beads. Pale blue up near the pole, but a rich, dark blue near the bottom, while across this azure background a flight of swifts or swallows wing their way. Such a portiere is made of beads solidly, with no joints of bamboo introduced, and while it shuts out a view of the interior completely from a person outside the door or window, to one within it merely reveals the road, street or garden through a blue mist.

With few exceptions, the bead curtains, so eagerly sought for, are not strung to imitate oriental designs, but display in blue and white the most lovely delf views, giant palm and fern leaves against a yellow background and white bead lilies amid a surrounding sky of greenery. At intervals during the summer a soft cloth passed over the beads cleanses them thoroughly, while, in many cases the beads are hung inside the window casing and muslin is draped over them. This is where linen shades are not in use.

Decorators, however, this season have rather given their whole allegiance to the theory and practice of draping windows in green. Green, they boldly assert, is the one and only tone to use for hangings intended to shade one from the light, not only for reasons of beauty, but hygiene as well. Therefore, we are having one of three things done, by persons who can afford to follow what old-fashioned folk may call a fad. The lower sashes of nursery and bedroom windows are being glazed with green glass, or draped in green Persian gauze, or having fixed to them carved Indian window screens of wood stained a shade of dull, soft green.

FRESH DRAPERIES.

An equally high point of taste and precaution is to have, as the sketch shows, a window all in green.

The workman often eats his lunch on the same bench where he does his work. The office man turns his desk into a dining table. Neither gets the out of doors exercise he needs, neither takes the proper time for eating. It is small wonder that the digestion of both gets out of order. In such cases Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets come to their assistance by aiding nature in taking care of the food.

The cause of nine tenths of the sickness of the world is constipation. From this cause come indigestion; disorders of the stomach, liver and kidneys; billousness, headaches, flatulence, heartburh, impurity of the blood and the serious complication that follow. To begin with, constipation is a little thing, and a little thing will cure it. The Pleasant Pellets are tiny, sugar-coated granules. They will perfectly cure the worst case of constipation and indigestion. If the druggist tries to sell you some other pill that pays him greater profit, just think of what will best pay you.

An Ill Wind.

"Curse the luck!"

The milkman gave a vicious tug at the pump handle and jumped into his wagon. Giving vent to his spite by whipping his horse unmercifully, he sped down the road, leaving the air blue behind him.

For years he had left home every morning before daybreak with his cans half-filled with milk. These he stocked up with water from the old pump, and then proceeded to serve his customers. For the first time in his career as a purveyor of pure milk from his own dairy, the pump had failed him. Somebody had broken the handle.

It was too late to return home, and he hadn't the nerve to borrow any water from his neighbors, hardened though he was.

In the midst of his reflections he was accosted by a stranger, who ordered him to stop, at the same time displaying a State Dairy Inspector's badge. With a much better grace than the official had expected, the milkman pulled up his horse and uncovered the cans for inspection. The result was a complete surprise to the man with the badge. He was utterly dumbfounded. For the first time in his life all the milk he tested was absolutely pure.

The news spread far and wide. Soon the milkman had not a rival left in the place. The monopoly made him rich, and everywhere he went he was proudly pointed out as the one honest milkman.

Get Ahead

A sea captain and a lawyer lived next door to each other. One very windy night, the lawyer was reading a book in his study when a terrific crash upstairs startled him. Upon investigation he found that a chimney had hurled itself through his roof, doing considerable damage. He discovered it was the sea captain's chimney. Hastening down to his library, he pulled out his law books and hunted up similar cases, devising and scheming how he could secure satisfaction from the detestable captain. While thus engaged, a note arrived from his enemy that read as follows: "Sir: If you don't return those bricks at once, I will put the matter in hands of the law."—San Francisco Argonaut.

Canadian Records in the U.S.

For many years all animals registered in Canadian records were allowed to be exported to the United States duty free, but in 1889 all Canadian records were discredited by the American Government, says Farming, and in order to pass duty free into the United States purebred animals bred in Canada must be recorded in American records. Canadian records have as high a standard and are in every way as carefully conducted as the American herd, stud and flock books, therefore the officers of your associations have exerted themselves to induce our American neighbors to recognize Canadian records. Negotiations are now pending.

THE GOOD STREETS PROBLEM.

The Annual Report of the Provincial Road Instructor.

The report of Mr. A. W. Campbell, Provincial Instructor in Road-making, is an interesting one. He has evidently not been idle since his appointment. His report states that during the past year he has officially visited and inspected roads and streets in twenty-two of the cities, towns and villages and twenty-seven townships in Ontario.

While part of the report is devoted to country roads, Mr. Campbell gives extended attention to matters more especially affecting the construction and maintenance of roadways in cities and towns. Cedar block pavements are discontinued. Macadam, he holds, should in Ontario precede asphalt on residential streets, where the traffic is not too great. Brick is not in appearance equal to well-kept macadam and should be used on residential streets only when, for economy, a stronger pavement is required, and where the

is not desired. Brick pavement is declared to be the ideal pavement for the business streets of towns and smaller cities. The cost is from one-third to one-half less than asphalt, it is not objectionably noisy, it does not decay readily in a moist climate and will support a considerable weight of traffic. Asphalt is suitable for a business thoroughfare, where a slightly stronger pavemene than brick is needed to support a somewhat heavier and more constant traffic. It is suitable, too, for a residential street on which there is too much travel to permit the laying of a macadam pavement. The choice of pavements for the business streets of towns and cities of Ontario appears to rest at present between asphalt and brick, the former so far obtaining the preference."

Mr. Campbell has a good word to say for our old friend Macadam. "All kinds and classes of paving have their proper place, and in its proper place, there is none more serviceable or capable of giving greater satisfaction than Macadam." Macadam, he considers to be particularly appropriate on residential streets, where there is not a great amount of travel. "A well-kept macadam driveway is in keeping with well-kept boulevards, lawns and shade trees, the characteristics of a residential street, it has a cool appearance, the dust can readily be kept down by sprinkling, and for light driving is the favourite among horsemen."

The present tendency is to narrow the width of the driveway. From twenty-two to twenty-six feet is found on the great majority of the residential streets of the towns, ample to accommodate traffic. In other words, less roadway and more boulevarding seems to be the order of the day.

STREET PAVEMENTS.

The First Cost, Scavengering and Watering For Thirty Years.

Belleville Sun.

In Belleville, as well as in every other Canadian community, the question of paving the streets is, and always will be, a vital topic, hence a few facts relative to the estimated comparative local cost of different pavements in respect of first cost, maintenance, scavenging and watering over a period of thirty years, furnished in a report by the borough engineer of Wolverhampton, Eng., will be interesting. Granite sets on a bed of Portland cement concrete six inches thick, cost $3 per square yard, and have a probable life of thirty years. Australian hardwood blocks on a bed of cement concrete six inches thick cost $4 50 per square yards, and have a probable life of eighteen years, while creosote deal blocks similarly laid require the expenditure of only $3 per square yard, with a correspondingly diminished life of twelve years. Natural rock asphalt pavement two inches in thickness, on a bed of Portland cement concrete, six inches thick, can be laid for $3 35 per square yard, the life being calculated at fifteen years. The total cost of each of the above mentioned pavements during thirty years for maintenance, scavenging and watering is fixed as follows: Granite sets for an area of 7,902 square yards, $45,000; Australian hardwood, same area, $32,210; creosote deal, $78,800, and natural rock asphalt, $65,175.

LATEST CABLE NEWS

London Times Gives Warning to the Foreign Office.

THAT CHINESE RAILWAY SCHEME

The Thunderer Says Germany and France are Behind the Belgian Syndicate, and Insinuates That British Interests May be Menaced in the Far East.

London, June 3.—The Pekin correspondent of The Times says: "The Chinese-Belgian Railway contract was signed on May 30. Under its terms the railway from Han Kau to Paoting-Fu is to be completed by 1903. The contract appears to be unworkable, because, in view of the fact that complete control is vested in China, no confidence can be felt in the security to be offered by the syndicate. Sheng Ta Jen undertook to raise £2,000,000, but he will find it impossible unless he can float a new foreign loan from which to divert that amount. No Chinese capitalists will invest in the enterprise. The Russo-Chinese Bank has been appointed bankers to the railway company.

The Times, commenting editorially on the scheme of Sheng Ta Jen, says:

"We cannot doubt that France and Russia are interesting themselves in the Belgian syndicate, and therefore it would be extremely rash to assume that the Han Kau Railway will not be begun, even though it lacks attractiveness for capitalists. In the light of this it behooves our Foreign Office to keep a watchful eye on the progress of the enterprise."

SPANISH CABINET RESIGNS.

The Government Upset Because One Man Slapped Another's Face.

Madrid, June 2.—The Premier, Senor Canovas del Castillo, has tendered to the Queen Regent the resignation of the Cabinet, owing to the difficulty the Ministers experience in carrying on the Government in view of the Parliamentary situation caused by the refusal of the Liberals to take part in the deliberations of the Cortes. This attitude of the Liberals is due to the personal encounter between the Duke of Tetuan, the Minister for Foreign Affairs, and Prof. Comas, a Liberal Senator, on May 21, when the Duke slapped the face of the Senator after a heated debate on the Morgan belligerency resolution adopted by the United States Senate. The Queen Regent will hold a Cabinet Council tomorrow.

The Resignation Accepted.

London, June 3.—The Madrid correspondent of The Times says: "The Queen Regent has accepted the resignation of the Cabinet of Senor Canovas del Castillo. It has caused a profound sensation.

"Both Houses of the Cortes voted without debate the financial supplies bill necessary to enable the Cortes to adjourn sine die, and granted authority for the issue of treasury bonds and the contraction of loans guaranteed by the Spanish treasury to cover the expenses of the wars in Cuba and the Philippine Islands, with a special lien on the revenues of Spain for Ku Cuban war loan. The Queen Regent then signed the decree suspending the sittings, whereupon Senor Canovas immediately tendered his resignation."

CHEESE MARKETS.

Picton, May 26.—There was 843 cheese boarded to-day from 11 factories; highest bid, 8 9-16c; no sales.

Napanee, May 25.—Total number of cheese boarded, 1,310—718 coloured and 592 white; 985 sold at 8 13-16c; balance unsold.

Woodstock, May 26.—Twenty-two factories offered 2,674 boxes cheese; all sold at from 8 5-16c to 8¼c; market brisk. Seven buyers present.

Stirling, May 26.—Cheese offered on the Stirling board:—490 white, 175 coloured. Buyers offered 8⅜c; no sales. Board adjourned for one week.

London, May 29.—Twenty-seven factories offered 3,608 boxes Mar. Sales, 185 at 8⅛c, 50 at 8 3-16c, 1,114 at 8¼c, 935 at 8 5-16c, 150 at 8⅜c. Market active.

Brockville, May 27.—To-day's meeting of the Cheese Board was made interesting by the presence of two English buyers, Mr. Partington, of London, and Mr. Knight of Liverpool. The former addressed the board briefly in reference to the cheese trade. He said English people spoke of America as a whole, but since crossing the ocean he saw quite clearly that the Canadian product possessed a distinctive character of superiority that even one not an expert could detect. The tastes of some English consumers he pronounced fads, but he warned the dairymen that even these fads had to be suited. He saw no reason why Canadian butter could not establish itself on the English market, but, said he, the English people persist that the butter must go on the table in the same condition in which it leaves the producer. The cold storage scheme of the Government he thought was a grand scheme, but said it must include refrigerator cars as well as steamships. He had been deeply impressed with the observation he had witnessed of Her Majesty's birthday and thought the motherland could learn something from the colonies. The offering on the board was 1,365 boxes white and 2,343 coloured; 8¼c was bid but not taken, and a careful estimate places the offering on curb and board as about 6,000 boxes. These were practically cleared out after the board was over, mostly at board prices, but some went off at 8⅜c.

Listowel, May 27th. At the first fair in Listowel held to-day, Mr Robt Cleland of Elma was elected president for 1897. A resolution was adopted opposing the bill at present before Parliament to appoint an official cheese inspector. At the fair there were 4,000 boxes of May cheese boarded, nearly all of which was sold at 8 to 8¼c. One lot went at 8 13-16c, and one lot at 8⅜c. Next fair June 10th.

Kingston, May 27.—At the Frontenac cheese board to-day 1,252 coloured and 135 white were boarded. Murphy bought 200 at 8 9-16c, and 400 at 8¼c; Ayer 275 at 8¼c; Madden 210 at 8¼c. The balance likely to be sold after board.

Chesterville, May 27.—At a meeting of the cheese board held here this evening 779 boxes were boarded, 691 coloured and the balance white; 431 boxes of coloured and white sold at 8 9-16c; 56 white sold at 8⅜c.

Perth, May 28.—Cheese market opened here to-day with about 1,000 boxes cheese—all white, no coloured. Ruling price, 8 9-16c, all sold. Three Montreal buyers present.

Iroquois, May 28.—At the cheese board to-day, 701 coloured and 20 white were offered, all sold at 8 9-16c except 3 lots, which brought 8⅜c.

Utica, May 31.—At the Utica Board of Trade to-day the following sales of cheese were made: 3,000 boxes, large, at 7⅞c; 2,470 boxes, large, at 7⅞c; 104 boxes, large, at 7⅞c; 1,080 boxes, large, at 7¾c; 130 boxes, small, at 7c to 7 1-2c; 65 boxes, small, at private terms; 1,224 boxes, large and small, consigned; 19 packages creamery butter, at 15c. Cheese market ½c lower, but active. At Little Falls these sales were made: 1,250 boxes, large, at 7 1-2c; 246 boxes, small, at 7¾c; 3,000 boxes, small, at 7 1-2c; 14 packages dairy butter at 14c to 15c.

Campbellford, June 1.—At the regular meeting of the cheese board held here this evening 1,045 boxes were boarded (all white). The following sales were made: Whitton, 45 boxes, at 8¼c and 95 at 8 1-16c; Cook, 285 at 8 3-16c; Ayer, 75 at 8 1-8c; balance unsold. The buyers present were Messrs. Bailey, Madden, Cook Thompson and Whitton. The board meets again one week from to-night.

Madoc, June 1.—Twelve factories boarded 620 boxes of white; 165 boxes were sold to Watkins, 145 to Ware, and 115 to Ayer, at 8 1-16 to 8 3-8c. Five buyers were present.

Belleville, June 1.—At our board to-day 36 factories offered 2,273 boxes of white and 388 boxes of coloured cheese. Following are the sales: Thomas Watkins bought 230 boxes of white at 8¼c, McCargar & Co., 210 coloured at 8¼c, A. Ayer and Co., 60 white at 8 1-16c, Morden Bird 60 white at 8 1-16c, and 40 white at 8c.

Ingersoll, June 1.—Offerings to-day, 3,853 boxes, balance May make; one lot, 220 boxes, sold at 8¼c; 8c to 8 1-16c ruling bid. Large attendance. Market quiet.

AMID MUCH CHEERING

The Premier and Madame Laurier Leave Ottawa

FOR THE JUBILEE CELEBRATION.

A Large Company of Ministers and Members as Well as Private Citizens Saw Them Off—Matters Before the Railway Committee General News From the Capital.

Ottawa, June 3.—(Special.)—Amidst the cheers and hurrahs of a large and representative gathering at the Central depot this morning the Montreal train steamed out, bearing the Premier and Madame Laurier and party, bound for England to attend the Diamond Jubilee festivities. Scores of Ottawa's citizens, including Cabinet Ministers, members and Senators, braved the inclement weather to bid adieu to Canada's representative and his esteemed lady, and to wish them godspeed in their journey across the waters. Just previous to their departure Hon J. I. Tarte presented Mme. Laurier with a magnificent bouquet of roses, and Lady Marjory Gordon brought good wishes from their Excellencies for their safe journey.

The party included many members of Parliament, who will accompany the Premier to Montreal, and a number of military gentlemen, who will act on the staff during the visit.

As the train pulled out from the station the Premier and Mme. Laurier bowed their acknowledgements for the enthusiastic send-off by the many present.

Before leaving for England Mr. Laurier stated that if he had not to go away he would see that the prohibition plebiscite bill would be introduced and pushed through. The Premier stated this at the caucus yesterday. It is, however, very doubtful if this can be done in his absence, as the temperance people are not agreed among themselves as to how the question should be submitted. But even if it were introduced, nothing can be done in the way of taking a vote until the voters' lists are revised.

The Jubilee contingent of the Northwest Mounted Police spent a couple of hours in the city this afternoon on their way to Quebec. They are a strapping lot of men, averaging 5 feet 11 inches, and evoked very favorable comment as they passed through the Parliament Buildings.

Among those who left for England today were Sir Henry Strong, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, and Mr. D. B. McTavish, City Solicitor of Ottawa. Sir Henry will take his seat on the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council when the colonial appeals come up in the month of July. Mr. McTavish has been selected as associate counsel with Christopher Robinson to argue the fisheries appeal, and also the reference regarding the disputed rights to the appointment of Queen's counsel.

A bill to revise and further amend the acts respecting the Saskatchewan Railway and Mining Company, and to change the name to the Saskatchewan Pacific Railway and Mining Company, caused considerable discussion in the Railway Committee this morning. The principal directors are Toronto men. The road is authorized to build from Dunmore to Hudson Bay, and they ask for the power to build branch lines. The bill was reported after the proposed extensions had been struck out.

Another Crow's Nest Pass project was launched on the Railway Committee of the Commons this morning. It was called the Manitoba & Pacific Railway. The line as proposed begins at Portage La Prairie, crosses the Assiniboine River to join the Northern Pacific at Belmont, thence westerly by way of the Crow's Nest Pass to the Pacific coast.

Mr. Choquette called attention to the fact that this is but another scheme for a charter through the Pass, whereupon Mr. McDonnell, one of the promoters of the measure, agreed to a curtailment of the enterprise, in view of the fact that an agreement has been arrived at between the C. P. R. and the Government. He named Lethbridge as the western terminus and, after a spirited discussion, the bonding privilege of the company was reduced from $20,000 to $15,000 a mile.

Mr. Maclean of York asserted that a prairie road could easily be built and equipped for $10,000 a mile. In the past the bonds of such enterprises had been stolen by promoters and contractors. As amended the bill was then passed.

Mr. Sifton of Winnipeg, father of Hon. Clifford Sifton, Minister of the Interior, gave an interesting personal experience at the meeting of the Christian Scientists at Orange Hall, Albert-street, last night. He stated that having placed himself in the hands of several of the most skilful members of the medical profession in Canada, and the United States, and at numerous health resorts, in vain, in the hope of recovering from a serious illness, he was at length given up to die. He was hovering between life and death and fully expected death to come to him in a few days, when, to satisfy Mrs. Sifton, he sent for help from a Christian Scientist. To his surprise, he in a short time found himself rapidly improving, and soon after fully restored to health. Since that time, two years ago, he has enjoyed health and happiness. He gave several instances of healing, similar to his own. He hopes to visit the Christian Science mother church at Boston before returning to Winnipeg.

Mgr. Merry Del Val left for St. Boniface, Man., this afternoon. He was accompanied by his private secretary, Rev. Father Pampieri. A special car was sent from Montreal by the C.P.R. to convey him on his journey across the continent. It is likely that he will remain in Manitoba until June 17 or thereabouts, and then return to Ottawa, whence he will proceed directly home to Rome. During his stay in the Northwest the delegate's time will be wholly occupied in completing his mission and on this score he has already had to refuse several invitations to be present at various places. Among these was one from the church authorities of Prince Albert, asking him to witness, on June 17, the consecration of the new coadjutor bishop of that place.

According to reliable authority the Government had pretty hard work yesterday in whipping their followers into line. It is said Sir Richard Cartwright was largely responsible for this. There was a great deal of protest against the railway policy, and it was only tacitly agreed to when the Government said they were committed to it, and if the party rejected it the Government would have to resign. No formal endorsation of the policy, however, was obtained.

It is reported that Mr. Dupont is preparing a resolution on the general question of Separate Schools, declaring in their favor on principle, hoping to entrap some of the French Liberals in the absence of Mr. Laurier. The Premier, in caucus yesterday, counselled his French-Canadian supporters to vote down anything introduced in the nature of a catch motion.

Sir Richard Cartwright, the senior Privy Councillor, will be Acting Premier during Mr. Laurier's absence, and also act as president of the Privy Council.

Sir Richard's offices now at Acting Premier, Acting Minister of Militia, Acting President of the Privy Council and Minister of Trade and Commerce.

Sir Charles Tupper leaves for British Columbia after the session closes. He is interested in gold mining. After returning, he intends going to Nova Scotia and will leave for England in September.

Before the Standing Orders Committee this morning the application of the Catercet Power Company of Hamilton for power to divert a water supply from the Welland Canal, was opposed by St. Catharines on the ground that the dams would interfere with their pure water supply.

The Banking and Commerce Committee this morning reported the bills of the Dominion Safe Deposit and Trusts Company and of La Mutuelle Generale Canadienne.

T. G. Shaughnessy, vice-president of the C.P.R., was in town to-day as also was Z. A. Lash, Q.C.

Mr. Taylor proposes to ask the Government's intentions this session regarding the prohibition plebiscite.

MADE THEM SELL CHEAP.

The Commander of a Warship is Worse to Fishermen Than a Whole Host of Free Traders.

Halifax, N.S., June 3.—Reports have just been received here of several difficulties that have occurred on the Newfoundland fishing grounds between American, French and Canadian schooners and the captain of H.M.S. Pelican. A complaint has been made against the captain of the Pelican that he interfered a few days ago with a Nova Scotia schooner and compelled the captain to sell herring to French vessels at forty cents per barrel.

It is supposed that the commander of the Pelican maintained that the fish were taken in French waters. Other schooners, it is said, were treated in the same manner.

On May 22 two American schooners and several French vessels had a difficulty over the cargo of the former, which the Americans were obliged to sell to the French. One of the fishermen, Captain Ozon, says the warship had no right to compel the sale of the fish.

MRS. EDMONDS SHOT HERSELF.

A Mournful Tragedy Which Took Place at Port Rowan Yesterday.

Port Rowan, Ont., June 3.—Early this morning the news that Mrs. Edmonds had ended her troubles with a shot from a gun was circulated through the town, and inquiry substantiated the deplorable fact. Mrs. Edmonds had her troubles in life and sorrows too deep to talk about, and which she had hidden away in her own heart. This made her despondent, and she became weary of life and sighed for release. She procured some cartridges at Simcoe, and early in the morning, when everyone was asleep, she pointed the gun at her heart and pulled the trigger. The charge lodged in her shoulder above the heart, making a mortal wound. But she was conscious when her friends reached her room, and was able to relate the story of the tragedy. She was a Miss Soper before being married to Walter Edmonds of Detroit. Her mother lives in Vienna.

AN ENORMOUS OFFENCE.

A Printer Accused of Selling Afloat $1,250,000 Worth of Imitation Bonds.

New York, June 3.—Richardo De Queseda and his handsome wife were arrested by United States secret service agents to-day and accused of forging Costa Rican bonds. He is the proprietor of a small printing house in Malden-lane, and he is supposed to have set afloat $1,250,000 of excellent imitations of Costa Rica Government issues. The arrests were made on information from Port Limon, Costa Rica, where other arrests have been made. The results of the spurious bonds sales have been, it is said, devoted to a conspiracy against the reigning Administration. De Queseda and his wife deny all allegations.

NOT MAYO'S MURDERER.

Racine, a Suspect, Discharged, and the Tragedy Still Shrouded in Mystery.

Plattsburg, N.Y., June 3.—Joseph Racine was discharged to-day from custody, sufficient evidence not having been produced in a preliminary examination to hold him for the murder of Simeon Mayo. There was nothing produced to connect him with the case except the testimony of one witness, who identified him as a person seen at Rouse's Point the night of the murder. This leaves this tragedy still shrouded in mystery, the examination only bringing out more fully the horrors of the crime. There is no doubt that Mayo was shot through the head by some unknown person on the night of Dec. 24 and the body then taken to a swamp on the Government reservation and there nearly totally destroyed by burning.

France Proposes to Retaliate.

Paris, June 3.—In the Chamber of Deputies to-day Baron Des Rotours, a Protectionist Deputy representing the fourth district of Lille, submitted a motion to raise the duties on American products if the United States fixes prohibitive duties upon French products.

FOLLY OF PROTECTION

As Seen Through London Chronicle Spectacles.

BRITAIN'S COFFERS ARE FILLED

And the Government of Protected America is Troubled by Deficits More Commendation of the Laurier Government by The London Times—General Cable News.

London, June 4.—The Daily Chronicle, in an editorial on the tariff debate and the allegations that the United States Senators have been improperly involved in sugar stock speculations, says:

"It would be hard to find a more striking instance of the folly of protection as the real cure of economic depression. While the British exchequer is full to overflowing, the American treasury is suffering from a deficit. If we should be fools enough to begin this business of tariff tinkering, which destroys all commercial stability, we should soon find ourselves in the same predicament."

The Times on Canada Again

London, June 4.—The Times says editorially this morning: "It has been the merit and privilege of Canada during this happy Jubilee year to remind us by a great practical legislative measure that the Empire may be united more closely upon commercial lines. This achievement and the spirit in which it has been performed will assuredly be borne in mind when Mr. Laurier arrives."

THE CRETAN QUESTION

Raised in the British Commons—Mr. Balfour Was Reassuring.

London, June 3.—Sir Charles Dilke, advanced Liberal member for the Forest division of Gloucestershire, raised the Cretan question in the House of Commons to-day by questioning the Government on the subject.

Mr. A. J. Balfour, First Lord of the Treasury, in reply, said the recent Mussulman outbursts were the inevitable outcome of the state of anarchy lately prevailing in the Island of Crete, and, considering the provocations and attacks to which the Mohammedans had been subjected, there was reason for congratulation that things were not worse. The House, he added, need not be pessimistic, as the future of Crete was a more difficult problem than the settlement of the basis of the conditions of peace between Turkey and Greece.

Germany Threatens Reprisals

Berlin, June 4.—The National Zeitung says to-day that if Germany suffers by the Canadian tariff, she must make reprisals.

Trouble at Merawi

London, June 4.—A despatch to The Daily Mail from Cairo says that a smart skirmish has taken place between the Anglo-Egyptian column and the Dervishes at Merawi, near the Fourth Cataract, the most advanced post occupied by the Dongola expedition on the Nile. Captain Peyton was severely wounded.

Oleomargarine and Emigration

Berlin, June 3.—The Bundesrath today agreed to the oleomargarine and emigration bills as passed by The Reichstag.

AMNESTY TO FENIANS.

Mr. John Dillon Got Little Satisfaction From the Government Leader.

London, June 3.—In the House of Commons to-day, Mr. John Dillon, chairman of the Irish Parliamentary party, asked if the Government proposed to follow the example of all civilized nations, upon occasions of great national rejoicing, and grant amnesty to the Irish treason-felony prisoners.

The Government leader and First Lord of the Treasury, Mr. A. J. Balfour, denied the relevancy of the question and declared that the prisoners referred to, in the view of the House, did not belong to the classification of political prisoners.

A Cordial Interview

Paris, June 3.—Senator Edward O. Wolcott of Colorado, the leading member of the United States Monetary Commission, referring to-day to the interview which he and his fellow commissioners, former Vice-President Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois and General Charles Jackson Paine of Massachusetts, had with President Faure, said to a representative of the Associated Press: "Our interview yesterday was of the most cordial nature. It lasted nearly an hour, and the conversation dealt exclusively with the subject which brought us as envoys to France. But I am unable at present to divulge the details of our conversation."

Armistice Officially Announced

Athens, June 3.—It is officially announced that an armistice has been agreed to between the Greek and Turkish commanders in Thessaly and Epirus.

Not all Settled Yet

Athens, June 4.—Although the armistice has been signed in Epirus and Thessaly, a special clause stipulates that a meeting of the Greek and Turkish delegates shall be held to-day to settle the details of the armistice on the sea. If there should be a failure to agree in this matter, the whole convention will be void.

The Turkish delegates demand that all vessels under the Turkish or any neutral flag shall be freely admitted to Greek ports, thus practically raising the blockade, and that on the coast of Macedonia and Epirus the Greek fleet shall be withdrawn beyond the range of the guns, on Turkey's undertaking that neither troops nor contraband of war will be landed.

The Greek Government objects to being deprived of the right of search.

In deference to the advice of the powers, however, the Cabinet will probably yield. The armistice is to continue until the conclusion of the peace negotiations. In the event that these should prove abortive, either party must give 24 hours' notice of an intention to resume hostilities.

They Will Oppose Duffy.

Knowlton, Que., June 3.—A large representative meeting of Conservatives from all parts of the County of Brome met here to-day. It was decided to oppose the Hon. Mr. Duffy in the coming election. Delegates meet here on Saturday to choose a candidate.

THE CROW'S NEST PASS BARGAIN

When the Conservative Government gave privileges to a railway, it was an out-and-out gift. But the present Government makes the subsidy to a railway an equivalent to the purchase of exemption from monopoly. The late Government proposed to give assistance to the Crow's Nest Pass Railway, but there was not a tittle of evidence that there was to be any stipulation for anything in return for the money to be voted. The railway monopoly that burdened the Northwest is a great factor in retarding the settlement of this magnificent area and developing its resources. The new arrangement for the Government control of freight rates is a great boon. The reduction in grain freights alone is 1½ cents presently, and 1½ cents within a year, amounts to 3 cents per 100, is a clear gain of over $100,000 a year to the farmers of the Northwest on a shipment of fifty million bushels, which will before long be far below the average annual output of grain. Then, again, a very important feature of the agreement is that by which the Government has secured the western country against a coal monopoly. The C. P. R. has agreed to give up to the Government 50,000 acres of their coal lands in British Columbia, held under their lease of the British Columbia Southern Railway. These 50,000 acres are to be divided into blocks and selected alternately by the C.P.R. and the Government, the Government to have first choice, the C.P.R. next, the Government choosing the third block, the C.P.R. the fourth, and so on.

The cost to the country of carrying the Crows Nest Pass subsidy (which will, at 11,000 per mile for 330 miles, amount to $3,600,000) will be about $120,000 a year, a sum which will be offset by the direct gain in grain rates to the farmers of the Northwest, of an equivalent, and as time goes on, of a larger amount. Besides there is the destruction of possible monopoly in coal and the lowering of rates on a specified list of articles of common consumption. Of course the people of the older provinces will have, for the present, to pay the larger share of the interest on the subsidy, but they will be amply recouped. The lowering of freight rates will add to the prosperity of the Northwest, and lead to a rapid increase of population—a population that will be almost entirely agricultural, and which will require the manufactured products of the older portions of the Dominion. The increased and enlarged market will, before long, more than compensate for the amount of payment in the way of interest.

It would seem that the agreement as to reduction of rates is far preferable to the proposal to build at immense expense a competing line parallel with the C. P. R. from Lake Superior west. This would involve ten times the expenditure in the way of bonus on the part of the Government and without the substantial results now obtained. Competing railway lines are a delusion and a snare so far as immunity from excessive freight charges are concerned. We see that all over the country. We in Peterborough fondly and vainly imagined that when the C. P. R. was built in competition with the Grand Trunk we should be in clover. What was the result? The two lines are working hand and glove in the matter of freight and passenger rates as amicably as if both lines were under one ownership and management. As far as the facts of the proposed deal of the Government with the C.P.R. is concerned, the arrangement seems to be a favourable one to the country.

THE CHEAP LABOUR BUGABOO

Montreal Herald.

Mr. Foster has been taken with a fear that the lower tariff will be extended to China and that if this be so there will be a consequent "inflow of the products of cheap Asiatic labour." To show that this latter fear is baseless, even if the former should be realized (and of this there is not the slightest likelihood) two or three plain considerations suggest themselves. In the first place Chinese labour is not able to compete in its own market with the products of English labour. And as, under our tariff, there is no doubt that Canadian manufacturers, with the substantial tariff advantage which is still left to them, will be able to hold their own in the home market against English manufacturers in all the principal lines, there is little sense in anybody growing anxious about the competition of countries which cannot compete with England. The same form of reasoning may be applied to European countries.

Glancing at the practical result of the inclusion of Germany and Belgium, fo will be seen that even under such circumstances the advantage would still be with the English manufacturer. It should be remembered that it is between the English manufacturer and his American competitor that the closest rivalry for the Canadian market takes place in the more important lines of our imports. What reason is there to fear that in such large lines as woollens, cottons, cutlery, etc., the English manufacturer will not be able to hold his own with any European competitor, and thus that he will not be able to hold the advantage which Canada is extending to him, and which is now in fact secured to him so far as the Dominion Parliament can secure it?

So long as English manufacturers continue to command all the open markets of the world, it is seeking out trouble and flying in the face of the facts to raise the cry that Canada is going to be flooded by the product of the cheap labour either of European or Asiatic countries. When the Ottawa Opposition raise this cry they simply put into a new form that old slander upon the Motherland which one of the leaders of the present Opposition uttered when he declared that the only way Britain can extend or sustain her trade is by forcing her wares upon savage tribes at the point of the bayonet.

For our part, we see no reason for being seriously disturbed about the talk of extending our lower tariff to Germany and Belgium. We hope it may not be necessary, and we feel sure that under any circumstances it will not be necessary to do so for long. But if it must be done we should remember that it will be at Britain's instance. It will not lessen the Imperial effect of the preferential offer which Canada is holding out to the mother country. The offer has sufficed to show Canada's love and attachment. By it legislative and practical form has been given to the prevailing sentiment of Imperial unity. Its effect cannot therefore be destroyed by the interposition of difficulties for which Canada is not in any sense responsible. We should remember that, as the London Times has said, "even should they (the Canadian proposals) be defeated on technical grounds, they will none the less have have assisted enormously the ultimate solution of the problem. Whatever their fate, they constitute by far the most important contribution ever made to the commercial unification of the Empire."

PRETTY ROUGH ON ALTGELD.

The Ex-Governor Believed by Examiners to Have Been in League With Spaulding in Shady Work.

Springfield, Ill., June 3.—The report of the special committee of the Senate, appointed to investigate the charge of misappropriation of funds of the University of Illinois by C. W. Spaulding, treasurer of the University Board and president of the defunct Globe Savings Bank, which will be submitted to the Senate to-day, declares that ex-Governor Altgeld was a heavy borrower of the failed bank; that he must have known of its insolvent condition when he recommended President Spaulding for treasurer of the University Board, and that H. B. Prentice, formerly in charge of the banking department of the State auditor's office, was removed at Altgeld's request, after having insisted on a rigid examination of the Globe Savings Bank affairs.

The committee concludes that Mr. Spaulding, with the Governor's aid, was elected treasurer of the university "very largely for the purpose of furnishing funds for this bank, and for the purpose of loaning large sums of money to the Governor and to persons connected with that bank, and even to persons who are members of the Board of Trustees of the University."

AUSTRALIAN MUTTON

Was Talked of by the Commoners Yesterday.

MORE OPPOSITION OBSTRUCTION.

New South Wales Comes Under the Preferential Clause—Mr. Foster Thinks British Columbia Will be Supplied With Australian Meat to Exclusion of Canadian.

Ottawa, June 3.—(Special)—The House in Committee of Ways and Means today rejected Sir Charles Tupper's proposed amendment to the anti-combines clause of the tariff, and then proceeded to the consideration of succeeding items. Among these were the wine, beer and spirit duties, which were passed with practically no discussion. The mutton duty of 35 per cent. was made the subject of an attack by the Opposition, under the impression that the sheep-raising colony of New South Wales would be entitled to the privileges of the reciprocal clause. Mr. Henderson moved to strike out the item. The effect of this amendment, if adopted, would have been to place mutton on the unenumerated list at three cents a pound. Hours of discussion, involving the general subject of agricultural protection followed, the end being the defeat of the amendment. The progress of the committee was altogether satisfactory. The schedules of duties on animals, agriculture and fisheries were passed, excepting that the items of corn for distillers, wheat, rice, flour, oats, oatmeal, rice, rice flour, biscuits and sweetened biscuits were allowed to stand for discussion.

Mr. Davin made a vigorous attack on the combines clause.

Mr. Cargill believed the object of the clause was to obtain a controlling power over manufacturers and dealers. He was averse to all combines, although he thought some combinations, such as the Massey-Harris combination, had had a good effect in the economical production of manufactures. Since the Massey-Harris combination was formed the price of agricultural implements had been reduced to the consumer. The clause, however, gave too much power to the Government. He had no confidence in the Government, but if they would withdraw this clause and introduce a bill dealing effectually with combines he would support it.

The debate was continued by Messrs. Snetsinger and Martin.

The Opposition amendment was then put and defeated.

The clause was then adopted and the committee proceeded to consider the tariff schedule on the agricultural list.

When the item of mutton and other meats was reached, Mr. Foster asked if the preferential clause would apply to New South Wales.

Mr. Fielding replied in the affirmative.

Mr. Foster argued that in that event British Columbia would be largely supplied with meat from that colony, to the detriment of the farmers of Canada.

Sir Charles Tupper contended that if overtures had been made by the Government to the Government of New South Wales that colony would have been glad to accord Canada preferences in her markets, as there were no such obstacles in the way as there were with England. The Government had thrown away a splendid concession, for which they were getting no equivalent return.

Mr. Fielding replied that New South Wales had admitted our goods free, and they could not make any greater concession than that.

Dr. Sproule said the Government were doing a great wrong to Canadian farmers by removing protection from them without any equivalent return.

Sir Richard Cartwright said if Canada wished to sell to a country, we must also buy from that country. Personally he would not be frightened or alarmed if the consuming population did get canned meat or fresh meat a little cheaper than they did before.

Mr. Foster rallied the Patrons on their change of front since the general elections. At that time they were loud in their denunciation of the subsidy to the direct Australian steamship line, as it was calculated to bring the farm products of Australia into competition with the agricultural produce of Canada. Now the Patrons were prepared to swallow the entire Liberal platform, to attend the Liberal caucus, to support the renewal of the Australian steamship subsidy, and, in addition, a one-fourth cut shortly on Australian meats. [Hear, hear.]

Mr. Taylor compared the agricultural schedules in the old and new tariffs to show how by the latter the farmer had been hit. He wanted to know the opinion of the Patron members on these schedules. Mr. Rogers, Patron member for Frontenac, had evidently gone over to the Government body and bones, and, besides attending the Government caucus, he was supporting the abolition of the duty on corn, and reduced duties on wheat and flour.

Rev. Mr. Douglas (Patron, East Assiniboia) said the Patrons did not ask for protection. The difficulty was that there was too much protection left in the tariff. Parliament could take away the duties on wheat as much as it liked. The Northwest would not fear it.

Mr. Maclean insisted that the farmers of Ontario desired and should have protection against American wheat and flour, and against Australian beef and mutton.

Mr. Henderson also condemned the withdrawal of protection from the farmer. He moved that item 16, fresh mutton and lamb 35 per cent., be struck out, so the duty on these products would then be 3 cents per pound.

Sir Richard Cartwright arose to inform the House that the new tariff of New South Wales was practically free trade; they had emerged from the mire of protection.

Mr. Foster then asked if the Government, in granting the preferential rate to New South Wales, had looked into the extent of the competition it would bring upon Canadian producers.

Mr. Fielding said that, while New South Wales was undoubtedly entitled to the preference, nothing had yet been decided.

Mr. Fraser of Guysboro noticed a reference to the iron trade in Nova Scotia. He said no one was struck so hard by this tariff as the iron industry. He ridiculed Mr. Henderson's claim that 35 per cent. was too low a protection for the farmer, and the idea that the farmers, who constitute 65 per cent. of the population, could grow rich by supplying the 12 per cent. population included in the manufacturing class.

Mr. Fraser said that the home market was a good thing, but it depended upon two things, cheapness of transportation and the ability to get products to the consumer in a fresh condition. Ontario, Quebec and the lower Provinces could produce enough for the whole of Canada, leaving out of the question the production of the great West. He ridiculed the idea that the farmer would be subjected to any competition in mutton from the old land or the United States. He declared that if the farmer had equal conditions with any other country he would not be afraid of competition. As to competition from Australia, he would leave that to the gentlemen opposite, who had, when in power, pursued a course that would encourage the introduction of the products of that country. The tariff did not go so far as he would like it by any means, but on account of the tariff reaching into every department of trade in the country—its ramifications and sinuosities—it was difficult to go farther. He did not say that certain industries might not feel the effect, but it must be remembered that the consumer had been bearing the burden for eighteen years. It was time the consumer had a chance. He believed the tariff would strike deeper than the Government anticipated. He thought the Opposition were taking a very poor way of showing their loyalty to the Empire.

Mr. Maclean told the committee that East York had been converted to Conservatism by the fact that the National Policy built up at the door of its people a city of 200,000 inhabitants, which afforded a home market for the whole province. The Liberals, he said, were undertaking to eradicate protection. The Conservatives would fight the next election on the principle of protection. If the Liberals tried to eradicate protection, which was increasing in popularity among the farmers, they would make the mistake of their lives.

After Mr. Foster had pointed out that mutton only cost between 1 and 2 cents a pound, and that 35 per cent. ad valorem was no protection at all, Mr. Fisher accused the ex-Minister of Finance of inconsistency. Had he not at the intercolonial conference advocated preferential arrangements for the interchange of products with Australasia?

Mr. Foster held that there was no inconsistency about it. The difference was that while the present Government gave a preference to New South Wales for nothing in return, he had advocated giving that colony an advantage for an advantage in return.

Mr. Fielding argued that at all events the result to the farmer was the same: he was to have the competition of Australian mutton in either case.

Mr. Foster: Yes, but with the compensation in one case of whatever preference his products would in return get in the New South Wales markets. Now he gets no advantage whatever there over his competitor, the American farmer.

Mr. Fielding: The Canadian farmer does not fear the competition of the world. [Cries of "Oh, oh!"]

Mr. Oliver (Lib., Alberta), said he was not in the House to advocate protection, but, seeing the Government was still giving protection to certain industries, he thought the Alberta sheep raiser was as much entitled to protection as anyone else. [Hear, hear.] This ad valorem duty of 35 per cent. on 2 cents a pound was no protection at all, and he thought it ought to be changed to a specific duty.

Mr. Bostock (Lib., B. C.,) thought it would be a good thing if cheap mutton from the United States would drive sheep out of British Columbia altogether. They were not wanted by the ranchmen.

Rev. Mr. Maxwell (Lib., Vancouver) said what they wanted in British Columbia was cheap food. What was the use, he asked, of protecting mutton, when they had to import it from Alberta?

The discussion was continued until 11 o'clock, when Mr. Henderson's amendment was negatived.

On item 46a, 7 1-2 cents per bushel on Indian corn, Mr. Foster inquired what regulations had been made.

Mr. Paterson said he had not as yet made any special regulations, but the collectors would, of course, collect the duty under this item. In enforcing the clause he would probably have recourse to the assistance of the officers of the Inland Revenue Department stationed at the distilleries.

Messrs. Foster and Wallace urged that this clause could only be made workable by strict regulations under which the duty should be collected.

Mr. Paterson asked the Opposition if they wished to strike out the item and admit corn for distillation free of duty.

Mr. Foster said they favored a duty on all corn. The Controller would fail in his duty and lose revenue unless he had regulations made to govern this clause.

Mr. McGregor said that the corn coming in now for distilling purposes paid duty as usual. Mr. Foster was borrowing trouble.

Eventually the item stood.

Many items of a non-controversial character were adopted.

Good progress was made, and at midnight the committee rose and the House adjourned.

ASTONISHED?

Of course you were—could hardly believe that we were making such a big break in prices. Well, we like to astonish buyers, and now we're going to outdo it and "go one better" this week.

SUITS TO ORDER—

The Tweeds and Scotches and Worsteds will now go at a lively gait. Think of making up Suits to your measure, in TWEED, for $12, $13 and $14; in SCOTCH TWEED for $15, $16 and $17; in SERGE, for $14, $15 and $16; in WORSTEDS, for $16, $17 and $19—in latest styles of the tailoring art.

TROUSERS DOWN—

Another honest all wool offer which will give a hint of what we are doing. A superb stock of Trouserings will be made-to-order as low as $3.00, $3.50 and $4.00—1897 designs and all fashionable patterns. Your coat and vest may look a little dingy, but if you are not very particular, they may be made to do, provided you have a new pair of Trousers to brighten up the suit.

See our Fine Worsted Trousers for $2.50—excellent value.

FANCY CAMBRIC SHIRTS—

Here is where we have some extra special values to talk about. Young men and stylish dressers of different tastes can easily select from our assortment of Fancy English and French Cambric Shirts. They possess all the qualities of style that the season demands. Price run from 40c to $1.50, according to quality.

MEN'S UNDERWEAR—

Balbriggan Drawers and Shirts, long and short sleeves, smooth seams, 40c each. Finer quality Drawers and Shirts, finished seams, fine and silky, French make, 75c each.

"Just look at that!" exclaimed Mrs. Wallace.

"At what?" asked Wallace.

"At that ridiculous sign—'An $80 clear for 10 cents.' We women may be easily deceived by bargain advertisements, but no palpable lie like that would ever take us in."

And she was so happy over it that he hadn't the cruelty to tell her that the "eighty" stood for the price by the thousand.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Blind Tom.

Blind Tom, although otherwise an idiot, had a remarkable musical memory, and wonderful ability to reproduce compositions which were played in his hearing. When repeating what he had heard he imitated even the blunders and mistakes of the players, sometimes in a most comical fashion. He could play by ear, having no knowledge of the scientific side of music, over 400 different compositions.

For the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

A rather peculiar looking craft is being constructed at the Wm. English Canoe Factory. It is a canoe 15 feet long, 18 inches deep, and 36 inches beam, and is built especially for use on the Gulf of St. Lawrence. The occupant will have the waterproof covering of the canoe drawn tight around his waist, and life lines attached to the gunwales. An upset will thus be impossible. This is the first canoe ever built on these lines and for salt water by the company.

On Suspended Sentence.

A young barber, who has been working for Mr. A. Haskill left for Toronto the other day and took a razor hone with him, which belonged to the shop. A warrant was issued for the young man's arrest, but before it was executed Mr. Haskell, who was in Toronto for a day recovered the stone. Learning where the man was employed Chief Rossel went to Toronto and arrested him. This morning in the police court the prisoner was allowed to go on suspended sentence.

Thirteen Houses for Sale.

VILLAGE FIRE PROTECTION.

The Town Offers it For $200 a Year Payable Quarterly.

The members of the Ashburnham council conferred with the town Fire, Water and Light Committee last evening concerning fire protection for the village.

There were present Councillors White, Dawson, Graham and Best, of the town council, and Reeve Adams with Councillors Rutherford, Smith, Johnson and Morgan, of Ashburnham.

The councillors from the village offered $150 per year for the continuance of fire protection, but the town fathers held out for $250. The matter was finally comprised by an offer from the town councillors of protection from now until June 1st, 1898, for $200, payable quarterly. The village councillors will consider this proposition and apprize the town fathers of their acceptance or rejection of the offer before Monday night.

BOARD OF HEALTH.

A Small Bill of Business Transacted.

A special meeting of the Board of Health was held in the town clerk's office yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Mr. B. Shortly, president, occupied the chair, and there were present Dr. Burnham, Mr. Henry Denne, Dr. McGrath, the secretary, and the medical health officer.

The meeting was to consider a communication from Dr. Gray, asking the Board of Health to pass a resolution requiring the council to pass a bylaw to put in a sewer on Sherbrooke street so that he could make connection from the new residence, he proposed erecting on that street, with the George street main sewer.

In view of the town council proposing to construct further additions to the sewerage system, the secretary was instructed by resolution to inform Dr. Gray that the Board would defer action pending the construction of sewerage extension this summer.

Dr. Burnham was informed, in answer to inquiry, that the sanitary officers (the police) had not yet made a thorough inspection of all the yards and cellars of the town.

Dr. Clarke reported that during May there had been in town six cases of diphtheria and four of scarlet fever. He also reported that the notices, respecting the cleaning of yards and premises, had been posted.

FIRST OF JULY.

The Big Excursion From Toronto Which is Coming to Peterborough on That Day.

Councillor White has received word from the East End Civic Employees Association, of Toronto, stating that as agreed on by the committee when visiting Peterborough last month, the Association will hold its annual picnic here on July 1st.

In the list of sports for the day there will be four bicycle races, including one professional event and three amatuer. The latter will consist of a mile race, one at two miles and one at five, and the committe is anxious that the prizes for these events be secured in Peterborough and donated.

Mr. White's name has been added to the committee of management, and he has been asked to see if the exhibition grounds can be secured free of charge. If this can be done, there will be no entrance fee charged to the grounds to witness the sports.

The committee would also like to arrange a lacrosse match between a team they would bring from Toronto and the Peterboroughs.

ABUSIVE LANGUAGE.

There Was Some Dirty Linen Washed at the Police Court This Morning.

At the police court this morning an abusive language case was aired, and the effect on the atmosphere was such as to cause the magistrate to order all the windows opened before much evidence had been taken.

The case was dismissed, Magistrate Dumble remarking that the occupants of the gaol were entitled to some slight protection from contamination, and therefore he would make no commitments.

Jubilee Garden Party.

The Young Women's Christian Association will, in honour of our Queen, show their loyalty on the evening of the 15th of June, by taking a prominent part in the Jubilee celebration, which part will be a jubilee garden party at "Castleknock," the grounds of Mr. Max Dennistoun, Water street. The beautiful grounds, the use of which has been granted to the ladies by Mr. and Mrs. Dennistoun, will be beautifully decorated with flags, Union Jacks, Chinese lanterns, and everything that will go to make the grounds attractive. A very enjoyable evening is anticipated, and we ask on behalf of the ladies, a most liberal patronage of the people of the town. Further announcements later.

Lots of Hilarious Fun.

The wonderful graphophone on exhibition at LeGros' tobacco store, is drawing crowds every day to hear the new songs and farces of the period. It is a whole musical farce company in itself. It brings out to perfection the humorous productions and comicalities of popular singers and clever artists. The high-class chorus singing is one of the best features of the machine. Everything is bright, spicy and sparkling. Some of Peterborough's local amateurs have lately been talking into the machine and their well known voices are reproduced to perfection. Go and hear it. Mr. LeGros gives free exhibitions every day. It is the funniest thing that has been here for a long time. dtf

A DAY OFF WITH THE OLYMPIC CLUB.

THE ANNUAL OUTING OF PETERBOROUGH BUSINESS MEN.

As Every Trip Seems to Have Eclipsed the Last, so Yesterday's Excursion may be Said to Have Proven the Most Enjoyable of the Series of Pleasure Jaunts which are Annually Participated in by the Club.

The excursion season to the back lakes was formally opened yesterday when the Olympic Club journeyed to Burleigh.

Between seventy-five and one hundred business men participated in the day's enjoyment, leaving Peterborough for Lakefield on 8.55 G. T. R. train in the morning. On arrival at the village the steamer Majestic was found to be in waiting at the wharf and after a few minutes stop to bid the time of day to Mine Host Craig, of the Craig House, the whole party embarked for Burleigh.

The trees and shrubs on the islands are now in full leaf and the air being redolent of the perfumes of spring, the pure azure of the back lakes seemed than usual. The Sons of England band, under the experienced leadership of Mr. John Miller, accompanied the excursionists, and the music which they furnished throughout the trip was excellent indeed, and worthy of especial praise.

After passing throug the Young's Point locks and remaining there long enough to call on our old friends Boniface McFarlane and the host of the Lakeview, the boat was headed for McCracken's Landing, in order to give the club an opportunity of inspecting Mr. Morgan's new hotel at this point. The progress which has been made on the structure was a genuine surprise to all, as the hotel is almost ready for occupancy already. Besides the hall there are three fine large rooms down stairs, as well as a bar room, whilst on the second story there are ten bedrooms, with a large assembly room in the third flat. None of the rooms are to be plastered, but the ceilings and walls are all of arranged diagonally in squares. In some of the apartments the walls are of alternate strips of ash and basswood.

MATCHED TWO-INCH HEMLOCK,

After a stop at Bear island, the Majestic bore away for Burleigh, arriving there at about one o'clock. The sharp air of the lakes had created appetites, which caused the dining room at the hotel to be almost instantly besieged, when the proprietor, Mr. John Holmes, gave his visitors a royal welcome. The cuisine was such as to call for the warmest praise and the service was excellent, the arrangements being absolutely perfect. How that dinner was enjoyed! Everything was done to a turn—the tomato consomme, the fish, freshly caught that morning, the meats and fowl and Mrs. Holmes far-famed lemon pies.

In the afternoon the party proceeded on up through Lovesick to call upon Tom Eastwood at Buckhorn before returning, and several hours were spent there very enjoyably. It was at Buckhorn that the great yarn-spinning contest came off between Almighty Voice and Mr. Lem Felcher. Lem came to Peterborough highly recommended as a ranconteur of rare merit, but his Scotch sermon so far surpassed all expectations that he was awarded the laural wreath without even an appeal to the judges.

On the return trip to Burleigh, the sun which had been all morning, came out in all its brilliancy, and the afternoon turned out warm and bright, although small showers fell in the morning.

After a hearty meal with Mine Host John at Burleigh, the Majestic steamed away through the islands for home, arriving in Lakefield at about ten o'clock. The evening on the water was not too cool to be enjoyable and the shores were made to ring again with choruses and laughter, as the entire party sat out on the decks to enjoy the Stony Lake breezes once more.

A special train met the Olympics at Lakefield and transported the excursionists to Peterborough. Whilst waiting for the train, Mr. Will Leoh, to whose indefatigable zeal the entire success of the trip is due, was made the recipient of a cordial vote of thanks on motion of Mr. Harry LeBrun and Mr. G. W. Hatton, Mr. LeBrun expressing in a few words the appreciation of the members concerning Mr. Leoh's efforts. All then joined in singing "He's a jolly good fellow," followed by three cheers for the club's L. C. of A. R. and L. O. of P.

NOTES.

The Majestic has as her crew Capt. Will Scollard, Mate Ed. Young, Frank Young, Arthur Smith and Engineer Marchand.

The pretty waitresses at Burleigh Falls were a new feature.

Mr. John Nugent's cottage is just about finished. The men were only working on it for four weeks.

Mr. Will Hamilton's new cottage is now well under way. Miss Williams, of Norwood is also putting up a new one.

The water is very high this year and in consequence there is a great deal of drowned land along the even shores.

The boys were glad to renew acquaintance with Charlie Fuller, who is again in charge of the Burleigh locks.

The Majestic has a speed of over twelve miles an hour and is much steadier than she was as the Mary Ellen, there being no vibration.

Not a single accident was reported.

Genuine regret was expressed at the absence from the trip of Mr. Williams, an English traveller, who makes a point at always being in Peterborough on June 3rd and taking in the annual excursion of the business men. Although he waited in Canada two weeks in order to go to the lakes with the party he was unable to do so on account of having contracted a heavy cold.

Quite a few members of the club residing out of town were down for the day and were welcomed back into the fold.

He Got Even.

Many young ladies have found it necessary to improve—that is, of course, to alter—the spelling of the names with which they were originally blessed. Mabel becomes Mabelle, Jessie becomes Jessica, Mary becomes Marie and so forth. A brother lately received a letter from his young sister at a fashionable boarding school, it was signed "Jessica." He answered: "My Dear Sister Jessica:—Your welcome letter received. Mamica and Papaica are well. Aunt Maryca and Uncle Georgica started for Glasgowica yesterday. I have bought a new horse. You ought to see it; it is a beauty. Its name is Maudica. — Your affectionate brothe, "Samica." The sister's next letter was signed 'Jessie.'"

WHAT IS THE GOOD?

Or in the Language of Scientific Societies, Cui Bono?

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—What is the good of the Natural Science Association to the citizens? We have an organization that meets and discourses in very learned academic style of the nature of grubs, slugs, beetles, buys, etc., but the minute to any practical matter comes up the society is nowhere. What is the Association doing to allow our fruit and shade trees to be destroyed by the ravages of the Clisiocampa Americana? This rather formidable name matches very well the capacity for destruction of the tent caterpillar. In some parts of the town these pests are doing very destructive work—the maple and the basswood are suffering particularly. Will not the Association come to the rescue and provide a remedy? If some member would prepare an essay of a strong character upon the dangerous and destructive effects of the mandibular amusement of the energetic clisiocampa, these pests might be convinced of the error of their course, and betake themselves to fresh fields and pastures new.

Yours truly,
ANTI-CATERPILLAR.

FRIDAY JUNE 4, 1897

THE Y. M. C. A. GYMNASIUM FUND CONTEST.

The Blues Final Shot—A Few Points Behind.

The contest closes to-night. The Blues are pulling hard to win.

We deserve to win. We have done our level best. But in order to be ahead we need every available point.

The Red flag leads to-day by nearly 12 points. We expect our friends who attend the closing rally to-night to help us make up for the advantage the Reds have had by their entertainments and boxes.

At this time a stray five-dollar bill or so would make a Blue victory a certainty.

There should be a good attendance at the closing rally to-night. Miss Hendren, of Lakefield, Miss Pascoe and others will sing. The Sons of England Band will be in attendance. The closing of the campaign will be very interesting. Everybody is welcome.

The "Reds" held a most successful entertainment last evening at which Rev. J. G. Potter delivered his lecture on "Can you Eat Sawdust Without Butter?" Mr. R. M. Roy gave a number of limelight views.

The darkest hour precedes the dawn;
Oft victory comes when hope is gone;
Reds' chances may look rather win-nish
But Blues will fight it to a finish.

NICHOLLS' HOSPITAL.

Dr. Eastwood attending physician for month. Physicians in attendance on private patients—Drs. Halliday, Boucher, King, Bell, Pigeon, Greer, Scott, Clarke and Brown.

Mrs. S. James, Seaforth, suffered for years with what is called old people's rash. She was treated by many physicians without any result. Mr. Fear, the local druggist, recommended Dr. Chase's Ointment, which relieved the irritation at once and speedily effected a permanent cure of the skin eruption. Mrs. James also says Dr. Chase's Ointment cured her of Itching Piles which she had been troubled with for years.

A few choice Jubilee Novelties arrived at Mrs. Appleby's. Also Perforated Patterns for stamping Jubilee designs. Water street Fancy Goods Store.

The Dining Room.

This is the room the average man sees the most of—make it pleasing to the eye and comfortable. It will not cost you much, and we will help to make it cost as little as possible by giving you dining room furniture at the closest prices. Then we have such a range of these goods that we are sure to please you. Call and see our extension tables, sideboards and dining chairs. They are worth seeing now even if you do not buy. Clegg's Furniture Warerooms, 425 and 427 George street.

IMPORTANT STEPS FOR REFORESTING ONTARIO.

AN ONTARIO GOVERNMENT FOREST COMMISSION.

The Excellent Personnel of the Commission—Its Scope and Import—To Protect, Preserve and Produce Forest Wealth.

The Ontario Government has appointed a Forestry Commission to examine into and report upon the forests of Ontario. The intention is for the commission to complete its labours before the next session of the Legislature. The members of the commission are Messrs. E. W. Rathbun, Deseronto; John Bertram of the Collins' Inlet Lumber Co; Alexander Kirkwood, Chief Clerk of the Lands Branch, Crown Lands Department; J. B. McWilliams, Superintendent of Forest Rangers, Peterborough, and Thos. Southworth, Clerk of Forestry. The latter has also been appointed Secretary of the commission. The duties of the commission will be to advise the best measures for protecting the present forests and reforesting the areas already cleared. Mr. Southworth and Mr. McWilliams will attend to the field work. A meeting of the commission will be called at an early date and a programme of work arranged.

The Globe in commenting on the above says:—

"An order in Council just passed by the Ontario Cabinet is the first step in what promises to be one of

THE MOST IMPORTANT ACTIONS

bearing on the future welfare of this Province that has been initiated by the Hardy Government. The order provides for a Royal Commission to investigate the condition of the cleared or partially cleared lands of the Province for the purpose of inaugurating plans for the perpetuation of our valuable timber crops. Until a recent period it was generally believed that when our magnificent forests of white pine were cut off there was no probability of subsequent crop of the same kind of timber. The lumberman was almost invariably followed by forest fires sweeping away what forest growth he left, and the succeeding crop was thought to be only poplar, fire cherry, jack pine or other trees of little value. For this reason, together with the fact that our supply of original white pine seemed almost inexhaustible, very little attempt has been made to provide for future crops of timber, although much of the land cleared by lumbering operations was not suitable for general agriculture, but was valuable only for timber growing. When the present Clerk of Forestry was appointed in 1895 he was instructed by Hon. Mr. Hardy, then Commissioner of Crown Lands, to

MAKE A SPECIAL STUDY of this phase of the forestry problem, and in his report to the Legislature in 1896 he refers to many places throughout the Province where young pine was then growing up in quantities, and remarks:

"A general impression exists, endorsed to some extent by scientific authority, that something like a natural law of rotation of crops prevails, in accordance with which pine, when removed, is invariably succeeded by deciduous trees. The information comprised in the foregoing reports renders in abundantly evident that this is a popular error, due to insufficient consideration of all the conditions in connection with the reproduction of forest vegetation. The fact that the clearance of pine is generally followed by a growth of other varieties is due entirely to the agency of fires and the destruction of pine seeds and the remaining parent trees. In a fire-swept region, where the ravage has been complete, or nearly so, the character of the new vegetation depends upon the seeds which are first deposited upon the soil, and hence the varieties having downy or light seed-vessels, which may be borne long distances by the wind, are as a rule those which form the bulk of the second growth. Where pine has been removed and no fire has taken place, it is invariably succeeded by its own kind, and not until the land has been twice burned over, is it so exterminated as to give place to the second growth of inferior varieties. That the contrary opinion has so long pervailed is altogether due to the circumstances that lumbering operations and the influx of settlement upon pine covered lands are so generally that second growth of the less valuable deciduous trees is the usual rule. Practically all that needs to be done in order to maintain our timber supply in perpetuity and secure all the other advantages accruing from the presence of large forest tracts, is to retain in the possession of the Crown all such timbered land as is not well adapted for agriculture, and to protect it adequately from fire. Were this done the apprehension of the exhaustion of our timber resources would no longer be even a remote possibility. Large as the demands upon our forests are, their reproductive capacity, provided the ravages of fire can be suppressed, is many times greater."

FOLLOWED BY REPEATED FIRES

Subsequent investigations by the Clerk of Forestry, and other officers of the Department of Crown lands tended to confirm this view, and decided the Government to at once institute active measures in the direction of securing for the province a perpetuation of our forest crop, with its attendant revenue and the protection of the climate and water supply. The commission appointed is a strong one, composed of Mr. Bertram of the Collins Inlet Lumber Company; Mr. W. E. Rathbun, of the Rathbun Company, Deseronto; Mr. A. Kirkwood, Chief Clerk of Lands Branch, Department of Crown Lands; Mr. J. B. McWilliams, of Peterborough, Provincial Superintendent of Forest Rangers, and Mr. Thomas Southworth, Clerk of Forestry. Messrs. Bertram and Rathbun are among our most prominent lumbermen, and have devoted a good deal of investigation and thought to the problems that are to be investigated. No better men could have been selected as representatives of the great industry that, next to agriculture, is the largest in the country. Mr. Kirkwood has long taken a deep interest in the forest problem of the Province. He was a member of the Royal Commission that defined the boundaries of our million-acre Algonquin Park, and was largely instrumental in its inception. Mr. McWilliams has since his childhood been connected with the lumbering business of the Province, is a skilled woodman and has had already a personal knowledge of a very large part of the Provinces where lumbering operations have been conducted. As for Mr. Southworth, the Clerk of Forestry, it is largely upon his representations to the Commissioner of Crown Lands that the commission has been issued, and the published results of his forestry studies indicate that he is likely prove of service to the Province. This is a timely recognition of our duty to hand down to posterity the forest wealth we have inherited, and shows intelligent care for the future welfare, as well as the present needs, of the Province.

BAY OF QUINTE CONFERENCE.

Notice of Motion Concerning the Plebiscite Introduced—The Election of Officers.

Bowmanville, June 3rd.—To-day the president, Rev. T. M. Campbell, addressed the Conference, urging on all to be as regular in attendance as possible, after which the election of president was proceeded with. There were two candidates, the Rev. T. W. Jolliffe, of Colborne, and the Rev. N. A. McDiarmid, of Napanee. On the second ballot the Rev. N. A. McDiarmid was declared elected.

The election of secretary came next, but an adjournment was made for dinner without the election being completed.

The first thing on the programme after dinner was the completion of the election of secretary. There was a keen race between the Rev. J. J. Rae of Peterborough, and the Rev. J. McFarlane, of Warkworth. After several ballots the Rev. Mr. McFarlane was declared elected. The Rev. Messrs. R. W. Clarke and D. McCamus were elected as assistant secretaries.

The Rev. Newton Hill gave notice of the following resolution:—

That, whereas, certain representatives of the liquor traffic have, in an interview with the Hon. Mr. Laurier, Dominion Premier, expressed a desire to have the Government so frame the question or questions to be submitted to the electors in the approaching plebiscite on the prohibition of the liquor traffic throughout the Dominion as to ask the electors' opinion coupled with direct taxation conditions. Be it resolved, that we, the members of the Bay of Quinte Conference composed of ministers and laymen, do most strongly protest against the suggestion of the representatives of the liquor traffic, and urge that the vote to be taken shall be on the simple and definite issue of the prohibition question, leaving it to the Government to determine how the loss, if any, of revenue now derived from the liquor traffic, shall be made up; and that a copy of this resolution be sent to the Hon. Mr. Laurier, asking him to have the Plebiscite bill framed without such direct taxation conditions.

The Rev. Dr. Antliff, M. A., of the Wesleyan Theological College, Montreal, was then introduced to the conference, and spoke for ten minutes on the work being done in that institution.

Resolutions of thanks to the retiring president and secretaries were passed, after which the conference formed itself into a ministerial session, the lay delegates holding a separate session in the old Queen street church.
